Vows Pledged in December Rites By Miss Dailey and James Neff

Runnels Chapel of the First United Methodist Church in Center, Tex., was the scene of the December marriage of Miss Glenda Kay Dailey and James Thomas Neff, Jr.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Milton Dailey of Grapeland, and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Woodruff of Matador. The bridegroom is the son of the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. James Thomas Neff Sr., of Center.

Vows were exchanged by the couple in a double ring ceremony read Saturday afternoon, December 13, at 4 o'clock with the Rev. Dr. Neff officiating.

Altar setting for the nuptial rites included golden wedding rings entwined with white carnations, flanking either side of the altar candles. The candles were lighted by Mitchell Dailey of Grapeland, brother of the bride, Mrs. R. L. Clifford Jr., of Center was organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a semi-formal princess style wedding gown of white silk organza with embroidered silk illusion. Rows of embroidered lace circled the long sleeves and empire bodice. Her veil of white illusion was attached to a Dior bow of silk organza. The bride carried a cascade of white feathered carnations, centered with a white orchid. She also carried a Mother of Pearl Bible brought to her from Jerusalem by a great-aunt.

Miss Patsy Garner of Grapeland was maid of honor and Mrs. Michael Neff of Edinburg was matron of honor.

The bridegroom's brothers, Michael Neff of Edinburg and Steve and Jerry Neff of Center, served as best men. James Dailey of Nacogdoches, brother of the bride, seated the guests.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlor. The bride's table was centered with an arrangement of white gladiolas, carnations and camellias. The three-tiered wedding cake was served by Mrs. Michael Neff. Miss Karen Mensing of Leesville, Louisiana, cousin of the bridegroom, served the punch.

Highlights and Sidelights

FROM YOUR STATE CAPITAL

By Vern Sanford
 Texas Press Association

(delayed)

AUSTIN, Tex.—January's draft call for Texans is 573. That is up 117 from December's 456.

Col. Morris S. Schwartz, State Selective Service director, said allocation of the call will be delayed to local draft boards until he receives official instructions on procedures for random selection. Induction period is January 15-31.

Under the new Selective Service rally, men from 19 to 26 . . . born on September 14 . . . whose last names start with the letter "J" will be the first drafted after January 1.

Under the new lottery procedure 365 capsules are dropped into the hopper. Each capsule bears a number representing a day in the year. These are regarded as birth dates.

Order in which capsules are drawn thus determines the order in which men with matching birthdays will be drafted next year. Same sequence applies to those now deferred, or exempt in the future, when they return to "1-A" classification.

Texas' quota for pre-induction physical and mental examination next month is 5,800.

In addition to available men 19-26, all those 18 years and six to 11 months old in January of 1970, may be ordered for examination to fill the call. Oldest will be ordered first.

A 17-member Youth Advisory Committee to Schwartz elected these officers: William C. Sarapallus, presiding officer; Michael J. Shearn, vice chairman, and Miss Karen K. Burk, secretary.

This group will evaluate the draft law and its administration and offer advice.

Other members include Rodney E. Donaldson, Austin; Eddie C. Hill, Dallas; Larry L. Long, Austin; Peter S. Cotham, Paris; Jose G. Guerra, Edinburg; James H. Wilkinson, Houston; Robert L. Jones, Corpus Christi; Robert J. Hodges, Austin; Miss Sandra Coachman, Belton; Jay N. Miller, Odessa; Michael L. Riddle, Lubbock; George H. Gould, Beaumont; Frank L. Sullivan, Nacogdoches and Larry L. Freeman, Houston.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES—A Texas law requiring publication twice in a newspaper of political subdivision land up for sale does not repeal the statute requiring commissioner's courts to appoint a commissioner to dispose of county real estate at auction, says Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin.

Martin also ruled that the new law does not repeal the provision that a taxing unit which purchased property at a tax sale may sell it either at a public or a private sale.

Car Registration Is Made Easier

AUSTIN—Texas drivers will find registering their motor vehicles for 1970 easier than ever before, thanks to a new registration system devised by the Texas Highway Department.

The Department expects more than seven million vehicles to be registered during the year and there will be several new wrinkles.

First, license plates will have a new color scheme—light blue on a reflective white background.

Second, for the first time, motor vehicle registration renewal applications will be mailed to every vehicle owner in Texas during January. The registration period begins February 1.

The renewal application will arrive in the mail in a slender envelope marked, "Important—This is Your License Plate Renewal Application."

The application itself has instructions printed on it. It is a three-part form which should not be torn apart.

When the registration period begins, the vehicle owner need only take the application—and the fee—to the county tax office. Or he can order his plates by mail.

With the application, he will no longer need to present his certificate of title or the last year's registration receipt.

If he decides to go to the county tax office, he will find shorter waiting lines. With the application, the clerk will need only to receive the fee, affix to the application a sticker showing the registration number and other data and hand over the 1970 plates.

Some vehicle owners may find it even more convenient to go through the registration process by mail.

Although owners can register their vehicles in person until April 1, there is a March 1 cutoff date for mail registration. This allows 30 days for delivery before 1970 plates must be displayed on vehicles.

If the vehicle owner wants his plates mailed to him, he should send his registration application to his county tax collector, with the registration fee plus $1, which is the statutory charge for handling and postage.

Swenson Ranch Records Come to Texas Tech

STAMFORD—(Special) Records relating to the Swenson Land & Cattle Company, using one of the earliest brands registered in Texas, the SMS, have been turned over to the Southwest Collection at Texas Tech University.

Director Sylvan Dunn of the Southwest Collection—a regional repository for historic materials—made the announcement.

The family company operates four ranches in Texas—the Tongue River, the Spur, the Throckmorton and near Stamford, the Flat Top.

The records detail in part the rising fortunes of the family of Svante Magnus Swenson who arrived in New York still too young to vote and with only the clothes on his back. Yet, through his enthusiasm, he persuaded a large immigration of Swedish people to Texas—all hopefully following his successful pursuit of "The American Dream."

Historians report that two-thirds of the earliest Swedish settlers in Texas came from his home area of Jonkopings lan, Sweden, and most of the other third from areas circling it.

S. M. Swenson arrived in Texas in 1838 and moved back to New York in 1863 but continued to hold vast landed interests in Texas, all of them closely supervised by a family whose influence has been felt throughout the state. (The town of Stamford, Tex. was named for Stamford, Conn. where S. M. Swenson's daughter Elenora Swenson Towne, lived.)

The records now in the Southwest Collection include an estimated 25 file drawers, including photographic plates—"running into the hundreds"—which were used for ranch brochures and other purposes, Dunn said. The Southwest Collection also has a series of valuable photographs depicting life on the SMS ranches, and oral history is being recorded on tape. An inventory is yet to be completed.

The records complement other records relating to the Spur Ranch which came to the Southwest Collection through the efforts of a former Texas Tech University president, Dr. Clifford B. Jones. These concern the Espuela Land and Cattle Company which established the Spur Ranch, all of which was acquired by the Swensons and Thomas Emery of Cincinnati, Ohio, in 1906.

The new records were made available to the Southwest Collection through the efforts of the Ranch Headquarters Association and its president, Dr. W. C. Holden, author of a forthcoming history of the Espuela Land and Cattle Company. The association is working to recreate an authentic, historical, Ranch Headquarters at the site of the new Museum at Texas Tech University.

This recent acquisition includes three volumes of an abstract of title to lands owned by the Espuela Land and Cattle Company and conveyed to the Swenson family and others. Also included were Spur Ranch documents covering the period from July 1885 to April 1911. Land for the Spur Ranch was purchased by S. M. Swenson & Sons, the family's New York company, in 1906.

The president of S. M. Swenson & Sons, Swenson Land & Cattle Co. and Emery's of Cincinnati, Ohio, 60 Wall Street, New York, now is Wilson Elmore. His wife, the former Barbara Swenson, is a great-granddaughter of Svante Magnus Swenson who arrived in America possessionless because the sailing ship which brought him burned in New York Harbor.

Swenson had left his family at Lattarp, Barkeryds Parish, Jonkopings lan, to work in a store in Eksjo, Sweden; so it was natural that he turned to retail salesmanship for his first job in New York—at $15 a month. To learn English, he went to school in Sing Sing. He soon moved to Baltimore, Md., where he was a bookkeeper for a railroad company.

S. M. Swenson apparently had the ability to apply what he learned. When, through the influence of his employer, he managed to move west to Texas, his financial fortunes soared through his knowledge of farming, merchandising and bookkeeping.

He arrived in Texas, reportedly on a trading vessel, in 1838 at the age of 22, and he opened a store at Sugar Land in Fort Bend County. Not content with waiting for the trade to come to him, Swenson outfitted a rig to take merchandise to the buyers, "becoming something more than a peddler and less than a mail order magnate."

He broadened his business, his acquaintance and his understanding of the new country by traveling to Richmond in Fort Bend County, Houston, the town of Velasco on the coast, Galveston and as far north as Austin, carrying farm tools and supplies, necessities and luxuries.

He acquired title to a Fort Bend plantation, and when his first wife died, he urged his mother, his sister, Anna, other relatives and friends to join him in Texas. For many he paid expenses which they worked out on the plantation before going their independent ways. For himself, he returned to the business world.

In 1850, he moved to Austin, which had become the state capital, to become a merchant, banker and land investor. He purchased Buffalo Bayou, Brazos and Gulf Colorado Railroad certificates for 100,000 acres. He bought headright certificates from those who had claims against the late Republic of Texas. He also bought some grants originally made to soldiers in the Mexican War.

When he went to New York in 1863, Swenson's interest in Texas remained but his western operations temporarily slowed. He founded S. M. Swenson & Sons, taking into partnership, when they came of age, his sons, Eric Pierson Swenson—who was the grandfather of Mrs. Elmore—and Swen Albin Swenson, both of them born in Austin.

The family owned a private bank and E. P. Swenson was a founder and a major stockholder in the National City Bank of New York. He became chairman of the board of that bank in 1918.

The ranching developed in the early 1880s when counties were being formed in West Texas and taxes became burdensome. S. M. Swenson sent his two sons west to make a decision in regard to the land, and they elected to go into the cattle business. The early herd was established from a mixture of native and Illinois stock.

S. M. Swenson & Sons handled financial affairs over the years, with management of the ranching interests first being under the Swenson Brothers and then under the Swenson Land & Cattle Company. S. M. Swenson & Sons, for instance, purchased the Spur ager. A. M. G. (Swede) Swenson is manager of the company operations now. Eugene C. Swenson, the son of W. G., and Carl, the son of J. E. Swenson of Spur, assist in the management.

Dr. Holden, history professor emeritus at Texas Tech, called the Swenson ranch records "especially noteworthy since they make available information relating to the historic development of the cattle industry in Texas which would otherwise be lost."

"Unfortunately the history of some of the greatest Texas ranches," he said, "vanished with the owners, who kept most of the records in their heads."

Dunn described the contribution as "an important part of American history since S. M. Swenson lived out the dream of almost every immigrant coming to this country." He said the records also provide a valuable segment of information basic to the history of ranching in the Southwest.

"As people catch the vision of building a great regional repository to preserve the past for the enrichment of the future," he said, "the Southwest Collection is enabled more and more to provide rich opportunities for documenting the true history of this area."

IN APPRECIATION

Your cards, letters and other messages of encouragement while I was in the hospitals in Amarillo and Albuquerque, were deeply appreciated and I wish to take this method of thanking each of you who remembered me in any way.

IN APPRECIATION

I wish to take this means of expressing my appreciation to those who have helped with our Head Start program for preschool children. Your donations of clothing and time given as Teachers Aides have been a great help. There are several items we could use if available, including a record player and records, also charts and other classroom materials. I have also been serving milk and other refreshments daily, and would appreciate any assistance given for this purpose.
