TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

Maturity is when we quit pulling the youthful blankets of time up over our heads and accept responsibility with respect and dignity for the fleeting moment.

Anyone who has ever gathered cow chips and carried away the ashes will accept either gas or electricity as advanced fuels.

Work is so plentiful that it is getting to be almost impossible to impress a creditor with the standard excuse of being unemployed.

It is true that we pick our friends but not our relatives, yet on the other hand few friends would tolerate the conditions we force upon our relatives.

Even the force of gravity is powerless to affect an individual who is already at the bottom.

After the inheritance is settled and the meek have possession of the earth, a few faucets of discord may continue to drip. As an example, how will two meek drivers arriving at an intersection at the same time, settle the problem?

Modern technology may be pirating some of the knowledge in use half a century ago. Certain deodorants are claiming 24-hour protection but the sales pitch is less than startling. As a boy I used to take a dash of Ben Hur perfume and two pellets of Sen Sen to achieve confidence for the week end, with some of it lasting until my next bath the following Saturday.

Fear and conscience are the power brakes and steering of human behavior. Well-adjusted, they will serve faithfully for a lifetime.

Walking on air, a happy man may be hard to follow because he has a greater choice of the directions he can go.

Do not pity a rich man who finds it painful to spend money. His pleasure may be produced by misery from self-denial.

KAREN ELLIOTT

Karen Elliott, UT Coed Wins New Scholarship

(Special to The Tribune)

AUSTIN, Jan. 12: — University of Texas coed Karen Jo Elliott has been named one of the nation's 82 best journalism prospects by The Newspaper Fund, an organization of publications. The pretty, brown-haired junior will receive a $500 scholarship and a job next summer with a newspaper cooperating in the Reporting Intern Scholarship Program of the Fund.

Miss Elliott said she was glad she won because the experience would "add polish to her reporting." She hasn't decided whether she wants to work for an in-state or out-of-state newspaper.

Miss Elliott first learned of the honor Wednesday morning when a telegram from New Jersey was read to her by telephone.

She and the other 81 scholarship winners were chosen from more than 300 journalism and liberal arts students who applied for the Reporting Intern Scholarship.

Each was nominated to the program by journalism school directors and by publications advisers at liberal arts colleges.

The intern program is designed to give students at least 10 weeks of practical knowledge and experience in news reporting. It was expanded by 50 per cent this year.

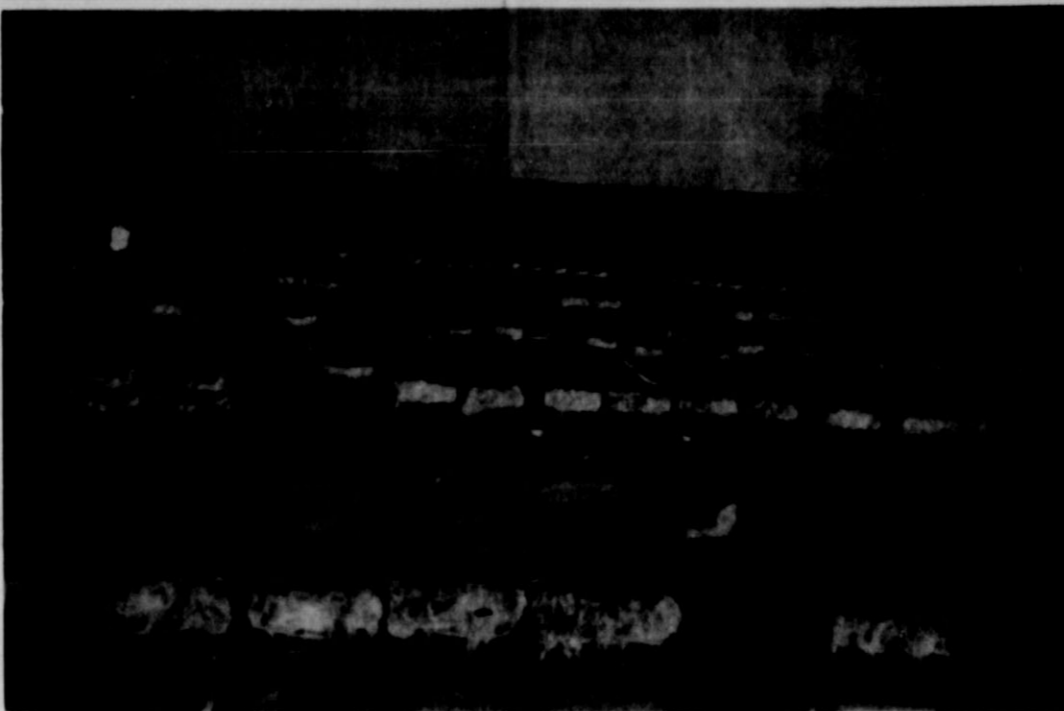

The Newspaper Fund program is sponsored by the Wall Street Journal.

Miss Elliott, a journalism major from Matador, is news editor of the Daily Texan, UT campus newspaper. — Austin American Statesman.

Miss Elliott is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Elliott of Matador and was employed at the Matador Tribune before entering the University.

Besides her work on the Texan, she has sold features to Newsweek and Editor and Publisher magazines. Last month she received special recognition as recipient of the Paul Thompson Memorial Award, given to the UT journalism student.

Regulations Given For Vehicle Tags

Vehicle registration for 1969 is to begin on Monday, Feb. 3, in Motley County according to J. D. Spray, Sheriff, Tax Assessor-Collector.

Regulations covering the registration period have been released by the Motor Vehicle Division of the Texas Highway Department.

As presented the Motley County tax assessor-collector they state in part:

"When preparing the 1969 registration receipt, the vehicle identification number and title number should be copied from the owner's certificate of title, not from his previous year's registration receipt.

"The vehicle identification numbers, title numbers and license plate numbers will be the primary means of accessing the master computer file in the future and it is, therefore, most important that these numbers be shown correctly when the master records are created.

"You are requested not to issue 1969 license plates unless the applicant presents his certificate of title and previous year's registration receipt as required in Section 63 (b) of the Certificates of Title Act, VPC 1436-1.

"The applicant's local residence address should be shown on all 1969 registration receipts. Post office box numbers should not be used except in cases where residence mail delivery service is not available. Of course, post office box numbers may continue to be used for lienholders' addresses.

"Zip code numbers should be shown on all 1969 registration receipts and certificate of title applications. On each application for certificate of title recording a lien, the zip code number of both the owner and lienholder should be shown."

In other words, according to the announcement, owners of vehicles are to bring the vehicle's title, 1968 license receipt, full address and zip code number to the tax office when planning to register vehicles.

The new license plates will be reflective (can be read at night) and will be black numerals on white background.

Big Cotton Crop Booms Compress

THE BIG cotton crop of 1968 is reflected at the Panhandle Compress Co. cotton yard at Roaring Springs. Manager Carlie L. Long said Saturday that he expected to handle about 15,000 bales this season. He said the yard had once handled 20,000 during a big crop year before there was any restriction on acreage.

Long said his compress handles cotton from East Afton, Roaring Springs, Matador and Dougherty gins.

Shipments from the yard, which are made on buyers orders, include both rail and motor freight. Much cotton is shipped to Houston and Galveston, and the fleecy staple from this area frequently goes to Mississippi and other distant states.

Saturday, Mr. Long was loading a box car with bales of cotton. He was able to load the car alone with the aid of a butane-powered mechanical hoist. He had placed 64 bales (double decked) in the 40-foot car. He said he could place as many as 84 bales in a 50-foot box car. Average weight of cotton in a loaded box car is 32,000 lbs.

LIGHTING THE WORLD with the gospel of salvation through Christ is the task of missionaries. Speaking Sunday morning at the First Baptist Church was Rev. Walter Hunt, left, Southern Baptist missionary on stateside leave from the Philippines. At right is Rev. Larry Heard, pastor of the local church. Between them is a map of the world, lighted with Christmas lights, each representing $35 in offerings toward the goal of $1,400 for the annual Lottie Moon Christmas offering. Miss Moon, an early-day Baptist missionary to China, died on a Christmas Eve from malnutrition because she did without food so that others who were starving, might have her portion. In his message, Rev. Hunt told of his and his wife's work as missionary "pioneers" in the Philippines, where they went in 1954. "We have 150 Baptist churches and missions in the Philippines, which are signs of hope in a century of despair . . . yet we can see the smoke of a thousand villages that have never heard the voice of God . . ." Mrs. Hunt came from Plainview to speak in the evening worship service. Her message stressed the need for a deeper personal dedication and consecration in winning the lost to Christ. The lights on the map represent a total offering of $1,391.46. —Tribune photo

Rep. Healty Begins Eighth Consecutive Legislative Term

PADUCAH.—Rep. W. S. Healty of the 80th legislative district, composed of Childress, Cottle, Dickens, Ford, Hall, Hardeman, Knox, Motley and Wilbarger Counties, began his eighth consecutive term as a member of the House of Representatives with the opening of the regular session of the 61st Legislature Tuesday of this week.

He expressed the opinion that the current session of the Legislature will be one of the most important in many years, due to the number and complexity of the problems facing the state's lawmakers.

Rising cost of operating the State Government, resulting from inflation and increasing demands of the several departments, is among the more important questions which will have to be dealt with. Additional revenue is a must. The question is how it shall be raised, Mr. Healty pointed out.

"But the most controversial and perhaps the most important job the Legislature faces is what to do with the revolutionary recommendations of the Governor's Committee on Public School Education. I am strongly against the basic principle of this report, which would abolish practically all rural schools and consolidate them into one-county districts in most instances," Mr. Healty said.

He urges constituents to advise him of their views on these and other questions coming up for consideration in this session of the Legislature.

School Census Now Under Way

Annual scholastic census is being taken through January, County Judge and Ex-Officio School Superintendent Forrest Campbell said last week, and all persons are reminded to be certain that their children are enumerated.

Judge Campbell said the superintendents in each of the county's three independent school districts are in charge of the census taking in their districts. He said his office would compile and prepare the results of the three reports.

Purpose of the census is to determine a portion of the state aid which will be received by the district for the 1969-70 term. In addition, the census will help determine the number of classroom teachers hired for the next school year.

Included in the census information will be the names and ad-resses of all school-age children, birthplaces and ages, their address as of February 1, 1968 and the signature of the person giving the information to the census taker.

The per capita apportionment for the coming year is now at $102.70 per child, the highest in the history of Texas public schools. It was raised from $97.75 at a special meeting of the State Board of Education, held November 11.

Judge Campbell said the census covers all children who reach their 6th birthday by September 1 (born before September 1, 1963), and who have not had their 18th birthday by that date.

Staff Members Pictures Taken

The familiar plea of "smile" was heard more than once as the flashbulbs were popping January 7th and the 9th. The occasion was the picture-taking of the staff members of the "La Arena," the "Matador Brand," and the library staff, which were made on the ninth, and the grade school and the high school basketball teams' pictures, which were made on the seventh.

Mr. Douglas Meador, editor of the "Matador Tribune" took the pictures. The pictures will be printed in the 1969 yearbook, "La Arena."

"ONE OF THE LARGEST AND FINEST PHARMACIES IN WEST TEXAS"

COUNTY AGENT PALLMEYER SAYS:

Many farmers in the area are wondering if they should produce longer staple varieties, and over the past two years there has been a rapid movement to the production of longer fibered cotton. Current prices have been disappointing to growers, and at present textile mills are more interested in shorter staple cottons because they are cheaper.

A partial answer to this goes back to last year's market activity. Stocks of longer staple cottons have increased rapidly relative to short staple cottons. As a result, mills have a good supply of long staple cotton on hand. Furthermore, last year's wide price spread between short and long staple cotton was an abnormal situation and could not be expected to remain.

In most cases, however, longer staple is still bringing $15 to $25 more per bale than short staple cotton. Another encouraging aspect is that cotton breeders are developing longer staple storm-proof varieties which have the yield ability of popular 15/16-inch cottons.

Variety tests on the South

Plains as well as Motley County have found that new stormproof cottons with an inch plus staple average slightly more in yield than the old 15/16-inch staple varieties. Results of the tests in Motley County will be released soon to assist local producers in variety selection for 1969.

Producers should continue to produce high quality cotton, which means a relative long, strong fiber that is well matured. Mills with increasingly higher spinning speeds are demanding cotton of this type, while the older mills that are becoming fewer in number, are the users of the shorter staple cotton.

Texas A&M University's Animal Science Department will start a new program this spring which will prepare students for careers in the expanding cattle feeding industry. It will be the first of its kind in the United States.

Dr. O. D. Butler, head of the A&M Animal Science Dept., said the project will train graduates to manage large commercial feedlots, or service this growing industry as feed company representatives, consultants or in other roles.

"Texas is the fastest growing state in cattle feeding," Butler said. "Numbers of feedlots with more than 10,000 head capacity have mushroomed, and Texas

4-H'ers Win Trips and $50 Bond for Project Work

James Randolph Kathy Hinton Eldon McClurg

A youth who built up a herd of 125 cows in 4-H and a girl who got her classmates to eat better breakfasts attended the recent National 4-H Congress in Chicago. Another lad who specialized in capons captured a bond award.

Eldon McClurg, 18, of Tulla, and Kathy Hinton, 17, of Happy, received expense-paid trips to the congress as state award winners in their 1968 club projects.

James Randolph, 17, of Wickett, the poultry expert, won a $50 U.S. savings bond from Heisdort & Nelson Farms, Inc., program sponsor.

McClurg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer McClurg, swept to top honors in the agricultural program and had his trip sponsored by International Harvester Company.

Miss Hinton, the health award winner, was the guest of Eli Lilly and Company. The two 4-H'ers attended a pop concert played by the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, conducted by the noted Arthur Fiedler. They also attended a horse show and went sight-seeing, with a stop at the famed Chicago Museum of Science and Industry.

McClurg showed the reserve champion heifer at the El Paso Fair this year and the first place heifer at the Houston Show. He was superintendent of his community's livestock show.

In 1967, he was named the outstanding senior boy and high point boy at the county fair. He won the county agricultural, grain, sorghum and cotton trophies in 1966.

"My field crops demonstrations have helped me learn the latest farming methods, especially concerning fertilizers and chemicals," McClurg said.

Miss Hinton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hinton, took a survey of what members of her class ate for breakfast and then organized a demonstration entitled: "Wake Up to a Good Breakfast."

She also was instrumental in having the girls in her club keep charts to encourage better health habits.

Randolph, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Randolph, has specialized in capons during his seven years in the program, and has had three grand champions. His poultry demonstrations have taken first place in county competition four times. His capons have won poultry awards at the county level every year, in addition to winning four times at the district level and once at the state level.

As well as raising 90 capons, he now has 100 hens.

Some of Randolph's greatest satisfaction has come from junior leadership. "I really enjoyed this since someone else was learning something that I had already learned," he said.

He also has engaged in research, setting aside a pen of capons to study the effect of prolonged exposure to light, and another pen to study the effect of wet mash feed.

He, Miss Hinton and McClurg were selected as state award winners by the Cooperative Extension Service which directs 4-H work.

now ranks fourth among all states in total cattle feeding." He said Oct. 1 data released by the USDA shows that more than 1 million cattle are on feed in Texas, a 34% increase over 1967. Greater supplies of cheap grains, plus almost ideal feedlot conditions, assure the state of a leadership role in the feedlot business. New packing plants are springing up on the High Plains too.

The new program will start with the 1969 semester. Students can begin at the sophomore or junior level, or return after graduation if they wish to take advanced training. Students will receive at least 1½ years intensive training beyond the B. S. level in nutrition, beef production, marketing, accounting and financial management, together with engineering courses to prepare them for mechanized feedlots. Also emphasized will be animal health, disease prevention, grain chemistry and environmental control.

Butler said a unique approach will be a "work study" requirement, with the student spending at least one semester working in commercial feedlots. Here, he will get the feel of management and the problems involved.

Texas A&M University, through its Opportunity Awards Program, offers numerous scholarships and grants to single students who will graduate from Texas high schools this spring. Information is available from all high school counselors or County Agents.

Scholarships up to $800 per academic year are available, with academic achievement, leadership capability and financial needs considered. Part-time employment is also offered recipients of these scholarships.

Also a part of the program are grants awarded under the Higher Education Act. These are in value up to $1,200 per academic year, with financial need being the major consideration.

A College Entrance Examination must be taken before applying for admission to any college or university. Deadline for applying for an Opportunity Award is Feb. 21, 1969, with applications available from all County Agents and high school principals.

Scholarships are available from all colleges and universities. Information on these is also available from the sources listed previously. Thanks to assistance provided by schools, and recently enacted legislation, it is possible for any boy or girl to secure a college education. I have information on many of these programs, and will be glad to assist any high school student in obtaining assistance.

Copies of the 1969 Farmers Tax Guide have been received, and mailed to those who have indicated they would like to have a copy. If anyone who is not on the mailing list would like a copy, either call, write, or drop by the office.

This guide is helpful to those who file their return, or have someone else prepare their return. Tax management can save you dollars, therefore the value of the Guide to those who do not prepare their returns.

Poor Votes

There is the old phrase about seeing the wind and reaping whirlwind.

The truth of this adage is perhaps well illustrated by the so-called race problem now existing in this nation.

And those who have created the whirlwind are the irresponsible politicians who in hunger for votes have promised minorities the moon and aroused expectations far beyond possibility of fulfillment.

There are certain basic rights guaranteed by the Constitution to all Americans, regardless of race, color or creed. These rights have now been reaffirmed, but still there is rioting.

And perhaps the most interesting part of the entire mess is that no sooner had so-called civil rights legislation been passed than the noisier adherents of these measures then demanded that they also control U. S. foreign policy as witnessed by the strong anti-Vietnam complexion of the movement today.

There is probably some justification for demanding an end to Vietnam. And assuredly the American foreign policy is quite an enigma.

But on the other hand, the credentials of those who pour into Washington as part of a March of the Poor to make decisions on foreign policy seem open to question.

For after all, it can perhaps be assumed if they have the intellect and ability to decide on such complex problems of America.

Federal Crop Inc. Meeting Scheduled

At the request of 82 Motley County producers, a meeting for the explanation of the Federal Crop Insurance Program will be held in the courthouse in Matador at 2:00 p.m. Wednesday Jan. 22nd.

Joe L. Matthews from Lubbock will present information on the Federal All-Risk Crop Insurance Program for the local people to determine if they would like for Motley County to apply for admission.

Counties nearby that are included in the program are Floyd, Crosby and Briscoe.

Expansion to new counties is limited to no more than 150 throughout the nation each year, therefore all Motley County producers are urged to attend and receive the information that will enable them to decide if Motley County should make application for coverage.

Policies are written on cotton, grain sorghum, wheat, peanuts and 19 other crops, depending on the demand.

IN APPRECIATION

I wish to thank everyone who helped in any way, to extinguish the fire on my farm last Tuesday. The aid of my neighbors, both men and women, came at a time when it was most needed, and appreciated.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM YOUR STATE CAPITAL

By Vern Sanford

Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — Now that the Legislature is back in session, Austin is back to normal. At least it seems normal for Austinites and veteran lawmakers. But 30 of the 34 new members of the 181-member Legislature still are about as confused as a lost child at the state fair.

Two 'new' House members know their way around very well indeed—Doyle Willis of Fort Worth formerly served in both House and Senate, and Glenn Kothmann of San Antonio also is making a comeback.

Sen. W. E. (Pete) Snelson of Midland served in the Senate in 1965-66, then was redistricted out of business and defeated by former Sen. Dorsey B. Hardeman of San Angelo. Last year, however, Snelson turned the table for a return match in the upper house. Sen. Ronald Bridges of Corpus Christi was a long-time House member before he defeated the late Sen. Bruce Reagan.

For the other 30 newly-elected legislators it's a brand new ball game. They began work in the usual maelstrom of activity, trying to learn the names and faces all at once of 151 other lawmakers. Also, about the same number of full-time lobbyists, some 300 secretaries and committee clerks, and more than 100 state officials who work with the Legislature.

Texas' stately old Capitol finally has been renovated to provide offices for all members. But finding these offices and committee rooms, scattered all over four stories and basement of a block-long building, is not easy on any newcomer.

For the first couple of weeks, most new members walk everywhere with a diagram of the Capitol in one hand and a list of members' desk numbers in the other.

INAUGURATION — Governor Smith expects more than 4,200 persons in about 100 marching and performing groups to participate in the Inauguration Parade down Congress Avenue at 3 p.m. Tuesday (January 21).

At least three times that many will be dancing in six inauguration balls for Smith and Barnes that night. But the Inauguration won't be all frolic. A 7:30 a.m. prayer breakfast at the Terrace Motor Hotel starts the big day. Inaugural ceremonies then take place at noon.

CARD OF THANKS

Your many expressions of sympathy, floral offerings, and other deeds of kindness during our bereavement were deeply appreciated and we wish to take this method of expressing our gratitude. May God bless each of you who remembered us in any way.

OOPS!

Some readers may have been confused in attempting to locate the buildings in a picture appearing on the front page of last week's issue. The picture was titled "changing skyline."

It is true the skyline in Matador is changing but not as much as the picture indicated. It was printed in reverse.

With offset printing process it is necessary that pictures be "screened" separately from other material. The screened negative is then pasted on the page negative. This picture was turned wrong side up, and the error was not caught until the newspapers were being readied for addresses.

COME TO CHURCH SUNDAY

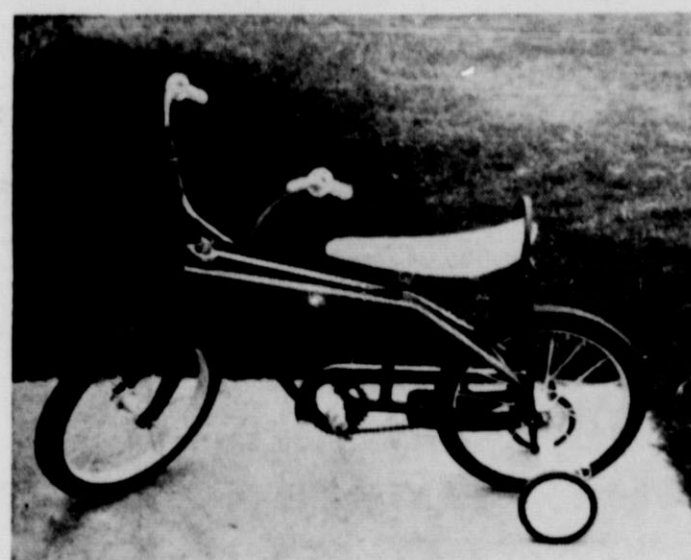

DO YOU NEED TO WORK—to make a living and feed a family, to pay off a mortgage, to buy a few luxuries and to build up Social Security retirements? Will your Social Security be enough to retire on and enjoy life, or will you need to work a little just to help buy the necessities of life? A Programmed Life Insurance Plan can be set up to guarantee Bill and Sue's education, a paid up mortgage, last illness and/or death expenses should you die prematurely, or greatly supplement your Social Security payments when you do retire.

Why not have an insurance "check-up" now and see where you stand? The proper program may be considerably smaller in cost than you think. For more information and at no cost, please call 348-3136 Roaring Springs.
