Matador City Council signs wind energy contract

The Matador City Council met in regular session on Thursday, July 9, 2009. Attending were Mayor Pat Smith, City Superintendent Steve Barton, City Secretary Debra Scott and Councilmen Pat Seigler, Shane Jones, Chuck Ream, Kay Bailey, and Alvin Alexander. The minutes and expenditures for June were approved by the full council.

The agenda included nine action items, including approval of a Memorandum of Agreement between the city and U.S. Wind Energy; a presentation by Economic Development Representative for the Department of Agriculture; a discussion on the proposed City Brochure; and purchase of a new pickup for the city.

At no cost to the city, a Memorandum of Agreement between U.S. Wind Energy and the City of Matador was approved by the full council, granting the wind energy group access to city property for the purposes of developing a wind farm that feeds into existing lines. At press time, the exact location of the access is not known. According to U.S. Wind Energy in a presentation made to the council in February, this model will focus on windmills that generate 10 megawatt wind farms that do not require changes or upgrades in transmission lines. Managing partner Foster Cannon, stated that the wind energy initiative will improve the local economy and increase the tax base through the creation of new jobs.

The city budgeted money to purchase a new pickup in the 2009-10 budget cycle. Due to electrical problems with the 1997 Chevrolet pickup, the city took bids from area car dealers. The council voted unanimously to accept the low bid of $24,000 for a new, extended cab, 3/4-ton, four-wheeled drive pickup from Gene Messer Chevrolet.

Superintendent Barton also reported that the city is spraying for mosquitoes and has completed the mowing of lots within the city limits. Additionally, he asked the City Secretary to look for a grant to help rebuild an 8-inch line from the Roadside Park to an angle southeast of town consisting of about two miles of line. "We have a lot of water loss in that area," Barton said.

Barton also reported that the producers of Texas-grown or

... the wind energy initiative will and improve the local economy and increase the tax base through the creation of new jobs.

> mayor and city secretary had made a field trip to look at the city wells in Roaring Springs and Matador as a pre-requisite to developing an operations manual mandated by the state. Matador has two wells that need to "be operational and running within the city limits," Barton said, as a backup to weatherrelated problems or stalled electrical pumps. The council voted unanimously to have the city superintendent pursue the costs involved in the purchase of submergible pumps and repairs that would make the wells operational.

Further, the council voted unanimously to purchase and apply seal coating to Bundy Street from US 70 going south. This work will be completed before school starts in late August.

Nancy Cordero, an Economic Development Representative for the Texas Department of Agriculture serving the Panhandle and South Plains Region, provided a presentation on TDA programs to "help promote economic development in rural communities."

Cordova outlined the GO TEXAN Rural Community Program that provides financial assistance, marketing and networking opportunities, for communities with less than 20,000. This "members-only" initiative at "no cost to join," markets wildlife programs to promote tourism, offers a restaurant program that links Texas restaurants to local

> Texas-made food, provides status to certain communities as "certified retirement communities." According to Cordova, the cities of Tulia, Canvon, Odessa and Sweetwater have been designated along with 27 communities statewide. In addition, TDA is "helping folks in agriculture," she said. "The Young Farmer Loan program guarantees $250,000 to help young farmers stay in agriculture."

In further business, the council reviewed the City Brochure, developed by the Motley County Chamber of Commerce. The tri-fold brochure outlines special events and features of Motley County. The purpose of the brochure is to distribute to out-of-town venues, for example, the Texas Plains Trail and Lubbock Convention Center in order to promote Matador as a destination. The Chamber has requested help from the city to defray the costs of printing. The council voted 5-0 to provide $185.00 for printing costs from the Hotel/Motel Occupancy Tax revenue. Several suggestions were made by the council for changes to the brochure before printing.

Commissioners Court considers new investment policy

By Carol Campbell

met in regular session on July 13, 2009, to cover a 19-item agenda including five informational briefings and two presentations: 1) the County Treasurer on the Investment Policy; and (2) Designed Technologies, a computer group in Texas that offers low-cost computer solutions to small businesses and government offices.

In attendance was the full court consisting of Commissioners Donnie Turner, Russell Alexander, Franklin Jameson, Roy Gene Stephens, and Judge

County Treasurer Eva Barkley, and guests Stanley Couch, sales manager, Designed Technologies.

County Treasurer Eva Barkley reported to the court that while TexSTAR investment pool was not able to make a presentation at this court session, that they would be available for the August session to explain the TexSTAR investment pool. According to Nikki Smith, Vice President, in a letter to the treasurer, TexSTAR has a "proven, noted track record in local government investment

Currently, dance were District Clerk Kate TexSTAR offers double the rate The Commissioner's Court Hurt, Sheriff Michael Crutchley, of the US Treasury, and "brings a little more interest on our money," Barkley said. "About 50 counties are participating in this pool." Following a presentation by Nikki Smith, the county will need a resolution and to make some minor adjustments in the Investment Policy, Barkley said. This item was tabled until the August Commissioner's Court meeting.

Commissioner Alexander said he had been approached by a constituent complaining of illegal dumping on county roads.

Ruins have been the subject of drawings, paintings, and photographs since the inventions of the various artistic mediums. The textures of old stone and marble were especially attractive to 17th century artists who left us wonderful paintings of the Roman and Greek ruins.

Although I have not visited Rome or Athens, I have been attracted to abandoned buildings on the American landscape. The blackened wood of a burned out house in San Francisco in the 1960's started my succession of photographs that continues as I travel around hither and yon.

Gone" or maybe "No People, No Service." The location is South Brice in the Northwestern corner of Hall County as you make the turn staying on 70 to approach Clarendon. Whenever I see a building like this I am reminded of the movie "Fried Green Tomatoes" in which the movie makers did such a terrific job of transforming the abandoned town of Whistle Stop into the vibrant, bustling town that it was in the 1930's. The snapshots from our childhoods can be our only link with the architecture of the past lives of our small towns and rural countryside since many of the buildings may be gone and the landscape drastically changed from what it once was.

WRITING COMMUNITY

UNCLE SUD AND AUNT LIMMER STORIES

PRESTLEY'S CLOSE CALL

BY MONTA MARSHALL

Fonzo had a cousin was over helping him with the roundup the other day. At noon he went into the bathroom and came out in a bit and told them that he had better go on home, he wasn't feeling as well as he thought and he likely had something really bad wrong with him. Fonzo took him aside and asked. "What is the matter all of a sudden; you had seemed to feel awfully good all morning?" He said, "Well, I was but just now when I peed in your commode, I seen that my pee was blue. I just don't think that's normal." Sudie heard Fonzo whooping and hollering and went to see what had set him off. He finally quit laughing enough to tell his cousin that it was just some blue stuff that Sudie kept in the commode to make it smell good! He perked right after that and worked hard all afternoon.

Claudis Myrle Petheridge was over the other day helping Sud load out the cattle that had been grazing on the wheat. Claudis Myrle went to close the tailgate and got well covered. Limmer said even bleach wouldn't get the green out. Claudis Myrle had to wear some of Sud's clothes the rest of the day. It was right comical, Sud is tall and skinny and Claudis Myrle short and skinnier. Sud had to tie a piece of binder twine around him and roll up his britches legs six inches and wear his boots without any socks! We just threw his Stetson away. It was pretty old anyhow.

You know I don't like public restrooms much. I reckon I am a little finicky about going in a dirty restroom, especially those outhouse types in parks. Fannie hates them worse than I do. We were out on a fishing/picnic outing and Fannie said she was just not going in there, she would just go over the little hill and get behind a bush. She did and set right down in bull nettles. She had welts on her heinie that stung like everything. Fortunately, I had brought along some soda and ammonia just in case the kids got stung by a wasp. Fannie made herself a poultice of soda and water and saved the day. You just never know when my kit of home remedies might come in handy!

TRAIL DUST DOUGLAS MEADOR

Matador Tribune 1941

Slipping through the sagging fences of memory, the shadow of a maverick dream stares at the rain caked ashes of old campfires along the meandering trail of youth. Time waves a rattling slicker but the unbranded vision is not moved by fear; its thin blanks taunt from the poison of locoed hopes. Some day it must lurch in a vacuous spasm and fall amid the tumbleweeds and brown grass. Not until then, perhaps, shall I be free of the doggie desire to see a street bearing the same appellation as my own; the sweetest sweets are those we never taste.

Old age bears no more reliable escutcheon than the work of a failing hand and eye that leaves unshaved patches of a graying beard. The gentleman with the scythe is never certain until a man becomes fearless.

Lovers know that a broken promise is like the burn of a brand. Pain is sharper after the iron is gone and seared nerves return to the torture from which there is no escape.

After lengthy and dull soliloquy with my conscience recently over a minute infraction of societies rules of propriety. I was openly accused of lacking sufficient energy to require full time observation.

Commissioners' Court continued from page one

He asked the Sheriff to investigate and proceed with public notice and fines. "Anything over five pounds that is dumped on any public road is an arrestable offense," Sheriff Crutchley said, ranging from reprimands to fines. "I usually give people an opportunity to clean up the site with a ticket, but if they don't pick up I can file illegal dumping criminal charges," Crutchley said.

In another informational briefing, Judge Ed D. Smith informed the court of a legal review he requested through TAC concerning the employment authority of Commissioner's Court. While commissioners may not influence the appointment of an employee, they can approve or disapprove the number of employees for any given position. If the bond of a potential employee meets the statutory requirements, approval by the Commissioner's Court is a ministerial act; and failure to approve would constitute an abuse of discretion, according to Jim Allison, General Counsel for County Judges and Commissioner's Association of Texas.

Judge Smith submitted a proposed Budget Calendar for the 2009-10 budget cycles. The first budget workshop has been set for Friday, July 17, and the second budget workshop is set for July 24. A public hearing will be set after August 11, with the final public hearing to adopt the budget set for August 24. Tax rate hearings will follow in September with the first tax rate hearing set tentatively for September 8; and the 2nd hearing set for September 11. A meeting is set for September 18 to adopt the tax rate. The final budget for the county is due September 30, 2009.

Judge Smith also informed the court of a grant available through the South Plains Association of Governments for Digital Radios. According to the judge, by 2015 all radios must be digital compliant. The county has three sheriff's vehicles and two hand-held sets that need to be upgraded. The cost of upgrading radios from analog to digital is about $616.00 per unit, costing the county about $3,000. This is a 24 percent to 75 percent match.

"As far as I know, DPS is the only vehicle in the county that has digital radios," Sheriff Crutchley said, adding, "my major concern is that without compatible digital channels, we cannot talk to EMS or the Fire Department." According to the judge, he was informed by SPAG that by 2015 it will be mandatory, and that we have a window of opportunity to apply for a grant that will cover 75 percent of the costs. "If we put it off, it could cost more, and we may not qualify for a match from SPAG," Smith said. This item was tabled until further research could be obtained from the EMS and Fire Department on the status of their radios.

The judge informed the court of a two-year extension from the state to submit a revised county road map. While the county cannot "create new roads," he said, the county would have the opportunity to go through a formal process to eliminate roads that are no longer in use.

"I have received one complaint from a landowner that has two county roads in his field and has requested that the county remove the county road signs," Smith said. "The county can't just take down signs that designate county roads without a formal review." The consensus of the court was to go forward with this process.

Judge Smith reported that the Motley County Library roof had sustained significant damage during the recent hail storm. The Library Board has agreed to split the $1,000 cost of the insurance deductible with the county. The court voted unanimously to pay one-half of the deductible. Rick Collett, U.S. Roof Shield, Matador, will replace the roof on the library, Smith said.

Stan Couch from Designed Technology Group of Texas presented a proposal for "Quality Line" computers at a low cost of $990.00 to government offices, including on-site computer sales and service, maintenance and networking for a cost of $52.50 per hour, which includes travel oneway. "Several computers in the courthouse are more than 10 years old," Judge Smith said. Designed Technology is a family-owned Texas business out of Howardwick, Texas. "Your computer problems become our problems for a low flat rate," Couch said. In addition to providing computer sales and service, the company has networking contracts, software support for county clerks, treasurer and tax assessor's of-

"SOME MORE ON COVENANTS"

Our God is a God who makes and keeps covenants with His people. God instituted the Mosaic Covenant with the Israelites in Exodus 24:3-8. Our Lord Jesus Christ instituted the New Covenant at Calvary (Luke 22:20). Both covenants were established by sacrificial blood. When Je

When Jesus told the disciples to remember Him when they partook of the Lord's Supper, He was not referring to a sentimental remembrance of just Himself. Rather, He was referring to a remembrance of Him as the sin-bearer and of the covenant He would establish with them through His death on the Cross.

Just like any covenant, the New Covenant is a relationship between two parties. In this case it is the relationship between God and His people. Jesus Christ provided in Himself the sacrifice necessary for our salvation. Our part is to live sacrificially in order to be well pleasing to Him (Romans 12: 1-2). Will you join with me this Lord's Day as we remember our covenant with the Lord Jesus Christ?

on Tuesday, July 7, at the Methodist Church in Matador. Kelly Ayers, Executive Assistant, Caprock Plains Wind Energy Association gave the program, "What's With the Wind?" She such as: a megawatt of wind generates about the same amount of electricity as 225 to 300 households use; six 1.5 MW turbines can be placed on a section of land; landowner royalties can be $2500 to $5000 per turbine per year. Other subjects touched on in the program were concerning the American Clean Energy and Security Act and the building of transmission lines to carry the electricity produced by The Matador Lions Club met the wind energy farms. Of interest to Texans is the fact that Texas is Number 1 in the generation of wind energy at about 8000 MW with a potential of about 136,000 MW.

The Matador Lions club has mentioned several "fun" facts new officers for the next year: Larry Hoyle, President; Paul Westbrook, Vice-President; Tim Ward, Secretary-Treasurer; Jim Watson, Tail Twister, and Ed D. ## NEWS AROUND MOTLEY COUNTY

Roaring Springs News By Monta Marshall

Pets are so important in our lives if can have them and if we enjoy them. When they have been a part of our family for 10 or more years they just become a 'family' member whose needs are important like any other household member. They have their place in our hearts and lives. Such was Wednesday, the Young's Dalmatian. She came in to their family when their eldest son, Robbie acquired her as a puppy and when he left for college, she became their dog. At first maybe it seemed a temporary arrangement but soon she belonged to them in their hearts and in Wednesday's. I have always been curious about her name but Ken says the kids named her and never would tell why they choose that name; Ken told Dinah it was perhaps a good idea never to ask a child why they stuck a certain moniker on their pet! Wednesday was the number one pet along with a cat named Caboodle (as in all their kit and caboodle) for 15 years. Caboodle may have lived to a riper old age; I believe she was eighteen or nineteen years old when she died. Wednesday had been a fixture at the orchard and the yurt and many of us enjoyed her friendliness when we visited. Her health deteriorated so badly that they felt the kindest thing to do was to have her put to sleep. That hard decision was made Saturday so Ken and Dinah have been in mourning. We offer our sympathy and share a small part of their loss.

Kenny Barton filled the pulpit on Sunday at the First Baptist Church in Johnny Morris' absence. He brought an enlightening lesson on Abraham, the father of the Israelites and God as our loving father willing to sacrifice his Son for our sins.

Johnny and Connie Morris were in Des Moines, New Mexico for the Sierra Grande Rancher's Camp meeting. Johnny did the preaching at the three day gathering. They left on Thursday and returned on Sunday

Leslie Guy, my childhood friend of Amarillo visited Corky and me on Tuesday night and Wednesday. We had a good time as we always do. We share at least 66 years of memories.

Barbara Alexander was transported by ambulance on Sunday to the Heart Hospital in Lubbock. I talked with John this morning and Barbara was feeling better. They were doing some tests to determine what needs to be done.

Pearl Patten attended the wedding of her granddaughter, Erica Parker to Scott Warner both of Boyd, Texas. The wedding and a wedding supper for almost 300 hundred people was held at the Bridgeport Country Club. Most of her uncles and aunts were present; on her Mom's side only her Uncle Tommy and Uncle Dudley were absent. Pearl said it was a beautiful wedding.

Joyce Meredith, Sherry Rose and Carla Meador hosted their yearly campout for the grandchildren of Joyce and Joe Glenn Meredith at the Roaring Springs Ranch campgrounds. Grandchildren attending were: Angelica and Jonah Meredith of San Angelo; and Parker Meredith of Roaring Springs; Morgan and Judd Jones of Lubbock. ## PATRIOTIC DECOR ON DISPLAY AT DO GOODERS CLUB MEETING

urday.

The Do Gooders' Club met Tuesday afternoon, July 7 at the Community Center in Flomot with patriotic décor on display. With the 108 degree temperature outside, hostesses, Mrs. Tommie Joe Cruse and Mrs. Waydetta Clay had both air conditioners going and members arriving entered a nice cool building.

They presided at a patriotic service. The table was laid with a beautiful red, white, and blue designed cloth centered with a large Uncle Sam top hat. They served finger sandwiches, crackers and dips, banana nut cake with refreshing iced tea.

In the absence of Mrs. Connie Franks, Mrs. Anna Beth Clay conducted a short business session. They worked on their Bazaar quilt.

The hostess gift was a wooden hanging plaque with patriotic colors and inscribed with God Bless America. Mrs. Waydetta Clay had the good luck of her name being drawn.

Those attending were Mesdames Erma Washington, Kathy Shorter, Tommie Jo Cruse, Waydetta Clay, Anna Beth Clay and Judy Stark.

By Buffy Crutchley

My feet tell me that June was a busy month at Motley County Library, but now I have the statistics to back it up. We had a total of 645 people visit us during the month. I think that's got to be a new record! We issued 17 new library cards. We had 177 people use the computers. And we checked out a staggering 914 items! WOW! I'm so proud! Thanks to everyone who came in!

We've still got our paperback book sale going on. Twenty five cents is quite a bargain! Stop in today to browse the selection!
