Foothills Saturday Night Fever Chamber event set for August 21

The Motley County Chamber of Commerce will sponsor music, food, booths, and dancing in the street on August 21, 2010, from 6:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m.

Former resident Max Barton with his Flashback Band will perform '50s, '60s, '70s, and '80s music. Guests are invited to bring their lawn chairs to watch the festivities, dance in the street, or join in the fun with booths to sell crafts, jewelry, or other wares.

The Chamber will be sponsoring a "build your own hamburger" food venue, Chamber President Dianne Washington said.

"There will be door prizes, visiting, dancing in the streets, and good music," she said. "It doesn't get any better than this." This family event will appeal to every age, she added.

"If you want to set up a food booth or arts and crafts, please contact Dianne Washington at 806-347-2636.

The Flashback Band has been performing together for eight years and has "wowed" crowds at many local festivals including Fort Worth's May-Fest, Main Street Arts Festival and several Cowtown Marathon Finish Line celebrations, Whitney's Pioneer Days Festival to many local venues including where it all started, The Stagecoach Ballroom in Fort Worth.

The group has appeared at venues such as Cristina's

Mexican Restaurants, in Roanoke Trophy Club and Flower Mound, The Rig Steakhouse in Fort Worth and at many private functions throughout Texas.

Flashback delivers the same performance whether they are performing for hundreds at any local venue or for thousands such as the Ameriplan's Group's "A Musical Journey Through Time" with thousands packing Trinity Hall at the Anatole Hotel in downtown Dallas, Max Barton said.

"We have been approached by a national group that wants to book us in festivals all over the country," Barton said. "We are in the process of putting a band together."

Meet the members of Flashback: Glenn "T" Urquhart has been involved with music since childhood. He participated in various choral groups over the years and was the Director of Events and Functions for a large fraternal organization. His love for performing has continued to grow. Glenn's enthusiasm, organizational skills and leadership have helped to bring Flashback together.

Max Barton is a former resident and graduate of Matador High School. He began singing at the age of four with his older sisters. At age eight he won his first amateur contest. After performing in bands in high school and college, he began singing on a more professional level. He sang lead with "The Viscounts" who performed for various recording artists and opened for Bobby Vee and Glen Campbell. Max is a long time member of BMI and ASCAP and continues to write music in hopes of a publishing contract one day.

Tracey Howard began singing at the age of three. She soon began performing with her family in community stage musicals. Her experience includes years of "a cappella" training as well. In college Tracey traveled with "Baker's Dozen" and performed with the Waylon Jennings Bluegrass band. She continued her interest in performing over the years. Tracey's versatility and experience are a perfect complement to Flashback's vocal style.

Jay Hubbard is from a family of professional musicians. He began playing guitar at age 16 after seeing Chet Atkins live in concert. Other early influences were Jay's Dad, fiddler Carroll Hubbard of the Light Crust Doughboys and recording artist Ray Price. With a history of inspiration to entertain Jay he began singing, writing and recording three- and four-part harmonies in the early 1990s.

Mark your calendar for August 21, and visit downtown Matador for a Foothills Saturday night.

Senior Estate Planning to be featured at Hackberry Town Hall Meeting

Senior Estate Planning will be the featured topic of a Town Hall Meeting to be held at Hackberry Creek Care Center Thursday, July 22 at 6:00 p.m. Everyone is invited to attend. Some very important tips will be discussed regarding this subject. Don Allen of Senior Planning Services and a Medicaid specialist for the Law Firm of W. Tim Ladyman, PC, will be the featured speaker.

One of the greatest fears of seniors who must go to a nursing home is that in order to qualify for Medicaid help, they must spend down all their assets and give up their home. Mr. Allen says this does not have to be the case.

"You really have two options, only one of which involves spending down assets," Mr. Allen says. "The second and greatly preferred option is to be able to protect a substantial amount of your life savings and still qualify for Medicaid benefits."

For 20 years, Senior Planning Services has helped hundreds of families plan for the second option. Specifically, they do this planning for people who want to plan ahead, people currently in nursing facilities or those who are about to enter one, in order to protect the maximum amount of their estate from nursing home spend-down. Senior Planning Services is recognized by many as the leading authority in Texas for this type of preservation planning.

When one spouse must go into a nursing facility leaving the other spouse at home, there is great concern over losing the home. When a resident applies for Medicaid, the home is considered a non-countable resource. Upon their death, the Medicaid Estate Recovery Program is activated and Medicaid will come after that one remaining asset!

However, "In most spousal cases, the Medicaid guidelines will allow the couple to protect up to 100 percent of their assets, protect all of the stay-at-home spouse's income and sometimes protect all of the income of the spouse in the nursing home and still qualify him or her for Medicaid benefits," Mr. Allen says.

"We welcome everyone to attend this meeting," John Vunk, Hackberry Creek Care Center Administrator, said. "Hackberry is proud to be able to offer Town Hall meetings to the public which present important information such as the topic of Senior Estate Planning. If you have questions regarding this subject, we encourage you to attend this meeting."

Hackberry Creek is located at the end of Main Street at 805 Harrison Avenue. The meeting will be held in the large dining room at 6:00 p.m. There is no charge to attend and refreshments will be served.

Some things are just not right. And a disagreement between the director of Hackberry Creek Care Center and the board president which leads to the director's resignation is not right.

I don't know what the disagreement is about. I do know that working for a board is not easy. I also know that being on a board is a thankless and difficult job.

However, it is the board's responsibility to be accountable, not only to it's staff and residents, but also to the public. It is the board's responsibility to be supportive of it's director and broker peaceful negotiations. It is the board's responsibility to assure the care of the residents and staff by providing a competent director at all times.

At this moment, the residents, staff, family and friends of HCCC are being held in abeyance as to the future of our loved ones. A responsible board must not allow situations to reach this point.

Sometimes we just have to give a little and negotiate. Bottom line: HCCC must have a director at all times. Not an interim director. A full time, committed director. Residents, family and staff require this kind of consistency. Conflict stems from both sides wanting to be right. It's the board's responsibility to take the lead and do what it takes to settle differences. HCCC must keep its director if at all possible.

Motley County Sheriff and Roaring Springs Townsite Agent By Ron Bailey

The ninth sheriff of Motley County, Texas, was Henry R. Black. Black was born in Fannin County, Texas, May 9, 1870, the son of John and Belle Black. By 1880, they had moved to Stephens County, near Breckenridge. According to the 1880 Census, the father, John Black, was "herding stock." By 1900, Henry Black had married Nellie Lynn and was living in Motley County.

Henry Black was a Mason and was the Master (Chief Officer) of the Matador Mason's Lodge #824 when the Matador Land and Cattle Company deeded land to the Matador Lodge to be used for a cemetery in Matador.

Black was elected Sheriff of Motley County in 1905 and served until 1910. When the townsite of Roaring Springs was platted in 1912, Henry R. Black was the Roaring Springs Townsite Agent. He was also a trustee of the Roaring Springs school in 1914.

Later, Black moved to Spur to serve as Chief Deputy Sheriff of Dickens County. On July 4, 1933, he went to Roaring Springs to investigate a holdup. Upon returning to his home in Spur, and after drinking a glass of ice water, he apparently had a heart attack and died.

His funeral was held at the Church of Christ in Matador. He is buried in East Mound Cemetery on land he helped secure from Matador Land and Cattle Company 30 years earlier.

Pictured is Sheriff Henry R. Black, with his wife, Nellie, and baby (about 1900). Black was the 9th Sheriff of Motley County, and served as the townsite agent for Roaring Springs, which was organized in 1912.

Thank you

The family of Lowell J. "Tex" Barkley would like to thank the people of Motley County for their wonderful support during the time of need. All the prayers and words of encouragement after Tex's stroke and during his time in rehab helped us to face every day anew. And finally after Tex passed away the outpouring of your love and sympathy for us is unparalleled - many of our friends from the big cities were amazed at the show of support and concern. Every phone call, card, kind word, the hugs, the food that was brought to the house and to the church and the charitable donations are very much appreciated.

Thank you again.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editors,

Since moving to Texas and Motley County I have grown to love this area and the community. I have enjoyed getting to know the people of this county and have made some good and lasting friendships.

As Administrator of Hackberry Creek Care Center I have been completely dedicated to the success of the Center. It is with regret that I announce my resignation.

When I began this job I had every intention of staying here and with Hackberry until my retirement. During my time as Administrator many improvements have been made to the operation of the Center. When I took over the duties as Administrator at Hackberry there were only 16 residents living at the Center. We now have 34 residents. The Center's revenue has increased greatly. We have been successful in establishing a Physical Therapy department with Physical, Occupational and Speech therapists working with Hackberry residents everyday. The residents needing therapy are now able to receive quality care from experienced and top ranked therapists. We recently were successful in receiving our state certification to offer outpatient therapy, and we also now offer outpatient blood lab work to the public.

I will truly miss each of the residents at Hackberry. Over the past year they have become my extended family. Hackberry has a great group of dedicated employees and I will miss working with each of them.

As I said, my resignation comes with regret and heartache. But, due to a conflict with the Hackberry Association Board president, I have been led to this decision. My last day of employment at Hackberry will be August 6, 2010.

I would like to thank the communities of Motley County for making me feel welcome and to the volunteers of this Center for the time and effort they devote to Hackberry. I plan to continue living in Matador for a while, so I hope to be able to see you and visit from time to time.

I urge the residents of Motley County communities to become involved with Hackberry and most importantly the board, consisting of Seab Washington, President; Jim Watson, Marisue Potts, Sammie Phillips, Regina Sheffield, Ron Bailey, Larry Hoyle, Pam Thacker and Chuck Ream. Hackberry Creek Care Center is community owned and in order to keep it that way continued success is vital. In order to remain successful the Center must have a working, caring and involved community and board.

I wish continued success to Hackberry Creek Care Center. I truly hope the Center will continue to grow and thrive as a successful operation and most importantly, a loving home for the residents who call Hackberry home.

Sincerely,
John R. Vunk, III

The Beehive Buzz

by Andrew Seigrist

Honeybees are one of the most amazing creations on the planet. They work tirelessly to pollinate all manner of flowers, fruits and vegetables and in doing so help to feed many people. I have recently begun a hobby of beekeeping and I cannot tell you how much I have learned about our friends the honeybees.

Did you know the overwhelming majority of the honeybees are female? The queen is female and all of the workers are females. Male honeybees, also called drones, are a small portion of the hive.

Bees provide so many benefits to people. Not only do the bees pollinate crops they also make and store lots of honey. Honey comes in two basic types, raw and processed. In processing honey, distributors heat the honey to 140 degrees or higher, which destroys most all of the beneficial enzymes that help our bodies. Once the honey is heated, it is easier to shoot through very small filters which take out small bits of pollen and other things that help our bodies.

Raw, local honey is the very best honey. It has not been heated and so all the natural enzymes are still there with the small bits of pollen. It is those small bits of pollen that help us build up defenses against allergies. It is important to find raw honey that is produced locally. The bees will work the local flowers and in doing so, help you build up defenses against those allergens. Taking one tablespoon of raw honey every day will help you so much in fighting off allergies.

There are so many things to share when it comes to honeybees such as; how I capture a colony of bees, how bees build wax combs and what is stored in the comb, how honey is actually made, how many eggs the queen bee can lay each day, the various jobs that are done inside the beehive, the many benefits of honey, bee-sting therapy to help calm arthritis, how the bees winter over inside the hive to survive until spring, understanding an alarming collapse of honeybee hives called Colony Collapse Disorder and so very many more.

If you have a colony of bees that is bothering you or that you want moved away, please call me. I may be able to capture the bees and move them to another location. Please do not spray poisons or insecticides on the bees, this rarely works and it does contaminate the honey making it unfit to eat. Please call me first and I will help you if I can. With so many colonies of bees disappearing, we need to do all we can to protect the bees.

I hope you enjoy the articles and we can all learn the benefits of our friends the honeybees. If you have any questions or concerns about honeybees, please call me at 806-269-2676.

lief product)

13. Bee Balm now has a spray on product for bites.

Essential Oils:

1. Tea Tree Oil. This is good. You need a good quality of tea tree oil.
2. Lavender Oil
3. Witch Hazel (astringent)
4. Cedar Oil
5. Camphor oils

I actually use an electric sting zapper as I am highly allergic to bees, wasp and some mosquito bites.

HACKBERRY HAPPENINGS

BY CARLA MEADOR, MARKETING DIRECTOR

Please don't forget our Town Hall meeting to be held this Thursday, July 22, at 6:00 p.m. As stated in our corresponding article printed elsewhere in this edition, the featured topic of this very informative meeting will be Senior Estate Planning. Everyone is welcome to attend, obtain some good information and enjoy some refreshments.

In addition to the Town Hall meetings Hackberry hosts from time to time, there are so many other great accomplishments being made at the Center. Our therapy department is very popular among the residents. Those receiving therapy are excited and look forward to their time with the therapists each day. We are so happy about the success of the rehab department and we are especially happy that our residents enjoy it so much.

The physical, occupational and speech therapists working at Hackberry are loving and dedicated. Many of them have a long drive everyday, with their homes being in Shallowater, Amarillo, Lubbock, or even out in the middle of nowhere on a ranch near Dickens. We feel so fortunate to have this group of dedicated and caring professionals who give their best to their work with our residents.

In the near future, we are planning to hold some fund raising activities. We have tentatively planned a bake sale and a cake auction. We are hoping to raise enough money to purchase a steam table for our dining room. This is something that would be so beneficial to our residents. We also appreciate donations made to the Center. With this Center being community owned, we are so fortunate to have people of this area and family members of our residents who care about the success of Hackberry and show their appreciation for the Center with donations.

Thank you to everyone for your support of our great Care Center. When we have set the dates for our fund-raising activities we will announce it in the newspaper, so be sure to keep an eye out for that. We've got some good cooks here, as evidenced by our Pot Luck lunch held a couple of weeks ago. There was so much delicious food to choose from, we all ate until we just couldn't eat anymore. So, you sure won't want to miss out on the opportunity to purchase a yummy cake or pie.

SR. HEALTH TIPS TRAVEL TIPS

As you grow older, taking a trip can become more complicated than simply packing a suitcase, especially if you are living with a chronic illness. Here are steps you can take to help ensure your trip doesn't jeopardize your health.

Before booking your vacation, check with your primary care provider and any specialists to make sure you are well enough to travel. Certain conditions, including unstable angina, cancers that can increase your risk of a blood clot during long flights, and disorders like congestive heart failure or emphysema, might pose a problem when it comes to traveling.

Once you get approval to travel, ask your healthcare provider to help you put together a health profile. The health profile should be typed and include a detailed medical diagnosis, allergies, a pill card listing medications (including both generic and brand names) and their dosages, the names and telephone and fax number of your healthcare provider and emergency contact persons, and photocopies of your insurance card and your passport or photo identification. If you are traveling abroad, carry a copy in the nation's language.

Ask your doctor for a detailed letter explaining your medical conditions, medications, and nutritional supplements to show security at check-in. For example, if you take insulin for diabetes, have your doctor list all the devices used, such as a syringe and needle. Put all your prescription and over-the-counter medications in their original, labeled bottles or containers. Keep them in a clear plastic bag in your carry-on luggage and make sure to pack enough for the entire trip. Use a travel freezer pack if your medications need to be kept cool.

If you use supplemental oxygen because of chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD) or other lung disease, contact the carrier before booking your flight to see if the airline can accommodate you. Airlines will provide their own oxygen equipment. You can bring empty cylinders and equipment, but you may be charged for carrying it on board. Notify the airline carrier if you use a wheelchair, walker, or service dog.

On trips outside the United States, a few extra precautions can help protect your health.

Medicare does not provide coverage outside of the United States. But certain Medigap plans do offer partial coverage. If you have a private health insurance plan, check to see what the policy includes for international travel. You can also purchase short-term health insurance form $20 - $200; the cost is based on your age, gender, and any medical conditions. For more information on travel health insurance, contact a travel agent or check the U.S. Department of State's website: http://travel.state.gov/travel/cis_1470.html

Before you leave, research the area where you are visiting to find the nearest hospital. You can also check the International Association for Medical Assistance to Travelers (IAMAT; www.iamat.org).

"CLEANSED!"

We are bombarded with all types of commercials that seek to convince us to buy this or that "Cleaner." It seems that a breakthrough in cleaning has been discovered and now we are allowed to purchase the "miracle product" which will forever take away our stains and dirty spots.

Needless to say, many times we are sold on the product and immediately purchase one of it in order to get the second "free." We then feel confident that help has finally arrived to aid us in our struggle against spots and stains.

Commercials aside, I am reminded of our Savior and His precious blood. This brings us face to face with Calvary. The blood of Jesus will handle everything that has stained our lives and will provide that "deep down" cleansing that we all are in need of spiritually. Even those sin stains that have the ability to "come back." He cleanses us from all sin the Bible assures us in the letter of First John.

A dirty object can become acceptable after a while to us. We sort of get "used to it" and being around it we can forget just how dirty dirt is. The same is true of our soul. It's not until we get around Jesus Christ and His holy word do we realize just how much we are in need of the cleansing power of His blood. We need it!

Notes from the Library

By Mary Ann Potts

The library is excited to announce that we now have access to downloadable audio books and DVDs! Yes, you read correctly. Come in and complete a Lubbock Library card application, mail it, and within a week you will receive a Lubbock Library card. It can all be done right here at the Motley County Library. Then call for a pin number, or e-mail your request, and your set to download any audio book available to your IPOD, MP3 Player, PC or MAC, and even burn selected DVDs for you to keep. If you don't have a computer at home, simply stop by the library to browse the selections and download your choices. The greatest feature about this new service is you never, never have to worry about returning items to the library, which means no late fees! How much easier can this be! Several patrons have already applied for library cards, including myself, eager to try out this new service and one has already received her card and downloaded audio books with ease. There is one more major benefit to this new service, it's absolutely FREE!

However, if you're not so computer savvy and shy away from current electronic devices, the library still carries plenty of DVDs and VHS movies. In fact, we have 4 newly purchased DVDs ready for your viewing pleasure. The list includes Avatar, Percy Jackson - The Lightning Thief, Hot Wheels: Battle Force 5, and a true classic, Breakfast at Tiffany's. In addition, we have 4 new audio books as well. Two are from James Patterson, Sundays at Tiffany's as read by Ellen Archer, and Sail read by Dylan Baker and Jennifer Van Dyck. John Grisham claims the last two, The Broker read by Dennis Boutsikaris and The Last Juror narrated by Terrence Mann.

Our new kid book additions this week include: The 39 Clues: Storm Warning-Book Nine by Linda Sue Park, is the continuing saga of brother and sister, Amy and Dan Cahill, who are searching worldwide for 39 clues that will lead to a great power. Avatar-The Last Airbender, Journeys: Through the Earth Kingdom written by Michael Teitalbaum, include 4 tales where Aang, Axula, Toph and Sokka recount their exciting journeys through the Earth Kingdom. And John Grisham's Theodore Boone, Kid Lawyer tells a story of 13 year-old, Theo Boone who knows every judge, policeman, court clerk and a lot about the law and one day dreams of being a great trial lawyer. Lastly, an inspirational tale for our older readers Take Four by Karen Kingsbury, which is part of the Above the Line Series, depicts a story of hope, heartbreak, and the search for happy endings.

Just a reminder, there's 1 week left in the Reading Express Summer Program. All completed reading cards must be turned in by Friday, July 30 to be eligible for the Grand Prize of a Portable DVD Player or IPOD Nano.

And here's the reading tip for the week from chief academic officer at Scholastic Education in New York City, Francine Alexander. Start a family book club. Tell your kids what you loved to read when you were a kid and then let them choose books about things they love when it's their turn to choose.

Cattle and wheat topics of July 24 conference in Wichita Falls

WICHITA FALLS - After the recent wheat harvest, more wheat and stocker cattle producers may want to attend the Cattle Trails Stocker Conference to be held July 24 at the Multi-Purpose Event Center, 1000 5th Street, in Wichita Falls.

This conference is a joint effort between Texas AgriLife Extension Service and the Oklahoma Cooperative Extension Service.

"We believe this will be an extremely important conference given the circumstances that we faced with this year's wheat harvest and wheat price," said Stan Bevers, AgriLife Extension economist in Vernon.

"Planning early will be imperative for the upcoming crop," Bevers said. "Given the low prices experienced at harvest, many producers may choose to turn to cattle for additional flexibility. However, adding cattle to the wheat operation always increases the level of management involved and the associated risks."

Planners envision an annual conference that will provide wheat producers and/or stocker cattle operators with the most up-to-date information on topics that influence wheat and stocker cattle profits, Bevers said.

The conference will alternate between Texas and Oklahoma each year, he said. It is named to represent the vast area of agricultural production between the Chisholm Trail and the Great Western cattle trails of the late 1800s, both of which started in south Central Texas and moved up through central and western Oklahoma.

Speakers will include faculty from both Oklahoma and Texas. Important topics of marketing and outlook, animal health, wheat pasture research and wheat production will be covered, Bevers said.

Industry sponsors will have their products on display during the event.

The conference will begin at 8 a.m. with registration and end at 4:30 p.m. Registration is $20 per person and includes educational materials, a copy of the Cattle Trails Stocker Conference Proceedings, a noon meal and refreshments. Additional information can be obtained at <http://agrisk.tamu.edu>.

Producers can register by contacting their local AgriLife Extension county agent, their Oklahoma Cooperative Extension county educator, or by contacting Karen Thompson at 940-552-9941, ext. 217 or by e-mail at kethompson@ag.tamu.edu.

Anna Daniell and Levi Buckner Exchange Vows

The First United Methodist Church of Roaring Springs was the scene of the lovely wedding of Anna Daniell and Levi Buckner on Saturday, July 10th.

Anna is the daughter of Leslie Daniell of Roaring Springs and Becky Schmidt of Marlo, Oklahoma. Levi is the son of Carrie Buckner Tomlinson of Roaring Springs and Dennis Buckner of Corpus Christi.

Sarah Ferguson of Matador was the maid of honor; bride's maids were Haley Blanco, Stormy Guerrero and Alex Smith. Chase Buckner was best man for his brother; Jacob Blanco, Seagram Sims, and Germain Hendricks were groomsmen. Flower girls were Alexis and Autumn Daniell of Matador.

Her veil was white tulle attached to a tiara of pearls. She carried a bouquet of white and purple roses with purple and white streamers. Her groom wore a black tuxedo.

Pastor, Jackie Farmer of Faith Freewill Baptist Church in Lubbock performed the ceremony.

Lavender tulle, white roses, white candles and lavender bows decorated the altar. The pews were decorated in white and lavender bows. Two candles were each lit by the bride's and groom's mothers. A unity candle was lit from the two candles by the bride and groom during the ceremony.

Cucumbers save the day

These tips were sent to us from Harley Alsup

1. Cucumbers contain most of the vitamins you need every day, just one cucumber contains Vitamin B1, Vitamin B2, Vitamin B3, Vitamin B5, Vitamin B6, Folic Acid, Vitamin C, Calcium, Iron, Magnesium, Phosphorus, Potassium and Zinc.

2. Feeling tired in the afternoon, put down the caffeinated soda and pick up a cucumber. Cucumbers are a good source of B Vitamins and Carbohydrates that can provide that quick pick-me-up that can last for hours.

3. Tired of your bathroom mirror fogging up after a shower? Try rubbing a cucumber slice along the mirror, it will eliminate the fog and provide a soothing, spa-like fragrance.

4. Are grubs and slugs ruining your planting beds? Place a few slices in a small pie tin and your garden will be free of pests all season long. The chemicals in the cucumber react with the aluminum to give off a scent undetectable to humans but drive garden pests crazy and make them flee the area.

5. Looking for a fast and easy way to remove cellulite before going out or to the pool? Try rubbing a slice or two of cucumbers along your problem area for a few minutes, the phytochemicals in the cucumber cause the collagen in your skin to tighten, firming up the outer layer and reducing the visibility of cellulite. Works great on wrinkles too!!!

6. Want to avoid a hangover or terrible headache? Eat a few cucumber slices before going to bed and wake up refreshed and headache free. Cucumbers contain enough sugar, B vitamins and electrolytes to replenish essential nutrients the body lost, keeping everything in equilibrium, avoiding both a hangover and headache!!

7. Looking to fight off that afternoon or evening snacking binge? Cucumbers have been used for centuries and often used by European trappers, traders and explorers for quick meals to thwart off starvation.

8. Have an important meeting or job interview and you realize that you don't have enough time to polish your shoes? Rub a freshly cut cucumber over the shoe, its chemicals will provide a quick and durable shine that not only looks great but also repels water.

9. Out of WD 40 and need to fix a squeaky hinge? Take a cucumber slice and rub it along the problematic hinge, and voila, the squeak is gone!

10. Stressed out and don't have time for massage, facial or visit to the spa? Cut up an entire cucumber and place it in a boiling pot of water, the chemicals and nutrients from the cucumber will react with the boiling water and be released in the steam, creating a soothing, relaxing aroma that has been shown to reduce stress in new mothers and college students during final exams.

FNBS gets a view from the south

Three of the seven windows on the south side of the Matador Branch of the First National Bank of Seymour are now exposed after more than 60 years. According to bank president Roy Hobbs, in about 1948, glass bricks were installed on the windows on the south side of the building. About 1972, insulation and paneling were installed in the interior, covering the glass bricks. Now, for the first time in about 60 years, a view from the south wall of the bank will be visible.

Cucumbers save the day

11. Just finish a business lunch and realize you don't have gum or mints? Take a slice of cucumber and press it to the roof of your mouth with your tongue for 30 seconds to eliminate bad breath, the phytochemicals will kill the bacteria in your mouth responsible for causing bad breath.

12. Looking for a 'green' way to clean your faucets, sinks or stainless steel? Take a slice of cucumber and rub it on the surface you want to clean, not only will it remove years of tarnish and bring back the shine, but it won't leave streaks and won't harm your fingers or fingernails while you clean.

13. Using a pen and made a mistake? Take the outside of the cucumber and slowly use it to erase the pen writing, also works great on crayons and markers that the kids have used to decorate the walls!!

Pass this along to everybody you know who is looking for better and safer ways to solve life's everyday problems..

RE: Required Immunizations for the 2010-2011 School Year

Dear Parents of Students in Texas Schools, Kindergarten through 12th Grades:

Immunizations are an important part of public health, and Texas law requires students in Texas schools to be immunized against certain vaccine-preventable diseases. The Department of State Health Services (DSHS) understands that it can be hard to find the time and money to get your children vaccinated, and many times it is not something you are able to do until the month of August. But we would like to stress the importance of getting these required vaccines at the earliest possible time, to avoid the back-to-school immunization rush that occurs every year during the month of August.

Below is a list of the required vaccines for students who will attend a Texas school in the 2010-2011 school year. This list includes new requirements that were added to kindergarten and 7th grade in 2009. Parents of students who will enter kindergarten and 7th grade should pay special attention to the additional vaccine requirements. Please be aware that students without the required immunizations or a valid exemption will not be allowed to attend school.

Vaccine requirements for students entering kindergarten through 12th grade:

- 3 to 5 doses of diphtheria, tetanus, and pertussis (DTaP/DTP/DT/Td)
- 3 to 4 doses of polio
- 2 doses of measles, mumps, and rubella (MMR)
- 3 doses of hepatitis B
- 1 to 2 doses of varicella
- 1 booster dose of tetanus, diphtheria, and pertussis (Tdap) 10 years after the last dose of tetanus-diphtheria-containing vaccine

Additional vaccine requirements for students entering kindergarten, 1st grade, 7th grade, and 8th grade:

- 2 doses of hepatitis A for students entering K - 1st grade
- 2 doses of varicella for students entering K - 1st and 7th - 8th grade
- 1 booster dose of tetanus, diphtheria, and pertussis (Tdap) for students entering 7th grade, if at least 5 years have passed since the last dose of tetanus-diphtheria-containing vaccine
- 1 dose of meningococcal for students entering 7th - 8th grade

*To determine the specific number of doses that will be required, please read the document included with this letter, entitled 2010-2011 Minimum State Vaccine Requirements for Texas Students. This document and more information about school vaccine requirements are available on the Immunization Branch website at www.immunizetexas.com (click on the 'School and Childcare' link).

If you need help determining which vaccines your child needs for the 2010-2011 school year, and/or when to get the vaccines, please contact your child's doctor or immunization clinic, or your city/county health department.

For information on where you can take your child to get free or reduced-cost vaccines, check with your city/county health department, or call 2-1-1 Texas. This is a three-digit toll free number that provides information on health and social services for your area.

You may also call the Immunization Branch Customer Service number (800) 252-9152 if you have questions or need more information about immunization requirements.
