DON'T DROWN HOUSE PLANTS

COLLEGE STATION, (Special)—Do your house plants die? You may not be watering them right. This is especially true during the winter months when plant growth is very slow because of the low light intensities, says Everett Janne, Extension landscape horticulturist.

We frequently get impatient and apply additional water and fertilizer hoping to make the plant grow large and healthy. Actually during winter periods the plant is producing very little food and can not grow rapidly.

Overwatering is the worst offense during periods of slow growth, emphasizes the Texas A&M University horticulturist.

Plant roots must have air as well as water. If the soil stays saturated with water, little or no oxygen can reach the roots. This results in loss of the small feeder roots and eventually death of the plant.

Never water plants by rule of thumb such as every other day or twice a week, Janne cautions. Once the soil is thoroughly moist, water them only when they need it.

In watering houseplants supply sufficient water so that it runs through the potting soil into the saucer below. Always discard the excess water that drains through the pot into the saucer to prevent the accumulation of soluble salts in the potting soil.

Plants in a cold room need less water than those in a warm dry atmosphere. Flowering plants and those with much foliage require more water than those without blooms or with very little foliage, he adds.

Kansas educator Theodore Shackelford has been appointed to VA's Vocational Rehabilitation & Education Advisory Committee.

During the past fiscal year, 461, 719 vets, a 28 per cent increase, were counseled on VA benefits at Veterans Assistance Centers.

A new law increases monthly payments 8 to 12 per cent (retroactive to July 1) for most vets with service-connected disabilities.

MATADOR HOPES FOR DISTRICT

by Debra Garrison

The Matador basketball teams have their goals set for District Championship this year with Glendell Smith coaching. They traveled to Roaring Springs Friday the 8th, and increased both their standings in the District playoffs.

The girls increased their lead in the District standings to a 4-0 record which tied them with Jayton for first place. Debbie Smallwood led the "A" team in an outstanding first half with 19 points and 7 rebounds. The score at half time was Matador 43 and Roaring Springs 15. The B team then took over and played the entire second half. Helping retain the lead were Glenda Stockton with 6 points and 3 rebounds and Cinda Simpson with 5 points and 3 rebounds. The guards did their share with Lou Ann Woodruff and Thania Smallwood each grabbing 4 rebounds. The final score was Matador 57, Roaring Springs 43.

The boys now stand in fourth place in District. They beat Roaring Springs 71 to 54 with all of the boys taking part in the action. Bill Barnhill led in rebounds and scoring with 20 points and 17 rebounds. Dwayne Campbell came next in line with 17 points while David Lee got the possession of 11 more rebounds. The team made 70 per cent of their free shots and showed an outstanding effort.

Seniors Hear County Agent

by Debbie Smallwood

Bill Pallmeyer talked to the senior class, Wednesday, Jan. 13, about the importance of education. He presented many facts and figures concerning total salary earnings, up to the retirement age of 65, compared to the number of years of education completed. The hike in salary earnings increased with each additional year of schooling.

Scholarships, loans, campus jobs, and grants were also discussed by Mr. Pallmeyer, in helping kids through school. A statement made by Mr. Pallmeyer was that anybody can go to college today, even if he needs financial help, but not everybody should try a four year college. A trade school is better for some, he said.

At the end of his program, forms were filled out regarding students' future plans as to college preference and field of study while attending college.

Mavericks Grab Paducah Tourney

January 7, 8, and 9, will be days the members of the girls and boys 'A' Maverick basketball squads will remember with enthusiasm. For on these dates the two teams brought two first place trophies back to Matador Junior High, from the Paducah Tournament.

The girls' team won the coveted trophy by defeating Crowell 'B', Paducah 'A', and Crowell 'A', while the boys' team won four games to bring home their trophy. The boys defeated Childress 'B', Wellington, Childress 'A', and Paducah.

Both the A and B teams from several schools (including Matador) were entered. Their next home game will be Thursday (tonight) with Roaring Springs. Game time is 7:00.

FIRST GRADE
The first graders have a new student, Jerry McNeary from Oklahoma. The high school Homemaking IV class visited the first graders, January 13, and observed the students during their studies.

SECOND GRADE
The second grade welcomes two new students, James and Mary Ann McNeary.

THIRD GRADE
The two best citizens for the second nine weeks were Pam Francis and James Stephens. To achieve this honor the students must keep a high average in citizenship, and at the end of the nine weeks the class votes on one boy and one girl.

FOURTH GRADE
The fourth grade students' interests have been centered around rocks, minerals and Japan the past two weeks. The study of Japan, with the use of films, has created an interest in Japanese art and poetry. In art class the pupils have tried their hand at Origami, which is Japanese paper folding, which they have enjoyed very much. They also made Japanese lanterns, on which they wrote Haikus and Cinquains, both unrhymed Japanese poetry. Their Haikus and Cinquains were written in Linguistic classes. A Japanese exhibit of articles made in Japan was held in the classroom on Friday, January 15, from articles the children brought from home.

"The Nature of the Earth," has been a very interesting unit in science for the fourth graders, especially since they have started studying rocks and minerals. About ten students brought rock collections from several states and countries. They have fun classifying, and testing the rocks. David Moore and Audie Cross brought materials for the class to make a chemical garden from coal, which the class is enjoying watching grow.

Senior Girls Take Army Test

Sergeant First Class Rainey from the Army Recruiting Main Base in Amarillo came to High School January 5, and gave tests to the Senior Class. The girls were really baffled when they were asked to label certain parts of an automobile motor, but they later found out the tests covered such areas as Electronics, Math Word usage as well as automobile mechanics. The tests were to determine what field each student would be best suited for after graduation. The students were relieved to have the tests take all morning on their first day back after the holidays.

March of Dimes Research Seeks Answers In Birth Defects Prevention

March of Dimes grantees today are probing causes, cures and control of birth defects at major medical centers and teaching hospitals across the nation. Answers will not come rapidly enough for a time to spare some quarter of a million American infants born annually with congenital diseases. But, after centuries of neglect and indifference, the crucial news is that life-giving studies are taking place which abound with meaning for future generations.

Let me take you on a brief, cross-country sampling of these important probings:

At the University of California, San Diego, Dr. William L. Nyhan and his colleagues are exploring the diagnosis before birth of hereditary diseases. New techniques in amniocentesis and cell culture enable doctors to discover an increasing number of cytogenetic and inborn, metabolic errors. Consequently, parents can learn fairly early in pregnancy whether the fetus has been affected by certain inherited conditions.

Finding Links

Dr. Nyhan and his co-workers have established a genetic counseling center and genetic disease clinic which serves the San Diego area as well as cases referred to them from all over the country. Our grant will help these specialists combine their skills and resources to form a leading center for research.

Further up the West Coast, at the San Francisco Medical Center of the University of California, Dr. Charles J. Epstein is examining the link between chromosome damage and mental retardation and physical defects. Down's syndrome and many other congenital conditions are associated with various chromosome abnormalities, but it is not known just how they interact. Dr. Epstein's search for the basic chemical differences between normal and chromosomally abnormal cells is extremely important. If he can pinpoint the nature of abnormal metabolism in the defective cells, his findings may reveal how chromosome errors lead to birth defects that affect one in every 200 newborns.

Successful Transplant

The critical problem of high risk babies born to diabetic mothers is under joint study by two eminent specialists.

Dr. Wynetka Ann Reynolds of the University of Illinois College of Medicine and Dr. Ronald A. Chez of Magee-Women's Hospital in Pittsburgh, are scrutinizing the hazards of diabetic pregnancy, using monkeys as models. Infants born to diabetic mothers are prone to an extremely high mortality rate and an incidence of birth defects that is three times higher than in infants born to mothers in normal health. Also they tend to be excessively large and often die from hyaline membrane disease soon after birth.

Right in America's heartland, the first successful bone marrow transplant was conducted by March of Dimes grantee, Dr. Robert A. Good, of the University of Minnesota. He and his colleagues made medical history by transplanting bone marrow from a girl to her brother, who suffered from a congenital immunological deficiency that had proved fatal to 11 members of his family. With this impressive feat behind them, Dr. Good and his group now have undertaken other research projects related to birth defects of the immunity system and bodily defenses.

Hiway Department Lowers Work Week

AUSTIN (Special) - The Texas Highway Commission has reduced the normal work week of hourly-paid maintenance employees of the Texas Highway Department from 45 to 40 hours a week.

The change is effective March 1. The action was taken to bring the work week of hourly-paid maintenance employees into line with those of salaried employees of the Department who have been on a regular 40-hour work week for several years.

The Commission has had under study for a considerable time a proposal to place all employees on a uniform work week without a reduction in gross pay. The action today implements this proposal.

Dial 'O' For Help

Do you have a pre-schooler at home? The Texas Safety Association urges parents to teach little ones how to dial the operator in case of an emergency.

While children can't be expected to remember phone numbers, they can be taught to "dial zero, tell the lady what is wrong, and she will help you."

Be sure they know their home address. Telephone operators, trained to handle emergencies, may save your child's life.
