

Five Killed, 24 Hurt In Car-Bus Crash

HYDRO, Okla. (AP)—Five persons were killed and 24 were injured today, many critically, when a Greyhound bus and a car pulling a house trailer collided on a bridge and plunged 25 feet into a ravine.

Two of the injured were from Lubbock. They are Martina Olivet Tate and Bobby K. Lee. Both were taken to a hospital at Weatherford. The extent of their injuries was not made known at once.

The dead were unidentified five hours after the collision three miles west of here on Highway 66.

Marshall E. W. Lewis, one of the first on the scene, said the dead were scattered about and the injured were screaming for help.

One of the dead was a baby. It was in the car, which had an Arizona tag. A woman in the car also was killed and a man who was driving received a broken back.

Weatherford Police Chief George Miller said the wrecked house trailer hung on the bridge about 20 feet after the car and bus hurtled down the ravine. He said the superstructure had been ripped off and laid on the east side of the highway. Its contents were strewn about the area and a baby chair

Dulles And Rhee Agreement Seen On Defense Pact

By ROBERT D. TUCKMAN
SEOUL (AP)—U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and President Syngman Rhee, apparently in accord on a U. S.-Korean mutual security pact, today mapped plans for the reconstruction of war-torn South Korea.

Dulles and top aides spent almost two hours with the South Korean President while subordinate officers worked on final details of a mutual defense pact.

Authoritative sources said the treaty—subject to ratification by the U. S. Senate—could be ready for initialing before Dulles leaves Saturday for Washington.

Dulles told newsmen after today's session the talks were going "fine."

South Korean sources said there was some discussion of unification and common strategy to be used at the special session of the United Nations Assembly opening Aug. 17. They said there also was talk of strategy to be used at the Korean political conference to be held this fall.

South Korean informants said work on the security pact was nearing completion.

Later in the day, Dulles and the 78-year-old Rhee toured Seoul alone for a look at the city and what the U. S. diplomat called an informal chat.

Dulles said today's meeting, the second since he arrived Tuesday, was devoted largely to plans for spending 200 million dollars already voted by Congress to start the rehabilitation of South Korea.

The money is the first of an expected 900 million dollar allocation to be spread over a three or four-year period.

Dulles said Army Secretary Robert Stevens did most of the talking at the meeting because the appropriation will come from Defense Department funds.

Dulles said the potentially explosive question of Korean unification had not yet been discussed but probably would come up at Friday's session, set for 10 a. m. (8 p. m. EST, Thursday).

He said he may see Rhee again Saturday before leaving for Tokyo.

Dulles said he plans to spend a day in Tokyo and take off for Washington Monday.

Lower level U. S. and South Korean officials, meeting for the second straight day, reportedly were ironing out the differences between the United States and South Korean drafts of the defense pact.

They reported "considerable progress."

Gen. Clark Says U.N. Has Evidence

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Mark Clark said today the Reds may hold between 2,000 and 3,000 more American prisoners than the 3,313 they have said they will exchange.

The Far East commander also told a news conference he applied today for retirement from the Army, effective Oct. 31. He said he had made no plans as to what he will do when he drops his uniform after 40 years Army service.

Clark said of the Korean prisoners:

The United Nations has evidence indicating the Communists hold many more prisoners who should be returned.

"Thousands upon thousands" of South Koreans still are unaccounted for and there "may be between 2,000 and 3,000" more Americans in enemy prison camps.

Clark, who will return to his Tokyo headquarters in a few days, said the Third Marine Division, now under way to the Far East, will be stationed in Japan.

He said there are no plans now "for anybody to come back from Korea."

He explained he meant there is no current intention to move any large combat unit from Korea.

Reports earlier said Clark would head The Citadel, South Carolina's military college.

Clark said when the Communists first offered to exchange something over 3,000 American prisoners after a cease fire, he reported to Washington the total was close to the estimates made earlier by his command of the number of Americans who might have been captured.

He said later information, obtained from Americans returned in the sick and wounded exchange early in May and from other, unidentified sources, led to the belief the enemy actually holds many more Americans.

The Far Eastern commander said Washington authorized him to continue the armistice negotiations, reserving the right to "protest and pursue" the matter of additional prisoners in the military armistice commission which now is supervising the truce.

"All we could have done was to accuse the Reds (of holding back on prisoners) without positive proof," Clark said.

Clark was asked whether the United Nations could have won the war in Korea. He replied:

"We could have won if we had

Dick Haymes To Be Tossed Out Of U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Actor-singer Dick Haymes was picked up today for deportation to his native Argentina.

Atty. Gen. Brownell announced the arrest, made by immigration service inspectors at Los Angeles.

Brownell said the reason for Haymes' deportation warrant was that during World War II he filed a certificate for exemption from military service as a citizen of a neutral nation.

The attorney general said Haymes, 34, thus is ineligible for naturalization under the McCarran-Walter Immigration Act "and therefore automatically deportable."

"The fact that he had obtained relief from military service was disclosed June 1, 1953, when he was examined at Los Angeles on his return from a trip to Honolulu," the announcement said.

Haymes was born in Buenos Aires Sept. 13, 1918, and entered this country for permanent residence May 28, 1937.

Haymes had just returned to the West Coast after finishing television engagements in the East.

Haymes, now married to a former wife of Errol Flynn, has been frequently in the company of actress Rita Hayworth lately.

Two Injured In Martin Mishap

Two men were brought to a hospital here following a two-car collision at noon today five miles west of Stanton in Martin County.

Both men apparently were suffering from head injuries and one was believed to have a broken leg. However, full extent of their injuries had not been determined.

The collision occurred near the intersection of US 80 and the County road.

Felda Marshall of Breckenridge was reported to be in a critical condition, suffering serious shock, a head injury and leg injury.

C. V. Wash of Forsan suffered a knee injury and head lacerations. His condition was believed to be less serious.

Wash was travelling west, and Marshall was travelling east. They were brought to Big Spring in ambulances from Arrington funeral home in Stanton.

Phone Wage Offer Called Not Enough

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A union official has called a wage proposal for the 53,000 CIO employees of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. "highly unsatisfactory."

Frank Loneragan, vice president of District 6 of the CIO Communications Workers of America, said yesterday the union will study the proposal but he noted "it can say that on the face of it it appears to be highly unsatisfactory."

The company offered increases ranging from $1 to $2.50 a week.

Employees have authorized their negotiating committee to call a strike should it consider one necessary. The company said the wage boost would cost about 5 1/2 million dollars.

Released Americans Tell Tales Of Prison Torture

By GEORGE A. MCARTHUR
PANMUNJOM (AP)—The Communists gave back 232 Allied war prisoners today. Two already are dead and others were gaunt and baggard but many returned to freedom laughing and shouting.

Seventy Americans came out of Red prisons. Forty-two of them were sick or wounded.

The Communists said they would send back 400 more Allied captives tomorrow in the third day of the Korean War prisoner exchange. Eighty-one will be Americans, bringing the total for three days to 221.

One South Korean died in a Communist ambulance en route to Panmunjom today. Another died shortly after.

Still other ROK soldiers were reported at the edge of death. They looked pitiful.

Some Americans appeared in good shape and the 25 British and 25 Turks all appeared healthy.

U. S. men told of torture in North Korean stockades. They told of hunger and beatings and buddies who died.

Many of the die hard Red prisoners sent north broke into a frenzied demonstration as they left U. N. hands. They howled, screamed, ripped their clothing and went back to communism nearly naked. Two fell in an escape attempt.

One Red smashed an American ambulance driver in the nose.

They threw boots, clothing and other gear at U. N. personnel. One officer was spit in the mouth and suffered a split lip.

The U. N. Command protested sharply. A U. N. officer said later the Communists told him "they would take measures to see that incidents do not happen again."

The outburst obviously were set up for waiting Red photographers and newsmen.

One American ambulance driver said they had orders not to make any move against the rebellious Reds. He said they were told to grin and bear it.

Some of the South Koreans angrily tore off their clothing and shouted at Red personnel, but they did not attack them. One South Korean spat at a nearby Communist officer.

A pain-wracked South Korean summed up the ROK feelings as "May God damn the Communists!"

In general, the Americans appeared to be somewhere between the good health of the British and the ragged condition of the South Koreans. Some sick or wounded Americans were taken to hospitals while others appeared in excellent condition.

This aftermath of war already has raised galling questions: Why had the Reds held back these sick and wounded men from their departure for Panmunjom, and that "most of them had only minor ailments."

Maj. Gen. Chol Suk, in charge of receiving returned ROK prisoners, said angrily the latest group of South Koreans "are worse, more ill, than those returned to us in Little Switch (the April disabled exchange)—and they were ill long before Little Switch."

The Communists handed these men back without comment.

One of the first Americans freed in the second day's exchange was

Survey Nears 3,000 Mark

Number of X-rays given thus far in the mass survey here approached the 3,000 mark at noon today.

Activities at X-ray Center, Zale's Jewelry, had slowed down this morning, however, and survey officials repeated their appeals for a heavy turnout of Howard County residents.

The chest X-rays may be obtained through Saturday. There is no charge for the service and it requires only a minute to get the examination.

Number of X-rays administered during the first three and a half days of the survey was approximately 2,900. Health Department and Howard County Tuberculosis Association leaders hope the number will exceed 3,000 by the time the survey ends Saturday.

Vic Alexander is chairman of the mass survey sponsored by the two agencies. He reports that the X-ray Center will be open daily from 8:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.

Final Hearing Is Set On Dairy Complaints

A final hearing concerning the controversy over local milk inspections has been tentatively set Friday at 2 p. m.

Plans now call for city and county commissioners to confer with delegates from the Howard County Dairy Association and members of the health unit.

County Judge R. H. Weaver was trying to contact Dr. Charles A. Pigford of Midland to inform him of the meeting. Richard Brazee, milk inspector, is also expected to attend the meeting.

The joint meeting was slated this morning after Dalton Galloway of the dairy association submitted an 11-point protest against Brazee to the Howard County Commissioners' Court. Galloway and several other dairymen stated they wished another hearing.

Mayor G. W. Dabney said yesterday that if either side to the controversy desired further airing of differences it could be arranged. Jack Y. Smith, who missed Wednesday's hearing with Pigford and Brazee, is also anxious for another session.

After Wednesday's hearing with health unit officials, both Mayor Dabney and Judge Weaver told Dr. Pigford they did not think inspectors should be lax in enforcing rules and regulations. However, they said cooperation should be maintained between inspectors and dairymen.

"We've heard both sides of the story in separate sessions," Weaver said. "Now we need to get both groups together and try to iron this thing out."

Dr. Pigford presented a long list of complaints against area dairymen in Wednesday's meeting with city and county officials. The health officials displayed reports of lab tests with their said disclosed milk bacteria counts as high as 5,000,000 and up to 30 per cent of "added water."

Both Pigford and Brazee stated that dairy permits were revoked only when dairymen do not comply with sanitation regulations.

Dairymen had previously met with both city and county commissioners and charged that Inspector Brazee was making his own rules for granting and revoking dairy permits. Dairymen said Brazee would not co-operate with them in locating causes for and correcting high bacteria counts before revoking permits.

Protests against Brazee submitted to commissioners in writing by dairymen today were as follows:

Failure to use the 3 day methods set out in the code for grading a dairy.

Failure to work to find a dairymen's trouble in regard to locating the source of high bacteria.

Failure to use "horse sense" in making all decisions about the grading or degrading of a dairy.

Failure to hold a hearing according to the code before degrading of a dairy.

Failure to use the four sample method on all dairymen, set out in the code, in regard to the taking of samples of milk for bacteria counts.

Failure to go by the code in regard to the painting of a dairy barn. Also white washing regulation.

Farm Income Drops 18 Per Cent Over Texas From 1952

AUSTIN (AP)—Farm income in Texas tumbled 18 per cent the first six months of 1953 compared to a year ago, the University of Texas reported today.

The total on the 331,000 farms was 648 million dollars, the report said. It was 144 million dollars below 1952.

Cotton growers and cattle raisers lost the most. Cotton income was down nearly 77 million dollars and income from cattle dropped 82.

Cottonseed, sorghum and wheat earnings declined 80, 64 and 46 per cent.

Flaxseed, oats, sheep, lambs and eggs brought in higher earnings.

President Vetoes Movie Tax Repeal

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower vetoed today a bill which would have repealed the 20 per cent federal tax on movie tickets.

It was the first major piece of legislation Eisenhower has refused to approve.

In a "memorandum of disapproval," he said he was taking this step because the government cannot afford the loss of revenue and "it is unfair to single out one industry for relief at this time."

The action amounted to a "pocket veto"—that is, letting a bill go unsigned while congress was not in session. This has the effect of killing the legislation.

The bill passed both the Senate and House overwhelmingly, despite objections by the Treasury Department.

Eisenhower has said repeatedly that taxes should not be cut until a balanced budget is in sight. Treasury spokesmen argued the movie theater tax brought in a needed 100 million dollars annually and, if repealed, would invite demands for similar relief from other industries.

Last night the House Ways and Means Committee got such pleas from actors, legitimate theater owners, play producers and managers.

The legitimate theater people told the committee, which is study-

MANSFIELD TAKES LEAD 6,000 Turn Out For Opening Performance Of Annual Rodeo

A crowd estimated by Rodeo Bowl Manager Harry Lees at 6,000 turned out last night to witness what was some of the fastest action even seen in the history of the Big Spring Cowboy Rodeo.

The spectators saw Big Spring's favorite cowboy, Toots Mansfield, take first place in the calf roping with a time of 18.3 seconds on a big Brahma, and only six out of 25 riders qualified by staying aboard the bulls and broncs for eight seconds.

It was an exciting show that Tommy Steiner of Austin produced, and Ray Lackland of Galveston announced. It moved along at a gallop and gave the animals an opportunity to show plenty of action.

Performance music during the show was played by Jim King and his Cosden Playboys, a group composed, in addition to the leader, of Chandler, and Ronnie King.

The clowning and bull fighting was done by Fess Reynolds of California; Benny Bender of Wyoming and Willy Williams. Arca Judges two were still aboard when the whistle sounded. They were Bog Fisher of Alberta, Canada, and Tex Martin of Sanderson. Ten riders came out on the bulls and the first of these was Jack Buchanan of Big Spring, but only a pair, James Ward of Crane and Tex Martin were still behind the Brahma humps when the time was up.

Clay Smith of Colorado City and Gerald Hart of Snyder tied for second place in the calf roping with 17.7 seconds. They were followed by Johnny Chapman of Vernon with 18.1 and Ronnie Huchabee of Andrews with 18.2 seconds.

Another Big Spring cowboy, Monte Crawford, had the fastest time in the bulldogging with his six seconds flat. Tex Martin was second with 6.6 and Joe Patterson of Fort Worth was in third place with 7.2 seconds.

Darlen Young of Lovington won the night's section of the cowgirls barrel race in 18.3 seconds. Billie

Cracks Show In Red Rail Travel Blockade

By RICHARD KASISCHKE

BERLIN (AP)—The Communist Berlin's free food stations were cracking today under the pressure of East Germany's hungry millions.

Thousands of Soviet zoners were joining the throngs of East Berliners lining up for food packages. Many reported they had been able to buy railroad tickets to Berlin for the first time since Saturday, when the East government clamped on its ban.

East Germany's government made no announcement it was lifting its ban, and in many places tickets reportedly still were not on sale. Relief officials, however, reported that people from farther reaches of the Soviet zone said railway employees had sold them tickets quietly at various stations.

The cracks in the blockade became apparent last night after railroad workers in Brandenburg province—which rings Berlin—slipped through 40,000 of their hungry countrymen.

Others got around the travel ban by bicycling, hitchhiking with trailer trucks or coming by bus to stations near Berlin and then on foot into the city. Railroadmen also smuggled through many parcels for their families and friends.

At the close of distribution last night nearly 100,000 parcels had been distributed, despite bad weather and the travel restrictions, to lift the 10-day total to 1,600,000.

As further evidence that Communist police control was breaking down, a record number of 51 men deserted from the Easter "people's police" army and gendarmes yesterday and last night. This topped the previous daily record of 48 set in June.

Many deserters said they were revolting against orders to enforce the hunger blockade and persecute East German hungry who had come to Berlin to fetch the American parcels.

Perhaps due to this police sabotage, East zone reports said that confiscation of food gifts appeared to be easing. But the violent press and radio propaganda campaign against the "Ami (American) pig-gar parcels" continued unabated.

Two men enlisted in the Army through the local recruiting office this week. They are Billy L. Richbourg of Big Spring and Tyra G. Gentry of Lamesa.

Both men were sent to Fort Sill, Oklahoma, from here and will be assigned to other bases for their basic training. They enlisted for three years.

Food Packs Hide Origin In America

BERLIN (AP)—The East Germans call them "Ami-pakete"—American packages. But there's nothing in or on them to show their American origin.

More than a million and a half hunger sufferers under communism have received the Western food in the first 10 days of the U. S.-financed, German-operated food relief program in West Berlin.

But what the hungry hordes from the East are getting in the West Berlin giveaway is not one big package. It is—

—two pounds of "schmaltz" pork lard in unmarked cellophane;
—two pounds of white flour in an unmarked cloth sack;
—a pound of dried peas in an unmarked paper bag;

—four small cans of milk.
To hold these, the East Germans bring their own shopping bags, briefcases, suitcases and other carryalls. In them go the individual items of free food for the trip home, past the grabbing hands of Communist border police.

Some of the schmaltz came originally in cardboard cartons with American labels. Mindful of Communist threats to seize the food and wreak vengeance on its recipients, Western welfare workers ripped off the cartons at the food distribution centers. The lard is handed over in the tough inner cellophane wrapping.

Some of the flour also comes from the storehouses in cartons with American labels. It goes into unidentifiable cloth sacks.

The canned milk came from a West German company with a famous American name. The label was in the German language. The hungry ripped off most of the labels before they reached the Iron Curtain border.

Despite these precautions, at least 50,000 East Germans have been stopped by the Red police and robbed of their food gifts.

Drinking Bout For Guards Proves Fatal

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The guards on Mexico's penal island in the Pacific were bored and decided a drink was in order. They whipped up a mixture of alcohol, ether and lemon juice.

Four guards died, a fifth was blinded and two others became gravely ill.

The story came out when the alling drinkers were flown for treatment to Mexico City from Islas Marias, where Mexico's most dangerous criminals serve their sentences.

Proportions of the cocktail ingredients were not disclosed.

U. S. Officials Seem To Think Reds Made Boner In Big 4 Notes

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—U. S. officials seem to think Moscow pulled a boner in its note about a Big Four meeting by indicating that conclusion of an Austrian treaty should await substantial agreement on Germany.

These officials are handling the note gingerly, because of considerable uncertainty about what the Soviets are up to. But on the whole, they appear to regard it as fairly weak and possibly mirroring Kremlin adjustment of political pressures such as the East Germany uprisings.

The Russian note, responding to the West's July 15 bid for a Big Four foreign ministers session on German unification and Austrian independence, was received late Tuesday in Washington, London and Paris.

Representatives of the State Department opened consultations with British and French diplomats here yesterday afternoon. The State Department has kept Secretary of State Dulles informed while he is in Seoul conferring with South Korea.

Son Born To Figure In Poisoning Case

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A son has been born to Joyce Hayden, central figure in the Richard La Force poisoning case.

Mrs. Hayden, 19, denied during La Force's recent trial his testimony that he might be the father of her expected child. La Force, a 19-year-old science student, was convicted of mingling poison in drinks with intent to harm her husband, Robert Hayden, also 19, and has been ordered confined to a mental institution.

Her child, born at South Gate Suburban Hospital July 25, has been named Layne Eric Hayden.

NLRB Reports Its Pending Cases Down

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board says it has cut its list of pending cases to the lowest point since the Taft-Hartley law went into effect.

While both unions and employers complained of delays, and Congress studied ways of speeding up NLRB, the board itself and General Counsel George Bott have been quietly streamlining.

Now they claim "spectacular reductions" in time spent on cases at all levels. NLRB gets 15,000 cases a year.

The backlog of cases now is 4,318, compared with 5,348 a year ago.

The average time from filing a petition for an NLRB election to a decision after hearing is now a record 54 days, compared with 90 days required a year ago.

NLRB officials said the output was boosted by eliminating paper work, by using a telephone call where correspondence might take a long period of time, and by holding regional clinics to pass along beneficial procedures worked out in other areas.

30 Persons Taken From Grounded Yacht

NORFOLK (AP)—A crash boat from Langley Air Force Base removed 30 persons early today from the sailing yacht Anna Helen after she had run aground in Chesapeake Bay two miles northwest of Wolf Trap light station.

Two crewmen remained aboard the yacht.

The 60-foot vessel informed the Coast Guard her mainmast was torn, she was dragging anchor and needed assistance.

Coast Guard vessels pulled the yacht free and towed her to Tangier Island. The Anna Helen was bound from Annapolis to Jamestown, Va., with a group of fathers and sons from Canton, Ohio. The owner is Capt. Howard Gabel of South River Beach, Md.

Make-Up Secret From Outer Space

Virginia Hewitt, best known as Carol on TV's "Space Patrol" program, tells Lydia Lane her technique for staying fresh in the heat.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

TV Star Experiments For Summer Make-Up

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD—Virginia Hewitt is one of the busiest ladies in TV and is best known as Carol in the "Space Patrol" show. But Virginia loves to work and "the more shows the better," she told me one afternoon as she slipped fresh peach freezes in a popular ice cream parlor in Beverly Hills.

"It was a warm day but Virginia looked as fresh as if she had just finished dressing. "Do you have a keep-cool-look-cool secret?" I asked. "I think there is a technique to looking your best in the summer," Virginia confessed. "It is much more difficult to seem well groomed in the heat than in the cold and sometimes people get into ruts and forget to change their habits with the seasons."

"I find in the summer that the make-up base I favor in the winter does not stay fresh as long as I would like. So I decided to experiment. I went to the ten-cent store and bought different kinds of make-up. There were good names but inexpensive because they were in a small size."

"Did you find something to please you?"

"Yes, I did. It's a powder in cake form but has a creamy base to make it stick," Virginia revealed. "But I had to try three others before I hit upon the one I liked. All women would have to try different types, I think, to find exactly the right one."

"The color of make-up is important too," Virginia continued. "Most people become a shade darker in the summer and when they try to wear their winter powder it stands out too much."

"I suppose most girls feel they have to finish a box before they start a new one," I volunteered. "I know they do," Virginia agreed. "But that's silly. Powder will keep—just put it away until your skin fades and you'll want to use that shade again."

"I've noticed that some women don't take daylight saving time into consideration when they make-up for an evening date," I remarked. Virginia laughed. "If you look right for the start of your date you'll look all washed out later on. But of the two I'd rather be under-made-up than over. I have two sets of lights on my dressing table, one which is very much like sunlight so that when I am making up for a noon date I can check on the results. "Never forget the importance of a well lighted dressing table," Virginia cautioned, "because a soft light in the wrong place can cause a woman to do unflattering things. And the strong summer sun can be cruel indeed, even to a pretty face."

Probe Set On Reds In Unions

WASHINGTON (AP)—Plans for a sweeping investigation of Communist influences in labor unions were laid today by Sen. John Marshall Butler (R-Md.), head of a special task force of the Senate Judiciary Committee.
"Our unions must be free of the slightest taint of communism," Butler said in an interview.
"We can't save this country if we can't keep Communists out of unions, especially out of positions of authority."
Butler and Senators Welker (R-Iowa) and McCarran (D-Nev.) were named by the internal security subcommittee, a panel of the Judiciary Committee, to run the investigation, with Butler as chairman.

The hearings, scheduled in the fall, will be held in Washington. Called to give their views, Butler said, will be top CIO and AFL officials, including AFL President George Meany and CIO President Walter Reuther.
Butler said he will also call officers of unions kicked out of the CIO in 1949 and 1950 for alleged Communist domination.
He said he will pay special attention to testimony from "rank and file union members who have had the opportunity to observe what goes on in Communist-dominated unions."
He named these unions as certain to get a summons from his task force: the American Communications Assn.; United Electrical Workers; Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers; and Harry Bridges' West Coast Longshoremen union—all independent outfits and all expelled from the CIO.

Training Stations Are Needed Here For D. O. Students

Employers who are interested in taking on one or more of the students for vocational training are asked to telephone Whiteley at the high school, if there are other students wanting to sign for DO, they should call Whiteley.

Gruenther Says NATO Leaders Ready For Reds

By TOM STONE
FRANKFURT (AP)—Gen. Alfred Gruenther said today that each NATO commander defending the 4,000-mile Iron Curtain Front "knows exactly what to do" in the event of a Russian attack.

He said that the Allied position of strength from the tip of Norway to the eastern borders of Turkey "demonstrates to the Soviets that it is possible for the West to have a unified strength."
The commander of Allied forces in Europe said "that doesn't mean we have forces that are necessary to withstand successfully an all-out attack, but this position of strength, limited though it may be, demonstrates to the Soviets that it is possible for the West to have a unified strength."
He said that in 2 1/2 years "we have made tremendous progress."
"The forces themselves in a year doubled in size and the effectiveness increase has been greater still. But I see no reason why we should relax," he added.

Of the June 17 Berlin riots, he said "I would certainly say that the strength which the West has demonstrated has given the people behind the Iron Curtain some hope in the world, a certain degree of confidence."
Gruenther said he was confident "it is in our power to prevent war by building up the necessary strength to make aggression unprofitable."
He said that he was almost certain the NATO countries would continue their buildup to the point that the Russians would find it inadvisable to attack.

Men Still Sought Who 'Roughed Up' Florida Woman Here
Police today were continuing a search for two men who were reported to have "roughed up" a Tampa, Fla., woman on Scenic Mountain Wednesday afternoon.

The woman, identified as Ruth Payne, told officers about 5 p. m. yesterday that two men had taken her to the mountain after offering to bring her to Big Spring for assistance in getting her stalled car started. Police said she was "roughed up a little" before being released on West Third Street. The woman was reported to have left Big Spring last night.

The furnished officers with a description of the men and gave a portion of their car's license number. The woman's car had stalled on a highway near here.

Auto Phone Call Tips Authorities
One of those new-fangled car telephones led to the arrest and conviction of an Abilene man here yesterday for driving while intoxicated.

He was Jack Jameson, who was fined $75 and court costs this morning by County Judge R. H. Weaver.
Jameson's arrest on East Highway 80 followed a call from a car telephone by an oil company employee. The caller, whose name is not known, informed authorities that Jameson appeared intoxicated.

Sheriff's officials investigated and found that Jameson sure enough did appear intoxicated. He was arrested, and this morning he pleaded guilty.

Rodeo days in Big Spring started officially Wednesday afternoon with the traditional downtown parade. The Dawson County Sheriff's posse, top, was awarded first place in its division. Another feature of the parade was the 50th Air Force Band from Webb AFB, below.

Hopes Dim For Missing Airmen With Only Eight Accounted For

By ALVIN STEINKOPF
LONDON (AP)—Stormy seas dimmed hopes today for 15 American airmen missing from the giant U. S. Air Force RB36 bomber which crashed in flames in the Atlantic yesterday.

Only eight of a 23-man crew have been accounted for officially.
Four were picked up alive from the rough water. Ships found four bodies. The Swedish freighter Monica Smith said it had picked up a body in the crash area shortly after noon today.

Wind increased in violence today over a 200-mile expanse of heaving sea, 300 to 500 miles west of Ireland as planes and ships searched the area.
The vessels reported by feeble radio that the wind reached velocities of 42 knots, causing long swells and 15-foot high waves.

Hope of finding more survivors in one-man dinghies, rafts or one of the two rescue boats dropped by planes were further dimmed as rain reduced visibility to about three miles. Clouds reduced the ceiling for 25 searching aircraft to about 1,000 feet.

One faint radio message from the freighter Manchester Shipper raised the possibility that more men might have been found alive. The skipper said he was bringing in survivors. Previous messages said the ship had only one survivor and two bodies.

A sister ship, the Manchester Pioneer, bound for Canada, reported the three survivors it picked up have been transferred to the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Australia, enroute to Liverpool. The ship is due Saturday.

The U. S. Air Force headquarters at South Ruislip said the search is being pressed with the greatest energy despite difficulties. At least eight ships in the general area, have been alerted and long-range planes from half a dozen fields in Britain are ready to drop more 32-foot survival boats should other groups of survivors be sighted.

Heavy fog delayed the takeoff of the first daylight search flight of 25 planes until 9 a. m. today but the weather was expected to clear later.

The 7,636-ton British merchant ship Manchester Shipper radioed this morning:
"Have on board one survivor."

5 Juveniles Released To Parents' Custody

Five juveniles—four boys and a girl—were released to the custody of their parents this morning after they admitted breaking into a barbecue stand a month ago today.
Juvenile Officer A. E. Long stated all the juveniles took some barbecue. They entered Odell's Barbecue Stand by cutting the screen on the back door.

Two of the boys were 14, one 12, and the other 8. The girl was 10.

RODEO

McBride of San Angelo had a time of 18.6 seconds and in third place was Amy McGilvray of Merton with 18.7 seconds. Janelle McGilvray, also from Merton, made her ride in 19.1 followed by Byrne Taylor of Andrews who was just one-tenth of a second slower.

The cutting horse contest was won by Hollywood Snapper, ridden by Billy Bush with 158 points. His performance was likely the best that has ever been seen in Big Spring and he brought many of the audience to their feet when he used his teeth to turn a steer back from the wild bunch in a close quarters maneuver. The foot work of this horse had a grace and speed rarely ever found in even the dancing horses seen under circus tents.

Even so "The Snapper" was hard pushed for those top honors when Pussay Cat ridden by the well known cutting horse trainer, Elmo Favers, was awarded 149 points by the Judges. Pussay Cat also turned in a superb performance. None of the horses scored fewer than 137 points. Third place money went to Guthrie Ann ridden by Stanley Bush, and fourth place to Rolling Stone ridden by L. C. Inman. All the horses and riders were from Abilene. The cattle used for this performance were brought by the Rodeo Association expressly for this purpose.

J. L. Sawyers of Garden City won the wild cow milking contest by roping and milking (with the help of a "mugger" or assistant) his wild Brahma cow in 40.1 seconds. Other times in this event were: Foy Reynolds of Austin, 46.6; Raymond Phillips of Big Spring, 48.9; Sommy Edwards of Big Spring, Big Lake, 66.6.

Just before the grand entry promptly at 8 p. m., the spectators were entertained with an exhibition infantry drill by a crack team from Webb Air Force Base.
The parade trophies were also presented in the arena by Sonny Edwards. The first place trophy for a visiting posse went to Dawson County, the second to the riders from Lynn County and third to the Borden County Sheriff's posse.

In the float division the first place trophy was awarded the Junior Hi-Y, second to Lone Star Beer and third to the 4-H Club.
This morning it was announced that tickets to the remaining three evening performances, tonight, tomorrow and Saturday are being placed on sale at the Creighton Tire Co., 203 W. 3rd, as well as at the Chamber of Commerce in the Settles Hotel. All performances are scheduled for 8 p. m.

Following the parade yesterday afternoon a barbecue supper, prepared by Nath Allen, was served visiting posemen and members of their families at the City Park.

Roy de Vere Speer, staff sergeant, 18196030, address, Route 1, Bennington, Okla., apparently in sound condition. Escaped through forward turret in rubber dinghy.
"Two dead on board are Walter Norman Hunter, captain, 2068762, address, 411 Nobel St. Fairbanks, Robert Eugene Yeoman, staff sergeant, 18354161, address, 133 Vaca Valley Acres, Vaca Valley, Calif."

A crew list issued yesterday by Travis Air Force Base, Calif., gave Capt. Hunter's address as San Jacinto, Calif., and Sgt. Yeoman's as Buchanan, Mich.
Another British ship, the 1805-ton Manchester Pioneer, reported it had three survivors aboard. The French trawler Magdalena picked up one body.

Travis Air Force Base said the three other survivors were Maj. George E. Parkes, 37, navigator of the plane, from Nephel, Utah; Airman I.C. Harold E. Parker, 22, a gunner, of Spokane, Wash., and Sgt. Charles M. DeHaven, 24, crew chief, Stroudsburg, Pa.

The third body was not identified.

Police Hold One, Seek Another

One Big Spring man was being held at the police station while officers sought another this morning on charges of fighting and gambling.
The two were involved in a fight as a result of a dice game in the northwest part of the city about 8:30 a. m. The man being held suffered a knife wound on the head and neck.

Police said charges of aggravated assault probably will be filed against his opponent.
Another man was attacked in north Big Spring early today. Police said two unidentified men attacked Harold Emerson, beating him badly. Emerson was taken to the Webb Air Force Base hospital and extent of his injuries could not be determined this morning.

Local Man Held For Investigation

A Big Spring man was being held in county jail this morning for investigation of cattle theft across the New Mexico state line into Texas.
The man, a truck driver, is accused of taking a calf from Paul Wasson's ranch in New Mexico with out Wasson's knowledge. Charges are being investigated this morning by an FBI man and sheriff's officials.

472 Driving Tests Are Given In June

Felton Wilson, local drivers license examiner, checked 472 applicants during June and issued a total of 322 licenses.
Of these 218 were operators' licenses, 90 were commercial licenses and 14 were chauffeur's permits. Fees during the month were $40.

These figures cover Big Spring, and Garden City. Examinations were as follows: Big Spring, 262; Lamessa, 150; Stanton, 44; Sterling City, 3; and Garden City, 13.

Refuses To Plead

Bill Franklin, charged here with passing a $23 check at Cupid's Inn, refused to enter a plea this morning in Howard County Court.
The refusal followed Judge R. H. Weaver's advice to him that a plea is not mandatory until two days after arrest. Franklin was arrested last night by sheriff's officials.

Elks Hospital Has Vacancies

Some vacancies exist in the Elks Crippled Children's Hospital near Gonzales, the Elks Lodge here has been informed.
Wendal Parks is chairman of the crippled childrens committee for the Big Spring Lodge. Inquiries about the hospital should be directed to him, or they could be made at the Herald.

The Elks Hospital is devoted exclusively to the treatment of children with physical defects. There is no charge for patients admitted to the hospital for treatment or for additional surgical operations, hospitalization, braces, etc. There is no restriction as to the religious or fraternal affiliations of patients, parents or guardians. The children do not have to be members of an Elk family.

Basic requirements are that the child must be found, in the opinion of an examining physician, to have a condition which may be cured or corrected by treatment and facilities available at the Elks hospital. The child must be under 14 years of age and the parents or guardians must reside in Texas.

The hospital facilities are valued in excess of $350,000 and it has a warm water well that feeds the swimming pool and therapy center. Elks operate it on an $80,000 annual budget to provide trained medical and professional staff.

Blind Youth Needs A Guitar To Keep Up With Lessons

Do you have a guitar mouldering in some closet or attic?
If you want to bring it out of retirement and see it put to good use, all you have to do is telephone Mrs. W. D. Willbanks (4-5742) or see her at 1602 Gregg.

The Cheerio Club is anxious to help a 25-year old boy keep up Mrs. Willbanks. He has been taking lessons at the State School for the Blind, but now that he's home for the summer, he has no instrument.

"Maybe some person has a guitar not now being used and would like to give it to a youngster to whom it would bring great happiness."
Mrs. Willbanks is representing the Cheerio Club; an organization for the blind and near blind.

Vandals Out Again
Vandals were at work in Big Spring again last night.
Two boys were reported to have thrown rocks through the windshield of a car at the Shell Service Station, Third and Gregg, Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber Company reported its rodoe banners were torn down during the night.

NEW U.S. Midget Sub Is Reported

NEW YORK (AP)—A retired naval commander writes in Collier's magazine that a new American midget submarine is in the design and development stage.
Vice Adm. Charles A. Lockwood Jr. says the midget will have a crew of four, be powered by a top secret fuel, and is not a suicide weapon.

Water Supply Reduced

Difficulty in well field gathering lines resulted in a reduced water supply for Big Spring this morning. The trouble was expected to be cleared up early this afternoon with full service to be resumed.

9 More Texas Homes Gladdened Wednesday As POWs Are Freed

By The Associated Press

Nine more Texas homes received the glad tidings Wednesday night. Their soldiers were back in United Nations hands, back on freedom's side after months and years as prisoners of war.

"Oh, my God...Thank God...Gracias Dios...It's God's will...Thank God."

The exclamations were jubilant and the prayers of thanksgiving were fervent. Of some 70 Americans returned to UN control, 9 were from Texas, making a total of 19 Texans returned from Prisoner of War camps in the first two days of "Operation Big Switch."

"Oh, boy!" said Joe Hubbard of San Antonio when told that his son, Pvt. William Hubbard, was the 11th Texan returned to freedom since the prisoner exchange started Tuesday.

"How is he? He's not sick is he?" Hubbard asked the questions thick and fast, and answered most of them himself. "He said in the letters he was feeling pretty good. Getting plenty of food, such as it was."

"I kinda had a feeling he would be all right," said Ray Harrison of Amarillo, speaking of Lt. Col. Thomas D. Harrison, his brother from Clovis, N. M.

But all had not been well with Harrison. He told a story of brutal torture by Communists trying to obtain military information from him. He said he was given no food for seven days and all the time made to watch other people eat.

On the eighth day, Harrison said, the Korean National Police put a towel on his face and poured water on the towel.

"When that is done you cannot breathe," Harrison said.

"When I passed out they would bring me back by jabbing me with lighted cigarettes."

But Harrison seemed in good condition as he talked after his repatriation.

Pvt. Martin Guerrero's mother, 53-year-old cleaning and washerwoman, accepted her son's release calmly. She said she "felt better now and was relieved."

A widow, she said she had received about one letter a year from her 21-year-old son since he was imprisoned more than three years ago.

Mrs. Isabel Ayala Ramirez was praying at her family altar when newsmen called to tell her that Cpl. Joe E. Ramirez, 23, was on his way home.

"Yes?" she said, "tonight? Oh, I'm glad." Then she began weeping.

"Thank God for that," said Elias Ramirez, the soldier's father. Joe is the youngest of nine children and the family's only boy.

In Corpus Christi, Mrs. Valentin DeLeon said, "I hope all the mothers are as happy as I am. Thank God all those boys are coming home. We are very, very happy."

"You betcha, I'm glad," Andrew Guerra Ramirez almost shouted over his telephone in Rebstown when an Associated Press newsmen asked if he was glad his boy, Pfc. Alfred C. Ramirez, was released.

The elder Ramirez said his 21-year-old son had been a prisoner "about 2 years and 8 months." He added that the boy joined the Army in 1948 when he was barely 17 years old. He trained in Tokyo two years.

The mother of Pfc. Enrique Pena couldn't speak English so she sent her 52-year-old husband, Jose Pena of Brownsville to the telephone. He said their 21-year-old son had been a prisoner three years and that they had heard from him infrequently.

"It's the word of God," he said of the boy's return to UN custody. Mrs. Luisa Sanchez of Del Rio could not speak English, either. She sent her daughter, Mrs. M. D. Cooper, to the phone. And Mrs. Cooper, breathless with excitement said it was the first word from Pfc. Jose Sanchez, 25, since June.

Then, said the 25-year-old sister, her mother had received a mother's day poem from Jose. She said her "baby brother" had been a prisoner three years.

"Gracias Dios," she breathed, "and thank you so much for calling," she told a reporter.

Heroic Mother

Eager hands lift a heroic mother, Mrs. Thelma Eshleman, from a 45-foot well into which she leaped in Greenville, S. C., to save her 15-month-old son when he fell through an opening. U. S. Penal System Overhaul Advocated

By MORRIE LANDSBERG

SEATTLE (AP)—Gov. John S. Pine of Pennsylvania called today for a complete overhaul of the American penal system to end bloody and costly violence within prison walls.

He told the closing session of the National Governors Conference that the states must work out uniform penal policies throughout the country in answer to the "alarming wave of prison revolts."

The Pennsylvania Republican, in a prepared speech, advocated a thorough study of the entire penal machinery to include convictions, sentences, treatment of inmates, paroles and rehabilitation.

"I do not believe," he said, "we have to spend the staggering sum of 40 or 50 billions of dollars for new prison construction

Joan Berry Ordered Committed To State Hospital For Insane

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Joan Berry, the former actress who won a paternity suit against Charlie Chaplin in 1946, has been committed to Patton State Hospital, a mental institution.

She was described by psychiatrists as a schizophrenic or person with dual personality.

"I realize I need treatment," Miss Berry said yesterday when Superior Judge William P. Haughton acted on a commitment application filed by her mother.

Police found the 33-year-old Miss Berry wandering about in her stocking feet last week.

Chaplin has been paying her $100 monthly for support of Carol Ann Berry, now 9. Miss Berry is estranged from her husband, Russell C. Seck Jr., Pittsburgh, Pa., by whom she had two children.

One Labor Walkout Settled In Houston

HOUSTON (AP)—One labor walkout here has been settled. Other strikes are still on.

An eight-day strike at Aluminum Products Co. ended yesterday when 90 workers and the company agreed on job classifications.

Advantages Of Being In A Reserve Unit Are Cited

Young men are as liable for active military service out of the organized reserve as in, but if they are in a reserve unit, they will be hastening the time when they will be classed as standby reserves.

This was the crux of a talk by Capt. Rod Eddy, USMC, before the Lions Club. He was accompanied by Cpl. Leonard Juck of the Marine recruiting office in San Angelo.

Guest at the meeting was Joe Dan Boyd, Winnabro, immediate past president of the state Future Farmers of America organization. Louis Gene Thompson was introduced as a new member.

Larson Lloyd, secretary, read the annual financial statement, reflecting total resources of $7,545.

There are three major classifications for a young man under terms of the Armed Forces Reserve Act of 1952, said Capt. Eddy. These are the regulars, the ready re-

Government Debt Climbs Last Month

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government debt climbed to $272,732,350,000 during July, an increase of $2,759,000,000 although spending was lower than in the corresponding month of 1952.

The Treasury statement for July 31, covering the first month of the present fiscal year, showed the government spent $8,067,372,000—$74 millions less than in July 1952.

Major reductions in spending, compared with July last year, were accomplished (A) by Congress' decision not to keep adding to the civil service retirement fund, which in July 1952 received about 323 millions, and (B) the Post Office Department's action in delaying any withdrawal to cover its first quarter deficit. A year ago it drew 175 millions.

Customs Receipts Up

GALVESTON (AP)—Galveston customs receipts totaled $307,779 in July, 7 per cent below June but 19 per cent higher than last July.

Her Speeding Test Intrigued Judge

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—"I couldn't have been speeding, judge. My hair didn't get mussed up."

That was the defense Patricia A. Bull, a pretty, 25-year-old school teacher put up in traffic court yesterday when she appeared on a charge of exceeding the city speed limit of 25 miles an hour.

Miss Bull, of nearby Oswego, told Judge Truman H. Preston she'd made numerous tests with the top down on her convertible. When she stayed under 25, she said, her hair stayed in place. Over 25, wind-blown, her hair got mussed.

And since, she concluded, her hair wasn't mussed on July 25, she couldn't have been going 35 miles an hour, as charged.

Preston's verdict: innocent.

A Bible Thought For Today —

We should try to do what we intend to do before we are overtaken by the dark. "The shadows of evening are stretched out." — Je. 6:14.

Each New Step Of Progress Has Seeds Of Disadvantage In It

Every time somebody invents a new gadget or divides new adjuncts to man's pleasures and comforts, it creates a problem that invariably lands in the courts. One of the biggest headaches in this field is the artificial and premeditated production of rain. That is a legal mare's nest of such proportions that everybody seems to be ducking it.

But in New York City—in Flatbush, to be exact—Magistrate David L. Malbin came to grips with a legal crossword puzzle that had already stumped two of his colleagues. Boldly he attacked the problem, and just as boldly he solved it—at least until some higher court jerks the ground from under him.

A Mrs. Esther Gersberg had filed a complaint charging that one Samuel Arkow was maintaining in a window adjoining her apartment a three-quarter ton air conditioning unit which was so noisy it kept her awake in the long watches of the night.

Expert witnesses were present to present testimony, and the air-conditioning people sat on needles and pins, with fin-ers crossed, hoping against hope. But Magistrate Malbin brushed the witnesses aside and by agreement on both sides accepted the stipulation that Mr. Arkow did operate the air-conditioning unit, that it does make a noise, and that Mrs. Gersberg claimed it was a detriment to her health and thus a violation of the Administrative Code.

"The air-conditioning machine," his honor declared, "is a product of man's constant search for the improvement of his own comfort and enjoyment of life. That its use may cause degrees of annoyance to others does not justify denouncing its use as criminal. It is an unfortunate truth that virtually every scientific invention has carried with it certain disadvantages." Then, citing the auto, the plane, subways, radio and other noise-making instrumentalities, the magistrate pronounced two words that may establish a new landmark in American jurisprudence:

"Case dismissed."

If we were the weather-making people, we'd try to steer our case into Magistrate Malbin's court. There is a man who believes in progress.

There Are Many Reasons To See Rodeo—Best Is It's A Good Show

Here we are in the midst of rodeo time again, and the fever should be catching. There are many reasons why you probably will want to go. There is the provincial appeal based upon preservation of the color and spirit of the West, and it is valid. Of course, most of the resemblance between the modern rodeo and the open range round-up is confined largely to horses, livestock, lariats and cowboys. Instead of cattle and rangeland for spectators and sites, the show is pitched before hundreds upon hundreds of fans. Still, the original elements are there—the skills of man matched against that of animals.

Another reason could be that of pride in continuity. Except for one year during World War II, the rodeo has been held since the first show back in 1922. That was by no means the first, for July 4 celebrations back to the turn of the century usually included some homespun rodeoing as well as a baseball game. The Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo, however, comes of age this year, and as such, it is one of the senior and major rodeos of West Texas.

Still another reason is, that the physical facilities here are just about the best of any outdoor rodeo plant in the country. There aren't any potholes to obstruct views; each row of seats is high enough that the one in front can't block the line of sight; every seat is a good one.

But about the best reason we can think of is that the rodeo is a cracker-jack of a show—colorful, exciting, fast moving and crammed with action from start to finish.

Taft Always Refused To Move For Mere Political Expediency

In 1947, I believe it was, Robert and Martha Taft came up to my farm in the Berkshires on their way to Murray Bay. We got into the usual discussion of his candidacy for the presidency. I laid it on the line honestly, pulling no punches, covering no facts by the potherness of hospitality. The essence of my statement was that he refused to do anything to recognize the lust of the populace for glamorous personalities, the preferences of many for expediencies rather than for adherence to moral principles. I cited example after example of his avoidance of political expediencies that would have made it possible to reach the White House and then he could do as he pleased. I said to him then that his opponent, Thomas E. Dewey, is a master of temporizing.

Taft exploded in anger. "I will not do it!" he shouted. "When I'm wrong, I admit it. When I make a mistake, I say so out in public. But I shall not cheapen myself for any office."

And he never did. It is astonishing how often the opportunity was offered Taft to make the kind of compromise that gets a man ahead but soils his soul. That is why the businessmen turned from Taft to Eisenhower in 1952, when they made excursions to Paris to look over the new man that Thomas E. Dewey had brought into the arena. They said that Taft was mulish.

I remember having quite a row one night with a group of big industrialists, some of whom are now whispering, "He isn't what we thought he was." Of course, he is not; nobody could be. These businessmen who financed the effort against Taft for the 1952 Convention wanted a President who would be their President, their man, as William McKinley was Mark Hanna's man. They dislike independence and Taft was nobody's foreman. In spite of the fact that Bob Taft and Harry Byrd had saved the necks of these businessmen dozens of times, they turned on Taft.

Their excuse was that he could not be elected. Dewey had had two chances and was defeated both times. What was really feared was not that Taft could not be elect but that he would be absolutely independent. That is why they called him "mulish." His knowledge was so immense, his memory of fact and statistic so sure that when many of these businessmen and their lawyers tried to argue with him, they sounded like children in the presence of a great teacher. They did not like that.

When, during the 1952 Convention, man after man who had been pledged to him had to change his position for personal reasons, Taft seemed always to understand that some men put bread and butter above convictions; there was no bitterness, no rancor, no recriminations. When some who had supported his campaign deserted him, he assumed that men of expediency would always follow the rising star.

Bob Taft never for a moment tolerated bigotry of any kind. Some of his friends would tell him that the Jews of this country supported Roosevelt; yet, he, Bob Taft, had been pro-Zionist since his youth. He told me that his support or opposition to movements had to be unrelated to personal advantage. He was deeply impressed by the fact that his father had advocated a treaty with Russia because of the persecution of the Jews. Thus, the Jewish question came early into his life. He took his stand on a Jewish homeland in Palestine before he entered politics.

It is obvious, my friend, that Taft as a politician. His protest against the Nuremberg trials paved the way for opponents to attack him and smear his reputation. Yet, he knew that he was right and events have proved his position to have been right. Similarly, many of his early assumptions concerning our foreign policy have since proved to have been correct.

Logic is not too highly prized in politics and the logical person is often not the most popular man. Bob Taft never tried to become popular at the price of logic.

Yet those who knew him intimately stuck by him through every defeat. In the formation of the Republican-Southern Democratic coalition, he displayed the highest qualities of statesmanship, for without it, the Congress might have fallen into the pitfalls of a one-party operation.

FIGURE TRICKS

Let's "prove" that 2 equals 1. An elementary knowledge of algebra is needed for this one.

First, you'll agree that:
(A minus) times (A plus A) equals A squared minus A squared.

Factor the left side of the equation as the difference of two squares: (A minus A) times (A plus A). Factor the right side by dividing by A: A times (A minus A).

The original equation becomes:
A times (A minus) times (A plus A) equals A times (A minus A).

Now divide each side of the equation by (A minus A).

This gives:
A plus A equals A, or 2A equals 1A.

Divide by A, giving:
2 equals 1.

EXPLANATION: The fallacy here is in the step where we divided each side of the equation by (A minus A). This is the equivalent of dividing by zero, which in mathematics is a meaningless operation.

It Might Seem That Russians Not Sure Of Themselves To Read Big Four Note

WASHINGTON — If the state of men's minds could always be read from what they wrote, it might seem the Russians were unsure of themselves in their note this week on the Big Four foreign ministers conference.

But, since they've made a practice of doubletalk, the note's purpose was probably to confuse, not enlighten. The State Department is trying now to decide what it means.

The Russians have controlled East Germany completely for the eight years since World War II. That would seem time enough to crush the East Germans' spirit and discipline them under communism if they could not be won over to it.

At the end of the eight years, the East Germans—through riots, defiance in accepting American food, and desertions from the police and Army—have demonstrated neither discipline nor love.

This might be enough to shake some of the Russians' confidence in themselves, particularly since they're trying to feel their way under a new regime at home.

The Russians have consistently brushed aside suggestions by this country and its big Western allies that East and West Germany be allowed to hold free elections for a single German government.

With the hatred expressed by the East Germans in recent weeks, the Russians must feel even less inclination than ever to permit them to unite with the West Germans whose present government is pro-Western. It seems impossible that the Communists would consent to free German elections or unification in the foreseeable future.

The United States has repeatedly urged the Russians to agree on these two points until this summer. The last time the State Department made the proposal was in September 1952. The Russians never answered.

But in July, Secretary of State

Dulles met here with the foreign ministers of Britain and France. On July 15 they sent the Russians a note suggesting that they and the Russian foreign minister meet to consider German unification and free elections.

The Western Powers could hardly lose with such a note, even if the Russians didn't answer. The proposal at least might win support for Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in the West German elections of Sept. 6.

Adenauer has worked with the Western nations and it would be to their benefit for him to win. He has run into some intense opposition in Western Germany, which might indicate something else not at all visible now.

That if Germany ever did get reunited it might not be up with either camp for a long time but try to play off the West against Russia, or the other way around, strictly for the good of Germany.

Tuesday night Russia responded to the Western proposal with a vague and rambling note which indicated — or so it seemed — that their foreign minister would talk with Germany with the other three foreign ministers.

But the Russians thoroughly scrambled up the business by inserting insistence that the Communist Chinese must sit in on possible discussions about easing world tensions.

The only purpose of the Russian note, probably is to make them look good, or at least not stillborn, in the eyes of the East Germans. The foreign ministers' conference, if and when it started, could be bushy-topped with so much mumbo-jumbo about China that it would have to break up in despair.

In their note, in an almost self-conscious and defensive way, the Russians warned the West not to get too hopeful that the Communists were losing their grip on East Germany just because there had been some trouble there.

Chemist Became Famous By Pleasing His Wife

NEW YORK — All most husbands get for trying to please their wives is exercise—and maybe a kind word.

But the reward of Paul Charlap, a chemist, was fame and financial success. It was by trying to please his wife that Charlap developed nylon, a chemical that increases the snag-resistance of nylon stockings and adds to their wearing quality.

The Charlap success saga is the kind of "young love conquers all" story Hollywood would reject as too true to make a good movie.

In 1949, while caring for their infant, "Cookie," Charlap snagged her stocking and complained to Paul.

"If you know so much about chemistry, why can't you do something to make my hosiery last longer?"

Paul checked with du Pont chemists and found they had a substance which helped protect nylon from snagging during the manufacturing process.

"Why couldn't a housewife use it?" he asked. He was told it was impractical—to, high a temperature was required, and the substance washed away in soap and water.

Charlap wasn't satisfied. He took some of the substance home, set up a laboratory in his basement. After 18 months, in which he devoted every spare hour to the problem, Paul came up from the basement one day and said confidently: "I've got it!"

He had developed a chemical solution that put a protective coating on stockings.

Paul thought of his product only as something to please his wife and her friends. Cookie had to prod him into taking it to a merchandising firm. This firm lab tested it for six months, had 1,000 women try it out—then put it on the market.

The Charlaps are still dazed. Some two million dollars worth of the nylon solution was sold in the first few months. The firm expects it to mushroom into a 10 million a year business. The royalties assure Paul and Cookie of a fortune.

Like People, Breakfast Eggs Can Display A Mean Temper

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald.—Editor's Note.

Some people like 'em sunnyside up, others prefer them over easy, and occasionally you'll hear a feller say he "wants his just plain 'over'."

Eggs are a staple and a delicacy—fried, scrambled, boiled, poached, powdered, or with nog.

Most people, as the man told the waitress who asked, "really like them" in one form or another. They "make" a breakfast, good cakes, ice cream and lots of things. Some ask for them in milkshakes.

Occasionally you can hear a guy claim he even likes to gulp eggs "raw." Just break open the shell and let the lubricated lump slide down your gullet.

I tried that once and don't recommend the practice. About the only thing "good" about that particular egg and the way it was prepared was the manner in which it slid.

Burned and powdered they're no good, either, any former soldier will plead, but otherwise nearly everyone likes eggs.

Once in a while, though, every individual eats an egg that leaves a bad taste in his mouth. He blames it on the night before, too much smoking, or just concludes that he wasn't in the mood for eggs on that particular occasion.

The night before or mood of the moment may have something to do with the taste, of course, but chances are it was the egg and not the eater which had been keeping bad company.

For, say the scientists, eggs are about as temperamental as people and the things they associate with leave their marks in the form of good or bad dispositions.

Nothing will upset an egg more than an onion—just smell its breath. Other little items that give off odors and flavors are bad for an egg's digestion, too, because the smells are absorbed through the eggshell.

So don't store your eggs in the vicinity of onions, radishes, cucumbers, cabbage and other smelly foods. The odors will ruin that henhouse flavor.

Senate Functioned Without A Rudder Near Close Of Session

WASHINGTON — If any demonstration had been needed of the seriousness of the blow to the Administration and to the Republican Party in the illness and death of Senator Robert A. Taft, it came in the closing days of the first session of this unhappy Congress. It is hard to believe that the fiasco of the attempt to raise the debt limit would have occurred if Taft had been in his place as Majority Leader of the Senate.

In all the discussion of his role as Mr. Republican in the Congress, one important phase of his capacity to lead in a Senate divided by a vote or two has been overlooked. Taft was as close to the Conservative Democrats as he was to the members of his own party.

For nearly 15 years he had been a member of the club, serving alongside such veteran Democrats as Senators George of Georgia, Byrd of Virginia, Hoyer of North Carolina and Ed Johnson of Colorado. More often than not they voted together. In the last two or three years of the Truman Administration a coalition of Taft Republicans and Conservative Democrats was decisive on most issues. When they split it was usually on foreign policy with most of the Southerners for most of the measures implementing President Truman's effort to contain and compress Communist expansion.

George was for nine years chairman of the Senate Finance Committee. Byrd has been on the committee for 20 years and his word on fiscal problems carries great weight in Congress and in the country. If they were certain to vote in committee against raising the debt ceiling, as Taft would quickly have learned, then it was futile to ask Congress for such action. Worse than futile, one must add, since the slap down is bound to damage the Administration.

Taft had doubts about the Administration's all-out stand to retain the Excess Profit Tax. He felt, as he said in a background talk with this reporter shortly before his final illness, that it risked too much in terms of the working relation between Congress and the White House for a limited objective. But once the White House had taken the decision, Taft did his best to carry it out.

can hope when Congress returns in January to pass the measures sidetracked at this session. That will be the difficult task facing Taft's successor.

Senator William Knowland of California has been acting as Majority Leader. At 45, Knowland has served eight years in the Senate. He is conscientious, tremendously hard-working, loyal to President Eisenhower. But he has a lot to learn about the functions of a Majority Leader.

Curbing the irresponsibles in his own party was beyond Taft as it will almost certainly be beyond any leader. Thus Senator George Malone of Nevada supplied the one Republican vote necessary in the Insular Affairs Committee to bottle up for the session the Hawaii statehood bill. The House, under the skilled and unflinching leadership of Speaker Joe Martin and Majority Leader Charles Halleck, had passed the measure. If the Senate had followed suit, one of the pledges made repeatedly by the Republican Party would have been validated.

Wherever the fault may lie, whether in the White House or in the Senate itself, one conspicuous lack in the session now ended was any cohesiveness of leadership been for Eisenhower before the Chicago convention. There are 13 and perhaps several more in that category. Among them were those who felt that when Taft was chosen Majority Leader, with the approval of the President, any hope of an "Eisenhower leadership" had been forfeited. It was bound to be a Taft-Eisenhower operation, as these skeptics say it, with Taft in many respects the senior partner.

Yet even with this taken into account, the fact remains that few signs of positive direction have come from this wing of the Senate. Senator Irving Ives of New York was re-elected last November by a majority of more than a million votes. During the session now ended he spent six weeks as a delegate at an international labor organization meeting in Geneva and he has only rarely been heard from. While Senator James H. Duff of Pennsylvania has lately entered into a closer relationship with the President, he has for much of the session been a somewhat unhappy spectator of a course of action—or inaction—about which he felt he had little to say.

That may be the cue for leadership at the next session—to bring these men into the team play so that they are participants rather than skeptical critics on the side lines. This must happen if the Administration is to overcome the narrow division in the Congress and the split within the Republican Party and show it can get a program adopted.

Small Train Attracts Japs

After staying in the Bay of Yedo for eight days, and going ashore to deliver a letter to the Japanese from the American government, Commodore Perry steamed away. He planned to return a few months later to receive an answer to the letter.

While Perry was absent, there was much talk among the Japanese about the proper answer to the letter. The head of the powerful Mito house wrote to the Shogun, asking:

"Why should we trade our gold, silver, copper and iron for wool, glass and other trashy articles?"

Most of the other nobles in Japan had much the same viewpoint, and many were worried about religion. There was a widespread fear that white missionaries would follow the merchants, and would try again to turn Japan into a Christian country.

On the other hand, there was some fear of the cannon on American naval vessels. The Japanese had a few old-fashioned muskets and had learned how to make small firearms, but their weapons were far from a match for those of the Americans.

A Japanese leader suggested that the American plan could be accepted in a limited way. Two or three ports could be opened for trade, but a rule would be made against missionaries coming with the merchants.

Commodore Perry stayed away longer than had been expected. After an absence of seven months, he returned, and this time there were 10 vessels in his fleet. The Americans brought gifts from their president to the Japanese. These included a telegraph set, a sewing machine and a small steam locomotive.

The locomotive proved to be the most exciting of the gifts. It was pulled on tracks, and was set in motion, pulling a tiny car. The car was hardly large enough to hold a six-year-old child, but several nobles wanted to have rides. One sat on the car and, with his loose robe flying in the wind, was pulled around on the circular tracks at a speed of 20 miles an hour.

Lennox Unit Makes Office Attractive

Bob Whipkey, Publisher Big Spring Daily Herald

Dear Boss:

I take it that you're open to suggestions for increasing efficiency and stepping up production around the Herald plant, without increasing wages and stepping up the spending power of the employees.

With that idea in mind I have a suggestion to offer, but first an explanation.

The success of most businesses is dependent upon the employees getting to the business place promptly and sticking to it closely, thus getting the job done. But a newspaper works differently. The success of the newspaper depends upon the efficiency and dispatch with which the reporters get out and mix and mingle with the people so they can bring in the news, and the footwork used by the advertising staff in getting out and around and in bringing in advertising.

Since we're unlike so many other businesses in the respect that our business is better the more we get out of the place of business, my suggestion is that we discontinue the use of the new Lennox Air-Season Aire-Flo refrigerated air conditioning system that you have had installed by the Western Service Company at 207 Austin Street, which is owned by E. L. Gibson.

The point that I'm trying to make is that this Lennox system has made this office so wonderfully comfortable these hot days that nobody wants to leave it and go out and get stories and advertising. Before this system was installed it was mighty hard to find even one-third of the reporters and advertising men in the office at one time. Now it looks like the only time any of them leave is to go out and get a cup of coffee. I'm even beginning to believe, for example, that Tommy Hart would rather sit in this comfortable office and watch teams play over the telephone than to go out to the game. And never since I have been here have I seen so many advertising men and women so busy on so many layouts at one time.

Bob, about the only way I know to get them out of the office (and

Making Them Shoot Straight

Jake Bruton stands at a lathe and repairs a rifle barrel at his popular gun shop located at 1903 Gregg St. Bruton who is known throughout the Southwest as an expert gunsmith and ammunition expert, does all types of repairing and reconditioning of fire arms. In addition he loads ammunition to specification for many sportsmen and law enforcement agencies in several cities. Jake's Gun Shop is one of the area's most popular "hang-outs" for West Texas sportsmen.

Insect Control Plan Developed

Gaston Johnston, president of the Johnston No-Roach Company, has developed a program for effectively eliminating household pests.

Johnston's plan is called the "Insect Control Spots Program" and is based on the fact that insects follow fixed habits. Use of No-Roach with knowledge of these habits is said to keep the insects out of any home.

No-Roach is available in Big Spring at Safeway, Cunningham & Phillips, Collins Brothers Drugs, Furr Food Store, Piggly Wiggly and Red & White Stores.

After a year of research, the No-Roach scientists have determined that crawling insects, like roaches and ants, enter homes over window and door sills, then to the bathroom and kitchen sinks for water. The insects find food in cabinets, open ice boxes or refrigerators. They are sheltered in baseboards.

By brushing No-Roach at the following control spots, advises Johnston, the homemaker can find freedom from traditional household pests:

1. Cabinets - providing food to insects.
2. Sinks—providing water.
3. Baseboards—providing shelter.
4. and 5. Window and door sills—providing entrance.

Farmall Fast Hitch Shown At Driver's

The new and automatic Farmall Fast-Hitch for the Farmall Super C tractor is now being displayed at Driver Truck and Implement Company on the Lamesa highway.

Curtis Driver, owner and operator of the firm, also has a complete new line of International Harvester freezers for 1953.

Both the new Fast-Hitch and the freezers have been carefully planned by International Harvester engineers to suit the needs for which they were designed, Driver pointed out.

The new hitch, which Driver described as revolutionary, couples implement to tractor instantly and automatically. It was designed to speed up farm work and make it easier.

"You just back the tractor up until the two teams on the implement snap into the hitch-sockets on the tractor," Driver explained. "We think it's the best and most important work-saving invention in the farm equipment field in several years."

The new hitch has already attracted an unusual amount of interest and enthusiasm. Driver says all farmers who have looked at it are well pleased.

"They can change implements in show any farmer how it works with complete hydraulic control.

The new freezers range from a small utility model to a large space-saver model. A new 20 cubic foot freezer has been designed to occupy no more floor space than the average 15 cubic foot freezer.

All the new freezers have been re-designed, and the four sizes have Spring-fresh green interiors. The table-top design offers convenient work surface for handling foods in and out of the freezer too.

Features include fast freezing inside surfaces, outside walls that won't sweat, and quiet fan-less operation. An alarm light warns of power failures. The freezers help the housewife by reducing marketing trips, cutting down on food waste, and saving on grocery bills.

Many Corporations Diversifying As A Hedge Against Any Slump

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Many corporations are taking out slump insurance these days by spreading out into other fields. That puts eggs into many baskets. If a business slump comes, one of the baskets may well prove safer for profits than the others. The diversification idea is spreading. Steel companies go into plas-

IT'S A CAT-ASTROPHE Big Battle Over Fleas Stirs Oklahoma Block

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Fifteen cats, a couple of dozen dogs and some three million fleas (by latest estimates) have turned the 200 block on Southeast 25th Street into a battleground. Mrs. Ada Rowan, a rotund, 66-year-old woman with a friendly smile, was blamed for the whole thing. Police Judge Mike Foster, at the request of irate neighbors, asked Mrs. Rowan to explain why she was harboring 15 cats in her back yard. A neighbor testified the cats brought fleas and the fleas were not discriminatory. She claimed they feasted on the neighborhood children too. "I own only seven cats," Mrs. Rowan testified indignantly. "Those vicious neighborhood dogs and unfriendly children have increased my cat family. Those poor little animals come to my house seeking shelter from the dogs and children. I feed them and they just stay there." A neighbor, who has remained friendly to Mrs. Rowan, said the others are all wet. "Those cats don't bring fleas," he protested. "Some of the neigh-

Mrs. Duke Presents Program

Mrs. Don Duke, Hillcrest Baptist WMU program chairman, presented a Royal Service program on the American Indians at a meeting at the church Tuesday. Mrs. W. L. Miller gave the Indian version of the 23rd Psalm, "The Rope of Love," for the devotional period. Mrs. D. W. Overman led a prayer. Others participating in the program were Mrs. Harvey Coffman, Mrs. Clarence Hinkle and Mrs. J. T. Grantham. The meeting opened with singing "Oh, What a Friend We Have in Jesus." Mrs. Overman presided and read a list of missionaries for whom a special prayer was offered. Mrs. Duke led the prayer. The group decided to postpone the quilting and mission study meeting plans for next week until Aug. 18 in the home of Mrs. L. J. Jeter. Next week members will sponsor a group of Sunbeams at the Sunbeam camp Aug. 11-12. Mrs. Clarence Hinkle offered the benediction. A meeting of the nominating committee preceded the program.

Hollywood Stars Put Mansions On Market

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—For the surest sign of economic change in the movie industry, watch the real estate listings. You'll find a flock of costly mansions on the market. For instance, if you have $300,000 kicking around the house, you could pick up the Bing Crosby manse. For some insight on the real estate situation, I talked to the beautiful Irish colleen—Maureen O'Hara. She just sold her stone canyon home to a doctor for $82,500 and is hunting for a smaller one. "It was ridiculous to continue living in that big house when there are just my daughter and myself," said the actress, who is shedding her mate, director Will Price. "The house was designed for lavish entertaining. Besides, it is not economically sound to maintain such a house in these times. Two of the pictures I am considering now are out of the country. If I left, that means I would have to continue paying $200 a month for a maid, $100 for a gardener, $32 for a swimming pool man, $6 for the exterminator, $4 for the water softener, and so forth down the line. "With the movie industry going through a state of transition, you just can't keep up such expenses. It's hard to get your money out of big houses these days. I've bought three places in Bel-Air, put in thousands of dollars of improve-

Juvenile Delinquency To Be Probed By Group Of Senators

By JOHN CHADWICK
WASHINGTON (AP)—Narcotics addiction among teen-agers, gambling influences in school sports, and youthful gangs—these are among the targets of a Senate probe of juvenile delinquency now getting in gear. Sen. Hendrickson (R-NJ), named chairman yesterday of a Senate judiciary subcommittee that will conduct the inquiry, has said a major purpose will be to create "a public groundswell" of sentiment that will aid state and local authorities and welfare agencies in combatting teen-age crime. The Senate accepted on June 1 his proposal for a full study to determine the extent, causes and character of juvenile delinquency. It provided $44,000 for the inquiry and directed that attention be given the punishments meted youth-

Joe Adonis Ordered Deported To Italy

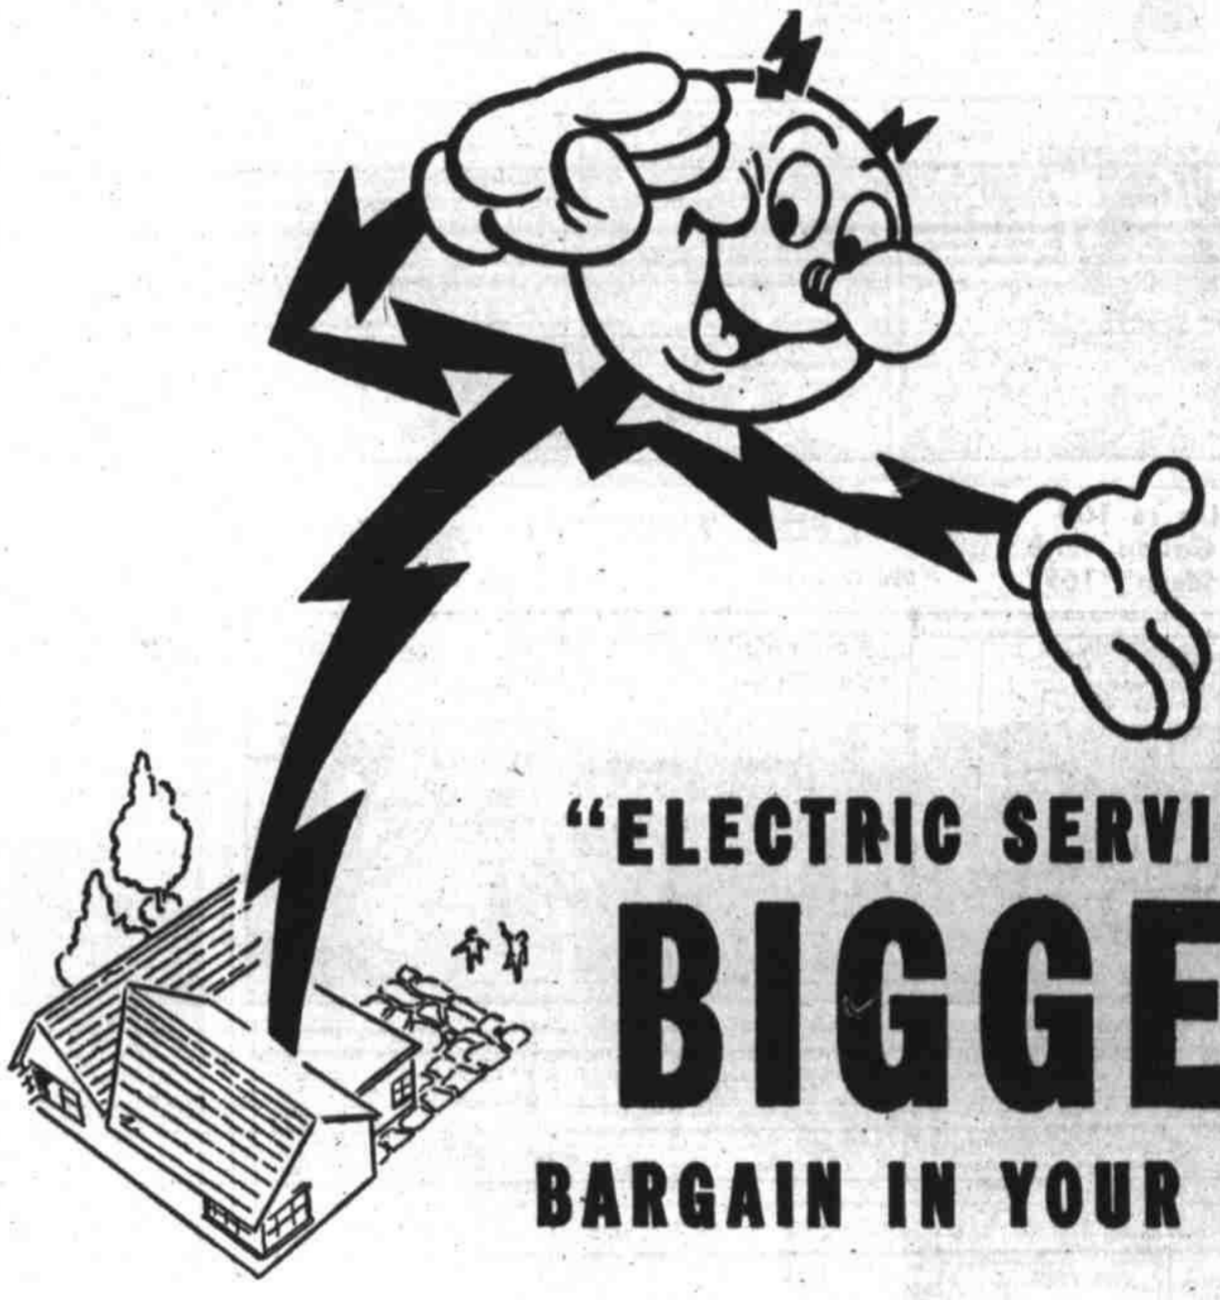

WASHINGTON (AP)—Big-time gambler Joe Adonis has been ordered deported to Italy by the Justice Department. Adonis insists he was born in Passaic, N. The order is based on grounds that Adonis lacked a valid passport when he entered the United States seven years ago after a visit to Cuba. Adonis also is charged with failing to register as an alien and to keep the immigration service advised of his address under the alien registration statute.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Ben Hawkins, who must read what is described here occasionally, recommends an article in the magazine People Today entitled "All Time Sewerball Nine" to this department and suggests further that I fashion one along similar lines on Longhorn League personalities of the past.

That shouldn't be hard to do, though I'll omit the outfielder still active in the league who took penicillin shots on the fly over a period of weeks in the hopes of building his batting average after he had collected three hits following one injection.

Why not start with Gasper Del Toro, who played shortstop for Big Spring back in 1947? Del Toro was the character who delighted in trying to steal home, and pulled the trick something like seven times that year. He shuddered at the thought of respecting training rules, however, and rarely went to bed before daylight. He disliked the other part of the Big Spring second base combination, Jake McClain, to such an extent that he made no particular effort to throw the ball to the right spot in starting what should have been sure double plays. He made it a point to become well acquainted with all official scorers in the hope they would vote for him on any doubtful plays. If he got mad at any of the scorers, it was usually during the last game of the series, because he realized they were to judge his play in any succeeding game.

Then there was Tony Traspasato, the Big Spring catcher. He often sped in the direction of stands to show his disgust for spectators and never made an effort to be friendly with anyone. He reached the zenith of his popularity the night he lost a fight—to Pepper Martin. He often threw to second base, when he knew neither the shortstop nor the second sacker were covering. His secret ambition was to pitch and his confidence in his throwing arm never wavered, even though he never got any one out.

For a first baseman, how about Joe Dotlich, who was with Sweetwater in 1947? Joe was a Yankee but he sported nothing but Western tongs. Had the rules permitted it, he would have worn boots on the playing field. He was the Sweetwater manager but he could never quite make himself believe it.

His teammate, Mack Dunlap, who played the outfield and catcher, probably would have qualified for the team. Dunlap was proud of his hitting ability, which wasn't such-a-much, but had a mad method for getting hit by a pitched ball. He'd turn his back to the pitcher and back into a delivery, then jog down to first, suppressing a grin and rubbing the bruised area, which usually was the back of his hip. He figured it demoralized a pitcher to hit a better. Luckily, he never caught one behind the ear.

Then there was John Zanet, who managed Del Rio for a spell. Zanet bragged about playing big time ball but none of his feats could ever be found in the record books. His 1948 Cowboy team was beaten by Midland by a 4-0 score on one occasion but he never changed pitchers. Candy Mendoza, who went all the way on the mound for Del Rio, was touched up by 29 hits and 22 earned runs.

Sam Harshaney would have to fit somewhere into the lineup. All his baseball life, Sam feuded with umpires but he finally decided he couldn't beat them, so he joined their ranks. Sam never used profanity and his tirades against the arbiters were perhaps all the more forceful against the men-in-blue, for that reason. Once, while managing and playing third base for Del Rio against Big Spring here, Harshaney was having a particularly rough time with the officials. His utility infielder had already been shown the exit by the plate umpire. Sam, perplexed with a ball-and-strike decision, hot-footed it toward the plate when the arbiter yelled in his direction, "Sam, have you got another third baseman? Sam never stopped running, but he made a complete circle without saying a word, returned to his position at third and the umpire never heard another peep out of him all evening.

How about Jim Ackers, who came to Big Spring hailed as a fine outfield prospect, which he was? He never drew a pay check here, however, because he almost drove the management crazy in less than a week of spring drills. He had a tremendous throwing arm but hammed up his act but waiting until the runner took a big jump before throwing just to make it look good. Harold Webb gave him a try after he left here but Harold always claimed it was the worst trick Stacey ever played on him, Pat suggesting to the youth that he try Webb for employment.

Then there was that Midland fly-chaser who will go unnamed here, who, sent to the outfield to chase fly balls in batting practice, spent his time throwing rocks at the lights on the Big Spring score board. Webb finally called him in the dugout for a fatherly talk after he had broken a couple of the lamps.

Bobby Gonzales was an outfielder who spent a short time with Big Spring back in 1949. Bobby came here labeled as a great outfield prospect but never lived up to expectations. Curve balls gave him fits. He took so many futile swings it appeared he was fighting imaginary dragons. It became such a habit to him, he once took two swings and retired to the dugout, having fallen into such a routine he had neglected to count them.

Jimmy Perez, a Big Spring hurler back in 1949, was quite a character. He was a left-handed hurler who helped to uphold the southpaw's reputation for real daffiness. Jimmy's favorite meal was soup because he had no teeth, to speak of. He was hit by thrown balls twice in one turn at bat, once at the plate and once at second base. On each occasion, he apparently was out cold. After the second time, it appeared he wouldn't live to see the sun go down, but he finally came to, refused a substitute base runner and, set in motion by a follow-up base hit, grabbed his cap and raced plateward with such a burst of speed that he crashed into the grandstand back of the plate, threatening to foul his running gear in the process. The double bearing seemed to help his think tank, too.

For mass daffiness, how about the entire Vernon team of 1949, which faced Fernando Rodriguez of Big Spring for the first time. Rodriguez fanned 17 men that night. In the late innings, the Dusters were consulting Umpire Bill Frank before they took their places in the batter's box begging him to call them out on three straight strikes.

Yes, the Longhorn League has had its share of daffiness and has been the better for it. Baseball would be a dull game indeed without the jigsaw it offers.

Quarterback Club To Hold Initial Session Tonight

Plans For Year To Be Talked

The High School Auditorium will be the scene at 7:30 p.m. today of the season's first meeting of the Big Spring Quarterback Club, an organization formed solely to boost athletics in the local school.

Old members are urged by club officials to be in attendance. In addition, the welcome mat is out for individuals interested in athletics or curious as to what sort of people and what kind of objectives makes such a club 'go'.

The Big Spring Quarterback Club has great plans for the coming school year. Those objectives will come much easier, Co-Captain Jack Cook has stated, if the membership continues to grow as it should.

Minimum fee for membership is $1 per annum.

"Good as our program was last year," Cook stated recently, "we feel we can improve upon it this year. And we feel the earlier we get started, the better job we can do of boosting athletics."

The organization's "board of strategy" has already been in session, mapping preliminary plans for the 1953-54 school year. Members of that board are Lee Porter, Omar Jones, Frank Martin, Jack Robinson, W. P. Hughes, Bob Currie, Hunka Stewart, Ted Hull, T. L. South, Glenn Brown, Jack Smith, A. Mack Rodgers and Clyde Angel.

Last year, the club used organizational funds for such things as motion picture films for the football team, membership cards, lapel buttons, a banner, gifts for coaches, trophies, a banquet and other items.

The club managed to be represented at every Steer football game during the 1952 season, both at home and away. Prior to each game, they gathered near the Steer dressing room to lend the players encouragement and wish them well.

More than one school official said the club's work did more to revive interest in school teams here and help the morale of the team than anything ever undertaken locally.

The Shreveport Sports won their second straight game since returning home and cut the Dallas Texas League lead to 3½ games Wednesday night.

Fred Martin blanked Houston 1-0 on three hits for the Sports.

Fort Worth helped the "big picture" by dropping Dallas 6-4. Oklahoma City trounced Tulsa 8-2 and San Antonio topped Beaumont 6-5.

Shreveport Manager Mickey Livingston was Dr. Livingston, psychiatrist, as he sent his latest pitching acquisition, Martin, against the club that turned him loose only last week. Martin responded and put the Buffs down on three singles. He didn't walk a man and allowed only one runner to reach third base.

The Sports were held in check by Floyd Woodruff until the last inning. Ninth inning singles by Joe Szekely and Bud Hestler and a scoring by Jay Jones brought a run and the ball game.

UPSTARTS NEED BOTH

Braves And Brooks In Double Header

By BEN PHLEGAR AP Sports Writer

With one eye on the standings and the other on the calendar, this looks like the day of decision for the Milwaukee Braves.

Charlie Grimm's club runs up against league-leading Brooklyn twice today. Nothing is less than a pair of victories will convince a ny-bop except the rabid Milwaukee fans that the Braves still have a p o n a n t chance.

The Braves, who jumped from a lackluster seventh-place outfit in Boston to dangerous contenders in Milwaukee, trail the Dodgers by 7½ games.

Twin triumphs would leave them 5½ behind; a double defeat would drop them 9½ back. It's a rare season when a club can make up that much ground in seven weeks, all that's left of the 1953 campaign.

Only six clubs remain between the two clubs, including the double-header today. So far Brooklyn has won 11 out of 16, six out of seven on the Braves' own field.

The Dodgers suffered their first loss in Milwaukee yesterday, a 5-3 decision which saw the Braves come from behind in the eighth inning. Milwaukee scored twice in the seventh when a sharp grounder that looked like a sure third out bounced off Johnny Gilliam's shoulder. They got three more in the eighth, two when Walker Cooper delivered a pinch hit single with two bases loaded and one more when Ery Palca walked Eddie Mathews with the bases loaded again.

Third-place Philadelphia, nine games back of Brooklyn, trimmed fourth-place St. Louis 7-3. The New York Giants, who have collapsed completely in the West, lost two more, 9-6 and 7-6 to Chicago with the second game running 16 innings. Pittsburgh defeated Cincinnati 6-4.

The top spots in the American League remained static with the New York Yankees still five games ahead of the Chicago White Sox. Although both won, neither the Yanks nor the Sox had easy going.

New York had to come from behind to edge Detroit 5-4 while Chicago was carried 14 innings at Philadelphia before Sam Mele broke it up with a two-run homer.

Kerbel Says Bucks Won't Win Again

HOUSTON (U.S.)—Stocky Joe Kerbel, who piloted Breckenridge to a state high school football championship his first year, expects a good team this season but doesn't anticipate another title.

The coach of the Class AAA champions said today he feared he wouldn't have the interior linemen to march to a crown.

"We have only three starters back from last season," he explained. "They are Ken Ford, quarterback; Billy Dendy, left halfback; and Tommie Beasley, end. Dendy is the only one who played both offense and defense last season."

There are 11 lettermen in the ranks of the Buckaroos, some of whom played very little last season, Kerbel pointed out.

He says Ford is the finest schoolboy quarterback he ever saw and is equal to Doyle Traylor, the great Temple field general, as a passer. Dendy is a terrific runner.

"But I just don't have enough men like that," he said.

Breckenridge has won the state crown twice in two years, beating Temple and Traylor each time in the finals. Traylor is gone this year.

City Tournament Finals On Tap

Bobby Maxwell and Bobby Wright were to tee off at 1 p.m. today at the Mundy Course in the championship finals of the annual City Golf Tournament.

The winner of the 18-hole match succeeds Jake Morgan as the title. Morgan withdrew from the tournament after qualifying.

Maxwell is a past champion and the defending Big Spring Invitational king-pin. Wright is capable of fine golf and, for several years, has been regarded as one of the two or three top-level linksters in this area.

Maxwell fanned out Ray Phillips to advance into the finals while Wright was outlasting his brother, Marvin, in his semi-final round.

The two Bobbys teamed up to compete in the Partnership Tournament at Amarillo last week, which is the principal reason they did not tangle Sunday.

Winner of the tournament wins the big Maloney-Hogan trophy, given annually by the local hospital.

League President Howard Green announced Herring's appointment yesterday to replace Al Smith, who recently to the Texas League.

Herring previously worked as a replacement in the Big State League in 1951 and 1952. He was assigned to the Tyler game last night.

Texasan Sets Pace In Heart Tourney

DETROIT (U.S.)—Rex Baxter, 17, a lanky Texan, heads the pack today into the third round of the Heart National Junior Golf Tournament.

The Amarillo teen-ager fired a second round 75 yesterday to bring his 36-hole total to 145, two strokes back were Dick Chase, 16, of Pittsburgh, and Don Bies, 15, of Seattle.

Cook's Appliance Store of Big Spring tries tonight to even matters in the playoff for the Colorado City Jaycee Softball League crown in an 8 o'clock game with the red-hot Col-Tex Oilers.

Col-Tex, which finished fourth in regular season play and then proceeded to knock off the first place club, Coashams, in the first round of the Shughessy playoffs, defeated Cook's, 6-1, in the first game of this series Tuesday night.

Indications are Speck Franklin will hurl tonight's game for the Big Spring club. Gene Parham may go back to the rubber for the Col-Tex team. Parham set the Big Springers down with three hits and struck out ten in the opening game.

The teams will clash again Tuesday night. The first team to win three games wins the championship.

Grid 11's End Houston Drills

HOUSTON (U.S.)—Schoolboy football teams end training today for the annual all-star game of the Texas Coaching School with the South a strong favorite.

The North lost its starting wing-back yesterday when Fred Kras of Austin (El Paso) became ill. The El Paso star won't get into the game, scheduled tomorrow night at Rice Stadium, at the beginning but he is likely to play some.

Joe Frank Allison of Henderson stepped into his place in the lineup and there was no appreciable loss of strength.

The coaches announced their starting offensive lineups.

Coach Dallas Ward of Colorado will use this one for the North; ends, Mike Brady, Lubbock, and Charles Bradshaw, Center; tackle, Edmon Gray, Odessa, and Bobby Lockett, Breckenridge; guards, Jimmy Gafford, Lubbock, and Frank Mayton, Fortney; center, Jerry Tubbs, Breckenridge; quarterback, Larry Friday, Midland; halfbacks, Leonard Fy, Brownwood, and Allison; fullback, Jack Webb, North Side (Fort Worth).

Coach Johnny Vaught of Mississippi announced this lineup for the South; ends, Everett Salley, Tishave, and Norman Chubbey, Edison (San Antonio); tackle, Norman Adams, Baytown, and Norman Hamilton, Vanderbilt; guards, Leon Simmons, Wichita Falls, and Dan Miller, Fort Worth; center, Charles Weaver, Harlandale (San Antonio); quarterback, Doyle Traylor, Temple; halfbacks, Jack Throckmorton, Lamarque, and Jackie Plache, Odessa; fullback, Ruben Sage, Bellville.

Art Aragon TKO's Los Angeles Boxer

SAN FRANCISCO (U.S.)—Cocky Art Aragon was holier today for a shot at Khd Gavron's welterweight title, thanks to a smashed lip belonging to a game puncher named Henry Davis.

AT HOUSTON CLINIC

Gerald To Become Coaches' Prexy

HOUSTON (U.S.)—Pat Gerald of Sweetwater will become president of the Texas High School Coaches Association today.

Gerald, long-time member of the association, will be elevated from vice-president. He was the unanimous choice of the nominating committee making its report yesterday.

There will be a contest for the vice presidency, however, with three names put into the hopper—Dan Stallworth of Baytown, Howard Harris of Harlandale (San Antonio) and Raymond Mattigly of Bowie.

The association holds its annual business meeting today with a change likely in the coaching setup of all-star games during the Texas Coaching School. There are only four conferences that will allow their coaches to tutor all-star teams in coaching schools—the Southeastern, Southwest, Southern and Missouri Valley. The Big Ten, Pacific Coast, Skyline, Ivy and Big Seven Conferences have banned it.

The plan of using high school coaches to handle the all-star teams will be brought up. Then the association won't run into embarrassing situations like the present—Coach Everett Shelton of Wyoming is lecturing at the Texas Coaching School here but can't coach an all-star basketball team because of a Skyline Conference ruling.

Dallas will make a bid for the 1954 coaching school with prospects of being quickly accepted. The coaching school, which ends here tomorrow, has drawn 1,817 high school and college mentors from over the Southwest. This is more than 200 under the all-time record of 1,860 set at Fort Worth last year.

Rockets Batter San Angelo, 5-3

Fifth-place Rowell turned tiger before a home crowd of 3,000 Wednesday night and whipped the Longhorn League-leading San Angelo Colts 5-3.

San Angelo committed four errors in going down to defeat.

Carlsbad overwhelming Odessa 15-0 with Marshall Epperson hurling a 4-hit shutout, coasting to the win behind 21 Potaaher hits, six of them homers.

Midland improved on its third-place slot by drubbing the fourth-place Artesia Drillers 8-5. The Indians slammed over four runs in the second inning and then backed off to the win with Jack Schaening pitching light, 6-hit relief in the final innings.

Riding THE GRUB LINE With Franklin Reynolds

Speaking at a Corpus Christi meeting of agricultural technicians and specialists last week, Dr. J. C. Miller, head of the Animal Husbandry Department of Texas A&M College, told them that while dwarfism in cattle is not new it is increasing in frequency and is a major breeding problem confronting the nation's livestock industry.

He said dwarfism is being found in both beef and dairy herds. "It is a factor of grave economic concern," he said, "because it is being found so often in herds of the most popular bloodlines."

While Miller wasn't reported as mentioning this point it is a well known fact that many breeders never let the public know about the dwarf calves that show up in their herds. Many dwarf calves appear perfectly normal at calving. They are frequently "short and compact" and show fashionable showing possibilities right then. At six months, however, they have begun to develop the definite characteristics of dwarfism.

The subject is under study through extensive experiments throughout the country.

Noble Walker, who farms four miles east of Colorado City, and who has been using his sprinkler system to make it rain on his farm since last fall, was one of the first to drill for water in his area and when he did he was willing to be satisfied with enough to raise a garden in the off years.

In drilling the first well the first

Mother Kills Her Children

ARAB, Ala. — A distraught mother answered her children's invitation to join them in play yesterday by cutting their throats and slashing herself wildly.

From a hospital bed Mrs. Pearl Griffin told Coroner Aubrey Carr she felt her nerves "let-go" about four months ago.

Carr said the 26-year-old mother killed Rickey Griffin, 6, Ronnie, 4, and Rossland, 3, while they were alone in her parents' home in Oleander, seven miles north of here. Her father, W. F. Chaney, said she had been suffering with a nervous disorder.

Carr said the mother told him she had repeatedly asked her family to send her to a mental institution, and had told her husband she was going to kill herself.

She said she had worried about leaving the children to be "pushed around."

When the children called to her to join them in play, she picked up her father's razor, went upstairs and killed them, Carr said the mother related.

Hosea Griffin, 16-year-old brother of the woman, said he saw blood dripping from the ceiling of the living room when he returned to the house.

The youth ran to the upper floor and found the bodies of the children on the floor. The mother lay among them, still clutching the razor.

Carr said Mrs. Griffin told her father, "I killed my children so they would go to heaven. I couldn't leave them behind."

Mrs. Griffin came home about a month ago from Detroit where her husband, Arnold, 29, works in an auto plant.

Carr said he asked the woman if she realized after killing the first child that she was "doing something terrible wrong."

He said she replied: "No, I was going to go through with it."

Mrs. Griffin was charged with three counts of murder and a guard placed at her bedside, the coroner said.

Army Officer Hails Acquittal On Red Connections Charge

FT. DEVENS, Mass. — Army Lt. Sheppard C. Thierman, 31, of Brooklyn, N. Y., today hailed his court martial acquittal of charges he had Communist ties as a vindication of "my honor as a loyal American."

Specifically, the nine-man court martial board yesterday acquitted the bespectacled doctor of charges of perjury by lying about Communist affiliations and of obtaining his Army commission fraudulently.

He won a directed verdict of acquittal on a third charge of failing to cooperate with the Senate internal security subcommittee last fall.

Thierman said in a statement: "I am extremely grateful and joyful at the results of the verdict. My honor as a loyal American has been vindicated."

"I received a fair trial in the American tradition in which all parties performed their duties according to law."

Thierman's civilian attorney, Emanuel Bloch, who defended atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg at their trial, said after the verdict was announced that it "represented a setback for those who would like to stifle the thoughts of those with whom they do not agree."

Ad Man Polio Victim

HOUSTON — Richard Dumit, former reporter on the Tulsa Tribune and head of a Houston advertising agency, died yesterday of polio. Dumit was stricken in June last year.

water showed up good enough for a windmill, and then he kept on going down. He hit other water several times, each new discovery showing up better than the one just ahead of it. Finally he got down to 201 feet and at this point gauged 450 gallons a minute. This well was located beside the highway right-of-way and he now says that if he had known for sure so much water would have been found he would have drilled in a more central place so he could have irrigated more acreage with less total length sprinkler pipe. Later on he drilled two other wells at strategic locations and they also turned out to be good producers. One of these pumped 550 GPM and the other 350 GPM. He has never been able to pump any of these wells down so far, and he estimates he has available on his farm, from the three wells, from 1,400 to 1,500 GPM.

Walker irrigated 20 acres of wheat and 10 acres of oats last fall and this spring for cover, grazing, hay and grain. These grain patches were grazed with 23 head of cattle from Oct. 15 until April 1, this year, when the grain was watered and permitted to mature. The oats were harvested for hay and made about one ton to the acre whereas the 20 acres of wheat harvested about 20 bushels to the acre. He has 10 acres of alfalfa of which he is mighty proud, and about six acres of this alfalfa surrounds the farmstead on the windward sides and Walker figures this is a sound program just for the cover alone without counting the grazing and hay which is paying regular dividends.

Walker planted about eight acres of his less productive land to a winter grass mixture last fall for grazing. He has irrigated this grass some and has gotten a lot of grazing from the eight acres with much more in prospect for the coming winter and spring. At present Walker is watering about 90 acres of cotton. He has just completed his second watering for this cotton and plans to water it all once more unless good rains come as a substitute.

This Mitchell County farmer is now figuring on the construction of a reservoir between two of the wells for use next year and to do his sprinkling at night from this reservoir. He believes there will be less water loss through evaporation at night and that he would be able to run two or more lines side-by-side which would also help in reducing evaporation. He plans to seed another 10 acres to alfalfa this fall along with some winter cover crops.

While running an irrigation efficiency test on the Palmer Baxter farm in Dawson County a few days ago, technicians of the Soil Conservation Service took a little time out to compare his cotton following winter hairy vetch with cotton following cotton.

They say the difference is first and immediately apparent in the color of the cotton. That on the land on which vetch was grown last year the cotton has a much darker green color and is about twice as tall as the cotton following cotton.

They counted the fruit on three average stalks of the cotton-following-vetch and the cotton-following-cotton, and when these stalks were averaged the following was found: On the stalks of cotton following vetch there were six bolls, 17 squares and one bloom.

The best cotton on Baxter's farm say the conservationists, is in an area where last year's vetch caught and held some blowing topsoil. The average of three stalks from this area showed 12 bolls, 25 squares and four blooms.

City Will Get More Frequent Airline Service

Return to the use of DC3 airliners by Pioneer Air Lines will result in more frequent air service for Big Spring, effective Saturday, Billy Watson, local manager, announced today.

Starting Saturday, six flights daily will be serving Big Spring, rather than the present four.

Watson said the new schedules also will result in better service to points north and south of Big Spring.

Tentative new schedules, to go into effect in a week, call for east-bound planes to leave here at 7:16 a. m. (arriving in Dallas 9:37 and in Austin via change at Abilene at 10:24); at 1:26 p. m., arriving in Dallas at 3:46; and at 7:56 p. m., arriving in Dallas at 10:17.

Those schedules will meet major flights out of Dallas for the East, said local Pioneer Agent Billy Watson. Westbound flights will leave at 9:24 a. m. (having left Dallas at 7 a. m.); at 4:38 p. m. (having departed Dallas at 2:15) and at 8:07 p. m. (having left Dallas at 5:45). The first two flights will provide for the first time, one-plane service to Lubbock and Amarillo, since the schedule goes northward out of Midland.

These two trips also make connection to Austin and Houston by way of Midland. The 9:24 trip out of here reaches Amarillo at 12:13 p. m. or Austin at 1:05 p. m. The 4:38 p. m. departure will reach Amarillo at 8:16 or Austin at 8:33.

The tentative schedule provides for all six flights through here five days a week. On Saturdays and Sundays there will be two flights each day. Pioneer is planning cut-back of activities on the weekend, because of new operational methods brought about by the CAB rulling that required Pioneer's return to DC3 service in lieu of the Martin Pacemasters which were being used.

Normandy Memorial To U.S. War Dead Shown By Sculptor

NEW YORK — The 23-foot full-scale model of a war memorial to be built in Normandy, France, was displayed yesterday by the sculptor, Donald J. Due.

The memorial, to commemorate the D-day landings on June 6, 1944, will be erected in memory of 15,000 American war dead buried in Normandy.

The model shows a nude man, arms aloft and mouth open as though speaking. The granite base of the memorial, De Lue said, will be inscribed, "For I have seen the glory of the coming of the Lord."

DALLAS — Dallas will pay higher taxes Oct. 1. The city announced yesterday a 25-cent increase in the tax rate for the new fiscal year from $1.90 to $2.15. Mayor R. L. Thornton says the boost is necessary for a record $43,507,000 budget. The city wants to hire 180 more policemen.

Joske's To Build New Houston Store

HOUSTON — A new Joske's department store is to be built in Gulftate, regional shopping center to be constructed seven miles from downtown Houston off the Gulf Freeway.

Plans were announced today by James Calvert, president of Joske Bros. Co.

CAPT. W. D. 'DUKE' WILLIAMS

Playwright's Brother Is Webb's New Legal Officer

The brother of one of America's most distinguished theater personalities has recently been assigned to duty at Webb Air Force Base. He is Captain Walter D. "Duke" Williams, brother of Tom "Tennessee" Williams, famed playwright of such outstanding stage and screen dramas as "Streetcar Named Desire" and "The Glass Menagerie."

An attorney in civilian life, Capt. Williams has assumed the duties of Wing Judge Advocate of the base.

He was transferred from Mather

AFB, Calif., where he served in the same capacity.

A veteran of World War II, the captain practiced law in St. Louis before his return to active duty in April 1951.

Capt. Williams first entered the military in 1942. He served 27 months in the China-Burma-India Theatre of Operations before being released from active duty in 1946.

Since his return to the Air Force he has been assigned to legal duties.

Ink seems to flow freely in the captain's family bloodstream. Sidney Lanier, noted American poet of the last century was his great-uncle.

In spite of the success of his family in the theatrical world, Capt. Williams says that he has no literary ambitions himself. He prefers the courtroom to the footlights for his drama.

New Directory Lists Employes Of City, County

AUSTIN (AP)—County and city employes have been added to the 8th edition of the Texas state directory off the press this month.

The book is intended as a reference book of Texas governmental workers from the governor to the city clerk.

First off, it lists 125 Texas state offices, departments, board commissions agencies and authorities in alphabetical order and their top personnel. The list includes such items as members of the State Embalming Board, the Board of Insurance Commissioners, the Texas Education Agency, and the Neches River Conservation District Board.

All of Texas' 31 state senators and 150 representatives have their picture in the book, along with the counties in their districts so do the congressmen.

All the elected and a lot of the appointed officials have their pictures, too.

In the register section is an alphabetical listing of all state workers in Austin, their original hometown, their Austin address and telephone number.

Another list names chambers of commerce of Texas cities, their president and their manager or secretary. Still another list names the county judge, clerk, sheriff and assessor-collector of each county. And another gives the population, mayor and clerk of each city.

Late appointments this spring are included. The section of capital newspaper correspondents at the front of the book could use some revising.

The book is published by the Texas Publishing Company in Austin and sells for $3.

Boy Fails In His Attempt To Become Lone Star Cowboy

HERINGTON, Kan. (AP)—German-born Earnest Helderman, 11, of Chicago didn't realize his dream of becoming a cowboy in Texas but he at least got as far as Kansas on his first attempt.

Packing toy pistols in his jeans and carrying a carton of milk and four cookies, Earnest boarded a train near his small Chicago home.

He rode unnoticed until he was past Kansas City. Then the conductor found he didn't have a ticket.

The conductor turned him over to a brakeman who fed him in the diner. Kenneth Grier, a railroad agent, met the train here and took Earnest home with him.

Earnest came to this country two years ago. He has been having a fine vacation here even if he didn't get to Texas. He has learned how to ride Jimmy Grier's bike and the two boys have been playing baseball at the recreational center.

His parents are now making arrangements for his return to Chicago.

Farmers Kill Reds

HONG KONG (AP)—The pro-Nationalist newspaper Sing Tao Jih said today angry farmers killed or wounded more than 100 Communist soldiers last week in an uprising over an order to plant rubber trees in rice fields on Hainan, Red China's largest island off Indochina.

Three New Faculty Members Are Named At Junior College

Three names have been added to the faculty of Howard County Junior College.

Trustees have approved contracts for Ben F. Johnson, guidance counselor, Ella Andrea, instructor in foreign languages, and John Bice, instructor in music.

Bice will succeed Elizabeth Cope, who has submitted a letter of resignation to President W. A. Hunt. He holds both the bachelor of music and master of music degrees from North Texas State College.

In addition he has had choral experience with the Starlight Opera in Dallas, and the New Orleans Opera Association. He also went to Brazil for studies in piano in 1946 and 1947, and has professional experience as an accompanist with the New Orleans Opera Association and with recitalists. For the past three years Bice has been associated with the public school system in Longview.

Johnson, who is doing further graduate study at the University of Texas, has the masters degree with major in psychology and extensive work in the field of education. He is qualified to instruct in several departments, said Dr. Hunt.

Miss Andrea will come to HCJC from Cisco, where she has been associated with the public schools and the Cisco Junior College for the past 14 years, teaching Spanish and French. Henceforth, HCJC will concentrate principally on Spanish and French in a language department, instead of German and Russian, which have been offered in the past.

Col. Henion Is New Texas District Chief

AUSTIN (AP)—Col. Karl Henion has been assigned as chief of the Texas Military District here. He succeeds Col. Marcus E. Jones, who retired July 31.

Henion has just returned from duty with the U. S. Army in Europe, where he was chief of the civil affairs division at Heidelberg.

As district chief, he will direct the training and administration of more than 40,000 Army reservists in Texas and will exercise general supervision of 59 ROTC units.

Rate Controversy Is Matter Of Big Words

HOUSTON (AP)—The rate controversy between the City of Houston and Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. got so technical and involved that a councilman brought a big dictionary to the afternoon session yesterday.

Earlier, Councilman Ira L. Kohler said, "All you have here is conjecture and assumption." The dictionary-totin' councilman couldn't find "assumption."

Six Texans Will Help Holland Celebrate Its AF Anniversary

SOESTERBERG AIR BASE, The Netherlands (AP)—Six Texans who helped create Holland's jet air arm will be on the sidelines here when the Royal Netherlands Air Force celebrates its 40th anniversary with a massed show of NATP air strength.

These Texans are in the Military Assistance Advisory Group (MAAG) which works directly with the Dutch in obtaining aircraft and U. S. training through the Mutual Defense Assistance Program (MDAP). The strong build-up of the Dutch air force has come about largely in the last three years, sparked by MDAP-MAAG assistance from the U. S.

Hundreds of new Dutch pilots have a strong Texas feeling for that is where most of them learned to fly as MDAP students. English-speaking Dutch youngsters have long been familiar figures in the vicinity of Hondo, Laredo, Bryan, Goodfield, Connally, San Marcos and Foster air bases.

The Texans now working in The Netherlands are Lt. Col. Roland Bell of (2016 Alexander St.) Waco, Lt. Col. Robert W. Holmes of Silsbee, Maj. Felix P. Scott of (1512 Carlyle St.) Rosenberg, Maj. Wm. H. Van Marter of (290 Magazine Ave.) New Braunfels, M-Sgt. James H. Barker of (Route 2)

Commerce, and T-Sgt. Ambroscio Leos of (Box 311) Richmond. MAAG Texans who have returned to the U. S. include Col. Eugene Callahan of San Antonio, who headed the Air Force section of MAAG until recently, and M-Sgt. Sammy Lee, chief of administration who hails from Taylor.

Bell, chief of electronics and a former school teacher in Debel Bonham and Denison, makes it a point to meet the Dutch more than half way, and has learned to use the Flemish language.

Col. Holmes, who has spent the biggest part of his air force career in Europe, echoes Bell's opinions. "You can see the results of your work on this job in terms of combat-ready aircraft and fighter pilots," says Holmes, chief of the materiel branch. The Silsbee man was in Europe during the war, including a 15-month stretch as a prisoner in Germany. He later did three years with a fighter-bomber group in Germany, and then came back to MAAG-Netherlands where he has put in two and a half years.

The Texan who is probably enjoying himself more than any other is Maj. Scott, air operations advisor to the Dutch who is in the air almost every day flying in Thunderjet formations with the Netherlands. He will most probably lead a Dutch jet squadron in the Anniversary fly-by at Soesterberg, birthplace of the RAAF.

"I had a lot of misconceptions about The Netherlands before coming here," says Scott. "Holland's location, tiny size and whopping population jolted me, and I imagine they would be a surprise to most Americans."

Holland would fit into a couple of Texas counties, being about 190 miles North-South and about 160 East-West. "A jet pilot taking off in central Holland," observes Scott, "cannot hold a heading over 15 minutes without leaving the country."

In this tiny space, the Dutch cram a population 2,000,000 greater than that of Texas, at a rate of 816 per square mile. Millions of them live on land "borrowed from the sea." "It always gives me a funny feeling," Scott says, "to land at Schiphol and read that sign—'Altitude, -8 feet.'"

If anybody is inclined to think of the RAAF as "Swiss Navy" terms, they have another think coming, according to Maj. Van Marter. Dutch air power of today, fully integrated into the unified defense of Western Europe, is a potent striking arm—a far cry from the tiny, obsolescent unit Holland had when World War Two broke out.

When attacked in 1940, despite her declared neutrality, The Netherlands had only 43 first-line aircraft ready to meet the hundred that were thrown against her. There were only 600 regulars in the RAAF then.

The exact size of the growing RAAF is an official secret, but along with other elements, it will soon have 12 full jet squadrons. From British-Belgian-Dutch cooperation, the RAAF has six Meteor interceptor squadrons, and through U. S. assistance and training it will soon have six squadrons of F84 Thunderjet fighter-bombers.

Some Areas Report Pork Prices Down

By The Associated Press

You'll be able to eat "high on the hog" this week—pork prices have finally come down.

Pork hasn't declined everywhere but general speaking, week end shoppers will find price tags considerably lower than a week ago.

A leading chain cites these reductions: In Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago, center cut pork chops are down 10 cents a pound, in Los Angeles 11 cents, in New York and Jacksonville 14 cents, and in Detroit 20 cents.

Pork joints and smoked hams also will be featured this week end. You may find lamb prices lower, too, depending on where you live. Many stores will keep prices at the same levels as a week ago, but in some instances, leg of lamb will be two to 10 cents a pound cheaper and shoulder roasts a few cents off. Lower wholesale costs may presage further declines next week.

By and large, beef prices will be about the same. Rib roast will be featured in some stores but will be slightly higher in others.

Other beef items mentioned as specials for the week end included chuck roast, ground beef, cube steak and beef liver.

Chickens will be featured in some places, with reductions from one to as much as six cents. Among fish mentioned as good buys were fresh cod fillet, frozen sliced halibut and smelt. Butter and egg prices will be much the same. Here and there eggs will be a couple of cents cheaper.

The best buys in vegetables: Onions, cabbage, celery and eggplant. Food men said moderately good buys included cucumbers, beans, carrots, peppers and spinach. Vegetables going higher this week included cauliflower, corn, lettuce, peas and tomatoes.

Fruit prices were lower on the produce markets, but experts said there were no bargains. They mentioned peaches as the best buy in fruit. That fruit was about as low as it was likely to get this season.

Fruits coming down a bit in price included oranges, seedless grapes and Bartlett pears. Pears were featured in some retail stores. Among new arrivals at produce markets were gravenstein apples from California.

Sinclair Net Down

NEW YORK (AP)—Sinclair Oil Corp. reported today net income for six months of $30,279,126, compared with $44,586,701 in the same period in 1952.

New Polio Cases Up To 92 Over Texas

AUSTIN (AP)—Polio cases mounted to 92 in Texas last week, the highest incidence for the year. The previous high was 86 a week earlier.

Harris County reported the most new cases, nine. Seven counties reported polio for the first time this year. They were Garza, Gillespie, Hopkins, Jack, Live Oak, Morris and Upton.

The year's total rose to 945, compared to 2,370 a year ago. Forty-two counties listed polio cases last week. Dallas had seven; Brazoria, Jefferson, Tarrant and Taylor, five each; Brown, Johnson, Nueces, four each; Bexar, McLennan, three each; Atascosa, Coleman, El Paso, Galveston, Midland, two each; Bosque, Cameron, Coryell, Fannin, Gregg, Howard, Lavaca, Lipscomb, Lubbock, Nolan, Rusk, Potter, Smith, Stephens, Titus, Travis, Williamson, Yoakum and Young, one each.

MARGUERITE SMITH
... a rare Haviland china cup

Rare China Is Prized By Marguerite Smith

Rare Haviland china brought from Maine to Kansas in the days of the early West are among the treasured possessions of Marguerite Smith.

The genuine Haviland was made by Theodore Haviland in Limoges, France. It is impossible to buy the china now in either that pattern or shape, Miss Smith says, since the equipment for making it was destroyed in World War I. The china has a beautiful translucency when held up to the light.

Miss Smith, who lives on the Old Mill Road, is employed by Corden in the treasury department. One of her favorite recipes is for a spice cake, that, she says, is so easy "a three-year-old child could make it."

Although she has many lovely antique pieces, Miss Smith insists, "I am not an antique collector. They all belonged to my family."

The antiques include a marble topped table, a cast iron footstool made by her grandfather in his own shop, pearl handled silver flatware and sterling flatware by a leading silver company in a pattern long ago discontinued.

All these were brought from Maine with the china, Miss Smith also has several plates handpainted by her aunt before 1900.

There's a warm spot in Miss Smith's heart for cats and dogs. She now cares for three kittens, one of which was up in a tree crying when she found it recently. Her dog came to the door at Christmas time seven years ago and has been around ever since. The dog answers to various contractions of the name, "Little One," and gets along very well with the kittens. Her simple recipe for spice cake can also be used for a fruit cake simply by adding one can candied fruit and two tablespoons apple butter. She warns that about the only way the cake can be ruined is to bake it in too fast an oven.

SPICE CAKE

Ingredients:
1/2 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 tablespoon cinnamon
1 tablespoon cloves
1 tablespoon nutmeg
1 tablespoon allspice
1 large cup raisins or dates
1 cup nuts, such as pecans or walnuts
1 cup boiling water
1 1/2 cup all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon soda
1 pinch salt

Method:
Put the shortening, sugar, spices, raisins or dates and nuts in the water and bring to a boil. Let cool. Add the flour, soda and salt. Pour into a bread pan and bake in a slow oven at 300 degrees. Miss Smith's pan measures about 12 inches long by 7 inches wide and 3 inches deep. The depth allows for the cake to rise.

She recommends this icing to go with the cake:

ICING

Ingredients:
1 1/2 cups sugar, granulated
1/2 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon vanilla

Method:
Boil the ingredients until a soft ball will form in cold water. Then pour over the cake in the baking pan. The soda gives the icing a caramel color.

Tossed Salad Can Be Fixed Ahead Of Time If Congealed

Chef's salad can now move out of the class of a "last minute affair." All who like the crispness of this salad will be pleased with jellied chef's salad, complete with greens and bite-size strips of meat and cheese. Add a tangy sharp dressing and you'll have the tossed salad fixed ahead of time.

JELLIED CHEF'S SALAD

2 packages lemon flavored gelatin
2 cups hot water
1 1/2 cups cold water
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
4 teaspoons vinegar
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
2 tablespoons thin strips green pepper
1/4 cup finely cut scallions

1/4 cup thin tomato wedges
1/4 cup finely shredded lettuce
1/2 cup finely shredded chloery or endive
1 tablespoon French dressing
1/2 cup sliced ham, tongue or veal
1/2 cup sliced Swiss cheese

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add cold water, salt, vinegar, pepper and Worcestershire sauce. Chill. Meanwhile, combine vegetables and French dressing; let stand about 20 minutes to marinate.

When gelatin is lightly thickened, fold in marinated vegetables, ham and cheese. Turn into individual molds or 1 1/2 quart bowl. Chill until firm. Unmold on crisp salad greens if desired. Garnish with mayonnaise. Makes 10 servings.

Pretty Rainbow Sandwich Loaves Are Light, Tasty

Light, tasty and surprisingly satisfying, individual rainbow sandwich loaves are as pretty as a cake. Each layer has a filling of a different color and flavor, carefully chosen to harmonize. The easy-to-apply cream cheese frosting adds enough protein to make a nourishing luncheon dish.

A refreshing complement is iced coffee. A simple sugar syrup served with the iced coffee will go into solution with one languid swirl of the spoon.

INDIVIDUAL RAINBOW SANDWICH LOAVES

In four bowls, prepare these fillings:
1. Combine 1 cup flaked crabmeat, 1-3 cup minced celery, 1/4 cup mayonnaise, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, salt and pepper to taste.

2. Combine 2 cans deviled ham, 1/2 cup mayonnaise, 1/4 cup pickle relish.

3. Combine 3 hard-cooked eggs, chopped, 2 tablespoons chopped ripe olives, 1 teaspoon curry powder and enough mayonnaise to spread.

4. Combine 1 jar pimiento cheese spread, 1 small onion, grated, and few drops tabasco.

Cut crusts from 20 thin slices of bread. Put 5 slices together with 4 fillings. Cut each stack in half. Continue until bread and fillings are used. Frost top and sides of each "loaf" with the following mixture:

Combine 1/2 lb. cream cheese with 1 tablespoon mayonnaise and 1 tablespoon light cream; whip until fluffy. Garnish with olive and green pepper "flowers." Yield: 12 loaves.

Enjoy Luxury Of Outdoor Dinners

Get the most out of warm days and cool nights by eating al fresco on the terrace or by romantic candlelight on the porch.

A he-man favorite like Canadian bacon takes on special party airs when rubbed with mustard and brown sugar and placed on skewer spit to barbecue at medium heat for 45 minutes. It is basted with white wine and then barbecued for another 5 or 10 minutes.

Hamburger gets de luxe treatment, too, by mixing 1 lb. of ground beef, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, 1 clove minced garlic, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 2 tablespoons light cream, 2 tablespoons wine (Marsala). Shape 4 cakes about 1 inch thick, wrapping each in 2 bacon strips crosswise. Place in grill-spit. Grill at medium heat for 10 minutes, turn to high heat and grill for another 10 minutes for a real gourmet hamburger.

Oysters may be wrapped in bacon slices, fastened with toothpicks and placed in broiler-rack for 10 minutes.

Frosty Beverage Is Antidote For Heat

About the most welcome treat in the middle of a hot, summer afternoon is a frosted glass of a cool, thirst-quenching beverage.

You might like this cooler made with strawberries and coconut.

PLAZA PUNCH

1/2 cups sugar
1 1/2 cups water
1 1/2 cups coconut
3 cups mashed strawberries
Pale dry ginger ale
Combine sugar, water and coconut in small saucepan; stir over low heat until sugar dissolves; boil 10 minutes strain; cool. Divide syrup among six tall glasses. Add 1/2 cup strawberries to each glass. Fill glasses with ice cold pale dry ginger ale. Stir gently to mix.

Another party drink for summer is strawberry eggnog. It would especially please the youngsters, for who could devise a more pleasant way to drink milk? Garnish with a strawberry and a spoonful of whipped cream and you have a pretty as well as delicious drink.

STRAWBERRY EGGNOG

4 egg yolks, well beaten
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 pint strawberries, washed, hulled and mashed
1/2 cup maple-blended syrup
1 quart cold milk
4 egg whites, stiffly beaten
Combine syrup, egg yolks, salt and mashed berries. Add milk and blend. Fold into beaten egg whites. Pour into tall glasses and serve immediately. Makes 2 quarts or about 6 servings.

If desired, reserve six whole strawberries and garnish each serving with a spoonful of whipped cream and a berry.

During the summer days it is a good idea to keep frozen or canned fruit juices in the refrigerator, along with ginger ale and sparkling water. They make you ready for most any occasion. But if you keep ice cream, too, then you have a wide variety of cooling beverages at your fingertips. Sodas are simple.

For a delightful hot afternoon drink, you might try this one.

RASPBERRY SUPREME

1 package quick-frozen raspberries
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 tablespoon vanilla extract
Pale dry ginger ale
Press raspberries through sieve or food mill. Add lemon juice and vanilla extract. Divide among four tall glasses. Fill glasses with ice cold ginger ale. Stir gently to mix.

There is no end to the variety of sodas you can concoct in the kitchen in a jiffy. Ginger ale sodas can be simply made by adding a scoop of ice cream to a tall glass of ginger ale. Fresh fruit sodas take only a few extra minutes while you crush and slightly sweeten the berries, peaches, cherries or plums.

Maraschino cherries can be used to tasty advantage this way.

CHERRY ICE CREAM SODA

1/4 cup chopped sweetened cherries
1/2 cup light cream
1 scoop cherry or vanilla ice cream
Sparkling water
Combine cherries and light cream in tall glass. Add ice cream. Fill glass with sparkling water. Stir gently. Serves one.

Another soda that is popular is lime, and this is how you make it.

LIME SODA

1 lime juiced
2 tablespoons sugar syrup
2 tablespoons light cream
1 scoop fruit sherbet
Sparkling water
Combine lime juice, sugar syrup and cream in a tall glass. Add a scoop of orange or lime sherbet. Fill glass with sparkling water. Serves one.

When there are guests cooling off on your patio, a punch type drink is practical. This cooler with lime ice is a refreshing one.

PATIO PUNCH

4 cups water
2 cups sugar
1 tablespoon grated lime rind
1/2 cup lime juice
Green vegetable coloring
2 quarts chilled pale dry ginger ale
Combine water and sugar in sauce pan. Place over low heat and stir until sugar is dissolved. Bring to a boil and boil two minutes. Remove from heat, add lime rind; cool. Strain and add lime juice. Add a few drops of vegetable coloring to make a delicate green. Pour into tray of automatic refrigerator and freeze until firm. Remove from tray to chilled bowl, and beat with a rotary beater until a thick mush. Quickly return to freezing tray and freeze until firm. To serve, half fill tall glasses with lime ice; pour in pale dry ginger ale to fill glasses. Makes eight servings.

Five quarts of ice cold pale dry ginger ale and one gallon of lime ice will make 50 punch-cup servings if you are having a large party.

STRAWBERRY EGGNOG FOR A PARTY

Spoons are in order when you serve a fresh fruit float such as raspberry peach float. This doubles both as a beverage and as a dessert if you wish to serve it as such. The colors from the combined fruits make it a gay beverage for a party or the canasta club.

RASPBERRY PEACH FLOAT

1 cup mashed peaches, fresh, canned, or frozen

6 tablespoons sugar
Few grains salt
1-3 cup lemon juice
1 cup red raspberries
8 cups milk
1 pint vanilla ice cream
Blend peaches, sugar, salt and lemon juice; pour into tall, chilled glasses. (If canned or frozen peaches are used reduce sugar to 4 tablespoons.) Add raspberries, reserving a few for garnishing. Slowly pour in cold milk. Top with vanilla ice cream and garnish with red raspberries. Serve immediately. Serves six.

Chili Pie And Cheese

Make standard pastry and line 9-inch pie pan. Sprinkle grated American cheese on pastry. Pour in one can chili and sprinkle grated American cheese on top. Bake at 375 degrees F. for about 30 minutes.

A he-man favorite like Canadian bacon takes on special party airs when rubbed with mustard and brown sugar and placed on skewer spit to barbecue at medium heat for 45 minutes. It is basted with white wine and then barbecued for another 5 or 10 minutes.

Hamburger gets de luxe treatment, too, by mixing 1 lb. of ground beef, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, 1 clove minced garlic, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 2 tablespoons light cream, 2 tablespoons wine (Marsala). Shape 4 cakes about 1 inch thick, wrapping each in 2 bacon strips crosswise. Place in grill-spit. Grill at medium heat for 10 minutes, turn to high heat and grill for another 10 minutes for a real gourmet hamburger.

Oysters may be wrapped in bacon slices, fastened with toothpicks and placed in broiler-rack for 10 minutes.

France And Spain Agree

LICQ ATHEREY, France (U) — France and Spain have reached a working agreement in their dispute over control of a hole in the ground.

The accord provides that the hole, the Pierre Saint-Martin Cavern in the Pyrenees, believed to be the deepest in the world, will be explored by a party including both French and Spanish scientists and that what they find will be shared by both countries.

The object of the exploration is an underground torrent which might be exploited to produce hydro-electric power.

The quarrel over ownership of the cavern reached a peak this week when a 30-man French expedition was about to begin the third attempt made in recent years to explore it to the bottom. Spain claimed the cavern entrance is in Spanish territory. The French replied that the boundary marker had been displaced about 50 years ago by shepherds and that official surveys put the cavern mouth in France.

Farmers Organize

MONAHANS (U) — Farmers of the irrigated farming areas in this section have organized to ask cancellation of $1,847,000 owed the RFC. The drought, the farmers assert, has made it impossible for the group to meet 1537 obligations as a part of the Red Bluff dam project.

Electric Fair And Annual Meet

Today, the Cap Rock Electric Cooperative opens a two-day electric fair in conjunction with its annual meeting at Stanton. Activities will take place under a big top, such as above. This is the 14th annual meet and finds Cap Rock with 2740 members scattered along its 1,675 miles of line. The co-op serves Martin and Howard Counties and parts of Dawson, Borden, Glasscock, Midland, Ector, Upton, Andrews and Reagan Counties.

Benedum Spraberry Field Put Back On 21-Day Schedule

AUSTIN (U) — The Benedum Spraberry Field in Upton and Reagan counties is back on the statewide 21-day allowable schedule. The Railroad Commission designated the reservoir yesterday as a separate field from the Spraberry Trend. The trend is on a curtailed 11-day schedule in an effort to halt wasteful gas flaring. Spraberry field rules will otherwise apply to the Benedum. The separation was asked at a hearing July 16.

Cap Rock Electric Fair Begins Today

Combined with its annual membership meeting, the Cap Rock Electric Cooperative brings the 1953 Electric Fair to Stanton today. The show, under the big top, opens at 6 p.m. on US 80 west of Stanton. Seventeen dealers will be displaying latest appliances and farm equipment. Highlights of the entertainment program will be unveiled. Friday at 2 p.m., Cap Rock members will hear reports on the year's activities and will elect three board members and officers. At 4 p.m. members of the Cap Rock Freezer Locker plant will hold their annual meeting. The nominating committee has posted the names of incumbents, whose terms expire, to succeed themselves. They are Edgar Phillips, district No. 3; W. D. Howell, district No. 6; J. D. McCreeless, district No. 8; Glenn Cantrell, Cap Rock president, will preside at the business parley, and McCreeless will be in charge of the locker plant session. While the Electric Fair is in progress, there will be cowboy music, an amateur talent contest, traiped animal acts, juggling, a wonders-of-science show, plus Bozo the clown. A table model Stromberg-Carlson radio will be awarded the winner of the amateur talent contest, and the winner will also be judged for the state finals to be held in Mineral Wells in October. Winner in the state finals will receive a major appliance by Kelvinator (contest sponsor) in addition to $50 to pay expenses to Mineral Wells. The contest is open to all talented amateurs in this area, and entrants should contact O. B. Bryan, manager of the Co-Op at Stanton to enter. During the business session, special movies will be shown for the kids. At other times during the day, movies of general interest will be shown in the special movie tent. And in addition, there's a kiddie ride, which like the rest of the Fair, is free except concessions operated by the Home Demonstration and 4-H Clubs. The nationally known stage show, "Reviews of Progress," produced by General Motors Corporation, is presented by Frigidaire. Dealers who will have exhibits at the Electric Fair are: Big Spring-Hilburn's Appliance Co., Good Housekeeping Shop, Big Spring Hardware, Ken Scudder's Household Appliance Store, W. B.

Maddox Resigns

AUSTIN (U) — Frank Maddox has resigned as assistant state highway engineer effective Sept. 1 after almost 33 years with the Highway Department. He has taken a job with the Portland Cement Assn. at San Antonio.

Morris Takes Post

HOUSTON (U) — Curtis Morris, vice president of Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corp., has accepted an appointment to the executive staff of the American Gas Assn.

NEW SCHEDULE
A new graduation schedule has been announced for aviation cadets in training at Webb. The new system goes into effect with the arrival of classes 54-A, 54-B and 54-C.

MANAGEMENT CLASS
Fifty-two officers, airmen and civilians working at Webb graduated from management training school today. The commencement was held in the Academic Auditorium with Colonel Henry S. Tyler Jr., as guest speaker. All have completed the supervisory course being taught at Webb.

CONTRACTS
Three construction contracts are now under way at Webb. They include re-siding of three warehouses by Lang Construction of Big Spring, installation of dust collecting systems in AIO and base shops by Western Service of Big Spring, and installation of ADF sprinkler system in the hospital area by Texas Automatic Sprinkler of Dallas.

HOLY NAME
The St. Christopher Holy Name Society will have its first official Communion Mass and breakfast Sunday. The group will attend the 9 a.m. Mass at the Academic Auditorium to be followed by the first breakfast-business meeting at Morales Restaurant at 10. Following the short business meeting will be enrollment of members in the newly organized group.

DRIVING CONTEST
A-3C Harold H. Eavenson of Webb's Motor Vehicle Squadron placed third in the passenger sedan driving class at the USAF Motor Road-E-O held recently at Lackland AFB, Texas.
