

New Reduced U.S. Budget Being Drawn

By FRANK O'BRIEN
WASHINGTON (AP)—A new federal budget for the current fiscal year, with spending figures marked down below the levels approved by Congress, was reported in the making today.

It was learned Budget Director Joseph Dodge plans to get the new spending estimate out late this month. He has already ordered stringent money-conserving measures to go into effect immediately.

Ruml Declares Budget Reform Could Cut Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Beardsley Ruml says the government could repeal most federal excise taxes and lower other taxes if it scaled down its estimated revenue requirements to what he considers actually necessary.

The author of the pay-as-you-go income tax plan made his suggestion to the House Ways and Means Committee yesterday as it neared the end of hearings on general revision of the tax laws.

Ruml told the committee that the present system of budget-figuring overstates federal revenue requirements by 12 billion dollars a year because of:

- 1. Lack of efficiency and economy, which he said is costing two billion dollars a year.
- 2. "Improper" inclusion of two billion dollars of capital items—such as government loans, stockpiling payments, and surplus purchases—as government expense when, he said, they actually are "revenue-producing assets."
- 3. Four billion dollars worth of investments which he said could be organized on a self-financing basis under "authorities" similar to state agencies which operate toll highways or port facilities.
- 4. Four billion dollars which he contended could be saved by abolishing the present so-called federal budget in favor of a consolidated cash budget.

Ruml said such procedural changes, with a reduction in estimated tax requirements amounting to 12 billion dollars, would more than offset the loss of three or four billion dollars realized annually by excise taxes now collected on a wide variety of things, including hand bags and railroad tickets.

"With budget reform it is apparent that other taxes can also be reduced," he added.

Hammarskjold Is Hoping To Get Red Meet Ideas

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold hopes to fine-tune today what Russian's views are on the forthcoming Korean political conference.

Hammarskjold already has conferred with Western big power delegates, but no one has had so much as a hint what the Soviets will do during the General Assembly, which opens Monday.

The secretary general planned to go over the whole question with Soviet Delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky, who arrived here Tuesday from Moscow. He hoped to persuade Vishinsky to avoid bringing up any issues which might complicate the Korean discussions.

The United States and its 15 U. N. allies in the Korean War met for more than four hours last night in an attempt to hammer out a plan they could sponsor jointly. At the end of the meeting, however, they said they got no further than a preliminary exchange of views.

10 More Liberated POWs To Be Flown To United States

TOKYO (AP)—The Army today announced that 10 more liberated American prisoners of war will leave for the United States by plane at midnight (10 a. m. EST) from Tokyo's Haneda Airport.

and has told government departments to plan budget slashes for next year at least as deep as this year's.

These steps were disclosed yesterday when a secret Dodge letter to all government departments and agency heads came to light. It was dated July 9, more than a month before President Eisenhower publicly called for all government executives to "take every possible step" to cut spending immediately.

Dodge not only ordered economizing up and down the line but directed government executives to look for programs and projects the government could drop. He directed heads of federal lending agencies to reduce lending and swell Treasury coffers where they can by selling government-held mortgages to private business. He told service agencies to charge higher fees so as to put their offices on a self-supporting basis.

He called for reduced government payrolls. Additionally, he demanded intensified efforts to get the government out of business-type programs.

Dodge's letter went out to all agency heads three weeks before the administration made a fruitless appeal to Congress to raise the federal debt limit from 275 to 290 billion dollars. It was issued a week after the 1953 fiscal year closed on July 30 with a record peacetime deficit of $3,380,000,000, some 3 1/2 billions bigger than had been anticipated.

The Dodge letter said, in part: "Every possible reduction will have to be made. No saving can be considered too small, and no soundly conceived individual reduction too large or too difficult to be attempted. Reductions will have to be at least equal to and may have to be greater than those already made."

De Gasperi Ally Expected To Make Next Cabinet Try

ROME (AP)—Italy turned today to Giuseppe Pella, a trusted financial expert in five cabinets, for help in her deepening government crisis, longtime ally of former Premier Alcide De Gasperi, was called by President Luigi Einaudi for consultations.

Einaudi was expected to ask Pella to form a "business government"—a cabinet to push through a budget on which the politically confused nation can operate until a more permanent solution is found.

Italy was thrown into a new muddle yesterday when Christian Democrat Attilio Piccioni told the President he could not form a cabinet.

The June election lowered the strength of de Gasperi's Center coalition, building up the Communists and Red Socialists of the left and the Monarchists and Fascists of the right.

State Bar Officials Meet To Decide Judge Case Stand

AUSTIN (AP)—State bar officials met today to decide about the removal proceedings against District Judge Woodrow Laughlin of South Texas.

Chairman Vernon Hill of Mission said the meeting would probably be closed.

President Everett Looney called the meeting Aug. 5 and withdrew that day as a counsel for the Alice judge.

Powerful Carpenters Union Leaves AFL

By NORMAN WALKER
CHICAGO (AP)—Dickering between the AFL and CIO for a merger already has produced a major casualty. The powerful Carpenters Union has pulled out of the AFL in protest.

The 822,000-member carpenters group, a pillar of the AFL and one of its founding unions, suddenly severed connections with the federation yesterday.

Action by other AFL leaders in okaying an agreement with the CIO to ban "raids" of rival union membership was given as the reason but Carpenters' President Maurice A. Hutcheson conceded: "It's the climax of something that's been going on for a long time in the AFL."

Hutcheson wrote in a letter to AFL President George Meany revealing his union's secession that he objected to the AFL agreeing to ban fights between AFL and CIO unions when, he said the AFL hadn't taken steps to stop scraps among its own unions.

Hutcheson's letter complained that AFL leaders "are more concerned with the affairs of the CIO than they are with those of the federation."

Meany fired back that Hutcheson's reasons for quitting "didn't seem to make sense." He said the "no raiding" agreement with the CIO was a necessary first step toward achieving an actual AFL-CIO merger—something Meany said almost everyone agreed would benefit all labor.

In San Francisco, John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, said the carpenters' action "exemplifies the fallacy of this expedient and twofold policy of the AFL Executive Council in avoiding the basic question of unity."

Lewis refused to say whether he will ask the carpenters to join in his reported move to form a new labor federation of miners, AFL teamsters and CIO steelworkers.

Meany hinted broadly to newsmen that he considered the carpenters primarily at the root of many jurisdictional troubles within the AFL.

Still Additional Strikes Called In French Fight

PARIS (AP)—New walkouts were called today in the newspapers and national defense establishments as the huge strike wave involving four million workers swelled in France.

No end to labor's great upheaval was in sight as the unions battled Premier Joseph Laniel's economy program.

There were no negotiations between the unions and the government, which was trying to cope with the situation by putting police, soldiers and even convicts to work cleaning streets and helping sort mail.

There was one bright development for thousands of annoyed tourists—customs agents quit their jobs in ever increasing numbers at ports, air fields and border points, so that baggage was going in and out unimpeded.

Most luggage going out belonged to fleeing tourists.

The French News Agency said it expected to be hit by a strike tomorrow.

Unions ordered pressmen and journalists to strike so that there would be no newspapers Monday.

The Socialist Workers' Force Labor Federation ordered workmen in arsenals and other military branches to strike tomorrow for 24 hours. Building trade unions were discussing the calling of a walkout.

A few trains were running and some mail was being distributed, but most railway, postal, telephone and telegraphic services were paralyzed.

The strikes had spread from nationalized services like the railways, airlines, mines and post office to private branches of commerce and industry. Behind the strike wave now was labor's bid for a large scale rise in all wages and salaries.

The French Army manned 500 trucks to replace the strike-bound Paris subway and bus system and to service the suburbs. The Army might have to go on doing so, for the city transport unions were a meeting to decide if they would continue their walkout tomorrow.

Senate Group Sets Relief Probe In Fall

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate group will visit Southwest drought areas in October to see how the government's emergency relief program was handled and what results were obtained.

A Senate agriculture subcommittee, headed by Sen. Schoepel (D-Kan.) also will determine if there is need for permanent legislation to handle such disaster conditions.

Congress recently appropriated 150 million dollars for drought relief. The program includes low-interest loans and the sale of government-owned grains at reduced rates.

Last Of Chinese POWs Returned

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Army Stevens said today 250 Chinese Communist prisoners charged with crimes in U. S. prison compounds in Korea may be held back until the last POW exchange.

PANMUJOM (AP)—The Allies sent back today the last Chinese Communist prisoner who wants to go home despite a United States threat to withhold some Red captives.

The transfer was made even as the Peiping Radio was saying it had the right to hold back Allied prisoners charged with various crimes and jailed even after the armistice was signed. Returning prisoners have said the prisoners were jailed on trumped-up charges.

The United States in retaliation had asserted it would withhold some Red prisoners charged with various crimes until Communist intentions were known. Presumably, those to be withheld would be among the 50,000 North Korean Reds still to be exchanged.

It is believed Red China runs the show in Korea and is more concerned with getting back its own men than North Koreans.

Another 400 prisoners came back from Communist prison camps on this truce village today.

Prisoners freed today in the ninth day of the great POW exchange were 75 Americans, 75 British and 250 South Koreans.

Most of the repatriates appeared healthy as they bounced from the Red trucks.

This was the first large group from Camp 1 at Chongsong. Almost all POWs returned previously were from Camp 5 at P'yokong on the Yalu River.

However, the stories of turncoats, informers and cruelty in Camp 1 struck a note heard before from the Camp 5 veterans.

Meanwhile, Red China's harsh warning backed stories from returning prisoners that buddies had been left behind, sentenced to jail for terms up to three years by the Reds on such charges as "instigating against peace."

U. S. Secretary of State Dulles warned the Communists Tuesday that the U. N. Command would not return Red captives convicted of crimes "until we know the attitude of the Communists toward ours."

He said the UNC wanted all POWs returned.

Peiping radio said the Geneva Convention provides that prisoners facing "criminal proceedings for an indictable offense . . . may be held back."

Neighborhood Feud Brings Girl's Death

LUFKIN (AP)—A neighborhood feud brought about the death by gunshot yesterday of a Negro girl and the wounding of her baby sister.

Connie Starr, 10, daughter of Eli Starr, was slain. Carolyn, 8 months old, was wounded. Charged with murder was Valline Miller.

Sheriff Leon Jones said the neighborhood feud had been going on several weeks.

Former Truman Board Abolished In His Order

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower created today a new government committee to help prevent any hiring and firing discrimination on jobs covered by federal contracts.

Eisenhower abolished a similar committee which former President Truman set up Dec. 5, 1951.

The President signed an executive order at his vacation headquarters establishing a 14-member government contract committee.

The committee, to be named soon, will be made up of representatives of these agencies:

The Atomic Energy Commission, the Commerce, Labor and Defense and Justice Departments and the General Services Administration.

The other eight members will represent the public generally and will be named by Eisenhower, Secretary James Hagerty said some Negroes will be in the group representing the public.

The President said it is the policy of the government "to promote equal employment opportunity for all qualified persons employed or seeking employment on government contracts because such persons are entitled to fair and equitable treatment in all aspects of employment on work paid for from public funds."

Eisenhower said the contracting agencies of the government, as well as those doing business with the government, are obligated to insure compliance with "the equal employment program of the government."

The President noted that existing executive orders require federal contracting agencies to include in their contracts a provision obligating the contractor not to discriminate against any employee or applicant for jobs because of race, creed, color or national origin.

Prime contractors are required to include a similar provision in all sub-contracts. The President said a review and analysis of existing practices of government contracting agencies show that the practices and procedures relating to compliance with the non-discrimination provisions must be revised and strengthened to eliminate discrimination in all aspects of employment.

The President's order places primary responsibility for preventing discrimination with the head of each government-contracting agency.

The new committee will: Recommend to the contracting agencies "for improving and making more effective the non-discrimination provisions of government contracts"; Receive complaints of alleged violations of the non-discrimination provisions; Encourage "the furtherance of an educational program by employer, labor, civic, educational, religious and other voluntary non-governmental groups in order to eliminate or reduce the basic cause and costs of discrimination in employment."

Two Firms Lease Roberts Ranch

Forest Oil Corp. and Cities Service Oil Co. have jointly acquired a five-year oil and gas lease on the Dora Roberts Ranch of over 19,000 acres in southwest Midland county. Official information on consideration for the lease was not released, but unofficial sources reported that a cash bonus of approximately $5-million was paid. There was no confirmation on this figure from either Forest or Cities Service.

The ranch is about 10 miles long, north and south, and three miles wide, east and west, extending along the west line of Midland county, a part of it extends over into Ector County.

Big Spring Among Cities With Gain In Retail Sales

Big Spring is one of seven West Texas cities showing a gain in retail sales during the first half of 1953, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Comparative percentages for the Jan.-June period of this year and the corresponding period of 1952 reveal an increase here of eight per cent, the Bureau reported.

Most reporting cities throughout Texas showed gains in retail sales, although a few had declines and some were approximately the same as in 1952.

The figures include reported sales of merchandise from all types of businesses.

President Looks Happy Both Catching And Cooking Trout

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH DENVER (AP)—It's hard to tell, watching President Eisenhower, whether he gets a bigger kick out of catching trout or cooking them over an open fire on the bank of the creek.

But one thing is certain! He sure looked happy doing both yesterday. And he displayed as much skill at the frying pan as he did with the casting rod.

Those trout, only an hour of the stream, were delicious! The President drove about 50 miles southwest of Denver, his vacation headquarters, to the ranch of an old friend, Bal F. Swan, about 7,000 feet high in the Colorado Rockies.

Within 30 minutes after he arrived, Eisenhower had pulled on his waders, a brown jacket, clapped a Western-style blue hat on his head and was fishing the north fork of the South Platte River.

He landed his first trout, a rainbow, in about eight minutes and his luck continued good for the first hour. He and Aksel Nielsen, Denver businessman and also a long-time friend, caught more than a dozen between them—rainbows, brooks and browns—in short order.

Then they took time out for lunch. The President borrowed a couple of pounds of bacon, a pound of butter, salt and pepper, some corn meal and two skillet from the wife of a ranch hand, and then he went to work.

Three reporters representing the press associations looked on with mouths watering. They stopped watering a few minutes later when the President invited them to "come and get it."

Eisenhower cooked for the party before sitting down on an overturned bushel basket to lunch himself. After lunch, Eisenhower and Nielsen waded back into the creek and fished until late in the afternoon.

After a watermelon snack, the party set out for Denver, arriving shortly after 7 p. m. Eisenhower planned to spend today in Denver. He arranged to confer at his Lowry Air Force Base office with former Sen. Harry Darby, the Republican national committeeman from Kansas.

He also planned to sign more of the bills which Congress passed just before adjourning.

Troubles Mount For Phone Firms

By The Associated Press Troubles mounted Thursday for telephone companies in Texas. Southwestern Bell met in Dallas with union officials to talk over air conditioning for Texas workers.

General Telephone Co. of the Southwest considered a union protest after it announced new pension benefits for its 2,500 employees in five states.

In Fort Worth, the city council hinted strongly it may take action to reduce rates charged now by Southwestern Bell if the company pays Fort Worth workers less than in Dallas.

The council recently granted Bell a 19 per cent increase which brought rates in Fort Worth up to the Dallas level.

The Dallas conference follows three "heat strikes" earlier in the week at Waco, San Antonio and Austin. Operators and other employees asserted their working quarters were "unbearable." The workers want air conditioning swiftly.

Talks were on in St. Louis over a new contract for the CIO Communication Workers of America, employed by Southwestern Bell. Wages, retirement and working conditions are being discussed.

The Eyes Have It

Julia Adams, soon to be seen with Glenn Ford in Universal-International's "The Man From The Alamo," stresses the importance of eyebrow make-up for beauty.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Starlet Stresses The Care Of Her Eyebrows

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD—Julia Adams is one of the busiest girls at Universal-International, having played opposite such stars as Glenn Ford, Tyrone Power and Rock Hudson. And the studio is planning big things for this girl from Little Rock.

"You've completely lost your Southern accent," I remarked as we lunched in the studio restaurant yesterday.

"Thank you," Julia said. "I worked hard. I couldn't see where I talked any different from anyone else. It took one year and a half before there were no traces left. There was a horrible period when I had to listen to every sound. In order to pay for coaching lessons I worked as a part time secretary."

"When did you begin to want to be an actress?"

"As long as I can remember I said, 'when I grew up that I was going to Hollywood.' No one in my family had been in show business. When it was time to choose a college I went to Long Beach because it was here on the west coast."

"How did you get started in show business?"

"TV was my first job," Julia confessed. "That led to a western but I had to learn to ride in a hurry to get the part."

"Now you are a leading lady with a major studio contract," I commented. "How have you made your dream come true?"

"There are various ways to succeed," Julia said thoughtfully, "but to me I think being able to stand up in the face of disappointment is most important. There are many people loaded with talent who don't last because they lack the stamina to believe in their dream when it seems so far away."

"You have to make up your mind not to be defeated," she added.

I wanted to know what was the most important glamour lesson Hollywood had taught Julia.

"The most interesting change they made in me was my eyebrows. They had no shape and were much too thin. I had plucked almost all of them out. And when I let them grow in so that they were even with the corner of my eye it made a frame for my eyes that helped my whole face. I found out that eyebrows are much more significant than one realizes. And learning to use an eyebrow pencil skillfully, so that you can fill in without looking artificial, takes practice.

"A badly penciled eyebrow, one that is too heavy and too straight, can make you look very hard," Julia concluded. "And, on the other hand, a natural blond with no eyebrows at all takes away an accent from the face where it is vitally needed."

REPORT TO PARENTS

Homemaker Services Are Instituted By Agencies

By DR. MARTHA M. ELIOT
 Tommy had always been an active baby. At 18 months, he was an even more active toddler. Indoors he climbed incessantly, from the sofa to the radio, from the chair to the table, from the bed to the chest of drawers. Then he would try to dive from the highest spot.

Outdoors, he insisted on walking at a brisk pace without holding anyone's hand, and climbing any flight of steps he saw.

It required a rugged constitution and steady nerves to keep up with him. Mrs. M., his mother, had never.

She was expecting another baby in four months, and had to spend most of her time in bed because of a heart condition. A high school girl helped with Tommy in the afternoons. But there still was the problem of the housework, meals and marketing, and the care the mother herself needed.

Then Mrs. M.'s doctor suggested that they call upon the homemaker service of the Essex County, New Jersey, Service for the Chronically Ill.

For the next three months, Mrs. A., an energetic woman of about 30, with four grown children of her own, ran the little household in her hours there each week day, she got all the household chores done, gave Mrs. M. her lunch, prepared dinner so that Mrs. M. had only to put a few finishing touches to it when he came home.

and became great friends with Tommy.

She received special instructions from the doctor, and submitted a weekly report to the office of the Homemaker Service.

During this time, the family was able to make other plans for the long-term care Mrs. M. would require. Her mother gave up her home in a distant city and came to live with the family.

Because of Mrs. A.'s services, the family was spared the heart-break of separation. While Mrs. M. needed rest, she, her husband, and Tommy also needed each other.

When a mother of young children is severely ill—whether at home or at the hospital—many a family faces a crisis. Often there is a very real danger that the household may go to pieces. Without someone to care for the children and manage the home, some families have to break up for a time. A competent homemaker can make it possible to keep the family intact.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Here are some of the reasons I've heard from the fans on why the Big Spring Bronco baseball club folded recently:

"The drought hurt. No one had any money."

"The prices were too high. If they had brought it down to compete with other forms of entertainment, they'd have made money."

"The ball park was in the wrong part of town. Build a better one and make people think they're going somewhere when they do go."

"The weather was too bad in the spring, and the fellows just got off on the wrong foot."

"The management discriminated against groups like hospital cases when they wouldn't let them in for nothing."

"When ever the team got a good player, he was sold or traded. I wouldn't go out to see a bunch of cheapie play baseball."

"The team couldn't win at home."

"The managers acted indifferently. How could they expect the fans to really get behind the team?"

"The lights were bad."

"The games were too long."

"The home stands were too long."

"The players were hard to get to know."

"The benches were too hard."

"The management made too many people mad."

"The team had too many left handed hitters for a park that was built for right handed hitters. For that reason, it lost too many home games and a team that can't win at home is a dead pigeon."

"If you got there late, you had to walk too far to get to the park."

"They promised us the best ball club ever, and never began to live up to it."

"The umpires should have speeded up the games more."

"No body ever tried to teach our boys anything. Class D and C is where you've got to learn the game."

"The players were interested only in pay day. They ran around too much after the game."

"The team needed a Potato Pascual or a Willy Quintana on it. There was no color on the club."

"Stazy made monkeys out of the team every time he came to town."

"The home runs was too cheaply earned here. There should have put a screen up in left field."

"The people quit talking baseball down town. That's a sure sign of the club folding."

"The loss of Lamesa by the League hurt more than anything. A seven-team league just won't go. Lamesa was a natural rival, too."

"Some of the players were being paid more than many of the fans who went to see them. It was too expensive an operation."

"They didn't have any Ladies Nights."

"They didn't have any pitcher that could depend on. Fans usually turn out on the nights they can count on a win."

"The club was in last place but some of the players strutted around as if they were with Brooklyn or the New York Yanks."

"Baseball games should be seven innings, not nine."

"Take your pick. Everyone seems to have his own idea why the team didn't survive. If you don't like any listed here, perhaps you can think of a better one."

WINS HAMBLETONIAN

Vermont Farm Boy Toast Of Field

GOSHEN, N. Y. (AP)—A 29-year-old Vermont farm boy, who seven years ago literally begged for a job, today was the toast of light harness horse racing after driving a finely tuned filly to victory in the richest of all Hambletonian Stakes.

Harry Harvey brought the Canadian-owned Helicopter home first in the second and third heats of the $117,117.96 Buggy Whip Derby yesterday at Good Time Park to become the youngest driver ever to win the classic.

And in winning the third and deciding heat, Harvey beat 71-year-old Tom Berry, the man who finally tired of discouraging the youngster and gave him a job. Five years with the old master and Harvey switched to a job as fourth string driver with trainer-driver Del Miller.

"Del gave me a fine filly and I was lucky," said the modest New England horseman after winning the second mile in 2:02 4-5 and the third in 2:02 3-4.

Helicopter, daughter of Hoot Mon, 1947 Hambletonian winner and ninth filly to win the classic, was purchased as two-year-old for $7,500 by the Canadian road-builder.

Yankees Claim City Little League Title

White On Hill For Nationals

Billy White pitched and batted the Yankees to a 15-5 victory over the Oilers in the third and deciding game of the City Little League baseball championships here last night.

The regular catcher for the National League club, White went to the hill and responded with a performance that ranked with the best seen in the small-fry circuit this season.

In addition, he stroked five hits, including a mighty home run over the left-center wall in the fourth inning.

Bernard McMahan also blasted a fourth-inning home run for the Yanks. The drive came with two runners aboard and gave the Yanks a 16-1 lead at the time.

Gerald Anderson started on the mound for the Oilers but was hit freely.

The Yanks had won the first game of the series, 22-3, but the Oilers had come back to even it up by winning, 6-0, behind the expert hurling of Preston Daniels.

D. R. Gartman is manager of the Yanks, who now reign as City champions for the second straight year. Red Harrison bosses the Oilers.

The Yanks are now eligible to play the Sweetwater tilts in the feature game of that double header Saturday night at Stier Park. The other half of the twin bill will feature the American Legion teams of the two communities.

The Saturday night program in being planned by the local American Legion post.

The regular catcher for the National League club, White went to the hill and responded with a performance that ranked with the best seen in the small-fry circuit this season.

Dallas Gains On Shreveport

Dallas moved into San Antonio Wednesday night, home of the last-place Texas League club, and defeated the Mission 7-4.

The win came at a good time for the Eagles, after they had lost two out of three at Houston. Second-place Shreveport was blanked 5-0 by Tulsa's Howie Judson and the third-place Fort Worth Cats fell 12-6 to Houston. Dallas gained ground all around and now leads Shreveport by three games. Barring a chronic slump, Dallas appears ready to wrap up the buntling.

Beaumont blasted Oklahoma City 1-7 for its third straight victory.

Home Run Records Taking Beating In Big Leagues

The major leagues are two thirds of the way through a fence-busting campaign that threatens to endanger a flock of modern home run records.

At least five already have been equalled or broken. The National League is well on the road to a new all-time total mark. Eddie Mathews of Milwaukee is keeping close to Babe Ruth's 1927 pace—the year the Babe cleared his never equalled 60.

One mark was tied and one surpassed last night.

At St. Louis, Ray Boone hit a bases-loaded homer in the ninth inning of the Dodgers game, providing a margin as Detroit beat the Browns 7-3. It was his fourth grand slam drive of the season, tying a major league record shared by nine other players including Ruth in his Boston Red Sox days of 1919, Lou Gehrig and Ralph Kiner.

At Washington, Yogi Berra homered in the first inning of the New York Yankees' 22-1 landslide against the Senators for the Yankees' 100th homer of the season—

The Yankees won the City Little League championship but Preston Daniels of the Oilers proved the leading hitter in the three-game playoffs, according to averages prepared by Statistician Kenneth Bryden.

Daniels, tripping star of the second game of the series, collected five hits in seven trips to the plate for a .714 average.

Angelo Defeats Artesia, 4-3

By The Associated Press

San Angelo topped Artesia 4-3 Wednesday night and strengthened its position at the head of the Longhorn League. Second-place Carlsbad dropped 3 1/2 games back, losing to Midland 10-3.

Guerra, winning his 13th game, bested Len Ruyle. Ruyle allowed seven hits but had three errors committed behind him and he made a fourth.

Turner Is Willing To Wait For Match With Gavilan

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Gil Turner, a sensational one-punch knockout winner over Ramon Fuentes, is willing to bide his time, waiting for another title shot at Walter Champ Kid Gavilan.

Turner probably will wait to take his place in line, anyhow, for it is reported that Gavilan will defend next against Carmen Basilio at Syracuse Sept. 18. No official announcement has yet been made.

"We're willing to wait six months, even a year, if necessary," said George Katz, Turner's manager, last night at Madison Square Garden after Gil's KO win in 4:48 of the fifth round.

"The cut over his left eye will keep him out for about a month," he said. "And I hear Johnny Bratton has been promised the title shot. The kid is learning how to pace himself, getting a little more power in his punches. He's just a kid and he's getting better all the time."

The Philadelphia Negro said he followed his battle plan for the knockout, waiting for "just one shot."

"I never knocked anybody out with one punch in my life," he said. "Funny thing, it was easy. Just like I worked it in the gym."

Turner flattered the Los Angeles lad with a long right hand to the "button" just when he seemed to be hard pressed in the fifth round. Two officials had Gil out front but Judge Arthur Suskind saw it even 2-3 going to the fifth. Referee Ruby Goldstein had 3 for Turner and 1 even and Judge Frank Forbes saw Turner on top 3-1.

A small crowd, estimated at 2,500 with $7,000 receipts by the International Boxing Club, saw Fuentes better Turner as they fought head to head until the sudden ending. It was the second time the 27-year-old Fuentes had been stopped in 24 pro fights. Turner kept banging away to the body until he got his opening.

Turner, stopped by Gavilan last year in 11 rounds in a title bout, added to his prestige by knocking out Fuentes, who went 10 with the Cuban Keed as recently as July 15.

Turner probably will wait to take his place in line, anyhow, for it is reported that Gavilan will defend next against Carmen Basilio at Syracuse Sept. 18. No official announcement has yet been made.

off Brooklyn's lead—now seven games—by winning a double-header from St. Louis 6-2 and 5-3. Rob-in Roberts became the first pitcher of the season to win 20 games as Philadelphia beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 8-4.

In their last dozen games Washington pitchers had yielded only 18 runs. The Yankees smashed this mark to bits with a 26-hit barrage, highest in either league this season. New York ran the score to 22-0 before Washington pushed across its lone run in the eighth inning off young Steve Kraly.

The White Sox put on one of their patented late-inning rallies to pull ahead at Cleveland in the eighth. But the Indians staged a rally of their own, getting four runs in the bottom of the eighth to win.

Three singles and a long fly produced two runs for Boston in the top of the 10th at Philadelphia and then the Red Sox threw in three pitchers as the A's narrowed the gap with a single tally in the 10th.

After an easy first-game triumph the Braves had to stage an eighth-inning spurt in the nightcap to put down the Cardinals. Jim Pendleton doubled home the deciding run.

Roberts, felled in his first attempt to win 20 at Chicago last Saturday, took matters in his own hands last night and drove across three runs.

Macon's Blast May Cause Suspension

DALLAS (AP)—Unless manager Max Macon of the Fort Worth Cats proves charges of unfairness and grudge-holding against umpire Frenchy Arceaneux or apologizes for his statements, Texas League President J. Alvin Gardner will suspend him indefinitely today.

The Fort Worth skipper made the charges along with the general allegation of incompetency as a result of being thumbed out of a game at San Antonio Tuesday night. Six Fort Worth players went out with him because of a run-in with the umpire.

Gardner said the charges were "reckless" and reflected on the honesty of the umpire, that it was the second time this season for the laxy Fort Worth manager to claim Arceaneux had it in for him and that "I can not let the incident go unchallenged."

The league president fined Macon $50 for cursing Arceaneux and said that if he didn't either prove his charges or apologize for them within 24 hours he would be suspended indefinitely.

Mays Will Help, Says Durocher

By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK (AP)—Fortified by a new two-year contract, Manager Leo Durocher said today he was prepared to trade any of his star players if it meant improving the club for 1954.

The fiery little skipper, dismayed by the midsummer collapse of the Giants that, to all intents and purposes, eliminated them from pennant contention, cautioned that he was not planning anything drastic but...

"There is not a man on this club who is indispensable," he said. "There is nobody I wouldn't trade if I thought that by doing so it would help us achieve our aim."

"Right now I have one goal in sight—a pennant in 1954. There are some good players on this team. Undoubtedly they'll be around next year. But you can bet there are several who won't be here. Naturally, I'm not going to mention names, but those fellows know whom I have in mind. It will be up to them during the remainder of the season to show me why they should be kept."

Durocher stubbornly refused to concede to Brooklyn, insisting that "anything can happen," but he knows this season has been a total loss. He will be aiming at rebuilding for next year.

"Naturally, we think we're going to do better next year," he said. "First and most important, Willie Mays will be back. His return not only will strengthen us materially, but undoubtedly will give the rest of the club a tremendous lift. When Willie left for the service in May of 1952, it seems he took a part of the team with him. You've got to know Willie and the effect he had on the rest of us to realize how much he means to the morale of a club."

The Giants' biggest problem, Durocher admitted, will be pitching. The steady succession of injuries and ailments of such key moundmen as Sal Maglie, Larry Jansen and Jim Hearn has all but ruined what was once the most skillful pitching staff in the National League.

"There are some guys I've got to find out definitely about," he said, "with special emphasis on the pitchers I've got to know whether they guys will be able to help us next year. Maybe some of them have outlived their usefulness at the Polo Grounds. Maybe they can't help us anymore. Maybe they won't fit into our plan. I intend to know about them one way or another before the season is over."

President Horace Stoneham, who absolved Durocher from all blame over the team's sad plight, said he would back Leo to the hilt.

"We will not be satisfied with anything less than a pennant in 1954," he said. "We think we have the nucleus of a championship club right now. We got off to a wretched start and we've just never been able to get out of the rut. I am quite satisfied with the way Leo has handled the team. The fact that I gave him a two-year contract ought to show the confidence I have in him."

Giants players to a man lauded Stoneham's decision to renew Durocher's contract.

Yank And Aussie Netters Heading For A Showdown

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—The United States and Australia headed for another tennis showdown today with four players from each country in the quarter-final round of the Newport Invitation Tournament.

Last week in the Eastern Championships, the Aussies came out far on top by monopolizing the finals, although the Americans had five in the quarter-finals to three for the visitors.

The top match today will send American ace Vic Seixas of Philadelphia against Mervyn Rose, the No. 3 man of the Australian delegation. Seixas will be out to redeem himself for being eliminated by Rex Hartwig last week.

The second quarter-final is an all-American affair with young Tony Trabert of Cincinnati taking on Straight Clark of Pasadena, Calif.

The other two quarter-final tests matching Australia's Lewis Hoad against Hamilton Richardson of Boston Rouge, La., and Hartwig of Australia against Aussie ace Ken Rosewall will be held tomorrow.

Trabert and Seixas each won straight-set triumphs yesterday.

Seixas toppled Sid Swartz of Brooklyn 6-4, 6-4 and Trabert out-slugged Jacques Grigry of Alhambra, Calif., 6-3, 8-6.

Rose had his troubles with Hal Barrows of Charlottesville, Va., before coming out on top 3-6, 7-5, 6-4, while Clark upset Danish Champion Kurt Nielsen 7-5, 6-3.

Rosewall polished off Grant Golden of Wilmette, Ill., 6-4, 6-6 Head defeated Bernard Barman of San Antonio, Tex., 11-9, 5-1; Richardson eliminated Ian Ayr of Australia 4-6, 6-2, 7-5, and Hartwig sidetracked Noel Brown of Los Angeles 6-4, 6-4.

A Bible Thought For Today -

But some ancient ones remembered the temple that had been destroyed, they wept because the new one was so modest. It is the spirit that prevails that makes any place of worship great. "Many shouted aloud for joy." — Ezra 3:12.

We Reach 160 Million But There's Still Plenty Of Room Remaining

At exactly 2.07 seconds after 9 a.m., CST, Monday, the United States of America acquired its 160,000,000th citizen. This fact was established when at that moment the Census Bureau's automatic census calculator turned up that magic figure. The fact that it was done with mirrors, wheels, and electronic devices is a matter of small concern—nobody is going to count noses just to check up on the accuracy of the machine. has been 5.9 per cent. more than equivalent to the population of Texas, which now stands around 8,000,000. The first count of noses in 1790 showed a population of 3,929,214. Virginia was the big boy then, with 747,610 to New York's 340,120 and Pennsylvania's 434,373. Due to the slipshod and necessarily sketchy system then prevailing, there is reason to believe the first census count was pretty inaccurate. The census of 1800 showed 5,308,483.

Perhaps We Didn't Win Conflict, But Russia Was The Loser In It

It may be argued with considerable justification that we did not win the war in Korea. There is equal justification for the contention that Russia lost it. There are two salient facts supporting the latter conclusion. For one thing, we accomplished the initial aim of stopping Russian aggression and throwing the invaders back from South Korean boundaries. For another, Russia was obliged to compromise her own economy in munitioning North Koreans and emerged militarily no stronger and possibly weaker.

already heavily weighted in favor of military production, but a Russian expert on the staff of Newsweek tells us the Kremlin did not dip into its own long range military production to munition the Korean war. Instead, it developed additional warplants at the expense of consumer goods output, which meant even harder living for her own people. This added to the already low living standard in the Soviet Union, and conceivably contributed to public resentment there.

Little Provision Is Made In America For Art And Culture

The Rockefeller Foundation has announced that it has voted a grant of $200,000 to the New York City Center of Music and Drama. This is a valuable cultural aid, supporting an institution that needs to be preserved because it gives to young Americans an opportunity to develop themselves in the arts of expression. Unlike nearly all European countries, the United States provides few opportunities for young artists in all the arts to go through a period of apprenticeship under great masters. It is for this reason that so many talented young people are forced to go to Europe for their training.

noteworthy institution because it gives young Americans a chance. It is a feeder for the Metropolitan Opera as minor league baseball teams are feeders for the major league teams. It is at this place that such new operas as Menotti's are tried out, just as at Tanglewood, Copland, Bernstein, Foss and other young Americans can have their compositions played by such a fine orchestra as the Boston Symphony.

Tough Era Recorded

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—When Shanghai Pierce was building his Texas cattle empire, only the brave—and rascally—cattleman could survive. Shanghai was the bravest of them all, probably the most profane, the richest, the most colorful, the loudest, possibly the biggest. And he may have been more of a rascal than all the rest. It was the last half of the last century.

Children's Decision

SAN DIEGO (AP)—Who should speak at the third graders' assembly? Should the kindergarten children roller skate in the concrete area outside the classrooms? How should the boys and girls behave while riding on the school bus?

From every standpoint, it would be preferable if our universities, museums, orchestras, schools and other voluntary institutions were continued to be supported by donations from the people as they always have been in American life. Yet, it does come to mind that when billions of dollars, provided by the American taxpayer, are being used to support cultural activities in Europe and Asia, why are our own institutions being permitted to wither on the vine? We finance UNESCO, Point Four, International Students Exchange libraries and all sorts of activities in the foreign cultural field.

It would be an error to jump to conclusions on this subject without all the data being carefully studied. It may be found that the foundations meet all the criticisms levelled at them; it may be that they are assuming that as they control the money, they are entitled to follow their own judgment. Yet, the fact is that the foundations are relieved of taxes on the single assumption that their expenditures will be in the public interest. Whatever the outcome, the Reece Committee intends to produce the facts, to analyze them and to make recommendations to Congress for legislation on the subject.

Eisenhower Has Big Money Worries To Ponder On His Colorado Vacation

WASHINGTON (AP)— President Eisenhower's Colorado vacation will be far from carefree. Besides everything else, he will have big money worries. They will continue through 1953 and most of 1954 too.

estimated at as much as eight billion dollars. At the same time Eisenhower and congressional leaders have promised tax revisions, next year.

Eisenhower's most immediate problem is the national debt. It is now 27 1/2 billion dollars. This is what the government owes as a result of borrowing over many years. Biggest part of the debt is due to World War II expenses.

Some changes which have been talked about in the Capitol, although far from assured, include: a tax benefit for working wives who pay for the care of their children at home; liberalized deductions for expenses and medical costs; lower taxes on corporation dividends.

But in 1946 Congress set the limit on the national debt at 27 1/2 billion dollars. All but about half a billion is subject to that limit. In other words, the government, which now owes 27 1/2 billions, can't borrow more than an additional three billion without bumping into the legal ceiling.

Yet, next year is an election year for Congress, usually reluctant at such times to raise taxes. His problem: How can the government lose billions in revenue and still balance the budget unless, perhaps, it cuts deeply into defense and foreign aid spending?

People Have Little Knowledge Of Thermo-Nuclear Research

WASHINGTON— One of the things that sets a Democratic government apart from a totalitarian government is freedom to know. It is on the basis of knowledge that it is possible for a free people to make their own decisions about their future.

WASHINGTON— One of the things that sets a Democratic government apart from a totalitarian government is freedom to know. It is on the basis of knowledge that it is possible for a free people to make their own decisions about their future.

What Malenkov said may have been merely scare propaganda, although it would be extremely dangerous to go on that assumption. After the Russians boasted about having an ordinary atomic bomb, they detonated one and the fact of the detonation was verified by the efficient long range detection system the United States had set up.

More fragments of information come to light from time to time. It is reported on good authority that all the instruments set at various distances from the center of the explosion to record its force were destroyed. Most of them were vaporized. So what happened is in terms of speculation rather than scientific measurement.

From official sources in this country in the past three and a half years have come only a few veiled hints that the Atomic Energy Commission was continuing experiments on thermo-nuclear research.

Therefore it is hard to see what the Russians would gain if the American people were told at least the elementary truths about the developments of the past three years. As was disclosed in this space, important elements in the Government are urging President Eisenhower to do just that.

Fish Make Nests Of Bubbles

The continent of Asia has small fish which make nests out of bubbles! I am thinking of the paradise fish, also of the fighting fish of Thailand.

microscopes to goggle at Beta (making a nest) . . . The male fighting fish weighs hardly more than an ounce, but he watches over hundreds of tiny fish which hatch from the eggs. He keeps the young fry from swimming away until they are old enough to take care of themselves. Sometimes he picks up a little one in his mouth, and carries it back to the nest of bubbles.

The scientific name of the paradise fish is Macropodus, and the fighting fish is called the Beta. In both of these families, the males do most of the work of building and guarding the nests. After strings of eggs are placed in the midst of the bubbles, the male takes a position as guard. If a few of the bubbles are broken, he makes new ones.

In Thailand the Beta fish are raised with the special purpose of having the males take part in fights. Those who watch the contests lay wagers on the outcome. The fins are the chief parts attacked during a fight; each fish tries to bite off the fins of his rival.

Modern Kitchen Being Featured Here By Runyan

Housewives interested in modern kitchens that are designed to meet changing storage needs should visit Runyan Plumbing Company, 505 East 6th.

For this firm is Big Spring's agent for the American-Standard Kitchens.

Either R. C. Runyan or Edith Trappell, co-owners, will demonstrate the ins-and-outs of the kitchen upon request. And they will also discuss easy-payment terms.

"The American-Standard kitchen is the only one with shelf and drawer arrangements that you can change at any time," Runyan said. "It is designed as a work-saving kitchen."

Runyan points out that practically any combination of drawers and sliding shelves can be arranged with the kitchen. "Combinations can be changed to meet your needs he said.

Featured with the kitchen are the smooth, long wearing plastic counters and the baked enamel finish on all-steel cabinets. Doors are sound deadened and snug fitting. And the American-Standard sink is made of rigid cast iron with a thick coating of acid-resisting enamel.

Booklets of kitchen ideas are also available at Runyans, and estimates on installation are free.

Runyan explained that undersink and base cabinets can be changed in a few minutes from shelves to drawers or to a combination of both.

Barbecue From Ross Is Good Any Time

Barbecue is good any time, and especially good these hot days when all a person has to do to get it is drive out to the pit turning out the best barbecue in Texas and either he served there with all the trimmings, or to buy barbecue to take home.

This pit is the one at Ross' Barbecue, 904 East Third Street. Ross barbecue is prepared the old-fashioned way. It's really barbecued, not just cooked and then touched up with a commercial barbecue sauce such as is done by so many of Ross' imitators. For the take-home customer there are slices of the wonderful beef or barbecue sandwiches quickly prepared while you wait.

Ross makes his own barbecue sauce from an old recipe that is envied by barbecue stands everywhere. At Ross' at 904 East Third (Highway 80) the meat is actually barbecued from the time it starts cooking. It's real old-fashioned barbecue prepared with the know-how gained from more than 25 years of barbecuing. This stand is a favorite with many Big Spring families and with tourists and even more frequent travelers through here who have learned of this delicious barbecue at some distant point from other travelers who have enjoyed it.

"You can't have good barbecue without you start with good beef," says Ross, and this is why he buys only the finer cuts. Having built the reputation for the best barbecue in West Texas he seeks to maintain that reputation. "You can't make good barbecue from cheap meat," he repeats.

These choice cuts are not boiled, or otherwise pre-cooked before going to the barbecue pit where they are prepared for hours over slow wood fires to give patrons the full flavor of the meat with just the right amount of the barbecue touch.

Ross' lunches, particularly the barbecue plate, are also extremely popular. The service there is prompt, efficient and friendly. The Ross family has operated a barbecue business in Big Spring since the early 1920s and pride in the reputation gained through the years is reflected in every slice of barbecue served there now.

Reds Begin Jamming Of Radio Waves

BERLIN (AP)—The Russians have started a vast new radio jamming campaign further to isolate East Germany's 18 million people from the West. The Reds hope this will lessen chances of more anti-Communist rebellions like the June 17 revolt.

The new Communist measures were disclosed today by East Germans who slipped through the Communist police blockade to get to free American food parcels in West Berlin.

The blockade runners still came in by the hundreds from all sections of the Russia zone, despite a tight ban on rail travel and strong police cordons thrown around the city.

But Communist terror severely slashed the influx of hungry. On Sunday only 49,796 parcels were distributed, 39,877 going to people from the Russian occupation zone and the remainder to relievers from Soviet East Berlin. This was only half as many as Saturday and less than one-fifth of the record 250,000 parcels handed out July 31 before the Communists imposed their travel ban.

Nixon Arrives Late For Golf Date As He Loses His Way

SPRING LAKE, N. J. (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon was 40 minutes late for a golf date yesterday because he lost his way.

Soon after he left nearby Mantoloking, where he is spending weekends this month, he found himself headed for Philadelphia instead of the Spring Lake Golf Country Club.

He stopped at two filling stations for directions. Neither time was he recognized. In fact, one of the attendants told him to "wait until I get through with this other customer, sir."

Nixon finally reached the club and carded a 99 for the 18 holes. He took up golf only last February.

Two English kings never were crowned: Edward V who ruled in 1483 and Edward VII who abdicated before his coronation and became the Duke of Windsor.

His Policies Continued

The principles under which the late Jack Adair established and built the Adair Music Company at 1708 Gregg are being maintained in the operation of the business, Mrs. Opal Adair is carrying on as head of the business her husband directed.

Adair's Policies To Be Continued At Music Store

The policies of the late Jack Adair, who founded the Adair Music Company here, will be continued in the operation of the business here.

Mrs. Opal Adair, who has assumed charge of the business which was directed here more than half a dozen years by her husband, is no newcomer to the concern. For most of the time the store has operated here, she was active in it. During periods when Mr. Adair's health forced his confinement, Mrs. Adair managed the firm.

Consequently, she possesses a sound background in the merchandising of pianos and other musical instruments and supplies.

"Whatever promises or pledges which were made by Mr. Adair will find his company standing firmly behind them," said Mrs. Adair. "The policies of fair dealing, of selling only the highest quality such as exemplified in the famous Baldwin line, of understanding and giving pride will continue to be characteristics of the business."

"He was proud that over the years the Adair Music Company had helped many schools, churches and other institutions secure pianos of excellence. He was proud, too, that parents and other couples who insisted on Baldwin-made pianos for their homes always remained fast friends of the company."

Adair Music Company now has on the floor a wide assortment of pianos produced by Baldwin. Now with school about to start, parents and school administrators won't have to worry about future delivery. Adair Music can fill the order promptly and with the same concern for the customer as the founder applied in building up the business.

A New Aid To Home Decorators Offered

Something new and glamorous in paint color cards, a folder that presents a selection of complete color schemes, is offered to home-makers by the Sherwin-Williams Branch Store, in Big Spring.

"Called the Sherwin-Williams Color Scheme Selector, the new folder is actually a condensed and practical color service," said Arthur W. Franklin, branch manager. "It suggests a variety of colors that go well together. This folder enables the homemaker to plan decorative color with confidence."

The Color Scheme Selector shows sixteen groups of compatible colors. Within each group is a dominant color, available in a ready-to-use

Interior wall finish (SUPER KEM-TONE), plus four harmonious accent colors. The result is a total of 256 color harmonies selected by color experts.

"With each of the sixteen ready-to-use colors," the folder points out, "our experts group four from the hundreds of easy intermixtures. The four are in perfect harmony with each other, as well as with the dominant color. This means you can choose any three or four or all five colors from any one group and be sure they go together."

In practice, the homemaker who plans a new color for the walls of a room finds the color chip that approximates the shade of the rug or a major piece of furniture. She then selects one of the four colors grouped with it for use on the walls.

Further decorative guidance is found in illustrations of color styled rooms, each scheme based upon one of the recommended color combinations.

The new folder goes far beyond the conventional color cards," he said. "It not only shows today's popular colors, but takes the confusion out of home decorating."

Name Of Jet Crash Victim Is Released

The aviation cadet killed in Friday's crash of a Webb Air Force Base jet trainer plane 15 miles north of Coahoma has been identified by Webb officers as Michael Trioleaud, 20. Trioleaud was a French student training in the United States under the provisions of the Mutual Defense Assistance Pact.

Trioleaud, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jean Trioleaud, listed his home address as Cos Berdet Livourne (Gironde), France. He had attended the College Technique at Perreux, France, from 1949 to 1951.

A member of Jet Pilot Class 53-E-3, at Webb, he would have received his pilot's wings on Sept. 1.

The cadet's name had been withheld for the customary 48 hours pending notification of his next of kin.

A 14-G Boost From The South

Col. Fred M. Dean, Webb commander, is shown zipping up the vertical track of a new airplane ejection-seat trainer as it began operation this morning. The contraption, which exactly simulates the escape mechanism in a jet airplane, is fired by gunpowder, blasting the rider upward with a force 14 times that of gravity. (Air Force Photo).

Hurricane Is Expected At Carolina Cape

MIAMI — The Atlantic hurricane with winds of about 100 miles an hour is expected to pass over or very close to the North Carolina coast near Cape Hatteras tonight. Grady Norton, storm forecaster, said the center was about 200 miles south of Hatteras at 9 a. m. (CST). The North Carolina coastal area was clouding up and rain began as the tropical storm approached. "It appears the storm will pass over Cape Hatteras or very close by about the middle of the night," said Norton.

"The winds will increase and tides will rise during the afternoon. The dangerous winds apparently will be confined to the section around Cape Lookout to Cape Hatteras, although the whole North Carolina coast will have pretty strong winds."

The storm, the second of the season, formed east of Daytona Beach, Fla., yesterday. At 4 a. m. (CST) the hurricane was centered about 300 miles east of Brunswick, Ga., near latitude 31.3 north, longitude 78.3 west, and was moving in northerly direction at 8 to 10 miles an hour.

Movement in the same direction and at about the same speed was forecast for several hours. Winds of strong to gale force were forecast for the North Carolina coast late today and tonight.

A hurricane hunter plane found the hurricane 325 miles east of Daytona Beach yesterday and it moved steadily north-northwestward. Storm forecaster Grady Norton said the small but savage storm could belt the Carolina coast with damaging winds if the course continued.

Cars In Collision

A traffic mishap in the 700 block of East Third Wednesday afternoon involved cars driven by Bill E. Murdock, Akron, City, and D. G. Gibbs, Gard. Route, according to police. No one was injured.

EARTHQUAKE

for the disaster scene aboard a Greek destroyer.

Defense Minister Panayiotis Cameliopoulos and Welfare Minister Constantin Adomopoulos already were at Kefallinia supervising relief work.

The British rushed the frigates Rangler and the destroyer Darina from the Mediterranean island of Malta and diverted the cruiser Gambia at sea to bring food, medicines, doctors, tents and demountable tools to the disaster area. Three other British warships at Malta harbor were under sailing orders.

Communications and aid facilities were so hard hit that not even the injured evacuated from the islands could be reckoned. The reports from Patras spoke only of "hundreds" there.

For many of the evacuees, the trip was their first look at the outside world. Many of the villagers had never before left the communities their ancestors founded centuries ago.

A newsmen who flew over the devastated islands yesterday reported that "a pall of smoke and death" hung over them.

The air attaché of the American Embassy here also made an air tour of the area and reported the " enormity of the tragedy" to the U. S. State Department in Washington.

Welfare Minister Adomopoulos advised his government he found "unprecedented tragedy and damage."

New Safety Device Now In Use At Webb

A big, new step toward flying safety began at Webb AFB this morning with the first "firing" of an Ejection Seat Trainer.

Designed to simulate the actual ejection mechanism by which a pilot in distress can "blow" himself free of a T37 jet plane, the new trainer will be used to indoctrinate all Webb pilots and cadets who fly the jet plane.

An ejection seat, strictly an emergency device, became necessary with the advent of super speed jet aircraft. In older airplanes during an emergency, the pilot simply climbed over the side of his cockpit and pulled the ripcord of his parachute in order to escape a crash.

In the speedy jet, however, the wind pressure is so strong that a pilot can be swept into the tail structure of the plane when trying to "bail out." So the ejection seat came into being.

With this seat, the pilot uses a 37-millimeter cannon charge to blow himself up to 50 feet above the airplane after "blasting" off the cockpit canopy the same way, before ejection. Webb's new ejection seat trainer, which was first demonstrated this morning by Lt. Col. James A. Wilson, Webb Pilot Training Group Commander, and Col. Fred M. Dean, Base Commander, gives a pilot actual practice in using the mechanism and well as providing the exact feel of a sudden blast.

After becoming thoroughly familiar with the trainer, a pilot who must react in split seconds during actual flight emergency will not have to stop and think just what he must do. He will react subconsciously and instantaneously.

The $3000 invested by Webb in this new trainer is one of the best safety buys in the Air Force," said Capt. Truman Parker, chief of the Physiological Training Unit which operates the device. "Over a period of years, the investment will undoubtedly save pilot's lives—and after all, that is the most important matter we are concerned with."

The present and future "three month" stamps himself a bar.

Popping and popping there is no basis in the tentative agreement for the United States to demand the return of "unwanted POWs" and admit.

On the contrary, this claim is in contravention of the Geneva Convention.

U. S. State Department officials said in Washington "Dixons" statement made clear that regardless of the Geneva Convention, the United States will not accept all prisoners who are not recognized as such by the Geneva Convention.

The Geneva Convention has certain exceptions of POWs, but said the United States will not accept all prisoners who are not recognized as such by the Geneva Convention.

Band Members Are To Meet Tuesday

Band members, both junior and senior high, have been asked to meet with the new director, Clyde Rowe, at the high school next Tuesday.

Rowe said he was anxious to get acquainted with the young musicians and set 10 a. m. as the time he would like to meet the senior high members. At 11 a. m. he would like to meet the junior high members. Parents are invited, too. No instruments will be needed at the first meeting.

Some Areas Get Rainfall From O'Donnell Northward

By The Associated Press

Showers skipped around the Lubbock area northward Thursday. Terry and Hockley counties, west and south of Lubbock, got the driest in the state, got amounts varying up to one inch.

An inch was reported between Meadow and Brownfield in Terry County, although Meadow received none and Brownfield got only a shower.

Showers also fell at Levelland, Whiteface and O'Donnell. Rain started at 6:30 a. m. at Floydada northwest of Lubbock and continued at mid-morning.

Northward, Plainview got one-fourth an inch, and the same amount fell at Happy, Tulia and Lockney. Downtown Amarillo got .70, but only .01 was recorded at the weather bureau gauge at the edge of town.

Over the rest of Texas temperatures started climbing again after a brief rain-cooled respite. Thursday was 83 in at Borger, 77 at Dallas, 62 at Tyler and traces at College Station and Mineral Wells.

At mid-morning skies were clear to partly cloudy. A front which brought the showers had moved out of the state into the Gulf. Morning minimums ranged from 65 at Dalhart to 81 at Galveston.

Wednesday afternoon temperatures had ranged from the 70s in the Panhandle to the 80s in Central Texas and East Texas and on up to the 90s in extreme South Texas.

More 100-degree readings were expected Thursday, but any rain would be almost wholly unexpected, although there was a chance for some widely scattered thunder-showers.

Thundershowers Wednesday dumped nearly two inches of rain on several East, North and Central Texas points. But, even so, the rains were spotty and of little benefit to most localities.

The Department of Agriculture announced in Fort Worth that it had assigned a number of men from its Office of Compliance and Investigation to dig into reports of law violations in connection with the drought relief program.

Texas has requested nearly 2,000 cars of grain and 126,054 tons of cottonseed meal, pellets and rakes through the government's drought relief program. But the Commodity Credit Corporation, which sells its surplus feed stocks at cut-rate prices under the program, said it had no way of knowing how much actually had been delivered. CCC said a shortage of cars had hampered feed deliveries.

Man Charged With Assault By Wife

George R. Anglin, who is now in the City Jail, was charged in Howard County Court today with aggravated assault. Complaint was signed by his wife, Opal Anglin.

He was fined $50 in City Court on charges of disturbance Tuesday.

There are about 70 wild relatives of cultivated tobacco.

Both Best And Worst Examples Exhibited On Martin Farm Tour

Those who joined the annual agricultural tour sponsored by the Martin County Chamber of Commerce Wednesday saw both some of the best irrigated land and some of the best irrigated cotton in West Texas.

"Last year our tour was criticized on the point that we showed only the best," said Martin Vavra of the Soil Conservation Service and co-chairman of the tour with Ray Hensley, county agent. "So this year we want our business people and the farmers and ranchers with us to see some of the worst."

Vavra is chairman of the Chamber's Soil and Water Conservation Committee and Hensley is chairman of the Agriculture and Livestock Committee.

The group departed from the Court House here about 9 a. m. and returned about 3:30 p. m. after traveling about 100 miles and making several stops, one of which included the viewing of sowdiggers, vicks and tractors at Courtney School in Mrs. Mildred Eiland, county home demonstration agent, and Mrs. Ora Mae Simpson, secretary in the County Extension Service in Dalhart. They were assisted by Misses Janelle Jones, Jan Nichols and Sarah Mott of the Stanton 4-H Club.

The first stop was made north-east of Stanton at the ranch of Dr. G. D. McMurray of Midland where the protection of land with a heat stable was observed. Other farms visited included that of Garner McAdams with blocked ends and the cotton crop in the field; the farm of the P. C. Tom Estate, which is operated by Ralph Hopkins, and where 160 acres is under flood irrigation from two wells, the Tom Glenn farm where the visitors saw irrigated cotton, cane and maize.

At the farm of the Tom Brothers in the Tarzan area the visitors waded through an eight-acre irrigated alfalfa patch from which three cuttings have already been made this year, which is now ready for the fourth cutting and from which a fifth is expected later this year. This alfalfa was seeded last September with oats as a nurse crop. The first cutting this past spring produced 302 bales of hay that was about half alfalfa and half oats. The second cutting produced 372 bales, all alfalfa and the third cutting 395 bales. All bales averaged 65 pounds. The Tom plan to seed some additional adjoining land to alfalfa this fall, the visitors were told.

Other farms visited before the lunch stop at the Courtney School were those of Mrs. Inez Woody and John Badgett where irrigated cotton was seen. The Woody farm, operated by Woody Smith has approximately 100 acres of cotton in one block that is flood irrigated while row irrigation is used on the Badgett farm just across the road.

In the afternoon the tour moved to the ranch of the W. R. Houston Estate, managed by Henry Self, where the visitors inspected the 163 head of Herefords grazing about 115 acres of irrigated Sudan and found the cattle in excellent condition. While here they saw Self, without assistance, move the 1,050 foot motorized sprinkler irrigation line forward to a new position in 23 minutes. At this point they also heard J. C. Mott of Stanton, who engineered and installed the line, explain its operation.

Several women also made the tour.

TRIPLETS MEAN CAR FULL FOR CARR FAMILY

When Claude Carr, Midland, goes to Houston next week to move his family to West Texas, he will face a transportation problem of sorts.

Carr, who is associated in this area with Texas Employers Insurance Association, faces a situation arising out of arrival of triplets on July 12. Not until just before the babies were born in Houston did Mrs. Carr know that there were to be three.

The way Carr has it figured, a bed can be made in the back seat for the three and leave space for Mrs. Carr. The other two children, Susanne, 11, and Michael, 8, could ride up front with him.

Joyce Lee, who weighed 4 pounds 1 ounce, at birth, now weighs 5 pounds and 15 ounces; Joyce Marie has gained from her original 5 pounds 3 ounces to 6 pounds, and the boy, John Cleo, has gained from 5 pounds 1 ounce to 6 pounds 3 ounces.

At Houston the Carrs lived at 240 W. 22, within a couple of blocks of the Harold Riley family, which was blessed with triplets several years ago.

If they grow much more, Carr's carefully laid theory of three beds in the back seat may be expanded out of practically. As any extra, Carr said here Thursday that he counted on a car full.

Power Consumption Up Along Cap Rock Cooperative Lines

Power consumption soared sharply along the Cap Rock Electric Cooperative despite a minor decline in connected members.

Miles energized remained practically static, increasing one to reach 1,677. Members dropped off 41 to reach 2,696. This brought the density (members per mile) down two points to reach 1.61.

Average KWH consumption was 855 for July instead of 608 in June. The total KWH purchased was 7,679,970, just a little under a million, or 913,720 to be exact, than for the previous month. The KWH sold stood at 2,254,258, an increase of 589,481 over June's totals.

Average bills stood at $15.25, or an increase of $2.30 for the month. The number of minimum bills, however, was not much different, being 332 or 16 under June.

Assault Charge Due To Be Filed

Charges of aggravated assault were to be filed this afternoon against a Big Spring man accused of causing injury to his wife this morning.

Police Capt. C. C. Aaron said the man apparently twisted the woman's arm, causing her to fall and injure her back. She was taken to Big Spring Hospital and her condition was not believed to be critical at noon. Examination had not been completed, however.

Police have arrested three persons this week on charges of aggravated assault resulting from injuries suffered by their wives.

Harvesting a Better America

Rubbed my eyes yesterday when I saw Hap Jackson's truck in Biff Morgan's alfalfa field... helping Biff get in his cutting.

Since they've been carrying on a friendly argument for years (over how much fertilizer to use per acre of alfalfa), I had to ask Hap what was going on.

"Got my own crop in safely last week," he says. "And since Biff's boy is at the summer campment of the National Guard, I figured the least I could do was to help him out. After all," Hap went on, "there's no argument over how important the National Guard is to all of us."

From where I sit, a fellow like me, who's too old to get in the Guard, can still vote, do a turn at jury duty, and respect others' rights. Even a little thing like respecting a neighbor's right to have, say, beer or buttermilk at dinner is important if we want to keep America strong. We have to be on "guard" in more ways than one these days!

To Renew the Spirit Which Built Our Country

... Faith in Ourselves

Since the beginning long, long ago at Valley Forge and onunker Hill, Americans have had reason to be proud of their country — and themselves.

From the valleys, the mountains, the plains — from all the States of the Union — they have come to stand wherever blood wrote our history!

And not in war only! But in peace and in the good, clean work of the farm and factory, we have given of ourselves that our nation might prosper.

Americans have cause to be proud — to have faith in themselves.

Sometimes these days, it seems, some of us forget the proud company we have joined... forget the brave names on monuments where bronze blackens with weather... forget the great deeds graven in granite.

Haven't we cause to have faith?

Haven't we the duty to have faith in ourselves — and to let the world know it?

Each of us can help revive the spirit which built our country — by placing Faith in God... in Ourselves... in Our Fellow Men... and in Freedom.

Each of us can help revive the spirit which built our country by keeping these Four Great Faiths and by proclaiming them to the world — not always in words, but surely always in deeds.

Write today for a copy of the article, "Our Four Great Faiths" — an excerpt of this advertisement. Mail request to: J. B. Shores, Director, Empire-Public Relations, Texas and Pacific Railway, Dallas, Texas. No charge, of course.
