

Union Vows It'll Never Sign 'No-Strike' Pact

By The Associated Press
A union leader told a mass meeting of striking Southwestern Bell Telephone workers at Dallas Wednesday "We'll stay out until Christmas, if necessary" to beat what he called a "no-strike clause" blocking settlement of the six-state walkout.

The strike by 53,000 CIO Communications Workers entered its seventh day.
At St. Louis, negotiators were deadlocked over a company-proposed clause in a new contract. The company says it was to avoid "quickie" walkouts.

Federal conciliators were trying to get negotiations going again in an effort to settle the one remaining issue.
The one stumbling block concerns what the company calls a "protection of service" clause in a new contract. Union spokesmen say it is a "no-strike" clause and unacceptable.

Frank Loneragan, vice president of the union's District 6, called upon the company at St. Louis to sit down and work out a "properly worded grievance clause and a properly worded arbitration clause."

"This issue could be settled with the people on the job," Loneragan said.

A spokesman for the company took issue with Loneragan that the proposed clause would violate the CWA-CIO constitution.

G. E. Terry, president of the CWA-CIO Dallas local, assailed the clause before the mass meeting as one which would "strip us of all our rights and mean the death of the union."

Several substitute operators at Dallas were reported squibbed with water pistols as they arrived and left work. No serious incidents developed.

Southwestern Bell officials said they want a CWA to forego "quickie" walkouts over such grievances as air conditioning or seniority disputes. They term the clause a "protection of service" item.

Some 53,000 Southwestern Bell employees—around 23,000 in Texas—struck at 6 a. m. Thursday and have picketed Bell exchanges in its six-state area since.

T. E. Webb, Texas CWA director, said his union would "never

City Officials Back Plea For Upped Pay Class

City officials lined up with local telephone workers Tuesday in the latter's efforts to get reclassified for higher pay.

The city commission authorized a telegram to Southwestern Bell Telephone Company officials in St. Louis urging that phone workers here be placed on par with those in Midland, Odessa and Snyder. Telephone company employees in Big Spring are one class lower than workers in the other three cities, consequently draw $4 to $9.50 less per week in pay, said W. A. Fitzgerald, president of the Communications Workers local here.

Fitzgerald asked the city commission to support local workers' appeal that they be placed in Class III Instead of Class IV.

The union officials said classification of workers is based on the cost of living. He told commissioners the local union has submitted evidence to the telephone company showing that living costs here are as high as in Midland, Odessa or Snyder, with the possible exception of housing in Midland.

He said the difference in classification of workers amounted to discrimination against Big Spring telephone employees.

Mayor G. W. Dabney declared his feeling that no such discrimination should exist and on motion of Commissioner Jack Y. Smith the commission authorized the telegram informing the telephone company of that opinion.

The message, sent to Waldo G. Mueller, chief contract negotiator for the company, said that "it appears to the city commission that citizens of this community are being discriminated against in their classification. We think they should be on a par with Midland, Odessa and Snyder."

The question of classification is not an issue in the current six-state strike and contract negotiations between the CWA and Southwestern Bell. Fitzgerald said he thinks union negotiators gave up the request for reclassification of Big Spring workers in return for concessions from the telephone company prior to the strike.

Telephone workers throughout the six-state Southwestern Bell strike have been on strike for approximately a week. Negotiation of a new contract is snagged over interpretation of a clause which the company favors and workers oppose. The clause would limit the union's freedom to call what the company terms "quickie" walkouts.

Witness Says Laughlin Trip Not Vacation

By MAC ROY RASOR

AUSTIN (AP)—Joe Guerra, Starr County Old Party leader, testified today that Judge Woodrow Laughlin told him he was advised to leave the state last December to avoid arrest and an attempt to keep him out of office.

Guerra said Laughlin considered himself "politically indebted" for the advice.

Guerra testified in the eighth day of hearing into charges seeking Laughlin's removal.

Laughlin named the New Party leader, Manuel Raymond of Laredo, his benefactor, Guerra testified.

Guerra said he had called on Laughlin several times to object to an appointment of A. J. Sanchez as auditor for Starr County.

Guerra said Sanchez had once been tax assessor-collector but had retired from politics when it was learned his funds were several thousand dollars short.

When Guerra called on Laughlin to protest the appointment, Guerra said Laughlin told him he wished he could but didn't see how he could reconsider.

"He said he was under a terrible obligation to Manuel Raymond," Guerra said.

Guerra quoted Laughlin as saying: "If it wasn't for Judge Raymond, I wouldn't be judge today."

"He called me up from Laredo on Dec. 26 and said he had very important information—I had better get over there."

"He said he had word from a Jim Wells County grand jury I would be indicted on Dec. 29 and would be arrested and an attempt made to keep me from taking office."

U.S. Ambassador Meets With Zahedi

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—U. S. Ambassador Loy Henderson conferred for the first time today with Iran's new Premier, Maj. Gen. Fazollah Zahedi. Presumably the Premier told Henderson how badly his government needs money.

The pair met at Zahedi's invitation. As a preliminary, Henderson had talked yesterday with the under secretary of foreign affairs, Abdul Hussein Mofteah.

Shivers Says Not First To Hit FBI

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Shivers, who accused the FBI of violating states' rights in some civil liberties cases, told FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover today he isn't the first governor to complain.

He said the attorney general knows all about it, and suggested Hoover read the minutes of the last three National Governors' Conferences.

Hoover wired Shivers yesterday "I am amazed you could have been so misinformed" as to accuse the FBI of violating states' rights by snooping secretly into civil liberties cases. He said the FBI makes such investigations only when ordered by the Department of Justice and always informs the head of the state institution involved.

Hoover sent a letter along the same lines to the New York Times. Said Shivers of the FBI: "No central force of that kind should be maintained to invade the process of local government xxx."

And answered G-Man Hoover: "I am amazed you could have been so misinformed xxx."

Shivers spoke before the annual convention of the East Texas buy" the provision sought by the telephone company.

"It would nullify the whole contract," Webb said.

"Under it, the company, if it wanted, could stall through the grievance proceedings, always saying 'no,' and our people would be bound not to take any action."

The company said it had to have the clause to insure continuity of service. It cited what it termed 42 work stoppages in the Southwest in three years, ten this year. Only one, the company said, stemmed from general wages or working conditions.

Supervisory employees ran the switchboards and company officials insisted service still was "near normal." Such employees are also making repairs.

In Victoria, Bell's largest exchange in Texas without the dial system, supervisory workers from Dallas, San Antonio, Corpus Christi, and other localities had local and long distance calls near normal, officials said.

Hugh Haynes, Victoria company manager, said, "we are giving police, the fire department and the medical profession preference, but I believe service is near normal for everyone."

Southwestern Bell workers average $35 to $95 weekly. Wage boosts of about $4 per week per person are expected to result from the new contract agreed on when the present issue—the controversial clause—is resolved.

Stenographer Admits Killing Former Boy Friend's Sister

NEW YORK (AP)—A pretty Massachusetts stenographer, sobbing hysterically, admitted today she killed the young sister of a boy friend who broke off with her and married another.

Police quoted petite Mildred McDonald, 25, of Somerville, Mass., as saying she shot the girl, Mary Di Rocco, 14, Monday after the child told her the brother was happy with his new wife.

The girl had been shot five times, her throat slashed and her body partly burned in the Di Rocco home in Somerville.

A sharp-eyed policeman, George Grace, spotted Miss McDonald near Times Square last night. He recognized her from a newspaper picture he had seen minutes before.

For ten hours, the blonde stenographer protested her innocence. Then near dawn police said, she admitted: "I shot her several times."

Police, elaborating on the story Miss McDonald told, quoted her as saying: "Everything reeled around me. I was just plain crazy."

A detective continued: "She said she went to tell the mother why she was mad at Joe, that, after all, she was humiliated."

"I thought we were going to get married," he quoted her as saying. "Then Joe brushed me off. That hurt me. That's what I had against Joe and that's what I was going to talk to his mother about."

Miss McDonald had always been "a steady, good dependable worker," police said.

First New York City police, and then Massachusetts officers, questioned pretty Mildred McDonald, 25, of Somerville, Mass.

Police in Somerville started a search for her Monday soon after the body of Mary Di Rocco, 14, was found in the Di Rocco home in Somerville. The girl had suffered five bullet wounds; her throat was slashed, and her clothing was covered with oil. Police said the slayer had fired six shots and apparently had tried to set the body afire.

Miss McDonald had been dated for three years by one of the slain girl's brothers, Joseph. He married another girl last April.

New York police said Miss McDonald at first denied her identity. Then she said she admitted who she is and said she came to New York Monday afternoon.

The officers said they found in her possession a gun of the type used in the Massachusetts killing, a knife, loaded cartridges and six discharged cartridges. They also found in the room where she was staying a blood-stained shirt and a Boston newspaper with an account of the slaying.

Inspector Robert Brady of the Somerville Police Department, who arrived here early today, told newsmen he was carrying a first degree murder warrant, but he refused to elaborate on the statement.

Bar Association Action Condemns 'Book Burning'

BOSTON (AP)—The American Bar Assn. has adopted resolutions condemning "book burning" and pledging support for lawyers who, though personally anti-Communist, defend subversives as a matter of public duty.

"Freedom to read," the delegates voted, "is a corollary of the constitutional guarantee of freedom of the press."

The Bar Assn. committee which drafted the resolution said in its report there should be "no doubt that the government may properly restrict the contents of libraries maintained abroad," and it added: "There is no good reason why such libraries should include propaganda against the United States."

But when it comes to libraries at home, the report said: "We are dealing with a policy involving the rights of our own people and . . . we believe that truth can be counted upon to prevail in a free competition of ideas."

"We are having an argument right now with the Department of Justice in Washington that has been going on for three years," the governor told the peace officers. "Some of you may have run into it," he added. "I hope with not too sad an experience."

Shivers continued: "When the FBI was sent in on civil rights matters and civil liberties particularly connected with prison hospitals and jails, it is an invasion of the state's prerogative just as if we continue to send people into your county to tell you how to enforce the law."

"You ought not to have a lot of people from a central agency

Dulles Asserts Charter Of U.N. Needs Revision

Reds Maneuver For U.N. Vote On Own Proposal

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—Russia put it squarely up to the U. N. today to decide whether the Soviet Union could attend the Korean peace conference without being lined up on the Communist side.

The new Soviet move was a challenge to the United States position that Russia can attend only if the Communist belligerents, North Korea and Red China, desire it. Such a proposal is now before the U. N. with United States backing.

Andrei Vishinskiy submitted to the Political Committee an amendment striking out the reference to "the other side."

"This will bring into the open the Western split over Russia's role. Britain, Canada and some others originally advocated the participation of Russia without strings, but the limiting provisions were inserted on the insistence of the United States."

Russia also came up with a parliamentary maneuver to force the U. N. to vote first on another Soviet proposal for revivifying six fighting countries and nine "neutrals" to attend the parley.

The Soviet move came as the General Assembly's 60-nation Political Committee began discussing six resolutions on the Korean problem.

Andrei Vishinskiy had put in a revised proposal only yesterday listing the 15 countries Russia wants to seat. Under normal voting procedure, this would be voted on last since it was the last resolution submitted.

Vishinskiy submitted his list again today as an amendment to a resolution sponsored by the United States and 14 other countries that sought for the U. N. in Korea.

The latter proposal, recommending that all the fighting countries be invited to the conference, had been introduced first and had priority in the voting. But Assembly rules provide that amendments must be voted first. This means the Soviet list would be put ahead of the U. S. proposal.

The United States opposes the resolution on India.

U. N. officials believed a vote was possible today but more likely would come tomorrow.

The committee arranged to recess this afternoon while the Security Council met on Arab-Asian nations' complaints that France had illegally removed the Sultan of Morocco from his throne.

15 Indictments Are Returned

The Howard County Grand Jury, which adjourned Tuesday at noon, returned 15 indictments against seven individuals.

Four indictments were returned against Lloyd S. Newby, who is accused of committing sodomy. Oscar Dominguez was indicted five times on charges of forgery and passing.

Two indictments were returned against William Henry Cato, who is accused of forgery.

One indictment each was returned against J. W. Kuykendall, charged with forgery; Jack Thompson, charged with robbery; David Garcia, accused of aggravated assault; and John B. Sneed Jr., accused of assault with intent to commit robbery.

Sheriff's officials said today that Newby had posted a $5,000 bond and was released pending trial. All of the others who were indicted are either in custody here or other cities.

The grand jury no-billed Marie Stephens, Jerome E. Echols, Ruth Digby and Lewis H. Johnson, all of whom were charged with forgery. No-bills were also returned on complaints against Jimmie Lee Banks, charged with theft; Andres Gamboa, accused of child desertion; and Jack Cavet, charged with removing mortgaged property.

16 Tax Suits Filed As Deadline Is Met

Sixteen suits were filed in Howard County Court and 118th District Court this morning for collection of delinquent personal taxes totaling $7,886.51.

The City of Big Spring and the Big Spring Independent School District brought the suits against delinquent tax payers. They were filed by Attorneys Harvey Hooser Jr. and Walton Morrison. Tuesday was the deadline for filing suits for personal and property taxes which have been on the books for four years or more. The state Legislature last spring passed a bill establishing the four-year limitation, and the measure became effective today.

Of the suits filed, 14 were in County Court and two in District Court.

Suits were filed against L. I. Stewart and Lorraine Sumner in District Court. It is alleged that Stewart owes a total of $1,232.42 back taxes and interest. A total of $1,046.66 is listed as owed by Lorraine Sumner.

Defendants named in County Court cases and the sums they allegedly owe are listed below: D. Constant of the Big Spring Neon Electric, $318.20; W. D. Cornelison, $246.32; Johnny Griffin, $257.08; O. R. Bolinger, $702.79; Jess Bailey, $950.02; A. K. Lebkowsky, $203.86; Frank Pool, $306.50; Jimmie Mason, $255.43; W. D. Lovelace, $679.90; G. C. Potts, $226.58; M. H. Tate, $232.09; Leslie Thomas, $231.26; Freddie Watt, $621.79; and Joe D. Wood, $291.61.

In a few of the above cases the city is the only government agency claiming that back taxes are owed. Most suits were filed with school and city as joint plaintiffs, however. The city is asking foreclosure of tax liens against Bailey, Pool, Tate and Lorraine Sumner.

The Associated Press reported that city attorneys over the state filed thousands of tax suits shortly before the deadline.

In Austin, City Attorney Thomas de Steiger filed 7,000 suits on file Tuesday night to beat the deadline. Austin began an intensive campaign July 23 to collect taxes becoming more than four years delinquent. Austin citizens paid more than $110,000 in the last month.

De Steiger filed suits against those failing to pay up.

In Houston where city Comptroller Roy Oakes had rounded up nearly two million dollars since the first of the year, city attorneys filed 2,100 delinquent tax suits.

Oakes' million dollar campaign included door to door collectors and wide newspaper and radio publicity.

In Corpus Christi, the mass suits were criticized by Nueces County Tax Assessor-Collector Joe Stevens. "Our courts are already overloaded and this burden may become excessive," Stevens said.

Some of the 120 delinquent tax suits filed by the school district in Corpus Christi were for less than $20.

Some 434 suits were filed in Fort Worth, 382 by the city and 52 by Tarrant County.

Texas Is New Whipping Boy In Communism's Hate Parade

Lawyers Hear Pact Termed As Pre-Atomic Age

BOSTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today the "pre-atomic age charter" of the United Nations contains "serious inadequacies" and needs to undergo important alterations.

He told the American Bar Assn. he believes the administration can achieve a better world in the face of the fact that man now has the power "to destroy himself." But he said the U. N. would have to be changed to make this possible.

He recalled that the charter was drafted in early 1945 "when some of us knew of the atomic bomb which was to fall on Hiroshima on Aug. 6, 1945," and added:

"The charter is thus a pre-atomic age charter. In this sense it was obsolete before it actually came into force."

Dulles said if framers of the U. N. charter "had known that the mysterious and immeasurable power of the atom would be available as a means of mass destruction, the provisions of the charter dealing with disarmament and the regulation of armaments would have been far more emphatic and realistic."

Dulles said the second inadequacy arose from the placing of reliance in a peacetime continuation of the wartime partnership of the United States, Britain and Russia with the result that power for action was concentrated in the Security Council with its veto. The Assembly voting procedure gives that body only an advisory role, he said.

The third inadequacy, Dulles said, is the fact that the General Assembly "has made but little progress" in establishing fundamental law among nations embodying "eternal principles of justice and morality."

Dulles told the lawyers that under the charter the General Assembly in 1953 must consider calling a charter review meeting. He said the United States "will then vote" for a conference.

Dulles reviewed efforts of Congress to limit the authority of the President in foreign affairs. He said this took the form of proposals to prevent "possible future abuses" of the President's power to make treaties.

Dulles said that during the past session the Senate approved 23 treaties, 12 of which Dulles said "would be unconstitutional if the proposed amendment had been in effect, because they deal with matters of state jurisdiction such as negotiate instrument laws, local licensing laws, etc."

Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) sponsored the proposed amendment. It is still pending.

Dulles sharply attacked a part of the amendment which he said would permit Congress to void executive agreements made by the President with foreign governments. He noted that the Korean armistice was negotiated by an American military commander on orders from Washington.

More Than 100 New Lone Star Laws Become Effective Today

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas had more than 100 new laws today. The people most aware were those being sued by some cities for delinquent auto taxes.

The Legislature put a four-year statute of limitations on collections of delinquent personal property taxes, and this was one of the laws which took effect today—90 days after the session adjourned.

Another new law modifies the 1951 auto inspection statute. It requires annual inspection only on brakes, lighting equipment, horns, rear view mirrors and windshield wipers.

Jalopies made before 1935 won't have to be inspected if they aren't used on the highways.

Homer Garrison Jr., public safety director, said 3,000 stations are ready for the new inspection period which begins Sept. 15.

Other new laws do these things: Provide a mandatory three day jail sentence for the first offense of drunk driver with judges authorized to grant six month probation. Create a state turnpike authority, with the Dallas-Fort Worth toll road given first priority for construction. Create the state commission on higher education to study colleges and universities. Exempt radios from liability for carrying political statements the FCC has said cannot be banned. Add to the causes for which beer retailers' permits may be suspended.

Give the State Board of Water Engineers more power in water conservation.

Permit the state to close hunting seasons when fire hazards exist. Tighten and increase the reserve requirements of county mutuals. Amend the narcotics act to allow a suspended sentence on first offense only and stiffer penalties for repeaters.

Set up label requirements for seeds.

Increase fees for impounding livestock.

Reduce the minimum age of public school bus drivers from 21 to 17.

Permit rules to prohibit feeding of raw garbage to hogs.

Create a commodity distribution division in the Department of Public Welfare to handle surplus foods in school lunch programs.

Authorize small claim courts, where suits may be brought at minimum expense in cases involving $50 or less. Justices of the peace will preside.

Provide for compulsory treatment of narcotics addicts.

Require operators arrested for driving overweight trucks to register for added weight at the nearest county tax office.

Increase the bond required of livestock auction commission merchants.

Permit payment for chiropractic exams and services under the Workmen's Compensation Act.

Change the method of computing the economic index which determines how much each county contributes to the minimum foundation school program. The new index will be figured annually on the basis of data for the latest three years instead of every fourth year on the basis of the latest single year of data.

Bradley Says Science Is Vital To U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Omar N. Bradley says America's civilian and military leaders soon must make decisions in the battle of science with Russia that will affect "our very survival as a nation."

New weapons are so important, he declared, that they "are beginning to shake the present division of functions between the Army, Navy and Air Force."

He urged fuller use of scientific advances through giving scientists a larger share in strategic planning, including advice to the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Bradley's views—in brief, that the country's best protection lies in boosting its scientific and technological lead over the Soviets—were carried in an article in the issue of the Saturday Evening Post out today.

The 60-year-old career soldier retired Aug. 13 as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. Now he is board chairman of Bulova Research and Development, Inc., where he expects to use his knowledge to see that military problems needing scientific and research solutions are passed along to the scientists.

"Soviet technical progress, like ours, is moving at an ever faster tempo," Bradley wrote. "As the pace gets hotter, the choices of what we must do become harder."

Some of these choices, touching the question of our very survival as a nation, now loom close ahead of our civilian and military leaders.

Macabre Halloween Threats Of Reds To Kill 750 Are Told

FREEDOM VILLAGE, Korea (AP)—Two returned American prisoners told today of a macabre Halloween night when North Korean Communists marched 750 men, women and children to the edge of a rock cliff and threatened to kill them all—then did not fire.

There were 700 captured prisoners of war and 50 civilians—priests, nuns and children.

The priests and nuns sang hymns and prayed. The children wailed. The guards leveled hump guns by flashlight and played the fiendish game for four hours before they marched the captives away.

Cpl. James E. Wilson, 22, of Chattanooga, Tenn., and Pfc. Richard S. Sydnar, 22, Fayetteville, W. Va., told the story.

Both men were captured in July 1950, only a few days after they arrived in Korea with the ragged, outnumbered 24th Division.

Commissioners Approve Change In Bus Service

Bus service to the northside will be suspended after 6:30 p.m. daily and City Bus Lines' Monticello route will be continued on a trial basis until Sept. 15 as a result of bus company-city commission talks Tuesday.

Commissioners insisted that the Monticello run be continued until after the opening of schools to determine if a sufficient number of pupils will ride the bus to make the route pay off. They authorized immediate suspension of service to the northside after 6:30 p.m. each day. Daytime schedules will remain the same.

B. P. Bolding, bus lines manager, exhibited statements covering operations of the company for the past two weeks. Fares on the Monticello run just about equalled expenditures for wages and fuel, the statements showed.

The northside run after 6:30 p.m. resulted in revenues little more than sufficient to pay bus driver.

Bolding favored suspension of the Monticello route as well as stopping the northside service in the evenings. He agreed, however, to continue service to the Monticello Addition until Sept. 15.

Commissioners argued the trial would determine if school pupils are to utilize the service. They said transfer of some students between the various elementary school districts may stimulate bus business.

Bolding had said that past school years had resulted in no great amount of business for the bus company.

Discussion Of Paving Problems Prolongs Commission Session

Despite lack of a formal agenda, city commissioners had difficulty in adjourning their weekly session Tuesday.

Three property owners of Sunset Place Addition consumed most of a three-hour meeting when they appeared to protest plans for paving the 1400 block of East 15th Street.

F. D. Williams, Bud Lilly and Jimmy Mason said they want the street paved. However, Williams and Lilly objected to plans for running the 36-foot paving diagonally across the 100-foot right-of-way in the block.

"We don't want that property we don't own pushed off on us," said Lilly, referring to the right-of-way that will be unpaved. "Somebody made a mistake and we're going to have to pay for it. Such paving won't increase value of our property."

City Engineer Clifton N. Bellamy explained that paving had been planned to cross the right-of-way diagonally in order to keep the street relatively straight and eliminate "jogs" at each end of the block. He said it would be impossible to install paving down center of the right-of-way without infringing on private property in making turns at ends of the block due to "jogs" which already exist in north-south streets.

Williams said 40 or 45 feet of unused right-of-way would lay in front of his property under present plans. The unused street narrows to a point at the other (west) end of the block. A similar triangle exists between property and curb lines on the south side of the street, broad end opposite the point on the north side.

Lilly and Williams proposed that all of the right-of-way be paved. They said they would be willing to pay only for their share of 36-foot pavement, however.

Commissioners said the property owners could pay for paving the entire area if they desire. It is impossible for the city to pay for the paving except in intersections, they explained.

Fourth Street right-of-way also came up for discussion at the meeting. Commissioners asked the engineer to determine if a notary public could be sent around with contact agent to secure signatures of property owners to right-of-way deeds and receive curb and gutter deposits.

Commissioners agreed that the city "ought to be doing something" to expedite work in securing the right-of-way and curb and gutter funds. The city must clear all necessary right-of-way and have

Search Ends With Midland Hunters Back Empty-Handed

MIDLAND (AP)—A big search for two missing boys ended late yesterday when the youthful hunters, tired and discouraged, returned home.

Riley Pape, 10, and Don Warren, 11, said they took their air rifles and slipped away from their homes Monday afternoon. They went hunting and decided to stay out overnight.

"We didn't shoot nothing," Riley reported. "I saw one jack-rabbit but he got away."

Greek Islands May Get More Quakes

ARGOSTOLION, Greece (AP)—A Greek earthquake expert warned the devastated Ionian islands today they may get more "catastrophic" quakes—but probably not for 40 years.

The prediction was made by seismology professor Angelo Galanopoulos, who is touring the stricken islands of Kefallinia, Ithaca and Zakynthos, where an estimated 130,000 were made homeless in quakes two weeks ago.

Shortly before the professor made his observation, the islands were rocked by new tremors, the worst since the first ones. Walls of partly destroyed buildings tumbled, killing three Italian demolition workers.

Greece's King Paul and Queen Frederika continued their tour of the disaster area today, despite the new tremors.

The King himself drove his wife by jeep yesterday through several destroyed villages. Weeping women rushed to kiss the hands of the monarchs.

Package Men Hear High Taxes Scored

HOUSTON (AP)—Organized crime syndicates are building an underworld empire because of the high taxes on liquor, the Texas Package Stores Assn. were told at their convention yesterday.

An excessive federal excise tax has defeated its own purpose, asserted Lee High, southern division manager for Calvert Distillers Corp.

The industry wants the federal tax cut from $10.50 a gallon to $6.

Benny Binion Case Hearing Is Ordered

AUSTIN (AP)—Federal Judge Ben Rice Jr., has ordered a hearing Sept. 4 on the motion of Benny Binion, Las Vegas gambler, for continuance of his income tax trial.

Binion asserted he has not had enough time to prepare his defense against the charge that he evaded taxes on $674,394 during 1945-48.

curb money in escrow before the State Highway Department will take any action to pave the street and make it a part of U. S. Highway 80.

Many property owners have promised they will make deposits and give right-of-way but few have got around to taking necessary steps to do so. Bellamy said apparently the only way to complete the arrangements is to send contact man and notary public to individual property owners, the contact representative would explain the program and request immediate signature of the property owners.

Coahoma Has First Bale, Too!

This first bale of Coahoma cotton was grown by Antonio Hernandez (right) on the Byron Wolfe (left) farm northeast of there, and was ginned and bought by the Acuff Gin managed by DeWitt Shive (center). Hernandez picked the 1,900 pounds of lint that went into the 500-pound bale from 25 acres of his 250-acre crop. Visitors have described this crop as the best in Howard County.

Riding THE GRUB LINE
With Franklin Reynolds

Coahoma has its first bale, too, and Antonio Hernandez is a mighty proud man. He produced that first bale from 1,900 pounds of lint from 25 acres of his 250-acre crop on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Wolfe, about one mile east and another mile north of Coahoma. There is also 25 acres of feed on the farm. It is estimated that the entire cotton crop may run about 100 bales, which is actually just about half a crop for that farm, but in this year of drought both Wolfe and Hernandez are happy about what they're producing. The farm is located in a strip that received a good rain earlier in the year that fell over a very small area. Half a hundred visitors who have driven out to the Wolfe farm to see the crop have told Antonio, who has been farming around Coahoma since 1921, that he has the best crop they have seen this year. The cotton was ginned free by the Acuff Gin at Coahoma, which is managed by DeWitt Shive and which bought the 500-pound bale for 32 cents. Prizes given the producer of the first bale by Coahoma merchants all go to Hernandez, Wolfe says. The insects haven't invaded this crop yet and no poisoning has been necessary. A rain would be of some help right now, however, since the cotton is shedding some squares because it is overloaded. Dawson County's first bale of 1953 has been delivered in Lamesa by Cleburn Shofner of the Sparenberg Gin. It weighed 410 pounds and was picked from 60 acres by France Barkovsky on the A. G. Barkovsky farm, which is about three miles southeast of Sparenberg and about 12 miles south of Lamesa. It will be auctioned off in a sale sponsored by the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce but in the meantime it has already won the $50 bonus offered by the Chamber for the first bale. Before the cotton was planted the land received 1.75 of rain but no moisture has fallen since. Alton Ledbetter of the Lamesa unit of the Soil Conservation District says there is a whole lot of of the Dawson Soil Conservation District, but that there is still thousands of acres of Dawson County land that doesn't have anything on it because not enough moisture has been received for planting. He says that most farmers who have gotten enough rain have planted cover crops, others are planting right along, and the drills owned by the SCD are seeing plenty of action these days. Elton Harrell, who farms in the Payne Church area of Mitchell County is pleased with the results he is getting from four acres of irrigated alfalfa. This patch, planted March 15, has been furnishing lots of grazing since about May 1, he says. He has used the patch in the weaning of 22 head of calves so far this year. His practice has been to graze the patch for about two weeks, to then pull the cattle off and irrigate it and allow it to grow for two weeks. At present he

Police Say Body Couldn't Be That Of Missing Politico

HAMMOND, Ind. (AP)—Police have ruled out the possibility that a headless body washed up on the Lake Michigan shore might be that of Clem Graver, missing Illinois legislator. The decomposed body was washed up Monday. The head had been cut off. Lt. John Walsh of the Chicago homicide squad said after examination yesterday that he was certain the body was not that of Graver. The 53-year-old Chicago legislator has been missing since his abduction from his home on July 11. Deputy Coroner Peter Stecy said the body had been in the water at least six weeks. In Borden County on the farm of John Whitmore terrace lines have been run on new land and old terraces on an adjoining field that has been in cultivation were extended on across this new land. These terraces will be built with closed ends. Walter Anderson, east of Luther, is rebuilding old terraces, making them higher and wider so they can be farmed with less trouble. A. J. Finkle, northwest of Big Spring, has about 45 acres of summer peas that are doing fine, he reports. Jimmy Eason, east of Big Spring, has used one of the Martin-Howard SCD drills to seed vetch and rye.

Woman Admits She Dressed Her Lover As Her Daughter

LONDON (AP)—A British wife told a court yesterday how she dressed her young Italian lover as her 12-year-old daughter to smuggle him into England. Then, she said, he started running after other women so she told the police. Leono Cirezza, 31, pleaded guilty to breaking the alien law when he entered Britain. Barbara Manckelov, 43, pleaded guilty to harboring him here. Mrs. Manckelov said she met Cirezza when he was a prisoner of war in Britain. She visited him in Italy in 1947 and 1948; and in 1949 they decided to return together. She has a passport for her daughter. When they got to Turin, said Mrs. Manckelov, Cirezza dressed as a woman and traveled that way to Calais. She put a traveling rug over his head and told any one who asked that he was her daughter and that she was sick. Magistrate Geoffrey Raphael ordered Cirezza to await an extradition hearing and fined Mrs. Manckelov $70.

B36 Fitted For Role As Mother To Jets

By EDMOND LE BRETON WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force says it has fitted the long-range B36 bomber for a new role. Taking off with an F84 jet plane in its cavernous belly, carrying it to within striking distance of a target releasing the fighter for a strike, at more than 600 miles per hour, and then recovering it in midair. The Air Force yesterday released for the first time photographs of the B36 in its mother role. Other sources pointed out that if the big bomber can launch a fighter plane it should also be able to launch guided missiles. Moreover, both the B36 and the F84 have been described by the Defense Department as capable of carrying atomic bombs. So the combination seems to provide a formidable merger of speed, range and killing power. The six piston engines and four jet engines of the B36 give it a speed of more than 435 miles an hour and an over-all range of 10,000 miles, assuming a 10,000-pound bomb is dropped midway, or a combat radius of 4,000. The swept-wing F84F, with its speed of more than 600 miles an hour, has a combat radius of about 850 miles. The Air Force said its new development was the first known arangement for flying a full-size combat plane from a mother aircraft, although small experimental planes have been so flown. The fighter is lowered out of the B36's bomb bay on a tripod gear before its engine is started. It is not released until its engine has been started. One of the photographs shows the F84 snuggled well up into the huge bomb bay, in position for being carried. The Air Force also disclosed yesterday that the power of the B36 had been stepped up in new models so that it can take off at weights up to 400,000 pounds, compared with the previous 358,000 pounds. The new maximum is almost three times the maximum takeoff weight of the B29, work-horse bomber of World War II. The Air Force said some B36 models have had their horsepower stepped up 300 for each piston engine.

Maintenance Program Has Paid Good Dividends To School Units

Spending $5,000 of public funds may not be the occasion for glad hosannas, but in the case of the Big Spring summer maintenance program the taxpayers might well sing praise for the expenditure.

This is the approximate figure which was required to touch up 13 buildings in the system to effect major repairs, and to make replacements and improvements here and there.

A case in point is South Ward. This happens to be the oldest structure in the system. It had and still has its limitations, but during the summer it has been given a new roof, had the exterior refinished in more attractive colors, and the interior spruced up considerably. Some of the other problems have been overcome. Conference, office and assembly spaces are still lacking, but the plant should possess a high degree of utility and comfort.

You could go all through the various buildings noting how they have been repainted, all classroom floors reworked, floor tile installed here and there, window and screen repairs made, desks touched.

As a result not only of this summer's work but that of previous summers, the physical properties are in sound condition. The taxpayers are having their investment protected.

While carrying on this program at a relatively nominal cost in light of actual values achieved, the district also has kept its maintenance force intact and busy. This is something deserving of high commendation.

Iranian Developments Are Still Chaotic, But Ray Of Hope Seen

Developments in Iran are less than hopeful, and the ousting of Mossadegh by the Shah has the appearance of trading chaos for chaos.

There is this much which might accrue to the benefit of the West and hence to the cultivation of peace: The Shah might listen to proposals that the oil impasse between Britain and Iran be resolved.

The strife-torn nation is rich potentially, but primarily in oil. When Mossadegh came to power, he nationalized Iranian oil and shut off the British from control of the productive and processing facilities which they had developed. The British then withdrew their know-how and that halted operations.

Although rioting continues and little about the situation suggests stability, enough encouragement has been given U. S. Ambassador Loy Henderson that he is making overtures to the Shah for resumption of relations between Britain and Tehran. Should this materialize, it is then possible that negotiations on the oil question might be resumed and a way found to resume the flow of wealth for the fluid.

This would be doubly important, not alone from the fact that it would provide Iran with some urgently needed revenue (the kind of aid that talks most effectively), but it would place this resource within the hands of the West.

That within itself would be a sharp blow to Soviet dreams, for Russia might find it ill advised to embark upon major armed adventure without a fuel supply in sight for its fighting machinery.

The World Today — James Marlow

Russian Hydrogen Explosion Is Added Complication In Ike's Money Troubles

WASHINGTON (AP) — Before the Russians announced their hydrogen explosion, President Eisenhower had money troubles enough. The explosion complicated them.

He was searching for new places to cut government spending. Defense and foreign aid spending looked like good targets. But the fact the Russians are working on the hydrogen bomb may make Congress cautious about cuts in those two places.

Work on the national budget—the estimate of what it will cost to run the government for the fiscal year starting the following July 1—starts every year around this time.

It takes from August to January, when Congress opens again, for the departments to put their estimates together, for the Budget Bureau to review them and try to reduce them, and for the final figures to get printed.

Just about this time last year the Truman administration began work on the budget for the fiscal year which started July 1. No matter how the election turned out, Truman was going to give his estimates to Congress, and he did.

But in doing so Truman was only fulfilling his own responsibility. Neither the Eisenhower administration nor the new Republican-controlled Congress accepted Truman's figures.

The Eisenhower administration found a way to chop about nine billion dollars off the total Truman asked Congress to approve. Then Congress chopped another 3½ billions off what Eisenhower asked.

The net result: Congress voted $51,211,000,000. At first glance, that might seem a small amount, but that was to be spent in the fiscal year which began on July 1.

But it isn't. In previous years Congress had appropriated many billions which wouldn't be spent until this present fiscal year. Mainly to pay for war supplies ordered last year or the year before but to be delivered this year.

As a result of this backlog of spending coming due, plus the new spending approved by Congress in 1953, the Eisenhower administration began to get gloomy about the national debt.

That debt is the amount of money borrowed by the government to pay its expenses when those expenses exceed the revenue taken in by the government in taxes. By far the major part of the debt was due to spending on World War II.

Congress has set a limit by law of 275 billion dollars on the national debt, which is another way of saying no administration can do any borrowing that will push the national debt above 275 billion.

Just before Congress finished its 1953 business, the national debt stood at 272½ billion. The Eisenhower administration looked at that figure—just 2½ billion below the debt limit—and wondered: Would it have enough money on hand to meet its expenses—including the bills it had to pay for goods ordered in previous years—between the time Congress quit this month and the time it returned next January?

If not, the government would have to borrow more money. But it couldn't borrow more than 2½ billion dollars or it would go over the legal limit. To play it safe, the administration asked Congress to raise the limit to 290 billion.

Congress refused. The Eisenhower administration told its departments and bureau heads to do some more cutting this fall beyond the cuts they had planned on last spring.

But — in 1954 the government would lose about eight billions in revenue if Congress let certain taxes end or be reduced. The excess profits tax on corporations is due to end Dec. 31. At the same time individual income taxes are to drop about 10 per cent. And in April more losses are due in excise and regular corporation taxes.

With all this staring Eisenhower in the face, the Russians triggered

These Days — George Sokolsky

Hindsight Is Easy, But Some People Still Can See Ahead

Often when politicians or officials are called upon to explain the consequences of their errors, they fall back on the cliché that hindsight is easier than foresight. There were, however, others who at the same time that the aforesaid politicians and officials were without foresight, were able to indicate the course of events with a more proximate relationship to what eventually occurred.

For instance, I was looking the other day at Henry Hazlitt's "Will Dollars Save the World?" published in 1947. Henry Hazlitt has been the financial editorial writer for "The New York Times"; is now editor of "The Freeman" and writes a column on economics for "Newsweek."

Back in 1947, he indicated the myth of "The Dollar Gap," which in 1953 is proved by the course of events. He wrote his pamphlet to establish that the series of aids to European countries, which now go by the generic term of "The Marshall Plan," would bring neither peace, stability nor strength to the United States.

Henry Hazlitt was but one of a large group of Americans who foresaw and foretold the error of American policies and their consequences. Herbert Hoover and Hugh Gibson wrote a book on the subject.

Livingston T. Merchant, Assistant Secretary of State for European Affairs, had this to say in a recent speech:

"I think some Americans have been perplexed and even shocked by the course of events which have converted the United States from a relatively secure nation at the turn of this century to a nation whose security is gravely imperiled today. Scholars and philosophers have devoted much thought to this subject, and many explanations have been offered. If we were able to live the last half-century over again perhaps many things would be done differently. The world looks simpler in hindsight."

The admission that friendship cannot be purchased with dollars covers rather late from anyone in the State Department. In fact, the MSA (now the FOA), under the direction of Harold Stassen, is still pursuing that fatuous policy, and the State Department has not taken a single step to end its give-away policy. The United States is now giving Europe and Asia more free dollars than Harry Truman did.

Mr. Merchant truthfully makes the point that the security of our country is gravely imperiled today. At the turn of the century, no one would have thought such a peril possible. Between World War I and World War II, there were some who built a theory of Japan as our objective enemy. We now know, from the Tokyo trials; that the Japanese lived in terror of the United States. I wrote about Japan's fears of the United States as early as 1923 when I witnessed the arrival of American aid to a Tokyo suffering from its worst earthquake.

There never was a reason for the assumption that Japan could defeat the United States. But there are ample grounds for our current fear of Soviet Russia and for the greater peril that we shall become an isolated country—isolated by our policies and by the neutralist betrayal of those nations whom we have befriended in two wars.

Mr. Merchant is frank. The tendency not only among public officials but among publicists, editors, preachers, etc. is to adopt a wishful attitude toward neutralism. They seem unable to read the events of our day with realistic accuracy. They are still hopeful that goodwill must triumph. The fact, however, stands clear that Great Britain, Canada, France and Italy, to say nothing of smaller and less significant countries, have adopted a neutral attitude as between the United States and Soviet Russia. If anything, Great Britain is supporting the Russian position in her relations with the United States.

For us, this is isolationism not of our choosing. In the preliminary sessions on the political conference after the Korean War, the United States stood almost alone. Great Britain and Canada supported the Russian position openly on the pragmatic ground that Russia wanted to attend the conference but did not wish to sit with her own satellites, and that whatever Russia desired should be done. This position was supported by Mr. Hammarskjöld, Secretary General of the United Nations, who also is strictly neutral as between the United States and Soviet Russia.

Our peril then is enforced, imposed isolation. In a word, the nations, friend and foe, aided and unaided, are ganging up on us.

This Day In Texas

By CURTIS BISHOP

The news brought to W. T. Waggoner, pioneer cattleman on this day in 1902 would have been a cause for gala celebration to any other man. For a water well crew working on the Waggoner acres reported to the cattle baron, in some excitement, that they had struck not water but oil.

"Damn the oil!" blazed Waggoner. "I want water."

The well was plugged up and it was another 16 years before a gusher blew in on the nearby Fowler farm, launching the Burkburnett boom. Then even Tom Waggoner couldn't stop the onslaught of derricks. His ranch within a few years produced 50,000,000 dollars worth of oil and he refused that amount for the remainder of the petroleum stores.

Every drilling crew to come on the Waggoner ranch received a stern admonition not to molest the cattle. And as further proof of the ranchman's feeling, everything connected with oil operations on the ranch bore the same brand as his herds—three D's in reverse.

Waggoner was a rich man before oil was ever discovered on his land. He started in the cattle business with his father in 1869 and by the end of the century the Waggoner spread covered a block running 30 miles east and west and 25 miles north and south, including a million acres which fed some 60,000 head of cattle. The ranch has bred Herefords predominantly and has specialized in fine horses.

To his death Waggoner did not like oil.

Law For Newspapers

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—A Brazilian lawmaker has proposed a plan for the "forced reading" of newspapers. The scheme, proposed by Deputy Joao Cabanas, and aimed at increasing the number of newspaper readers, would work like this:

Without previous authorization publishers could start delivering their paper to the home of a prospective subscriber. If the subscriber failed to halt the delivery within two weeks, the publisher could consider him a full-fledged subscriber.

The bill also provides that the publisher could collect for the paper through legal means without paying court fees.

In front of her shop in this village of 1,034 persons, she has painted the traditional red, white and blue spiral stripes on a maple tree more than nine feet in circumference.

Family Affair

MARSHALL, Minn. (AP)—Mrs. Floyd Minnick wasn't much concerned about parking too long on a Marshall street. She knew the cop on the beat.

She got a tag anyhow. It was signed by Floyd Minnick, her husband. Mrs. Minnick paid her fine.

Things Which Hit Discordant Notes Increase Fast With Age

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald.—Editor's Note.

One of the surer signs of personal age is that I am adding steadily to the list of things that strike a discordant chord.

A few of my later additions to the growing roll include these:

Seminary professors who either teach or permit young ministers to develop a weeping form of delivery, which I call the holy whine, and to refer to deity as Gawd.

My experience has been that the most effective preachers are those who speak with straightforward sincerity, even as you and I would talk, and who make no apologies about referring to God as God.

Then there are the young salesmen whom the masters imbue with the old college spirit. I am attaining the age where I dislike being swept off my feet in a sudden gust of enthusiasm and buried under an avalanche of solicitousness which is spurious on the face of it. And that loaded brief case...why don't they leave it in the room?

And the vocal instructors who insist on the assumption of a special fold of the hands. While I recognize that the diaphragm must be placed in proper position to be utilized and permit a free flow of air from the old pumps, I still cannot get the idea out of my head that this delicate position silently and not so subtly proclaims to one and all—"I am a trained singer!" I put it in the same category as horn rimmed specs which seems to say "I am a student or professional person."

And why do some merchandisers aspire to sophistication? A high-powered product will speak for itself, and you don't have to lay on the dog for something that has been recognized as tops in its field for several generations. You get the unpleasant feeling that maybe, despite crossing the palms with required cash, that this product is not for the common herd after all.

Next up are those individuals who have the unhappy outlook for thinking that everyone who disagrees with them is either a radical or needs educating. Usually there are two types—the blunt and direct individual who assumes anyone not for him is against him and is therefore downright dangerous. Equally grating is the intellectual who just knows if the antagonist was educated to his facts, he would repent and come over to the proper way of thinking.

I must mention, too, those preoccupied people who live in a world apart from most of us. Consequently, it is their privilege to stand up in front of us indefinitely at the theatre or some program while debating the relative merits of moving one seat this way or two that, or going somewhere else. They have a sixth sense for arriving at the precise moment of the most interesting or exciting action.

Members of the newspaper profession also must be remembered. They are suckers for the cliché. Let some news person turn a neat phrase and the press ally wear it to a frazzle in nothing flat. Let some one pluck a word from slightly off the beaten path and everyone uses it. Remember when everything was suddenly bouclie? And finally, that horrible assault on description of fires. The building was gutted—never destroyed, never severely damaged, never reduced to charred ruins but always gutted. Brother, that's journalistic ingenuity at its best.

Head Start On H-Bomb Has No Value If Our Defense Ignored

The government analysts are reported to be tentatively convinced that the Soviet hydrogen bomb was an interim weapon, similar to the American bomb tested at Eniwetok in 1951.

If this is correct, the purposes of the Soviet explosion were to gain preliminary data on the hydrogen fusion reaction, and to test the very large atomic bomb that is needed to trigger a full-scale hydrogen bomb. The 1951 Eniwetok bomb designed for these purposes had a power of about 250 kilotons, or about 250,000 tons of TNT. The next year we tested our full-scale hydrogen bomb, with a power of three to five megatons, or 3,000,000 to 5,000,000 tons of TNT.

If the Soviets follow the same pattern, as is expected, their first full-scale hydrogen bomb should be tested in 1954. Meanwhile, there are reliable expert forecasts of an early test of a very much larger American hydrogen bomb, with a power that may run as high as ten megatons, or 1,000,000 tons of TNT.

These facts are enough to establish the reality of the American atomic lead. They sufficiently explain the statement of the chairman of the Congressional Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, Representative W. Sterling Cole, that the American atomic program is still "pre-eminent."

The question is, unfortunately, whether "pre-eminence" matters. According to the American government's official estimates, the Kremlin is now able to cripple this country by air-atomic attack. According to the same estimates, the Kremlin will gain the ability to devastate this country—to strike a knockout blow—that will force our surrender to the enemy—within 18 to 24 months.

The recent Soviet bomb test plainly suggests that these American government estimates have erred, if at all, on the side of caution. When the Kremlin has the bombs and the airpower to destroy this country, it will be a very poor consolation to know that we have more bombs than the Kremlin. The consolation will be all the thinner, moreover, since the Kremlin is rapidly building an air defense against our bombs, while we have no air defense worthy of the name and are unlikely to buy one.

The story of how our policy makers have handled this vital problem of the changing air-atomic balance between the Soviet Union and the United States can be allowed to speak for itself.

In brief, when Dwight D. Eisenhower entered the White House last winter, the first thing he found was a warning of grave danger, and an ambitious American air defense program to ward the danger off. Initially, the President seems to have been much impressed. But the air-defense program was going to cost a lot of money, and a good many Eisenhower advisers tend to think that taxes are more dangerous than hydrogen bombs.

As a result, the National Security Council has been walking up and backing away from this vital problem for eight long months. The vast accumulation of data left behind by the Truman administration has now been supplemented by no less than three major committee reports—from the Kelly Committee, headed by Dr. Mervyn Kelly, of Bell Telephone Laboratories; from the Edwards Committee, headed by Lieut. Gen. Idwal Edwards, and from the Bull Committee, headed by the President's wartime G-3, Maj. Gen. Harold Bull.

The Kelly Committee, composed of leading scientists and industrialists, recommended a strong air-defense program. The Edwards Committee, named to assess Soviet air-atomic capabilities, sharply underdecorated the extent of the danger. The Bull Committee, chosen by the Eisenhower National Security Council to get a "report from our own people," recommended an even stronger program than the Kelly Committee. Those who fear taxes more than H-Bombs were still displeased.

There is a new motto, however—"If you don't like the last committee's report, get a new committee." Consequently a fourth Committee on Air Defense has now been named, composed of industrialists and others whose most conspicuous qualification appears to be total ignorance of the problem. The most interesting thing about this new group is the presence in their midst of James B. Black, president of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

Last spring Mr. Black served on the "seven wise men," still another committee carefully selected by Budget Director Joseph Dodge and his allies. As desired by their sponsors, the seven wise men told the National Security Council that balancing the budget was far more important than the defense of the United States. The reappearance of a member of this packed jury on the new committee to consider the air-defense problem is a coincidence altogether too striking to be ignored.

It all seems to add up to the conclusion that the growing Soviet air-atomic threat is to be utterly ignored, or at best dealt with by half-measures. The whole trend is to give tax and budget problems absolute priority over the problem of national survival. It will feel a bit odd to be taking the road so brilliantly pioneered by Stanley Baldwin and Neville Chamberlain. But that seems to be the road that will be taken, unless the President himself firmly decides otherwise or the new Joint Chiefs of Staff powerfully intervene. These are the two last hopes.

Marine Thinks We Could Have Smashed Chinese

By RELMAN MORIN

NEW YORK (AP) — Capt. Bem Price walked in the other day, fresh from Korea.

"What do you guys think of the armistice?" I asked.

"Not much," said Bem. "They're not satisfied to have it end this way."

He said the war could have been carried to a complete military decision in our favor.

Coming from a Marine, of course, any other report would have been a surprise. But there is more to it than the insignia on his cap. Price had the unusual experience of serving in Korea twice, in two roles.

On his first hitch, he was an AP correspondent. He went over in 1950, covered the retreat and then the siege on the line laid down by Gen. Walton Walker of Texas. Then Bem came home.

He had been in the Marines in World War II. So, a year or so ago, Uncle Sam called him and presently he was on his way back out to the old stamping ground.

"What we should have done," he said, "was to smash up the Chinese defenses, and then destroy their armies in Korea."

"Why didn't we open a real offensive?" I asked.

"I don't know," he said. "Nobody could make sense out of it. We would take one of our positions, and then pull back on order."

He said Marine officers reasoned that they were losing more men in the stationary war that finally developed than would have been lost in an all out push.

These ideas are not confined to the Marine Corps. A good many regular Army officers felt the same way.

Disrupt NATO Plans

ATHENS (AP)—Recent earthquake disasters in three Greek Ionian islands have disrupted the nation's plans for NATO Military exercise next month in the Mediterranean.

Greece may ask postponement of the war games because her Army and Navy, busy in rescue and relief work in the stricken islands, won't have time to prepare for the maneuvers.

THE UNSEEN AUDIENCE

Uncle Ray's Corner

Sea Covered Heart Of Nation

Long ago, in the heart of the United States, there existed a large sea. The waters covered the western plains, from Nebraska southward to Texas, and stretched, for a time, as far eastward as Ohio.

Scientists have traced the story of that sea. From the record of the rocks, we know that it kept shrinking in size. More water left the sea as vapor than returned to it as rain. There came a time when the sea covered only the present state of Kansas and a part of Oklahoma.

Known to us as the Kansas Sea, or the Kansas Dead Sea, this body of water dried up at length. Present-day Kansas contains huge beds of salt which were left behind when the water dried away. Perhaps more important are the layers of rock which were formed at the bottom and edges of the sea. These layers contain fossils of countless fish and other water animals.

Fish of early times differed from those of today, but among them were some which were related to modern sharks.

Many ancient sharks grew to a length of 20 feet or more; our scientific name for them has the meaning of "terrible fish." They had hard coverings which guarded them from enemies, and are among the "armored fish" of the past.

Other ancient fish were related, in a distant way, to modern lungfish. For a long time their air bladders, or "swim bladders," are believed to have had little, if anything, to do with breathing. The original service of these bladders would seem to have been to help the fish to rise in the water and keep in balance.

The ancient fish, in general, were of vital importance in the history of life on earth. It appears that they were the first animals of any kind to have backbones. Other animals in the waters had shells, but fish are the first on record to have a series of bones running inside them from the head to the tail.

5th Amendment Use Faces New Court Test

By ED CREAGH
WASHINGTON (AP) — That now-familiar refrain, "I refuse to answer on the ground it might tend to incriminate me," appears to be headed for a new test in the courts. Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) is threatening a court test in an attempt to limit the situations in which it may be used.

Countless times since Congress began looking into subversive activities one witness or another has given this response instead of answering questions about alleged Communist or pro-Communist activities.

They've been getting away with it too. The Fifth Amendment to the constitution forbids compelling anybody to testify against himself.

McCarthy, chairman of the Senate investigations subcommittee, is vacationing on the West Coast. Before he left Washington, however, he laid the groundwork for a court action to define the circumstances under which a witness may properly decline to answer.

The Wisconsin senator did this in questioning the wife of Edward Rothschild, the now-suspended Government Printing Office book-binder who has refused to say whether he is a Communist or whether he ever stole secret documents from the GPO.

Mrs. Rothschild, too, refused to tell McCarthy whether she is or has been a Communist party functionary.

McCarthy then ordered her to answer a test question, announcing her refusal would be the basis for a possible contempt of Congress proceeding. Despite this, and on the advice of her lawyer, Charles E. Ford, the witness persisted in her refusal.

The test question: "Do you refuse to answer on the ground that a truthful answer might tend to incriminate you?"

McCarthy contends this is the only legal ground for a witness declining to answer. Ford, a well-known Washington attorney who has specialized in "Fifth Amendment" cases, challenges the senator to produce a single court decision backing up his stand.

"It doesn't make the slightest difference," the lawyer says, "whether the answer a witness might give would be true or false. Perjury is not involved here. The sole test is whether any answer, a truthful one or not, might tend to incriminate the witness."

McCarthy, on the other hand, says the self-incrimination privilege has been perverted from its intended meaning by subversives who invoke the Bill of Rights to cover up their activities. "The Fifth Amendment," says McCarthy, himself a lawyer and former judge, "was intended for the protection of individuals. It is being used to protect a conspiracy, and this committee will do whatever it can to stop that perversion."

To get a court test, a contempt citation would have to be voted by McCarthy's subcommittee, then by the parent Government Operations Committee and finally by the full Senate. This court airing of Mrs. Rothschild's refusal to answer could not come until Congress reconvenes. That will be next January unless a special session is called this fall.

South Texas Has Scattered Rains Today

By The Associated Press
Scattered rain soaked crops in the Rio Grande Valley and along the South Texas coast a fourth straight day Wednesday.

The Weather Bureau forecast other sections of the state would get good rains the next five days. Weather Bureau rainfall totals for 24 hours ending at 6:30 a. m. included Corpus Christi 1.72 inches, Brownsville .59, San Antonio .44, Beaumont .30, Galveston .22, Laredo .02, Victoria .04, Lufkin .05 and Cotulla .11.

Morning temperatures ranged from 61 at Marfa to 77 at Corpus Christi.

A five-day forecast predicted moderate to heavy thundershowers in East Texas and Central Texas and moderate rains in West Texas. Heavy clouds spotted South Central Texas Wednesday as some rain continued to fall at Brownsville, Houston and other scattered coastal points.

Austin and College Station had low overcasts while clouds were still in the air in Cotulla, Laredo and Del Rio.

"The changing weather" is predicted in the latest forecasts followed rains which since Sunday piled up to 7 inches of moisture in Jim Wells County and 5 inches in other scattered South Texas and West Texas points.

The South Texas rains were the first really "good rains" in the southern part of Texas' 164-county drought area this summer.

Engineer Begins Work On Second Street Extension

L. J. Thompson, local engineer, started survey work today on the right-of-way for opening of 2nd Street from the east city limits to Birdwell Lane.

And Howard County commissioners have been assured cooperation from the T&P Railroad on an extension of Birdwell Lane northward from Highway 80 across the tracks.

County Judge R. H. Weaver received a letter from W. C. Foster, local T&P superintendent, that the railroad company will move their signal lights and crossing equipment whenever the road is extended.

Weaver said that he has contacted Western Union about raising their lines over the road, and that otherwise arrangements have been completed.

The proposed 2nd Street extension will join the planned extension of Birdwell Lane on completion. Property owners along the 2nd Street right-of-way have offered to give an 80-foot strip for the road.

Two Children Kidnapped As Store Robbed

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A cool, nattily dressed bandit kidnaped a supermarket manager's small son and a niece yesterday then robbed the store of several hundred dollars. A citywide manhunt early today had failed to unearth a clue.

The manager, Lawrence Dillard, gave up the money on being confronted with a note from his wife stating their 2 1/2-year-old son Michael and 4-year-old niece Peggy Jones were held as hostages.

The robber escaped into the city traffic.

It Did Rain Here Twenty Years Ago

Twenty years ago today in Howard County, in the midst of another drought, rainfall measured 4.76 inches.

Farmers made a big feed crop and some cotton in 1933 on the strength of August rains which totaled 5.99 inches and an inch and a half which fell in July. Total for the year was 11.33 inches.

The Aug. 26, 1933, rainfall was the heaviest on record for the date.

FIREMEN GET LONG DISTANCE 'ALARM' CALLS

The Big Spring Fire Department is receiving calls from Midland and Colorado City now.

Call from Colorado City came Tuesday from a person trying to contact a business firm here. Last night, a Midlander telephoned, attempting to get in touch with an oil company.

Local firemen have been plagued with "wrong numbers" ever since the city switched to dial telephone operations more than two months ago. Tuesday was the first time they've received long distance "alarms", however.

The fire fighters say the manner in which their alarm bells and telephone is connected here is responsible for the false alarms, 10 to 20 per day, they receive.

Mishaps Reported

Two minor traffic mishaps occurred in the city Tuesday. Police said Leola Cave, Sweetwater, and Roberto DeLeon, Big Spring, were operators of cars which collided at First and Main.

Glenn Dale Bunn, Fort Worth, and Frankie Alice Marstrand, Big Spring, were drivers whose cars collided at Fourth and Young, officers reported.

Serna said when he attempted to take pictures of George Parr, then the sheriff, and his deputies intimidating his brother's customers, Parr cursed him, arrested him, hit him over the head with a flashlight and smashed his camera.

"Then he said, 'Get the hell out of here'—and I got out," Serna said.

He said it was common knowledge that those in power knew how everybody voted by comparing ballots and stubs.

Charges against Laughlin centered his release of court-impounded general election ballots aided Parr's forces in finding out how people voted.

Manuel Marroquin, a tortilla factory operator, testified he was told if he didn't "get right" politically his business would "get hurt."

He said Parr personally confirmed to him that deputies were asking San Diego merchants not to buy from him.

"What happened to your business?" Sen. William Shireman, attorney to lawyers backing Laughlin's removal, asked.

"There was no business. It gradually went away," he replied. He said he moved his factory about three months ago to the Jim Wells side of the county line.

Former Resident Freed By Reds

Sgt. William G. Thomas, 24-year-old former Big Spring man, was freed recently from a Communist prison camp in Korea.

He told reporters at Freedom Village that approximately 600 American prisoners died in Camp One from lack of food and medical care.

He is the son of Mrs. Russell S. Thomas, 2065 Burton Street, San Diego, Calif.

He sent her a telegram saying: "Dearest Mom: Freed from the Reds last night. Feel pretty good for the shape I am in. Receiving excellent care. Don't worry. Each day brings me nearer to you. Love to the best mother in the world, God bless you."

Sgt. Thomas had enlisted in the Army at Midland and was captured Jan. 22, 1951. He came to Big Spring in 1943 from Ackerly and was in the 9th grade, transferring in the autumn of 1944 to Flower Grove, Calif.

Police Get Report Of Thefts In City

Loss of a trailer and pair of fender skirts to thieves was reported Tuesday.

Carl Walker notified police of the theft of the trailer. He said the flat-bed trailer had no tires and probably was torn or cut apart for removal. James Kilgore, 208 Carey, told of loss of fender skirts from his 1941 Chevrolet.

Vandals also were active again Tuesday. Police said a car parked at 1102 Runnels was "speckled" by acid or some other substance late in the afternoon. A Christmas ornament filled with the fluid shattered when it was thrown at the car. Part of the material went inside the car, the rest splattering on the outside finish.

$50 Fine Assessed In County Court

Floyd McIntyre was fined $50 and court costs today in Howard County Court after he pleaded guilty to charges of assault with a deadly weapon.

He had been fined $25 earlier in the week in City Court after pleading guilty to discharging a firearm in the city limits.

Both fines concerned the same offense. McIntyre said he fired a shotgun at Walter Green last Saturday night in Northwest Big Spring. The shot missed.

Mrs. Canning Will Receive Degree

Mrs. Harold Canning, the former Carolyn June Poole, is among those scheduled to receive a master of education degree from East Texas State College.

Commencement exercises have been set for Friday evening in the Memorial Stadium at Commerce.

snooping around and not even notifying you that they are in your territory. That's not the way we hope we can operate the state government in Austin."

The governor's morning speech brought almost immediate reaction from the chief of the FBI, Curtis L. Perryman. Tyler, FBI agent, read a telegram from Hoover which the top G-Man sent to Shivers after hearing of his talk.

"I have just been informed that in your address before the East Texas Peace Officers Association in Lufkin today you charged the FBI was conducting investigations involving violation of civil rights in state institutions without authorities knowing about our activities," the telegram said.

"I am amazed," the Hoover telegram continued, "you could have been so misinformed because the FBI conducts no investigation of alleged violation of civil rights except when instructed to do so by the Department of Justice and as a matter of policy in such investigations involving state institutions, the head of the institution is always advised at the time the investigation is initiated."

HATE PARADE

In Thurglinga. According to Jungo Welt, he stated: "I never gave any due consideration to what the government of (East) German Democratic Republic has done for youth until now. In my shameless disregard for these things, I—a disregard for these things, I—a worker's child—wore Texas shirts and those boogie-woogie ties. In this clothing, which offends the feelings of sane people, I went into the streets of Erfurt. I defied the ridicule of the population and I was finally arrested by our security organs."

"And justly so, for there was adequate suspicion that I and my sort were enemies of the people. Today I know that by wearing these ridiculous shirts and ties we served the imperialists. Doesn't our industry manufacture beautiful shirts in many colors and patterns that can be bought at reasonable prices?"

"In the future it will be my task to speak to all those who believe they must dress in the American style and show them, through my own example, that they must uphold our national dignity."

Indoor Sports Are Holding Pie Supper

Previously it was announced that the Cheerio Club was sponsoring the affair, but in reality it is the Indoor Sports group. Proceeds will go toward sending a delegate to the state convention.

Besides pie and coffee, surprise packages furnished in response to invitations from the club will be auctioned. The public, of course, is invited to participate. The Indoor Sports Club is composed of individuals with physical handicaps.

Indications Are Reds Will Now Send Back Some Jailed POWs

By MILO FARNETI
PANMUNJOM (AP)—Another 400 U. N. soldiers returned from North Korean stockades today amid indications the Reds will send back some Americans handed jail terms and possibly more prisoners than they originally promised.

Two of 133 Americans who crossed into friendly hands today said some fellow Americans sentenced to prison for "instigating against the peace" were awaiting repatriation, possibly in a day or two, at Kaesong. Kaesong, just north of Panmunjom, is the Red holding point for Allied POWs.

The apparent switch in the Communist attitude toward these prisoners followed protests by the U. N. Command that the Reds were holding back dozens of men on trumped-up charges.

Along with 133 Americans, the Reds returned 17 British and 250 South Koreans today, the 22nd day of the big exchange.

And 150 Americans and 250 South Koreans will be handed over Thursday, the Reds said.

The Reds have promised to return 12,763 Allied prisoners—including 3,313 Americans—but Red Peiping radio hinted they might send back more.

Peiping said the Communists have been "adding to the (prisoner) list newly captured prisoners," including men captured in the final days of the war. It did not say how many.

A total of 2,128 Americans now have been returned—and many of them are aboard ships plying the Pacific on the journey home.

One transport, the Gen. John Pope, left Inchon Wednesday with 428 Americans. Three others, including a hospital ship with 164 POWs, were within 10 days, sailing time from San Francisco.

The Gen. William F. Hase, carrying nearly 450 ex-prisoners, was due to dock Saturday; the hospital ship Haven will arrive Sept. 4, and the Marine Adder, with 367, should tie up Sept. 4 or 5.

Two American officers brought the news that the Reds probably will return prisoners sentenced to jail for minor offenses.

Lt. George P. Shedd of Spring Hill, Ala., said the Reds commuted terms handed three fellow officers in the last days of the war.

He said the three, and possibly others, were now at Kaesong awaiting repatriation along with about 390 other American officers.

A Michigan pilot, Lt. Henry Nielson of St. Joseph, told newsmen six or seven men sentenced at his camp at Pyoktong were at Kaesong.

TYLER (AP)—New officers will be elected when the Sabine River Authority members meet here Saturday. Engineering and legal reports will be heard and future plans will be drafted. President John Simmons of Orange has announced.

Baptist Meet Opens

FORT WORTH (AP)—Approximately 820 church and denomination workers from 13 states are attending the 33rd annual meeting of the Southwest Baptist Religious Education which opened here yesterday.

428 Americans. Three others, including a hospital ship with 164 POWs, were within 10 days, sailing time from San Francisco.

Hoover Says More Frauds Attempted

WASHINGTON (AP)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said today there was an alarming increase last year in attempted frauds against the government.

His agents, he said, had been called upon to investigate 1,620 such cases during the 12 months ending June 30. Hoover reported that prosecutions resulting from these inquiries had resulted in 202 convictions, up 96 from the previous fiscal year.

He said the savings and recoveries resulting from the investigations amounted to about $3,243,000 during the past year, an increase of almost 50 per cent from the previous 12 months.

The convictions resulted in sentences aggregating more than 437 years.

The report cited as an example of the cases prosecuted one in which there were 22 convictions involving the loan officer of a government agency and officials and employees of a savings and loan company alleged to have induced veterans to make false statements in order to secure low-cost government-guaranteed loans for non-veterans.

Another typical case, Hoover said, involved a series of prosecutions in which a government employee and private citizens attempted to swindle Indians out of their rightful title to land containing valuable timber.

Hoover said the Indians were informed concerning the value of their property and had agreed to let it go at prices far below actual worth.

Twelve More Texans Freed In Exchange Of Prisoners

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Joyous anticipation warmed 12 more Texas families Wednesday. Their soldiers, prisoners of the Communists, had been released and had started the long journey back home.

The 12 men set free Wednesday (Korean Time) brought to 134 the Texans released since the armistice.

They included Pfc. Kenneth Nevill of Dallas whose mother, a cafeteria worker, thought he was dead. "Thank God he's safe," the happy mother said as she hugged a daughter, 17. "We thought he was gone."

In Fort Worth, it was almost the same story for Mrs. Bessie Wilson, mother of another marine.

Pfc. James Stine, 19, Mrs. Wilson's son, was reported missing six days before the armistice.

"I've been hoping," the mother said, "I have been praying I'd hear his name on the radio. I didn't know if he was alive or dead, but I kept waiting and listening to hear it called."

Mrs. Blanche Vollers of Houston had been expecting to hear from her son, too. She said, "I had been expecting it but it still is a thrill and a wonderful feeling." Her son is Sgt. Edwin Vollers, 37, a World War II veteran and former oil company employee.

A Dallas mother, Mrs. Cora Smith, planned to leave Wednesday for San Francisco to greet Cpl. Billy Smith, due on the troopship Gen. Hase Saturday. People at the stove factory where Mrs. Smith works raised the money for her trip.

In San Antonio, Mrs. Ben Sanders termed a Communist report of her son's prison camp death "a terrible shock." The Department of Defense had added her son's name to the list of Texans reported by the Reds to have died in captivity. He was Pfc. Tony Sanders, captured May 18, 1951.

Cpl. Lawrence Heard of Waxahatchie was one of two liberated from Camp 3. He said the Chinese would put men into the "hole" if they refused to pay attention at Communist lectures. He said the Communists would lecture them for hours every day and then occasionally would "give us tests."

Pfc. Eugene Scott, 20, of El Paso, said he once was "slapped around and thrown into the hole for three days" for drawing pic-

Benson Says Study Holds Key To Farm Surplus Problems

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson said yesterday that research and education holds the key to the major farm problems, which he listed as reducing costs, improving quality and expanding markets.

Asking the major farm organizations to give him the benefit of their views on farm problems, Benson said:

"We must think of the entire job, from the test tube right on through to the complicated business of running a farm and distributing farm products . . ."

"If we are to look forward to continuing progress, it is necessary to provide more adequately for research in those fundamental sciences upon which all of agriculture rests."

"This is the source of new principles for the further improvement of our soils, plants and livestock."

Grade School Pupils Will Report Sept. 2

Parents of children in the elementary grades were reminded again Wednesday by school administrators of two important items in connection with the starting of school Sept. 2.

One is that all children in these grades (one through six) are to report on opening day to the school in the district in which they reside.

The other is that all children entering school for the first time must have a birth certificate and certificate of smallpox vaccination. For the benefit of those who do not know in which district they reside, the lines are as follows. (Lines are down center of the street.)

NORTH WARD—North of the Texas & Pacific tracks and east of the Lamesa highway east to the city limits.

KATE MORRISON—North of the tracks and west of the Lamesa highway.

CENTRAL WARD—From the tracks south on Gregg to 8th, west on 9th to Lancaster, south on Lancaster to the point that would be 11th Street, east on the 11th Street line to Gregg, south to 16th, east on 16th to Johnson, north on Johnson to Eleventh Place, east on Eleventh Place to Gollad, north on Gollad to 4th, west on 4th to Nolan, north on Nolan to tracks.

COLLEGE HEIGHTS—All territory south of 16th between Gregg

Clerk Wins Nerve War With Bandit

BALTIMORE (AP)—Mrs. Gertrude Peters, clerk in a Baltimore real estate office, won a war of nerves with a gun-toting bandit yesterday.

She told police the thug entered the office and ordered her to open the door to the cubicle separating office workers from the public. "I won't do it," Mrs. Peters replied firmly.

"I'll shoot you if you don't," countered the bandit. "Go ahead, I'm going to call the police," announced Mrs. Peters. And when she picked up the telephone, the bandit fled.

EAST WARD—From tracks south on Nolan to 4th, east on 4th to Gollad, south on Gollad to Eleventh Place, east on Eleventh Place to State, north on State to line half block north of Stadium, west on this line to Settles, north on Settles to 7th Street, east on 7th to Birdwell Lane.

WASHINGTON PLACE—All territory south of 7th and east of Settles.

There are two special things to be remembered: (1) All sixth grade pupils in the South Ward district go to College Heights because there are only five classrooms at South Ward; (2) all eligible bus students who ride the buses will go to Central Ward. Eligible bus students who are transported privately would go to the school of the district in which they reside.

Dozen Pitchers Aim For 20-Win Mark

By BEN PHEGAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

At least 11 pitchers still nurse hopes of winning 20 games in the Philadelphia Phillies' 20-game winners this season, but most of them will need Lady Luck on their side to make the grade.

With less than five weeks to play, even Roberts, who at one stage looked a good bet to win 20, will probably consider himself extremely fortunate if he comes close to his last year's total of 25.

The strong-armed right-hander posted victory No. 21 last night, just one day shy of two weeks after winning No. 20. Between times he failed in two starts before handcuffing Milwaukee on five hits for a 6-1 decision.

GERALD STALEY

Closest to him in either league is lefty Warren Spahn of the Braves, who won his 18th Sunday.

Five of the other 10 hopefuls worked last night: Carl Erskine of Brooklyn, Gerry Staley of the St. Louis Cardinals and Bob Porterfield of Washington all won their 16th game. Billy Pierce of the Chicago White Sox failed in his bid for No. 17 and Bob Lemon of Cleveland was beaten trying for his 18th.

Harvey Haddix of the Cardinals, pitching his first full season, goes after his 17th victory today against the New York Giants. The others with a chance all are in the American League—Mel Parnell of Boston and Virgil Trucks of Chicago with 17 each and Whitey Ford of New York and Mike Garcia of Cleveland with 15 apiece.

Roberts' success last night enabled the Phillies to break even since the Braves took the second game, 6-2. Brooklyn split a pair with Chicago, losing, 3-1, and winning, 6-3. The Giants beat the Cardinals, 3-0.

Staley found things easy at the Polo Grounds, where the fumbling Giants committed five errors. Ryan Gomez tamed the Cardinals on four hits for his 11th victory and third shutout in the opener.

Clutch home runs by Bob Borkowski in the first game and Roy McMillan in the second gave Cincinnati a sweep at Pittsburgh. The Pirates became the first club in either league to lose 30 games this year but they are almost certain to better their dismal record of last season. All they need are two victories in their remaining 22 games.

Detroit, which seems to play a little better against the Yankees than against the rest of the teams, stayed on even terms with the world champions through 10 innings but the Yanks pushed across four in the 11th, three on a bases-loaded, two-out double by Gil McDougald.

Pierce was beaten by home runs by a pair of former Chicago teammates, Gus Zernial and Dave Philley. Zernial hit two, one of them with a man aboard, and Philley hit one. The White Sox managed only two hits, singles by Nellie Fox and Schemm Lollar, off the combined offerings of Joe Coleman and Morris Martin.

Porterfield bested Lemon with the help of some heavy Washington hitting in the first and fourth innings. Jim Busby hit a three-run homer in the first.

ally which netted five runs—three of them on a home run by Robinson. In the first game, Clyde McCullough doubled home one run and homered with one on for the other two as the Cubs won their first game in Brooklyn this season.

The Big Spring High School Steers don't open their 1953 football schedule until Oct. 2 but for those who can't wait, there'll be any number of games in the area the second week in September.

Fact is, the season will be ushered in here as early as Thursday night, Sept. 10, at which time the Junior High School Yearlings take on Sweetwater at Steer Stadium.

Another Big Spring team, the B squad, visits Stanton Saturday night, Sept. 12, for its annual outing with the Stanton Buffaloes.

If you're spooling for college fare, how about the McMurry-Sul Ross game, which takes place in Midland the same night?

The Breckenridge Buckles will be scouted by some one on Coach Carl Coleman's staff on Sept. 11, at which time they host Graham.

Vernon plays in Wichita Falls and Sweetwater in Levelland on the same night.

In other games, Merkel plays in Ballinger, Winters at Hamlin, Rotan at Lake View (San Angelo), San Saba at Brady and Coleman at Ascan, all on the night of Sept. 11.

Also on that date, Pecos hosts Brownfield. Iran goes to Fort Stockton, Monahan plays host to Wink, DeLeon visits Comanche, Mineral Wells visits Hillsboro, Weatherford entertains Ennis, Roscoe invades Andrews, Kermit visits Hobbs, N. M., and Denver City has Seminole as a guest, if you care to roam that far.

Andy Alonso, who the Big Spring Broncs sold to Artesia, stands a good chance of winning up with more losses than any other Longhorn hurler. He had 15 at this writing.

Odesa Oiler hurlers weren't having any of Joe Bauman in a Longhorn League game played last Saturday night, not after Joe bruised them in the initial inning. They proceeded to walk the Artesia manager four straight times.

Bauman, well on his way to another home run title, hit one 400 feet the first time he came to bat.

Casey Stengel, who has gained a measure of fame for his baseball utterances as well as his success as manager of the New York Yankees, is responsible for this remark, which he made to an inept infielder: "The next time the ball is hit toward you, don't touch it. Then my leftfielder kin come in on it and hold it to a single."

They say Baylor's Bill Henderson suddenly got interested in Charley Warren, the HCJC cager, after Chuck had finally decided to attend the University of Texas.

Jackie Robinson, the Baylor All-American, sent word out that the way was clear for Warren to attend Baylor on a scholarship.

Warren had wanted to attend the Waco school but Slick Hull, the UT mentor, seemed much more interested in him, so he picked Texas.

Chances are he'll play a lot more at Texas, where there is a crying need for starting guards and where they have a loftier regard for little men.

Munn Built Michigan State Into National Grid Power

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—The story of Michigan State football is the success story of Coach Biggie Munn.

When Munn moved here in 1947, Michigan State was a poor relation in football.

The fast-growing agricultural college could boast of some good football years but never had known national renown.

Biggie started building and after stumbling a few times at first finally put together the nation's top football machine.

Michigan State lost only one game in 1950. In 1951 and 1952, the Spartans went unbeaten and now have won 24 in a row.

The Spartans were national champions last year. Once again this fall, it looks as though they'll have the top team.

Munn was selected coach of the year last season. This year, he's leading MSC into official Western Conference football competition for the first time. The Rose Bowl is ahead.

Football has been Munn's entire Munn fits anybody's idea of what a former All-American is or should be. Munn was named to The Associated Press honor team when playing guard for Minnesota in 1931. He picked up the nickname Biggie because there was a pro wrestler named Biggie Munn, No. 10.

Biggie took over when Michigan State Football was in the doldrums. In his first game, the Spartans were trounced by the University of Michigan, 55-0.

The payoff year for the Spartans finally came in 1950, when Munn won the first game against Michigan, 14-7.

Dallas War Birds Widen Loop Lead

By BARD LINDEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Dallas wrapped up Shreveport 5-0, with a 3-hit shutout Tuesday night and dropped the backsliding Sports into fourth place in the Texas League, 3½ games from the second division.

It was the third straight victory for the first-place Eagles over Shreveport, brought off by Red Murf's stunning 16th victory. It was also the sixth straight win for Dallas, all at home, the fifth consecutive defeat for Shreveport.

Fort Worth and Tulsa kept win streaks active. The Cats took sole ownership of second-place, rolling over Beaumont, 5-1, for consecutive victory No. 4. Tulsa whipped San Antonio, 4-1, for its third straight success, moving into third place.

Houston topped Oklahoma City, 4-1, damaging the Indians chances for a coveted first-division position.

DENVER (AP)—Richard Stroud, apprentice jockey from El Paso, Tex., rode three straight winners at Centennial Park yesterday to boost his season's string to 21.

LL, Pony Loop Sponsors Meet

Little League and Pony League sponsors hold their final meeting of the year at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in John Dibrrell's Sporting Goods store, at which time plans for the 1954 season will be discussed.

Officers for the season ahead, including the president, player's agent, secretary-treasurer and commissioner, will probably be named, too.

Efforts will also be made to appoint a rules committee and an umpire-in-chief for the '54 campaign.

Poncho Nall, who called the meeting, said the small-fry leagues operated here in the 'black' all season, thanks to the generosity of the sponsors and the profit realized from concessions sales.

He added he did not know how much profit the league's books would show, however.

Nall extended a special invitation to the meeting for persons who desire to sponsor teams in the 1954 season.

The Little League and Pony League play has already been concluded here for the year.

TIMES HAVE CHANGED

It Requires Many A Gadget To Outfit Average Golfer

If golf is a game of power, fitness and concentration, it is also a game of gadgets.

Time was when all a linker needed to play was a ball and two or three clubs. He usually found he could get by with a wood, a mid-iron and a putter.

Now times have changed. So many different kinds of clubs are now manufactured, the United States Golf Association had to put a limit on the number of sticks a player can carry in tournament play.

Beside a variety of clubs and balls a player lugs around (in a gaudy bag these days, grab a look at the many gadgets he or his caddy takes with them on his tour of the golf course.

That instrument he might carry around on his wrist might look like a watch. Chances are, instead, it's what is called a golfer's Pal, which records each stroke he makes.

Score cards used to suffice. Now, the alert manufacturer market a Score-master, which does the same job without benefit of a pencil.

If he needs lessons while he tours the course, he can carry a Pocket-Pro with him, which charts a course of improvement for his game. If he practices what it preaches.

For resting when his opponent might be killing snakes over in the rough, a collapsible chair has been perfected. It weighs less than three pounds and can be opened and closed with the pressure of his hand.

Chances are the masher wielder keeps somewhere on his person or in his locker, too, a spike wrench for replacing the spikes on his shoes.

One of the newer things on the market is a stymie marker, which deposits talcum powder at a spot on the green where the player's ball might lie.

Most all the linksters now use club covers for all their woods. They come in gay colors to help an already colorful game. Jimmy Demaret takes pride in the fact that his covers are made of milk.

Golf balls can now be carried on the belt, thanks to a holder made to fit any size belt. The gad-

LONGHORN GRIDDERS WILL TAKE PHYSICAL AT 12:45 THURSDAY

Members of the Big Spring High School A and B football teams will gather at the fieldhouse at 12:45 p.m. Thursday for their annual physical examinations.

Dr. J. E. Hogan will be the doctor in charge.

The examinations are permitted to be held before Sept. 1, under Texas interscholastic League rules.

Equipment will be issued to the team at 7 a.m. Tuesday morning. Skull practice will be conducted at 2 p.m. and actual workouts will start at 4 p.m. the first day.

The team will scrimmage an out-of-town team, yet unknown, on Saturday to climax its first week of workouts. It will scrimmage another team Monday afternoon, Sept. 7.

The Steers have three weeks in which to get ready for their opening game, which will be played against the San Angelo Colts in Angelo the night of Sept. 18.

Head Coach Carl Coleman has appealed for all players to be present for the Thursday physical. They will not be permitted to play football unless they pass the examination.

Jones Challenges Gavilan Tonight

By MURRAY ROSE
NEW YORK (AP)—There's no doubt that Welterweight Champion Kid Gavilan is slipping but the big question is how much.

Ralph (Tiger) Jones, the Yorker, N. Y., middleweight, will try to supply the answer tonight when he faces the 147-pound champion in a non-title 10-rounder in Madison Square Garden. The 9 p.m. (EST) bout will be telecast coast to coast by CBS.

Gavilan is a 2-1 favorite but the rugged 25-year-old Negro is good enough to make the kid work for his money. Unbeaten in his last seven fights, Jones holds two wins over Danny (Bang Bang) Womber, who came up with the ring upset of the year May 2 when he defeated the over-confident Kid.

Since that loss, Gavilan has scored decisions over Italo Scorticini and Ramon Fuentes. He wasn't any ball of fire in either bout. The Cuban Flash, now 27, generally doesn't like to go out unless the big chips are on the line.

He may consider Jones big enough and then there could be some fireworks. Unlike some of his critics, Gavilan doesn't think he's fading. He believes his added savvy and punching power makes up for the loss of some of his once-dazzling speed.

His ambition hasn't dimmed either. He hopes to whip Jones, Carmen Basilio and Johnny Britton in welter title fights, and then get a crack at the winner of the Bobo Olson-Randy Turpin middleweight championship contest.

The 154-pound Jones saw how Womber best Gavilan by swarming all over him. He plans to use the same tactics against Gavilan, who will weigh about 152. The Cuban likes to stay back, take his time, and then stage an eye-catching rally in the last half minute or so of each round. Wom-

CARL ERSKINE

Yanks To Pit Ace Mound Staff Against Bum Power

NEW YORK (AP)—It'll be the irascible New York Yankee pitching staff against the immovable Brooklyn Dodger batters when, and if, the teams clash in the World Series this fall.

The Yankee hurlers have accounted for 17 shutouts, the highest mark in the major leagues. On the other hand, the power-laden Dodgers have been blanked only once, the lowest total in either circuit.

The Brooks lead the National League by nine games, and the Yankees the American by 9½.

Of the 17 Yankee whitewashings, Vic Raschi leads with four, Whitey Ford has recorded three, Jim McDonald, Ed Lopat and Bob Kusava have two each and Albie Reynolds and Johnny Sain have one apiece.

Raschi and Art Schalkoff teamed up for one as did McDonald and Tom Gorman. The champions themselves have been shut out seven times.

The Dodger mound corps have come up with 10 blankings, the third highest record in the National League. Carl Erskine, the right-handed ace, has four. Russ Meyer has two and Billy Loos, Preacher Roe and Johnny Podres one each.

Meyer and Jim Hughes combined for one more.

The Washington Senators, with Bob Porterfield's eight (the major league high) are second in team shutouts with 15. Walt Masterson has blanked the opposition four times, Connie Marrero twice and Frank Sims once.

Milwaukee Braves' pitchers lead the National League with 12. Lefty Warren Spahn (18-5), has five shutouts followed by Bob Buhl with three, Johnny Antonelli and Max Surkont with two each and Lew Burdette with one.

Weaver To Greet 32 Vets When Tech Drills Open

LUBBOCK (Sp1)—Thirty-two returning lettermen will be among the approximately 100 candidates reporting at Texas Tech's first football practice session Tuesday morning.

Coach DeWitt Weaver will get less than three weeks to get his Red Raiders ready for their opening game, a Border Conference clash with West Texas State here Sept. 19.

In his third year at Tech, Weaver is hoping to get the Raiders' only two-way starter throughout the season. Other starters who must be replaced are tackles Marland Ribble and Hollee Davis, both of Fort Worth, guard Vernon Barron of Temple, fullback Charles (Sandy) Welton of Fairmont, West Va., and end Lew Crossley of Eastland.

Both Ribble and Welton played considerable double duty ball. Barron started every Tech game, on offense, for three successive years, and Davis made the All-Border Conference (AP) team at offensive tackle. Despite his slight build, Crossley was a first team wingman for three seasons.

End Vic Spooner of Colquitt, Ga., and guard Don Gray of Breckenridge succeed Turner and Barron as co-captains.

By positions, other returning lettermen in the split-T operating Tech lineup are:

Centers Don Funk of Chickasha, Okla., and Ralph Martin of Fort Worth.

Guards L. W. Fitzhugh of Strythville, Ark., Ray Howard of Childress, and Bob Hunt of Altus, Okla.

Tackles Bobby Lambert of Nixon, Jimmie Williams of Phillips, Arlen Wesley of Littlefield (from 1951), did not play last fall), Jerry Walker of Pampa, Bill Bryan of Pecos (end last year), Barton Massey of Bowie (center last year).

Ends Paul Erwin of Odesa, Billy Wright of Lubbock, Ken Kummer of Detroit, Mich., Dean White of Lubbock, R. D. Bradshaw of Childress, and Harold Spraggins of West Point, Ga.

Quarterbacks Jerry Johnson of Hale Center, Jack Kirkpatrick of Post (halfback last year), and Carl Madison of Altmore, Ala.

Halfbacks Don Lewis of Quitaque, Norman Jones of Lubbock, Pat Green of Paducah, Elmer

Wilson of Pampa, Joe Moore of Abilene, Bobby Cavazos of Kingsville, and John Thompson of Brownfield.

Fullbacks Rick Spinks of Kermit, James Sides of Lubbock, and Gary Boyer of Berger.

After opening with West Texas State in Jones Stadium, Tech will meet Texas Western and Oklahoma A&M on the road, Texas A&M, College of the Pacific, and New Mexico A&M on successive weekends at home, Mississippi State at Jackson, Arizona here, Tulsa and Houston there, and Hardin-Simmons here.

Polly Riley Is Still A Threat In Women's Amateur Meet

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—A few prominent feminine golfing names, which somehow had escaped their usual amount of attention during the first few days, popped up again today as the 33rd U. S. Women's Amateur Golf Championship got down to 32 players.

In the early scramble over such new stars as Marlene Stevart, Pat Lesser and Barbara Romack, the experts and galleries alike seemed to forget about the 1951 champion Dorothy Kirby and such rugged contenders as Polly Riley and Mary Lena Faulk.

Possibly that was because they haven't been playing frequently and the younger girls had more chance to win.

But as the girls went into the fourth round today, with the top-sided draw finally brought into balance, the chances of this trio looked very good.

Miss Riley, one of the few top-flight stars who had to play right through from the first round, could show victories by margins of 7 and 5, 6 and 4, and 3 and 2. And the last two were against a pair of very strong rivals, Edean Anderson and Pat Devany.

Miss Faulk, who compiled a fine winning record during the winter and spring, shot the best golf of the opening day—even par for 13 holes—in a 7 and 5 victory and followed it up yesterday with a 6 and 4 decision over Mary Sargent of Memphis, a player of no little ability. And Miss Kirby moved into the fourth round with an 8 and 7 decision over Gloria Armstrong of Alameda.

The three tournament-tested stars have one thing in common, besides lack of publicity. The combination of hot weather and hard work has kept them from playing much this summer.

Miss Kirby, who sells advertising for an Atlanta television station, hadn't played seriously since the Western Women's Open in June until she came here. Miss Riley, a Fort Worth law office secretary, hadn't done any more, and Miss Faulk, who works in her father's auto agency in Thomasville, Ga., dropped out of the tournament picture after losing in the semifinals of the British Women's Championship last spring.

Devildogs Are Still Unbeaten

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—The San Diego Marine Devildogs downed the four-time U. S. champions, the Fort Wayne, Ind., North Americans 6-4 last night in the National Non-Pro Tournament play here.

By the victory San Diego entered the fifth round undefeated and will play the winner of Wednesday night's All-Army game in Friday's battle.

In the nighttime San Diego Naval Air Skyriders, California Champions, scored an easy 14-to-0 victory over the Jersey City, N. J., Wilsons. The losers were eliminated.

Artesia Smacks Roswell Again

By The Associated Press

San Angelo's Mario Saldana salvaged the final game of the 3-game set with Midland, whipping the Indians, 6-3, on six hits Tuesday night.

It was well and good for the Longhorn League leaders that Saldana broke the spell for second-place Carlsbad, won, 7-4, over Odesa. San Angelo holds a thin lead of a game and a half over Carlsbad.

Artesia smacked Roswell, 7-5.

Dusters Oppose Midland Friday

The Webb Air Base Dusters, unsharpened out of the Southwest Air Force Softball Tournament in two straight games last week, take on a Midland team on their own diamond at 8 o'clock Friday night.

The two clubs play a return engagement in Midland next Tuesday evening.

Webb lost first to Goodfellow AFB of San Angelo, 4-3; then to Perrin of Sherman, 5-4, in tournament play at Amarillo.

Tuesday night the East Texans cut a full game from the lead by topping Paris, 3-1. The Spuders bowed to Bryan, 4-3.

Texarkana Manager Chuck Hawley pitched his club past Temple, 2-1, and Austin cut down Longview, 5-3.

Record School Enrollment Seen Across United States This Fall

By W. JOYNES MACFARLAN
WASHINGTON (AP) — Lee M. Thurston, U. S. commissioner of education, said today a record 36,949,700 children will enroll in schools and colleges during the 1953-54 academic year.

That would be two million more than the previous record of 34,993,100 set last school year.

Thurston praised the way the American people "are doing more than they have ever done before for the education of our nation's children," but in the same statement he said:

"This fall the United States will be short about 345,000 public elementary and secondary school classrooms. Three classrooms out of every five will be overcrowded. One out of every five pupils will go to school . . . in a schoolhouse which does not meet minimum fire safety conditions."

He also said school construction is not keeping pace with demands and not enough persons are being trained and not enough persons are being trained to meet the demand.

The commissioner said it was estimated that private and public elementary schools will enroll 26,931,000 children this coming school year, with more than three million entering the first grade. Last year the enrollment was 25,349,000.

The estimate for all secondary schools is 7,302,000 pupils, compared with 7,028,000 last year, and colleges and universities are expected to enroll 2,500,000 compared with 2,400,000.

"By 1960," Thurston said, "it is estimated that there will be 10 million more pupils and students in our nation's schools and colleges, both public and private, than there were last spring."

The commissioner said Americans taxed themselves about 500 million dollars more last year than the year before to provide for their schools; spent about 7 1/2 billion dollars to operate the public schools and construct new buildings; and increased the average salary of the classroom teacher from about $3,240 to $3,400.

Last year about 50,000 new classrooms were built, compared with 47,000 the preceding year, to set new records, Thurston said, and another record of more than 50-000 new classrooms is expected this academic year.

Despite this, he continued, "school construction in the United States is not keeping pace with classroom needs. Increased enrollments, building deterioration and obsolescence will create the need for an additional 425,000 classrooms and related facilities by 1960. About 36,000 are in some stage of construction at this time."

He said the national total capital investment in elementary and secondary school plants is 16 billion dollars for public and 1 1/2 billion dollars for private schools with the colleges and universities having plants representing capital investment of 6 1/2 billion dollars.

"The number of persons being prepared as teachers is inadequate to meet teacher needs," he said. "Some 45,700 qualified graduates for the elementary field came out of the colleges this year. Since there is a need for 118,000 public elementary school teachers, the net shortage of qualified elementary schoolteachers this September will be about 72,000."

"This shortage can be overcome only by further overcrowding, or by recruiting into the elementary school teachers whose qualifications fall short of desirable standards."

GOP To Start '54 Campaign Shortly

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republicans are matching Democratic efforts to kick off the 1954 congressional campaign months earlier than usual.

A meeting of 1,500 Midwest and Southern women leaders in Chicago Sept. 18-19 is being enlarged to include representatives from 18 states, the Republican National Committee said yesterday.

The Democrats have a big rally scheduled for Sept. 14-15 in Chicago, with 1952 presidential candidate Adlai E. Stevenson as key speaker.

Republican meeting plans call for a major address Sept. 18 by Postmaster General Summerfield and other speeches by National Chairman Leonard W. Hall, Governors William G. Stratton of Illinois and Walter J. Kohler of Wisconsin, and Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill.), head of the GOP Senate Campaign Committee.

States to be represented are Arkansas, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas and Wisconsin.

Getting Flat Feet Had Compensations

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Police officer Peter Eilena, 23, got flat feet after two days walking a beat. But it had its compensations.

He and the chiropractor's nurse, Gail Ledwidge, 19, announced yesterday they'll be married Oct. 11. They first met when he limped in to get aid for his fallen arches.

British Transfer Scientist With Parents Inside Russia

LONDON (AP) — The British government has transferred one of its atomic scientists, whose Russian mother and British father live in the Soviet Union, from his post at Britain's chief atomic research laboratory.

A government announcement said the scientist, Russian-born Dr. Boris Davison, 42, has been given a year's leave of absence with pay from the highly secret Harwell nuclear fission laboratory. He will spend the year doing research at Birmingham University.

British newspapers said his post was changed because the Cabinet feared Soviet agents might try to blackmail him with threats against his parents in Russia.

The Daily Express said the Cabinet feared "if Dr. Davison were kept in his job, extreme anti-Communists in America might use the fact as 'proof' that British security is bad. That might ruin negotiations to widen the interchange of atomic secrets with Britain."

The Conservative Daily Telegraph added that Davison's "reliability has never been in question."

Davison was an early associate of Dr. Klaus Fuchs and took over many of the latter's duties after Fuchs was sentenced to 14 years

Man Freed After 52 Years In State Pen

THOMASTON, Maine (AP) — Edward Graffam, 77, for 52 years a Maine State Prison inmate, looked forward today to "a quiet, peaceful life."

Graffam, the prison's oldest inmate, was freed yesterday under a new state law permitting parole for lifers who have served at least 30 years.

Convicted of murder during a robbery—a crime he still denies committing—Graffam will work as a cook for two prison guards who maintain bachelor quarters.

"I've hoped and prayed for this day a great many years," he said.

Chinese Girl Quizzes Curious Of Fashions

FREEDOM VILLAGE (AP) — Pvt. Robert D. Falminto, 18, was questioned by a 19-year-old Chinese woman while he was a prisoner of war.

What about?

Why, said the Newark, N. J., soldier, freed today, she asked "how women dressed in the United States."

Nearly half of U. S. beef and practically all veal comes from dairy animals.

St. Louis To Be Jammed During Legion Convention

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The American Legionnaires are coming to town next week, and every hotel and tourist court for 25 miles around is booked solid.

Some 35,000 members of the legion and its auxiliaries are expected for the legion's 25th national convention. More than 5,000 rooms in private homes have been promised to take care of the overflow.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon and three Cabinet members head the list of speakers for the convention proper Monday through Thursday.

The grand parade, always a highlight of the meeting, will start at 10 a. m. Tuesday. Legion officials say it will require 10 hours to pass a given point, with about 100,000 persons, including about 250 bands and drum and bugle corps, marching in it.

The advance guard already is streaming into town. Preconvention events will include a speech at 12:15 p. m. Friday by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), chairman of the Senate Investigating Committee. He will speak before a joint meeting of the legion's commissions on foreign affairs, Americanism and security.

To help guard against shenanigans such as those that marred conventions several years ago, a special service committee of 410 legionnaires has been formed. The members are St. Louis policemen, Missouri highway patrolmen and St. Louis County officers.

Legion officials say they aren't expecting such trouble this time. David H. Fleischer, executive vice president of the St. Louis Legion Convention Corp., said damage claims have not exceeded $500 for any of the past five national conventions.

Nixon and Secretary of the Navy Robert B. Anderson will speak Monday. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles Wednesday, and Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson Thursday.

Italian Woman Is 110

ROME (AP) — The oldest woman in Rome, Antonia di Pasquale, observed her 110th anniversary this month and complained that by her reckoning she's probably really six years older than that. Her birth records were lost in a town hall fire when she was a child. When she next recorded her age, at the time of her marriage, she figures she may have "underestimated a bit," as young women will.
