fighters were lost in the multiple assault, and seven of the enemy's planes were shot down in combat, a communique announced, in addition to about 40 which air base reports said were destroyed on the ground.

On Saturday they bombed Brunswick airplane plants and airbases near Frankfurt, wrecking 148 Nazi planes in battle. Seizure Of Sea Port Clears Major Hurdle To Rumania

By JAMES M. LONG
LONDON, April 10 (AP) Marshal Joseph Stalin announced in an order of the day the capture of Odessa, Russia's greatest Black Sea port.

Odessa—Goal Of Russian Drive—This is a close-up map of the metropolitan area of Odessa, Black Sea port city which is the goal of the Red army's current drive in the south of Russia. (AP Wirephoto).

Capture of the once-gay port, ruined in a two-months siege by the Germans and by 905-days of rigid occupation, was announced after the German high command had acknowledged its evacuation in one of Adolf Hitler's most humiliating defeats.

Stalin said the capture of the city, to which many had expected the Germans would cling stubbornly as a thorn in the side of the Red army's Balkan advance, had cleared away a major obstacle to "the central regions of Rumania."

Jap War Front Is Looking Brighter

LOS ANGELES, April 10 (AP)—The general picture in the South-west Pacific is indeed bright, and is running well ahead of schedule," says Vern Haugland, home for a vacation with relatives after 27 months' duty as war correspondent for the Associated Press on Pacific war fronts.

Describing the United States navy's newest triumph in the Western Carolines as added evidence that the Japanese have lost their offensive punch, Haugland observed:

"The Jap is a tough man on the ground, though, and the war in the Pacific is still a long way from won, but things are moving along with almost unbelievable speed."

The correspondent survived several close brushes with death. Forced to parachute from an army bomber that encountered bad weather over New Guinea, August, 1942, he wandered for 43 days in the wilds of the Owen Stanley mountains before reaching a native village. His diary of the perilous hike provided one of their most moving narratives to emanate from the Pacific war area.

The broadcast said that the United States has full confidence in her military strength and that the American offensive has changed in character from island hopping to "leap frogging."

Darby Bread Keeps Same High Quality

During present-day widespread rationing, one product remaining which requires no tokens and no points but is high in food value is bread.

When one mentions bread, a name comes to mind—and that's Darby's Sally Ann bread, a scientifically enriched, vitamin B-1 food.

Darby's bakery, which is operated by Albert S. Darby, at 510 Main street, cannot always guarantee the extra special pastries and super-delux sweetbreads of pre-war days—but does continue to make available large quantities of high quality bread.

The size, content or taste of Sally Ann bread has not suffered since the opening of the war, and families are doubly appreciative of the high food value and tasty goodness of the non-rationed product.

And—while present scarcities continue—Darby's customers may look forward to the time when the firm will resume its production of tasty, rich pastries for special occasions.

Ample Protection Is Advised

"Would you think of living in a town without a fire department?" is a question Henry C. Burnett whose insurance office is located in the Read hotel building asks you readers. He further opines, "Certainly no, you know how important it is to the community's protection. Because you realize fires do happen."

"When a fire hits your home it's too late to buy fire insurance, too late to rec, 'are the money loss you have, too late to get a fire insurance company's check-book to pay the builder for repairs, or for a whole new home."

Mr. Burnett further states, "Remember fire plays no favorites. Every year it destroys over 340,000 homes. Do not gamble any longer that you won't be one of them. The cost of fire insurance is so low that you could pay it for two or three hundred years before the cost comes near the amount of insurance you would have during that time. Would you know what your loss was, in terms of contents or household goods? Most people overlook or forget fully 40 per cent of their possessions in actual items and value. Forty per cent represents a sizeable loss. Do you think you would overlook that much? Experience says 'yes'—and you can see for yourself how much your error could be by mentally studying any room in your home and trying to make a complete list of its contents and their present day value. Then just check your list against what you actually find in the room. If you come within 60 per cent of the actual items and their value, you have done exceptionally well, and you have proven to yourself that you face a 40 per cent loss today, should you have a fire. An absolutely unnecessary loss, because it can be completely eliminated by simply taking a real inventory now."

Mr. Burnett offers to furnish with his compliments a copy of the new simplified personal property inventory form and asks that you take inventory now—before the fire. He promises that it will pay a 40 per cent dividend.

Insurance—Henry C. Burnett, as an insurance counselor, makes it his exclusive profession. He stresses that his sole interest is insurance, not real estate, banking or some other interesting field. Out of his singleness of purposes, he is convinced the best place to get insurance advice is from an insurance man who can tell patrons frankly whether they are under, over or adequately protected. Farmers having power worries may now be in a position to do something about it, for some restrictions governing the manufacture and distribution of the famous Briggs & Stratton gasoline engines are being relaxed.

Masters Electric Co. has in an order for half a dozen of these motors, but they may be sold only to agriculturalists certified by the Howard county USDA War Board.

E. C. Masters, owner of the company, suggested that the wise step would be to put in an application to the USDA war board to show need and justification for the machine. Once this is secured, he will then be in a position to fill the order.

He said he expected the first of the machines to arrive within a space of 30 days. Indications now are that as often as he sells a unit, he will be able to replace it in stock, thus enabling him to secure a large number for farmers in this area.

The Briggs & Stratton motor needs no explanation for those familiar with power. It is compact, air cooled and develops from a horse and a half to six horsepower in the model ranges (N-B-ZZ) offered by Masters. These units are flexible and may be seated easily anywhere.

They come with six to one gears, said Masters, or operate on straight drive. They thus are ideal for water pumping, feed grinding, or any other of many uses around the farm.

Another point of relaxation has been on magneto parts, according to Masters. He is able to keep a complete stock on hand of almost any part needed for his expert repair and rebuilding work. About the only thing in which he now has real difficulty in securing is Bakelite distributor tops, etc.

Change to SHELL and put the SAVINGS INTO WAR BONDS

Referring to automobile insurance, Mr. Burnett says, "When the other fellow slams into your car, even though he was in the wrong 100 per cent, where do you come in? You'd certainly want the damage fixed pronto, so the car needn't be laid up long, and wouldn't look like a wreck. "You'd get as big a repair bill should your car catch fire or if it were crushed by a falling tree or a garage building, or other objects in a windstorm, broken windows, theft, damage by mischievous youngsters, water damage, hail or explosion. "It's much easier on your mind and a lot cheaper, to send us the bills for the resulting damage if anything happens to your car."

Cards And Reds Lead Exhibition Baseball Circuit

NEW YORK, April 10 (AP)—Tabbed by some as the teams with the best chances of winning the pennants, the St. Louis Cardinals and Cincinnati Reds of the national league, and the Washington Senators and Cleveland Indians of the American league, to date have dominated the red flannel or spring exhibition baseball circuit.

With the opening of the regular season only a week off, the national league champions and runner-ups are deadlocked for the lead, each having won three games without a reversal.

The Senators top the American league teams with four wins and one loss, with the Indians close behind, having won two of three.

Only one of the Cardinals' three victories was gained against major league opposition, that one against their city rivals, the Browns. Two of the Cincinnati victories were gained against the Indians and Chicago Cubs, while the Senators split a pair with the Philadelphia Phillies, their only Big League competition.

The Philly league has produced one major surprise, however, with the New York Yankees riddled by wholesale service calls, the best record of any American league club against major league opposition despite a setback by their Interborough rival, the Giants. Joe McCarthy's men have won four and lost three.

Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics set a torrid early pace by winning their first six games, but made an about face and dropped their next four.

The national league holds and 11 to eight edge over its junior loop rivals. The edge was manufactured primarily by the Cardinals, Reds and Giants.

The average canary lives about eight years.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR. — NEW YORK, April 10 (AP)—That guy with the white coat and the loud voice won't be kidding this year when he hollers: "You can't tell the players without a score card." ... In fact, the printer will have to work fast some days so that you can tell 'em with a score card. ... So, just to help baseball fans become better acquainted with the numerous newcomers, this dept. will introduce them briefly from day to day. Here goes.

A Rookie A Day
Grey Clarke, White Sox third baseman — led American Association batters with .346 at Milwaukee last year; good team player and a steady player on the hot corner. Called "Noisy" by the Brewers because he isn't. Chews a big cud of "eatin' tobacco" and his uniform usually looks like Pepper Martin's used to. The Sox launfity bill is sure to go up.

Carl Lindquist, Braves pitcher — a 15-game winner for Hartford last season. Started campaign by blanking Springfield on opening day, topped it off Sept. 4 by getting married the same day that he won game 15; the next day the fans chipped in $179.55 for a wedding present.

Service Dept.
Capt. William H. Harridge, Jr., son of the American league president, is commander of a tank company at Camp Barkeley, Tex. A football and boxing fan. Capt. Harridge never had any connection with baseball, but he recently took Will, Sr., for a rough ride in a tank—which sounds like he might be practicing to take over Junge Landis' job. ... Lieut. Paul (Bear) Bryant, the "other" end on Alabama's Howell — to — Hutson grid team of 1935, recently visited the Alabama campus after more than a year of duty with the navy in North Africa. ... After seeing the material Coach Frank Thomas is assembling for next season, Bear headed right back to Africa. ... Tackle Alex Shibanoff, formerly of Franklin and Marshall and the Detroit Lions, has turned up in New Guinea commanding a PT boat. ... Wonder if he calls it "Sink-wich"?

Correspondents Proud Of Their Jeep Drivers

WITH THE FIFTH ARMY IN ITALY, April 6 (delayed) (AP)—The Jeep drivers in our correspondents' camp who takes us to the front every day have seen more war and probably know more about it than any comparable group here. They were all through Africa and Sicily, and many made the initial landings at Salerno and again at Anzio.

The drivers have seen most of the newspapermen who have operated in the Mediterranean theater and have worked out their own sense of values.

In the enlisted men's quarters and at the mess where they eat their reactions receive the most searching analysis.

"I would almost rather get hit by something than let the driver know I was afraid," Edward Kennedy said to me recently.

Pfc. James A. Baum, airport road, Pontiac, Mich., who drove correspondents all through the Italian operations before transferring his activities to the Anzio beachhead, has been to every section of the front with every correspondent who has been to the beachhead.

"I took Mr. Dan DeLuca of the Associated Press one day to get a story about some tanks," says Baum. "There was a camouflaged tank in a field that the Germans had spotted and we were warned not to stop there but to get by it fast. We did. The Germans were throwing stuff in on it and we went by that tank about 40 miles an hour. When we got where we were going Mister DeLuca told me he was more scared of my driving than he was of the artillery."

One of the best known and respected drivers is Pfc. Delmar Richardson, a big fellow from Fort Wayne, Ind. Rich will go anywhere and most reporters like to have him. When Villa Virtue, beachhead home of the correspondents, was bombed during a sneak raid a few weeks ago, Rich had anticipated the raid and was up on the roof looking for it. Later, he said, "When I saw the bombs leave the ship and head my way I just laid there on the roof, grabbed the rail and held on."

On harried roads Richardson knows how to drive while keeping only one eye above the level of the steering wheel.

Pfc. Harold Lee Bennett, route 3, Valdosta, Ga., drove Dick Tregaskis and Don Whitehead all through the Italian campaign.

"Mr. Tregaskis was quiet and a nice fellow to drive for. He always let the driver do his own driving. I liked Mr. Whitehead, too. He was always in a good humor. I used to drive Mr. Hal Boyle around too. Once he wrote a story about me and another fellow touring at Mount Vaguisus on a motorcycle."

BODIES IDENTIFIED

1,000-Ton Freighter Damaged In Raid

CHUNGKING, April 10 (AP)—Mitchells of the U.S. 14th Air Force in a Saturday night raid on Yulikan on southern Hainan Island damaged a 1,000-ton freighter, left several smaller vessels burning and destroyed two Japanese interceptors, headquarters announced today.

Further reports on a previous South Sea Liberator sweep disclosed a 1,000-ton freighter was bombed and probably sunk and two large vessels probably were sunk off the southern tip of Hainan Island.

'Sugar' Robinson Is Patient At Halloran

NEW YORK, April 10 (AP)—Major Robert Wilson, public relations officer for Halloran hospital, said today that Sgt. Walker Smith, known in boxing circles as Ray (Sugar) Robinson, was a patient at the hospital.

Army regulations, the officer added, did not permit him to say when the New York welterweight was admitted to the hospital nor the nature of his illness.

Draft Moves In On Washington Griffith's Hopes

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—Pennant hopes of the Washington Senators, bright and rosy just 24 hours ago, took a downward tumble today as Uncle Sam's draft men took a cut at the contingent of Latin-Americans the club had assembled for the 1944 campaign.

Clark Griffith, baseball's heralded "Old Fox," thought he had pulled a fast one on the other major league outfits when he signed up some 68 players from Cuba, Puerto Rico, Venezuela and Mexico. Most of them showed promise in training and a couple were slated for regular jobs.

But the selective service system moved in on that blissful outlook with a ruling that the Latins must either return home or register for the draft in this country by June 12—and take their chances of going into the armed forces.

Should any of the Latins decide to return home—and some of them unquestionably will do just that—they won't be able to re-enter the United States without special permission. Thirteen of the South and Central American players are of draft age and apparently physically acceptable to the army.

At Brooklyn manager Leo Durocher of the Dodgers broke his right thumb in two places. He was trying to spear a wild throw bare-handed. Thus ended Branch Rickey's hopes that his manager would start the season at second base.

The accident happened in an exhibition game against the Boston Red Sox. The Dodgers won out in the 12th inning.

Other Major League News:
Washington — Senators—great relief pitching by Dutch Leonard gave Senators 2-1 win over Phils.
Cleveland Indians — Red Embree and Vern Kennedy listed to pitch against Pirates today.

Cincinnati Reds—Manager Bill McKechnie commented: "I've got as good a pitching staff as any in the National league. Bucky Walters looks as good as he ever did; Elmer Riddle is in great shape; Ray Starr will be worth a lot to us and there's no need to mention this fellow (Tommy) De La Cruz."

Pittsburgh Pirates—Rip Sewell had his slow ball working okay against Detroit. He limited Tigers to three hits in pitching four scoreless innings.

Needs Horsepower

Excessive Rainfall Bothers Farmers

DALLAS, April 9 (AP)—Too much rain and the manpower shortage is giving East Texas farmers plenty of trouble a report from the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce compiled by Regional Manager Carl F. Bartz of Dallas disclosed.

"Throughout the (East Texas) district prolonged and torrential rains, accompanied in many instances by hail, are playing havoc and seriously delaying field work which now averages about three weeks behind normal," Bartz wrote following a visit to the section.

"It will take a week of dry weather in the sandy lands and longer in the mixed and tight land sections to enable farmers to resume work in the fields.

"The shortage of farm labor and equipment throughout the district aggravates the late season but the feeling prevails that, having somehow successfully surmounted many other difficulties incident to the war, the problem of inadequate farm labor will also be overcome."

NOES ON THE CAMPS

By Ted Meier
NEW YORK, April 10 (AP)—It looks like Ace Adams has seen the last of a bullpen.

The star of the 1943 giant relief pitching staff, who appeared in a record number of 70 games last year, has been promised a starting role by manager Mel Ott.

Adams watched from the bench yesterday as the Giants plastered an 8 to 3 defeat on the Yankees at Atlantic City, N. J. Phil Weintrub, first sacker of the Giants, starred with a single, double and triple.

At Brooklyn manager Leo Durocher of the Dodgers broke his right thumb in two places. He was trying to spear a wild throw bare-handed. Thus ended Branch Rickey's hopes that his manager would start the season at second base.

Rabies Death Toll Worst In Five Yrs.

By JAMES MARLOW AND GEORGE ZIELKE
WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—Rabies, killing man and beast across the nation, has climbed so that final figures on 1943 may show the worst toll in five years.

Preliminary government estimates from the states—Texas and Louisiana have not yet reported—tell this story:

At least 33 humans and 7,348 animals died of rabies in 1943. Most of the animals were dogs. The others were cattle, cats, sheep, swine, horses, goats, wolves, foxes.

There are no figures on the number of persons — perhaps thousands — saved from death through the Pasteur treatment after bites by rabid animals last year.

Dr. Harry W. Schoening, chief of the pathological division in the agriculture department's bureau of animal industry, comments:

"I'm sorry to say there is about as much rabies today as there was 10 or 20 years ago. Progress has been disappointing."

Some reasons behind the rising wartime toll: Movement of people who take their pets into and out of rabid areas; crowding, which increases the potential number of victims in rabid areas; lack of manpower, such as dogcatchers and other health officials.

These steps are basic in controlling rabies: Licensing all dogs in a community; picking up and destroying unclaimed strays; keeping all dogs off the streets when rabies appears in a community.

Wayne Rideout Is Accepted By Navy
TYLER, April 10 (AP)—It's the navy for Wayne Rideout, assistant Tyler high school coach, and one-time nationally known track star, who was inducted into the armed services yesterday, reducing from an original five to two, the members of the school's coaching staff.

Big Egg Hunter
BUFFALO (AP)—Mayor Joseph J. Kelly demands big game when he goes Easter egg hunting.

He prowled the bird house at the Zoo for an hour yesterday, having been told the Australian emu was about to hatch an egg—but the emu didn't oblige. "At least, if it did, I didn't see it," he said regretfully.

But Dr. Schoening says health officials haven't had wholehearted support from the public in most localities and, generally speaking, lack adequate authority and funds.

Which is a polite way of saying: Sentimental people don't want to keep their pets off the streets, even during a rabies outbreak, and some city officials and civil leaders lack sense or courage to take or advise necessary control measures.

These are the government figures on rabies victims—with humans first and animals in parentheses — for the past six years:

1938 — 47 (9,365); 1939 — 30 (8,248); 1940 — 28 (7,210); 1941 — 30 (7,847); 1942 — 28 (7,137); 1943 — 33 (7,348).

Thus, although incomplete, 1943's figures were an increase over 1942's. But — in 1942 Texas had the nation's worst record with one human and 1,108 animals. In the same year Louisiana reported 84 animal deaths.

As noted above, Texas and Louisiana have not reported for 1943. But if they retained the same ratio of rabies cases as in 1942 then the total for the nation in 1943 would have been more than 33 human and more than 8,450 animal deaths.

That would mean the greatest mortality since 1938.

DISPATCH TO ALL STOREKEEPERS...

From the fighting fronts to the merchants of this city comes a desperate plea—SAVE WASTE PAPER!

Paper to make bomb rings, shell containers, helmet linings—to pack and protect food, ammunition, and blood plasma. Over 700,000 items needed by our armed forces are made of paper or wrapped in it.

So urgent is the need for waste paper that today it tops the list of all the materials critically needed for war.

In retail stores in this city tons of precious waste paper are daily being destroyed. Used wrappings, cartons, packing boxes, old bills and records are being burned or thrown away when they should be going into the muscle and sinew of our war machine.

Save every scrap of waste paper—bundle it—phone this newspaper for collection information. Do it today!

Curbing Job Separations

Although the general rate of turnover in critical industries over the nation has been reported somewhat down, there is nevertheless a perplexing side to the picture.

This has to do with the rate of separation for women employees in defense jobs. In the face of a general turnover reduction, figures show that in aircraft industries 78 women quit their jobs for every 58 hired and that in a variety of war plants 79 women had to be hired to show a net gain of two.

Only a woman could say: "Silly women," and get by with it. Moreover, that is not the answer. Most women have what appears good and sufficient reasons to them before they leave their jobs. In some cases it is a desire to give closer attention to children. In others it is pregnancy. Many are perplexed over the complexity of rationing and feel they must devote more time to the operation of their households. Some have found that their domestic difficulties increase because they are working.

Women have learned already that in personnel reductions, they are invariably the first to go under the axe. They are not yet to the crumb begging stage and are independent enough that they will apply for unemployment insurance rather than take jobs for lesser pay. No few of them not only were lured into industry by high wages, but they actually do not have to work for a living.

Well, why not let them quit and forget about the entire thing as many suggest? The answer is simple. Already women account for 25 per cent of the nation's war labor force and with the military manpower situation tightening daily as it is, there seems every indication that this percentage must of necessity be increased.

The sensible approach to the problem is not through government action, but through level-headed approach by industries everywhere. Even here in Big Spring where women are playing an increasingly important part in commercial life, there seems every indication that this percentage must of necessity be increased.

The sensible approach to the problem is not through government action, but through level-headed approach by industries everywhere. Even here in Big Spring where women are playing an increasingly important part in commercial life, there is scarcely an employer but what could reduce his turnover rate by more considerate counsel with his women employees. Given assurance of a square deal and an understanding of her problems, the average woman will in turn respond by showing a greater sense of responsibility in her wartime job.

It Won't Be Wendell

Ever since Wendell Willkie made the very serious mistake of putting himself out on a limb in the Wisconsin republican primaries, there has been much speculation about what his withdrawal as a candidate for the GOP presidential nomination will mean.

Best explanations seem to us to be that the old guard still has control of the GOP. This faction resented Willkie ever since he went to the last convention and deliberately forced them to yield him the nomination. They also aren't forgetting that he not so long ago was listed as a democrat. Whether the old guard choice will be a semi-liberal or the vice-president in that category for purpose of capturing liberal republicans and middle-road voters remains to be seen. Only one thing is sure. The GOP nominee won't be Wendell Willkie.

Capital Comment— Election Multiplies Hull's Critics

When a tree grows under cultivation, that's called forestry; when a tree grows in Brooklyn, that's literature.

J. Clyde Tomlinson, chairman of Gregg county war price and rationing boards, tells Cong. Lindy Beckwith that in wartime there is unquestionably a definite place for OPA program, but that regulations should be simplified and reduced to minimum, steering as far from regimentation as possible, the organization should be streamlined, expenses reduced, and elimination of regional offices and staffs when state and local offices can do the work.

"Critics of Secretary of State Hull and his foreign policy are more numerous and more critical than they would be if this were not election year," thinks Cong. Luther Johnson, of Corsicana, ranking member of the House Foreign Affairs committee. Unfortunately, he says, some people's judgment is influenced by political considerations, and many of the critics have been unjust, and upon reflection their charges have been without foundation."

Chairman Hutton Summers of the House Judiciary committee, inserts in the record an address by Sr. Lie. Carlos Sanchez Merajada, president of the Inter-American Bar association, which contains an interesting statement about the evolution of the Mexican government. The Inter-American Bar association," says the judge, has a great opportunity to render a unifying service to the peoples of this hemisphere. With devotion and intelligent effort that opportunity is being taken advantage of."

The War Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Secretary of State Cordell Hull in his statement on foreign policy yesterday said "it is hard to imagine a stable Europe if there is instability in its component parts, of which France is one of the most important."

Coincidentally in Algiers, there was intensification of the bitter quarrel for power between those two great Frenchmen, Gen. Charles De Gaulle, president of the French Committee of National Liberation, and Gen. Henri Giraud, commander in chief of the French army. De Gaulle ousted his colleague from the army command, an action which Giraud has refused to recognize. If De Gaulle makes it stick, it will give him both civil and military control.

An Associated Press dispatch from Algiers says that De Gaulle's action was in effect a re-assertion of his determination to force the Allies to deal with the committee as the sole provisional government for Liberated France.

This imbroglio in Algiers is symptomatic of, though not necessarily related to, sharp divisions among the people of occupied France—a fact which is largely concealed from us by the Hitlerian cloak of military repression. Here we have the making of a major post-war problem for the Allies, and it may be one of the most dangerous they will have to handle.

The third French republic is dead, and we are on the verge of the rebirth of a great nation. That will not be accomplished without heavy travail.

France in pre-war days was divided into many political parties, ranging from the communists on the extreme left to the conservatives on the extreme right. They will figure in the creation of the new government. However, there's a far wider and more threatening cleft among the people. That is between the loyalists and those who have supported the pro-Nazi Vichy regime.

The hatred between these two groups is so great that it will be a wonder if it doesn't result in bloodshed when the axis control is broken.

Thus we see the force of the reasoning in Secretary Hull's firm declaration that in order to drive the enemy from French territory "the supreme military commander (General Eisenhower) must have unfettered authority."

In short, with poor France so shattered and disorganized, the only safe and sane course is to have Allied military control there in the early days of liberation.

The Timid Soul

Hollywood— Studios See Stars... In Court

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD— Things are looking down for the studios, up for the actors. And an old movie controversy is in the air again.

Two players—Robert Cummings and Olivia DeHavilland—were victors in recent court decisions against Universal and Warner Bros., respectively. Both had revolted against specific roles assigned them. Cummings won not only release from his contract, but back pay for the time he had refused to work. The DeHavilland decision was equally favorable to the actor, for the studio was denied right to add to the length of his contract the time Olivia had taken on suspension (off salary) rather than play unwelcome parts. This would seem to open the way for rebels to suit out their contracts—if they can afford it.

Both studios, of course, are appealing the decisions, and all Hollywood will be watching the results, as it did when James Cagney and Bette Davis tussled legally with the Warners—Cagney winning and Bette losing.

Most actors consider the so-called "long-term contracts," which they eagerly signed when they were newcomers, inequitable. The documents are all in the studio's favor, because the studio may renew at intervals of six months to a year, but the player is bound for the full term (generally seven years) of the agreement. Periodic increases in salary are provided, but often a lesser player has been offered a choice between foregoing the increase and being "dropped." A player who has built a name and hence is in demand never meets this alternative. Frequently, indeed, the studio voluntarily boosts the ante to keep the star satisfied.

Aside from all this, the question of a star's right to refuse a role he considers undesirable is almost as old as the star system. Scarcely a top name has not been involved, at one time or another, in a squabble over the issue. Notable rebels: George Raft, Cagney, Dick Powell, Ann Harding, Claudette Colbert, Dorothy Comynore, Bette Davis.

B. G. ("Buddy") DeSylva, a Paramount boss with a sense of humor, has a framed enlargement of a Clark Gable interview over his desk where actors can't help seeing it. Here Gable attests he got where he did by following producer orders. Brian Donlevy, among others, has been persuaded by this silent argument. DeSylva discreetly has not framed any reviews of Gable's flop, "Parnell," which he also made by following orders.

Ideal solution for the studio problem is Cary Grant's. Grant, like Irene Dunne, Colbert, Gary Cooper and a few others, signs for one film at a time. Any actor can do the same. All he has to do, to make a walloping success of it, is to be Cary Grant—or the equivalent in box-office power.

Washington— Bus Jams, Slums Are Boomtown

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON—What is wartime Washington today? It's like this:

It's Boomtown on the Potomac. It's the $83,000,000 Pentagon building, and its slums so disgraceful that Congress had to stop prosecuting the war to "investigate" its needle-in-the-hay hunting for apartments, houses and rooms.

It's jammed buses and streetcars. It's taxi drivers who will pass you anything from the time of day to the latest back-seat chat of Clare Boothe Luce.

It's the tomb of the unknown soldier, where Army and Navy guards walk night and day, rain, snow or shine. It's Arlington National Cemetery where the funeral parades these days are almost endless. It's government bigwigs, in the midst of war to go pausing in the middle around the corner from Connecticut avenue to pay final tribute to Joseph B. Eastman, the great transportation expert, who served his government faithfully and well for 25 years.

It's the President-cancelling a press conference because the White House elevator has broken down and can't be repaired immediately—because of the war. It's the occasional visits of Mrs. Roosevelt. It's a bench in Lafayette park seeming strangely empty because Bernard M. Basuch is ill.

It's silver-haired Secretary of State Cordell Hull working a little political shenanigan by "consulting" republican members of Congress on international affairs. It's the closely-guarded barrier that blocks the only civilian entrance to the Commerce building, where there are very few war secrets, and it's the wide open doors of the Department of Justice building, where the FBI guards many war secrets.

It's the guards at the doors to the Capitol who paw through papers in brief cases and big envelopes until you exit, but never bother to look under your coat or in your pockets.

It's Howard University, one of the country's great Negro institutions of learning. It's Wacs and SPARS and lady Marines and more WAVES than anywhere else in the world. It's crowded dim-lit bars and night clubs, where the man at the next table may be a

Californian Doesn't Like River Deal But Avers Texas Isn't Good Trader

By TEX EASLEY
WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—

A treaty with Mexico, proposing three dams across the Rio Grande between El Paso and Brownsville and a division of waters to irrigate fertile lands in Texas and Mexico, is running into tough sledding in the senate because of the opposition of one state.

California is objecting to ratification. The Rio Grande proposal is but half of the treaty; it also proposes a division of waters of the Colorado river, which separates California and Arizona and flows into Mexico.

Mexico's share of the Colorado is too large, complain Californians who say it encroaches on supplies which they have contemplated in laying plans for future development of their state. Rep. Hinchshaw (R-Calif.), one of the opposition leaders, says the treaty is a sell-out of California's rights for the benefit of Texas.

"You Texans are not such good horse traders, though," he commented. "For the amount of our good Colorado river water Mexico is getting, you should have gotten a guarantee of a lot more water out of the Rio Grande than you did."

Since the treaty has to be ratified only by the house, Hinchshaw couldn't have a vote on the proposition. But he did introduce a bill challenging the constitutionality of a treaty which is not approved by both houses of congress and which gives away property of the United States, in this case water.

In the senate the junior senator of California, Sheridan Downey, has cried loud his objections. Other western states along the Colorado have indicated they won't object to ratification. That is, their senators have so indicated. Members of the senate foreign relations committee, which is headed by Texas' own Tom Connally, don't wish to commit themselves before hearings are held on the treaty.

Major General J. A. Ulio, adjutant general, in a letter to Rep. Gene Worley of Sharnock refers again to the war department policy of letting men long overseas come home for a visit.

"The desirability of rotating troops who have been on foreign service for a considerable length of time has been under continuous study since the inception of the war," wrote Ulio, but until recently, lack of shipping space has been the main obstacle to the return of personnel from overseas duty.

This shortage of shipping has now been partially alleviated and a policy for the Pacific theaters is being prepared. However, the decision as to when personnel may be returned to the United States has been delegated to the theater commander concerned. It should be understood that the maintenance of full combat effectiveness of our troops overseas must always receive first consideration.

Excerpts from a radio speech by WFA chief Marvin Jones, who represented the Texas Panhandle in congress for 20 years:

They are food and clothing locked up in nature's warehouse against the time when man, through his efforts, takes them out. Our great soil resources in this country have enabled us to develop a great race of history. History shows that the character and strength of a nation goes up and down with its soil.

In our fast development of this new country we have not always been careful in the preservation of our soil, and much of this valuable God-given birthright has been permitted to wash or blow away."

Majority Of Work Placements Are Within District

Needs of local essential industries are so great that only 14 clearance placements (to out-of-district points) were made by the US Employment Service office during March, Henry A. Clark, manager, disclosed Monday in a summary of March activities.
During the month, he said, there were 522 referrals by the office, and these resulted in a total of 326 placements.

Demand for local essential jobs continue at a high peak, said Clark, who cited the pressing need of Cosden refinery for maintenance men, of Henningson & Lamesa for egg breakers.
In keeping with a WMC policy, the USES office has maintained a tight policy on statements of availability. Of 80 requests referred to the office during March, only 24 ended in statements of availability and 15 of these resulted from closing of the army contract flying school at Lamesa. Excluding these, only one of every seven persons applying for the statements were given them. Most were told that the employers were right in refusing to grant statements and were urged to return to their jobs.

Of the 326 local placements last month, 48 were for short-time jobs, 17 were women, 25 veterans and 21 colored.

Wheat Yield To Be Above Average

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—The agriculture department today estimated this year's winter wheat crop at 601,759,000 bushels, compared with 529,606,000 bushels produced last year and an average production of 570,675,000 bushels in the ten years 1933-42.

Before the crop entered the winter department estimated a probable production at 526,957,000 bushels last December, basing its calculations on conditions December 1 and on a seeded area of 47,127,000 acres with allowances for abandonment and diversion.
The seeded area compared with 37,834,000 acres for the 1943 crop, 38,072,000 acres for the 1942 crop, and a ten-year average area of 38,015,000 acres for the crops of the ten years 1932-41.

The condition of the crop on April 1 indicated a yield of 12.8 bushels an acre this year, compared with 11.2 bushels indicated from the Dec. 1 condition, 14.0 bushels produced last year, and 12.2 bushels, the 1933-42 average acre yield.

Draft Board Is Awaiting Orders

Flooded with inquiries by telephone and in person, Howard county selective service headquarters could only announce Monday it had received no official information regarding the order described in press accounts as postponing drafting of all men 26 and over who are in war-important jobs.
The press account, distributed from Washington by the Associated Press Saturday quoted selective national headquarters as ordering the postponement. Draft Director Lewis B. Hersey, the account stated, announced the action after being told by the Army and Navy they want young men so badly they are willing for draft boards to fail to deliver their quotas of older registrants.

Such an order is of vital concern to numerous Howard county registrants — and they are showing their concern by giving the selective service office scarcely a moment free of telephone calls or personal visits. Personnel was so busy answering inquiries no time was left for opening mail to search for any information pertaining to the order—but it was believed an official information would have come by telegraph.
Announcement will be published as soon as official information is received, it was stated.

WHEN THE KICK OF A MULE is all to the good

(THE CHRYSLER "SEA MULE")

When a ship of war or a cargo vessel can carry its own tug with it, hoist it over the side, to help work the ship into its own docking position—that's a mule kick that's all to the good.
Or when a barge loaded with a war cargo can be smartly maneuvered in a difficult channel, or be pushed up the streams and rivers of an invaded shore—that's another mule kick that firmly writes itself into history.
Such are the exploits, and such is the current history, of the "Sea Mule" of Chrysler Corporation design and production. This "Sea Mule" in various sizes and models and with the stalwart power of its Chrysler marine engines, has played its part in the work of the Navy, and helped the Army in all parts of the world.
Production of these harbor tugs in large numbers is another of the vital war jobs in which Chrysler Corporation is applying its resources in creative engineering and quantity manufacturing.
