Former Resident Describes Ordeal Of Gang Captivity

NOTE: David Seigler is the son of Pat and Ann Seigler, former residents of Matador. This article was taken from the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal

Former Matador resident, David Seigler, one of 13 hostages wounded last Thursday during the storming of a Sacra-mento, Calif., electronics store, said he

At least six people - including three members of the Asian youth gang that took the hostages, - were killed when the police swarmed into The Good Guys electronics store and rescued the hostages at 11:51 p.m. CST last Thurday.

David Seigler, 27, suffered a single gunshot wound to the leg during the incident. David is the son of Pat Seigler, owner of Seigler Funeral Home in Matador and Padurent. David had been shot.
David Seigler criticized police for failing to ease the tense situation.
"It's the one thing all the hostages complained about," David Seigler said from his home Friday night. "The police should be done a better job trainer to do. should've done a better job trying to de-fuse the situation.

"The situation went from being somewhat optimistic to really bad," he said.

"All I saw was the gunman's reaction to the telephone. They (the police) were heating up the situation. It almost seemed deliberate."

Changing negotiators could have contributed to the situation, he said.

"I was told the FBI's negotiator was not allowed to participate," he said. "The Sacramento Police Department officers are saying they did their best. They may be well-trained, but they could have done bester."

The hostages were bound with speaker wire and telephone cords, Seigler said.

He was tied to three other hostages, including co-worker Chris Sohne, 28, who was shot and killed as he sat tied to his friend.

When the store came under siege, Seigler was with a customer shortly before 3:30 p.m.

"There was very quiet panic and a little hysteria when they took over the store," he said. "One of two guys were in back and the others stood by the front door. Everyone had pistols except one guy who carried an assault rifle." The hostages remained calm throughout the ordeal, Seigler said.

"The tension inside the building very tight at the end," he said. "The police stormed in at the right time. The gunman had already shot two people in their legs.

"The SWAT team rushed in from the back of the store when the shooting started," he said. "A SWAT team mem-ber fired from the...front of the store. He missed the gunman, who then started firing at us. "I was conscious during the shooting," he said. "We hit the deck and hugged the

THERE'S NO EXCUSE FOR NOT EXERCISING

People give many reasons for not starting an exercise program. Yet, according to Cyndi Rohrer, director of The Centre for Cardiac Rehabilitation and Fitness at Methodist Hospital, exercise is an impor-tant part of a weight-loss program be-cause it increases your aerobic capacity and your metabolic rate, which helps to speed up your weight loss.

Following is some of the most common excuses for not exercising. If you can identify with them, take heed to the reasons why there's no excuse for not

Dear Editor:

The officers of the organization have always had the courtesy, respect and consideration to meet with school offi-cials and together a date would be chosen for Homecoming that was agreeable with the organization and the school.

Any person who knows anything at all about this area knows that the majority of adouting accase the people who have gone to college after graduating from our local school have gone to Texas Tech, and many of these graduates have gone to A&M. A date for homecoming has never been chosen on the same day as Tech and A&M play football in Lubbock. That date has been a no-no!

But not this year! The school authorities in all their wisdom took it upon themselves, to choose the date, without even having the courtesy to consult with the officers of the Ex-student organization. They announced Homecoming would be October 4. The very day that Tech and A&M play football at Lubbock. You can believe that there are many disgruntled and unhappy ex-students! The present students at Motley County High School are not yet members of the exstudent organization. We hope they will be members after they graduate. neither are any of the teachers members, except those teachers who went to the schools in Motley County. All those students and teachers now in the school system, are certainly welcome to attend the activities and enjoy them, but let the Ex-Student Organization take care of their own business.

Reduce dry cleaning costs by having "dry clean only" garments cleaned, but not pressed. Store wool garments in moth repellant (balls, flakes, or crystals), but avoid putting moth repellent in baby or children's cotton clothing.

Tailored and professional clothing should be stored on padded hangers protected in cloth garment bag. Avoid storing garments in plastic whenever possible. According to Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. (PCG) a "meeting of the minds" occurred Thursday, April 4, at PCG;s 1991 Boll Weevil Technical Advisory Meeting. Producers, researchers and industry leaders from across the cotton belt discussed results of the 1990 Boll Weevil Diapause Program, new Boll Weevil Diapause Program, new technologies and prospects for the eradication of the boll weevil from Texas.

Following a short opening address Jarrell Edwards, Chairman of the Boll Weevil Steering Committee (BWSC), turned the program over to the first speaker of the day, Dr. Jim Brazzel, Director of the USDA's Methods Development Center in Mission.

Brazzel's presentation outlined the two boll weevil eradication programs currently operating in the United States. He then described the logical progression that eradication programs would need to take to eliminate the boll weevil from the entire cotton belt.

A series of speakers collectively discussed the different phases of PCG;s 1990 Diapause program. Topics ranged from USDA participation in program as "technology and teamwork coming together to make it one of the smoothest running ever". Focus then shifted from the previous year to the influence research will have on current and future programs.

A highlight of the morning was Dr.
Don Rummel's presentation on the importance of delayed uniform planting as an effective cultural practice in boll weevil control. Rummel is Professor and Research Scientista the Texas Agricultural Search Scientist at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station (TAES) in Lubbock. One of the key points Rummel stressed was that development of a Boll Weevil Emergence Model enables the selection of a uniform planting date to be based on sound scientific data.

Further discussing the computer emergence model Rummel indicated that while it was not yet ready for widespread use the model did a very good job of predicting the 50 and 95 percent emergence levels of the weevil last year. He good that with the first tuning now in gente levels of the weever last year. He noted that with the fine tuning now in progress the models predictions should be come even more precise. The computer model is being developed by a team which includes individuals from Texas A&M University (TAMU), the Texas Agricultural Extension Service (TAEX) and TAES in Lubbock and Vernon.

A proposal for the development of a Geographic Information System for the High Plains program was presented by Dr. Ted Wilson, Professor of Entomol-ogy at TAMU. He described the system which is designed to use past records and current data to locate areas of potential weevil infestation. Wilson was enthusiastic that developing such a system for the High Plains will be easier than for other areas because of vast amount of data that PCG has accumulated over the data that PCG has accumulated over the past 27 years of their program.

The final topic discussed in the morning meeting was the proposed Texas Boll Weevil Eradication Plan.

Dr. Ray Frisbie, Professor of Entomology at TAMU and Integrated Pest Management Coordinator for Texas, outlined the multi-phase eradication plan for Texas prepared by himself and Dr. Jim Brazzel at the request of the Texas Cotton Producers Association (TCP).

Frisbie emphasized that the plan is not yet complete. He explained how cotton Frisbie then turned the program over of the enabling legislation being considered by the Texas Legislature at this time, He said that under this legislation implementation of the plan could not begin until 1994 at the earliest.

Rolling Plains PCA Holds 57th Annual Meeting

Lance Morris of Crosbyton was re-elected to a three-year term as Director of the Board in the Stockholders Annual Meeting held in Childress on Thursday, April 4 and Stamford on Friday, April 5. Other board members are Garon B. Tidwell of Munday, Dan Henard, Jr. of Wellington, Dean Turner of Matador and Lloyd M. Blackwellof Stamford.

Commemorative belt buckles were presented by Stamford Office Manager Gary Decker to the following 50-year members present: A.B. McLennan of Stamford, John Michels of Knox City

Stamtord, John Michels of Khox City and Ben Loe of Spur.

Director Turner gave the Board Report to the gathering. With a capital-to-total assets ration of 27.00%, Rolling Plains PCA is one of the strongest capitalized of all Farm Credit institutions in the Texas District A 1990 net profit of the Texas District. A 1990 net profit of $45,342 after federal income taxes of $347,340 enabled the Association to further strengthen its financial base.

The Association was in the last year of a four-year requirement to pay federal income taxes on the recapture of its allowance for loan losses into income. This IRS tax law mandated a tax on the allowance account of each PCA in the nation causing the Association to be in a 92% tax bracket for book income purposes. Large claims in the credit life insurance program in 1989 and 1990 also reduced the net profit figure. Rolling Plains PCA had1990 net loan recoveries of $12,090 compared to net loan losses of $148,409 in 1989. On December 31, 1990 the surplus and allowance for loan losses accounts contained $8,447.828 and $1,958,023 respectively. These account balances are now some 221% greater than they were eleven years ago at close of business December 31, 1979.

Based on capital, asset quality, management, earnings and liquidity, Rolling Plains PCA has been designated a Tier I decision to be reversed.

The following information about the approval rate at the various decision levels may be interesting:

* Of every 100 initial claims, 37 are approved. Of the 63 that are denied, 30 are asked to be reconsidered.

* Five of the 30 reconsidered claims are approved. Of the 25 that are denied, 18 are asked to be heard before an adminstrative law judge. #### FUN FISHING FOR EVERYONE

After seeing the great response to the 1990 Fun Tournaments held at Lake Meredith, I am pleased to announce that the 1991 FUN TOURNAMENT schedule has expanded to include both Lake Meredith and Lake White River.

Anglers of all ages appreciate fair and honest fishing tournaments that offer an excellent payback, a very reasonable entry fee, and a three hour evening contest that a working angler can attend. A polygraph test is given at each Fun Tournament just to insured fair competition.

THE FIRST FUN TOURNAMENT AT WHITE RIVER WILL BE

Fun Tournaments at LAKE WHITE RIVER east of Lubbock will take place on the 2nd Thursday evening of each month at the marina.

THE FIRST FUN TOURNAMENT AT LAKE MEREDITH WILL BE

APRIL 18th,

In 1991, Fun Tournaments at LAKE MEREDITH are scheduled for the 1st and 3rd Thursday evenings at Cedar Canyon near the marina.

Registration for all contests will start at 3:00 p.m. Fishing begins at 6:00 p.m. until 9:00 p.m. The 1991 schedule waited until the start of daylight savings time in order to have more evening sunlight.

Don't be misled by the cheap entry fee of only $20. Judging from last year's experience, over 100 fishermen will attend these short fun tournaments. Based on 100 entries take a look at the payback.

First Place wins $750 Second Place - $350 Third place - $200 Fourth place - $100

5th - 9th place - prizes 10th place - $100 Luck of the Draw - $50 (Everyone Eligible)

The more entries the more the payback increases. Example - 150 anglers would increase 1st place payback (750 x 150) -$1,125.00

Anglers at Meredith can enter Bass, Walleye or both categories with an entry fee of $20 per category. White River will have only the bass category. Smallmouth and largemouth both fall in the bass category. All fun tournaments are Smallmouth and largemouth both fall in the bass category. All fun tournaments are the best three legal fish.

Fun Tournaments are designed to be FUN. Anglers may use live bait, troll or even fish from the bank. The angler who finishes down in tenth place will win $100, and every fisherman with or without fish is eligible for the $50.00. Luck-of-Draw that is the final event at each weigh-in ceremony. As an old cliche says, "It doesn't get much better than that."

I will serve as 1991 Tournament Director and look forward to seeing YOU at the lake. So bring your favorite fishing partner or introduce a family member to some fun fishing at our 1991 FUN TOURNAMENTS.

Children and Choices

A man once told Samuel Coleridge, "I don't intend to teach my children any religion, but let them choose for themselves. When they are old enough, they can make their own choice." As they continued walking in Coleridge's garden Mr. Coleridge stopped and said, "I be lieve you have a fine idea. I had intende to plant strawberries here, but I'll wait until August and see if they want to grow in my garden." And to this Mr. Coleridge replied, "And so will the weed ave grown unbidden in the hearts of your children." Our children's spiritual well-being hould be top priority with us. The Bible says, "Train up a child in the way he should has said that half the world's problems come from acting by feeling, when w ought to be thinking; and the other half from acting from thinking when we ought to be eeling. We can learn the distinction between them and teach our children. Right thinkng comes from right standards and values. If the values are wrong, the thinking will be ng and therefore, the decision will be wrong.

Right decisions come from right thinking, and right thinking comes from right values, and right values comes right training. The Bible says that right training comes from godly parents who understand that, "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom; And the knowledge of the Holy One is understanding."
