Highway Patrol Warns of Extra Danger During July 4th Holiday

While the drivers of Texas are making plans for 4th of July trips, the Texas Department of Public Safety is getting ready for "Operation Motorcade," a three day vigil of tabulating all traffic deaths in the State Major Harry Hutchison, Regional Commander of this area for the D.P.S., reported today the State approaching the mid-point in the year amid definite indications that traffic deaths will hit an all time high again in 1964.

"If we continue to take lives at the present rate, 1964 will become the most deadly year in Texas history for traffic fatalities," he said. "Motorcides" at this time are over 150 more than at the same time last year, and considering the trend of increased accidents and casualties, we have every reason to expect that traffic deaths will exceed the previous all time high in Texas of 2,729 in 1963.

"Only 271 more deaths in 1964 than in 1963 will make a total of 3,000 lives lost on our streets and highways in one year, an increase for the year of ten per cent over 1963." Deaths in traffic this year have consistently been in excess of fifteen per cent over 1963, an indication that the 3,000 mark will be surpassed.

Starts 12:01 a.m. Friday Hutchison said that "Operation Motorcade" will be placed in effect from 12:01 AM Friday, July 3rd and continue through 11:59 PM Sunday, July 5, 1964. In order to focus attention upon the added dangers of holiday travel when traffic is at a peak and as an integral part of the operation, which calls for maximum enforcement, additional personnel from other uniformed services of the D.P.S. will augment the regular Highway Patrol force. These Patrolmen have been instructed to be extra alert for and direct their enforcement efforts toward those violations that are most often caused factors in traffic accidents. In addition every effort will be made to remove drinking drivers from the highway.

"Since police traffic supervision cannot cover the entire street and highway system in the State every minute of the day, the big hope for safe driving and accident prevention rests with the individual motorist," Hutchison concluded.

FHA Officers Of Matador Chapter Meet To Chart Year's Activities

By Karen Elliott

Officers of Matador Chapter Future Homemakers of America met Tuesday morning, June 23 in the home economics classroom to plan the program of work for the coming year. Mrs. A. L. Fair, home economics teacher and chapter sponsor, supervised the meeting.

Four of the officers, President Lynda Elliott, 1st Vice-president Karen Elliott, 2nd Vice-president Pat Day and Area 1 treasurer, Scottie Robbins had just returned from the FHA Officers' Workshop at Texas Tech, Lubbock, where they were trained in how to properly execute the duties of their respective offices.

Arriving in Lubbock on Monday, Miss Robbins attended an executive council meeting with the other officers of Area 1.

Tuesday morning the girls attended a large general session in the ballroom of the Student Union Building, with approximately 800 other officers from Area 1.

Group Sessions Held
From this session the girls were divided into groups of their respective offices. Each of these large assemblies was subdivided into three groups, one for girls from larger schools, another for girls from medium schools and the other for girls from small schools.

In these small group work sessions the girls received detailed training and exchanged suggestions for programs and socials which their chapters had particularly enjoyed.

There were four general sessions, which all of the girls attended. At the first two general sessions the girls were privileged to hear Herman Williams, Educational Director of the Second Baptist Church in Lubbock. He spoke to the group on "Group Dynamics."

Two other guest speakers were Mrs. Bess Rothman and Mrs. Wildring Edwards. Mrs. Rothman, Fashion Consultant for the Neutrogena Corp., gave a delightful talk on "Charm."

The Assistant professor of the School of Home Economics at Texas Tech, Mrs. Edwards spoke on "The Excitement of Being a Girl."

COUNTY AGENT PALLMEYER SAYS:

NEW CROP

Farmers are always on the lookout for "new crops," but before any are started, the crop should be investigated.

Soybeans: In general production under dryland conditions, are so low that they have not been a profitable crop. Under irrigation, a 25 bu. ac yield is average, and will return about the same as 3,000 lbs. of grain sorghum.

Castorbeans: Dryland average, 600 lbs. ac. Irrigated average is 2,200 lbs. ac. Recent price offerings on contracts are market price at time of delivery, but not less than $4.75 per cwt.

Sesame: Irrigated average, 1,000 lbs. ac. Very little dryland sesame has grown in this area.

Sugar beets: 18 tons per acre irrigated, and not recommended for this area under dryland conditions.

Before planting any of these crops, arrangements should be made for sale of the crop as well as seed purchase. I have information relative to the production of these crops, which is available for the asking.

PESTICIDES

USING pesticides on animals which have been formulated for plants can be dangerous. Although the same material may be used in some cases on animals or plants, the concentration and chemical formulation may be vastly different. If the insecticide is manufactured specifically for plant use, the formulation may contain solvents that speed up absorption by animals and results in poisoning. The result can mean a sick animal. Trouble most often comes when the directions on the labels are not closely followed. Pesticides are safe when used as intended by the manufacturer and in accordance with his recommendations.

When pesticides are used on or around animals, these suggestions should be followed. Read label prior to each use of the pesticide and follow the instructions to the letter. Use care in treating crops to be used as livestock feed and observe all limitations and precautions. Be careful when treating for other pest problems in areas open to livestock. Particular caution is advisable when treating around water. Store pesticides in their original containers so there will be no confusion when they are used and be sure to keep the label securely fixed to the container.

GUIDE AVAILABLE

A new supply of Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on Vegetable Crops is available. The leaflet not only includes the insecticides to use for different insects, but has a dilution chart and a list of suggestions for home garden insect control. Delays of use after applications of insecticides is given on all type vegetables, according to insecticide used, and type of insecticide that should not be used on a particular crop. These leaflets are yours for the asking.

HELPFUL GARDEN TIPS

For those who hope to obtain maximum returns from their garden, the following tips may be helpful.

The most essential requirement of a plant is water. If your garden is watered, avoid frequent light applications and soak the ground when you do water, not watering until you can see droop symptoms of plants.

This method encourages deep root penetration, and will lengthen the time between waterings. More water is lost through use of low cost garden hoses than in any other way. A small 3/8" hose will deliver about 4 gallons min; a 1/2" hose will deliver about 10 1/2 gal min; a 5/8" hose will deliver about 17 gal min; and a 3/4" hose will deliver about 30 gallons per minute.

There is no use to have a hose of larger diameter than the pipe supplying the water, but the closer the size of the hose to the pipe, the more efficient the operation.

CARE OF LAWNS

When watering lawns, the following steps should be followed to determine when water is needed. Just before the grass starts to wilt, it becomes dark in color, and when it is dry, it will show footprints that will be slow to spring back in place. Water before the footprints tend to remain, and apply at least 2" of water per square ft.

Fertilization and mowing are also important. A complete fertilizer of a 1-1-1 ratio should be used first, applying at the rate of 2 lbs. actual nitrogen per square ft. During the season, apply nitrogen at the rate of 1 to 2 lbs. per sq. ft. every 8 to 10 weeks.

Nitrogen is the key element of turf growth, and produces the deep green color desired.

Mowing should be done when about 1 1/2 in. of bermuda is removed. The blades should be sharp and not shred the leaves. Proper lawn care is time consuming, but for those who wish their lawn to look the best, the preceding tips should be followed.

Insect Control Program

What is the purpose of an insect control program? To make a crop or to make money? Is a control program profitable if the producer only recovers the expense he has been out plus an allowable for his time and wear on equipment?

When controls are warranted, they have been designed to allow for a profit, providing controls are started at the right time, applied on the correct interval, applied in the correct manner, the correct insecticide used, and stopped at the right time.

It is not my duty to tell a producer WHAT to do, but assist the producer in determining the situation in his field so that he can arrive at a decision as to what he wishes to do.

My services are available to all who wish assistance with their problem, so remember, I have nothing to sell, but will provide you with what information I have, this being completely tested and recommended in the state guides of Texas.

Dates of the 4-H camp at Roaring Springs are July 27 and 28. This year Motley and Dickens counties will be joined by the 4-H members from Knox county for the 11th annual summer camp.

Letters will be mailed about July 1st, listing items to bring, charges, and activities available. These include swimming, water safety, entomology, and wild life.

The night program will consist of a rodeo, folk games and a Vesper service. Members are urged to notify me by July 17th if they plan to attend so that sufficient food can be purchased. Mr. Goen from Spur will bring his chuck wagon to help prepare food.

I have received my orders for my Army Camp, and will be at Ft. Belvoir, Va. from June 28 to July 4. From there I will go to Ft. Gordon, Ga. staying July 5 to 18.

IN APPRECIATION

MRS. ROGER WALKER LEVERTON JR.

Duke University Chapel is Scene Of Reeves-Leverton Nuptial Rites

The recent marriage of Miss Elizabeth James Reeves and Mr. Roger Walker Leverton Jr., is announced here by Dr. and Mrs. Robert James Reeves of Durham, N. C., parents of the bride. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Walker Leverton of Greenbelt, Maryland.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white silk peau and Chantilly lace, fashioned with lace bodice, scooped neckline and long sleeves extending to points over the wrist. The bouffant skirt featured a lace panel down the front. The detachable chapel train was accented at back waistline with a French bow. Her bouffant veil of bridal illusion was attached to a crown of seed pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of white butterfly roses and stephanotis.

Following a reception given by the bride's parents at the Blair House in Durham, the couple left for a wedding trip to Canada by way of Niagara Falls. For travel the bride wore an Italian silk costume of sapphire blue with white accessories.

The couple will make their home in Meadville, Penn., where Mrs. Leverton will be employed as a nurse and her husband will be employed with Talon, Inc. He is an engineer II assigned to the Management Training Program.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. W. E. Reeves of Matador, and the niece of other local residents Miss Verlin Reeves and Judge and Mrs. Elbert Reeves.

Her father, Dr. Robert Reeves was born and reared in Matador. He is the president of the Durham County Medical Society and head of the Radiology Department at Duke Hospital.

Harp Family Looks To The Future And More Missionaries On Field

Not all has been difficult and trying. We have had many happy experiences. We have thoroughly enjoyed the tremendously scenic beauty of Samoa. I hope we never take the scenic loveliness for granted.

Also, we have made some friendships among some palangi (white people) and missionary families, and have enjoyed meals in some of their homes.

About a month ago Jackie caught a cute little pig in the bush and named him "Mania" which means beautiful or handsome, or as the Samoans say, "too nice."

About three weeks ago I was invited to go fishing in a small boat. We went out about seven miles and I caught a 45 lb. tuna. Fresh tuna is "delicious!" I was really proud of my catch until the next day the owner of the boat caught an 85 lb. tuna. Some of the fishermen have caught tuna that weighed around 200 lbs.

The people here have many feasts, and a few weeks ago we were invited to a funeral feast. Such an abundance of food!

There were four of us who were preachers and we were all given gifts. I received a very fine gift of tapa cloth, which we now have hanging on the wall of our apartment.

Mail Is Appreciated

Also we have received such wonderful mail. Frankly, we have been unable to answer all of our letters, but hope this newsletter will remedy this situation. We receive mail only once a week so we really look forward to the day that mail arrives.

Things also seemed to "look up" considerably after we received our car and household things.

Since there are no recreational facilities here, we can at least go for a ride or go visit someone. Our car will be a great asset to our work.

Since we have been here we have not been upset at the world news at all. The news that we finally get isn't really late news. For example, five days after the death of General MacArthur I noticed some flags in town flying at half-mast. I asked a Samoan, "Why?" He replied, "MacArthur, he die." "The Half Has Not Been Told" As mentioned, we could write a book (and almost have) but as far as our life and work here is concerned, "the half has not been told."

From time to time we plan to send you a newsletter. Until we get a duplicating machine, these letters may not come too often. A missionary friend from another church is letting us use his machine, also temporarily his post office box. This family and others have been very kind and helpful.

Jerry Smith and family are still making plans to join us in the work here. It may be as late as September before they can come.

Also, we are looking forward to the day that some of the Samoan young men who are members of the church and have been attending some of our Christian colleges will be able to come back to Samoa to live and to help us in the Lord's work. Some of these young men are planning to return this summer.

Please continue to pray for us, that we will be in good health, that we will be strong spiritually, and that we will be very successful in our mission work. We thank God for all and mention you often in our prayers.

COUNTY AGENT PALLMEYER SAYS:

TEST NEW PRODUCTS
Each year new products are on the market as research continues its effort to discover items that will be beneficial to man. Many of these items are good and meet the claim of the producer; others produce side effects that may be desirable or undesirable; and a few just won't get the job done.

Some products look good under certain conditions, but fail under other conditions. The only way a product can be recommended for general use is through a long testing program under the types of conditions that may be expected to occur, and this is the reason that Extension Service publications may seem to be behind the times.

It takes time to complete testing, which in many cases saves the buyer money and trouble. For the buyer who wishes to try a new material that testing is not complete, why not try it on a limited scale and see how it works?

NEW HERBICIDES

Several herbicides for pre-emergence use in cotton are on the market this year — some for the first time. Whether one or all will work on your farm under your particular conditions is a question with no stock answer.

Four of the herbicides listed by Texas A & M this season are recommended on a TRIAL USE BASIS. These are Treflan, Prometryne, Herban and Dacthal. Until more is known about the performance of these chemicals under local conditions, it's best to use them only on a small acreage, being sure to follow label instructions exactly.

Those interested in trying these new chemicals should restrict their use to a few rows. New herbicides are coming on the market each year and they will continue to play an important role in decreasing the cost of cotton production. However, until research has proven conclusively that one or all of these chemicals has a definite place on local farms under local conditions, use on a limited trial basis only.

CIPA and diuron are recommended for use on Texas farms, having been used by research workers and farmers for several years. When applied correctly and according to label, these two have given good results on many farms.

Before a chemical can be recommended in Texas, it is tested by research workers to see what it can do and can't, with work being done for more than one year. If it weren't for this type of research, a chemical might work one year, and fail in others because of adverse weather conditions.

What Must She Know About Auto Insurance?

Very little, actually.

When it comes to insurance protection, it's not how much she knows, but how much she has.

And that's where we come in. As an independent agency, we provide up-to-date protection to fit her family's need.

We tailor the right coverages... in just the right amounts and at the best possible rates.

She knows we're taking care of it... and it's taking care of her.

Come to think of it, that's about all she needs to know.
