Thinking T-Ball ...

These two T-Ball players seem to be thinking about their next move during a game Tuesday night. Zachary Brown, left, at first base, a member of the Raiders' team, keeps an eye on Tadley Pollard, a Yellowjacket team member, while Tadley keeps focused on the batter waiting to make a run for second. T-Ball, Coach Pitch and Softball games are filled with excitement and take place every Tuesday, Thursday and Friday nights at Forrest Park.

Order bricks for Bob's Oil Well this week

The fourth order for engraved bricks for the Bob's Oil Well Restoration project will go off at the end of this week. So, if you have been putting it off, now is a good time to celebrate a memory, leave a name for friends to ponder, or honor someone who remembers the hey days of the popular tourist stop.

Recent cement work by Frank Cruse of Turkey will provide a platform on the driveway median for easy viewing of the names on the bricks. Once this area is filled, a similar platform next to the antique automobile lift will be filled.

Bricks may be ordered by contacting Roy Hobbs at the Matador Branch of the First National Bank of Seymour at 806-347-2661. One name of 16 spaces will fit on a 4x8 inch brick and is available for a donation of $50. More lengthy names or messages will fit on three lines, also limited to 16 spaces, including punctuation. The large brick requires a donation of $100 but is spacious enough for an entire family's name.

Ten teams will walk for cancer research in local Relay for Life event set for this weekend

One day. One night. One community. By participating in the American Cancer Society Relay for Life this weekend, cancer survivors will be honored, tribute will be paid to the lives lost to the disease, and money will be raised to help fight it - all right here in Motley County.

Much more than a walk around a track, Relay is a time to celebrate those who have battled cancer, remember those lost and get inspired to fight back. Those who have shared the same experience find common ground, hope and healing at Relay. Those participating have the power to continue the American Cancer Society's progress toward a future where cancer doesn't take the lives of friends and family.

Ten teams are scheduled to participate in the local event which will begin at 7:00 p.m. at the MC ISD track. Team members used their imagination and came up with some creative team names, including Angels Among Us, Cajun Walkers, Desperate Housewives, Fishermen for Life, The Inn Crowd, La Grand Rue Cafe, Lifesavers, Mean Green 4440, Motley Youth F.A.C.E.S. and Team Delynn.

The emotional time of the opening of the Relay for Life event with the Survivors Lap sets the stage for the importance of each participant's contribution.

Various events will be held throughout the night, including entertainment by area talent such as Kevin Rainwater and Brad Thacker. Games and contests will also be a part of the night with a Mrs. Relay planned, which is sure to be an "entertaining" event.

Some teams will offer goodies for sale, such as barbecue sandwiches and drinks.

Every dollar raised makes a difference to people in our community, those whose lives have been touched by cancer. The American Cancer Society has contributed to almost every major discovery in cancer research. Millions of lives have been saved as a result, including people you may know. For those people and countless others, the research the Society has funded is resulting in better ways to prevent, detect, and treat cancer.

A cancer survivor's recovery involves much more than medical treatments - it takes hope to heal. By participating in the Relay for Life, those touched by cancer can feel empowered to fight back against this disease.

Each of the more than 4,800 Relays held nationwide is a fulfilled overnight event that mobilizes communities to celebrate survivors (anyone who has ever been diagnosed with cancer), remember loved ones and raise money for the fight against cancer. Teams of eight to 15 members gather with tents and sleeping bags with the goal of keeping one person on the track at all times. Relay for Life brings together friends, families, businesses, hospitals, schools, churches ... people from all walks of life. Teams seek sponsorship prior to the Relay, all with the goal of eliminating cancer.

A festive atmosphere always develops as participants make new friends and spend time with old ones. Highlighting the evening is a luminaria Ceremony of Hope held after dark to honor cancer survivors and to remember loved ones lost to cancer. The luminaria candles line the track and are left burning throughout the night to remind participants of the incredible importance of their contributions.

If you're not signed up to be on a team and would like to be a part of the fun or help in some way, contact Kathy Blanco, Annette Hollinsworth, Pam Newman, Andi Henzler or Rosalee Davis for more information.

Monthly Sales Tax revenue rises for State and local governments

Austin -- Texas Comptroller Susan Combs announced earlier this month that the state collected $1.7 billion in sales tax revenue in May.

Combs sent cities, counties, transit systems and special purpose taxing districts $420 million in June local sales tax allocations, up 5.5 percent compared to June 2006.

"Growth in sales tax revenue remains healthy," Combs said. "Sales tax collections reflect the current healthy state of the Texas economy -- notably the oil and gas, manufacturing and retail trade sectors."

Combs sent June sales tax allocations of $283.6 million to Texas cities, up 5 percent compared to June 2006. So far this calendar year, city sales tax allocations are up 7 percent compared to the same time period last year. Texas counties received sales tax payments of $25.1 million, up 4.6 percent compared to last June. So far this year, sales tax allocations to counties are up 8.2 percent compared to 2006.

In addition, $14.2 million went to 122 special purpose taxing districts around the state, up 21.3 percent compared to last June. Ten local transit systems received $96.9 million in sales tax allocations, up 5.1 percent compared to a year ago.

State sales tax collections in May and local sales tax allocations in June represent sales that occurred in April and were reported to the Comptroller in May.

Matador, with a rate of 2.000%, received a net payment this period of $4,575.11, compared to $5,231.68 last year at this time, a -12.54% change. Payments to date total $31,788.74, compared to $31,121.42 last year at this time, a 2.14% change.

Roaring Springs, with a 2.000% rate, received a net payment of $1,229.05, compared to $1,698.21 at this time last year, a -27.62% change. Payments to date total $10,016.28, compared to $14,564.44 at this time last year, a -31.22% change.

The Comptroller's next sales tax allocation will be made on Friday, July 13.

Plans finalized for Roaring Springs July 4th Celebration

Plans are now finalized for the Roaring Springs Old Fashioned July 4th Celebration. The day-long celebration is sponsored by the Roaring Springs Community Volunteers and will begin at 9:00 a.m. with a Memorial Service at the Roaring Springs Veterans' Memorial Park downtown. Judge Sam Medina, 237th Judicial District of Texas, will be the featured speaker.

The ever-popular Red, White & Blue patriotic riding lawnmower parade will begin at 10:30 a.m. Now is the time to plan your parade entry. Not only are riding lawn mowers a part of the parade, but also bicycles, scooters, vehicles, golf carts, go-carts, motorcycles, and fire-trucks add to the festive trek through downtown Roaring Springs. Organizers are hoping for some float entries this year. Ribbons will be awarded to the winners in various categories.

At noon a fried chicken buffet will be available at The Hitchin' Post Cafe or those who wish may picnic in the park. After the lunch break, Mini-Chopper races will begin at 1:30 p.m. downtown. The highly anticipated Dog Style Show will get underway in the Community Center at 2:00 p.m. Pick your pooch and plan on getting it all dressed up for the style show. There will also be a trick division, so if your dog knows how to sit, beg, roll over or any other variety of tricks, bring it along and enter it in the competition. Ribbons are awarded to the best dressed and for best tricks.

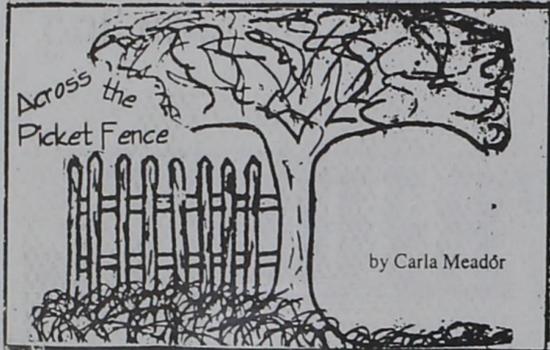

Rev up your motors and soup up your engine - Riding Lawnmower engine, that is, for the Riding Lawn Mower Race and Pull, beginning at 3:00 p.m. at the Old Settlers grounds. If you haven't seen one of these races, you're in for an unbelievable treat. These mowers proof to be the 'little engine that could' as they race around an obstacle course or pull more weight than you can imagine.

The Hilarious Hat contest will begin at 4:30 p.m., also at the Community Center. Use your imagination and dress up a hat in 'hilarious' fashion. New to the festivities last year, this contest proved to be a hit with hats shown by people and pooches. Only the hat is judged, so it may be displayed by the participant, a pet, or even stuck on a fence post. Think 'Minnie Pearl', dress up a hat and join the fun!

A delicious barbecue supper will be served at the Community Center, beginning at 6:00 p.m. The cost of the meal is $8.00 for adults or $4.00 for children. Or those who wish may again picnic at the park or the location of their choice. Wherever or whatever you eat, be sure to save room for the scrumptious homemade ice cream, served free for all at the Community Center, beginning at 8:00 p.m.

The 5th Annual Stick Horse Derby, a popular event with the children, will get underway at 8:34 p.m. There will be three age divisions, 2-3, 4-5 and 6-7. At 9:00 p.m. the Steeplechase Run will begin with the same age divisions.

The most anticipated event of the day will light up about 9:45 p.m. or dark with a beautiful fireworks display. A big crowd is always on hand to see this spectacular show. Don't miss this fun-filled day. For more information contact Alex Crowder at 348-7336.

As a Sunday School teacher, every week is a fun new experience. The kids in my class fill my heart with joy. Anytime I read something like this, I can relate. I have printed something similar to this before, but it is so funny, I wanted to share it. In fact, this first story was our lesson last Sunday. But, I don't think I had this response from any of the kids!

STORY OF ELIJAH - The Sunday School teacher was carefully explaining the story of Elijah the Prophet and the false prophets of Baal. She explained Elijah built the altar, put wood upon it, cut the steer in pieces, and laid it upon the altar. And then, Elijah commanded the people of God to fill four barrels of water and pour it over the altar. He had them do this four times. "Now," said the teacher, "can anyone in the class tell me why the Lord would have Elijah pour water over the steer on the altar?"

A little girl in the back of the room started waving her hand, "I know! I know!" she said, "To make the gravy!"

GOOD SAMARITAN - A Sunday School teacher was telling her class the story of the Good Samaritan, in which a man was beaten, robbed and left for dead. She described the situation in vivid detail so her students would catch the drama. Then, she asked the class, "If you saw a person lying on the roadside, all wounded and bleeding, what would you do?" A thoughtful little girl broke the hushed silence, "I think I'd throw up."

DID NOAH FISH? A Sunday School teacher asked, "Johnny, do you think Noah did a lot of fishing when he was on the Ark?" "No" replied David. "How could he, with just two worms?" HIGHER POWER - A Sunday School teacher said to her children, "We have been learning how powerful kings and queens were in Bible times. But, there is a higher power. Can anybody tell me what it is?" One child blurted out, "Aces!"

MOSES AND THE RED SEA - Nine-year-old Joey was asked by his mother what he had learned in Sunday School. "Well, Mom, our teacher told us how God sent Moses behind enemy lines on a rescue mission to lead the Israelites out of Egypt. When he got to the Red Sea, he had his army build a pontoon bridge and all the people walked across safely. Then, he radioed headquarters for reinforcements. They sent bombers to blow up the bridge and all the Israelites were saved." "Now, Joey, is that really what your teacher taught you?" his mother asked. "Well, no, Mom, but if I told it the way the teacher did, you'd never believe it!"

THE LORD IS MY SHEPHERD - A Sunday School teacher decided to have her young class memorize one of the most quoted passages in the Bible; Psalm 23. She gave the youngsters a month to learn the verse. Little Rick was excited about the task -- but, he just couldn't remember the Psalm. After much practice, he could barely get past the first line. On the day that the kids were scheduled to recite Psalm 23 in front of the congregation, Ricky was so nervous. When it was his turn, he stepped up to the microphone and said proudly, "The Lord is my Shepherd, and that's all I need to know."

Colorful fiesta decor at Do Gooders' club meeting

The Do Gooders' Club met Tuesday afternoon, June 5 for their monthly meeting at the Community Center in Flomot. They were greeted with colorful fiesta decorations throughout the Center.

Hostesses, Mrs. Geneva Martin and Mrs. Kathy Shorter presided at a fiesta designed service. The table was laid with a white cloth and adding to the decor was a beautiful bouquet of wildflowers and an artistic ceramic basket with a silver pewter bottom holding an assortment of fruit. The basket from Bogota, Colombia, was a gift to Mrs. Martin from her granddaughter, Mrs. Chad (Cindy) Calvert. They served refreshments of Jello fruit salad, chips and dips and decorated cookies with Summertime tea.

Mrs. Shorter conducted a short business session. Mrs. Suzie Shannon read the minutes and gave a financial report that was approved. They discussed future repairs and upkeep of the Community Center.

Those attending and enjoying the visiting were Mesdames Barbara Payne, Mary Jo Calvert, Kathy Shorter, Geneva Martin, Suzie Shannon, Waydette Clay and Anna Beth Clay. Guest was Miss Shelby Shannon of Turkey whose name was drawn for the hostess gift, a pretty pot plant.

Consider: Whenever you see a successful business, someone once made a courageous decision.

-- Peter F. Drucker

So what about it? Are you ready to make a courageous decision?

The reason for asking is that there is a business in Motley County looking for someone to take it over.

Aha, you say, but what does it cost? Nothing. You can have it turned over to you for free.

OK, but how much cash do you need to have on hand for the inventory? None, because there is no inventory to stock.

Oh, then it must be a whole lot of difficult work. Nope, it is not. It is, of course, some work, but not a whole lot, and not difficult.

So what's the deal?

The business in question is the Motley County Co-Op. Once a month, you would need to collect orders from people, and there are customers in Spur and Dickens, as well as in Motley County. These orders are then placed with the Shop Natural Cooperative in Tuscon. They have an extensive catalogue, primarily organic foods and supplements, including refrigerated and frozen items, bulk produce and meats.

Then, a week later, you have to be on hand to receive the delivery of the ordered items, and then sort out the orders for the different customers.

The way it works is that you let the customers know the cost of their order when you have placed it, then collect the money (plus a 10% surcharge) before the order arrives, and pay for it.

What do you need to run this business? A refrigerator and a freezer in a place where the customers have access and can pick up their orders, maybe an unused garage. (And you wouldn't even need a refrigerator or freezer if you set it up so customers pick up orders with such items right away). A computer for easy communication, and a special bank account for the money coming in and going out.

The person who has run the co-op for the past years is willing to help, to give you the names of the current customers and teach you how to place the orders and do all the other chores related to the business. What you will have to do is increase the customer base.

But you get a running head start on your own business, with possibilities for the future, for a limited commitment on time and effort. You work from home, and you don't have a daily commute to and from work.

So what about it? Is this the opportunity you have been looking for? Are you ready to make a courageous decision and give it a go? If you are, send an E-Mail to the Chamber of Commerce at motcoom@caprockspur.com, and we will put you in contact with the person who can help you further. The current customers of the Co-op would welcome your decision.

More on the Joy of Jesus

We have discovered through study of the Scriptures, that Jesus was not only a "Man of Sorrows" but also a man of joy. In John 17, Jesus was able to experience joy even in the shadow of the cross. This joy came from several different facets of His life.

Jesus had joy from the knowledge of seeing the attachment of His disciples to Himself and their growth in the commitment to follow Him. In our lives today, we can experience joy in watching our children grow in mind and body. We as Christians, see the spiritual growth and development in others, and rejoice in the Lord.

Jesus had joy which comes from a successful mission. This joy was certainly our Lord's, as told in His parables of the lost sheep, lost coin, and lost son of Luke 15. Oh, to be able to share with our Savior in this joy! "I have fought the good fight, I have finished the course, I have kept the faith, henceforth there is laid up for me a crown... (II Timothy 4:7-8). A crown! This is a prospective joy that buoys one up amidst the storms of this life. This helps to keep us cheerful and optimistic. Let us rejoice in the Lord, always.

REMEMBERING DAYS GONE BY

Stories of days gone by in and around Motley County

General Ronald McKinzie was placed in command and ordered to take the lead. In accordance, Fort Griffin was selected as the main base of operation and from there a route was established west and slightly north across the Clear Fork of the Brazos River, then crossing California Creek and on to the headwaters of Paint Creek, passing not many miles north of where the city of Stamford now stands. The route crossed the Double Mountain River, not distant from where the Wichita Valley railroad bridge is located, possibly a little above, then went westward and on to the divide at the head of Tonk Creek, passed to the south of the head of the Big Stinking Creek and just a few miles north of the Double Mountains and crossed the Salt Fork of the Brazos River at or near the mouth of ABC Creek, thence on between the river on the left and a sand shinary country on the right to the confluence of Duck Creek. From there the route bore slightly more to the northwest to the mouth of Blanco Canyon, if any one knows just where the Canyon's mouth is located. This trail, known as the McKenzie Trail, years later could be easily followed by reason of the deep-rutted paths, possibly worn so first by government wagons hauling supplies to the troops, then used by the buffalo hunters and lastly by the chuck wagons and herds of cattle passing over the route.

If accounts are at all reliable, the soldiers had little trouble in finding the main Indian camps when they reached the splendidly watered and sheltered places that were found about the Caprock or Escarpment of the Llano Estacado. They had indeed found the home proper of the squaws and papooses, places where they could be left with all security while the warriors were either on their hunts or raids.

From the Yellow House breaks on the Double Mountain River via Blanco Canyon, the cover and pockets formed by the headwaters of Pease River and the Quitaque, that vale of tears, and on to the Palo Duro, that miniature Grand Canyon, was found a series of the most secluded and sheltered places any nomadic people had ever found in which to live.

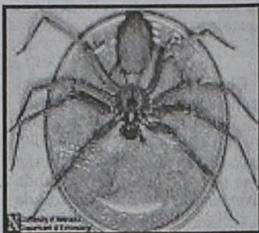

Naturally Quanah Parker and his braves, with their redoubtable Kiowa allies, put up one grand fight in defense of their stronghold and when they lost, as it was inevitable that they would, they were subdued, their spirit was broken and they became a conquered people, never to trouble the white settlements of Texas again. It isn't to be inferred that the Comanches and Kiowas were all captured. They were severely beaten and had the misfortune of losing their horse herd. It is said that General McKenzie rounded up and shot some fifteen hundred head on the Tule Canyon, a southern arm of the mighty Palo Duro, putting the Indians afoot and rather defenseless and helpless so far as supporting themselves in the open was concerned.

Be aware - Brown Recluse Spiders are crawling

Motley County resident, Mandi Ream, of Matador, was recently bitten by a Brown Recluse spider. She was hospitalized with a toxin reaction. Although now recuperating at home, she is still suffering with lots of pain. Miss Ream was bitten while she was sleeping and later found the spider.

The Brown Recluse spider belongs to a group of spiders commonly known as violin spiders or fiddlebacks. This is because of a characteristic fiddle-shaped pattern they have on their head region. The spider is golden brown with the fiddle being dark brown or black. This spider is not hairy and the fiddle pattern is often shiny. They are about 1/4 to 3/4 inch long.

Brown Recluse spiders are found primarily in the Midwest. Many cases of bites are reported from Texas, Kansas, Missouri, and Oklahoma. The edge of its range just reaches the tip of western Virginia, but it occurs rarely in this state. The spider commonly lives in basements and garages of houses and often hides behind boards and boxes. Bites often occur when the spiders hide in towels or old clothes left in those areas.

The female spider deposits eggs in off-white silken cases about 1/3 inch in diameter in sheltered, dark areas. Spiderlings emerge in 24-36 days and abandon the egg case. Development is slow, influenced by weather conditions and food availability. They reach maturity in 10 to 12 months and can survive long periods of time without food or water.

The severity of this spider bite may vary. The symptoms may vary from no harm at all to a reaction that is very severe. Often there is a systemic reaction within 24-36 hours characterized by restlessness, fever, chills, nausea, weakness and joint pain. Where the bite occurs there is often tissue death and skin is sloughed off. In some severe cases, a wound may develop that lasts several months.

In all cases, a physician should be notified. If at all possible, kill and take the spider to the physician for positive identifications. Individual spiders can be crushed underfoot or sprayed with an aerosol spray. Clean up and remove any potential hiding places.

Many of the wolf spiders are similar in appearance and have similar markings as the brown recluse. They are large, robust, and hairy, and therefore, can be distinguished from the brown recluse.

An interesting fact is that spiders are seldom aggressive and bite only when threatened or injured.

Mandi Ream shows her arm where she was bitten by a Brown Recluse Spider recently. Although much better, Mandi still suffers with severe pain. In the bottom photo the severity of the bite can clearly be seen.

Proof of the Truth

By Tom Edwards

ANCIENT "SCIENCE" (The 1970's)

It grabs this writer as strange indeed, to refer to the early 1970's as "ancient". We actually thought the times were quite modern. Man had already landed on the moon. But, even then, Molecular Biology was stuck in Stone Age "Science."

In those days, molecular biologists were confidently teaching and telling us that the fertilized egg in a woman's womb was just a "blob" of biological jelly surrounded by a membrane that somehow evolved (Darwin's theory), "recapitulating" the earliest stages of evolutionary development as the embryo developed. It's little known that Darwin strongly based his theory upon the earlier (1800's) "Recapitulation theory" of German Biologist, Ernest Haeckel, and his embryo drawings. (We now know that Haeckel "faked" his drawings, but they still appear in biology textbooks!) Such was the state of biological "science" in the early 1970's, WHEN Roe v. Wade was decided, and IS the "science" the case relied upon to grant women an almost unfettered constitutional right to an abortion. (Since 1973, 46 million children have been aborted in this country, and the Democrats have just filed a bill in Congress to insure that it continues!)

You can see how seductive the "science" was to the pro-abortion side. After all, removing an unwanted blob of jello "Before it became Human" should be no big deal. This gave rise to the idea that abortions occurring during certain trimesters were either okay or not, depending on whether the fetus was a "human" or not. From a legal standpoint, "both" sides agree that Roe v. Wade represents just about the worst example of legal reasoning of any case in history, BUT this case that led to the murder of millions of unwanted children (not to mention the millions of people they would have produced was based upon FALSE "SCIENCE!"

Today we know from the discovery, mapping and understanding of the DNA Molecule and Human Genetic Code, that life begins at conception! From that moment, there is a completely programmed human being pre-coded to develop, both inside and outside the womb, and for its entire life; AND the coding and instructions are the most intricate and complex in design that we have ever discovered, impossible to have been naturally caused, and evidencing an intelligence far beyond ours!

We are "fearfully and wonderfully made."

News Around the County

Roaring Springs News

By Monta Marshall

Going to coffee at Traveler's Inn with Corky is a great place to hear about the history of Roaring Springs. As a relative newcomer, I am always interested in hearing about such things. Yesterday we had a visitor to the hotel in attendance, Jerry Anderson, a writer who was here a few weeks ago.

The guys were in good form telling tales. For instance, Buzz Thacker told about how his father traded tractors for mules when he first became a tractor dealer. He told of being a student and watching the school being built in 1936; I suppose the teacher had a lot of window gazers that year!

They told about how the town was surveyed to run parallel to the railroad and the different designated additions to the town. The town is laid out in a really attractive design. However, how I wish the railroad had run true to the compass! I can get so turned around in catty-cornered towns and have to think real hard or look at the weather vane on our carport roof to know which direction the wind is coming from and where to look for a "norther" that might be coming in!

Corky told about how during little league baseball games here how the ballgame stopped with the train came through because all the kids were fascinated watching the train instead of the ball.

Talking of little towns, Jerry Anderson told how Dimebox, Texas got its name. It seems there were dime sized matchboxes that the ladies would put change in and a list of small items needed in the dime box in their mailbox. The mailman would take the lists and the change and bringout with the next days mail things like thread, buttons, or some small item that they requested form town. It was a common practice in that area and that was how the little town got on the map as Dimebox, Texas.

I can remember when our postman on Rt. 2, Slaton, TX would mail packages and leave a slip of paper telling us what was due; leave stamps for change and sell saving stamps for the war effort during World War II.

Visiting Pearl Patten this past week were Bekcy Jukes and daughter from LaPorte, Texas; Willeta Burkes form Paducah; and two of Harry Patten's nieces, Donna Tipton of Welch, OK and Sharon Washington of Venita, OK.

Pearl's daughter, Linda Parker was named "Teacher of the Year." She and her husband, Arnold, live in Boyd, Texas. Several of Pearl's family came for the Sedgwick reunion held Sunday at the RSCV Community Center. I hope to have more about the reunion next week.

I would be glad to report about family reunions held here. I need someone to tell me about them. I have missed several that I know others would have been interested in reading about. Please call me with your news. I don't want to leave anyone out!

Joyce Smith has a new address. It is Joyce Smith, c/o Wedgewood South, 9812 Vinton Ave., Lubbock, TX 79424. Her cell phone number is 1-806-790-7795. Joyce enjoys cards and calls.

Ben and Devonne Dillard and Howard Ross visited Don Dillard in Lubbock on Monday. Don is happy and still making progress with his rehabilitation therapy at Heritage Oaks in Lubbock.

Jerod and Hilda Rieger of Wichita Falls and Joel Rieger of Grand Prairie, Texas visited their mother and step-father, Dana and Ross Graham and with grandaprents, Ben and Devonne Dillard last week. They enjoyed a family outing of a fishing trip to Kent County. Jerod and his bride, Hilda are awaiting orders to be transferred to Germany soon. They are in the Air Force.

OVERHEARD

A grandfather was surprised by his 7 year old grandson on Father's Day morning when the boy brought him a cup of coffee. He drank what was probably the worst cup of coffee he had ever had to keep from hurting the boy's feelings.

When the coffee was gone, he noticed three little green Army figurines piled in the bottom. Puzzled, the grandfather asked, "Why are there toys in the coffee?"

With a smile, the boy replied, "It says on TV that the best part of waking up is soldiers in your cup!"

Patton Springs ISD hosted their annual Drug & Alcohol Free All Night Party after High School graduation Friday, May 25th. High school students in grades 9-12 and some brave adults stayed up from 10:30 p.m. until 5:00 a.m. They enjoyed the slide, obstacle course, and bungee run blowups provided by Champs of Clovis, NM. Students also participated in a 3 on 3 basketball tournament, board and card games and watched movies. They ate pizza, homemade goodies, and Krispy Kreme doughnuts. Students earned tickets for their participation in various activities, including helping clean-up and moving the blowups in and out of the building; the tickets were used for drawing for prizes, which was the highlight of the party. The T-shirts described the theme: Would Rambo Sleep...NO, He would Party all Night!!

Listed below are the generous donors of prizes, drinks, and money for the party; we could not have our party without the charitable support of these businesses, organizations and individuals. Thank you very much!!

FARM & RANCH NEWS

Nominations sought for FSA committee

Farmers and ranchers can nominate eligible peers as candidates for election to the Motley County Farm Service Agency county committee (COC), from June 15 through August 1. The 2007 election will be held in LAA-1, covering the Flomot area. This area is currently represented by Craig Turner.

The COC nomination period is an important time for the community because county committee members make federal farm program delivery decisions that significantly affect producers and the area's agricultural sector as a whole.

For example, committee members make decisions on applications for disaster assistance. Committee members play a vital role in helping local farmers and ranchers weather tough financial times and natural disasters.

To hold office as a county committee member, a person must meet basic eligibility requirements. Contact the county office staff or visit <http://www.fsa.usda.gov/pas/publications/elections> for details about candidate eligibility. Nomination forms can be obtained at the county office or online at the above address.

www.fsa.usda.gov/pas/publications/elections for details about candidate eligibility. Nomination forms can be obtained at the county office or online at the above address.

Voting for COC nominees takes place in the fall. Ballots will be mailed to eligible voters by November 2, and December 3 is the last day to return voted ballots to the county office. Newly elected members and alternates take office January 1, 2008.

Two public meetings will take place for discussion on the 2007 election process. The first meeting will be held on Wednesday, June 13, 2007, at 9:00 a.m., and the second on Wednesday, July 11, 2007, at 9:00 a.m., at the Matador USDA Service Center Meeting Room. Anyone interested in the 2007 election process is encouraged to attend one or both of these meetings. For questions, you may contact the Motley County FSA Office at (806) 347-2263 ext. 2.

2007 Texas A&M Beef Cattle Short Course set for August 6-8

College Station -- The 53rd annual Texas A&M Beef Cattle Short Course will be held August 6-8 at Texas A&M University in College Station.

"Planning committee members from around the state have met with us and helped us put together another outstanding program," said Dr. Jason Cleere, Texas Cooperative Extension beef cattle specialist and conference coordinator.

This year's short course will address cost increases in fertilizer, fuel, equipment and grain and how they affect a rancher's profits. Cleere said.

"Increasing feed and fertilizer costs continue to put a lot of pressure on beef cattle producers to look for new ways to produce a pound of beef more economically," he said. "In the near future, economics may override traditional ranch practices." The short course, sponsored by Texas Cooperative Extension, will address these issues as well as other topics during the three-day event, providing information for the novice rancher as well as for the most seasoned one, Cleere said.

"The 2007 short course will be one of the most important programs of the year for today's beef producers looking to the future," said Dr. Larry Boleman, assistant deputy vice chancellor and conference director.

"Previous participants always comment on the variety of topics that are offered during the Beef Cattle Short Course," he said. "One of the most popular features of the short course is the 'Cattleman's College' where participants can choose workshops and topics from a field of approximately 17 different subjects on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. The concurrent workshops will feature information on ranch management, nutrition, reproduction, genetics, pastures, carcass evaluation, record keeping, organic and natural beef production."

In addition to the Cattleman's College sessions, a key general session will be offered on Monday afternoon.

"The goal of the Beef Cattle Short Course each year is to provide the most cutting-edge information that is vital to beef cattle producers," said Cleere.

"Changing Dynamics of the U.S. Beef Industry" will be the theme of the general session this year, and we have already lined up some of the nation's top speakers," he said.

Participants can earn numerous pesticide continuing education units (CEUs) if already licensed. The trade show will feature more than 100 agricultural businesses and service exhibits, Cleere said.

Registration is $140 per person, and includes educational materials, a copy of the 300-page Beef Cattle Short Course proceedings, trade show admittance, tickets to the prime rib dinner, five additional meals and daily refreshments. Registration information and tentative schedule will be mailed to previous participants in June and can also be found on the short course web site. Producers may register online at <http://beef.tamu.edu> or contact Cleere's office at 979-845-6931.
