Tokyo Agrees To Settlement With Local Chinese Authorities

DELIVERY OF WAR SUPPLIES HALTED

Some Think Peace Now Is Visible On North China Horizon

TOKYO, July 22 (AP)—The central Chinese government, Japanese dispatches from Peking said today, has agreed to recognize settlement of the North China crisis by local officials.

Officials said the agreement would remove much of the tension which both Japanese and Chinese had predicted might lead to war.

Gen. Sung Shih-Yuan, commander of the 20th Chinese army and chairman of the Hoph-Chuan political council, had agreed yesterday to a truce with Japanese.

The war office was reliably reported to have issued orders indefinitely suspending the delivery of huge orders of war supplies and halting the shipment of such equipment to North China.

Peace? Although the meaning of this move in the tense Sino-Japanese situation was not apparent immediately, some observers interpreted it as an indication peace rather than war was visible on the horizon after two weeks clouded by threat of open hostilities.

C. Col. Takaji Wachi, Japanese army officers who arrived by airplane from North China, previously had warned that Japan will be unable to settle the dispute by purely regional agreements.

Japan, he declared, must deal directly and strenuously with the Nanking (central) Chinese government.

WONT EVACUATE

TIENSIN, July 22 (AP)—Anti-Japanese troops of the 37th Chinese army division were reported today to have precipitated the Sino-Japanese crisis to new depths by a determined refusal to evacuate their positions west of Peking.

A truce yesterday between local Chinese and Japanese military authorities was believed to have ended the crisis.

The 37th division began carrying out the agreement for mutual withdrawal of Chinese and Japanese troops by evacuating the walled city of Wapingshan, western suburb of Peking. The truce called for them to hand over the entire area of hostilities to officers entrusted with maintenance of civil order.

Worker Killed By Lightning

Bolt Striking South Of City Injures Two Other WPA Men

Lightning, accompanying a brisk thundershower, just south of Big Spring, Wednesday afternoon, crashed into a brush clump, killing Manuel Ugalde, 55, Mexican WPA worker, and slightly injuring two others.

Ugalde and a party of Mexican WPA laborers had sought shelter from a driving rain under the tall brush. His companions said that the bolt apparently struck in the midst of the huddled workers, killing Ugalde and felling Patricia Juarez and Conrado M. Madrid. Madrid was bruised about the face from force of the fall.

Justice of Peace Joe A. Faucett, who conducted an inquest, said that the bolt had singed the hair of Ugalde and severed his lower limbs. Both shoes were split from the tip of the toe to the top as neatly as if cut by a knife, he said.

Efforts to rush Madrid here for emergency treatment were delayed when high waters swept through the park. Rising waters from the draw above the park blocked park roads for several minutes, backing waters over the children's wading pool, inundating a small bridge and surging two dips under several feet of water.

It scarcely showered at the south edge of town and did not rain in the downtown section at all. Garden City reported good showers.

DAUGHTER BORN

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Eddie Howerton, Coahoma, Thursday morning, became the parents of an eight-pound daughter, christened Joyce Laverne. Mother and daughter are doing well.

COURT MEASURE SENT BACK TO COMMITTEE; ADMINISTRATION FOES SCORE MAJOR VICTORY

Texas And Oklahoma Bid For Custody Of Wounded Traxler

Charge Carrying Death Penalty Filed In Neighboring State, While Allred Plans To Seek Extradition Of Outlaw Facing 99-Year Term

HUGO, Okla., July 22 (AP)—Two states bid today for final custody of Roy "Pete" Traxler, wounded desperado, with Oklahoma countering a 99-year Texas prison sentence already imposed with a charge carrying the death penalty.

The capital charge—robbery with firearms—accused Traxler of taking at pistol point the automobile of one of two hostages who yesterday shot Traxler and killed his fellow Texas prison farm fugitive, Fred Tindol, with the outlaws' own guns.

The charge was one of two filed by Bryan County Attorney Ben Carter. The other accused Traxler of kidnaping the hostage, Frank Trimmer, from his farm home near Caddo.

At the same time Carter said he would fight to keep Traxler in Oklahoma for trial, despite announcement by Governor James Allred of Texas he would seek extradition to complete the Texas term he was serving at Eastham prison farm when he fled 13-days ago with eight other convicts.

Charges similar to those filed by Sam Colby, county attorney of Madill, in nearby Marshall county in the seizure of an automobile belonging to J. E. Denton, the second hostage, and his subsequent abduction by Traxler and Tindol.

Prefers Oklahoma The Oklahoma charges were filed on the apparent liking of the slippery felon.

During his 12-day flight Traxler repeatedly told hostages he would rather die than return to the Texas prison farm and yesterday begged officials here to prosecute him in Oklahoma.

While the charges were being filed against Traxler at Durant his wife was arraigned there on a federal charge of harboring and concealing a fugitive.

She pleaded innocent before U. S. Commissioner J. V. Connell waived preliminary hearing and was held to answer under $5,000 bond which she had not posted an hour after the arraignment.

Mrs. Traxler offered no testimony in her defense, remarking only: "I don't think you can conceal and harbor your husband."

With Traxler safely out of the way for the present, officers concentrated a search for a third companion of the way, outlaw Charles Chapman, who left Traxler and Tindol when the former insisted on picking up Mrs. Traxler at Verdun.

Victim of Own Gun

Tindol, Traxler's companion in their 12-day flight, lay in a morgue, victim of the desperado's own guns.

Trimmer, 50, a farmer, and Denton, 44-year-old oil field worker, snatched guns from the men's sides when the exhausted fugitives dozed in a car near Boswell, Okla. In a hospital here under armed guard, Traxler appeared bitter against the man who wounded him.

"I tried to tell the guy he didn't need to shoot me because I was all wasted," Traxler said, "but I just wanted my breath. He didn't wait for me to say anything. He just shot. I fell out of the car to keep him from killing me."

Trimmer and Denton both fired at Tindol first, then Denton turned his gun on Traxler.

Trimmer was kidnaped from his farm home and forced to drive his car, after the two fugitives had ditched the car in which they kidnaped Denton.

"Traxler told Trimmer to 'put up at the roadside,'" said Denton, "and we would wait until it got dark."

Begged for Doctor

Denton, riding in the back seat with Tindol, said he saw Tindol, gun on the seat, Traxler's gun was in the seat as he sat beside Trimmer. Traxler dozed.

The two hostages exchanged glances in the rear view mirror and both grabbed for the desperado's guns.

Traxler begged us to get him a doctor," Trimmer said. "He said he was afraid he might bleed to death. After a while he started threatening us. He said he knew he was going to die."

Traxler declared "we never hurt anybody," and added that "all we wanted was to get away."

"I hated to do it," Trimmer said after the shooting. "I wish there had been some other way out. But I figured that if the officer caught us all in the car they would shoot. It was either their life or ours."

Mrs. J. M. Davis, mother of Mrs. L. Webb, accompanied P. F. Alexander of Lamesa to that city Thursday for a visit.

Lower Courts Only Now Will Be Considered

Compromise Proposal Is Dropped, Substitute Ordered

WILL NOT DEAL WITH SUPREME TRIBUNAL

Minor Changes Provided For In A New Eight-Point Program

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP)—The senate virtually killed President Roosevelt's supreme court enlargement proposal today for this congressional session.

It voted to send the administration court bill back to its judiciary committee.

The vote for returning the measure was 70 to 20.

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP)—The senate judiciary committee voted today to ask the senate to send back to it the Roosevelt court bill with instructions to draft a substitute dealing only with the lower courts within 10 days.

Only Two Opposed

In an hour and a half executive session attended by Vice-President Garner and administration leaders, the committee instructed Senator Logan (D-Ky.) to make the motion in the senate today to recommit the pending compromise court bill.

Only two senators opposed the decision, first senators leaving the committee room said.

Senator McCarran (D-Nev.), one of the leading foes of the bill, said the committee's action would close the way for drafting a new bill dealing only with procedure in the lower courts and eliminating all references to the size of the supreme court.

If the senate agrees to the proposal, the committee will have ten days in which to whip the bill into shape for presentation to the senate.

Abandonment

The committee's action marked virtual abandonment of the compromise court bill now pending in the senate and was generally considered a complete victory for court bill foes.

The new bill would follow the outlines, in a general way, of the bill suggested yesterday by Senator Wheeler (D-Mont), opposition leader, after he was asked by the administration to submit the opposition's suggestions for legislation.

Attending the judiciary committee meeting today in addition to Garner and regular committee members, were Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the newly-elected democratic leader, and Wheeler.

Garner and Barkley were close-lipped as they left the committee room a few minutes before the meeting ended. But Senators McCarran and Logan told newspaper men waiting outside the room what had happened.

Eight-Point Program

Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), a leading opponent of the original court bill, announced the committee and administration chiefs.

Special Session Late In September

AUSTIN, July 22 (AP)—Governor James V. Allred said today that legislation would be called in special session probably late in September.

He said there would be a session even if a survey now being conducted by the state auditor and the tax commissioner showed there was no immediate need for additional money to pay old age pensions.

The governor has expressed the opinion from time to time that the general financial condition of the state would necessitate a session to consider remedial measures.

CHICAGO, July 22 (AP)—Elsaine Hartnett, 9, spurned a home of wealth and a possible $500,000 inheritance for a life with her mother, and brother and a promise puppy dog.

She went today to live with her mother, Mrs. Veronica Hartnett, 39, estranged from her husband, Earl. Mrs. Hartnett said she would support her daughter.

Elsaine lived for eight years with her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Mae Kirkpatrick, who sought her legal custody in circuit court.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick's brother-in-law, William Gaetner, manufacturer of scientific instruments, told the court he was "worth about a half million dollars" and intended to "leave it all to Elsie, unless she was permitted to live with her mother."

Judge Walter J. La Buy said to Elsie: "You are an intelligent girl; I will let you decide."

"My mother has been very nice to me," said Elsie. "I would like to live with her and my brother Bobby (three years old). My mother promised me a black puppy dog and tap dancing lessons and I can play with two little girls next door."

Japan Forces An Empire Without Resort To 'War'

By WILLIAM MCGAFFIN (AP Feature Service Writer)

Japanese shells whistle over Peiping, China—and worried world leaders wonder if hungry Nippon has started a new thrust for empire.

True, there was no declaration of war. Just a sham battle that turned suddenly into a real one.

But then, with few exceptions, Japan has never had to declare war to win her aims.

It took a war with Russia in 1904-05 to clear the way for Japan to acquire Korea, Russia had been her rival for "spheres of influence" in that country and adjacent areas.

With the Czar's power in the Orient broken there was no one to stop the Japanese absorption of the "cherry kingdom."

Manchuria Taken In 1931 The Korean annexation which became effective in 1910 gave the Japanese a footing on the mainland and the march of empire had begun.

In 1931 Manchuria was the victim. First, economic penetration paved the way. Then Japan attacked Chinese troops after accusing them of cutting the southern Manchurian railway. Thus the act of making war without declaring it was born.

The city of Mukden was occupied September 18, 1931. "Young Marshal" Chang, Manchuria's war lord, was deposed and a new nation, named Manchoukuo, was set up. Henry Pu-Yi, erstwhile "Boy Emperor of China" and now Emperor Kang Teh, was made ruler of the puppet state.

Many Chinese still blame Buterfly Wu, a motion picture star for Manchuria's downfall. Chang was reported to be with her in Peiping at the time of the Mukden clash.

Fuse To Shanghai Incident The Manchurian coup led to Japan's withdrawal from the League of Nations after a League investigating committee upheld China's protests. Japan announced herself the guardian of the peace of the Far East, refused to give up her mandates over a group of Pacific islands which she got from Germany after the World war, and denounced the 5-5-3 naval treaty with Great Britain and America, claiming instead the right to naval equality.

The Manchurian coup, too, was the fuse which fired the famous Shanghai incident of 1927. At that time Japanese soldiers swept across the province of Jehol and added it to Kang Teh's realm.

Chinese bandits were again whipping boys when Japan started

MARCH OF EMPIRE Japan got Empress out of the China-Japanese war of 1894-95, the Kwantung peninsula and Korea from the Russo-Japanese war of 1904-5, then wrung Manchoukuo and Jehol from China by wars in fact but not in name. Now she has launched an attack on Peiping and experts believe her ultimate goal is the five northern provinces shown on map.

another sweep westward in April 1935, this time with the North China province of Chahar as the goal.

More force was used in 1933 along with the subtler weapons of economics and politics. Home movements began in Chahar and four adjoining provinces—Shantung, Suiyuan, Shanai and Hopei—but have been only partly successful.

Now comes the drive on Peiping, principal city of Hopei.

Japan, experts have said, will not rest until it brings all of the five northern provinces under its control. There's a long way to go yet.

VICTORY MARCH Japanese soldiers march down the southern Manchurian railroad after a victorious battle with the Chinese in 1931.

Still Probing Blanton Case

Ranger Captain Continues Inquiry Into South Texas Mystery

CORPUS CHRISTI, July 22 (AP)—Ranger captain Bill McMurry will remain on duty in the valley on the Blanton disappearance case.

His statement was in reply to one made last night by A. B. Crane, valley attorney, who said last night Colonel Carmichael had indicated to him that McMurry would be withdrawn from the investigation.

"Captain McMurry has worked hard on this case and I have no idea of replacing him," Colonel Carmichael said. "He is a capable officer and I have every confidence in the world in him," the officer added.

"I told Crane that several independent investigations had been made of the case and that Ranger Ernest East might be sent down, but I did not say he would replace Captain McMurry," he said. Best would work independently if he is sent to the valley, as other officers from various branches of the department of public safety have.

Colonel Carmichael concluded. He said he was here for a few days of rest and to visit with Capt. Bill Wright, ranger stationed here.

PLAGUES OF PAST

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP)—Drouth, fire and insects were plaguing parts of the west in the days of Christopher Columbus. F. P. Keen of the bureau of entomology said today.

His study of tree rings showed a long dry spell ended in 1482. Generally the rings are wide in years of plentiful moisture, he found, thin in drouth years. Keen said his record does not support the theory that short cycles occur regularly.

Macaroni Associates Carry On With His Last Experiments

ROME, July 22 (AP)—While his body lay in state today associates of Guglielmo Marconi, following his directions, continued experiments the great inventor started before he died.

Although sorrowing because Marconi's death ended a collaboration of nearly 40 years, Marchese Luigi Solari talked enthusiastically of the promise of scientific legacies from Marconi's genius.

Solari, who is president of the Marconi company, said the problem which occupied the genius at the time of his death was the adaptation of naturally produced waves—such as the sun's radiation—to practical transmission of messages.

"When this problem is solved," Solari said, "radio communication will have available a vast new range of transmission channels."

"Marconi realized his heart condition and made careful provisions to insure the continuance of his work in the event of sudden death. Only the day before he died we studied together the data gathered in those experiments showing the effect of changes of temperature and barometer pressure on the behavior of microwaves."

"These experiments will continue along the definite lines he prescribed."

MAIL FUGITIVES ARE BACK IN CUSTODY

DALLAS, July 22 (AP)—Bill Garrett, 25, and Henry Clay Day, 20, two of three Dallas men who broke from the Waxahachie county jail Monday, were police captives today.

Garrett was shot in the arm last night when officers closed in on him and Day in a thickly wooded section near Reinhardt. The pair surrendered without a show of resistance. Detective Jack Archer said he fired and hit Garrett when the fugitive ran.

Brackeen Huddleston, the third man sought for the Waxahachie break, remained at large. Officers believed he was in or near Dallas. A man who led officers to the pair's hideout under police orders was held on information he smuggled to the prisoners the pistol with which they made their break.

CLEARED OF GOSSIP CHARGES, BUT FAILS TO REGAIN HER JOB

SAUGUR, Mass., July 22 (AP)—Blonde Isabella Hallin was public cleared today of gossip charges that she served cocktails to high school pupils, but her teaching job was farther away than ever.

For the second time in less than ten days, Saugur's school committee refused to reappoint her as an English instructor. The committee announced it put no belief reports that Miss Hallin provided cocktails for students rehearsing the high school play in her home.

Those stories, Miss Hallin has said, were the only reasons she could assume for her ouster.

AFTER 'MONSTER'

NEWPORT, Ark., July 22 (AP)—Armed with an eight-foot razor-keen harpoon, deep sea diver Charles B. Brown of Memphis set forth today to conquer Newport's White river "monster."

Brown planned to spend four days exploring the mile-long, 60-foot deep Bateman eddy, making two dives daily.

Somewhere in its depths, according to a half dozen eyewitnesses including plantation owner Brimblet Bateman, is the "monster" which on rare intervals rises to the surface, floats silently for a few minutes and then submerges to make its presence known only by occasional strings of bubbles.

Brown, a former navy diver now employed by the U. S. engineer, said he expected to find "an overgrown catfish." Others theorized the monster was only an old water-bogged scow.

SIMPLIFYING TAXES

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP)—The treasury is considering two methods of simplifying the job of paying taxes, revising income tax forms and creating a new revenue division to advise taxpayers.

Officials said today a special committee of internal revenue experts is trying to complete a new type of form for use in reporting 1937 incomes.

James Lick, donor of the Lick observatory atop Mount Hamilton, Calif., has buried beneath the giant telescope which his funds purchased.

ARKANSAS GROUP TO SUGGEST PROCEDURE TO NAME SENATOR

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 22 (AP)—A sub-committee of the state democratic committee met today to recommend a procedure for nominating a successor to the late Senator Joseph T. Robinson.

The subcommittee will report to the state committee tomorrow afternoon. The state committee can choose a democratic nominee itself or call a party primary.

The state committee also has a third choice—to take no action and let the special general election now tentatively set for Sept. 14, as a "wide open" affair in which candidates would run without party labels.

Mine Under Cemetery

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP)—The Oronogo Cemetery association has decided to permit a mining company to continue digging for lead and zinc on its grounds. Mining engineers said that the cemetery is unharmed and is a rich vein of ore.

DIZZY SPELLS

How To Help The Passing of Women's Most Critical Years—15 to 50

"I suffered from dizziness for years and decided to try Kruschen. Of course I know it is my age that is the cause of it all. I am 47 but I have been told this and that would help me so I tried all I could but still had the same old dizziness. Now I'm on my third jar of Kruschen and don't get dizzy nearly so often. I used to get so muddled at times. Now I feel different—altogether much clearer. There must be hundreds of women like me. They must stick to Kruschen every morning." Mrs. L. B. N., August 24, 1936.

Kruschen Salts is sold the world over—millions of jars a year. If you want to help avoid headaches, dizziness, smothering spells, weakness, fits of depression—if you want want to keep feeling more healthy and happy—up and about your work, take a third teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water first thing every morning.

Take it for 30 days and if not joyfully satisfied get your money back.

DOUBLE TROUBLE. Prime and Premier are the titles of Japan's Fumimaro Konoye, who has introduced many informalities including radio talks to Japanese public affairs. Just now he rests uneasily between warlike episodes on both Soviet and Chinese frontiers.

AT PEIPING'S GATES. Pouring through China's Great Wall, Japanese troops, tanks and armored cars hastened to bolster heavy garrisons maintained in Peiping area to insure Japanese outlet to the sea. While fighting grew more intense, diplomats were striving to find a way to heal the breach between the two nations.

SUGIYAMA. Gen. Gen Sugiyama, Japanese minister of war, acted in the North China crisis while diplomats sought a peaceful climax.

LADY FIGHTERS. Sturdy, pantalooned peasant girls of Japan have daily military drill to qualify them as soldiers in case their country goes to war. These hardy daughters of the soil are less than 16 years old, but have physiques and strength of mature women.

FUN AT PHILLY. Sure it was a gripe. Ott took a short fly, went down, rolled over and came up with the ball which went riding to Mancuso, Bartell and Chiozza for a Giant triple play with three men on base. Camilli (left) and Manager Wilson of the Phils are shown protesting to Umpire Bahantant.

HONORED DONKEY. The daughter of Britain's King George VI, Princess Margaret Rose, was a gay visitor at the London zoo. Unafraid, this charming bit of royalty petted a chimpanzee, rode a pony and is shown as she extended a caress for the soft nose of a donkey that certainly didn't seem aware of the gracious gesture.

MUD IN THEIR EYES. It's not the boll weevil that's plaguing cotton farmers now, but the grasshopper. Planters near Hughes, Ark., used airplanes to dust their fields with poison in an effort to halt the armies of millions of the pests. This hedge-hopping plane was piloted by Joe Greer of Memphis.

Vestee To Crochet

PERSONALLY SPEAKING

By RUTH ORR
Pattern No. 497

When we tell you that it took exactly six hours to make this vestee, we know you'll want it. It is as easy to make as it sounds and just as useful. Nice for chilly evenings now and absolutely indispensable a little later. It's exactly right to wear at home or in the office; over a bathing suit now, and under a coat in the fall. The instructions are given in small, medium and large sizes, and we know you'll have no trouble varying them a little more if necessary.

The pattern envelope contains complete, easy-to-understand illustrated directions, also what crochet hook and what material and how much you will need.

To obtain this pattern, send for No. 497 and enclose 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to cover service and postage. Address Big Spring Herald, Needlework Department, P. O. Box 172, Station D, New York, N. Y.

Mrs. Ted Groehl Entertains Honoring Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper

The Washington Place home of Mrs. Ted Groehl was scene of a luncheon at 12:30 Wednesday when she entertained in honor of Mrs. Roscoe B. G. Cowper.

Rosebuds in pink hues adorned the entertaining rooms and the dining table was centered by a lovely bouquet of gladioluses and ferns. Places were laid for ten.

Following luncheon, games of bridge were played and accessories carrying out the bridal theme added charm to the affair. A color note of pink and green prevailed throughout all party arrangements. Mrs. Cowper won high prize and Mrs. Joe Ricker won second high. Awards were Cambridge vases.

Guests were the honoree, Mrs. Cowper, Mrs. Buster Teague of Odessa, Mrs. Phil Chestnut, Mrs. Albert Fisher, Mrs. Emil E. Fahrnkamp, Mrs. Garland Sanders, Mrs. P. W. Malone, Mrs. Bob Schermerhorn and Mrs. Ricker.

'Repentance' Topic Of Revival Sermon

On Wednesday night at the Church of Christ revival meeting the sermon topic was "Repentance." In developing the sermon the evangelist, Mevin J. Wise said in part:

"Repent or perish—turn or burn is one of the terrifying warnings of the New Testament. It's repeat here, my friends, or perish hereafter. The practical definition of repentance is not hard to understand. In defining repentance, let us first approach it from a negative point of view—let us ask what is not repentance?"

"Repentance is not fear. Some revivalists have the idea that if they can just tell a few death bed stories and scare the people the will repent. But when the fear is gone the repentance is gone."

"Repentance is not conviction. On Pentecost at the close of Peter's sermon the people were 'pricked in their heart—Acts 2:37—there is conviction; but was it repentance? Read the next verse. Then Peter said unto them, Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ."

"Repentance is not sorrow for sin. A man might be sorry that he was caught. The criminals are sorry, but why? Paul said: 'For godly sorrow worketh repentance to salvation—II Cor. 7:10. Godly sorrow precedes repentance, but it is not repentance within itself."

"Repentance is not a reformation of life. Reformation is the fruit of repentance. 'Bring forth therefore fruit worthy of repentance'—Matt. 3:8. Godly sorrow produces repentance, and reformation follows repentance. They are so closely related that it is hard for us to distinguish between them."

"But what is repentance? Jesus tells us what it is. He says: 'But what think ye?' A certain man had two sons; and he came to the first and said, Son, go work today in my vineyard. He answered and said, I will not; but afterward he repented, and went.' Matt. 21:28-29. The young man got sorry for what he had said. He repented (he changed his will) and obeyed his father. When a man says 'I will not obey God' and later says 'I will' that is repentance. It is a change of will."

Thomas B. Hale, 81-year-old Lancaster, Mo., justice of the peace, has married between 2,500 and 3,000 couples in the last seven years.

READING AND WRITING

By John Selby

Dose And Antidote—
We doubt whether many readers will be able to put their opinion of D. J. Hall's "Perilous Sanctuary" (Macmillan, $2.50) into words—at least into very meaningful words. It is not a story easily classified; truth to say, it is not even possible to say whether it is a first rate novel, or merely the result of careful handling of a very unusual and often shocking setting.

Very briefly, Mr. Hall's story is this up to a certain point. He imagines a too-cocky Englishman named Hick Bowles, engineer on a ship which puts in at Galveston. There Bowles accidentally kills a chap, and takes to his heels. He is found suffering in the desert by one Don Santiago, who learns the reason for Bowles' flight, and begins torturing him in a typically catlike way. The desert scenes and the scenes between Santiago and Bowles are particularly convincing.

Bowles happens upon a meeting of the Penitentes, the odd sect whose members scourge themselves viciously. He also discovers that he loves the wife of Jose Santiago's half brother, and that Jose is the man chosen by the Penitentes to sacrifice upon the cross. Mr. Hall does very well with this problem, and why this is true you may discover for yourself.

If you are not already nauseated by the Penitentes' nonsensical masochism, you may read still more about it in Alice Corbin Henderson's probably too sympathetic "Brothers of Light" (Harcourt, Brace, $2.50). And if you are, please turn to that great novelist, P. G. Wodehouse, whose "The Crime Wave at Blandings" (Doubleday, Doran, $2) is probably the antidote you need.

This is a book of six short stories, but don't let that disturb you. The first is also the best, but even that is unimportant, for the others are quite good enough.

Several small oaks and acorns, enough to give the appearance of a young hedge, grow in the mortar between bricks atop a building in Reidsville, Ga.

SEWING ROOM AT STANTON CONTINUES WITHOUT CHANGES

STANTON, July 22—No reduction in salaries and no decrease in the number of workers in the WPA sewing room here has been made up to the present time, Miss Maggie Smith, who is in charge of the project, reported Wednesday.

Ten machines, which are owned by Martin county, are in use and 19 women have full-time employment in the sewing room.

The making of clothes for school boys and girls from six to 14 years of age will begin August 1, Miss Smith said, with distribution of the garments scheduled for Sept. 1.

The list of those for whom clothes were made during the year which ended July included 192 boys and 178 girls but this total will naturally be altered for the current year.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passage with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pain, lameness, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 44 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Leader Of German Organization Hits At Talk Of Inquiry Into Propaganda

ANDOVER, N. J., July 22 (UP)—August Klapprott, New Jersey leader of the German-American Bund, today stated that a congressional investigation of the bund whose activities a Veterans of Foreign Wars unit called "un-American," would be a "top and waste of taxpayers' money."

At Washington Rep. Dies (D Tex.) introduced a resolution yesterday to inquire into "nazi propaganda activities."

Dies said one reason for his resolution was the bund's 21 camps where he declared "open allegiance is being pledged to Hitler." He charged "millions are being sent from abroad to finance attempts in this country to enlist support for nations and movements in Europe."

Klapprott declared "only American citizens may join the bund built up by nickels, dimes and dollars from members in $25 shares, dues and renting camp space."

"It's nothing else but propaganda to call us nazi," he said. "Our allegiance is to America. We raise our hand for the German national anthem out of respect for what Hitler and his national socialist movement did in not only combatting communism, but showing the world how to combat it."

Frans Nicolay, 24, leader of the 100 metropolitan youngsters frolicking in the sunshine at Camp Norland in the Sussex hills, laughed at reports they received "military" training.

"We have drills, yes," he chatted. "So we'll look nice on parade—like the boy scouts. The goose step? Ha, ha, I don't even know how to do it."

KILLED IN CRASH

LUFKIN, July 22 (UP)—Leland M. Elliott, 47, of Houston, district manager for an insurance company, was killed last night when his automobile struck a bridge on the highway north of here. He had been alone in the automobile while coming here on business leaving his wife visited in Livingston.

SUSPECT

Harry Blee (above), 31, described by the federal bureau of investigation as the last member at large of the O'Malley gang of bank robbers, is shown in jail at Los Angeles, awaiting removal to Missouri to face bank robbery charges.

Suspect Quizzed In Officer's Death

EL DORADO, Ark., July 22 (UP)—Officers today questioned a man booked as Jack Horn, Amarillo, Texas, held in connection with the slaying of a policeman after a $60 holdup of a drug store here.

Sheriff Grady Woolley said a posse captured the man, wounded in the right leg, about 300 yards from the spot the policeman, Jim Yocum, was fatally shot last night as he attempted to arrest the suspect after a five-mile chase from El Dorado.

Sheriff Woolley jailed him along with A. T. Wheatley, El Dorado taxi driver, whose automobile was used in the holdup and the attempted escape.

The posse discovered the suspect lying near a pipe line running through a wooded section near the road. He made no resistance when arrested.

GIANT RECRUITS IN BATON ROUGE

BATON ROUGE, La., July 22 (UP)—The New York Giants training school for young baseball recruits will be held here instead of at Hammond as at first announced, Hank Deberry, Giants scout, told Gov. Richard Leche.

Lack of adequate facilities to handle a training camp at Hammond was given as cause for the change.

The regular spring training camp for the Giants also will be established at Baton Rouge next year.

Deberry said he had inspected ball parks and facilities at Opelousas and Lafayette for location of a training camp for the Giant's Jersey City club and that it probably would be located at Lafayette.

Eighth Round KO Gives Steele Win

WASHINGTON, July 22 (UP)—Freddie Steele, the world's middleweight champion, held a technical knockout triumph today over one of the roughest battlers he ever fought, Charles (Hobo) Williams of Alexandria, Va.

The bout, which did not involve Steele's title, was stopped by Referee Charlie Reynolds after two minutes and 56 seconds of the eighth round.

In Berwick, Pa., Mrs. Jacob Knecht has been a Sunday school teacher for 52 years.

Prisoners are moved by trailer in the Texas prison system's "traveling jail."

Renew Inquiry Into 7-Year-Old Mystery

NEW YORK, July 22 (UP)—Seven years old, still as baffling as the day it happened, and fast becoming an almost legendary mystery of New York police annals, the disappearance of Supreme Court Justice Joseph Force Crater was a live problem again today.

A new inquiry into his disappearance Aug. 6, 1930, was launched by John A. Lyons, assistant chief inspector in charge of detectives, on orders from acting Police Commissioner Harold Fowler after a New York newspaper (The World Telegram) published an interview with the missing jurist's wife, Mrs. Stella M. Crater, quoting her as charging her husband was "murdered" in connection with his "political career" and that New York police were "inefficient" in their original investigation.

Mrs. Crater, located at her summer home near Belgrade Lakes, Maine, denied last night she had "mentioned murder" and that she had criticized the police.

Mrs. Crater said she believed her husband is dead.

NEW WORLD FLIGHT?

EDMONTON, Alta., July 22 (UP)—Plans for a secret round-the-world flight, possibly starting in Germany, with a refueling stop here were made known today with the arrival of gasoline and oil at the Edmonton municipal airport.

Airport officials admitted consignments of more than 600 gallons of high test gasoline and 45 gallons of special oil had been received here from Germany and San Francisco to be used by the flier.

The officials would not reveal the identity of the flier or the point of departure.

Sensible Sunday Dinner Recipes

By MARTHA LOGAN

There was a time when Sunday was a busy time for mother because there had to be a big dinner at 1 o'clock. So the morning was spent in cooking, then after dinner, the stack of dishes loomed extra high. Came 7 o'clock, and the family began to show signs of restlessness and asked about supper.

Today, most women declare a cooking holiday on Sunday so that they too may have a day of rest. It is really easy to satisfy the family appetites and yet do little actual cooking if one takes advantage of the ready-to-serve meats now available in every good market.

Take, for example, the fine cooked ham that may be purchased whole or by the pound. If you buy a well-known brand, you are assured a delicately flavored, delightfully tender ham all ready to place on the table.

If the day be rather warm, we suggest for a menu chilled tomato juice, cold ham with spiced peach garnish, new potatoes and peas in cream, vegetable salad, fresh berries, and cup cake. Or, if the weather man favors you with a cool day, rub the ham with brown sugar, dot with cloves, and place in a moderate oven for about an hour or until the glaze is formed and the ham is heated through. If you are using the oven for the ham, cook the potatoes at the same time. Peel, then salt them, dip into salad oil, then flour. Place in a buttered pan and bake until tender and well browned.

Other fine ready-to-serve meats are cooked tongue, a variety of meat cloves, jellied meats, or canned meat. If you haven't tried some of these new meats, you will be surprised at the quality and flavor and will join the ever-growing number of women who at least once a week serve ready-cooked meat.

The following recipes may be made using either home-cooked or ready-to-serve meats. But especially during the summer months, it is a sensible choice to buy ready-cooked meats with a well-known brand.

Hawaiian Ham Steaks
2 one-inch slices of cooked ham.
1 cup grated pineapple.
2 tablespoons preserved ginger.
If fresh pineapple is used, sweeten with sugar. Place the ham slices in a baking dish. Cover with the pineapple and finely diced ginger. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for about 30 minutes.

Ham Grill
2 one-inch slices cooked ham.
6 tomatoes.
1/2 cup melted butter.
1 cup sifted cracker crumbs.
Seasoning.
6 cooked potatoes.
Cut the tomatoes in half. Season. Dip into melted butter, then dust with cracker crumbs. Lay ham slices and tomatoes on rack in broiler. Cut potatoes into 1/2 inch slices lengthwise, season, brush with melted butter. Wash mushroom caps and stems. Dry. Season. Dip in melted butter. Place potatoes and mushrooms on broiler.

rack. Broil under a moderate flame 15 minutes. Turn all the pieces to brown on the other side. Arrange all on a hot platter. When served with a mixed green salad, this is an epicurean meal.

Glorified Smoked Tongue
1 cooked smoked beef tongue.
1 tablespoon horseradish.
3 cups cooked beets.
1/4 cup butter.
1/4 cup sugar.
1 tablespoon flour.
2 tablespoons vinegar.
Seasoning.

Cut the beef tongue into uniform slices about 1/4 inch thick. Lay in a frying pan. Cover with water. Add the horseradish and simmer 15 minutes. Dice the beets. Blend the flour, sugar and vinegar. Mix with the beets and heat. Add the butter and seasoning, simmer 10 minutes. Serve the tongue surrounded by the hot beets.

Meat Loaf Specials
6 half-inch slices meat loaf.
1 can mushroom soup.
4 slices toast.
Place sliced veal or ham loaf in a pan. Pour mushroom soup over slices. Heat in the oven or cover on top of the stove until meat is thoroughly heated. Serve on toast accompanied with a buttered vegetable.

BOY KILLED, OTHERS INJURED IN CRASH

FORT WORTH, July 22 (AP)—R. D. Chambers, Jr., about 12, of Jackboro, was killed, and two other youths were seriously injured in an automobile collision late last night on the northwest highway in Parker county, a mile west of Azle.

The others hurt are Robert Stewart McClure, 12, in a critical condition with a fractured skull and his brother, Charles McClure, 16, also suffering from a head injury. They are sons of Dr. and Mrs. C. C. McClure, Jackboro.

Both were brought to a hospital here. The body of the victim is at a local funeral chapel. A young girl, riding in the car with the boys, was not injured. She was said to be a sister of the Chambers boy.

Charles McClure was driving the automobile which was following one containing the dead Mrs. McClure. All had been to the Frontier Fiesta, and were returning home.

MYSTERY OF PLANE NOT YET SOLVED

NEW YORK, July 22 (AP)—The mystery of a plane reported flying across the Atlantic to Europe became deeper and darker today as American and Canadian radio men stood by for further word.

A message, picked up by Radio Marine corporation's station at Chatham, Mass., said the plane had been seen and heard 500 miles east of Cape Race, Newfoundland, at 8:05 Eastern Standard Time, last night.

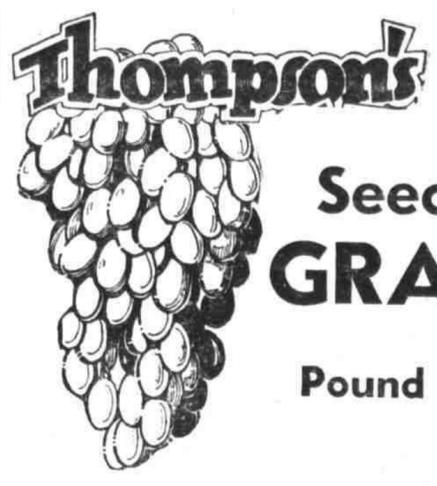

Chatham picked up the message from the American freighter Scanmail which relayed it from another ship it identified as the freighter Enece, whose all letters are GSEV. But the Enece, it was learned, is in the west Indies, and the radio men at Chatham now believe the Scanmail radio operator made a mistake in receiving the call letters.

Faces Charge Of Extortion

Suspect Had Written Wife Telling Of Ransom Demand

SAN ANTONIO, July 22 (AP)—Officers under the direction of Gus T. Jones, agent in charge of the F.B.I. here, today arrested Frank W. Clark of Jackson, Miss., at Laredo and charged him with extortion before the United States commissioner.

Clark disappeared from his home in Mississippi July 15, federal officers said, and on the same day his wife received a telephone call that her husband had been kidnaped and warning her not to communicate with police.

On July 19, the officers said, she received a letter postmarked Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, which said: "I am okay. Here's the way they want the money. Fifteen hundred dollars in 50's, $400 in 20's, and $100 in 10's. They can hardly write English. Please do what you can for me. They are telling me to write."

The F.B.I. office here said it had been informed from Laredo that the arrested man declared he had just escaped from his abductors.

OKLAHOMANS WHO SHOT DESPERADOES GET COMMISSIONS

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 22 (AP)—Acting Gov. James E. Berry issued commissions as honorary colonels today to the two Oklahomans who fired the shots which stopped the desperate foray of Roy "Pete" Traxler and Fred Tindol, escaped convicts.

The names of James E. Denton, Asher, and Frank Trimmer, Caddo, headed a list of honorary officers named today by the lieutenant governor.

"Please accept my congratulations on account of the heroic deed which you performed yesterday," Barry wrote each man.

"Your prompt action ridded the state of a dangerous character and no doubt saved the lives of several good men. x x x"

SLUMBERS ON

A man, who police said was intoxicated, barely roused Wednesday afternoon as firemen extinguished a burning mattress on which he slept. The flames, brought under control, he rolled over and returned to his slumbers.

The firemen had answered a call to an apartment on Gregg street.

PROFITS HIGHER

NEW YORK, July 22 (AP)—Lone Star Cement corporation reported for quarter ended June 30 consolidated net profit of $1,188,733, equal to $1.23 a share on 967,095 shares of capital stock. This compared with $746,981 or $1.11 a share on 678,791 shares in the June quarter last year.

Local Women Win Matches

Other Big Spring Entries Lead In Lubbock Tourney

LUBBOCK, July 22 (AP)—Miss Elinor Jones of Albuquerque, N. M., medalist, defeated Mrs. Hugh Skiles of Clovis, N. M., one-up, this morning to reach the second round as match play started in the first annual Lubbock country club's women's invitation golf tournament. Miss Jones' medal today was $1.

In two other championship flight matches completed at noon, Mrs. Harry Stalcup of Big Spring, two-up on Mrs. J. H. Stiles, Lubbock, 6 and 5, and Mrs. Theron Hicks of Big Spring defeated Miss Elizabeth Pummill of San Angelo, 5 and 4.

Scores of other championship flight matches at the end of the first nine holes were: Mrs. Obie Bristow of Big Spring, two-up on Mrs. C. L. Dean of Lubbock; Mrs. Charles Worrell of Clovis and Mrs. J. R. Farmer of Lubbock, square; Mrs. Rhea Vernon of Abilene, two-up on Mrs. Guy McAfee of Lubbock; Mrs. Gordon Phillips of Big

Woman Accused In Husband's Death Held Under Bond

POST, July 22 (AP)—Bond of Cloe Johnson, pretty farm woman who had been charged July 12 with murder growing out of the death the day before of her 21-year-old husband in their flaming two-room shack, was set at $10,000 in an examining trial conducted this morning before County Judge Ira Weakley.

The soft-spoken blonde, neatly dressed and exhibiting composure, did not take the stand.

Tom Price, Post attorney who represented the young woman, said an effort would be made to post bond, "failure to do which would result in other procedure." He indicated a habeas corpus hearing for purpose of reducing bond.

COMMON CARRIER

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP)—The interstate commerce commission has authorized B. F. Walker Houston, Tex., to operate as a common carrier between points in Texas, Louisiana and New Mexico.

Spring one-up on Mrs. Charles Akey of Lubbock; and Mrs. Glen Smith, Lubbock, and Mrs. Jack Earhart, San Angelo, all square.

AFOL MEN PAINT LEWIS HOME

Three American Federation of Labor Painters are shown at work on the home in which John L. Lewis, leader of the C.I.O., rival union of the A.F.O.F., will live in Alexandria, Va. The painters said they were not interested in Lewis' labor policies, only in their work.

Tri-State Tourney In Final Round

AMARILLO, July 22 (AP)—Wallace Clark, college professor of Canyon, and B. F. Holmes, a member of a noted golfing clan of Shamrock, will play here this afternoon for the championship of the Tri-State Senior Golf association's third annual tournament.

Clark scored his second straight upset of the tourney this morning by defeating the medalist and defending champion, Bob Skaggs of Clovis, N. M. Skaggs went to pieces early and Clark was four up at the turn and shot steady golf to win, 3 and 2.

Holmes, champion of 1935, shot near par golf to defeat Byron Clancy of Carter, Okla., in the semi-finals.

STANLEY TO QUIT

AUSTIN, July 22 (AP)—C. V. Terrell, chairman, said today the railroad commission will act probably next week on a letter of resignation from Capt. E. N. Stanley, chief prorator officer in East Texas.

Terrell said he was awaiting the return of Col. E. O. Thompson, commission member, from Amarillo and declined to name a possible successor to Stanley.

PARALYSIS ON WANE

AUSTIN, July 22 (AP)—Infantile paralysis, more widespread in Texas than in recent years, showed signs of abatement today.

Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, said only two cases had been reported in the past seven days, indicating the malady reached a peak 30 days ago.

About 90 cases have been reported this summer, he said, and based on past history, there should be a steady drop in incidence, which has been above average for the past five years but far from epidemic proportions.

NEW HEAD OF BPW

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 22 (AP)—Miss Earlene White, postmistress to the United States senate, was nominated without opposition today to succeed Miss Charl Ormond Williams, also of Washington, as president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women.

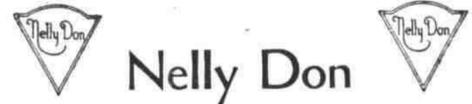

Delegates to the organization's national convention will elect officers tomorrow.

Miss Amy Lewellen, of Pullman, Wash., and Dr. Minnie L. Moffett of Dallas, Tex., were nominated for second vice-president.

THE SPORTS PARADE

By HANK HART

Many Texas supporters of Rogers Hornsby are blaming every person connected with the St. Louis Browns system except the right party and that should be Mr. Hornsby himself. The fiery one simply can't get the co-operative spirit out of the boys south of the other managers here. Surely a team like the Browns, who have never finished higher than seventh during Hornsby's regime deserve a better break than they're getting.

The Missourians beat out only the Philadelphia Athletics last year which isn't a good class A club and finished 16 full games behind the sixth place Boston Red Sox yet his supporters call him a great manager.

The same thing handicaps Hornsby that hurt Ty Cobb during his managerial career. He expects his players to do as well as he once did.

Brownie owners evidently thought that they could do better and there are plenty of eligibles for the job. Watch Lefty O'Doul of the San Francisco Seals. He may be up there before long. The 26 hits the Browns collected off Yankee pitchers Tuesday that resulted in but 10 runs and a double licking probably effected Mr. Barnes and his aides more than anything that has happened this season in disposing of Hornsby.

Jake Morgan was one of the big guns in the Cosden victory over Wolftrout Wednesday afternoon. He smacked out a double with the bases loaded in the fourth inning to drive in three runs.

The Ollers are in need of a third sacker. Rat Ramsey has with drawn from the Cosden lineup and Pepper Martin had to fill in at that position yesterday. Aubrey Harlow, who a week ago was looked upon favorably as a Cosden replacement, will probably be taken along.

Cleaning the cuff: Tuesday was not wasted for Jake Morgan and Horace Wallin who showed off. Lubbock before the message came through that rain had forced postponement of the games. . . The shortstopper and the custodian spent their time improving their golf game which can stand improvement. . . Doss Wright, ex-Ackerly pitcher, who worked out in spring training with the Odessa Ollers, is one of the throwers on the Wolftrout club but he didn't get into the game yesterday. . . The Fort Worth Cats have completed their first and second legs on their journey toward the Texas League cellar.

Semi-Final Round Is Reached At Amarillo

AMARILLO, July 22 (AP)—Bob Skaggs of Clovis, N. M., led a foursome of golfing oldsters into semi-final play of the Tri-State senior tournament today.

Skaggs defeated Dr. A. S. Neal of Cordell, La., 5 and 4 in yesterday's round of this odd tournament, limited to players at least 55 years old.

Others who came through to the semi-finals were Wallace Clark of Canyon, who defeated Joe Lang of Dalhart 2 up; Bryce Clancy of Carter, Okla., who upset Joe Storey of Dalhart 2 up and B. F. Holmes of Shamrock and 1935 champion, who eliminated Dr. R. P. Parcells of Amarillo, 2 and 1.

M. C. Rogers, farmer near Austin, Texas, owns a 9-year-old goldfish that is 15 1/2 inches long, 11 inches around, and weighs two pounds.

COSDENITES PREPARE TO MEET AMERADA FRIDAY

WOLVES ARE EASY PREY FOR LOCALS

Out of the hat came a slip of paper with the name "Amerada" labeled on it and as a result the Big Spring Cosden Ollers will meet the strong Monument, N. M., team Friday afternoon at 2 p. m. in the second round of the Lubbock invitational baseball tournament.

The test has suddenly stiffened for the locals. Wednesday they defeated the Wolftrout Wolves, 12-3, in seven innings and had anything but a difficult time in doing it but the approaching game is different. Twice this season the Cosdenites have felt before the bristling attacks of the Clovenmen and the Amerada crew is reported stronger than ever before.

Lefty Is Master
The one victory the locals have scored over the Ameradans occurred here and the outlook isn't so bad. It was a southpaw—Horace Wallin—who beat the Monument team by a score of 7-6 and Manager Pepper Martin will probably use another lefthander in an attempt to repulse the New Mexicans.

That selection will fall to Maxie Beard, Coahoma twirler, who did not accompany the team yesterday.

The Ollers had an easy time with the opposition yesterday despite the fact that they had only nine men throughout the game. . . Bill Cook twirled the seven innings for the Big Springers giving up five hits. His mates started clouting in the opening frame and he was never in trouble. They tallied three runs in the first stanza and four more in the fourth.

Timmy Hutto and Al Doren led the timber attack with three blows each while Horace Wallin and Jake Morgan collected two apiece.

Martin's team took the field without its full strength using Charlie Morgan, regular pitcher, in right field and the manager himself in the "hot corner."

Browns Win
In yesterday's other game at Parris field the Tip-Top Collegians bowed out of the meeting after suffering their second straight licking.

They dropped a 6-3 decision to Brownsfield after losing their first game Sunday to the Amerada, 23-0. The Wolftrout Wolves and the Browns will meet in a game today for the right to remain in the tournament.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

By the Associated Press
Lou Fette and Johnny Lanning, Bees—Held Cardinals to five hits and two hits, respectively, for 5-1 and 6-2 doubleheader win.

Jimmy Fox, Red Sox—Hit two homers in 10-3 win over Tigers. . . Bill Lee and Larry French, Cubs—Stopped Phillies, 4-1 and 6-0, respectively, in twin bill, allowing eight and six hits.

Kemp Wicker, Yankees—Held Browns to 10 hits and drove in two runs with singles for a 6-3 victory.

George Jefferson, Dodgers—Fanned seven and handcuffed Pirates with four hits for a 6-0 triumph. . . Al Simmons, Senators—Hit homer and single, driving in three runs, for 7-3 win over White Sox.

Paul Derringer pitched hitless ball in 1 1/2 inning relief trick to save 6-5 win over Giants. . . "Bad News" Hale and Bruce Campbell, Indians—Former drove in two runs, including winning rally, in 9-8 opener victory over Athletics; Campbell hit two doubles, two singles, driving in three runs, in 8-7 nightcap win.

Weber, Watkins 'Rassle' Tuesday

Victor Weber, star of the crowd of last Tuesday's wrestling card and Tex Watkins will meet in the main event of next week's three-bout, Promoter Herman Fabris announced Thursday morning after receiving a wire from Watkins in Amarillo.

A flip of the coin between Watkins and Lipscomb decided who would wrestle the brilliant German. . . In the three years that Weber has appeared here, he has never lost a match even though he has wrestled such men as the Masked Marvel, Gene La Belle and others while Watkins has almost as good a record. In the three seasons he has appeared here the sailor has dropped only one decision that a fluke count to La Belle.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, July 22 (AP)—Too bad Rogers Hornsby had to go. . . But the fans were "on" him and the club wasn't drawing. . . Paid attendance at a recent game was only 712. . . Big league clubs can't get very far on crowds like that. . . The full handle of Tommy Farr is Thomas George Paul Farr. . . Jimmy Braddock may make the first start of his new campaign against Roscoe Toles in Detroit this summer with Scotty Monteith doing the promoting. . . Joe McCarthy of the Yankees says Pie Traynor of the Pirates is the greatest third sacker he can remember.

On the same day Cleveland sports writers were demanding a snappier double play combination, the Indians pulled four. . . Tom Walsh, a Chicago golf pro, charges his pupils according to the number of strokes he can take off their score. . . Tom Yawkey, owner of the Red Sox, sees more games than any other big league mogul, averaging more than 100 per season. . . The Boston Bees are leaning towards San Antonio, Texas, as next year's training camp.

Red Burman, Jack Dempsey's heavyweight, is one of the few fighters who has campaigned in every division. . . He began as a 112-pound flyweight and now mingles with the biggest in the business. . . Jimmy Dykes, White Sox manager, says he'd feel better and play better if the magnates would let him smoke cigars while playing third.

SPTS—COMPLETE FAMILY—12 Complete Family Nine Plays in Hunter, Utah

HUNTER, Utah, July 22 (AP)—When the Hunter baseball team takes the field it's "Bashion to Rushton to Rushton"—no matter where the ball is hit.

Because the team includes the Russian brothers, Sam, pitcher; Charlie, catcher; Ed, first baseman; and Ed, outfielder, and their cousins—Al Rushtons—Owen, second base; Clyde, shortstop; Lawrence, third base; Warren, outfield; and Parly, outfield. A complete family nine.

The roster also includes Randy Mosser, Leon Evans, Claude Coon and George Fuehrer.

The Rushton team—at least seven of 'em play in every game won 12 of its first 13 games in the Victory Independent league, and captured three of its first four contests in the Farm Bureau circuit.

Local Women In First Round Play

LUBBOCK, July 22 (AP)—Miss Elinor Jones, New Mexico woman's champion from Albuquerque, fired a 90 to win the medal in the Lubbock country club women's invitational golf tournament.

She had to play Mrs. Cliff Deary of Lubbock in a nine-hole playoff for the honor, the latter after shooting a 90 in yesterday's qualifying rounds. Miss Jones won one up.

Thirteen matches were listed for today's championship play. In them were to perform such low scorers as Mrs. Theron Hicks of Big Spring, 94, Mrs. Rhea Vernon of Abilene, 92, and Mrs. Gordon Phillips of Big Spring, 93.

Beaten By A Muzzle

POLKESTONE, England, July 22 (AP)—Ready to race in the Maidenstone Plate, Epicure was recalled from the starting post because his jockey omitted to weight out with the horse's muzzle.

GOODIES BARRED

DURBAN, July 22 (AP)—Aberdeen football team, touring South Africa, has a grievance. Eddie Travers, manager, says the hospitality is too good and the players are feted everywhere they go.

Cats Split Twin Bill, Tribe Wins

Stanley Sperry To Try Hitting In 37th Straight

John Grodzicki probably would be as good a man as any to put a crimp in Stanley Sperry's current strivings as a consecutive-game hitter.

The Oklahoma City Indians' second baseman has connected safely in 36 games. The all-time league record is 37 games, achieved by Ike Boone of San Antonio 14 years ago. In Oklahoma City's game with Houston tomorrow Sperry will have his chance to tie that mark. The Indians rested today.

Grodzicki proved himself Houston's top-notch twirler in a 1-0-0 victory over third-place Tulsa last night. He not only kept the enemy at bay but supplied the game's only run, a long homer over the left field wire in the eighth. He allowed nine hits but pulled himself out of more than one hole with 11 strikeouts.

Dallas seems to have improved its brand of baseball under new manager Ray Brubaker but the last-minute punch is still lacking. The Steers tangled with San Antonio in a fine game and lost out, 3 to 2. The North Texans have lost many a game this year by that margin.

The win gave San Antonio its fifth straight and pulled them to within a game of Fort Worth hanging on the frayed edge of the first division. The Cats ended their nine-game losing streak by taking the nightcap of a doubleheader from Beaumont. The score was 9 to 5. Beaumont took the first 4 to 2.

The punch that has made Oklahoma City the league pacer over a long stretch of the season was still there when the Indians battled Galveston. In the last four innings they slammed across eight runs, winning 8 to 5.

Meyer's Squad One Of Largest

FORT WORTH, July 22—Coach Dutch Meyer of Texas Christian university says the guy who has been bragging all these years about being the largest of his football squads has nothing on him!

Meyer counted up his football boys the other day and wrote down the names of exactly 57 who are expected to show up September 7.

"I suppose there'll be a few who either don't report or who will drop out after a few days, but we'll have a lot of good boys. A lot of good boys and a lot of good football players, let me tell you!"

Here is the list, by positions, as Coach Meyer counted off the eligible men who are expected to report:

Right ends—Russell Henshaw, Durwood Horner, Charley Williams, Paul Snow, Bob Patterson, and Paul Tankersley.

Right tackles—Forrest Kime, Albie White, Abe Walker and Frank Murray.

Right guards—Capt. Mason Maxine, George Dunlap, Carl Holman, Clifford Kellow and Bill Farley.

Quarterbacks—David O'Brien, Jimmie Pratt, Spud Taylor, Bobby Bass and Alan House.

Fullbacks—Lacy McClanahan, Mac Best, Linnon Blackmon, Hugh Hanley and James Vickers. The squad numbers 16 lettermen, 12 with one letter and four with two; 15 squadmen; and 26 sophomores.

QUIET ONE

Thomas Henry Cotten won the official title of the match play champion of the world when he defeated Herman Denmore Shute of the U. S., 6 and 5, in the gloomiest 72-hole match on record at Walton Heath, England. . . Neither Silent Henry or Dour Denny spoke a word until the end of the match when Denny congratulated the Briton. He won the Argentine open in 1930, the Belgian open in 1930 and '34, the Italian open in 1936. He was runner-up in the French and German opens in 1936, also. . . He won the British open in 1934 but the field wasn't as tough as it was this year.

Cards Faller
Lou Fette and Jim Turner, a couple of 30-year-old "bookies," are the latest with whom quino and McKeehan have come up to baffle batting opposition. Fette and Johnny Lanning, a second year man, had a cinch yesterday with the Cardinals and walloped them in both ends of a doubleheader, 5-1 and 2-1.

A homer by Ray Mueller with the bases loaded in the 11th inning won the first game for Fette. Then Lanning, matched against Duzzy Dean, whose big toe he laced again, tossed a two hitter at the gas house gang for a nightcap decision.

The Chicago Cubs meantime stretched their National League lead to two full games over the crippled Giants by whipping the Phillies in a twin bill, 4 to 1 and 6 to 0.

A five run rally in the fifth gave the Cincinnati Reds a 6-5 decision over the Giants. George Jefferson turned in a four hitter to break the Pirates for a 6-0 Brooklyn win. Although Sunny Jim Bottomley was the new manager for the Browns, it was the same old ball club. So the Yankees trimmed them, as usual, 6-3.

Jimmy Fox smashed out two homers for the second straight day to lead the Red Sox in a 10-3 win over the Detroit Tigers. Washington's Senators ended a 12-game "winless" run by topping the White Sox, 7-3. The Cleveland Indians just managed to nose out the Athletics in both ends of a twin bill, 9-8 and 8-7.

238 PROS ENTER CHI GOLF OPEN

CHICAGO, July 22 (AP)—A strong entry of 238 golfers overtook the hotlist of money players to get their swag bags at the start of tomorrow's 90-hole Chicago country club course in the 238 pros open.

The field, biggest ever to enter a major event, includes 238 professionals and 204 amateurs.

With all of the breaks and every one shooting his and her best, the tournament committee hopes to have the field reduced to the 50 low professionals and ties in time for the final 36 holes Sunday.

BOARD DESIRABLE

RELEASE OF ROGERS MAY SINK AMER.

By SID FEDER (Associated Press Sports Writer)
The wolves are different in St. Louis.

Anywhere else, when they start to howl, the chances are they'll get some ball players, but when they open up on the Browns, they wind up with the manager's scalp—and don't ask why.

If anyone could have done a better job with the Browns than old Rajah Hornsby, he hasn't made his appearance in big time ball up to now. Certainly, no one can do any better with the material at hand.

That he finished out of the cellar last year was a miracle. The new Browns' bosses might have taken a tip from the Boston Bees. Bob Quinn moved in there two years ago and found a club dying on its feet. But instead of pouring it on Bill McKeehan he backed Bill up, until now he has brought together a pitching staff that is the pride of the National League, if not the entire big time.

Cards Faller

Coahoma Loses To Conoco, 2-13

FOISAN, July 22 (AP)—Continental powerful Ollers, behind the effective two-hit pitching of Windmill Brown, stopped the Coahoma Bulls dogs for the second time in a row here Wednesday afternoon, winning a 13-2 victory.

Combining the offerings of Bill Hardy for a total of 16 base blows three of which were garnered by Brown himself, the Foran crowd "iced" the decision in the opening stanza when they tallied seven runs.

The Coahomans tallied one run off Brown in the opening inning and added the other in the sixth.

ALLISON AGAIN EASTERN VICTOR

BROOKLINE, Mass., July 22 (AP)—The Longwood Bowl tennis tournament entered its quarter-finals today with only one of its two former winners and none of its three Murphys.

While third seeded Dick Murphy of Massachusetts titlist and 1933 bowl victor, was bowing to Norbert Burgess of Chicago, the Murphy twins from Chicago, William and Chester, were being driven out of the tourney by second seeded Bob Harman of Oakland, Calif. and Paul Gubrod of Melrose, who was rated seventh in the draw.

Top ranking Wilmer Allison of Austin, Tex., who can retire the eighth bowl Longwood has put up in 45 years with another victory, defeated Howard Stephens of St. Louis, in straight sets to most grateful Vernon Marcum of St. Petersburg, Fla. in the round of eight. The other survivors were Gardner Mulloy of Miami, Gilbert Hunt of Washington, and Alfre Jarvis of Tenafly, N. J.

Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabryan had to come from behind against Mia Tokaku, Niigata of Tokio, former Japanese champion, to lead the seeded stars into the fourth round.

Also qualifying for today's women singles play were Grace Wheeler of Santa Monica, Calif.; Helen Pederson of Stamford, Conn.; Mrs. John Van Dusen of Austin, Tex.; Mrs. Maynard M. Johnson, Jr., of Boston; Norton T. M. of New York; Hope Knowles of Philadelphia and Mrs. Bonnie Miller Blank of Los Angeles.

Forest Hills May Be Next Stop Of Shields

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., July 22 (AP)—Francis X. Shields, once one of America's top ranking tennis stars and now a film actor, embarks tomorrow on what may turn out to be a court come-back.

The rangy ex-Davis cup player with Mrs. Shields' heads East to play in the Seabright and Westchester tournaments.

"If I do well, I'll enter the nationals at Forest Hills," he promised.

Rajah Studies Possible Action

ST. LOUIS, July 22 (AP)—Rogers Hornsby, deposed manager of the important St. Louis Browns studied possible legal action today to enforce his contract through the remainder of the year.

Hornsby and his first assistant, Coach Charlie O'Leary, were dismissed suddenly, and were replaced by "Sunny Jim" Bottomley as manager and Charles "Gabby" Street, former Cardinal and St. Paul manager, as coach.

Hornsby, who had been manager since the middle of the 1933 season, said he turned down "a $5,000 offer of settlement" because he believed his contract should hold good to the end of the 1938 season.

Last year he was signed to a two-year contract calling for a salary of $18,000 a year.

Asked if he would appeal to Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis, or if he contemplates any legal action, Hornsby said "not until I find out just what the club is going to do about the contract."

Don Barnes, president of the Browns, said "our attorneys have given their opinion that the contract could be terminated—abruptly. The dismissal was not the result of any overnight decision."

Classic Stakes Up At Arlington

CHICAGO, July 22 (AP)—The ninth running of the Classic Stakes, Arlington Park's choice three-year-old feature Saturday, shaped up today as a ten-horse race, with Pompoon the favorite.

Gerald, William H. Furst's hope, Warren Wright's Goumy Ran, and Debor, were other hopefuls.

Others considered certain starters in the battle for the big purse, were Eagle Pass from the Valdivia stable; Burning Star, owned by Richard and Patrick Nash of Chicago; Raoul Walsh's Sunset Trail II, Hal Price's Headley's Old Nassau, and E. W. Duffy's Grey God.

CACTUS JACK AT WORK

If any adjustment ever is consummated to end the great controversy over the judiciary revision, history in all probability will record that the man who turned the trick was John Nance Garner of Texas.

The Associated Press reported from Washington Wednesday that the self-styled "silent partner" of Mr. Roosevelt was doing a lot of talking, behind the scenes. And simultaneously with this disclosure came the news that congressmen are talking of "harmony", a subject they had dropped in recent weeks.

The vice-president reportedly was doing a lot of missionary work, serving as contact man between the capitol and the White House. Chances are that this missionary work will get results, because there is in Washington no shrewder manipulator of political affairs than the ruddy-faced official from the Lone Star state. Mr. Garner knows his way around in the ironing out of legislative disputes, in dissolving rifts, in reuniting party ranks. He's been doing all that for years.

The differences this time are grave indeed. There are many opposed to the court reorganization bill who will be unwilling to accept any sort of compromise. Final disposition of the issue in any manner, however, still will leave much work to be done toward restoring the unity of the majority party. It's a safe bet that the work can and will be done through the influence of Garner.

THE 4-H LIVESTOCK SHOW

It is gratifying to note the quickening of interest in a proposal to stage a livestock show for 4-H club boys in this city next spring. Agricultural agents, civic organizations, business interests are turning attention toward the project. Big Spring, located in the ranching belt, properly should lend its facilities and its public support to work designed to improve that industry. The 4-H program, under direction of the farm agents, is worthy in that it encourages future ranchers in programs that will benefit them when they become commercial livestock men. The training they get now will be reflected in a more prosperous, more productive industry in later years.

The calf and lamb show would be an important factor in the 4-H program. The Herald pledges its support toward such an undertaking and hopes that all interests in Howard county will do likewise.

NEW YORK—Such are the perils of talent-hunting that here we have the facts on a screwy case which ought to be extremely enlightening, except that names can't be used. If the personalities were identified, it might result in a little case of suicide.

One of the representatives of a New York publishing house, prowling through the Balkans in search of new writers, made the acquaintance of a smooth talking young man and wound up offering him a diplomatic post on the New York side. He wasn't an author but he knew everybody of importance in Europe, especially the literati, and it was to be his task to smooth the way between American publishers and European writers.

Returning to New York, the representative found that he could not go through with his proposed venture, so the young man in Vienna was notified that the deal was off. The effects of this turn of events were sudden and disquieting.

By return mail came an astounding ultimatum from friends of the young man. He had, it seems, gone all over Vienna telling everybody about his new job. Parties had been given him, fetes arranged in his honor.

Too, he was the scion of an ancient (if penniless) and aristocratic family. Not to be able to make good after boasting of his new employment would cause him to lose "face." Therefore, unless the publishing house reconsidered and forwarded sufficient money for his passage to America, the young man would have no alternative but to commit suicide.

That was the weird state of affairs. Rather than have blood on its hands, the firm brought the young man over.

He's here now, getting into everybody's hair and recommending "writers" who couldn't even crack the New York pulps. The publishers shake their heads sadly. They don't say so, but somehow you get the impression they are sorry they didn't let the young man go ahead and lose "face."

Nat Pendleton recalls that he couldn't make the dramatic debut at Columbia University, as a student. So he majored in engineering and became a motion picture star.

WASHINGTON—Again President Roosevelt steps in to reprimand John L. Lewis that he is rocking the boat and better sit down awhile.

The CIO leader got his first rebuke during the auto strikes last winter when he reminded the administration that labor had helped it and now expected help in return. "Statements, conversations and headlines," said the president were not in order.

Now the president tells his press conference that while it was all right for federal employees to unite to discuss grievances and present their wishes to congressional committees, it was not all right to expect to bargain collectively with the government and to demand written contracts.

The relationship of employees to the federal government is vastly different from the relationship of employees to private employers. In the latter case, the employees have had to intercede with congress for legislative machinery for use in dealing with their employers. Congress has responded liberally in the last year or two.

Congress Bosses
But in a large sense when federal employees come to congress for better wages and conditions they are already dealing directly with their employer. Congress has the power to set out almost in detail the working conditions and pay of federal employees, and frequently does. Petty grievances can be handled best by grievance committees as they have in the past. In any event it can be expected that a congress disposed to legislate for better conditions in private employment will also keep federal hands from working under sweatshop conditions.

Actually, Lewis did himself no good in announcing his plan to organize federal employees.

There have been rumors of a break between President Roosevelt and Lewis. The president declines to comment on them. But in all conscience it should be unnecessary to announce a break that is as certain as twilight if Lewis continues his present way.

Handicap

The president will break with Lewis just as soon as the labor leader's activities become a handicap to Mr. Roosevelt and his program.

In truth they are already a handicap, but not as much a handicap as an open break with a powerful labor leader might be. Then, it cannot be doubted that the president has a real interest in the welfare of labor from a humanitarian standpoint—an interest as strong as his interest in having labor support him politically. If the president breaks with Lewis he likely will have both interests in mind, one intermingled with the other.

Any such break certainly would result in a wasting battle between the administration and Lewis for support of the very labor element now able to support both without dividing allegiance. There is a special reason now to believe that Lewis could lead his whole CIO support away from Roosevelt in a body. After all, that man in the White House has a drag with those of humbler incomes.

HOLLYWOOD—Divorce rumors in filmland spread like blazes. Usually the principals, even if there's no divorce, know where the rumors started. But Neil Hamilton never did, until the other day when the long arm of coincidence reached out.

It was five years ago that rumor had Neil and Elsa spitting. It took them six months of steady denying—and that's hard work in Hollywood—to convince the gossips otherwise. When they returned from England recently, the story was so dead nobody thought of it—not even Neil—until he visited a desert ranch near here and met Neil Hamilton.

Mistaken Identity
The other Neil Hamilton is a ranch worker. Before the actor departed the ranch Neil confided his belief that he'd been the unwitting cause of rumors in Hollywood. The ranch Hamilton had divorced his wife about that time, and it was then the Hollywood Hamilton started getting inquiries.

"And I know that explains it," says the Hollywood Neil, "because the first inquiries about me and Elsa came from that very region!" Neil and Elsa have been away two years. They are living at the beach because Garbo has rented their house, but they probably will be returning to England in the fall anyway. Unless Neil accepts that African stage tour, in which case he'll polish up his magic—"I'll use that to compensate for any lack of histrionics the customers might notice."

It struck me, seeing Hamilton again, that Robert Taylor might take a few lessons in how an overly handsome actor deals with the fatal curse of publicity. It wasn't so long ago that Hamilton, who actually did pose for collar-and-ones, was getting the same unfeeling course of "treatment" at the hands of the local wits. Don't know that anybody ever called Neil "pretty"—you don't when you know him, anyway—but for a long time the collar-and-ones lay on him heavily.

Just as it lay, in his time, on the late Wallace Reid.

Hope They Last
So I thought I'd learn—from Neil, for Bob—how Neil mastered the situation. But I got nowhere. "Boy," said Neil, with fervent

The struts on that first naval seaplane were of bicycle tubing and laminated spruce. Linen was used for the wing fabric.

Rocking and careening along on two cables, 200 feet long, the plane finally gained a momentum of about 60 miles an hour and with Elyson in imminent danger of falling out, took off and soared for a few minutes.

Finally much to Towers' and probably his own, relief Elyson landed. The United States navy had taken to the air. A few weeks earlier the navy had signed its first contract with an aviation construction company. The Curtis company had been ordered to construct two airplanes, and the contract contained the proviso that two officers be taught to fly the machines.

To the Curtis plane in Hammondsport, N. Y., in the spring of 1911, had gone Elyson and Towers. A short time later at Dayton, O., at the plant of the Wright company, another young naval officer began to learn to fly the navy's third seaplane. He was Lieut. John Rodgers, who later made history by nearly accomplishing the first flying boat nonstop hop to Hawaii.

Elyson wasn't very comfortable that day. He sat tense. The plane's controls were between his knees. His hands gripped a wheel which was attached to the rudder. The ailerons were controlled by shifting the shoulders—he being forced to lean and rock the plane in the direction he desired to turn, to make the wings dip.

Chapter 25
WHO'S GUN?

Two days had passed and still there was no sign of Ted Gaynor. "I don't understand it, Flicker," Kay whispered brokenly, as she slipped off Flicker's bride and leaned her head a moment against his mane. "Do you suppose—" she broke off abruptly, as she saw Shorty coming toward her.

"Hi, there! Let me do that!" He took the bridle from her hand. "You hop to it and get some chow, or you'll be out of luck."

"Thanks, Shorty," Kay braced herself, and tried to smile. "Has everyone finished?"

"Seth and a couple of the boys are still there," Shorty answered, bending down to Flicker's cinch. "What do you think of the timber we're cutting?"

"I think it's fine. Only I hate to see those great tamaracs come crashing down!"

"Now, ain't that just like a girl?" Shorty commented to Flicker, cocking a quizzical eye at Kay to catch the effect of his words.

"Here we're breaking our backs building a barn for her, and she wants to keep the trees to have picnics under!"

"No, I don't, Shorty," Kay laughed at Shorty's comical expression in spite of her heavy heart. "I'm as anxious to get the barn built as you are, only I wish—" She left the sentence unfinished.

"So do I," Shorty agreed, answering Kay's unspoken thought with the freedom of an old friend. "You know, it almost seems as though something must have happened to that guy! He wasn't the kind to go back on his word!"

"He wasn't, was he?" Kay agreed eagerly. Then, fearful of saying too much, once the flood gates of her thoughts were opened, she turned and made for the mess-shack.

The Sheriff's Queries
As she and Seth were discussing the dimensions of the new barn, a sudden clatter of hoofs broke in on them. Springing to her feet, with a quick premonition of trouble, Kay was half way to the door when it was suddenly darkened by the lanky figure of Zeke Farley, the sheriff of Butte county.

"Hello, there! Be pulled off his hat, as his eye caught Kay. 'You're just the girl I wanted to see. Do you know that gun?'"

For a moment, everything swam before Kay's eyes, as she caught sight of the gun the sheriff held out to her. She felt as though every drop of blood was drained from her heart as she stared at it, and brace herself against one of the chairs.

Conscious of curious faces crowded into the doorway behind the sheriff, she cleared her throat once or twice, before she could bring herself to speak.

"Why—why, yes," she faltered. "That was one of Dad's."

Seth came around the table beside her, and took the gun out of the sheriff's hand. "Sure, it was," he corroborated, and then added before Kay could stop him, "But look here! Wasn't that the one you gave to that Gaynor guy?"

"Who's that?" the sheriff snapped, his keen eyes traveling from Seth to Kay. "Gave it to who? When? Where is he now?"

Kay moistened her lips, before attempting to answer his rapid fire of questions. Her mind was reeling in lightning flashes from one desperate conjecture to another.

What did this gun in Zeke Farley's hands mean? Was Ted hurt—or killed? Or had he killed someone else? Beating through her fears for him, was the instinctive feeling that she must watch her step and not say something that would incriminate him.

"Where—where did you find it?" She stalled for time, by meeting the sheriff's questions with an other.

"Never mind that now," Zeke Farley spoke more gently, as he saw Kay's distress, but his eyes were none the less keen. "Just you tell us everything you know about it."

Realizing that all she could do was to tell the truth, Kay explained how she had given the gun to Ted Gaynor and had last seen it when he started off for Clear Water Basin, to get his mother and sister and bring them back.

"How did the gun come into your hands?" Kay ended, forcing herself to face the facts whatever they might be.

The sheriff hesitated, and gave an imperceptible nod to Seth over Kay's head.

"Don't you worry about that," he evaded soothingly. "I'll talk to Seth outside."

"No you won't!" Kay interposed, her eyes flashing, and her body straight and taut with determination. "You've got to tell me anything you have to say about it! I won't be kept in suspense."

Found: A Dead Man
The sheriff shrugged. "Well, I reckon you've got to hear about it, sooner or later, so there's no point in making a mystery about it. Also, I want to know all you can tell me about this Gaynor guy—where you met him, and how long you've known him, and so forth."

"But how did you come by the gun?" Kay insisted. "You must tell me that first."

The sheriff took the gun back from Seth, and gravely weighed it in his hand, as he eyed it critically.

"There ain't much doubt," he said slowly, "but what this gun has killed a man."

Kay put her hand up to her throat. "Yes—yes—go on!"

"One of the fire patrol was coming back over the divide, yesterday, and by the head waters there, he found a dead man, shot through the temple, and not 30 feet away, he saw the last man he saw."

"The dead man was male or so over on the Idaho side of the state line, but this guy was headed this way, so he brought the gun down to me. I called up the sheriff at Clear Water Basin, but he was off after a bunch of rustlers, and his deputy asked me to help out on the job until he could join me."

"Who was the man?" Kay got the question out through parched lips.

"A fellow named Scrap Johnson who was one of the Flying Six outfit. He—"

He got no further for Kay, with a cry of mingled relief and dismay, suddenly sank down on the chair near her.

Houston Men Shot To Death

Shooting Result of Argument Over Parked Automobile

HOUSTON, July 22 (AP)—Two men, one 18, the other 63, were shot to death last night in an argument over a parked automobile. Albert Stout of Houston, the younger man was shot twice in the heart and a few minutes later J. J. Tyree was found wounded fatally in a bedroom of his home. The shooting occurred at nearby Baytown.

Justices of the Peace R. R. Zerlein said witnesses told him "a pair argued over moving Stout's car from the Tyree yard. The boy roomed in the Tyree home with his employer, A. Balco. Zerlein said he was told Tyree demanded the car be removed, to which the youth replied he was trying to get the automobile started. A moment later, Zerlein said, the boy was shot. Tyree then walked into the house and seconds later a shot was heard and Tyree was found dead.

FOUND SLAIN

HOUSTON, July 22 (AP)—Mike Salibo, 35, was found shot to death today at the wheel of a new exclusive automobile in a lonely spot near the city. Police Captain George Peyton said the former convict apparently was the victim of a "ride" shooting.

Peyton said Salibo was shot in the back of the head and that the "trigger" man apparently was riding in the back seat of the sedan. Police records showed Salibo had been sentenced to an 18-month term in the federal prison for violating anti-narcotic laws. Later he was given a two-year term for violating the custom laws.

WOULD TRANSFER TO U. S. MANDATE OVER PALESTINE

LONDON, July 22 (AP)—Geoffrey Mander, liberal member of parliament, proposed today that Great Britain hand over to the United States its mandate over Palestine, Jewish homeland.

Mander gave written notice that he will ask Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain Tuesday whether "in view of the British government's unwillingness to continue to administer its mandate over Palestine" the prime minister will "consider the advisability of proposing to the League of Nations that it should be offered to the United States."

The British plan to parcel Palestine between Arabs and Jews was sidetracked today in the house of commons in a compromise move after long and bitter debate.

A delay which would permit further study of the plan before final parliamentary action and submission of it to the League of Nations was decided upon in a rising vote by the chamber. It drew general support of the house.

Life Of Stanton Man Follows In Some Ways That Of A Kinsman, Lamar

STANTON, July 22—Asked to name their favorite character in the early history of Texas, J. S. Lamar, city secretary of Stanton, and his daughter, Miss Lorraine Lamar, history teacher in Big Spring high school, would probably select, not Sam Houston or Stephen F. Austin, but Mirabeau B. Lamar, who served as governor of Texas from 1838 to 1841. Such a selection would be entirely natural for the West Texas family is distantly related to the Georgia man who fought for Texas in revolutionary days and later served as its highest executive.

The Stanton official was born into the Alabama branch of the Lamar family and is a distant cousin of Mirabeau B. Lamar. His life, though not the spectacular career of statesman, soldier, and poet which was the lot of his Georgia kinsman, parallels, oddly enough, that of the Texas president in a number of ways. He, too, was born in a state other than Texas and lived on a farm in his younger days. He, too, spent several years in commercial work, and later held public office.

Teachers
The West Texas Lamars are fond of teaching as a profession and of the University of Texas as an institution of higher learning.

Mr. Lamar taught school for 11 years, including a number of terms in Eocene county. Mrs. Lamar taught before her marriage and also afterward. She is now primary teacher in the Stanton school, a position which she has held for a number of years.

Both children of the couple, a son, J. S. Jr., and Miss Lorraine, have had teaching experience. Their father attended the University of Texas in 1901 and 1902, before the legendary "shacks" had been erected on the campus and classes were held in the old main building.

President Benedict, whose recent death saddened Texas students and Texas eyes everywhere, was Mr. Lamar's math teacher in his freshman year. Dr. E. P. Schoch, Dr. Eugene Barker, and Killis Campbell were others of his teachers.

Both J. S. Lamar, Jr., and Miss Lorraine Lamar attended the University of Texas after graduating from the junior college at Meridian, Texas. Miss Lamar has her A. B. degree from Texas and has almost completed work for her master's degree from the same school.

The Lamars came to Stanton in 1927 and in 1930 the elder Lamar was elected judge of Martin county serving two terms in that office.

Miss Lamar taught in the Stanton schools several years before accepting a position in the Big Spring system.

Few Going To Short Course

Agent Hopes, However, That County Delegation Will Grow

What appeared as a record delegation of Howard county farmers to the annual A. and M. short course a few months ago is dwindling to a very small group as time for the course nears.

Definite commitments to County Agent O. P. Griffin are few. Several are undecided, and several others have decided they are too busy.

Griffin is still hopeful of a representative crowd. He pointed out that the short course is being held the third week in August this year instead of the customary fourth week in July. This is a more opportune time for West Texas farmers.

The registration fee this year is only $2.50, and cares for room and entertainment features. An additional $3.50 will care for board requirements, making the total outlay for expenses, other than transportation, $6.10.

Hanging State Of Wild West Turns To Gas

California, Known For 'Necktie Parties,' Uses Modern Method

SACRAMENTO, Calif., July 22 (UP)—On August 27 California joins seven other states which have substituted lethal gas for the gallows and electric chair in carrying out capital punishment.

Despite the new law, which substitutes gas for hanging, the gallows at San Quentin and Folsom, the state's two penitentiaries, must be maintained for some time.

A provision of the law introduced by a former San Quentin warden, James B. Holohan, provided the lethal gas executions would not apply to crimes committed before the change was put into effect.

Meanwhile, the state division of architecture, undisturbed by possible legal entanglements which may result because of the change in the statutes, is proceeding with designs for an ultra-modern "house of death."

Improvement To Be Noted
It will profit from the experience of Nevada, Colorado, Oregon, Arizona, Wyoming, Montana and South Carolina, states which use lethal gas in executing felons.

All were prompted to make the change by a belief that gas was a more humane method of killing murderers for whom the state has demanded the death penalty.

Holohan shares this opinion. As San Quentin's warden for many years he witnessed many deaths by hanging. What he saw impressed him so that as a state senator he fought vigorously to push his bill through.

Measure Easily Passed
There was little concerted opposition to the measure in a state widely known during its colorful history to prefer, unofficially at least, the "necktie" party.

Because of mistakes made by other states, notably Nevada, California is expected to carry out its first lethal execution without a hitch.

Nevada attempted in 1924 to execute a prisoner by pumping gas into a makeshift shack. As a result there have been many conferences between prison officials, state architects and experts from other states to the end that no such blunder shall occur here.

California will use the same method now generally accepted, the gas will be generated in a scientific method from tiny pellets of cyanide dropped by an automatic device into sulphuric acid and water. This procedure has been tried and proved.

Under the patronage of King Gustaf V more than 100 chess players from 25 countries will meet in Stockholm this summer in an international chess congress, the seventh ever held.

Big Spring Youth Starts Training At Naval Academy

ROBERT HATLEY

Robert Hatley, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Hatley, has been assigned to the U. S. naval academy at Annapolis, Md., under appointment from Rep. George Mahon 19th Texas congressional district.

He entered the academy shortly after July 1.

Robert was graduated from the Big Spring high school in May 1935, and took one year's work at McMurry college at Abilene.

He worked for the Shell Pipe-Line company at Colorado until his appointment by Mahon. Examinations were taken and passed at Dallas.

Lieut. John Quinn, son of Mrs. Mable Quinn, is a one-time Big Spring appointee.

Marvin Burleson, an appointee two years ago, was drowned at Austin where he had gone for a year's preparatory college work.

Recording Of Zep Disaster Will Be Presented By KBST

An actual account of the Hindenburg disaster at Lakehurst, N. J., will be broadcast by radio station KBST in the near future. C. M. Garnea, commercial manager of the station, has arranged with officials of station WLS in Chicago for the use of the recordings made at the scene of the mishap.

These recordings, made by the WLS engineers, who were on the spot for a scoop never before obtained with recording apparatus being out all of the horror and pathos which took place at the scene of the catastrophe. The records were broadcast by the National Broadcasting company several days afterward. Few people in this territory heard the broadcast, therefore it will be repeated through the local station.

White Plague In Capetown

Marriage Licenses Reveal Odd Jobs; Boner, Boarder, Toggler And Twister

MILWAUKEE, July 22 (UP)—Clerks in the marriage license bureau are learning that it takes all sorts of persons to make a world.

For instance, among recent license applicants were a twister, a trichologist, a flask man, and a boner.

And that, the clerks reported, is only a starter. Others who have applied for licenses have listed their occupations as a topper, a legger, a looper, a paint filler, a salad girl, and an egg breaker.

There are only a few of the unusual occupations in a metropolitan area that come to light in a marriage bureau, clerks said.

Upon questioning, the bureau found that a twister is a hosiery worker performing one specific task. The trichologist explained that he practiced trichology and walked away before a puzzled clerk could question him further. The dictionary revealed that trichology is "the science of treating hair."

No one in the bureau is certain what it is that a flask man or paint-filler does. Toppers, leggers and loopers are connected with the hosiery business.

Harry Wilcox, a license clerk said he envies most of the egg breaker. She explained that she does nothing but break eggs in a bakery.

A coil cleaner, Wilcox said, keeps the coils clean which connect the beer barrels with the tavern spigots. A coil winder explained that he works in a factory where armatures are made.

Most surprising of all to Wilcox was to find that an enrober has nothing to do with clothing. He works in a candy factory where he enrobes creams with chocolate.

A boner said he was employed in a packing plant, boning meat. The license bureau wasn't sure about a shovel-engineer, but some of the clerks thought he might be a ditch-digger.

A wire-puller said he worked for the telephone company while a rigger explained that he is one of the men sent out to set up heavy machinery which has been delivered in pieces.

In the laundries hand-finisher are important employees. They work at the ironing boards.

Togglers and tackers ply their trade in the tanning industry. The toggler, as you might have suspected, operates a toggle. The tackers separate the hide and the hair. The tackers put the hides on frames to dry.

In applying for his license, a caller explained that he summons employees in a railroad yard.

A boarder does not work in a boarding house nor is he connected with the lumber business, it was explained. He is the man who puts the boards in stockings to form their shape.

County Wars on Crows
MT. CARROLL, Ill. (UP)—The crow population of Carroll county has been decreased by at least 505 since the county board established a bounty in a railroad yard.

April 1. Hunters in eight of the 14 townships have turned in crows' heads and collected various sums, but the champion crow-killer was Orton Leavens, of Thomson, who killed 325.

Fairview News

This community was saddened by the death, last weekend, of Joe Hopper, son of Mrs. John Hopper who was killed in a traffic accident near Midland. Residents of Fairview also extend sympathy to the Nichols family, who formerly lived here, in the loss of their daughter and sister.

Next Sunday will be regular church day, and Rev. W. C. Williamson will fill his regular appointment Saturday night and Sunday morning. Everyone is invited to attend. Rev. Williamson visited in several Fairview homes this week, when prayer meetings were held.

Misses Lucille and Zan Grant daughters of Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Grant, who have been attending summer school at Texas Tech, returned home last weekend. Miss Zan will begin her teaching duties at Mount Pleasant the first of September.

Miss Alice Wooten, who has been in Fairview with her brother, J. W. Wooten, left Tuesday for Canyon to visit a sister. She will join two nieces there for a trip to California.

Mrs. Walker Reid and baby, and Grandma Reid and Mrs. Gabe Hammock were visitors in the J. W. Wooten home Monday evening.

Little Dorothy Thomas was in the hospital last week for treatment.

Mrs. Milton Newton visited in the Fred Thomas home Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Covington spent the weekend in Lamesa with Mrs. Covington's mother.

Morris Wooten and wife spent Sunday in his father's home.

Slow rains which fell in this community Monday morning provided moisture enough to practically insure a feed crop. The rain also means new growth for melons.

No Lack Of Farm Labor In Howard

Farmers of this county have not complained of a shortage of seasonal labor for cotton chopping. Best sources here agreed Thursday.

Those in contact with the farming population have not been bombarded with inquiries for help as in former years.

M. Weaver, assistant county agent, summed up an opinion shared by other observers, when he said that it was not so much a case of less work to be done, as a case of close co-operation between farmers.

Even in cotton picking season many producers expressed dissatisfaction with having to transport workers to and from urban centers every day and still pay a wage asked by many of the seasonal workers.

To offset this, farmers are assisting one another during the cotton picking season, obviating the necessity of a great amount of seasonal hire.

Nurses Resent Petticoats
SYDNEY (UP)—Local nurses are almost on a "petticoat" strike. Under rulings of local hospitals they are obliged to line up every day and stand "petticoat" inspection before they can go to work. Otherwise certain concessions are doctored. The nurses declare they would rather go without the concessions than wear petticoats.

TRUCK SPEEDS AROUND CIRCLE IN ROAD TEST
LONDON, July 22 (UP)—A driverless lorry, which runs for 18 hours a day at 40 m.p.h., is showing British government scientists how to build safe roadways.

At the laboratory of the road research board, a 12-ton lorry has been fitted up as a practical test bench for new road surfaces. Driven electrically round a circular 345-foot track, it tries to wear out road surfaces.

In three years' work the board has been able to help engineers to such an extent that "hit and miss" ideas of road-building are being killed by the scientific facts that can now be supplied.

Road failures—quite common in England—are due largely to the tremendously heavy loads roads are called upon to carry, with the result that the foundations give way.

"This," the board's annual report says, "is not surprising when the evolution of many of the roads in this country is considered. They started first as cart-tracks, were converted to water-bound macadam, and then treated with repeated surface dressings of tar or bitumen or covered with tar macadam or concrete."

A light-colored road which does not become slippery and has a continuity of surface and no bumps is the ideal they are seeking. The difficulty is to get all the factors of the idea down to an economic basis.

California registered 2,377,286 motor vehicles in the first five months of 1937—a gain of 183,484 over the same period a year ago.
