Early Warning System Fund Deadline Extended

The deadline for raising money for the new emergency warning system in Matador has been extended by Fire Chief Rodney Williams, according to Matador Lions Club president Alan Bingham.

"We've managed to raise $1,400. of the $2,000 needed to pay for the system," Bingham said. "Local Cable TV subscribers can donate $10 each and that will give us enough to pay for the system."

In full operation the system would consist of a telephone at City Hall which would be able to cut off the sound of all television sets and transmit emergency information through this set.

"The $2,000 is the total cost," Bingham said. "This is a one time and one time only cost. See Emergency PAGE 3

QUICK QUIZ

SALT IN YOUR DIET

Test your knowledge of sodium and its part in your diet by answering these true or false questions:

1. Just a few "shakes" of the salt shaker make very little difference in the total sodium ingested daily.
2. The drinking water in different communities can vary considerably in sodium content.
3. Mineral waters such as Perrier and club sodas such as Canada Dry are basically the same.
4. Foods can contain a lot of sodium without tasting salty.

ANSWERS: 1. False. A few "shakes" can represent hundreds of milligrams of sodium, depending on the shaker opening. Every 1/4 teaspoon has about 575 milligrams, so it doesn't take much "shaking" to increase your sodium intake. 2. True. Your local health department can give you detailed information. 3. False. Mineral waters, such as Perrier, are derived from a protected underground spring and are free of preservatives, artificial coloring or added salts. Perrier contains only 2 mg. sodium per eight ounce glass. Club soda, just as all soft drinks, uses local water as its source. Mineral salts and sodium are added. Canada Dry contains about 60 mg. sodium per eight ounces. 4. True. The sodium in some foods can be masked by other seasonings, especially in spicy food combinations.

If each cable subscriber would donate $10 we could have this early warning system available in 60 days. However, donations of all amounts will be greatly appreciated.

"The maintenance cost of the system would be paid by the City of Matador."

Bingham said uses of the system would be to inform residents of severe weather conditions, travel advisories, locations of major fires and other information, such as instructions during a tornado warning.

"If you have any questions regarding the system call Rodney Williams at 347-2857 or myself (Alan Bingham) at 347-2226," he said.

"If you are unable to bring your donations to the City Hall, call Nell Berryman, city secretary, and arrangements will be made for someone to pick up your money. But do it NOW! Time is running out."

Checks should be made payable to the City of Matador.

Club and Guests Hear About Frontier Oil City At Sea

By Lila Meador
A fascinating documentary about a floating city 200 miles off the coast of Norway was given in a film presentation March 11, when El Progreso Club entertained husbands and other guests with a Guest Night Banquet at the school lunch room. Two films, "Ekofisk--City at Sea," and "Ekofisk--One of a Kind," described off-shore drilling operations of Phillips Petroleum Company in the North Sea.

Club president, Mrs. Furman Vinson, welcomed the guests and gave the invocation. After the enjoyable meal she turned the program to Mrs. Phil Green, leader for the International Affairs program.

In her introduction Mrs. Green gave a short history of the petroleum industry, including by-products. Activities in the United States, she said, date from the first oil company formed in 1854 by George H. Bissell, a New York lawyer, who later organized the Seneca Oil Co., which brought in the first well at Oil City near Titusville, Penn. She cited the recent Mayfield discovery well in Briscoe County as part of the Palo Duro Basin which covers a 30 county area, including Motley County.

Described in the first film as the "Frontier of Exploration," Ekofisk was started in 1963 by Phillips Petroleum Co., to separate crude at sea, from the gas, sending the oil to England and the gas to Germany. Operating from a floating platform the size of two football fields, the first construction was a storage tank which weighs 125,000 tons with a capacity of one million barrels of oil. Wells in seven separate fields are now drilling within the 200 square mile area and there are 22 platforms, with 1800 men employed on each. An additional 1700 men were employed to lay the pipeline to London. The base operation is at Stavengen, Norway, and the men work in eight-day shifts, with eight days off duty.

Another shift is 28 days on and 28 days off. The second film, "Ekofisk-One of a Kind," detailed the facilities and nationalities of workmen, in interviews. The first platform contains a hotel, modern fire-fighting units, and recreation facilities. Doctors and nurses are on call at all times. Helicopters provide transportation from the mainland, to ships where some of the men live. Others live at the hotel, or in Stavengen. Norwegian, English, Swedish, and Native Americans are among the many nationalities represented in the crews of workmen.

Mrs. Green introduced Mr. and Mrs. Bill Chandler of Borger as special guests. Mr. Chandler, Administrative Manager of Exploration and Production for Phillips Petroleum Co., answered questions from the audience at the conclusion of the program.

For Inspirational Thought, the leader quoted from the film narration, "It is amazing what man can achieve if only he is given the challenge." The two films were viewed by approximately 300 persons in Matador, having been shown to Motley County School students in assembly the same day, in addition to the club and its guests.

Banquet decorations featured a Saint Patrick motif, and popular Irish music was played by Mrs. Frank Pohl at the piano and on a Casio tone organ keyboard, as the members and guests assembled. Green and white crepe paper streamers and ivy extended down the center of the tables and were scattered with shamrocks, decorated with glitter. Small green paper baskets held mints. The head table was decorated with leprechauns, Irish stovepipe hats, and large standing shamrocks with Irish lyrics and the Irish Blessing lettered in Irish uncial calligraphy by Mrs. Pohl. Place cards, also made by Mrs. Pohl were lettered in half uncial. Heading the guest list were Mrs. B. M. Sims, president of Santa Rosa District, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, and her friend, Mrs. Lorene Jenkins, both of Wellington.

An honored club member was Mrs. Harold H. Campbell, president of Santa Rosa District, TFWC. Other members and guests included Mr. and Mrs. Joe Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Day, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Garrison, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Green, Mr. and Mrs. Carl King, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Lipscomb, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. McCaghren, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Saturday morning, March 20, from 10 a.m. to 12, the Springs Ranch Ladies' Golf Association sponsored an Open House at the new club house. Approximately 120 guests registered. A tournament and barbecue supper followed.

The club house was formerly the Will Smiley home. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. (Bessie Mae) Marshall, with daughter Ann and family--Mr. and Mrs. Rick Futrell and daughters of Lubbock--shared feelings of nostalgia as they viewed the changes that had been made in the old home.

In just five weeks, a complete remodeling, redecorating and furnishing job reflected lots of foresight and, detailed planning on the part of the owners and management... and lots and lots of long hours of hard work in adverse weather conditions. Almost unbelievable the changes made!

Weather is not directly responsible for plant diseases, though it does influence disease-causing organisms and may increase or decrease certain diseases.

The fungi, bacteria, nematodes and viruses that cause plant diseases are influenced by weather conditions.

Knowing what conditions favor disease-causing organisms will make it easier to know when to expect plant diseases and how to control them.

By carefully watching for plant symptoms, it's possible to determine whether these microscopic organisms are present in the plant. However, early recognition is necessary to prevent serious attacks. Once a disease problem is progressed, little can be done to control it.

Some disease organisms cause more plant damage in cold soils than in warm ones. Damping-off is a particular problem in beans, peas, okra and cotton in cold soils. Waiting until the soil is approximately 70 degrees F. will help prevent this condition.

Other organisms require hot conditions to grow and thrive.

Charcoal rot and cotton root rot can completely kill healthy plants by damaging stems and root systems.

Becoming familiar with crop diseases and the conditions under which they occur will allow one to plan control strategies.

Weather is not the only factor necessary for disease to occur. The pathogen or disease-causing agent must be present along with a susceptible host plant. If any of these factors are altered, control is possible. Disease-resistant varieties are one way to combat disease problems.

Knowing crop diseases, conditions necessary for their growth, and preventive measures can lead to a successful crop yield without major losses.

It Would Have Been Easier For Shakespeare

THEN: In Shakespeare's day, many people couldn't read or write--including some of the printers. These printers looked at each letter in the handwritten manuscripts and selected type that seemed to match it. Since they had no idea what the words meant, mistakes were often made. Things got so bad that William Shakespeare finally published his own authorized versions of his works.

NOW: It's Shakespeare's approved versions of his plays that we see performed today. If the Bard had had reliable office machines like the plain paper copiers from Pitney Bowes that we use today we might have seen many more wonderful works like his "Hamlet," and "Romeo and Juliet."

A lot of people admit to having difficulty in understanding Shakespeare. Others are too proud to admit it. Even scholars argue about the meaning of some of his works. That's partly because the original plays were copied by hand and contained many errors.

The Guild of Professional Toastmasters holds an election every year to determine the most boring speaker.

Conservation Required By Agriculture Service

To control erosion, insects, weeds and rodents on cropland taken out of production as a result of 1982 farm program provisions, the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service requires program participants to devote this land to certain conservation uses.

"First of all, the conservation use acreage must be eligible land which meets certain size and width measurements," Dean Turner, Chairman of the Motley County ASC committee, said. The land designated as conservation use acreage must be devoted to an approved conservation practice that will protect the land from wind and water erosion. "This land has to have protection established on it as soon as possible after the beginning of the normal period for planting spring crops," he said.

Conservation use acreage must be cropland that was planted to small grains or row crops, or devoted to hay within one of the last two years.

Approved conservation uses include annual, biennial, or perennial grasses and legumes, volunteer stands other than weeds, small grains and crop residue from use of no till or minimum till practices. Other practices may also be approved, according to Mr. Turner.

Special cover and practices are approved by the State ASC committee with the concurrence of the State conservationist and also various wildlife agencies, organizations and other interested groups to assure that the conservation use acreage will be adequately protected.

The ASC official said conservation use acres may not be harvested. Grazing, however, will be permitted between March 1st thru August 31st.

Farmers who comply with the acreage reduction programs will be eligible for price support loans, target prices and the reserve program.

Applications for the 1982 programs may be filed until April 16. For more information on conservation use acres or other program details, contact the local ASCS office at 700 Dundee St., Matador, 806-347-2671.

TORNADO Safety Rules

TO KNOW WHAT TO DO WHEN A TORNADO IS APPROACHING MAY MEAN THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN LIFE AND DEATH!

I If you are near a tornado cellar:

When time permits, go to a tornado cellar, cave or underground excavation which should have an air outlet to help equalize the air pressure. It should be kept fit for use, free from water, gas or debris; and preferably equipped with pick and shovel. THERE IS NO UNIVERSAL PROTECTION AGAINST TORNADOES EXCEPT UNDERGROUND EXCAVATIONS.

II If you are in open country:

1. Move at right angles to the tornado's path. Tornadoes usually move ahead at about 25 to 40 miles per hour.
2. If there is no time to escape, lie flat in the nearest depression such as a ditch or ravine.

III If in a city or town.

1. Seek inside shelter, preferably in a strongly reinforced building. STAY AWAY FROM WINDOWS!
2. In homes: The corner of the basement toward the tornado usually offers greatest safety, particularly in frame houses. People in houses without basements can sometimes be protected by taking cover under heavy furniture against inside walls. Doors and windows on the sides of the house away from the tornado may be opened to help reduce damage to the building.
3. Standing against the inside wall on a lower floor of an office building offers some protection.

IV If in schools:

1. In city areas: If school building is of strongly reinforced construction, stay inside, away from windows, remain near an inside wall on the lower floors when possible. AVOID AUDITORIUMS AND GYMNASIUMS with large, poorly-supported roofs!
2. In rural schools that do not have strongly reinforced construction, remove children and teachers to a ravine or ditch if storm shelter is not available.

V If in factories and industrial plants:

On receiving a tornado warning, a lookout should be posted to keep safety officials advised of the tornado's approach. Advance preparation should be made for moving workers to sections of the plant offering the greatest protection.

VI

Keep calm. It will not help to get excited. People have been killed by running out into streets and by turning back into the path of a tornado. Even though a warning is issued, chances of a tornado striking one's home or location are very slight. Tornadoes cover such a small zone, as a rule, that relatively only a few places in a warned area are directly affected. You should know about tornadoes though, "just in case."

VII

Keep tuned to your radio or television station for latest tornado advisory information. Do not call the Weather Bureau, except to report a tornado, as your individual request may tie up telephone lines urgently needed to receive special reports or to relay advisories to radio and television stations for dissemination to thousands in the critical area.

TORNADO INFORMATION

Tornadoes can occur any place in the United States at any time of the year. They happen most frequently in the midwestern, southern and central states from March through September.

Tornado "weather" can be hot, sticky days with southerly winds and a threatening, ominous sky. Familiar thunderstorm clouds are present. An hour or two before a tornado, topsy-turvy clouds appear sometimes bulging down instead of up. The clouds often have a greenish-black color. Rain, frequently hail, precede the tornado with a heavy downpour after it has passed.

Tornadoes occur mostly between 3 and 7 P.M., but they have occurred at all hours.

Tornadoes in most cases move from a westerly direction, usually from the southwest. The tornado's path is usually 10 to 40 miles (the average length is 16 miles), but they may move forward for 300 miles. The average width of the path is about 400 yards, but they have cut swaths over a mile in width.

Tornadoes travel about 25 to 40 miles per hour, with wind speed estimated as high as 500 miles per hour within the tornado.

Tornadoes cause destruction with violent winds which uproot trees, destroy buildings, and which create a serious hazard from objects blown through the air; and by differences in air pressure which can cause buildings to collapse.
