Donations To Museum Bring Back Memories

by Marisue Potts

Remember the Midnight Preview at the Rogue Theatre? Stake bed pickups and dusty cars lined the crowded sidewalks filled with guests waiting a turn at the barber shop, the ladies doing the week's shopping, and the kids running up and down the streets until time for the latest "shoot 'em up" at the midnight show. It was a family time, a chance to see friends and neighbors and catch up on the latest gossip before returning to the week's work on the isolated farms and ranches.

During the thirties the Lem Guthrie family started a chain of small town movie theatres, all named "The Rogue". In Matador the Rogue was owned and operated by L.H. Diricksons, where Lloyd or 'Pete' with her perky smile adorned the box office and Dick (or Hazel as we knew him) with his "seegar" and Stetson presided over reels in the projection room and ladled out popcorn at the concession stand.

On a real special night wide-eyed youngsters could thrill to Lon Cheany's "Ghost of Frankenstein" or join Gene Autry's cowboys in "Cimmaron Sunset" featuring Flomot's own Shannon Davidson.

Keeping abreast of the changing times, during the fifties the pair operated the Matador Drive-in, a 160 car outdoor theatre overlooking the headquarters of the historic Matador Ranch.

These nostalgic memories came flooding back with the donation to the Motley County Historical Museum by the Dick Diricksons in honor of the Guthrie and Dirickson families. Preserving a sense of that earlier time in our country's history is an aim and goal of the museum.

The Motley County Historical Museum invites you to participate in a challenge grant issued by The Meadows Foundation of Dallas. For every $1 raised locally to renovate the historic Traweck Building into a county museum, the private philanthropic foundation will match with $2. This week's total of donations and memorials of $5395 is pushing nearer to the local goal of $6,000.

Work has already begun on the 1928 two-story brick building. The repair and painting of windows and the addition of storm windows has made a decided improvement in the appearance and utility of the museum building.

Future plans include the use of volunteers and museum science students to plan and implement exhibits or tell the story of Motley County for school groups, tourists, or those who suffer from a severe case of nostalgia for The Rogue.

Cemetery Association Meets

The East Mound Cemetery Board met recently to discuss problems and solutions to the Cemetery up-keep.

After a lengthy discussion it was decided to send delegates to the City Council to discuss a solution.
Meeting adjourned.

The Cowpokes cartoon has been an advertising feature sponsored by the First State Bank in the Tribune for about 30 years, the longest ad in term of years to appear in this publication.

When he wasn't raising cattle, drilling for oil or campaigning to save the horned toads, cowboy cartoonist Ace Reid was drawing "Cowpokes."

Reid's self-syndicated cartoons once appeared in more than 400 newspapers across Texas, including the Houston Chronicle, Fort Worth Star-Telegram and San Antonio Express-News.

But the humorist and founder of a pre-sweated hat business - "the man who invented sweat," Playboy magazine said - died Sunday at Methodist Hospital in San Antonio.

Reid suffered a long battle with leukemia and diabetes. He was 65.

"His genius was to be able to see the world in its humor and put it down on paper," said his son, Stan Reid of Kerrville. "In his cartoons, he would go straight to the point of the problems of everyday people. He made them feel comfortable."

Reid's inspirational, fun outlook on life made him a popular speaker across the country.

He once told a Star-Telegram reporter that his favorite depiction of himself came from the late movie actor Slim Pickens.

"The only creatures in the world that are more unpredictable, less reliable and rior-looking than Ace Reid are cowboys, horses and cows that he draw," Pickens wrote.

Among Reid's ventures were setting up trail drives along the old Chisolm Trail and organizing the Old Crippled Cowboys of America.

He claimed to be on "Howdy" terms with Lyndon B. Johnson, who as vice president endured Reid's frequent ribbing.

Reid's body will be cremated. Reid was born at Lelia Lake in the Panhandle and grew up near Electra, west of Wichita Falls. He married Madge Parmley in 1950 and moved to Kerrville.

A memorial service was planned Wednesday at 4 p.m. at St. Peter's Episcopal Church in Kerrville.

Commissioners Meeting Report

The Motley County Commissioners Court met Monday, November 11 at the Motley County Courthouse.

After Judge Boyce Hart called the Court to order and gave the invocation, Motley County Clerk, Lucretia Campbell, read the minutes which were approved, as were the bills that were read. The Judge informed the Court they did not have to borrow any funds to finish the fiscal year.

Nathan Mulder, Supervisor of Adult Probation, Department 110th Judicial District, met with the Court to explain a plan for Motley County to submit a plan for a grant to fund a successful plan to divert criminal offenders from confinement.

This grant is to help counties keep criminal offenders out of the prisons and help promote crime prevention.

Mulder asked for the Court to pass this as the application deadline is before January 1.

The Court passed this. The reports were all read and accepted from Treasurer, County Agent and Librarian. Elaine Hart of the Sheriff's office gave a tax collection report. Approximately 61% taxes have been collected.

The JP's reported $5,156.50 Precinct 1 and $347.50 Precinct 4 were collected.

Dude Speed, DPS Trooper, explained to the Court that the State had changed the troopers firearms from 38 revolvers to 45 automatics, but they didn't supply the practice rounds. Speed asked for the Court to consider helping them by purchasing 1,000 rounds of ammunition and after that help purchase the reload supplies. The Court approved this.

The Commissioners canvassed the votes from the November 5 election and after a few corrections were made, they were approved.

Budd Taylor, from National Association of Counties addressed the court about a deferred compensation plan for county employees. It was decided Taylor would meet with the employees later and explain the plan to them.

Judge Hart explained that 911 Emergency System was being monitored in Motley County and will be turned on real soon. He also explained that due to the Sheriff's office having only one phone line and at times due to extensive tax business, etc., the one line would be tied up. The Judge asked the Court to consider a two line system for the Sheriff Office. This passed.

Donald Hughes, Commissioner Precinct 2 explained that the road to the Sam Ross residence off Fm. 599 had a bridge that would be condemned by the State if it was a County road and he needed to know if this is a County road or a private road.

Judge Hart stated he had checked the abstract files and county records and at this date could not find any record of the county having an easement for the road.

The Court decided to leave this as a private road.

The Court discussed letting bids for the Courthouse and contents. Meeting adjourned.

TIME TO FIX-UP HOMES

A regular program of home maintenance inspections can help identify and correct problems before they can become serious. Heading off major repairs or serious problems can prevent costly repair bills and protect the long-term value of a home. Preventive maintenance extends the life of building materials and equipment.

Now is a good time to schedule a maintenance inspection, particularly if the summer weather has been severe. Seasonal equipment requires inspection, lubrication and repair.

Special inspections should be made after severe wind, rain, ice or snow storms:

- * Inspect the perimeter of the house for foundation damage and evidence of termites.
- * Inspect all exterior doors, windows and trim for paint failure. Discoloration may indicate water damage. If you are considering a new paint job for the exterior of the house, the best time is in the fall. Don't plan to paint if the temperature is likely to be below 50 degrees Fahrenheit or above 90 degrees. Inspect the seals around windows, doors and the junctures between the foundation and patio, and patios, porches and walks.
- * Replace or repair any damage to screens or storm windows.
- * Inspect the roof and gutters. The roof should form a watertight shield over the house. If the roof is more than 15 years old, it is probably beginning to show signs of wear. Clogged gutters probably cause more damage than any other single gutter problem. Well-maintained gutters can prevent damage to the roof, siding and foundation.

Maintaining a home need not be difficult, but it requires a regular plan for maintenance to correct minor problems before they become major ones.

KEEP HOME

MAINTENANCE RECORDS
An organized program of home inspection and maintenance can identify and correct problems before they become serious.

Keeping a record of all maintenance to the house and its equipment is of value because such a record indicates the date on which each repair was done, the frequency of the repair, the cost of each repair, allowing the homeowner to budget for future maintenance and a record of who did the maintenance and a record of who did the maintenance or repair, providing the homeowner with a ready source of servicemen to call (or not to call) in the future.

Keeping track of the equipment and systems repair records lets the homeowner know when warranties expire, when the equipment wears out and when major repairs are made. Keep these records in a handy place for easy reference. A good place is in a notebook with the care and use instructions and warranties for the major equipments and systems of the home. This will provide an easy access to all important information, located in one place.

HOME INSPECTION

When the exterior of the home is not properly maintained, major damage can occur that can result in expensive repairs. An inspection can check for:

- * Wood rot and termite damage around the foundation.
- * Paint failure, broken windows and damage to caulking
- * Damaged roofing materials, leaking gutters and damaged chimney materials.
- * Paint failure, wood rot and decay of trim, ornamentation, hard rails and wood porches and steps.

MAINTAINING A HOME

A well maintained home should:

- * Have at least 6 inches of foundation showing from siding to ground.
- * Have the ground sloping away from house for proper drainage.
- * Have no peeling paint and caulking should be maintained.
- * Have roofing material that is adhered securely
- * Have gutters that are tight and free of debris
- * Have a vented attic.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service are for people of all ages regardless of socio-economic level, race, color, sex, religion, handicap, or national origin.

A Tribute To My Hometown

PART 2

by Donna G. Williams Nelson

It wasn't a riot, a lot of crime, or a strike.
It was Sheriff Jinks Wilson who cared - kept us kids right!

It wasn't Larry Bird or a Magic Johnson trick.
It was Morris Burkes, cinching a basket, winning the District!
It wasn't the lights of a Broadway Show.
It was the Lions Club talent that made the town glow!

It wasn't the Pendleton Roundup or Cheyenne.
It was Old Settlers or a Sunday roping in Silverton.
It wasn't a fancy Corvette to get you to school --
It was an old clunker called "The Little Home" that was so cool!

It was knowing when something went wrong,
Lola Pohl would play you a song.

It was people like Wilson and Sybil who cared about every kid,
And Dorothy and Raby who cared about everything we did!

It was not essential to read the Vogue every week
When Dorothy Day would dress in fashion we could repeat!

It was real music that our souls reached
When Helen Stevens so took her special time to teach.
And it was a stick of gum and a special note
From Randall Whitworth that always brought a lump to our throat
It was being taught how to speak with ease
By Mrs. Whitworth who was so easy to please.

It was prayer in our school, and the Golden Rule
Between each other, a sister and brother.
We were taught what you are is God's gift to you,
And what you make of yourself is your gift to God.
It was pray like work doesn't count,
And then work in the same amount!

It was here we learned to love, live, care, and share,
And never despair!

It was Marguerite and Jake, Harold and Grace,
Laverna and Frank, and at Bundy's place --
Where we all felt at home,
And it was Mrs. Timmons and an Edgar Allen poem.

It was Mrs. Fair and the cinnamon roll recipe compliance,
And Mr. Moore and his mastery of frogs in Science.
It was Mr. Moss and his amazing knack
For making you feel you had what you lacked!

It was Bradshaw's math that let's me balance a budget now,
And Mr. Johnson's wit - always funny somehow!
It was Mrs. Wilkerson and the melodious "Halls of Ivy,"
A choir that was just about anything but jivvy!
It was Mr. Ezzell who knew you well
And managed to encourage all to excel!
It was getting high at a rally of pep,
Always inspired to do better yet!

It was Aunt Juddie and Uncle Joe, Cretia and R.E., Forrest and Pappy, too, who made us feel we belonged even if we were new!

Think of how Josephine and Tommy, Dora, and Vella made life seem letting us dream, braggin on us, building our self-esteem.
Don't you recall how Wilma and Buford Hobbs,
Looked beyond our faults and loved us gobs?

You gave us kids a start from your heart, and I want to impart:
"Friends bring beauty to our world, joy to our days" --
And because of you, we've been blessed in so many ways!

Letter to the Editor

To the Editor:

Any praise I might receive for my 12 years of service as Motley County Judge and as Motley County School Superintendent, I must attribute largely to the dedicated service of Miss Rachel Patton as my Secretary and as Assistant County School Superintendent.

Additionally, she served the Matador Lions Club almost 60 years as Club Sweetheart, and many other ways. She will be greatly missed by all of us.

Forrest Campbell

To the Editor:

This is not a column about the cemetery. I have been told that there is no need for anymore cemetery stores. But I do want to say the Cemetery looks now like a Cemetery should always look. The graves that were sinking have been filled in, the new Cemetery has been mowed four times this year and the old Cemetery has been mowed twice. The gate pipe has been painted a bright color, so now all is well.

I have been asked to write this story about the dog poisoning. It seems the "maniac poisoner" is at work again.

It seems that six dogs have been poisoned up to the present time. I wonder if the man or woman who is doing this is aware of the fact that household pets, children's pets, and elderly people's pets are the ones that nearly always get the poison - not the strays.

Does the dispenser of the poison know what a grave danger that the poison is to small children.

If a neighbor's dog is causing a problem for you - tell the neighbor the animal is a problem and ask that he keeps the dog in a pen. If the neighbor refuses to pen the dog and if the last resort is to kill the dog, please don't poison it! Poison is a horrible death! Shooting the animal would be more merciful. But surely you and your neighbor can work out something satisfactory to both parties.

It seems that the poisoning occurs in all parts of town, and it would be impossible for that many dogs to cause a problem to any one person. It seems that person who is doing this terrible thing is just a malicious person who hates dogs.

An all out effort should be made to stop this practice of poisoning just because of their dislike for dogs. If some child should get the poison, then the poisoning becomes a crime.

County Agent's Comments

RECOMMENDATIONS FOR COTTONSEED IN CATTLE DIETS

Beef producers should be aware of the proper amount of cottonseed products that can be fed safely depending on the type of animal.

Cottonseed products have been used for more than 100 years as nutritional supplements to improve cattle production. Millions of tons of cottonseed products are fed annually to U.S. livestock.

Concern about cottonseed stems from its level of gossypol, a naturally occurring substance that can be toxic to some animals.

"Ruminant animals can tolerate much greater quantities of free gossypol than can monogastric animals. Pre-ruminant calves, under 8 weeks of age, should not be fed gossypol-containing products," says a report just released at Texas A&M University.

The source of gossypol and type of diet also affect the levels of gossypol tolerated by cattle.

Gossypol has been widely studied for its toxicity to some animals. But gossypol may also affect reproductive capabilities in cattle. These are the recommendations for feeding cattle:

— Beef cows and range bulls: 2 pounds per head per day of direct solvent extracted; 4 pounds/head/day of expander processed; 4 pounds/head/day of screw-press processed meal; or 4-6 pounds/head/day of whole cottonseed.

— Young bulls being grown or developed for breeding: Whole cottonseed should be limited to 15 percent to 20 percent of the total diet for most cattle and to 10 percent or less for young developing bulls. High free gossypol meal (0.3 percent or 3,000 parts per million) should be limited to 5 percent of the total diet. Screw press and expander process meal containing less than 0.1 percent or 1,000 parts per million can be used at up to 15 percent of the total diet.

If using a mixture of cotton products, the combined concentration of gossypol will need to be considered.

— Embryo transfer: Producers with embryo transfer programs in which large sums of money are involved per animal may wish to use a conservative approach since other protein sources are available.

— Pre-ruminant calves (under 8 weeks to be safe): These animals, especially dairy calves, should not be fed gossypol containing products until ongoing research establishes safe feeding levels.

Cattle raisers also should know that the method of oil extraction used on the cottonseed impacts the gossypol levels in the product. The expander process exposes the cottonseed to greater heat which in turn reduces the amount of free gossypol content to about one-third of the level in the old direct solvent method. More than 95 percent of the cottonseed processed in Texas and Oklahoma today are from expander or screw-press operations.

Also, with high roughage or forage diets where slower passage takes place, cattle may be able to tolerate higher levels of gossypol. Cottonseed hull-based diets may be an exception, however, because of their rapid rate of passage.

PUBLIC NOTICE

On April 16, 1991, GTE Corporation ("GTE") and Contel Corporation ("Contel") filed a joint petition for declaratory relief with respect to the obligations or requirements of GTE or Contel and/or any of its subsidiaries relating to the merger of GTE and Contel. GTE and Contel have requested a ruling from the Public Utility Commission of Texas that neither GTE nor Contel is required to report the merger of GTE and Contel pursuant to Section 63 of the Public Utility Regulatory Act ("PURA"), TEX. REV. CIV. STAT. ANN. art. 1466c (Vernon Supp. 1991), that no investigation of the merger by the Commission is required. In the alternative, GTE and Contel seek a determination that the merger is consistent with the public interest.

The Commission is investigating the merger between GTE and Contel Corporations to determine whether the merger is consistent with the public interest. In reaching its determination, the Commission shall take into consideration the reasonable value of the property, facilities or securities to be acquired, disposed of, merged or consolidated. If the Commission finds that the merger is not in the public interest, the Commission shall take the effect of the transaction into consideration in GTE Southwest Incorporated's and Contel of Texas, Inc.'s next rate-making proceeding and disallow the effect of such transaction if it will unreasonably affect rates or services.

This filing has been assigned Docket No. 10212. Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information, should be mailed by 3 p.m., December 31, 1991, to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, TX, 78757. Amy's Anecdotes

by Amy Woolsey

Nearly 2 million children are abused each year in the United States. People who abuse or beat their children are CRAZY! They don't care or don't realize what they are doing.

Many abused children suffer a permanent injury, such as brain damage, paralysis, or physical deformity. Some even die and many develop emotional problems. In my poem, "A Love Never Given" the little girl wasn't as lucky as some!

We need to open our eyes and try to help the ones who just need a little love.

For more information or for any child who needs help call the National Council on Child Abuse and Family Violence Hot Line at 1-800-222-2000.

A Love Never Given

by Amy

She'd close her eyes to shut out the pain, but everytime she'd think it had finally stopped,
it would come back again.

She'd cry and cry hoping to make them quit,
but all it did was make the pain worse,
hit after hit.

She didn't know what she'd done to be treated this way, all she said was "I love you" and then she had to pay!

She never got a kiss or a big, warm hug,
instead she got yelled at and an occasional slug!

This little girl had no hope or a chance,
she was just a child, a child of circumstance.

She tried and she tried, but she couldn't take anymore, so God sent from above for her to come to his door.

The parents had beaten her until the day that she died, and now they are the ones to feel the pain inside.

Amarillo-Globe News To Sponsor Spelling Bee

For the 44th year the Amarillo Globe-News will sponsor the National Spelling Bee for students in grades eight and below.

Joining the newspaper in this educational program is West Texas State University, Canyon. And, serving as bee coordinator for the newspaper is Gene Parker, office of career planning and placement. He has held this position since 1975 when the university joined the Globe-News as a co-sponsor.

The area assigned the two sponsors covers 37 counties in the Texas Panhandle, parts of New Mexico, Oklahoma and Kansas.

Rules established by the national sponsors, the Scripps Howard Newspapers, state that no student in a grade higher than the eighth or older than 16 by end of the current school term may compete. The Bee is open to any student in a public, private, or parochial school. Directors in each of the counties are responsible for scheduling their own county eliminations.

There are two levels of competition: The Junior Bee is for students in the fifth and lower grades; the Senior Bee is open to students primarily in grades six through eight; however, some directors in the small areas combine the two levels of competition.

Each county Junior winner and each county Senior winner will be guests of the sponsors on April 11, 1992 -- the date of the Regional Bee to be held on the campus of WTSU. The winner in that competition will represent the sponsors in the 1992 National Bee in Washington, D.C., beginning on May 25. The trip includes free airline tickets for the champion and one parent.

Each of the champions honored in Amarillo will be given special awards.

The director in Motley County is Richard VanHoose, principal, Matador Junior High.

Any interested student or teacher should contact the director for additional information. Or, contact Jeane Bartlett, Spelling Bee Editor, Amarillo Globe-News, Box 2091, Amarillo, Texas.

In most counties students use the booklet prepared by the national sponsors, "Words of the Champions". This booklet is available from Mrs. Bartlett for only 50 cents each and may be ordered by contacting her at the newspaper, Box 2091, Amarillo, Texas 79166. The new 1992 issue will contain more than 500 words over the previous year's issue.

"I encourage all students to take part in this outstanding program", Parker said. "It is a wonderful opportunity as well as a learning experience and those of us at WTSU who are involved in the program are pleased that we may recognize those students who excel."

Public Notice

On July 1, 1991, Southwestern Bell Telephone filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas that proposes to delete Paragraph 3.4(G) from Section 3 of Southwestern Bell's intrastate Access Service Tariff, which concerns credits where a customer uses Switched Access Service to furnish a service which has been defined to be an exchange service. The application was assigned Docket No. 10463.

Because Southwestern Bell is not aware of any customers who presently use switched access service to furnish an exchange service, Southwestern Bell does not believe its revenues will be affected. However, certain interexchange carrier customers of switched access service have made claims under the aforementioned tariff. Such customers, but only to the extent they provide an exchange service using switched access, would be affected by this application. Based on claims made for credits (assuming such credits were allowable), Southwestern Bell's revenues would be affected by no more than $1,168,962 annually, which is .037 percent of the Company's adjusted revenue for the 12-month period ending December 31, 1990. It is not possible to know how many interexchange carriers might believe themselves entitled to credits, but 189 carriers have registered with the Commission pursuant to PUC Substantive Rule 23.61.

The tariff, after suspension, is proposed to be effective May 1, 1992.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible, but no later than November 15, 1991. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256. The Matador Senior Citizens met for regular luncheon day on November 12, with 27 people enjoying the meal and being together. Brother Roy Eason gave the blessing for the meal. Monita the good hot rolls were great. We all ate so much food we were miserable, but always do enjoy it.

President Monita Smith called the meeting to order, Ruby Thompson read the minutes of last month and gave the treasurer report. Happy Birthday was sang to Ruby Thompson and Arie Wason. A nurse from The Total Home Health Care of Plainview told about the use of Home Health Care, that most medicare, medicaid, Private Insurance, Veterans Administration, and Private Pay can take care of the cost on people that are at home. This can be provided by your physician on request. Teaching and assistance with care for home bound patients. Call 800-296-2767 of Plainview for help.

Come join us each 2nd and 4th Tuesday.

A Symptom of a Disease

Despite all that you may have heard to the contrary, ABSENTEEISM does not kill churches. Does that sound strange? Read on. Absenteeism is not the disease but rather a symptom of a disease. Symptoms do not kill. The word symptom defined: "any condition accompanying or resulting from a disease and serving as an aid in diagnosis."

Our disease may be a lack of love, unbelief, selfishness, materialism, worldliness, etc. Absenteeism could be a symptom of any one of the aforementioned.

We, as concerned church members, sometimes are guilty of working on the symptoms rather than the disease. We harp on someone's being absent. We would do better to spend the time in cultivation of a love for the Lord Jesus Christ in their heart. We can be a source of encouragement regarding the value of the worship service and warn of the dangers found in neglect. We should be using our time in building faith and confidence in God. Faith enriches people's lives. That will stop the disease.

No, ABSENTEEISM does not kill churches. But sin will. In whatever form it may be found, sin kills. When we put away sin from our numbers, ABSENTEEISM will cease to be named among us.

A heat pump is one complete system that keeps you toasty warm in the winter, and cool and comfy in the heat of the summer.

Plus you'll save money because a heat pump delivers about twice the energy it uses.

So when you're building, buying or just replacing your present system, consider the all-in-one system — the electric heat pump.
