

77 Cents Per Barrel Offered For Crude Oil

Home Town Talk

Well, we've got martial law now. A lot of us ought to begin being more satisfied. Only thing, the fun was spoiled for some folks when W. S. Farish of the Humble said he favored the martial law order; if Bill, being with the Humble of all things, is for it, how can they be for it, even if they favored it until now?

If East Texas remains shut down long enough larger purchasers will find themselves unable to get enough crude to meet demands and therefore, will have to raise the price.

That is the whole thing; it shifts the matter to a basis where supply and demand will have direct influence to boost the price.

Until now, with East Texas flowing three-quarters of a million barrels a day, the law of supply and demand tended to shove the price downward.

Until the past six days, when East Texas got beyond 500,000 barrels a day there was some question in the minds of many whether actual overproduction existed. There seems to be little doubt of that now in the minds of either small or larger operators.

Theory of prorating oil in some respects is fundamentally unsound. It reduces actual production but cannot erase knowledge of the underground supply—the surplus. The same applies, after all, to control of cotton production. After cotton has matured there is no way to prevent it being a bearish influence on the market. Even if part or all of a crop is stored as soon and not sold, the commodity still exists and represents a surplus, just as the oil underground does.

The most sure way, therefore, is not to drill oil wells or plant cotton until the surplus has been absorbed.

A bright spot in the oil situation insofar as Big Spring is concerned, is improvement in the gasoline market. Whereas local refineries were able to get but two or 2 1/4 cents per gallon a few weeks ago, they now are receiving as much as 3 5/8 cents, which is quite a difference under the condition. The Couden plant here now is running about 9,000 barrels per day. Great West is stepping along. The Big

Plenty 'O Lasses!

Big Spring Farmer Ready To Cook 3000 Gallons From Bumper Ribbon Cane Crop.

Walter Landers, whose farm is located six miles north of here, is not worrying about the price of cotton.

Today Mr. Landers and a half dozen helpers are operating an old-time syrup mill, something that is rarely seen in West Texas.

When other farmers learned the mill was ready to operate they began hauling in regular red top sorghum, which they had planted for feed, to be made into syrup.

Landers' own cane crop covers 25 acres. Most of it is seeded ribbon cane. The stalks average more than eight feet in height—walking down through the field makes you feel you're down in some deep East Texas sand bottom.

Estimated yield of syrup from the Landers crop is 2500 to 3000 gallons. The product now is worth about 85 cents per gallon. A plan is being worked out to offer the home product for sale through Big Spring retailers.

Mr. Landers bought a 12-foot by 44-inch cooking pan and a small mill. He set the pan on a brick firebox, put the mill on a knoll adjacent to the pan, took two old Ford motors he had around the place and set one for motive power, turning the other into an air compressor.

The air compressor, using but two cylinders, is set parallel to the motor. A drum with a regular gauge is located next to it. Fuel oil and compressed air provide an even, intense heat—economically produced. Fuel oil costs fifty cents per barrel at the refinery and about three barrels a day is sufficient.

As the raw juice from the cane leaves the mill it runs through a strainer into a barrel beside the mill. By gravity it flows through a pipe to the pan, where the cooking process begins.

After being sufficiently cooked the syrup runs through a small outlet through another strainer into covered receptacles fitted with a faucet. It is drawn, then, directly into the buckets.

In a few days Landers' cane crop will be ready to strip and then he will begin making his own syrup.

Shut Down Of Kansas Fields Is In Prospect

Complaint Filed With Public Service Commission Members

TOPEKA, Aug. 18 (AP)—Filing of a complaint with the Kansas public service commission seeking a shutdown of oil wells in the state as a retaliatory measure against current low prices was predicted late yesterday in official circles.

Thurman Hill, member of the public service commission, said a complaint "will be filed within the next 24 hours" and said it would seek a hearing on the extent of the proposed shutdown, "if any."

Commissioner Hill said the expected complaint would be set for hearing even though increased prices for Kansas crude are announced meanwhile. He predicted increases would be announced by additional purchasers by tomorrow noon.

"We don't want producers to believe," he said, "that because of the Texas and Oklahoma shut-down they can come into Kansas and open up new production."

Without attempting to fix a price which should be paid for Kansas crude, the commission, Hill said today, had expressed belief that producers in the state should be paid on a basis of prices in the Texas field, plus cost of transportation and minus the difference in expense of gathering. This, he said, would be between 60 and 70 cents a barrel, on a basis of current prices.

Conference Planned: Commissioner Hill announced tonight the Texas railroad commission had, through its chairman, C. V. Terrell, joined with the Oklahoma corporation commission in promising to be represented at a conference suggested by the Kansas commissioner for the purpose of working out uniform curtailment.

The conference, Hill said, would be at Oklahoma City September 11.

Ruth Jayne, 27, was confronted with a charge of felonious assault after she had related, under questioning, a story of a drinking party in her New York apartment during which State Senator Roy Yates (inset, right) of Passaic, N. J., was shot and seriously wounded. Miss Jayne hid her face as cameraman tried to take her picture in the district attorney's office. Her picture is shown in inset below.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18 (AP)—Ruth Jayne Cranmer, former Columbia University student, was held until bond in the shooting Friday of State Senator Roy T. Yates of New Jersey after a drinking party in her apartment.

She had been in a hospital for treatment of bruises and hysteria, and denied recollection of the shooting. Yates was expected to recover. A movement had been started to oust him from the senate.

Employees at the city hall this afternoon were contributing to a fund to be added to this one. The Big Spring Herald made a contribution.

Officials of the organization, which launched the movement the day following Mr. Howie's death, said they would meet this evening and put a time limit on the campaign.

"We inaugurated this movement in the belief that the people of Big Spring have respect for the law and appreciation for men who sacrifice their lives in performance of their duty as peace officers," said one of the Junior Chamber directors. "Mr. Howie's family, we believe, should be provided this award fund to enable the mother and five children to more readily adjust themselves to earning a livelihood without the father. If he had performed some meritorious deed without losing his life he would have received a cash reward. Certainly his family should be reimbursed, since he made the supreme sacrifice while performing his duties as an officer."

Mrs. Howie and children asked The Herald today to express their thanks for the many kindnesses shown them in their bereavement.

The award fund campaign was inaugurated without their knowledge.

Rotarians At Ice Plant For Weekly Meet

Mrs. Delbridge Principal Speaker; Processes Are Reviewed

The members of the Rotary Club and the Elotay Anna were the guests of Edwin E. Kelley, Rotarian, at the Southern Ice and Utilities Company at the regular weekly luncheon today.

The meal was served in the boiler room at the plant, the guests being seated at a long table over the brine tank. They were afterwards shown through the ice vaults and the present-day system of ice manufacture explained to them.

E. L. Gibson was chairman for the day.

Mrs. J. B. Delbridge, head of the public service department, was the hostess. She served the meal, assisted by members of the force, including Mrs. H. E. Dunning, cashier, M. A. Cook, chief clerk, and Mrs. Cook; Ben Cole, sales manager, and Mrs. Cole; J. P. Hall, chief engineer, and Mrs. Hall.

The guests were served an orange punch from punch bowls made of ice whose freezing process Mr. Kelley explained after the luncheon.

The menu consisted of jellied meat loaf and fancy sandwiches, with an ice-cream pudding dessert, all of which was prepared at the plant. The recipes were indicated in recipe books which were given away as souvenirs in addition to ice picks.

Out of town guests included Mr. Mosher, of the Mosher Structural Steel Works, a Dallas; and Mr. Mitchell, manager of the Midland ice plant.

Mrs. Delbridge was the chief speaker on the program. With a glass-backed refrigerator for demonstration, she explained the principles of refrigeration. The refrigerator contained a pin wheel which showed the circulation of air. Mrs. Delbridge told the correct location of foods in a refrigerator, gave a short history of refrigeration and rules for the protection of ice.

When the meeting was closed, Mr. Kelley showed the members the amount of ice required to ice 6400 cars of cantaloupes. He explained the difference in manufacture between white and clear ice and the basic principles of modern ice manufacture.

New Tuition Law Passed

All High School Pupils In Taxing Districts May Attend Free

Benefits of the high school tuition law to all students who reside in districts that levy a local maintenance tax for their public schools are restored by a bill passed in the recent special session of the 42nd legislature.

This new law takes care of all students who live as well as taxing districts who are not eligible to be transferred as well as those who are eligible. Children eighteen, nineteen and twenty years old can attend school free of tuition in their home districts if a local tax is levied and can have their tuition paid in any public high school if their home districts do not offer their high school grade.

In short, this new law takes care of all high school children in the high school grades of each district that levies a local maintenance tax. The supreme court has ruled that students who live in a non-taxing district must pay their tuition regardless of where they attend school.

This information has been received by local school authorities and it answered questions being asked them every day by parents and guardians.

Oklahoma City Operator Issues Overture; Cavalrymen Search Over East Texas Field For Violators

Higher Price For Crude Expected By Gov. Sterling

AUSTIN, Aug. 18 (UP)—Gov. Ross Sterling, seated at a desk covered with belated petitions for martial law in East Texas and congressional messages on his shut-down of the oil field there, expressed satisfaction today with progress of his efforts to control the huge field.

"I haven't the least doubt that purchasing companies themselves will say that the price of oil will be increased," he said, when asked if he thought an increase in the price of crude oil would follow the shut-down.

Gov. Sterling said he was advised by Lieut. Chas. Perlitz, aide to Brig. Gen. Jacob F. Welters, in command in East Texas, that the entire field would be shut down by tonight. Lieut. Perlitz reported, the governor said, that many operators shut down their wells at 6 a. m. today without waiting for orders. He said that when troops reached East Texas they found that several independent operators, anticipating the order, shut down Sunday.

To Keep Employes Oil companies began advising the governor at noon that they will continue their employes on payrolls until cessation of the shutdown.

"I commend them for that," Gov. Sterling said. "Oil field workers are not interested in the price of oil but do want something to live on."

He refused to say how long he expected to enforce the shutdown, but said the railroad commission would have its first funds to enforce the new conservation law on Sept. 1—if the shut down has not deprived them of all the anticipated tax on production.

"Will the shut down last 30 days?" the governor was asked.

"I hesitate to predict," he replied.

Crosses Bridges As They Come

AUSTIN, Aug. 18 (UP)—Ross Shaw Sterling, multi-millionaire governor of Texas who "crosses bridges only when he comes to them," does things according to the strict letter of the law. His martial law proclamation and shutdown order for the East Texas oil field was issued after long and careful deliberation.

A big man, weighing 260 pounds, Gov. Sterling is slow motion and cautious of speech. He called four assistant attorneys general into conference yesterday to help him write his martial law proclamation. When it was written and correspondents were called in to receive advance copies, the ruddy, bespectacled executive would answer no questions.

"You've got a complete document right there. It's all in there," he said. Farmer, sailor and country storekeeper before old made him rich, Sterling still retains his native accent and dislike for publicity at 56.

To Newspapers "He gives everything to the newspapers doesn't he?" he remarked of Gov. W. H. Altamir, Bill Murray when Murray was sending telegrams to Austin before he issued martial law orders for Oklahoma.

Yet the governor is publisher of the Houston Post-Dispatch, one of the state's most widely circulated morning papers.

"I'd fire any one on my paper who didn't give me a complete document right there. It's all in there," he said. "I don't think there will be any permanent benefit from the shutdown but if the price will be raised even temporarily by martial law, we will be glad to cooperate," said Germany. "The law of supply and demand will prevail eventually."

Panhandle Producers Expect Prices To Be Increased

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 18 (AP)—The Morgan Petroleum company and its refining subsidiary today announced it would pay 77 cents per barrel for crude from the local field, which is shut down under martial law proclamation.

The purchase offer was contingent upon lifting of the shut-down, since oil in storage is insufficient to run the refinery for long. The recent top price was 80 cents. Governor William H. Murray demanded a dollar a barrel when he closed the field. He indicated today he expected some companies in post a dollar per barrel soon.

KILGORE, Aug. 18 (AP)—Four hundred cavalrymen rode through the East Texas oil belt hunting wells that might violate the governor's shut down order, which became effective at noon today.

Brigadier General Welters said he doubted if such unemployment could result from the shutdown, as most companies were keeping men on the payrolls. He scouted the report that communists were attempting to cause dissension. The national guard band will play concerts in the oil towns, he said.

BORGER, Aug. 18 (AP)—Panhandle oil operators are expecting prices to increase as a result of the East Texas shut down.

The present Panhandle production is about 50,000 barrels daily and is unlikely to increase. Much oil is in storage. Operators are not expecting midcontinent refineries to demand Panhandle crude, because it requires different treatment than East Texas and Oklahoma oil, and much is stored in Oklahoma.

Houston, Aug. 18 (UP)—Violation of proration orders that made martial law in East Texas necessary was decreed by leaders of two oil companies here today.

"I'm in favor of strict enforcement of the proration orders and always have been," said W. S. Farish, president of the Humble Oil & Refining Company. "I think martial law in the field was a justified action. I think it will accomplish something."

T. J. Donoghue, senior vice president of the Texas Company, regretted "the apparent necessity for placing the East Texas oil field under martial law and completely shutting in proration."

"However," he said, "open violation of the railroad commission's proration orders and insistent requests of many East Texas producers have convinced the governor he should take such action."

AUSTIN, Aug. 18 (UP)—Governor Ross Sterling declined today to estimate the cost of sending guardsmen into East Texas to shut down oil wells there.

"I don't expect to have those figures presented to me today," he said.

Adjutant General W. W. Sterling, chief of staff of the national guard, was calculating costs, but his estimate was not complete. Cost of transporting the troops to the fields were not available.

It was estimated it would cost nearly $5 a day to maintain each guardsman during the occupation.

DALLAS, Aug. 18 (UP)—E. B. Germany of Cranfill & Germany, owners of nine wells in East Texas said that his company will make arrangements to shelter and feed its 250 employes who will be thrown out of work by shutdown of the East Texas oil field.

"I don't think there will be any permanent benefit from the shutdown but if the price will be raised even temporarily by martial law, we will be glad to cooperate," said Germany. "The law of supply and demand will prevail eventually."

He said that Cranfill had wired their employes to obey the governor's proclamation and that other companies were doing likewise.

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 18 (UP)—E. B. Germany, president of the American Petroleum Institute and head of the Barnsdall Corporation, praised "the courageous action of Governor Ross Sterling of Texas in placing the great East Texas oil field under martial law."

Stabilization of the petroleum industry will follow the complete and orderly proration of East Texas, he said.

Legion Assailed As Subsidy-Seeking Group Of Lobbyists; Tax Exemption For College Football Is Attacked

NEW YORK, Aug. 18 (UP)—The American Legion is assailed as a subsidy-seeking group of lobbyists, and exemption of college football from taxation is attacked by the Carnegie Foundation.

Dr. Henry S. Pritchett, retiring president, in the annual report of the foundation, published today, said:

"The claim that the country owes a subsidy to every citizen who has served sixty or ninety days in its military service is an impudent and unwarranted claim. To admit it would strike at the very roots of patriotism itself. The moment a citizen calls on the government for a subsidy, whether in the form of bonus or old-age pension, for a service that has neither affected unfavorably his health nor his ability to earn a living, he abandons his position as a patriot."

Dr. Pritchett accused leaders of the legion of imitating the G. A. R. in raiding the United States treasury and warned that giving every former soldier a bonus would place staggering and intolerable burden on the nation.

"The commercializing of football and its transformation from a game into a public show for money raises an interesting question concerning taxation," Dr. Pritchett said. He suggested that colleges and universities which have tremendous incomes from football "carry their share of the burden of government."

"An agency that takes in $400,000 at a single show," he said, "is in no position to ask for the exemption of this money earned from taxation. Why should a university ask for exemption from duties common to all other agencies of the social order?"

He cited specifically the case of Harvard University which derived $1,250,000 of its $12,000,000 income last year from athletics, almost wholly from football.

M-K-T Reduces Salaries Of 1500

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 18 (UP)—The Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railroad announced general salary reductions today, citing the low prices of wheat as one reason for the cuts.

Between 1,000 and 1,500 employees are affected. Officers and supervisors earning salaries of more than $5,000 a year get decreases to 20 percent and other reductions are 10 percent.

The low wheat price, a statement said, "is one of the causes of the new policy as the low price is having a tendency to hold up a large part of the grain movement, which had been counted on to offset much of the loss in freight tonnage due to general conditions."

North Texas Wells Not To Be Opened

WICHITA FALLS, Texas, Aug. 18 (UP)—No increase in the allowable of prorated wells in North Texas will be made soon, members of the advisory board had decided today after a session called by L. V. Hull, proration umpire.

Local refiners had reported it was almost impossible to secure enough crude to meet their daily requirements. Prevailing prices have caused many producers to shut down their leases.

Nine counties of this district are allowed 63,000 barrels daily. Last week's run of crude averaged but 54,803 barrels daily.

Knott Family Reports Good Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Shortes of Knott and children, James, Darrell and Castle Jern recently returned from Carlsbad, N. M., where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Henry Page.

When they reached Carlsbad Mr. and Mrs. Page had a 7-passenger car ready and ready to go. They left Carlsbad Monday, proceeded to Cloudcroft via a hot in which "Billy the Kid" murdered two men. They found fine vegetation, many sheep ranches, fine fruit and orchards, alfalfa fields and cow ranches. Tuesday morning they went to Alamogordo, near the big white sands, always visible about 15 miles away. They run far up the mountain side. The party stopped under the big trees at Huidobro for lunch. From there the route led through the Indian reservation, thence to Lincoln county, where the two-story dwelling in which Billy the Kid was killed still stands. The route then led via Roswell back to Carlsbad. A visit was made to "Sitting Bull Falls," in the mountains 50 miles from Carlsbad. There is a beautiful cave there, only two rooms having been discovered thus far. A picnic and fish fry was prepared at Carlsbad in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Shortes.

"Why not place a sign on our door 'No more customers wanted'," suggested the manager of the store smilingly to one of its owners, after he had been warned "to keep down advertising expense."

"Or, we might stand out in front and direct our customers across the street to our competitors, Dow and Dow."

An absurd suggestion, wasn't it? But it changed the policy of that establishment from fear into courage. The owners saw the point immediately. It brought forth startlingly the fact that in relaxing advertising effort they were, in fact, actually turning customers away.

Think this over: There never has been a time when you have had better values to offer; there never has been a time when you had more compelling news to put into your copy. Customers are beginning now to buy the things they have denied themselves for the past year: necessities, luxuries, everything that has worn out or depreciated during the year 1930. Buying habits of long standing will be changed during this period; patronage will be diverted to new channels. The alert, the courageous see the opportunity and will take advantage of it.

Advertising is the greatest single influence in keeping old customers and making new ones. Its power never has been greater than at the present moment.

Shortage Of Material Faces Steer Coach With First Game Only 3 Weeks Ahead; 4 Letter Men Back

Dull thump of the foot against inflated leather, the staccato bark of signals, the sound of cleats, digging into solid ground each evening foretell the approaching football season.

Joe Bristow, mentor of the high school Steers, each afternoon is giving more than a score of men the first principals of football.

However, the drills have not come around to basic fundamentals. The training season is yet too young for that.

As far as material goes Bristow is sadly handicapped. He has four letter men returning, and very few who have had previous football experience.

Lamesa came close to winning a lone match as Willie Bryant and Allen took the second set of a double encounter from Midland, only to lose the last set.

Handicap To further handicap his efforts Coach Bristow will have to teach a team that at first glance appears to average more than 140 pounds.

All Included Marginal, stripper and other wells were included in the general shut-down, the governor said, because he wanted to show favoritism for no operators.

A practical oil man himself, he had prepared figures to justify his shutdown order and read them to correspondents. He had them verified by R. D. Parker, chief supervisor of the oil and gas division of the railroad commission.

"I find that one billion five hundred million cubic of gas were being burned every day," the governor said. "Oil company chemists say the gas will produce from 7 to 10 gallons of casinghead gasoline per 1,000 cubic feet."

"Calculating the yield at five gallons, for the sake of being conservative, the price at three cents per gallon, that gas would yield a daily income of $225,000. The 700,000 barrels of oil produced per day, at 15 cents per barrel, is worth only $105,000."

In The First Weeks With the first game barely three weeks ahead, it will take some earnest work on the part of both the mentor and the men to whip into fair shape for the contest with Lamesa.

Another appeal to men who received the business questionnaire sent out by the Chamber of Commerce to return them filled in, was voiced Tuesday by C. T. Watson, manager of the body.

Dorcas Circle Inspirational Program Given

Presbyterian Auxiliary Members Study Synodical Missions

The Dorcas Circle of the Presbyterian Auxiliary gave an inspirational meeting Monday afternoon at the church on the topic, "Synodical and Presbyterian Home Missions." Mrs. Emory Duff was the leader.

Mrs. Ida Mann led the devotional, assisted by Mrs. W. C. Barnett who offered a prayer.

Mrs. R. L. Owen took the part of Mrs. Baker in telling of the mission work. Mrs. Graham Forshee told of the synodical work. Mrs. Frank Jones talked on the student work in the synod. Mrs. Fred Campbell recounted the orphanage cause.

The program was closed by a solo by Mrs. N. M. Meiner and a prayer by Mrs. J. B. Little.

A good attendance was reported. The members announced that they would hold an informal reception honoring the Rev. and Mrs. R. L. Owen Friday evening at the church to which all members of the church and friends of the Owen family are invited.

The program will be announced later. It will be in the nature of a farewell service for this well-loved minister.

Woman's Council Devotes Time To Quilt - Making

The Woman's Council of the First Christian Church met Monday afternoon at the church with Mrs. G. W. Dabney and Mrs. Jim Cawthorn as joint hostesses.

The organization spent the afternoon quilting, using blocks previously made by girls in the daily vacation school sponsored by the Christian and Presbyterian churches. In order to be able to contribute to the fund for abolishing the church debt the women agreed to sell Skidoo, a cleansing material. The next meeting will be August 30.

Lovely refreshments were served to the following: Misses. W. M. Taylor, W. B. Clark, H. G. Hill, G. W. Hall, J. J. Green, Clay Reed, J. F. Kennedy, Mattie Moore, W. W. Inkman, J. R. Parks, H. L. Bohannon, H. E. Clay, Ira Rockhold, G. W. Dabney, and Jim Cawthorn.

Baptists Hear Mrs. Holmes Expound Bible Lesson

Ensembles In New Designs For Bathrooms

By MARGERY TAYLOR Interior Decoration Editor McCall's Magazine. Written for The Herald

The new bathroom fixtures are to be real ensembles.

The various pieces have always been made to look something like one another, but artists engaged now in creating more beautiful bathrooms have pointed out that the sets of previous years have not been in true harmony.

They were of the same color, it is true, and that was usually white. But the lines were wrong, say the artists, and not designed to give a feeling of unity to the whole room. Now the forms have been simplified—almost to what art critics call "classic severity." And the lines are repeated in the various fixtures.

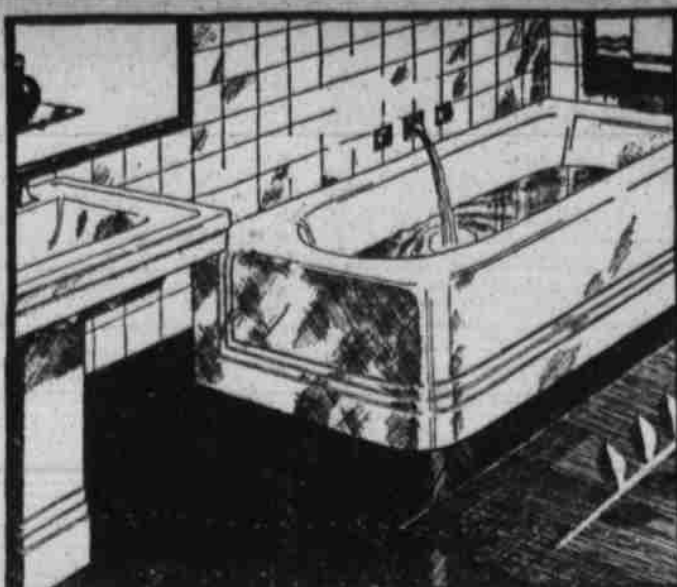

Even the metal fixtures carry out the main design. If the various pieces show a beveled corner effect, the metal parts stress the same corner.

It isn't only a matter of new tricks of design—the whole form of the pieces has left the traditional behind.

Many of the new tubs are flat on the floor—no more legs. Lavatories are large and serviceable, with wide splash rims.

And the old rubber stopper, inspiration of much bad language, has given way to the waste stock.

But the ensemble isn't the only new bathroom development. In fact, an architectural battle is being fought in it—and the result will be many new ideas of beauty.

Artistic touches today have invaded even the bathrooms.

and comfort.

Some designers believe that bathrooms by nature utilitarian, should take up as little house space as possible. Others differ, contending that the bathroom should be a health room of many uses.

They favor what they call the "gymnasium" bathroom—and go in for a growing collection of furnishings and apparatus, a lounge, health lamp and exercise machines.

This might be considered a man's ear, but the body of the house insists on being heard.

The women, giving more time to their beauty, believe that a bathroom should give them space and equipment for their complex beauty treatments and for necessary relaxation.

And so they want a chaise longue or daybed, a dressing table, and all that goes with it, and scales.

York and Chicago do not want it back. To say that prohibition killed the saloon, but created the bootlegger and speakeasy, is utterly false, for both flourished in competition with the old-time saloon.

After an experience over a century with every species of government liquor control, the American people turned to prohibition, and when asked what he thought of it, Lloyd George said: "In America you have no barrooms and working class children wear shoes; in England we have barrooms and working class children go barefoot."

Sooner or later the finest ship ever built and the best roof ever laid will leak, and no matter how strong a fence we build a certain per cent of predatory animals will sneak in. There is no such thing today as a "prohibition problem," except to those who wish to drink and to sell the stuff. The more the wet write and speak on this subject the worse they contradict themselves. Sam Houston, the grand old man of Texas, voted, wrote and spoke for prohibition a century ago.

CHRIS L. ADAIR, Tahoka, Texas.

Brands Prohibition a Success Editor: Prohibition is not an "experiment" in any sense of the word. For nearly 50 years it has been thoroughly tried out in Kansas and a much longer time in Maine, and both states are remarkably free from crime, pauperism and insanity. Most of the States have lived under prohibition from two to 20 years before the famous Eighteenth Amendment became effective, and many of the so-called wet states were dry by local option.

Prohibition has killed the open saloon so dead that even wet New

Bluebonnets Enjoy Festive Lawn Party

Watermelon Feast at Home Of Mrs. Sullivan For Members

Mrs. Willard Sullivan honored the Bluebonnet Sunday School Class of the First Christian church with a watermelon feast Monday evening at her lovely home on Johnson Street.

Iced watermelon and soda pop were served on the lawn after which a delightful social hour was enjoyed. Plans were completed for a two day outing at Christoval September 6 and 7 for members and friends of the class.

Those enjoying this delightful occasion were: Misses. F. M. Purser, teacher of the class, Willard Reed, H. L. Bohannon, D. C. Hamilton, Paul Bartrum, Joe Jim Green, Jim Allen, Jim Cawthorn and son, Kenneth, Jack Johnson and daughter, Maybelle, Kathryn Gilliam, Misses Lillian Schubert, Dot Underwood, Allyn Bunker, Bird Bradshaw, Pauline Schubert, Pyrie Bradshaw, Gladys Shaw of Fort Worth, and Mary Alice Leslie.

S.S. Class Honors Member With Nice Lawn Party

Veata McIntosh was the honoree at a happily planned birthday party given by the Intermediate Class of the East Ward Union Sunday School Monday evening on the lawn at the home of the class teacher, Mr. J. R. Creath.

The birthday cake, containing thirteen candles in dainty holders was also a fortune-telling cake. Louise McCleary, class president, led in the games which were the chief diversion of the evening.

The honoree received many lovely gifts. Ice cream and cake were served to the following the honoree, Elizabeth and Louise McCleary; Amanda and Dorothy Ligh Nelson, Winnie Mary Hill, Alznea McIntosh, J. B. Bender, Clarence Alvis and Johnnie Hyden.

Herald Patterns

A CHARMING EVENING DRESS

7256. Lace was selected for this distinctive design. It may be developed with or without the bertha. The surplice lines, and the unique shaping are especially becoming. Satin is suggested for this model if made without the bertha. Organdy and crepe are also attractive.

Designed in 5 Sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. A 28 inch size will require 5 1/2 yards of 35 inch material if made with bertha. Without bertha 4 yards will be required.

The bertha of contrasting material requires 1 1/8 yard. The sash of ribbon will require 2 7/8 yards. The width of the Dress at the lower edge with fullness extended is 3 1/8 yards. Pattern mailed to any address on

Remodeling Finished On Home Of Judge And Mrs. James T. Brooks

Judge and Mrs. James T. Brooks have just finished renovating their home on Punnels street.

The roof was badly in need of repair, said Mrs. Brooks, so they put in three bedrooms and a bath upstairs, while they were about it.

They also had the foundation reinforced, laid new hardwood floors and repaired and painted throughout. The exterior was stuccoed yellow.

Everything that shows is new, said Mrs. Brooks, even though the house was little changed except for the upper story.
