

British Bombers Attack Germany In Massed Raid

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
LONDON, Sunday, March 19 (AP)—British bombers attacked Germany in strength last night — with Frankfurt as their main objective — in a heavy follow-up to the daylight stab into southern Germany by American Flying Fortresses and Liberators.

The American operation against industrial installations at Augsburg, Friedrichshafen and other targets cost 43 U. S. bombers and 10 fighters.

The U. S. attacking force was referred to in the communiqué as being "in very great strength." It was estimated at nearly 2,000 planes including the Lightnings, Thunderbolts and Mustangs which furnished the escort.

AAFBS Graduates Challenged By Speaker To Search For 'Spark'

Challenging graduates of Class 44-4 to search themselves for the "spark" which will enable them to make the most of their opportunities and to accept the tremendous responsibility resting on them as bombardiers, Col. H. M. Wittkop, commanding officer of Big Spring Bombardier school, delivered the address in the graduation service Saturday morning in the post theater.

Colonel Wittkop was the first military man to address a graduating class at the school. He emphasized the importance of "spark" which is "known by various other names. Sometimes," he said, "we say a person has 'oomph' or is a 'go-getter'."

Easter Service Plans Complete For Amphitheatre

Arrangements for the traditional Easter sunrise service in the city park amphitheatre were completed at a meeting of the executive committee of the Big Spring Pastors' association Saturday at the Settles.

U. S. Submarines Are Missing In Japanese Area

WASHINGTON, March 18 (AP)—Two American submarines—part of the fleet that has been inflicting heavy damage on Japanese supply lines—are missing in enemy-controlled waters, the Navy said today bringing to 22 the number of submarines lost since the war started.

He asked that they not "make the mistake of underestimating the contribution which you may be able to offer the war effort. As bombardiers, you sit in the nose of our largest and most valuable airplanes. The entire airplane industry, the work of the Air Force ground crews, and even the efforts of that Holy of Holies, the airplane pilot, are for the sole purpose of giving you, the bombardier, an opportunity to do your stuff."

Reviewing The Big Spring Week—Joe Pickle

How many people who read this haven't given anything to Red Cross—or know somebody who hasn't? Well, here's a chance to help the chapter go soaring over its $24,800 goal, which lacks only $245. People with a conscience and a sense of personal responsibility won't let attainment of goal stop them from giving. With the right kind of support, we will go a few thousand dollars over.

Prior to his address, Colonel Wittkop had made the citations and presented medals. Lieutenant Sanders was cited for "exceptionally meritorious achievement while participating in five separate combat missions over enemy occupied continental Europe."

Soviets Announce Near Destruction Of German Sixth

By TOM YARBROUGH
LONDON, March 18 (AP)—The Red army pouring unchecked through the broken German front in the Ukraine captured Yampol on the Dniester river border of pre-war Rumania today and announced the near destruction of the German Sixth army, with more than 50,000 Nazi casualties, in an 11-day battle northeast of Nikolaev.

The Russians listed 36,800 Germans killed and 13,850 captured in the rout of the Sixth army, reconstituted since its historic capitulation at Stalingrad.

The British government radio after announcing the news that the Russians had reached Rumania broadcast a warning to that Axis satellite to get out of the war "at once."

The victory over the jinxed German sixth army was one of the most notable of the war, the Russians listing nine German divisions as liquidated, another so badly cut up it could not fight, and ten others soundly whipped but still retaining what the special communique called "some fighting capacity."

The remnants of this army were declared now fleeing westward individually or in small groups.

Clarification Of Soviet Motives May Be Asked

By ALEX H. SINGLETON
LONDON, March 18 (AP)—President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill may meet soon, and Premier Stalin may confer with them later, it was reported in London tonight as speculation increased over whether Russia is playing a lone hand in dealing with European issues.

A series of recent diplomatic developments involving Russia have posed this Soviet lone-hand policy sharply for the United States and Great Britain, and there is a possibility that clarification on the subject will be sought in the near future.

Water Treaty Date May Be Established

WASHINGTON, March 18 (AP)—Senator Downey (D-Calif.) said today that Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the senate foreign relations committee had agreed to try to fix definitely the date for a hearing on the Mexico-United States water treaty nod before the committee.

Downey said he would ask President Roosevelt and Secretary Hull to withdraw the treaty from the senate, and that he would address the senate next week to express his opposition to the pact, which Californians have contended would threaten the welfare of the southern section of their state because of the way it would distribute waters of the Colorado river.

Red Cross Drive Very Near Quota

The Howard-Glasscock counties Red Cross chapter war fund was so near its $24,800 quota Saturday night that the merest support from the hundreds who have not yet given will send it gushing over the top.

Less than a meagre $250 separated the chapter from its record goal, reported A. V. Karcher, general chairman.

Key Workers May Be Given Draft Delay

WASHINGTON, March 18 (AP)—Agreement was reached today between the armed services and production agencies whereby about 40,000 men under 26 who have key jobs in war industries will be deferred from the draft.

War Production Board sources said this was the effect of a policy understanding arrived at by representatives of the WRB, the War Manpower Commission and the army and navy.

It has been placed before President Roosevelt who had indicated earlier that he expected to settle definitely this week end how far the army would be allowed to go in taking industry's youngsters men.

If Mr. Roosevelt approves the armed services-production agencies agreement, it will represent a victory for the viewpoint of production officials. They have contended all along that at least 40,000 to 50,000 of the 250,000 men in the 18-25 age brackets who have occupational deferments would be of more value in industry than in the army.

President Roosevelt had received formal notice that the armed services need not expect requested military tires if the draft stripped the rubber industry of young technicians.

Mr. Roosevelt set aside his week-end for work on the problem and, as a start, called in Hershey for a fresh canvass of the situation.

bombers made three strikes at the Kurile islands, four at the central Pacific Marshalls and two in the eastern Carolines. All planes returned, Nimitz said.

Paramushiro, Kurile naval base, was bombed twice, and Shumushu, northernmost of the Kuriles, was hit three times by Aleutian-based planes, Wednesday and Thursday.

In striking at Matsuwa, American airmen by-passed half a dozen of the 30 odd islands of the Kuriles which lead like a row of stepping stones toward Tokyo. The new target is more than 150 miles closer to Tokyo than Paramushiro.

University Seeks Cheaper And More Efficient Way To Get Hydrocarbons

AUSTIN, March 18 — A cheaper and more efficient method of "wringing out" pure hydrocarbons from petroleum—to serve as the raw material for a whole range of synthetic organic chemicals—is in the mill at the University of Texas, it was revealed today.

Dr. John Griswold, professor of chemical engineering, has devised a new process for separating the hydrocarbons from certain natural gasoline fractions.

New in the stage of testing by pilot plant operation, the new method is expected to pave the way for a vast post-war expansion of synthetic organic chemical manufacture for this state.

"We are not making synthetic organic chemicals here, it should be emphasized," Dr. Griswold said. "Our job is separating the pure hydrocarbons from the other hydrocarbons, in turn, will be used as ingredients for the manufacture of paints, varnishes, lacquers, and synthetic organic chemicals for many other products."

This process involves heating the mixture of natural gasoline fractions to temperatures varying with the type of hydrocarbons desired—and running it through bubble-tray type fractionating column.

At each of the 150 trays in the column, an additional step in preparation of the hydrocarbons is performed, so that a relatively pure hydrocarbon liquid can be drawn off at the top. A second and perhaps a third or fourth operation through the same column is necessary to obtain pure hydrocarbons.

This liquid is then subjected to rigid testing—for density, refractive index and purity. The final test—for purity—is made by means of a Bureau of Standards freezing-point apparatus.

The entire pilot plant—which is a small-scale model of what a large-scale industrial unit if this kind should be—was designed and built by the University laboratory.

Extensions In Winkler Area Highlight Oil Developments

By JOHN B. BREWER

SAN ANGELO, March 18 — Gauging of a second extension to the Wheeler Ellenburger field, one-half mile northeast, and of the discovery Tubb (Clear Fork lime) producer, both in Winkler county, provided two of the highlights of West Texas oil development this week.

Mid-Continent No. 1 R. A. Wheeler, C SW SE 10-46-1a-T&P, the new Wheeler field well, awaited a potential gauge after flowing oil naturally at a rate of 74 barrels hourly through gun perforations from 16,670-710 feet. Its Ellenburger top, 18,570 feet, 7,443 feet below sea level, was 48 feet lower than in Stanolind-Shell No. 1 W. D. Blue estate, the discovery.

Stanolind-Shell No. 1-A Wheeler, half mile west of No. 1 Blue, which last week insured production on a drill stem test from 10,640-661 feet, was testing at 10,700. Its Ellenburger top of 10,642 feet, 7,557 feet below sea level, checked 162 feet low to No. 1 Blue. It is in the C NW NE 13-37-pal.

Stanolind No. 1 Sealy-Smith Foundation, Winkler's first Tubb producer, C SW SW 50-A-G&MM-B&A, gauged 364.69 barrels of oil and 6 1-2 barrels of basic sediment in nine hours through gun perforations from 6,170 to 6,250 feet after treatment with 3,000 gallons of acid.

Sinclair Prairie No. 4-A Walton, 7-3 mile northwest of Amon G. Carter and Pure Oil Co. No. 2-C Walton, opener of the Keystone Ellenburger pool, flowed naturally 1,992 barrels of 43.8

gravity oil in 17 hours through perforations from 9,610-50 feet and awaited pipeline connection. It is in the C SE SE 26-77-pal. Carter and Pure staked a diagonal southeast offset.

Plugged back from 5,513 feet in granite, Standard of Texas No. 1 MacDer Co. Pecos county wildcat near the C NE NW 36-144-T&STL, showed an estimated 3 1-2 million cubic feet of gas daily through perforations from 4,706-20 feet opposite the Wolfcamp and likely was to be completed as a gas well. Earlier, it showed oil and water as well as gas from the same horizon.

Holder of West Texas' depth record since it passed 12,786 feet, Phillips No. 1 Ada C. Price, Pecos wildcat C SW SW 11-101-TCRR, 25 miles southeast of Fort Stockton, had bored over 2 3-4 miles deep, to 14,550 feet in unannounced formation. It averaged 41 feet of hole daily during the week ending Thursday.

Standard of Texas spotted No. 1-2,358 University, scheduled 2,850-foot wildcat in Reagan county C NW NE 12-12-U, five miles south of the town of Big Lake.

The Texas Co. No. 1 A. W. Patillos, Andrews county wildcat testing the Grayburg lime, in 17 hours swabbed 21.61 barrels of oil with basic sediment ranging from 28 to 2 per cent. It continued natural testing, bottomed at 4,415 feet. Location is the C NW NW 21-A36-pal.

The Mabee field in southeastern Andrews registered its fifth completed well in the Texas Co. No. 5 J. E. Mabee, C SW NE 43-

40-2n-G&MMB&A, three-quarters of a mile west and a location north of the discovery. It pumped 221 barrels of oil and 19.12 barrels of water in 24 hours after treating pay between 4,905 and 4,732 feet, the total depth, with 5,000 gallons of acid.

Texas Pacific No. 6 Emily M. Jackson became one of the larger producers in the Fullerton field in northwestern Andrews, with daily flowing potential of 2,320.40 barrels of oil. Bottomed at 7,330 feet, it was acidized with 10,000 gallons. Location is the C SE SE 17-A-32-pal, at the southeast corner of the pool.

Carl B. King and C. U. Bay No. 2 T. A. Blair, southeast outpost to the Wasson field in Galles county, C NE NE 39-AX-pal, stopped at 8,001 feet, was deepened by interested operators to 8,097 feet without results and abandoned.

All the stock in Lee Petroleum Corp., one of San Angelo's oldest oil firms, was purchased by J. E. Whiteside and R. N. Beakley of Brownwood from R. Leslie Lee of San Angelo and sisters, Mrs. J. W. Jones of San Angelo, Mrs. W. C. Volkman of Menard and Mrs. W. R. Owens, Jr., of San Antonio. Properties include four leases with 15 producing wells in the Taylor-Lank field in Pecos county and two leases with nine wells in the McCamey field in Upton county and producing royalties in six West Texas counties. The firm name will be unchanged under new ownership. Beakley will move to San Angelo.

Arabian Pipeline Rapped By PIWC In 'White Paper'

WASHINGTON, March 18 — Why ambitions abroad of the Petroleum Reserves Corporation are viewed as a scuttling of the American system of free private enterprise and an invitation to international incidents rise with germs of another war was explained today in a "white paper" presented by the Petroleum Industry War Council for public information.

PIWC summed up its objection to US ownership of a 1,000-mile pipeline through three foreign nations between the Persian gulf and the eastern end of the Mediterranean Sea as: "The Fascist approach... with its lust for imperialism, to displace private enterprise; as a sign-post of the new highway of international power politics not yet revealed to and approved by the Senate of the US as an international commitment; as the scripping of the internal strength of America itself."

The unit questioned the "secrecy surrounding the creation of the Petroleum Reserves Corporation... its vast charter powers (with the result the members of the oil industry... became increasingly interested not only in foreign policy in general but also US foreign oil policy in particular).

Prepared by George A. Hill, Houston, the "white paper" summarized the foreign and oil policy and attempts to reconcile it with Atlantic charter provisions and notes absence of mention of oil policy following international parleys.

Moreover, it points out that the line would tap only a total of three and a half per cent of the world's oil reserve and that this very reserve already is controlled by nations held to be traditional allies of the US. If it is to secure bases, then the policy might be followed around the globe, which would be contrary to previous international policy of the nations, it was pointed out.

Billie Wilson, In On Several Major Pacific Drives, Home For A Visit

With a record of having prowled all over the North and South Pacific during several major campaigns in his credit, W. G. (Billie) Wilson, SOM 2/c, is home to catch up on mother's cooking and his rest. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Wilson, Jr. Billie is strictly taking it easy these days before he returns to California for a new and coveted assignment—schooling at San Diego, Calif.—which starts April 9. The pace there may be fast but it won't be as nerve-wracking as the assignment Billie has just left, that of sound man aboard a destroyer.

Housing Need Has Increased Over Year Ago, Says Billeing Officer

Although personnel has been reduced at the Big Spring Bombardier School over a year ago, the demand for housing in Big Spring actually is greater, according to Maj. W. E. Turner, who, in addition to his assignment as public relations officer, also serves as billeting officer. "Paradoxical as this sounds, it is true, and here are the reasons," he said. In addition to the influx of personnel at the start, the specialist drive giving volunteers in the air corps their choice of fields, added many Texas men from this section.

"Many of these men are still at the field and in most cases their families are here with them. Cupid also has been active and in many cases marriages mean a demand for new living quarters for the couple.

"Cadets add to the demand as there are many wives living here while their husbands take the extended 18 weeks course. When training began classes came each three weeks and there were only four on the field. They still come at the same interval but now there are six classes on the field... a 50 per cent increase. There also are many civilian workers at the field who need housing, and all factors add to the congestion."

While Ellis Homes added 172 units, they by no means solved the situation, continued the billeting officer, for "first the civilian worker at the post, American Airlines, Couden, T. & P., and any other essential industries have a housing priority. These have filled one third of the units. No officers or cadets are allowed to use the units, so while Ellis Homes has been a help, it has not taken care of the increased demand." Maj. Turner suggested the USO, chamber of commerce, paper etc. could all verify the presiding need for housing.

He suggested a patriotic thing would be to literally start "at home by making available many big rooms. You people may not need the revenue but the happy smile on the face of the cadet's pretty wife or erasing that worried look from the face of that GI mother should be recompense in itself. If this appeal reaches any generous West Texas hearts, call extension 213 (public relations) at the bombardier school and tell us what you have. We'll do the rest!"

FAIL TO REPORT. FONTANA, Calif., March 17 (AP)—Approximately 300 A. F. L. employes at Henry J. Kaiser's steel mill failed to report for work today. Company executives and union officials sat a dispute over classification of certain workers was involved.

Eventually he was pulled off this spot and put aboard a new destroyer in May of 1943 and for the past year and a half has been in on these actions:

Aleutian Islands campaign during the occupation of Amchitka, Attu and Kiska; occupation of the Gilbert Islands; occupation of the Marshall Islands; attack on Wake Island. During the Gilbert campaign he crossed the equator and was initiated into the Royal Order of Crusty Shell-backs.

Dull moments are few aboard a destroyer, or tin can as navy men know them, for these boats, although small, pack more horsepower than a battleship. They have to dart in on reconnaissance during bombardments and screen for the big boys when sea battles shape up. Their job is to lay smoke screens, plant their "fish" or torpedoes, and then get out in a hurry.

Billie swears by radio equipment which enables the destroyer to "spot anything else before it spots us." A new development in this war, the technique of this radio apparatus has been highly developed. His job ultimately was to maintain the sound equipment on his ship.

The hottest moments of his naval career occurred on the Wake Island attack when destroyers moved in to spot shore batteries and shell them. They moved in close amid perfect calm, when suddenly several shore batteries opened up with big guns.

"It was popping all around like firecrackers," he recalled. "The skipper, who is quite a fellow, took a look at it through his glasses and dryly observed: 'Well, men, it looks as if he (the Jap) has solved our problem for us.'"

They came out of that with no more than some shrapnel injuries to a few men, and that's the worst treatment his ship received. It had to tow in another can in the Aleutians, however, which suffered from a battering by a Jap cruiser's eight-inch guns. "There were holes in her you could drive a car through," said Billie, "but she's back in service now."

For a sheer ring-side performance, he ranks the Kawalehina bombardment as tops. The can on which he served was patrolling for carriers and got to take in the whole show. "They had learned their lesson at Tarawa," said Billie, "and now they were putting on more fire power to save American lives. Boy, when they quit blasting, dive bombers came in to strafe and bomb, and then the navy took up in a day and night deal. There wasn't a whole lot left when the forces moved in."

Bids To Be Taken On Airmail Route. Bids are being asked for operation of the star route airmail service between Poyote and Big Spring, Postmaster Nat Shick said Saturday.

Sealed proposals will be received by the second postmaster general in Washington to 4:30 p. m. on March 28 for operation of the route from July 1, 1944 to June 30, 1947. The route originates at Poyote bus station at 11:58 a. m. daily and has stops at bus stations at Monahans, Odessa, Midland, Stanton and Big Spring, where it connects at 4:06 p. m. for eastbound dispatch over American Airlines. New Engines For The Flying Wing?

AP Features
NEW YORK — Propellerless "flying wing" airplanes enclosing high-speed gas-turbines, much faster than those now employed in jet-propulsion planes, are visualized as the air liners of the future by G. Geoffrey Smith, British aeronautical expert and managing editor of Flight and Aircraft Production in London.

Super Plane—Four submerged turbine-compressors power this flying wing transport of future design, it is claimed, would have about half the air drag of present-day designs.

Smooth-running high-speed turbines will revolutionize aircraft design, and bring about a basic change in its structure, Smith believes.

His book, "Gas Turbines and Jet-propulsion For Aircraft," just issued in New York, partly explains the new aviation development recently announced jointly by the Royal Air Force and the United States Army Air Forces.

Smith summarizes the advantages of jet-propulsion:

1. More efficient flight at high speeds in the sub-stratosphere.
2. Paraffins, diesel oils, or tar oils can be substituted for gasoline, extending our present oil reserves.

3. There is an eventual limit to propeller power. Jet-propulsion eliminates the propeller, avoiding this potential handicap.
4. Better location for the pilot, with unrestricted vision. No obstructions for guns mounted on military aircraft.

Future airplanes will be designed around turbine-compressor engines, rather than by adapting present-day planes to fit them, Smith believes.

"The flying wing idea is as old as the industry itself," he says, "but only in recent years have advances in aerodynamics and structural knowledge brought the thick-section wing to practical realization."

"It has been estimated that a 'flying wing' has from one-third to one-half less air drag than the conventional monoplane, so that considerably less horsepower is needed to attain the same speed.

"Since jet-propulsion engines are considerably lighter in weight than the conventional powerplant with its many auxiliaries, a double advantage is suggested by marrying the gas-turbine to the 'flying wing.'"

State Heads To Meet For Framing Answer

AUSTIN, March 18 (AP)—Gov. Coke Stevenson and Atty. Gen. Grover Sellers may get together sometime this week end to frame the Texas answer to President Roosevelt's request for opinions from various states as to how the new soldiers' vote bill would affect them.

The office of the attorney general, however, today had not received a formal request for an opinion on the bill from the governor.

Sellers was expected to return from a speaking trip in North and East Texas.

Dairy Feed Payments Will Be Increased

Rate of dairy feed payments on whole milk and butter will be increased during March and April, the AAA office announced Saturday.

Rate on whole milk will be increased from 50 cents to 60 cents per hundredweight and rat of butterfat from 6 to 8 cents a pound.

The office announced a total of $1,151.38 in dairy feed payments had been issued in the last week in response to 19 applications.

WLB Reports 748 Wage Violations

DALLAS, March 18 (AP)—The Eighth Regional War Labor Board said today it had 748 reported violations of the wage stabilization law on file and was directing the speeding up of its enforcement program in Texas, Oklahoma, and Louisiana.

By resolution the board asserted that more emphasis on handling cases of violations was necessary in fairness to "the vast majority" of employers, which the board said were complying with regulations.

A newly established permanent enforcement division of the board was directed to handle all violation cases as speedily as possible and to hold sessions as many days each week as necessary.

Chairman of the new permanent enforcement division is Dr. T. O. Walton, former president of Texas A.&M. college.

The 22-year-old blond giant was in the thick of the swift four-day drive that resulted in the capture of the air field, and received a letter of commendation for his outstanding work.

Private Fincher was stricken with typhoid shortly before leaving Guadalcanal. He was unconscious when his unit arrived at a rest camp, and spent five months in a base hospital, his legs partially paralyzed.

Shortly before the invasion of Cape Gloucester, he was offered the opportunity to enter another hospital, but chose to remain with his unit, and was placed in charge of a machine gun squad.

He spent several days in a field hospital following the capture of the air field. Now he's back at his post on the front lines.

Hannegan Brands GOP Obstructionists

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 18 (AP) Robert E. Hannegan, chairman of the democratic national committee, compared the republican party tonight to a "pipe organ of stuck whistles" and said the American people "will not be misled by a do-nothing program from a party of obstructionists."

He told western New York democratic leaders at a dinner commemorating the 107th anniversary of the birth of Grover Cleveland that the democratic party will win in November because "our record as a party in this great crisis justifies that 'victory' and because 'the world requires it and destiny wills it.'"

Earlier at a press conference, Hannegan asserted President Roosevelt was his personal preference for re-nomination.

Just A Little Sniping Sometimes Works Wonders In Turning Battle

By GEORGE TUCKER (Substituting for Hal Boyle)
ON THE CASSINO FRONT.
 March 3 (Delayed) (AP) — When a night attack miscarries and small bodies of men are pinned down by machinegun fire, it is the turn of the snipers.

Sniping is lonely work. You can't smoke and there isn't anybody to talk to you. You simply take up a position and wait, and every time you see a German you try to kill him.

Most outfits have their own snipers with special telescopic sights, but sometimes these aren't available and then anybody's likely to be pressed into service.

"It's sort of informal. If you're in position to snipe, you snipe," said Pvt. Felix P. B. Petrowski of Norwich, Conn.

There was a small local action designed to take high ground overlooking an enemy position. You couldn't dignify it by calling it a battle, but it killed men just as dead as Gettysburg or Salerno.

The attack didn't quite come off as planned. Daylight caught the men in an exposed position. Part of the force was pinned in a ravine and the rest began to hole up in gullies and little draws that wrinkled the hide of the hill. There was an empty German pillbox about 60 yards forward, and the Lieutenant in charge

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Tidwell are having a sort of family reunion today, centered around the arrival of son James Tidwell and wife from Clarkdale, Miss. James has been a civilian flight instructor for the military at that point. Others to be here are Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Tidwell and son, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Parks, Mrs. Roy Newsome and son, all of Houston; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Tidwell of Meridian; and Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Johnson and sons of Houston.

wanted snipers in it to keep the Germans from getting to close and laying mortar fire on the men in the ravine.

It looked like a pretty good box," Petrowski said, "so another man and I doubledtmed across and jumped into it without being hit.

"Then the Germans began dumping mortar fire around us and we found out the box wasn't roomy enough for two men, and the other guy went back."

"I was sure Caro and all at once I saw three Jerries working their way around to the left about a thousand yards away.

"They were pretty far and I didn't think I could get effective fire action, but the lieutenant told me to fire anyway and make them get away. He didn't want them putting their mortar on our men in the ravine.

"I let one round go. The Germans were creeping singlefile, hugging the ridge, and the bullets hit some rocks, tore up some leaves and threw gravel in the first German's face. He fell flat and jumped up and leaped behind a rock and the other Germans holed up with him.

"After that I saw them only at intervals. They tried to get out, but I kept putting bullets around their cover and they apparently gave up the idea of trying to complete their mission, whatever it was. They stayed there for nearly an hour. I could tell that our men in the ravine were all right, because the mortar fire couldn't reach them and by that time all the sniping fire in their direction had died away.

"They went back on up the ridge the way they had come and we weren't troubled anymore by the Jerries the rest of the day. That night we got the attack underway and it worked."

FIELD DAY FOR PHONIES

War Brings Fake Heroes And Racketeers To Prey

By ARLENE WOLF
AP Features Writer
World War II is a field day for phonies.

While America's servicemen battle on the war fronts, the FBI and other agencies are fighting the phony war on the home front. They're tracking down an ever-increasing number of war frauds—from phony war heroes to organized rackets which fleece servicemen and their relatives. Playing upon the emotions of servicemen's families is one of the most ghastly rackets. Casualty lists are good hunting grounds for fiends like one in New York who wrote dunning letters to dead servicemen, and counted on the bereaved families' sense of obligation to pay up. Others obtained juicy fees for "oil" paintings of men killed in action, then refused to return original photographs until families paid exorbitant prices for ordinary enlarged color photographs.

Uniform Frauds
Hundreds of cases of illegal use of military uniforms are on record. Many phony war heroes of both sexes used tall battle tales to cash no-account checks, avoid payment of bills, or just get in the social swim.

Before Washington F. B. I. agents caught up with him, one "major" in Army Intelligence had proposed to and been accepted by three women from whom he obtained about $1,000. He also established a $73,000 bank account with a fraudulent check. Lady Blood Money—Anxious mothers who had not heard from sons in uniform for months were duped by imposters claiming to be from the Soldier's Relative Unit of the Army (there is no such unit) into giving funds for boy's last trip home before going overseas.

bigamists have married several servicemen and collect multiple allotment checks. Whole businesses have been founded on defrauding servicemen and their families. One mail order house was doing nicely selling service kits until a Philadelphia concern wanted to order several hundred. A $2 writing kit turned out to be a 15-page pad and 10 envelopes, worth 25 cents. False weight labels misrepresented food items in other kits.

Thousands Bilked
Fund-raising phonies have milked the public of thousands of dollars. One brass outfit invited the public to pay 10 cents for the privilege of signing a petition to the President that America would win the war. War orphans presumably were to be the beneficiaries.

Even Park Avenue debs were duped into soliciting funds for a Park Avenue canteen, until authorities found the overhead was unusually large, and the promoter was convicted for soliciting funds without a license.

Frauds follow the trend of the times closely. A. E. Backman, director of the Division of Solicitations of the National Better Business Bureau, has found.

Possibilities of air attack brought so-called air raid precaution experts who solicited work at large industrial corporations. At least one was found to be a former employe of the Japanese government. Casualty lists inspired honor roll salesmen, who charged fancy prices for simple paper paste-ups a child could do.

War gave new impetus to the old phony gasoline tablet which supposedly produced gas when dropped into a water-filled tank. And one man was convicted for swindling three others in a scheme to make a tire-puncture proofing compound.

More To Come
Although new records show an increase in fraud for war years, Mr. Backman expects an even greater increase when victory comes—particularly in security frauds.

"A new generation of security investors is being educated now through the purchase of war bonds," he says. "People who never owned a security before will be cashing in bonds and looking for investments. Returning soldiers will have mustering out pay."

Campaigns have already been instituted to warn the public about post-war, as well as war-time frauds. The whole idea, says Mr. Backman, is to remember: "Before you invest, investigate."

"The Fighting Seabees," Is Showing Today At Ritz.

Hollywood's cycle of war pictures has evolved several genuine masterpieces. "The Birth of a Nation," filmed long ago in the silent picture era, was the first of the "epic films," and "Hearts of the World," which followed it closely also dealt with a combat theme.

Since that time nearly every important picture made has been done in the grand manner — "What Price Glory," "All Quiet on the Western Front," "The Big Parade," "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," "Hell's Angels," "Wings," "The Flying Tigers," "Wake Island," "In Which We Serve," to name only a few.

The most recent of these large scale war pictures, Republic's "The Fighting Seabees," is showing today and Monday at the Ritz Theatre and proved itself one of the most outstanding of such hits to date.

John Wayne, Dennis O'Keefe and Susan Hayward head the star spangled cast, which also lists William Frawley, Leonid Kinsky, Addison Richards, Grant Withers, Paul Fix, J. M. Kerrigan, Ben Welden and Jay Norris. Wayne, who may always be counted on to deliver a smooth, polished and sincere performance, doesn't fall in his top starring role.

All on all, "The Fighting Seabees" is a spectacle with epic sweep which should be witnessed by one and all. Much may appear on the printed page about the bravery of the various fighting services abroad, but a motion picture is worth reams and reams of printed matter when it comes to bringing home to patriotic Americans the bravery of the men who are protecting their homes.

Hilarious—A scene from "Jitterbugs," with Stan Laurel, Oliver Hardy and Vivian Blaine, a typhoon of merriment showing today and Monday at the Lyric theatre.

East Side Kids Are At Queen Theatre Today

It seems impossible that a gang of boys could get themselves in the predicament faced by the East Side Kids in "Million Dollar Kid," yet they not only get in but out again. How they manage this is seen in Monogram's latest filmization of their adventures which is showing at the Queen Theatre Sunday and Monday.

Led by that fearsome foursome, Leo Gorcey, Huntz Hall, Gabriel Dell and, their new side-kick, Billy Benedict, the gang gives a riotous performance of kids who cross the tracks and find trouble. Lovely Louise Currie turns in an arresting characterization as the heiress who captures the heart of the snub-nosed gang leader, Gorcey.

Heading the list of supporting players who command attention are Herbert Hayes, Noah Beery, Sr., Stanley Brown, Iris Adrian and Patay Moran.

Briefly, the story concerns the efforts of a wealthy man to show his gratitude to the gang, after they have rescued him from a severe beating at the hands of a band of street thieves. He takes the boys to his home and offers them the use of his private gymnasium. While there, the gang finds out that all is not well in the family, and they try to straighten out the lives of the millionaire's children. Getting their problems solved is what causes all the headaches.

Exciting—A scene from "Coney Island," starring George Montgomery, Betty Grable and Cesar Romero, showing today and Monday at the State theatre.

State Presents "Coney Island," Starring Grable Sun. And Mon.

No one ever tagged Betty Grable as a "gang, zing or wham girl" — and no one ever had to! Betty's ability and charm needed no title to publicize them. This doesn't mean that the luscious blonde hasn't collected more than her share of titles — the kind of titles that spell popularity and success!

Today Betty, in her current musical, "Coney Island," the Technicolor hit due Sunday and Monday at the State Theatre, is acclaimed the nation's Number One feminine box-office attraction — and that's no press agent's dream!

Betty won the coveted title in a nation-wide poll of motion picture exhibitors, conducted by the Motion Picture Herald, outstanding trade journal of the film industry. On the surface this might not sound like a great deal, but within the industry it is one of the greatest honors that can be paid to an actor or actress.

The motion picture exhibitor, from coast to coast, represents the pulse of the industry! He is the fellow who knows what the great motion picture public likes and dislikes. From the ornate

Texas Terminology Somewhat Puzzling

AUSTIN, March 18 (AP) — In a world where words can reach the stage of "Malry Doats" it is important to draw nice distinctions.

The University of Texas is describing six sweethearts to reign at the annual round-up, listed them as: two blonds, two brunettes, two brunettes.

Questioned as to the difference between a brunette and brownette — the University press office said it thought "everybody knew" but for the benefit of the unenlightened, a brownette was a girl with light brown hair (like Jeannie. . .) and a brunette was a girl with dark brown or black hair (like Sylvia. . .)

To date blondes and Reds stand alone, without veering into the redlet or blondette stages.

Republican Groups Formed in Mexico

Lyric Presents Laurel, Hardy In 'Jitterbugs'

Movie prop men have built many an odd contraption, but none stranger than the 25-piece band which will be seen and heard in 20th Century-Fox's hilarious new Laurel and Hardy comedy, "Jitterbugs," showing today and Monday at the Lyric theatre.

The script called for the musical contraption and the prop men were stuck with it. Frantic calls were put in for assistance from the one-man bands that plagued the nation on the amateur shows of a few years back. Finally after days of sweat, toil and tears there emerged a contrivance that would do justice to Rube Goldberg.

On the set, Laurel and Hardy stared at the fantastic thing, marveling at its coordinated pulleys, air tubes, bellows, levers and assorted gadgets. Stan poked a piano key. The piano sounded a note, but so did an accordion, three horns, and a drum. Hardy set his lips to a tuba horn, pressed down the valves, and gave a timid blow. A whole row of saxophones, trombones and a complete trumpet section gave a symphonic blast in return.

Both comedians admitted their musical training had been limited, one instrument would be hard enough to learn they reasoned, but 25 at one time — well, it was a problem worth study.

"Jitterbugs," presents the famed comedy team in entirely new surroundings. Cast as a pair of musical vagabonds, Laurel and Hardy bring new laughs to the screen in their interpretation of a couple of hepcats slightly off the beam. Vivian Blaine is featured at the top of an outstanding cast of entertainers who serve as foils for the team's slapstick antics.

Fear Held That Nazis Will Destroy Dutch Complex Drainage System

By A. VAN RIEMSDIJK (Amst. Special Correspondent) (Written for the Associated Press)

LONDON, March 18—Fears that the Nazis will destroy the Netherlands' complex drainage system, undoing the work of centuries and placing more than half of Holland under water, have been aroused by reports that some coastal areas already have been flooded as a defense measure against Allied invasion.

Beemster Polder (Polders are areas reclaimed from the sea by drainage) in North Holland province just north of Amsterdam, is reported already under water. Dutch citizens on the Zeeland and South Holland islands—as well as the population in parts of Belgium's Flanders—have been ordered evacuated in preparation for flooding there.

Thus, it appears, the Germans plan to flood wide areas in Holland, and undoubtedly will destroy any ground which might conceivably be of use to an Allied invasion force.

Should the Germans succeed in these plans, they would be reversing what the Hollanders tried to do in the defense of their country against the Wehrmacht.

The Netherlands army had mapped plans to inundate a strip of land extending in a north-south direction from the Zuider Zee down to the Meuse and Waal rivers, thus cutting the Germans off from the important coastal provinces of North and South Holland—the site of almost all the principal cities.

But the Germans employed treachery, and Nazi saboteurs prevented the Dutch army from carrying out its plans.

Now it appears that a much greater part of Holland may be put under water.

The Germans could and probably would flood everything that the Dutch intended to inundate, and in addition the very portions which the Netherlands hoped to seal off from the Germans—including practically all North and South Holland and Zeeland provinces—as well as parts of Groningen and Friesland. Besides those areas actually below sea level, other sections also can be put under water by diverting the rivers to some stretches of low-lying land.

Dutch Lowlands—Black areas on map are parts of the Netherlands that lie below sea level. Dutch sources say German occupation forces could and would flood these areas to counter an Allied invasion. Besides land actually below sea level, other sections could be put under water by diverting rivers into low lying stretches.

A booster for USO is James Johnson, son of Mrs. Nancy Johnson, who has been visiting here while on leave. At Fort Worth he was met at the station while on a lay-over and until the time he left every minute of his time was taken with visits, sandwiches, coffee, good reading, etc.

Here to visit with his wife and with his father, M. H. Morrison, is Pvt. Harmon J. (Sunbeam) Morrison. Robbins was employed at the Corpus Christi Naval Air Station before he entered the army in November, 1943. Mrs. Robbins and son will remain in Big Spring.

Letter stating that, "I am in good health and hope you are the same," was received by Mr. and Mrs. B. Y. Dixon of 601 Johnson Friday morning from their son, Seaman S-C Floyd A. Dixon, a prisoner of war of the Japanese. Dixon was captured on Wake Island. The letter received today, the second since he was taken prisoner, was dated July 11, 1943, and was written from the prisoners' camp at Shanghai. The parents were notified last October he had been transferred to Osaka camp in Japan. In his letter, Dixon asked about possibilities of attending college upon his return and wrote, "Give the family my love and greet my friends."

Mrs. J. B. Nall has received word that Cadet Johnny Miller has been transferred to Lubbock for advanced training. Cadet Miller is the son of Mrs. Abe Bailey.

Lt. Russell H. Weaver, who received his pilot's wings and commission March 12, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Weaver. Lieut. Weaver was commissioned at Aloha Field at Victoria. He will spend another week here. He and his parents are spending this weekend visiting Aubrey Weaver, another son of Mr. and Mrs. Weaver, who is in training in the Army pre-flight detachment at Texas Technological college at Lubbock.

Speaking of BOOKS

"Journey Into America" by Donald Culross Peattie

This is a vivid description of the development of American democracy. Our country has passed through many periods of crisis and here we learn of the courageous folk who have made and saved our nation. The writer believes, as do we all, that we must adapt ourselves courageously to new conditions if we are to fulfill our destiny as a Republic. "Journey Into America" is extremely well written and holds the reader's attention to the last period on the last page. A book we should be proud to own and to have our family read. M.H.B.

Use Our LENDING LIBRARY

"Love At First Flight" by Chas. Spalding and Otis Carney
Ensign Dowd's pursuit of his wings makes up the most hilarious book yet to appear in uniform.

"Chicken Every Sunday" by Rosemary Taylor

What fun it must have been to have lived in the joyous household described in this book! What an unusually interesting group of people gather about the unratified board there in Tucson b.t.w. It's fun to read all about the nice ones (and a few of the other sort, as well) that Rosemary Taylor knew when Tucson was just a sleepy western town undiscovered by eastern millionaires. It becomes smart and swanky before our eyes. The author makes the most of her fine gift of anecdote and binds her reminiscences into several hours of diverting reading. M.H.B.

Red Cross Work At AAFBS Surgical Dressing Headquarters Progresses

The Red Cross surgical dressing quarters at the Big Spring Bombardier school has changed from WAC barracks 481 to the nurses recreation hall, and according to Mrs. H. L. Borden, chairman of the volunteer service work room, the scope of work has widened.

All sorts of folded dressings and larger stitched dressings such as those used in abdominal operations are being made along with masks to fill the needs at the post hospital. The sewing group is kept busy as all surgical gowns have been fitted with cuffs of cotton webbing and have been repaired as to belts, buttons, patching and such.

Now, a group of workers is busy making one dozen coats for the dental surgeons. Six of the garments will have front closings and six will be over-the-head type.

Mattresses have been cut down from regular sizes for children's beds and damaged mattresses repaired. Wives of officers, cadets and enlisted men are urged to take part in the work at the post, which is supervised by Mrs. Borden with Mrs. Alvin Gessell and Mrs. Helen as chairmen in charge of sewing.

With The AEF— It's Some Buzzin', Cousin When Youthful 'Junior' Opens 'Er Up

By KENNETH L. DIXON
WITH THE AEF IN SARDINIA, March 12 (Delayed) (CP)—Every time you turn around you're confronted anew with the realization that it's the kids who fight the war.

This B28 Marauder outfit in Sardinia is no exception. Sitting around the supper table after the day's missions are over, the pilots, co-pilots and bombardiers look like a bunch of college kids—so young they take a terrific pride in the daily progress of their faint, wispy mustaches.

Some even look more like high school kids. First Lt. Roscoe Nemer of Evansville, Ind., is a good example. He's a first pilot, veteran of more than 40 combat missions, and has had more close calls than you can shake a Mae West at.

But they call him "Junior," and with good reason. He's only 19 years old, a tall clean-cut, skinny kid with tousled brown hair and a dimpled chin—but a pair of eyes which coldly belie anything babyish about the rest of his face.

He has a fantastic record. His buddies, who sometimes also call him "Glamor Boy" to his face, then behind his back tell you he's one of the hottest pilots they've ever seen; tell how he slipped away from Indians before we were in the war and joined the Royal Canadian Air Force with faked birth credentials when barely 17.

When the U. S. entered the war, Junior transferred and finished his training with Uncle Sam, earning a reputation as an excellent if somewhat reckless pilot. Then he came overseas, but only after he had been fined 75 dollars and lost a chance for immediate promotion by saying goodbye to Avon Park, Fla., with one of the neatest buzz-jobs the citizens had ever seen.

"He went down Main street so low that people in upper stories of the buildings on each side were higher than he was," one fellow pilot said. In a Spitfire that would be some buzzin' cousin. In a Marauder it's murder.

If you think 19 is too young to be trusted with more than a quarter of a million dollars worth of plane, hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of bombs and an incalculable worth of trained flying personnel, better not say it while Junior's around or you'll have a fight on your hands. They swear by him. Hell, he gets 'em back (knock wood) doesn't he?

Besides, he knows airplanes. "Shucks when I was just a boy I used to build model airplanes all the time."

VISIT FROM ROYALTY—King George and Queen Elizabeth inspect members of the rescue squad during a visit to West Yorkshire Coal Owners Association mines at Wakefield, England.

More Officers Report At Post

Several officer arrivals were reported at the Big Spring Bombarrier school Saturday.

They include: 2nd Lt. Roland O. Brown, Freelandville, Ind.; 2nd Lt. Edward L. Harper, Danville, Ky., assigned as pilot; 1st Lt. Philip Rosenhouse Bronx, N. Y., tactical officer; 2nd Lt. Robert E. Mingle, Akron, O., assigned as an engineering officer.

Pvt. Mary H. Drap, Pittsburgh, Pa., was a WAC arrival.

Maj. Norman G. Hedemark, St. Paul, Minn., has been placed on detached service for a special course in the school of aviation medicine at Randolph Field, Tex.; and 2nd Lt. Van F. Usery, Luling, has been placed on detached service for specialized training at AAFIS, Bryan, Tex.

Enlisted men placed on detached service to attend specialized training courses are: Sgt. Francis H. Hance, to Randolph Field; S/Sgt. Martin H. Jackson, Sgt. Robert Chase, Sgt. William W. Hunter, Jr., Pfc. Ivan G. Voboril and Pfc. Kenneth W. Johnson, to Midland AAF. All are from the 78th bombardier training group.

Oil Men Seek Pipeline From West Texas

WASHINGTON, March 18 (CP) A proposal to build a 975-mile, 20-inch pipeline to pipe West Texas crude oil to the Pacific coast was placed before the Petroleum Administration for War (PAW) today by three Texas oil men.

Angus G. Wynne, L. N. Glasco, and Jerry C. Hawkins, Dallas representatives for independent oil dealers in the West Texas field, told the PAW Texas was the "only available supply" of crude oil to fill a "critical need" on the Pacific coast.

The Texans asked PAW to build a line from Monahans, Tex., to Beaumont, Calif., with government funds or to allow independent dealers in West Texas to construct it as a cooperative venture under a tax amortization plan.

Rich West Texas oil fields, Wynne told an interviewer, could double their output of oil without addition of another well or pump. Production could be hiked from 341,000 barrels daily to 603,000 without waste, he said.

"Our fields are now working only 17 days out of every month simply because we do not have enough pipelines to send out the oil," Wynne said. "We could provide the west coast with every barrel of crude oil it can use."

The Texans contended no oil

Net Allowable Crude Oil Production Is Set At Two Million Barrels Daily

AUSTIN, March 18—(AP)—The railroad commission today set the April net allowable production of crude oil in Texas at 2,061,446 barrels daily, and announced that the next statewide proration hearing will be held here April 20.

The April proration order indicates an estimated increase of approximately 63,000 barrels daily of crude.

The net allowable production of all petroleum liquids, including natural gasoline and distillates less estimated under production of 6.92 per cent, was placed at 2,054,668 barrels daily. This is 11,668 barrels daily in excess of the amount certified by the petroleum administrator for war as needed from Texas in April.

Changes in the number of production days—mostly increases—and changes in basic field allowables—also mostly upward—affected 15 fields.

Increases granted in the Slaughter and Wasson fields were to care for demands of the new Stanolind pipeline from Yoakum county to the Drumwright-Cushing area in Oklahoma.

The number of producing days for the state as a whole was set at 23, unchanged from March. The 26 producing days in the panhandle field were also unchanged. But East Texas was cut from 23 to 22 producing days. The commission heard conflicting testimony at its statewide hearing as to the advisability of cutting the number of producing days in this field.

Net allowable changes for April 1, compared with the next allowable figure for March 1, were by fields: (April figure second): Washburn Ranch 490 barrels daily and 1,484 barrels daily, increase in basic allowable; Clear Lake 4,951 and 6,000, increase in basic allowable; Danbury Dome 497 and 600, increase in basic allowable; Sugarland 9,032 and 10,000, increase in producing days from 28 to exempt from shut-ins; Webster 33,350 and 60,000, increase in producing days from exempt; North Winters 8,683 and 10,000, increase in basic allowable; Manila 129 and 300, increase in basic allowable.

East Texas 370,673 and 366,673, decrease in producing days from 23 to 22; Coke 2,417 and 2,113, decrease in producing days from 26 to 23; Hawkins 24,192 and 32,351, increase in producing days from 19 to 23; Talco 21,266 and 22,819, increase in basic allowable; Slaughter 44,481 and 58,040, increase in producing days from 19 to 24; North Ward 8,263 and 9,870, increase in basic allowable; Wasson 44,358 and 60,441, increase in producing days from 19 to 25; Yates 27,196 and 27,018, increase in basic allowable.

The commission also announced that the next statewide proration hearing would be held April 20.

Increase granted in the Slaughter and Wasson fields were to fill the demands of the new Stanolind pipeline from Yoakum county to the Drumwright-Cushing area in Oklahoma.

Too Unsteady To Continue Trip Is Verdict Of Police

Two men, somewhat unsteady to say the least, were picked up here Saturday on request of Dick Hickman, chief of police at Colorado City, in connection with a hit-and-run case at that point.

"I wanna talk to my lawyer," one of the men informed police.

"And where is your lawyer?" asked police.

"Sulphur Springs," quoth the prisoner.

He and his companion, who gave Sierra Blanca as their home, forthwith were hustled into the cell block to await action.

Three Teams Hold Clean Slates In Local Women's Cage League

Already through two rounds, the women's basketball league is now in full swing and has rosy prospects of growing in size as well as in tempo.

The league opened on March 9 with the WACs, Bomberettes and Engineers coming out on top, a feat that they duplicated last Thursday. Victims were Sub-

Depot Supply, Bell Telephone Co., and State National bank.

Now there is a move to enlarge the loop and C. R. Anthony Co. has agreed to sponsor a team. Young women interested in playing should see either C. R. Griggs, manager, or Mrs. C. S. Edmonds, Jr. A girl's team from Knott is anxious to come into the loop to balance the league.

The WACs, whose colors are green and yellow, turned back Bell Telephone, colors white, 16-9, Thursday with Anne Mowczko getting 10 points, and Cookie Rumbold and June Smith getting four and two, respectively. Massie counted five times for the Number Pleases, and Brooks and Vines each hooped two. Gilbert De Shaney is mentor for the WACs, the only coach officially announced.

The red and white clad Engineer, drubbed Supply led with six Gay Nell Yardley led with six points for the winners. Ruby Caldwell and Joyce Walker each had five. Durege Pettit and Frances Glenn from the Supply, colors white, rang up six and two points, respectively.

Big guns were turned loose by the Bomberettes, colors brown and yellow, in overwhelming the State National, blue and white, 28-12. Claudine Ferrel, who ran wild in the opening round, flicked the basket for 16 points to lead scoring for the evening. Teammates Anne Goldson and Ula Mae Hart followed with eight and four, while Mildred Cherry had seven and Mamie Robertson five for the Bankers.

Next round is scheduled for Thursday evening in the high school gymnasium.

WAC Teams To Leave On Recruiting Trips

Two WAC recruiting teams, which have been receiving an increasing number of enlistments, will leave Monday on recruiting trips.

The Air-WAC team will go to Amarillo to remain until April 15. Those going will be Lt. Elizabeth Haidacher, Lt. J. Hooper, Sgt. Helen Persling.

The WAC team will go to Floydada, Matador and Paducah and will return to Big Spring Friday night. It will spend next week in Lubbock. Those going will be Lt. Cora Lee Morrow, Lt. Dede N. Cook, Cpl. Mary Jean Kimpel and Sgt. Ray Noret. Sgt. Paula Edwards will remain in the recruiting office in the basement of the federal building.

The recruiting office recently was moved from office 21 to larger quarters in office 26, formerly used for civil service examinations.

'Pensive' Leads Field In Finishing Rush

MIAMI, Fla., March 18 (AP)—Warren Wright's Kentucky Derby colt, Pensive, won his first victory of the year at Tropical Park today, finishing with a rush to lead a field of 10 in a six furlong sprint.

Pensive beat Instructor by a length after trailing two lengths entering the stretch. Rene B was third, five lengths behind.

Longhorns Gain A Decisive Victory At S'West Meet

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

FORT WORTH, March 18 (AP)—The Texas Longhorns spread-eagled their way to eight first places and an impressive victory in the university-college division of a Southwestern exposition track and field meet slowed to a walk by rain today.

The Orange swept up 68 1-4 points, surrendering only the honor of having the high individual scorer, this falling to Andy Cary of Southwestern, who was a Big Six champion half-miler at Oklahoma university last year.

While Texas was having little trouble winning the championship of its class, the schoolboys and the servicemen and industrial workers were staging some knock-down, drag-out battles.

In fact the high school title was decided by the margin of a half point—Thomas Jefferson nosing out another San Antonio

At Sea—Having earned his commission as a midshipman, Wayne Burleson, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Burleson, is presumed to be at sea now. He was graduated March 3 from the US Merchant Marine Cadet Basic school at San Mateo, Calif., and his parents have not heard from him since that time. Wayne ranked third in his class. He is a 1940 graduate of Big Spring high school, arrived in Pearl Harbor on Dec. 1, 1941, less than a week before the infamous attack, and worked there two years as a machinist before securing permission to join the merchant marine.

Nineteen Towns Awarded Boxing

SAN ANTONIO, March 18 (AP)—District boxing meets, sponsored by the Texas Amateur Athletic Federation as part of its statewide sports program, have been awarded nineteen towns, with the state tournament scheduled here May 3-5.

Announcement that the boxing tournament would again be held this year came from Director Delos Finch today, who said there would be three divisions—novice, negro, and open.

Towns awarded district meets were Amarillo, Lubbock, Abilene, Wichita Falls, El Paso, Midland, San Angelo, San Antonio, Austin, Waco, Dallas, Fort Worth, Tyler, Houston, Galveston, Port Arthur, Beville, Laredo and Corpus Christi.

In the event either of the towns named decides not to hold a district meet, then boys from that area are eligible to enter the nearest district, Finch said.

Cards Will Not Be Conservative This Season

ST. LOUIS, March 18 (AP)—Manager Billy Southworth of the National league champion Cardinals disclosed today he was switching his team's attack to try for "big innings" this season.

The 1943 Cardinals may have been dashing and daring by ordinary standards but surprisingly enough Southworth said the team actually was conservative in its style.

With tight pitched pitching, Southworth pointed out, it was possible to play the percentage, trying for one run at a time to score the new tallies needed for victory.

National league statistics bear out his claims for his hurlers. For the first time in the 32 years of record keeping on earned run averages, the first three leaders all were members of the same team—the Cardinals.

Howard Pollett, Max Lanier and Morton Cooper topped the list and the two leaders in the group of pitchers with less than 10 complete games also were Cardinals—Al Brazie and Harry Brecheen. The pitching staff as a whole allowed only 2.57 earned runs per nine innings, best in the league.

Southworth doesn't expect to get that caliber of pitching this season. Because of that, he is shaping a wide-open, hit-away "try for a big inning attack, the kind of baseball offensive that he said he himself and the fans prefer.

And, incidentally, it's the kind the New York Yankees put on display in the world series with the Cardinals.

CC Committee Meet Announced

Moving to get its entry in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce agricultural and livestock contest into full force, the Big Spring chamber has announced an organization meeting for its committee on March 28.

The contest is a production and improvement one envisioned for a five year period but set up currently for a period of two years. It entails a planning board and survey as well as a plan of work.

On the local committee are O. P. Griffin, M. Weaver, Dudley Mann, Tommy E. Stuart, Fred Keating, J. H. Greene, L. H. Thomas, Rheba Merle Boyles, E. T. O'Daniel, M. M. Edwards, T. S. Currie, R. T. Piner, W. S. Satterwhite, Ira Driver, W. A. Burchell, A. J. Stallings, Akin Simpson, Ed Carpenter, W. L. Wilson and Glenn Cantrell.

The group will have a pattern to go by in making its survey and plan if it cares to use the Jones county layout, which is the first one completed. In the contest, WTCC officials were so impressed by its thoroughness that they sent it to all entries for consideration as a guide.

Based on a 20-year production record for 390,000 acres, Jones county reached an eight-point program which called for 1944 planning on a ration of 13 (cotton)-16 (grain sorghum)-10 (spring small grain, gudan, peanuts, etc.) ratio.

inside BASEBALL TRAINING CAMPS

FREDERICK, Md., March 18 (AP)—A single into left field by the veteran Al Simmons, with two men on base and the score tied 1-1, gave the "Barbara Fritchie" a 3 to 1 victory over the "Stonewall Jackson" in the Philadelphia Athletics' first intra-squad training camp game today.

BEAR MOUNTAIN, N. Y., March 18 (AP)—Brooklyn's Dodgers had use of the Army cage at West Point in daylight hours for the first time today and Manager Leo Durocher had a mixed squad in action for four hours.

COLLEGE PARK, Md., March 18 (AP)—Favored by fine weather most of the week, the Washington Senators' pitching staff today was rapidly getting into shape. With the exceptions of Bob Albertson and Turkey Curtis, among the younger men on the staff, who purposely have been coming along slowly, the pitching crew was well along in its pre-season development.

LAKEWOOD, N. J., March 18 (AP)—Manager Mel Ott of the New York Giants, spent today giving personal attention to the rookie who may displace him in the Polo Grounds' right field position. Bruce Sloan, who left-handed his way to a .365 batting average in the Southern association last year, went through an extensive batting practice under the manager's critical eye.

ATLANTIC CITY, March 18 (AP)—Eighteen New York Yankees romped on Bader field today while Manager Joe McCarthy awaited more catching assistance in the person of the tardy Bob Collins, an over-age athlete who spent last year working for a railroad.

Manager Fred Fitzsimmons will lead about 15 of his newly christened Philadelphia Blue Jays south (about 25 miles) to Wilmington, Del., tomorrow for the opening of training camp.

FRENCH LICK, Ind., March 18 (AP)—Manager Jimmy Dykes of the Chicago White Sox said today he had been informed Outfielder Guy Curtwright has been classified 1-A in the draft and probably will report for a pre-induction physical examination next month.

CHICAGO, March 18 (AP)—A party of Chicago Cubs will leave tomorrow to open spring training at French Lick, Ind., but no one, including General Manager Jim Gallagher, seems to be certain of the number of players to be on hand.

Marriage Takes An Easy Win From The Field In Handicap

MIAMI, Fla., March 18 (AP)—The eight-year-old Gelding Marriage was in a running mood today, and five other thoroughbreds in Tropical park's $5,000 Coral Gables handicap never had a chance.

Coward and Dupuy's Rags-to-Riches nag, winner last month of the rich New Orleans handicap, spurred out of the starting gate in first place and held the lead all the way to win by three lengths over the public favorite, Warren Wright's prize mare, Mar-Kell. Mrs. Marie Evans' Shot Put was third, four lengths behind Mar-Kell.

Showing Early Foot to stand off an opening by Sir Marlboro, Marriage slipped over the mile and one-eighth route in one minute, 49 1-5 and failed by only one-fifth to equal the track record. The crowd of 8,343 backed the leaders so strongly that an odd betting situation developed. Marriage paid $6.20 for a $2 win ticket—and every other price was the minimum $2.10.

Marriage, an unpredictable campaigner which has won some notable stake victories despite a modest beginning, showed remarkable improvement in two weeks, since the Gelding finished fifth in the $25,000 Widener handicap at Hialeah park.

Grid Play Is Lab For Pitt Coach

By JAMES JORDAN

PITTSBURGH, March 18 (AP)—Clark Shaughnessy, exponent of baffling and bewildering offshoots of the age-old T-formation in football, is using the professional grid game as a "reciprocal laboratory" for his pet schemes, he said today.

The University of Pittsburgh grid mentor, back from a trip to the west coast that developed a new crop of rumors about his association with the play-for-pay game, said in an interview the professionals have been, in a great measure, responsible for the success of a number of his pet plays.

"I have given the Chicago Bears a number of diagrams in the past few years on an experimental basis. If they could use them, I tried them. If they couldn't make them work, I discarded them," the former Stanford and Chicago mentor said.

"That's what I have been asked to do for the Washington Redskins next autumn. I'm not coaching for them, and I'm not on their coaching staff in an advisory capacity."

Seeds Will Manage Little Rock Team

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 18 (AP)—Robert I. (Bob) Seeds, former major league outfielder, will manage the 1944 Little Rock Traveler baseball team, the Little Rock baseball club announced tonight.

The new Traveler pilot, who will start his 19th year in professional baseball this spring, replaces Robert (Buck) Fausett, 1943 player-manager, who was sold to the Cincinnati Reds last fall.

Seeds, who held down center field with the Little Rock Southern Association club last summer, probably will be a player-manager. He will report here from his Amarillo, Tex., home in a few days to start plans for spring training opening April 1.

In the future it recommends a 13-13-13 ration. WTCC officials pointed out that conditions vary with counties and proposed the plan only as a guide.

Little Hope For Relief

The South Texas chamber of commerce has launched a new campaign in its region to awaken interest in a redistricting movement.

This is precisely the sort of thing the West Texas chamber of commerce and the West Texas press have been trying to do in this area and in other parts of the state for more than a decade.

There is one reason why Texas legislators have so shamefully ignored the constitutional mandate to redistrict following the past two decennial censuses.

Nothing short of a miracle will make a little man do big things.

Out of experience, we here in West Texas simply pledge our support to South Texas in its drive to stir public opinion.

There is no hope for a special session, although this is about the one subject we would favor one on.

A Twig Properly Inclined

Clifford Jones has stepped out as third president of Texas Technological college.

Seriously, one can congratulate Jones for his good sense in stepping down when he felt that his physical state was such that it might interfere with the best administration of the affairs of the college.

As president of the school, Clifford Jones demonstrated that good sound ability as an administrator can qualify a man to do a good job in any number of fields.

Under his administration, Texas Tech grew not only in size and enrollment, but in the type of services it offered to this region.

It is our sincere hope that whoever succeeds Clifford B. Jones will let the young twig grow in the direction in which he and his predecessor, Dr. Bradford Knappe, inclined it.

Some one should break down the fallacy that the Scots are a hardy race. They are not a hardy race. Their infant mortality is higher than in any other part of the British Isles.

There's no need for anyone to save money and not know what to do with it. War Bonds!

Disastrous Situation

The military implications of this country's ravaging manpower problem is fuller of angles than a barrel full of pine shavings.

An appallingly large percentage of American manhood is being rejected for military service on the ground of physical and mental unfitness.

For look you: Suppose when the next world war cloud blows up we find ourselves without friends and allies, as we well may.

Wait a minute. Let's bring it right down to the present. Suppose that after three years of intensive preparation on our part and four years of hard fighting on Britain's and nearly three years on Russia's and six years on China's part.

Well, under the most favorable conditions imaginable we find ourselves at this moment so short of fighting manpower that we have to take cripples and valetudinarians into the armed services to piece out our minimum military requirements.

Why? Not that we don't have plenty of men of military age in our 130,000,000 population.

And right there is our problem. There is no lack of willingness on the part of our manhood. The spirit is there in abundance.

We ain't been living right. We've had too many cheer leaders in the grandstand and too few players on the field below.

We'd better be doing some thinking and acting about that, if we hope to survive the next big test. You hear a lot of squawking about socialized medicine, whatever that is.

Our schools are partly to blame, and we the people are to blame for the faults of our schools. Physical education should be compulsory.

The Thrill That Comes Once In A Lifetime Today And Tomorrow

Baruch - Hancock Reconversion

WASHINGTON — In coming months, you are going to hear a good deal more about the Baruch-Hancock reconversion report.

In spite of criticisms from James G. Patton, president of the National Farmers union, and other quarters and a good deal of grumbling from the still rebellious Congress, the general feeling here is that it is a good blueprint for preparation for peace on the home front.

According to Bernard Baruch, failure to prepare for peace might even be more catastrophic than failure to prepare for an inevitable war.

Congress immediately got its back up. Legislation to handle the whole reconversion program already was on file. Most important was the bill proposed by Sen. Walter F. George of Georgia, chairman of the Senate committee on postwar planning.

When the war ends, about $35,000,000,000 in contracts will have to be cancelled immediately. On hand there may be 20 or 30,000,000,000 dollars of surplus supplies to dispose of.

Amazing, Versatile Character

HOLLYWOOD — Our town's most amazing, versatile, ubiquitous, and practically omniscient character is one J. M. Waldeck.

But it seems J. M. has been drafted. Recently he sent D. Lamour, or somebody, a sarong from the South Pacific.

Derinda can't hope to equal her dad, prop man at the time—could supply a director, on location in the desert, with fresh flowers on 12 minutes' notice.

Or when a happy fisherman by then, he let Humphrey Bogart "buy in" to his angelform farm up north.

Closest Waldeck ever came to Hollywood was the day he "trained in" as Variety puts it, to take charge of something or other—causing some consternation to the executive already in charge thereof.

Reaction Can Have Reaction

By WALTER LIPPMANN

In at least two respects Mr. Eric Johnston's speech at Boston University had a different sound from a great many other speeches.

And speaking the whole truth, he was more than the advocate of management. He was a citizen, a man concerned with solving a problem and not solely with winning his case.

If only this could become a fashion in public speech, how different would be the coming campaign and how much more adult, how much saner, our public life. For we are cursed with the endless declamations of men who charge, accuse, berate, defend, but never seek to persuade.

The air is loud with the shrill voices of men who see only the good in their own case and only the error in the other man's.

Mr. Johnston was unusual in another respect. He is an opponent of the New Deal who has not forgotten the twelve years that preceded it and led up to the New Deal.

Surely, if after the war free enterprise is not only to be restored but to remain restored, it will be because business men start thinking when Mr. Johnston has started, and then insist that the politicians who set up to be their best friends start their thinking there, too.

In 1921 and thereafter they were led through illusion to a disaster by politicians who promised them normally. What Harding and his successors meant by normalcy was the world as it had been, and the conditions of business as they were.

Therefore, it makes a true conservative shiver when he hears so many Republican voices which seem to say that all we now need is to return to normalcy. For if normalcy was impossible after the first World War, it is altogether impossible after the second.

Those With Passion For Anonymity

By GEORGE STIMPSON

WASHINGTON — Rumors that President Roosevelt is in dubious health have been revived and are going the rounds again.

So far as I could see the President looks well and appears to be in excellent health. Although the press conference was held at the lag'end of the day and the President had been working in his office since morning, eating his lunch at his desk, he showed no signs of being even tired or fagged out.

If the President is not in good health he certainly does not show it in his appearance, actions or speech. He looked much more rested and appeared to be in much better spirits than the average businessman would toward the end of a hard day's work.

My personal belief is, after having observed the President hundreds of times during the last 12 years, that he is in far better physical condition than most men are at his age.

As we were walking from the White House back to the National Press building, I fell into conversation with Jim Wright, Buffalo correspondent of the Buffalo News and top-notch newspaperman about the President's secretaries and the presidential assistants.

A few years ago there was quite a bit of ado when Congress passed a bill, upon the suggestion of the White House, providing six assistants for the President.

That word "anonymity" always stumps me and I have to look it up in Noah Webster's book every time I use it.

But the odd thing about it is that even the correspondents here are unable to name more than two or three of these assistants to the President.

Everybody in Washington newspaperdom knows who the three secretaries are. They are Steve Early, a grandnephew of Gen. Jubal Early of Civil war fame; Gen. Edwin Martin Watson, of Alabama, and Bill Hassett, of Vermont, who recently took the place of the late Col. Marvin McIntyre.

The President's personal secretary is Grace G. Tully; Maurice Latta is "executive clerk in charge of White House executive offices"; William Hopkins (not to be confused with Harry) is "executive clerk"; Harry L. Hopkins (White House Harry) is "special assistant to the President"; and Eugene Casey, of Maryland, is "special executive assistant."

Some of these are popularly supposed to be among the six assistants with a passion for anonymity. But they are not.

The six are William H. McReynolds, of Kansas, a technical budget and efficiency man; Lauchlin Currie, born in Nova Scotia and an expert economist and statistician; Lowell Mellett, former Scripps-Howard newspaperman, and presidential trouble-shooter; David K. Niles, who somehow keeps his name out of "Who's Who in America"; James M. Barnes, former Democratic congressman from Illinois, and Jonathan Daniels, son of Josephus Daniels. Jonathan Daniels may have a passion for anonymity but recently he has been in the limelight in connection with the REA investigation.

Kiwanians, Lions To Play Benefit Basketball Tilt

The Red Cross will be beneficiary Friday at 8 p. m. when the Kiwanis and Lions clubs square off in a basketball game in the high school gymnasium.

Lions last week accepted a challenge by W. D. Merry, Kiwanian who even lauded the regal tribe with a threat to play the scouts of troop No. 3, sponsored by the Kiwanis club. Lions boun-tered with an offer to run in their Girl Scouts. However, Saturday both Berry and Jack Smith, chair- man for the Lions, believed they would be able to muster a cor- poral's guard of players for the event.

Hawley Attempting To Link West Oil Areas

Coden and Guthrie No. 2 Pauline Allen, diagonal north- west offset to the No. 1 Allen, discovery well in the Vincent area of northeastern Howard county, was plugging back Satur- day from 6,172 feet, where it had some water, to 5,900 feet. The test will be shot with as much as can be put in the hole from 5,450-5,500—possibly 150 quarts. In three treatments with a total of 6,500 gallons of acid, the test failed to show appreciable response at that depth. The pay zone is approximately 1,400 feet below the level in the No. 1 well, and 1,200 below the pay now under test in the Coffield & Guth- ire No. 1 Guy Guffee. The for- mation has not been picked. Lo- cation is in the southeast quar- ter of section 57-20, LaYaca.

To the east in the southeast corner of section 58-20, the No. 1 Guffee had finished cleaning out following a shot jested pay from 4,244 to 4,370 feet. Pumping equipment was due to be installed early this week. On swabbing tests, the well produced about 45 barrels daily without pulling the head.

The most active operator in this territory, John B. Hawley, Jr., staked location for his No. 1 Bruce Frazier, 1,650 feet from the north and 2,310 feet from the east line of section 7-33-18, T & P, approximately a mile north of nearest production in the Moore (Harding) pool south- west of Big Spring. A test on the Frazier tract a dozen years ago found pay.

Attempting to link the Moore pool with production found in western Howard county, Hawley staked location for No. 1 Guitlar in section 2, Bauer & Cockrell survey. This is approximately two miles north of the Frazier loca- tion and a mile and a half south- east of the Hawley No. 1 J. W. Cook, good for 10 barrels a day, in section 23-24-18, T & P.

Section No. 1 J. O. Rosser, sec- tion 24-34-18, T & P, was prepar- ing for a second shot. Hawley No. 1 Thompson, section 13-34-18, T & P, was preparing to drill in after shifting from rotary and Hawley No. 1 Harold Homan, 1,650 from the north and 2,310 feet from the east lines of sec- tion 12-34-18, T & P, was near- ing pay horizon around 3,000. Hawley No. 3 H. D. Gowden, section 18-33-18, T & P, was awaiting pump- ing equipment preparatory to test and the No. 4 Codwen was cleaning out following a second shot.

In eastern Howard county Cod- den No. 2-B Read, section 48-30- 18, T & P, was below 2,000 feet after picking up the lime at 1,980 feet. The Ray No. 2-B Read, in the same section had cemented oil string at 2,554 feet.

The Week

however, the deadlines may as well have been yesterday.

Our reporter insists we leave reference to team colors in a girls basketball story because the "girls like it." Maybe we should say "Mary Smith took a short pas- dribbled smartly and then pivoted cleverly under the goal. She was clad in a tailored white blouse and powder blue shorts, with dainty French knots and wore white shoes with rubber soles to match. She made the crisp shot." Aw, maybe we just don't understand, wom- en.

County city and school offi- cials appeared to be getting to- gether last week on the juvenile matter. The city is going to hire a juvenile and VD officer re- gardless. The county is willing to go up to $125 per month on a probation (and truant) officer. The school offers use of build- ings and equipment and the city to finance half the expense of a recreational and vocational program. That part, for lack of a taker of the other 50 per cent, is hanging on a limb.

Glowing reports were heard at the Girl Scout district meet- ing here during the week when lead- ers readopted a $4,000 budget. That $4,000 is buying one of the biggest bargains we ever heard of.

The Big Spring Pastors associa- tion Saturday developed plans for the Easter Sunrise service at the city park amphitheatre. Brethren, we will break a hard and fast rule and arise early on that day.

A high OPA official paid people in this area a good compliment last week, saying that he found fewer willful violations in this area than any he had conducted hear- ings in... and he's been around.

Home to spend his furlough with his mother, Mrs. E. E. Bry- ant, is M/Sgt. The office, he said, handles all incoming and outgo- ing mail at that point, serving too as a distribution point for New Orleans APO mail. Panama is in the midst of its dry season now and baseball is at its peak. Come spring, however, and it will rain everyday about 1 p. m. and it will be all off until next winter (as we know it in the states), he reported.

Expecting a Baby?

Mother's Friend helps bring ease and comfort to expectant mothers.

MOTHER'S FRIEND, an exquisitely prepared emollient, is useful in all condi- tions where a bland, mild anodyne mas- sage medium in skin lubrication is de- sired. One condition in which women for more than 70 years have used it is an application for massaging the body dur- ing pregnancy... it helps keep the skin soft and pliable... thus avoiding un- necessary discomfort due to dryness and tightness. It refreshes and tones the skin. An ideal massage application for the numb, tingling or burning sensa- tions of the skin... for the tired back muscles or cramp-like pains in the legs. Quickly absorbed. Delightful to use.

Highly praised by users, many doctors and nurses. Just ask any druggist for Mother's Friend—the skin lubricant. Try it tonight.
