Matadors Defeat Sudan To Remain Number One

By Leon Watson
The Motley County Matadors had to shy their way out of a tight spot at Sudan Friday night as they found themselves trailing in a ballgame for the first time this year.

As time wore on the power of the Matadors began to show and MCHS pulled out a victory over the Hornets 42-12.

The number one ranked Matador found the going a little rough and didn't get on the scoreboard until there were only 28 seconds left in the first quarter. After driving from their own 30 yard line to the Hornet 18, quarterback Shawn Bearden hit end Wesley Stafford on a pass for 11 yards to the seven. Then Tim Shannon bulled his way in for the TD. Glen Calvert's extra point was good and MC led 7-0.

The Hornets then scored two touchdowns within three minutes, both following Matador fumbles deep in MCHS territory. Their extra point tries failed, but they led the states number one team 12-7 with 5:33 left in the first half.

The Matadors weren't about to go to the dressing room trailing, so they scored two TD's of their own before halftime. Shannon scored from four yards out with two minutes left and again from six yards after catching a Bearden pass with 17 seconds left. The second TD was set up by a fumble recovery by Darrell Moore. The Matadors led 21-12 at the half, following two more extra points by Calvert.

In the third quarter Stafford caught a pass in the endzone but a penalty nullified the score. On the next play Shannon rambled 16 yards for the TD, and Calvert kicked the point after. With 3:21 left in the third quarter MC led 28-12.

The next Hornet drive was killed when Roy Thompson recovered a fumble on the Matador 45. Four plays later Jerry Long punted for MC and the Hornet's fumbled the punt and MC got the ball back on the Sudan 21.

Two plays later Shannon went 18 yards for another TD. Calvert's kick made the score 35-12. The Hornets had to punt and MC got the ball on the Sudan 48. After driving to the 19 Harvey Lee grabbed a screen pass and followed a wall of blockers to the endzone for six points. Calvert kicked the PAT again and with 7:13 left in the game MC led 42-12.

Lee led the defense charge with 16 tackles and Rob Francis had 15. Calvert, Long and Shannon had 11 each and Moore had 13. Other players recognized for good defense were Roy Thompson, Coke Barton, Brent Campbell, Todd Washington, Kyle Hardin, Scott Read, Alex Guerrero, Craig Turner, John Russell, Steve Long and Joe Zarate.

Kyle Hardin was credited for blocking a Sudan extra point try, while Moore, Shannon and Thompson were credited for recovering Hornet fumbles.

Tim Shannon was the leading rusher on offense with 177 yards on 23 carries. Harvey Lee, who had been keyed on all night, had 72 yards in 10 carries. Bearden carried five times for 44 yards and Moore had six rushes for 42 yards.

Glen Calvert was 100 per cent in the extra point tries, getting six of six. Bearden completed three of eight passes for 35 yards and two TDs. This week the Matadors will play Claude for the 1981 Homecoming game, beginning at 8 p.m.

Notice

The American Legion will meet Monday, October 5 at 7 p.m. at the American Legion Hall with a covered dish supper.

A dance featuring the Mike Porter Band will be held immediately following the game at the Roaring Springs Old Settlers Pavilion.

a look at the past. All exes are encouraged to bring old annuals, pictures, news clippings, etc. to this room by 1:00 p.m. on Saturday. A concession stand will also be open at this time.

A Second Glance

By Leon Watson

There were several local football fans who were disappointed and even upset because Motley County didn't get better coverage last week in the Lubbock Avalanche Journal on our victory at Sudan. It was puzzling since we got such terrific coverage the week before.

But lets not be so hasty to criticize the Lubbock newspaper. After the ball game last week my wife and I were listening to the game scores on the Plainview radio station as we traveled home. Motley County's score was given wrong (41-12), and I knew the station got its score sheet from the wire services. I was afraid someone had called it in to the Lubbock paper wrong so I called the AJ from Plainview.

The sports writer I talked to said they had the score right (42-12) but that the story wouldn't look very good in the paper since the Sudan Coach had not given them any information about Motley County when he called in the game story. He had only given the AJ sports writers information about Sudan players. The AJ didn't want to run a lop sided story (Sudan only) so it was left at the two or three paragraphs we all saw Saturday morning.

The AJ indicated they were sorry and felt bad about it, but that they had tried to call Coach Gene Griffin several times after the Sudan Coach called. I told them Coach Griffin and the players were still on the road home, but I had the information on MC players. They said by that time, the paper had already gone to press.

The Lubbock newspaper only works with the information it receives. It is always the home coach who is supposed to call in the outcome of the game.

PRESIDENTS HONORED -- Mrs. B. M. Sims of Wellington, president of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs was guest of honor Thursday, of El Progreso Club at its annual President's Tea. Also present were three other club presidents and a district club president. Shown above are, from left, Mrs. Sims; Mrs. Harold Campbell, president of Santa Rosa District, TFWC; Mrs. J. M. Thacker, president of Predicta Study Club, Roaring Springs; Mrs. Johnney Turner, president of Eternas Junior Study Club and Mrs. Furman Vinson, president of El Progreso Club. (Photo by Mary Renfro)

TFWC President Is Guest Of El Progreso Club

Mrs. B. M. Sims of Wellington, president, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs was guest of honor Sept. 24, at El Progreso Club's annual President's Tea which inaugurated the organization's 1981-82 season. Members of other federated clubs in the county also were guests.

Introduced by Mrs. Harold Campbell, Matador, president of Santa Rosa District TFWC, Mrs. Sims addressed the clubs on the subject, Texas Federation Projects in Perspective. In association with her theme, "Spectrums of Service; Reflections - Projections," she outlined the many areas of federated club work. An illustrative cardboard wheel contained aims and projects, and membership was stressed by very large cards containing the four aces of a deck, representing the four classifications of federated clubs: General, Junior, Junior-ette, and Associate. Mesdames Campbell, Furman Vinson, J. E. Edwards and Franklin Price displayed the cards.

Projects of TFWC were explained by Mrs. Sims in a most interesting fashion as she outlined the process of attaining goals "from grassroots to legislature," and the recent endorsement of the Texas Medical Association. Texas Federation also has been active in the child abuse legislative reform program, and in endorsing Governor Clements' crime prevention bills. Sponsoring Girlstown USA, stressing community health care, participation in Free Enterprise, the Hugh O'Brien Youth Foundation, Conservation, Home Life and Texas Heritage are but a few of the many programs included.

The lighter side of federation was exposed as Mrs. Sims delighted her listeners with excerpts from a recently published book on the subject. Concerning conservation: "Women have always been the leaders in conservation," she declared. "In pioneer and later days when the water supply was scarce, the women saved the wash water to mop the floors, then water the flowers." She then went on to amuse and enlighten the audience with an outline of the many uses of the annoying tumbleweed, which have been developed through modern technology.

While the demands of homemaking and helping in the fields precluded women's involvement in club work and public affairs in past decades, there was recompense, Mrs. Sims pointed out. "In Grandmother's day, there was no time for tranquilizers."

Mrs. Furman Vinson, president of El Progreso Club welcomed the assembly in the sanctuary of First United Methodist Church, and led the Club Collect, read in unison. She thanked Mrs. Frank Pohl for a prelude of organ music, and presented Mrs. Phil Green, chairman of the yearbook committee, who distributed the books and gave a brief resume of the programs for the year. Mrs. Harold Campbell, district president, was recognized and presented a report of district activities, reminding the women of the TFWC fall board meeting Sept. 29-Oct. 1, in Odessa and the Santa Rosa District fall board meeting October 17, in Quanah.

Mrs. Green also read a letter from Marshall Cooper, Girlstown supervisor, thanking the club for donations following a fire which destroyed three cottages on the Whiteface campus. These cottages have been rebuilt and dedication services will be held at 2 p.m. October 25, according to Mr. Cooper.

Inspirational Thought, concluding the program, was by the leader.

Coffee, cookies and finger sandwiches were served in the fellowship hall by a tea committee composed of Mesdames W. N. Pipkin, W. F. Jacobs, Frank Pohl, C. D. Garrison and A. B. Simpson. The refreshment table was laid with an imported cloth and centered with a silver epergne containing red tapers and red carnations. Mrs. Vinson presided at the silver service.

Guests included Mrs. Murray Dodson of Wellington, a member of TFWC State credentials committee, who accompanied Mrs. Sims; Mrs. J. M. Thacker, president of Predicta Study Club of Roaring Springs, and club members Mesdames Tom Yeates, Lem Miller and M. S. Thacker; and Mrs. Johnney Turner, president of Eternas Junior Study Club of Matador.

El Progreso Club members present, in addition to those mentioned, were Miss Rachel Patton and Mesdames John Hamilton, Ted Elliott, Robert Darsey, Joe Campbell, W. D. Lipscomb and Douglas Meador.

WMU Group Has Bible Study

Dorcas Group of the Baptist Women's Missionary Union met Tuesday, September 22 for regular monthly Bible study, in the parlor of the First Baptist Church.

Led by Mrs. Edgar Lee, the group completed a study of "Gifts of the Spirit," with scriptures from First Corinthians. Calendar of Prayer for Baptist missionaries was read by Mrs. C. D. Garrison. Others present were Miss Verlin Reeves, Miss Rachel Patton and Mesdames Audrey Price, Douglas Meador and Stuart Dixon.

Eternas Study Club Begins New Year

The Eternas Junior Study Club began its 1981-82 year in the home of Mrs. Emilio Aguilar with Mrs. Gary Hillyard serving as co-hostess. Mrs. Aguilar presented a program on the art of Mexican Cooking. The members were then served the delicious foods prepared by Anita.

President Carol Ann Turner presided at the meeting. The 44th annual Mother-Daughter Banquet will be held October 20th in the Motley County Gymnasium at 7:30 p.m.

The club will be sponsoring a Quik-Draw booth and balloon sales at the Halloween Carnival.

Also, they will have a spook-parade. Eternas would like to remind the community they are still accepting donations for city Christmas decorations.

Those in attendance were Mesdames Emilio Aguilar, Alan Bingham, Larry Clifton, Joe Freeman, Neal Haralson, Larry Hoyle, Tommy Hurt, Donnie Jackson, Jerry Jones, James Linson, Harold Parks, Jesse Perkins, Gerald Pipkin, Frank Potts, Ron Richards, James Stanley, Jeff Thacker, Walter Taylor, Johnney Turner, Roger Vinson and Gary Hillyard.

Meetings Set By Keen Agers

The Keen Agers were scheduled to leave this morning (Thursday) to attend the South Plains Fair in Lubbock.

They will meet for regular monthly luncheon, on Tuesday, October 6, at the First Baptist Church. A representative from the Social Security office in Plainview, will present the program and answer questions which the audience might have concerning social security changes.

The Keen Agers is open for membership, and anyone in the community wishing to participate in this program for senior adults is welcome to bring a dish and join in the fellowship and activities.

In the Rough By Hazel

IT HAPPENS EVERY THURSDAY

Beautiful weather--until Thursday morning our play day--and then it's cloudy, wet, rainy, chilly, damp--not desirable weather for golf.

But some brave, determined ones--Loys, Olivia, Frances, Tommy, Geneva, Laverna, Leona, Kathryn and Hazel--played.

Play was for blind bogey. When the sealed envelope was opened, the number selected was 9 (by Ronnie C.) Leona and Laverna were the lucky ones, having a bogey of No. 9.

Eating lunch at City Cafe in Roaring Springs were Laverna, Leona, Loys, Olivia, Frances, Tommy, Geneva and Hazel.

After lunch, Geneva, Leona, Frances and Hazel played at Springs Ranch course. Rain and electrical storm stopped the last round.

SUNDAY TOURNAMENT

had nine players on the course. Jake G., Geneva and Alan were the winning team (61); winning second were Jake E., Loys and Marvin (71); third place were Howard, Tommy and Leona (72).

They said they had fun, and 'twas a beautiful afternoon for playing. Having "brownies" on No. 3 were Jake G., Marvin, Jake E., and Howard, who made one on both rounds!

Marvin was celebrating his birthday (86th). He enjoys his golf and plays a good game.

Later, Loys and Leona played nine holes at Springs Ranch. Also playing there were Jake G. and Howard.

Mr. & Mrs. Clarence Jinkins Return Home From El Paso

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jinkins returned home Sunday after a three month visit in El Paso. Their daughter, Kittie and her husband, Howard Strain, with their daughters, Sherry and Nancy were vacationing in Europe.

When near the end of their trip, Kittie had the misfortune of breaking her hip and being hospitalized for ten days in Oslo, Norway. While waiting for the flight home she was strapped on a stretcher and carried by four men up on the plane, one of three hundred passengers.

An emergency door blew out before take off and everyone unloaded with Kittie again strapped onto stretcher and carried off for a five hour wait in a wheel chair before being carried aboard again for a ten-hour flight to El Paso, changing planes in New York and Dallas.

Arriving home she was greeted with cheers and yellow ribbons on tree and shrubs beside the driveway.

Sherry and Nancy went to Ireland the last week of their trip, not knowing of their mother's accident until they met their father back in London, then flying alone back to El Paso and Dallas.

Howard flew back to Oslo to wait through Kittie's hospitalization.

The accident happened at the home of their adopted daughter and husband. She graduated from high school with Melody, the Strain's daughter.

NO FIRST DOWN — Motley County Matador defenders tackle a Sudan Hornet ball carrier just short of the first down marker on the sideline Friday night, forcing Sudan to punt on fourth down. Before the play was over the marker was knocked down and people on the sideline, including the photographer and his wife, had scattered in all directions. The Matadors won the game 42-12, but at one time trailed 7-12.

SIX MORE POINTS — Tim Shannon levels two Sudan defenders, while team mates block out others, and carries the ball to paydirt Friday night. Motley County won the game 42-12 to remain undefeated and ranked number one in the state in Class A football.

BACKGROUND ON BUSINESS

Buying Gold Coins

An increasing number of American business people and other investors are finding there can be money in money; that is, in gold coins. For those who've considered buying gold bullion coins, The Gold Coins of Mexico can offer a lot to consider.

The Gold Coins of Mexico can provide the convenience, portability and liquidity of owning gold in coin form and offer a range of choices for purchase. With 1.2 ounces of pure gold, Mexico's 50 peso piece, the Centenario, has the highest gold content of all high circulation gold bullion coins in the world. But if that's more gold than you'd like to consider, The Gold Coins of Mexico offer a variety of sizes for a variety of portfolios. The Azteca, Mexico's 20 peso piece has 4823 troy ounces. The smaller Hidalgo coins, 10, 5, and 2 1/2 peso gold pieces and 2 peso gold coin can make ideal gifts.

Official restrikes of the government of Mexico, they are minted exclusively for the Mexican federal reserve bank, Banco de Mexico.

The Gold Coins of Mexico have become some of the most popular in the world. The coins are being distributed in the U.S. through Citibank, Republic National Bank of New York and Swiss Bank Corporation. As with all gold coins, your purchase price includes a small premium over the then-current market price of gold bullion to cover minting and distributing. For a free informational brochure on gold coins, write: The Gold Coins of Mexico, Information Center, Grand Central Station, P.O. Box 1812, New York, NY 10017, or see a coin dealer.

The right combination of fuel-efficient options on a truck can save the operator more than $5,000 a year, says U.S. Dept. of Transportation data, if he drives at least 100,000 miles. He is likely to do that, too, since trucks serve all the nation's towns and cities. In fact, trucks move more than three times more freight than railroads.

Contrary to what some people believe, trucks are as energy efficient as railroads for competitive movements. By participating in the Voluntary Truck and Bus Fuel Economy Program, they have reduced their empty miles traveled to one-half that of trains.

HOME BUYER

By J. L. Boren, Jr.
President-Elect
American Land Title Association

TAXING THREAT

Home buying generally remains a favorable investment in this time of economic uncertainty. The purchase of a residence also continues to be an adversary process, meaning that you should consider precautions against possible opposing rights and interests.

More than two years after a buyer purchased a home in a north-eastern state, he was startled when the local municipality began legal action to take title to the property because of delinquent real estate taxes. This governmental action was particularly vexing because a clear tax certificate had been obtained from the municipality at the time the home was purchased.

Later, it was learned that a clear tax certificate had been issued at closing with the understanding that the seller would pay the taxes when due—since the tax statements for the year had not yet been issued at the time of the real estate purchase. After the seller did not pay the taxes as agreed, the municipality began proceedings to take the property to recover unpaid taxes and interest.

Under the owner's title insurance policy protecting the buyer, the title company paid the municipality to settle the tax claim and eventually was able to recover the amount from the seller. As a result, the buyer was able to keep his home and suffered no financial loss.

Learn about land title insurance and other precautions before you buy a home. For free information, write American Land Title Association, Box 566, Washington, D.C. 20044.

CAR CARE CORNER

Starting a dead car battery with a jumper cable can be dangerous to your eyes.

The National Society to Prevent Blindness recommends that before attaching the cables, you should:

- Put out all cigarettes and flames.
- Make sure cars don't touch. Turn off ignition.
- Add battery water if needed.
- Don't jump-start unless both batteries are negatively grounded and the same voltage.
- Clamp one jumper cable to positive (+) pole of dead battery; then clamp cable's other end to positive pole of good battery.
- At booster battery, connect second cable to negative (-) pole, then clamp other end to stalled car's engine block on side away from battery.
- First start car with live battery; then car with dead battery.
- After disabled car starts, remove cables—first from engine block and booster car's negative terminal, then from positive poles.
- Always wear protective goggles when working with car batteries.

NEWS OF HEALTH

ASTHMA

An estimated one to two percent of all Americans suffer from asthma. Asthma is a disorder of the bronchial tubes which carry air from the windpipe into the lungs. During an asthma attack, these tubes become constricted and the individual has difficulty breathing.

Asthma is much more frequent among children than adults; more frequent in boys than girls. Fortunately, however, it is usual for attacks to become less frequent and severe during middle and late adolescence, and then disappear.

About 50 percent of children who are asthmatic will be symptom-free in adulthood. Only about five to ten percent will continue to have severe disability from the condition as adults. This will be more likely if the asthma began in infancy in conjunction with eczema.

Often, even those not completely symptom-free after adolescence will experience only occasional mild attacks at infrequent intervals—although sometimes severe attacks may recur years or decades later.

A new medicine that's been successful in the treatment, relief and control of the distressing symptoms of asthma (and emphysema and bronchitis) has recently become available here. Phyllocontin Tablets, developed in England, have been introduced to the United States by the Purdue Frederick Company, an international pharmaceutical research firm. The tablets, available by prescription, should usually be taken at least twice daily and can provide round-the-clock relief.

Most frequently, asthma attacks result from allergic factors; however, they may also be caused by nervous or psychological factors, physical exertion or respiratory infection.

Most children who suffer from asthma will outgrow it.

Letters From Exes

Prompt replies to Homecoming letters sent to out-of-county ex-students and teachers were received by Hazel Walton Donovan, secretary of the Matador Ex-Students Association. Excerpts from some of the letters and one from Douglas Leavering of Sioux City, Iowa, follows:

Mrs. Hazel Donovan: I am sorry to have to inform you that I lost my wife (the former Mary Gaines), Nov. 16, 1980. We were going to try to make it to Homecoming last fall, but cancer settled in her bones and the pain was too severe to travel. I can't complain tho, as we had 35 good years, four beautiful children and seven grandchildren.

Dear Hazel: I have received the Homecoming schedule and I am planning to attend if at all possible. This will be the 50th year for my class (1931). I am enclosing some pictures I thought you might want to use in the paper. I am enclosing a check in case I might not get there. I appreciate the efforts of all that take part in the planning and arrangements. Sincerely, Ruth (Moore) Edwards, Austin, Tx.

Dear Hazel: Sorry to miss Homecoming this year, but we have already made plans to go fishing. Lilly is going with us, so you can't count on her either. Know you'll have a good group and will have a good time. We did last year. Doesn't seem possible that a year has passed! Sincerely, Georgia and Company (Georgia and Lamar Guthrie of Hollis, Ok., and Lilly Edmondson of Tipton, Ok.)

Dear Hazel: Enclosed are my dues. We enjoyed being there so much, last year. We will be unable to attend this year as we are having guests from out of state at that time. We do enjoy reading "In the Rough," so please keep it up. Think the Matadors are doing great. Out best to you and all. We will try to make it next year. Lloyd and Tommie Sailor, Wickenburg, Ariz. (former Tommie Tudor)

Hi Hazel: hope you have a good Homecoming this year. We enjoyed last year, especially since Beulah was recognized. Pat and Marybelle Sheridan, Lubbock.

Hazel: I am sorry that we will not be at Homecoming. Hope you have a successful one. Sincerely, Howard Hamilton, Kent, Wash.

Hello Hazel: Sorry I can't be with you all this Homecoming. Had my name on this Ozark Foliage Tour in Missouri, for six months - wouldn't you know it! We leave here Oct. 1, so will come to Matador when I get back. Love to you all. Bessie Belle (Briscoe) Lebow, Clovis, N.M.

Hazel: Surely hope you have a nice homecoming. Will try to be there. Enclosed find check for dues. Bonnie Cox Collier, Idalou.

Dear Hazel: Have fun! It doesn't look as if I can be there. Sincerely, Margaret Nell (Crews) Norman, Amarillo.

Dear Hazel: Thank you for reminding me of Homecoming. I shall not be coming this time, but am sending a small contribution, hoping it will help a little on the finances. I hope the Homecoming is a great success, as it has always been in the past. Sincerely, Johnnie (Groves) Howell, Amarillo

My plans are to be there Saturday, Oct. 3. Bill Eggleston, Emmet, Ark.

Dear Hazel: The Homecoming schedule always sounds so interesting. Sorry I won't be there. Sincerely, Katie (Eubank) Gustafson, Omaha, Neb.

Dear Hazel: Enclosed is a small contribution for the ongoing success of Matador Ex-Student Association. Goldie and I will be unable to attend Homecoming this year, but we hope you will have a huge crowd and everyone will have a good time. We deeply appreciate all the hard work that you and others of Matador put into making this event a great and exciting time every year. Sincerely yours, George Fuller, San Diego, Calif.

Hazel: I know everyone will have fun, but I can't make it this year. Ruby McWilliams, Red Oak, Tex.

Dear Hazel: Am sorry I can't come to the Matador Homecoming, but will have too many pears, persimmons and tomatoes to leave for Marlin to care for. Hope all have a good time. Love, Frankie (Meador) Pounds, Donie, Tex.

Dear Hazel: Enclosed is check. Do not yet know if will make it this year. I want to, and plan to be there. Do not think Nancy will make it this year as she must miss some school later on and she does not have enough business days to cover it all. Best regards to all. Sincerely Jack Robinson, Arlington, Tex.

Dear Hazel: Thanks for your announcement of the reunion. Sorry I will not be able to make it. Sure will hate to miss it this year. Yours truly, Allen Bryan, Phoenix, Ariz.

Am mailing in my dues, as I won't be able to make it this year. Keep up the good work, and give my best to all. Lawrence Rattan, Amarillo.

Dear Hazel: Chances are looking slim for our making Homecoming this year, due to involvements of our high school senior daughter. However, you know we never give up until the last minute. The football game should be exceptional, since Motley County is bound to win. The only thing better than the game will be all the good visiting. How we hope we can make at least a part of it!

Thank you to all of you for being so loyal in your efforts and for being so nice to come home to. With fondest regards, June and Don Wason, Plainview.

Dear Hazel: Thanks again for the invitation to Homecoming. I'm not sure if Jim will make it this year, or not. I'm going to try to get him off. Here's our dues. Love, "Sandy" Jeffers, Carrollton, Tex.

Dear Hazel: It seems too many events happen at once. The Homecoming weekend is also our 50th anniversary at our church, and we are involved in that. Perhaps one of these years we will be able to be in Matador. Give our regards to all-and love to you. Frances (Stearns) Shaw, Albuquerque, N.M.

Hazel: I know everyone will have fun, but I can't make Homecoming this year. Ruby McWilliams, Red Oak, Tex.

Due to prior commitments I will not be able to attend Homecoming this year. Lynn Martin, Clovis, N.M.

Hazel, you're great for all the work you do. Our class (1954) did the preparation at school for the first Homecoming that year. (I believe this is correct). I have never been to a Homecoming yet-ironically. La Nelle (Rattan) Byers, Lubbock.

Dear Hazel: I am enclosing my dues for Homecoming. Have lots of fun and give my regards to all friends. Hope to be in Matador again one of these days. Your friend, Mary (Jackson) Rogers, Graham, Tex.

Hope to come in for this one. Haven't been in several years. I like to see old friends from Matador. Harry Campbell, Fort Stockton, Class of '59.

NEWS

OF HEALTH

Your Health And Yoursself

A 1979 survey found sixty percent of the public do not take good health for granted. And 20 million joggers are a visible expression of the surge of interest in health and well-being.

Formal recognition of our willingness to take more responsibility for our own well-being was offered by a recent symposium, "Self-Medication: the New Era," sponsored by The Proprietary Association, the trade association representing manufacturers of nonprescription medicines.

In his presentation, "Self-Medication: the Social Perspective," Lowell S. Levin, professor of public health at Yale University, said that probably the most significant event in health care since the discovery of the germ theory of disease is the discovery of the "self"; the new awareness of the role of self-service in health.

He pointed out that the home itself is being newly appreciated as a medical care facility. Not only are first aid materials commonplace, but recently blood pressure cuffs, pregnancy testing kits, do-it-yourself urine and throat-culture kits have been added to many household dispensaries.

Self-medication is monitored by the government, too. Dr. J. Richard Crout, Director of Bureau of Drugs of the Food and Drug Administration stated, "Our philosophy in this country is that OTC (over-the-counter) drugs must do what they claim to do, must be safe when taken according to directions, and must be capable of being labeled in terms that can be understood by the general public."

People who take the responsibility for deciding what they can treat safely and what should be treated under the doctor's guidance, may find that taking more responsibility for their own care may be a healthy idea.

FANCY THAT!

About 160,000 school children, ages five to 17, suffer eye injuries each year. Children are most susceptible during the junior high school years and boys are involved in three out of four accidents during these years.

Some 90 percent of all these injuries are preventable, reports the National Society to Prevent Blindness. Children must be taught to play safely, parents must be alerted to hazardous playthings and adequate eye safety practices must be implemented in school shops and laboratories.

For a free leaflet on how you can help prevent eye injuries among children, contact your state Society to Prevent Blindness or the National Society to Prevent Blindness, 79 Madison Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10016.

WILL KENNEDY was the teacher in 1912-1913, when this picture was made at the Ballard School. He is shown at far right. The pupils were mostly the Reeves, Rattan and Herring children. These included Sally, Dewey, Fanny, Littleton, Wallace and Carroll Rattan; Elvert, Maisy, Verlin and Robert Reeves, and Will Herring. Others in the picture are unidentified. Ballard School One Of First In County

By Verlin Reeves

One of the first schools in Motley County was Ballard School located four miles east of Matador on land donated by G. W. Buchanan, a bachelor, and W. E. Reeves (the writer's father). The school was organized in 1892 by the early pioneers and lumber was hauled from Childress for a school house, which was constructed that fall.

Mr. Buchanan owned Sec. No. 35, Cert. No. 53, John Gibson Original Grantee, and was asked by the county to set aside one acre on the southwest corner of his land for the building. Added to this was land owned by Mr. Reeves, who was asked to donate one or two acres of his Sec. 34, west of Buchanan's.

The one-room building had three windows on each side, a double door at the east end, and blackboards across the entire west end. The furnishings included a teacher's desk in the west end near the blackboards, and double desks on each side of the room. A big wood and coal burning stove stood in the middle of the room. A shelf near the east door held a water bucket with a tin dipper, from which all the pupils drank. In later years a small book case was bought. The building was set on rocks and was very cold in winter.

There was plenty of play ground and everyone big enough to bat a ball, played ball. Jim Edmondson would play until he was put out, then he would sulk until the next recess.

The state didn't furnish books at that time, and since we had to buy our books, we didn't have very many -- just those absolutely necessary. The older children passed theirs on to the younger ones. I still have a lot of our books.

There were several families who had come here in 1891: The T. N. Edmondsons with Bascom, Bert, Lizzie, Ora and Jim; the Burlesons, with Velma, Maggie, John, Doc, Mollie and Roy; the W. B. Pipkins and children, Henry, Claud, George, Sam, Barney, Maud and Bush. The Edmondsons and Pipkins each had two children not in school at that time. The Pipkins' two were Charlie, who married Ida Edmondson, and Leota, who married Joe Poteet. A young school teacher, Pat Jenkins, taught one year and boarded with the Edmondsons. He married their 15-year-old daughter, Fannie at the end of the year and they moved to the Clements community, about four miles south of Ballard.

In his thesis on Motley County schools, for his master degree, former Matador School Superintendent Bert Ezzell wrote: "Mr. J. F. Preyer was elected as the first teacher (at Ballard). He started the first term in the fall of 1892 with the following students: John Jones, Ashley Jones, Mollie Jones, Bob Jones, Fannie Edmondson, Ida Edmondson, Bert Edmondson, Maggie Burleson, Velma Burleson, John Burleson, Doc Burleson, Nolan Jenkins, Moss Jenkins, and Alma Jenkins. The subjects taught were reading, arithmetic, English, spelling, geography, and physiology. J. C. Burleson and T. N. Edmondson were the first trustees."

I don't remember any of the teachers except Mr. Jenkins, until 1902, when Miss Bessie Hamilton came to teach. She was my first teacher, but she taught only one year. She boarded with us (the Reeves family), and Mr. Walter McWilliams courted her all winter. One night when he was there, he sat on my metal-headed doll and mashed her flat. I was so mad and told Miss Bessie. She just "died" laughing, which didn't make me feel any better about him. They married at the end of the school year.

The next year the Carpenters moved into our school district, with Welby, Lelia, Edgar, Dirick, Arlie, Walter, Myrtle and Vera all in school. We had double desks and Myrtle and I sat together. She was always punching and tickling me and causing me to get into trouble. By this time the Burlesons had moved to town.

In the year 1903-1904 Miss Hattie Tatam came out from Georgetown and stayed with her aunt, Mrs. Laura Wileman, and taught out school. She let my brother, Robert, attend when he was six, as she had only the two of us until the crops were gathered and the other children came in. We had only six months of school in those days. Mr. J. E. Eubank, a young surveyor courted her all that winter and they married the next summer.

Next, Miss Amy Glenn, a 16-year-old girl, who had taken a county test and gotten a certificate, taught two years from 1904 to 1906. She rode horseback most of the time, the three and half miles out to the school and stayed with us in bad weather. One spring day during a thunder storm, with lightning flashing, we were all huddled in the east end of the room by the door when a big ball of yellow lightning rolled across the west end several times, then rolled out and struck a tree nearby, with a terrible crash, which scared us all nearly to death. As soon as the shower was over, Miss Amy dismissed school and we all went home. My mother said there was no need to go home then, as the storm was all over. That spring on warm days, Miss Amy would take us to a creek about 100 yards from the school house and we would have classes under the trees, where it was cool.

Rev. W. H. Rattan had moved to the community and bought land three or four miles north of the school. They had Virgil, Jessie, Littleton, Wallace, Ray and Dewey all in school. The other children, Carroll, Fannie, Sally and Fred entered as they became old enough to attend. Ward wasn't old enough to go to school, but he visited one afternoon with Fred. Everyone was quiet, studying, when Fred whispered to Ward and asked him if he knew who was sitting in front of them. Ward spoke out real loud and said, "THAT IS ROY REEVES". The quietness turned to giggles and Ward couldn't understand why.

Miss Maggie Hamilton came for the 1906-1907 term, but she taught just one term and married Lige Cooper at the end of the term. The next school term, 1908-1909 was taught by Mr. Jim Foster, a young bachelor. By that time, Mr. John Lee had moved into the community with Luta, Birdie and Ocie, and Mrs. Lee's children, Dallas and Nolie Irwin. Ocie and Nolie were first graders and Mr. Foster knew nothing about first graders, so I suppose Mr. Lee taught them at home, and he just listened to them read.

The only whipping I ever knew of occurring as long as I went to Ballard school, was during Mr. Foster's term. He corrected Jim Edmondson one day, and Jim "sass'd" him. Mr. Foster took off his belt and started to whip him. Jim fought back and they struggled all over the room. We (the rest of the students) were so frightened we went out the windows -- which had no screens -- and out the door, and stayed outside until Mr. Foster finally conquered Jim.

Miss Etta Tarpley, a lady from Kentucky, came in 1909 and taught until 1911. She was the best educated teacher we had ever had up to that time. Her brother, who lived in Fort Worth, lost his wife and Miss Tarpley had come out to care for his two little boys. When he re-married, she decided to see a little of Texas before returning to Kentucky. The first spring she was here we had a terrible sandstorm one Sunday while we were at church. As she was boarding with us she went to church with us. By the time we got home her black suede coat looked brown. I don't think she ever got the sand all out. Her second year she boarded with the W. H.

Rattan family. They came to school in a wagon. There weren't so many pupils by then, as the Edmondsons and Pipkins had grown up and left home. One evening Wallace Rattan was driving and the team ran away and Miss Tarpley fell out the back of the wagon. She left then, about six weeks before school closed and Bess Morris finished out the term. She was Jeff Morris' second daughter, and rode horseback from their home in town.

I think Judge Thomas taught next 1911-1912. He had lost the judge's race and wasn't ready to move, so he taught a year at Ballard. He was real good -- one of the best. Will Kennedy, a brother of Mrs. Doug Beauchamp, taught in 1912-1913. That was my last year at Ballard, as I attended the Matador school the next year and finished in 1914.

In talking with Ocie Smallwood, Emmett Jenkins and Mary McMahan, we think the 1912-1913 term was taught by a Miss Whitten. Others who followed were a Mr. Lon Singleton (1914-1915); Fred Simpson (1915-1916); Mrs. Nolie (1916-1917) while her husband was in service. That year my brother, Robert, left home and left a pair of old boots, so Elbert, Lee and Roy found two old pairs of boots my father had worn out, and the three decided to wear these old boots to school. Mrs. Nolie thought that was all they had to wear, so she was going to get them some new shoes. When my mother found out about it, she nearly whipped them for doing such a stunt.

From 1917 to 1919, a Mrs. Tubbs and her son taught. She had the smaller children and he the older pupils. They had a tent on the school ground and lived in it those two years. Mr. and Mrs. John Lee moved back in the community in December of 1917. While enrolling the children, the teacher asked Roscoe (who was 7 or 8) how old he was and he spoke up big and loud and declared he was 18 years old, which caused everyone to laugh. Among the pupils who started to school to Mrs. Tubbs in the fall of 1918, was Mary Jenkins.

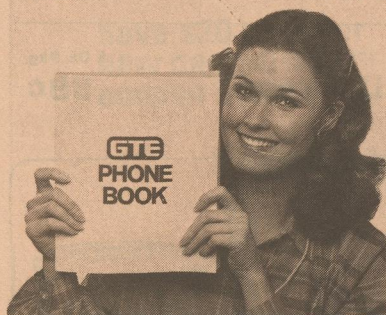

Fay Gaines rode horseback from her home in town, and taught the 1919-20 term. She and Morris Patton married at the end of the term. Miss Robie Williamson was the last teacher at Ballard School. At the end of her term, 1920-21, the building was moved and joined to the Clements school, and from this consolidation was formed the Fairview School.

PIONEER SCHOOLHOUSE -- The old Ballard School four miles east of Matador, where many children of early pioneers began their education. Organized in 1892, this was one of the first schools in Motley County. Among the early teachers of this school were a Mr. Preyer, Miss Bessie Hamilton (the late Mrs. W. L. McWilliams), Miss Hattie Tatam, Miss Amy Glenn, Miss Maggie Hamilton (the late Mrs. Lige Cooper), Will Kennedy and Jim Foster. (Courtesy of Miss Verlin Reeves)

Marshmallow Creations Make Halloween Fun

Everyone thinks of Halloween as a magical time. Ghosts and goblins rule the neighborhood; mysteriously costumed figures go from house to house, and empty shopping bags become full of assorted goodies to take home and gloat over. It's time once again for that yearly ritual—but many parents are finding that that yearly ritual is just as much fun as the traditional trick or treating. The secret is to provide lots of entertainment with games, a "scariest costume" contest, and some creative party projects ideas that are great to eat after they're finished.

Assemble a group of princesses, pirates and assorted monsters on Halloween eve; turn the lights down low, and set out the ingredients for some "make your own" treats. Children of any age love to make things, particularly if both the fixings and the final creations are good to eat. Just a few delicious ingredients from the supermarket—Kraft miniature marshmallows, marshmallow creme, and decorative candies—are the basis of a host of fun cupcake creations.

Each child can make an individual Goblin Cupcake Witch, Indian or Ghost with just a few easy ingredients. The Kraft Kitchens have created some exciting Halloween treats that are surprisingly simple to make. Start with large home-baked or store-bought cupcakes; turn them upside down, and frost all over with Angel Mallow Frosting, which an adult can make ahead of time. Then, take a package of Kraft miniature marshmallows, and place them in even rows all over the frosted cupcakes. Distinctive facial features and decorations are added with candy corn, gumdrops, chocolate shot and other candies.

Serve the Halloween party treats with kid-pleasing beverages—apple juice, cider, or hot chocolate with miniature marshmallows. Then watch them have as much fun eating as creating!
