The Danger of Self-Sufficiency
 And Jesus said to them: "Take heed, and bewara of all covecousness for a man's life coesnot consis in the eswden mof life deses not consist in ine abundanceo of his possessions. And he told them a parable, sexins seying .ne land of anch man buoghin forth plentifully, and he thought to himself, my crops?" And he said, "I will do this: I will pull down my barns, and build larger ones; and there I will store all my grain and my goods. And I will say to my soul, Soul, you have ample goods laid up for many years; take your ease, eat, drink, be merry." But God said to him, "Fool!" This night your soul is required of you and the things you have prepared, whose will they be?" So is he who lays up treasure for have prepared, whose will they be?

The attitude of self-sufficiency is often encouraged by two subtle but dangerous schools of thought: (1) "If you are really "mature" you wont have any needs. (2) If you are doing what you are supposed io be of thinking in the Revelation chapter 3:17-18.

When we refuse to acknowledge God and our need of Him, then what follows is a lack of involvement in the human relationships. And

"I had hearta tack e eight miles foom the nearest thone.

"My son and I were working on a ranch remotely located in Coleman County near Ballinger, Texas. Suddenly I started to get sharp pains in my chest, and I was having a hard time breathing. The nearest phone was at least eight miles away. But I was lucky, because my son carries his Digital Cellular phone with him everywhere he goes. After he helped me into the pickup, he called 911. When we arrived at the hospital in Ballinger, a doctor and a helicopter were waiting to take care of me. Later, the doctor told me that there wasn't any permanent damage to my heart because he was able to treat me quickly. Without my son's Digital Cellular phone, my treatment would have been delayed an hour."

When I was a boy, every time my father wanted to make a garden, I'd dig up excuses. But they'd never work.
One of my jobs was to carry buckets of water from a pond to the garden. Oftentimes, in my haste to play, I'd spill some of the water on my clothes. If the water was muddy, my clothes would become stained.
Life's like that. You're always spilling something out of your heart. Whatever is in your heart spills over into your speech If your heart's clean and kind, your words will be clean and kind. If it isn't, your words will be contaminated and cruel.
