The Cafe equipment stored at the school, was discussed. It was stated that this equipment belonged to the cafe and should be kept for cafe use.

Guidelines for use of backhoe and tractor was discussed. The backhoe and tractor can be used by James only for $35.00 an hour, only if it doesn't take away from City work and not out of town, with the one hour minimum.

Devonne wants someone to come and explain and teach the Council about economic development grant funds. Anna stated that Karen King said she could get someone from TDC (Texas Department of Commerce) in Austin to come. The Council voted for this.

Matadors Lose to Knox City

by Lindy Stafford

Matley County's Matadors suffered their first loss in district play in a hard-fought clash with the Knox City Grayhounds. The Matadors scored once in the 29-7 loss.

Although the Matadors moved the ball for 224 total yards and the Greyhounds for 216 yards, Matley County seemed unable to score.

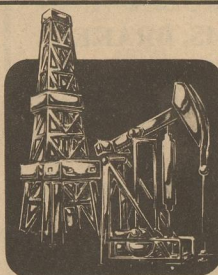

The lone score for the Matadors was a touchdown by Tim Kendall in the second quarter which was followed by a PAT kicked by David Stafford.

According to Matador's Coach Cecil Marks his team made too many mistakes to come out on the top side of the score.

Marks and his team plan to correct the mistakes and continue their winning streak at home by beating the Paducah Dragons this coming Friday night.

Remember--BLACK IS BACK and the 1988 Matadors and Coaches deserve your support at 7:30 p.m. at Bursleson Field.

blood cholesterol levels. Or use other vegetable oils. These include cottonseed, safflower, corn, soybean and sunflower oils. They are known as polyunsaturated and will also help reduce blood cholesterol levels. The kinds of fat you want to avoid come from animal products, meat and poultry, for example, are very nutritious foods, but eat the lean, not the fat. Trim all visible fat from meat and poultry and buy cuts that are labeled as lean. Also choose low-fat dairy products.

FATS TO EAT AND FATS TO AVOID

Confused about which fats to eat and which to avoid if you're trying to lower your cholesterol level? Here's a guide:
 Eat good fats such as olive oil and peanut oil. Heart rates are very low in countries where people cook with these monounsaturated oils. Research studies have shown that olive oil helps reduce

Also avoid coconut and palm oils. They're not the same as other vegetable oils because they are saturated and can raise blood cholesterol levels. These fats are typically found in commercially packaged cookies and cakes and in some imitation dairy products. So read the labels carefully.

If your child is 2 1/2 - 5 years old we hope you will bring him or her to the first Fall meeting of our Library School for pre-schoolers on Tuesday morning, October 11, at 10:30 am. Robin Boedeker and Lola Pohl are anxious to get started with the music program again, and I'm saving a new book to read. Some of our regular members are in Kindergarten now, and we need some new members to take their place. If you need someone to pick up your child, please call the Library, 347-2717, and we will arrange for another mother or father to bring them. Several mothers have volunteered to do this. Call a Friend and come on in next Tuesday.

LITERACY COUNCIL FACTS

--Today, one out of five adult Texans cannot read, write or perform basic math skills well enough to be a productive member of the work force.
 --One out of every three (and in some areas, one out of every two) Texas ninth graders never complete high school.
 --The problem of illiteracy is escalating so quickly that some of the statistics concerning functional illiteracy in Texas quoted in the Task Force Report presented to the 70th Legislature just over a year ago, have already increased. For example, the number of high school dropouts who are in Texas prisons was 85% last year. Now more than 90% of all Texas prisons inmates are high school dropouts.

Our newest book at the Motley County Library is "An Autobiography of a West Texas Pioneer, ELLA ELGAR BIRD DUMONT" edited by Tommy J. Boley. Marisue Potts and Michele Bearden attended the autograph party at Paducah Library and got our copy autographed by the editor and J. Verne Dumont. Perhaps some of you know the history of Ella Elgar Bird Dumont. I had never heard of the lady until several patrons recommended her biography as a memorial and a great addition to our Texas collection, so I was duly impressed to read this introductory material from the front cover.

"A crackshot, expert skinner and tanner, seamstress, sculptor, and later writer-a list that only hints at her intelligence and abilities- Ella Elgar Bird Dumont was one of those remarkable women who helped tame the Texas frontier. The details of how Mr. Boley became acquainted with Mrs. Dumont's manuscript and persisted to its publication is as fascinating as the journal itself.

4-H Consumer Decision Making

Making decisions on which consumer products to buy based on your situation can be a tough task. The 4-H Consumer Decision Making project is designed to help you make decisions based on a specific situation.

It is a judging contest similar to that of livestock, horse, or soils judging only it involves consumer products such as food, watches, jam boxes, or clothes.

I would like to meet with any 4-H member interested in this contest Tuesday, October 11, after school at the Extension office in the courthouse. We will discuss the rules and practice judging. The district contest will be held Saturday, November 12, in Vernon.

Senior Citizens Report

by Iris Blevins

Monday the mini bus went to Lubbock with seven people riding. It was a very much and every one enjoyed the trip very much.

Tuesday, September 27, it was time to elect new officers for the year 1988-89. We had three nominations for President, Ruth, Norabell and Daisy. Norabell won by the highest vote.

Iris and Artie were nominated for vice president. Iris won by vote. Daisy won as secretary. She had no opponent.

Iris is still our reporter. She had no opponent. We want everyone to join hands and hearts and have the best year that we have ever had.

We want to thank everyone for their cooperation through the past year. We thank you, Roger, for all of the things you have done for the center, especially the yard work.

We sang happy birthday to Jimmy and we thank you, Jimmy for all of the work that you have done at the center. It sure takes good team work to accomplish very much.

Ruth, we want to thank you for the wonderful work and accomplishments you have done through the past year. We have enjoyed your guidance in everything we have done. Thank you, Ruth. The bus didn't go to Plainview, Thursday, but it did go to Lubbock with ten people riding. Thursday was Senior Citizens day at the Fair. All of us who went had cold feet and red noses. The cold wind and misty weather met us there about 9:45 and it was very cold to all of us. We saw so many pretty quilts besides all of the other handwork.

Friday evening, eight of us gathered at the center for games and visiting, so we had two tables of forty-two. We had very good refreshments. Addie, your angel food cake was delicious.

Monday, October 3, the bus went to Lubbock for Dr. appointments. Thursday, October 6, we will go to Plainview on regular schedule.

Tuesday, October 10, we will have our first luncheon of the new year with new officers and are welcoming the Senior Citizens of the County to come be with us and enjoy the evening of games and visiting and fellowship. Let's have an outstanding community center. Last, but not least, by any means, Ruth volunteered to be responsible for our yard work. Let's all help her or pay her to work for 2 or 3 hours. I think this is a fair suggestion.

School Newsletter

A general operating budget of $1,777,331.00 for the 1988-89 school year was adopted by the board in August. The budget was the result of many hours of work by teachers, coaches, administration, and central office staff. Because of mandated educational reforms, many additional costs are being borne by the school. However, the tax base of the school has not increased while our enrollment has declined slightly. (From 286 students in 87-88 to 276 this year). The budget's strength is that it will provide those materials and programs that will ensure our students receive a quality education, it provides for necessary on-going maintenance, and it will ensure that enough funds are reserved to operate school at the start of next year until tax money is received. Its weakness is that it eliminates certain projects that might be desireable such as construction of additional storage buildings, remodeling the old building for more efficient use by the school and community, or other needed improvements. Additionally, some major capital expenditures for items such as buses could not be included. (However, one more bus is already on order). The board set the tax rates at 61¢ for maintenance and operations, and at 18¢ for interest and bond, the same as last year. It was the feeling of the board that the economy was too unstable to raise taxes at this time, that the budget would cover the normal operating expense, and that the educational programs of the school would continue to improve, even with a limited budget. Every effort will be made by the school and community to ensure our school is the best it can be.

National Stamp Collecting Month

Postmaster, Nell Clem, announced today that October has been designated as National Stamp Collecting month. The special observance for 1988 showcases the carousel animals block of four commemorative stamps. Featured as the newest entries in the postal service's folk art series, the lovely hand-carved carousel figures are expected to be among the most striking and popular of all the U.S.

stamp subjects.

The theme of the eighth annual observance is "for the ride of a lifetime, - collect stamps!" While the promotion is highlighting carousel stamps, other philatelic products are also available as well.

"We encourage collectors to share the history, beauty, and excitement that can be found by collecting United States stamps," Nell Clem said.

Dr. Jerry Savelle To Speak At South Plains Church

Dr. Jerry Savelle, a noted author, evangelist and teacher will be at South Plains Church October 9, 1988 in the 10:45 a.m. service.

Well known for his balanced Biblical teaching, Brother Savelle has been conducting seminars, crusades and convention speaking engagements for a number of years. He is in great demand today because of his inspiring message of victory and faith and his accurate and entertaining illustrations from the Bible. He teaches the uncompromising Word of God with a power and authority that is exciting, but with a love that delivers the message directly to the spirit man.

At the age of twelve, God spoke to Jerry's heart as he was watching the healing ministry of Oral Roberts on television, and told him that He was calling him into the ministry. Some years later Jerry made Jesus Christ the Lord of his life and since that time has been moving in the light of the calling of God upon his life. Prior to entering his own ministry, he was an Associate minister with the Kenneth Copeland Evangelist Association.

Dr. Savelle founded the Overcoming Faith Church and Bible Training Center located in Kakamega, Kenya, and the missions outreach of his ministry extends to over 27 different countries around the world. His ministry also delivers the powerful message of God's Word to prisoners across the U.S. through the JSM Prison Ministry Outreach.

In addition to traveling throughout the U.S. and foreign nations, Brother Savelle maintains a daily national radio broadcast and weekly television series, "Adventures In Faith." These enable him to reach millions of people that would not be possible to minister to any other way.

Jerry Savelle has authored in excess of fourteen books and over one hundred cassette teaching tapes. Nearly 300,000 books and tapes are distributed around the world each year through Jerry Savelle Ministries. The ministry's quarterly magazine, "Adventures In Faith," is mailed regularly to more than 50,000 friends and partners of the ministry.

The anointing of God upon Jerry's life is very powerful, and through miracles, healings and other gifts of the spirit, people are set free. Brother Savelle's down-to-earth message, dynamic illustrations and refreshing humor enable people to better understand the principles of God's Word and to apply them in a very practical way to their everyday lives.

Pastors Eddie and Pat Trice would like to invite you to come and share in the experience of Dr. Savelle's Ministry. Come expecting Miracles!!!!

Post Office Offers Family Tree Form

According to Anthony M. Frank, Postmaster General of the United States "The Postal Service is part of the fabric of American life. We do more than deliver the mail, we deliver ideas and dreams that help preserve our heritage."

In order to help people learn about their past and develop a sense of history and tradition, we are urging people to 'plant a family tree', Nell Clem, Postmaster announced today.

"Our Post Office will provide a fill-in family tree form to customers upon request to help trace their family's history," Nell said. "Payment eligibility meeting." That's how officials of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, and the National Cotton Council, Memphis, Tenn., are billing a meeting scheduled in Lubbock to explain complex new rules that will weigh on the management decisions of every farmer participating in 1989 farm programs.

The meeting will begin at 8:30 a.m. on Tuesday, October 11 in the Board Room of the Plains Cotton Cooperative Association, 3301 East 50th Street (Slaton Highway), Lubbock.

The new regulations evolved from language in the 1987 Budget Reconciliation Act designed to tighten application of the $50,000 per-person limit on farm program payments. That's why they're most often referred to as "payment limitation" rules. But Ralls farmer Steve Verett, who will chair the Lubbock meeting, says that's a misnomer. "There's much more involved than just setting a limit on payments a farming operation is eligible to receive," he says. Verett is president of PCG and an NCC delegate.

"Every entity in every farm operation," he explains, "is required to provide documentation proving eligibility to receive any payments, large or small." What many don't understand, he continues, is that "where payment eligibility is concerned everybody is back at square one, including operators, sharecroppers, landlords, members of corporations, partnerships, trusts - anybody that hopes to receive a payment of any size."

Available to producers at the Lubbock meeting will be handouts that reduce to a few typewritten pages the published regulations which take up 28 small-print pages in the Federal Register.

The deadline for establishing payment eligibility is April 1 of next year, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service officials point out, emphasizing that anyone failing to complete the required forms and supply the necessary documentation before that date will receive no 1989 payments. At the insistence of PCG, NCC and other producer representatives, USDA must make its determination of eligibility within 60 days after a producer files the required information and must give advance notice to producers before finalizing adverse eligibility decisions.

"But that provision will be helpful only if producers request eligibility early, allowing time before April 1 to make the changes necessary to reverse such decisions," Verett comments. Complete instructions and all the required forms had not reached county ASCS offices as of September 30, but should be on hand before mid-October, officials say.

Providing the meat of the educational process in the October 11 meeting will be Norvell Breedlove, Chief of the Texas ASCS Compliance Division. Also expected are Charles Bragg, NCC Vice President for Producer Affairs, State ASCS Director Terry Harman, and State ASCS Committee Chairman Jerry Harris of Lamesa.

A similar meeting, sponsored by NCC and the Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, will be held October 12 in the Knights of Columbus Hall, South 32nd Street and Elm Avenue in Abilene.

Written questions from producers will be accepted and answered at both meetings.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Barbara,

Enclosed is a check for the paper for another year, which is so special to me, a real joy to hear from home. I think it's the best ever. Especially the little nuggets of gold added here and there each week.

We have really enjoyed the articles on the years gone by. They bring back so many beautiful memories.

All of Emmitt Jenkins writings were great. Brought to mind when Henry Pipkin used to give me a Buster Brown haircut on Saturday afternoon.

Thanks to Earlyne Jameson for refreshing our memory on the Ice plant, which was such an asset to our community.

We use to freeze a gallon of ice cream each Saturday, take it to the Ice Plant and

Mr. Blackman kept it frozen for us until we came home from church on Sunday. Each Sunday it was our son, Ronnie's job to go the Matador Bakery for two pounds of roll dough. After doing this for so long, Roy Smith finally said, "Lillian if you will bring your pans down here, I will pinch the rolls out for you and when you come by from church they will be ready to stick in the oven." Goodness what a bargain, and what a friend.

I have never found such hospitality. There is so many precious memories of so many beautiful people.

Sincerely,
Lillian (Steen) Shupe

P.S. I miss reading June Keltz's article each week.

HEALTH TIPS

FEELING GOOD MEANS BEING 'HEALTH-WISE'

Feeling good physically and emotionally is an important part of a productive and enjoyable life. But people do not always do what they should to achieve good overall health.

Unfortunately, it often takes an illness or other health problem to motivate a person to become "health-wise," according to the Texas Medical Association.

This term means learning how to prevent disease as well as to promote health. The key is maintaining a healthy lifestyle by focusing on areas such as exercise, stress, smoking, alcohol, nutrition, medication, and accident prevention.

"Once you identify the risks you are taking, you can work to reduce or eliminate them," says a TMA pamphlet titled "Feeling Good - Enjoying a Health-Wise Lifestyle." It offers these suggestions among others on reducing health risks:

Alcohol: Frequent excessive drinking can lead to alcoholism, heart disease, cirrhosis of the liver, and accidents. When drinking alcohol, sip it slowly, and eat something before you drink.

Eating: Being overweight can lead to such problems as heart attacks, high blood pressure, and diabetes. To help avoid overeating, eat slowly, and eat less at meals. Avoid crash diets, and cut back on junk foods.

Smoking: Don't. Stress: Prolonged stress can lead to both mental and physical ills. Stress can come from job pressures, responsibilities at home, or troubles with friends and family. To relieve stress, find time to relax, whether it's reading a book, exercising, or doing nothing.

Medication: Avoid mixing drugs - prescription or over-the-counter - unless your doctor says it is safe. Never mix drugs with alcohol.

To obtain a copy of this pamphlet and nine others in the TMA Health Wise Series, call 512/477-6704 or write to the Texas Medical Association, Department of Public Relations, 1801 N. Lamar Blvd., Austin 78701.

The Texas Medical Association is a professional organization with more than 28,000 physician and medical student members. It is located in Austin and has 116 component county medical societies around the state.

Social Security Tips

By Terry J. Clements

Before any Social Security benefits can be paid, a worker must have enough credit for work covered by Social Security to be insured.

Social Security credits are measured in units called "quarters of coverage." Both wage earners and self-employed people earn these credits based on their total annual earnings.

A wage earner's earnings are generally covered from the first dollar earned during the year up to the maximum that counts for Social Security, $45,000 for 1988. A self-employed person's earnings are covered, however, only if net earnings amount to $400 or more. If net earnings are at least $400, then total earnings are covered up to the Social Security maximum.

In 1988, a person earns one quarter of coverage for each $470 of covered annual earnings. If total 1988 annual earnings amount to $1,880 or more, the person earns four quarters. No more than four quarters of coverage can be earned in any year.

The amount of covered earnings needed for a quarter of coverage will increase automatically each year to keep pace with increases in average wage levels.

The general rule is that a person needs one quarter of coverage for each year after 1950, or after the year a person reaches 21, if later, up to the year he or she reaches 62, becomes disabled, or dies before reaching 62.

For example, a person reaching 62 in 1988 needs 37 quarters of coverage to be insured for retirement benefits. No one ever needs more than 40 quarters to be insured and a person cannot be insured for fewer than 6 quarters.

For more information about Social Security credits or to file a claim call 293-9623.

VA News Feature

Questions & Answers

Q. - If I encounter legal difficulties while purchasing a home using my GI home loan, will the VA provide or pay for any legal assistance I may need?

A. - No. The Veterans Administration does not provide legal assistance or advice; nor can the agency pay for any legal assistance a veteran obtains to deal with troubles encountered in the purchase or construction of a home.

Q. - I heard that Congress passed a law authorizing special life insurance dividends for World War II veterans. I understand that veterans are entitled to this dividend even if they haven't kept their policies in force. Is this true?

A. - No. The VA does not pay dividends on lapsed insurance policies. An insurance hoax that has plagued the VA since 1948 is refuted every few years by a distribution of "applications" that claim that Congress has authorized the dividends. There has been no such action nor is there any pending. Annual dividends on current GI insurance policies are paid by the VA to veterans who continue to pay premiums. Dividend payments are made automatically, usually on the anniversary date of the policy, and no application is needed.

Texans should be on the alert for telephone scams

by Congressman Martin Frost

The Federal Trade Commission estimates that American consumers are bilked out of $1 billion each year through fraudulent schemes conducted over the telephone.

These telemarketing scams typically involve the fraudulent sale of rare coins, works of art, diamonds and other precious gemstones, office equipment and supplies, bargain vacation packages, gold and silver, oil and gas lease rights, cellular telephone licenses and other goods and services.

Victims of these schemes come from all walks of life, ranging from widows looking for safe investments for their insurance to business executives purchasing equipment and supplies. Frankly, anyone with a telephone is a potential target.

The FTC has mounted an intense campaign to fight telemarketing fraud and has asked for the help of congressional offices to alert consumers about these investment scams. You can help fight this crime by notifying the FTC or the Attorney General's office of suspected telemarketing fraud.

These operations are typically centered in a "boiler room" setting where a number of salespersons make hundreds of calls to prospects all over the country. You may be contacted by one of these boiler room operators if you respond to an ad or fill out a card asking for more information about an investment. Or, you might be called "cold."

In a typical pitch, fraudulent salespersons will say you have been chosen to participate in an unusual investment opportunity with guarantees or large and rapid profits and virtually no risk involved.

Because it is so difficult to recover money paid to fraudulent sellers, the FTC advises that it's best to refuse to give them the money in the first place. If you are approached by anyone selling an investment opportunity, using these cautions may help you avoid investing with a bogus firm:

--If it sounds too good, it probably is a scam.

--Any claim that there is little or no risk should raise a red flag.

--Do not be pressured into buying, because once you send your money, it may be gone forever.

--Invest in business opportunities you know something about and be skeptical about any unsolicited phone calls about investments.

--Get all the information you can about the company and verify the data. If in doubt, do not invest.

The FTC is a law enforcement agency that investigates and prosecutes a variety of investment frauds. If you have questions or complaints about claims made in advertising or in telephone promotions for investment services, write the FTC, Investment Fraud Project, Bureau of Consumer Protection, Washington, D.C. 20580.

I will sing to the Lord all my life; I will sing praise to my God as long as I live.

Helping Children Deal With Disaster Fears

College Station -- For the next several weeks young children all over Texas may be "playing hurricane" or having tornado nightmares, whether they live in areas which were affected by Hurricane Gilbert or not.

Small children have many fears, some linked to actual experiences and events and others created by their vivid imaginations, according to child development expert Dr. Sarah Anderson.

"Children saw the pictures of the hurricane, the ruined buildings and homeless people on television and in the newspapers. They also heard older children and adults talk about it."

"So it's not surprising if the 4-year-old who worries about being attacked by a lion, eaten by a snake or falling off a cliff also imagines the hurricane as a monster coming after him," said Anderson, who is a specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service's home economics program.

She said children should be allowed to talk about their fears or act them out through play.

"Parents shouldn't be disturbed if children play hurricane and pretend to blow down houses, tear up things or even play dead. Young children do not have many coping mechanisms for dealing with their fears, and play is one way of working through them," the specialist said.

Parents can also use this event to talk simply and matter-of-factly with their children about what happens in big storms or tornadoes, explaining for example, that it will rain very hard and the wind will blow but that the family will be safe.

Anderson said children should also know that being safe sometimes requires evacuation, or seeking shelter in the interior or basement of their home. A brief drill can help children understand what will happen in case of emergency.

"Young children primarily want reassurance that they'll be taken care of if a storm comes their way, and parents can provide that feeling of security," she said.
