TRAIL DUST

On the frontier of a man's secret thoughts, order is frequently restored by the practiced procedure of merely placing his hand to the holster containing a profound faith.

A thirsty cow will drink a great quantity of icy water. In freezing weather after the ice has been cut an animal will drink without pausing, almost as freely as on a hot summer day. Man's thirst, on the other hand is usually slackened more quickly and in sips.

Truth has the quality of remaining like a flint rock, subject to the elements of our society without changing shape or deteriorating by being carried by different persons. Even if crushed, its fragments will continue to exhibit its original strength.

One of the fables of modern times is the repeatedly published statements that the windmill is passing from the scene in West Texas. It is probably true on the Plains but in the Foothill Country more wells are being dug and more windmills erected than ever before. Ranchers have yet to find a more economical way of providing a dependable water supply than the windmill. As long as there is available wind it is probable that it will be harnessed to provide water for cattle.

No statistics are available but the general opinion is that tears have won more marriage arguments than words, regardless of how well chosen or convincing.

One of the greatest problems of the modern age, is what to be afraid of, with any degree of certainty.

Compassion is a form of strength refined through the alchemy of society's long struggle in the corridors of time.

Measles Shots Set for Today

A nationwide drive to check the spread of German measles or rubella is being pursued by the Texas Health Department. A clinic will be held here this afternoon in the school gymnasium, for children five to ten.

Pre-school children may also receive the immunization. Cost of the vaccine is about $2.25 each for children not in school. Cost for children in school is paid.

Authorities expect another epidemic of the disease between 1970 and 1973. While a child can have the disease only one time, the greatest danger is to expectant mothers. It is traced to the cause of many birth defects.

For children who are under school age, in families unable to pay for the vaccine, local service organizations will pay the cost.

Darrell W. Morris regional field representative of the Texas State Department of Health, who was here last week, said arrangements were made with school officials for the clinic to start today at 1:30 p.m.

D. P. Keiths Are Home From Hawaii

Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Keith arrived home Tuesday night from a tour of the Hawaiian Islands, made during the recent holidays. Both Christmas and New Year's day were spent aboard the luxury Matson liner SS Lurline.

They left by air from Lubbock on December 20, and boarded the ship in the Port of Los Angeles, cruising from there to San Francisco and on to Honolulu, Oahu, where they arrived Dec. 26. They toured Pearl Harbor and visited the National Memorial Cemetery.

The trip included tours of three other islands, Kauai, where they toured the Canyon Gardens and fern grotto and falls; Maui and the Lahaya-lao Valley, which was the first capital of the Hawaiian Islands; and the Island of Hawaii, where the active volcano, Kilauea-Iki erupted in 1968. Of special interest were the beaches of black sand, and the orchid nursery.

Natives presented programs at each port visited, and most outstanding was the patriotic program given by the natives at Hilo. "They are proud to be citizens of the United States, and display their patriotism on every occasion," the Keiths declared.

An unusual incident occurred before the ship reached Honolulu, when it answered a distress call from another ship in its vicinity, which delayed the scheduled arrival in port.

As reported in the ship's newspaper, The Polynesian: "... this vessel received an urgent plea for medical assistance from the MV Johannes Russ, a ship of German registry. As the SS Lurline was the closest vessel capable of rendering medical assistance, and as it is the time honored tradition of the sea to render such aid, the course of the SS Lurline was altered to effect a rendezvous... the patient is

LIBRARY LOG

Our cup runneth over... New arrivals in the library are: A complete 30 volume set of Encyclopedia Americana copyright 1969; a James Glenn Mathematics Dictionary, and a Webster's Geographical Dictionary. Not to mention an office chair for the librarian. It is estimated that this chair on wheels will save 96,000 steps a year, besides making it possible to get around better in the office section of the library, besides preserving the posture and vertebrae of the typists.

We are made happy when students use the Reader's Guide to find materials in the magazine files because we remember how embarrassing it is to have college librarians assume that you already know a bunch of things you don't!

HEARD'S FIRST: These witty first graders have been making faces and hands to remind themselves to cover their mouths when they cough or sneeze. This helps to prevent the spreading of colds to other classmates.

They have also started a study on January weather and each day they mark the weather changes on a calendar. So far it's only been cold weather.

January 6, everyone brought one toy to school that Santa Claus had brought them. I had no idea Santa was so with it; you wouldn't believe the mod toys the students brought.

GILBREATH'S FIRST: This first grade has quite a few absences due to all the cold weather. The remaining students have been finger painting and putting their own captions under their pictures. They are doing much better than some of our modern artists!

SECOND GRADE: The second graders have been trying to keep up with Jack Frost this year by making snowflakes. They may not be able to turn out the mass production that Mr. Frost does, but they are turning out some just as beautiful and, besides, theirs last longer.

THIRD GRADE: The third graders had a nice holiday and now they are really getting into the groove of school again. They are learning their multiplication and how to write paragraphs. I hope this doesn't tempt Mrs. Timmons into sending a bunch of her high school students back to the third grade.

FIFTH GRADE: All the fifth graders had an enjoyable holiday and gained only in pounds due to some special cooking. All year long the fifth graders have been asking for soft drink lids and I just now got around to asking what for. Mrs. Turner is using them to teach math and help the students realize the largeness of the numbers they will be using. Their goal is a million lids so everyone start saving.

Impala.

It's got more re-sale value because it's got more to re-sell.

One of the nicest things about buying an Impala is selling it. That's because selling it traditionally brings back more of what people put into it in the first place. Money. Where does Impala keep getting its higher resale value? From features like those you see below. Features which explain why America's most popular car for the last nine years will undoubtedly make it ten in a row.

Impala. More to drive. More to re-sell.

Post Office at Dickens to Get Remodeling Job

The post office building at Dickens has been approved for remodeling at an estimated cost of $4,292, according to a release by Postmaster General Winton M. Blount.

Mrs. Faye Felmy, who is postmaster, and also owner, will continue to lease the building to the Post Office Department under a new contract of five years, with renewal options running through 10 years.

The building will be increased in size from 720 interior square feet to 867 square feet. Area for parking and maneuvering vehicles will also be increased from 625 square feet to 2500 square feet.

The project is expected to be completed during the spring of 1970, after the plans are approved.

Benefits Increase Social Security

Residents of Texas will receive an additional $167,000,000 in 1970 as a result of the 15% increase in Social Security benefits. Wayman E. Register, Dallas Regional Commissioner of Social Security, said today. The law recently passed by Congress and signed by the President became effective as of January 1, 1970.

Social Security beneficiaries need not apply for the 15% increase, as each of the 1,208,000 men, women and children in Texas now on the benefit rolls will receive the increase automatically, Register said.

The first regular check in the new amount will arrive the first week in April on the usual day for the delivery of benefit checks. A separate check for the amount of the increase for the months of January and February should reach the beneficiary during the last week in April.

Mr. Register estimated that the total Social Security payments to retired or disabled workers and their dependents and for survivors in Texas for 1970 will amount to $1,283,000,000.

Refunding the benefit amounts for the 25,000,000 now on the rolls in the United States is a tremendous task and it must be done without disrupting the regular monthly payments.

One out of eight Americans is now receiving Social Security checks each month. As of the end of December, these monthly payments totaled 22 billion and the monthly total will go up by 345 million as the 15% increase becomes effective.

A representative of the Social Security Administration will be at the First State Bank in Matador at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday, January 20, for the convenience of those wishing an interview. Future dates for his appearance here are February 3 and 17, and March 3 and 17.
