

Anti-Noise Side Has Edge In Musical Trolley Fight

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. (AP)—The local battle of the musical trolleys went into its second tempestuous day today with a highly vocal anti-noise faction claiming an opening-day margin of several shouts and a holier.

Hearings got underway yesterday, to the accompaniment of loud laughter and commentary from an overflow crowd.

Chairman James M. Flanagan of the Public Utilities Commission admonished in vain that the noisiest side need not be the winning one in the explosive debate, over whether Washington street cars should be allowed to carry programs of music, news and advertising.

"We want you to enjoy yourselves," Flanagan told the restive audience, "but I must tell you that applause or exclamations of approval will have no weight when the commission reaches a decision on this matter."

That didn't stop the noise.

The skirmishing started several weeks ago, when irate citizens wrote letters to the local newspapers protesting the practice of beaming special FM programs into certain of the capital transit company's vehicles. Some citizens organizations took up the fight, 11 for the broadcasts and three against.

The whole issue exploded before the utilities commission yesterday. Audience participation became so hard to restrain that Flanagan withdrew a rule against testimony from the floor. The response was terrific.

Said Jerome Schoenfeld, a reporter for group of trade publications:

"Both the music and the commercials of the programs I have heard on buses and streetcars sickens me. I do not have a doctor's certificate to show that I became sick, but the commission will have to believe that I was made ill."

The audience—estimated by impartial observers to be at least three to one anti-music—cheered lustily.

Said John Connaughton, president of the Federation of Citizens Associations "Radios on streetcars and buses cannot injure individuals who are normal enough to be at large."

The audience jeered, and many people protested vigorously.

"As a musician," a voice shouted, "I feel insulted!"

The testimony appeared heavily weighted against the musical vehicles, which carry programs transmitted by Radio Station WWDG. The station pays the transit company for the service.

One of the witnesses was R. A. Seelig, who identified himself as president of the Transit Riders Assn., an organization founded last Tuesday with 42 members. Seelig called the loud-speaker equipped vehicles a "nuisance" and proposed earphones for those who want to listen.

"This would permit others to talk, read, or even think," he said.

Seelig was cheered for five minutes when he stepped down.

Despite the weight of the anti-noise forces at yesterday's hearing the Public Utilities Commission reported that the communications it has received on the subject are about evenly divided. The commission plans to continue its sessions for several days.

Prophets Hit Drinking And Wasting Of Land

Scripture—Isaiah 3: 5; 22: 28; 58: 1-9a; Jeremiah 25.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

Over indulgence in strong drink and the wasting of land are two problems that have plagued people all down the centuries.

They are with us today, but now we are doing something constructive about both. Physicians, psychiatrists and others are trying to help those who are caught in the coils of over-indulgence to their great hurt; and land conservationists are trying to show tillers of the soil how to treat land so that it will not be exhausted and cropland, and to bring back soil that has been overworked.

The prophets of old—Isaiah and Jeremiah—warned against these evils. They told their people that Jehovah was angry and would destroy their nation if they persisted in their evil ways.

Judah was very prosperous at this time—following the reigns of Uzziah and Jotham, but now the latter's son, Ahaz, had succeeded him and disaster threatened the little kingdom.

Isaiah used a parable to illustrate the condition to which the people of Judah were sinking, and what would happen to them if they did not reform: It was a parable that all his listeners could understand—sowing and harvesting.

There was a man, he told them, that had a vineyard in a very fruitful hill; he fenced it, gathered out the stones, planted it with choice vines.

He built a tower in the midst of it, made a winepress, and looked for it to bear the very best grapes. What happened? The grapes that grew were wild and not fit to harvest.

What will the man do? "I will take away the hedge thereof, and it shall be eaten up; and break down the wall thereof; and it shall be trodden down and I will lay it waste; it shall not be pruned, nor digged; but there shall come up briars and thorns; I will also command the clouds that they rain no rain upon it."

The vineyards that bore only wild grapes was the land of Judah

U. S. Envoys Ask More Economic Aid To Yugoslavs

LONDON, Oct. 28. (AP)—More American economic aid to help Yugoslavia defy Soviet Russia has been urged by U. S. envoys to Iron Curtain countries, diplomatic sources said today.

American ambassadors to Russia and the Communist satellite countries met here earlier this week with Asst. Secy. of State George Perkins to exchange views on countries in which they are serving as envoys.

Diplomatic informants who declined to be quoted by name said Cavendish Cannon, U. S. ambassador to Yugoslavia, has suggested that Yugoslavia be exempted from many of the restrictions imposed on East-West trade. The restrictions are intended to prevent goods of potential military value going to Communist countries.

Cannon was reported to have said there is basically little difference in Communist practices of Yugoslavia and other eastern European countries despite Marshal Tito's bitter feud with the Kremlin. But there was said to be general agreement among the ambassadors that U. S. policy should aim at widening the breach between Tito and the Russian-led Cominform.

1932 Bonus Marchers Led By Communists, Hurley Reveals

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27. (AP)—Patrick J. Hurley says that the 1932 bonus marchers, by the time they reached Washington, were led by non-veterans—for the most part, either criminals or Communist agitators. Hurley was secretary of war at the time.

The march was started by a group of veterans on the West Coast to petition Congress to enact a soldiers' bonus bill.

"Before they reached Washington their leadership had been, to a great extent, taken over by non-veterans," Hurley writes in the issue of McCall's to go on sale tomorrow.

The Communists among the non-veteran leaders, "taking advantage of the unsettled conditions of the country, sought to promote violence and bloodshed as a step toward communism," Hurley continues.

This has been confirmed, he adds, by Benjamin Gitlow, former Communist official, in his book, "The Whole of Their Lives." Gitlow declared that the Washington representative of the Communist International was bitterly disappointed that his Red followers did not succeed in provoking a massacre of the bonus marchers.

Hurley says that when Washington police tried to clear the marchers from certain downtown buildings they were occupying, several policemen were seriously injured and two of the marchers killed.

The city authorities then asked President Hoover for help, and he directed Hurley to take measures to restore law and order.

Hurley ordered the Army chief of staff, Gen. Douglas MacArthur, to clear the city of rioters. Hurley stresses that none of the orders given—neither the President's nor any other—directed that the troops open fire. Instead, he says, all orders cautioned the troops to avoid bloodshed if possible.

Hurley says that the evacuation of the marchers was accomplished without serious casualties; that no shots were fired, and the only weapons used were tear gas bombs.

The ex-secretary said he wrote to correct an impression given by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt in her autobiography, "This I Remember," also published in McCall's. Mrs. Roosevelt had said she had a feeling of horror "when I realized that the Army had actually been ordered to fire on the veterans." The widow of the late President said in a note published with Hurley's explanation that "I am glad to have an authentic account published and I only wonder why it was not done much sooner."

Woman Receives Soldier's Medal

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 28. (AP)—Lt. Mary Patricia O'Hara, 30, today holds the nation's major peacetime award for heroism—the soldier's medal.

In a full dress presentation yesterday she became the first member of the women of the Air Force to receive the medal.

Lt. O'Hara was awarded the decoration for saving the life of Katherine Boeing, 21, Galveston, last July. Her citation said in part: "With complete disregard for her own safety, Lt. O'Hara dived into the treacherous Gulf waters off Fort Crockett Tex., and with considerable difficulty, succeeded in bringing the young woman safely to shore."

Lt. O'Hara is stationed at Lackland Air Base here. She is the daughter of Mrs. V. C. O'Hara, Vancouver, B. C., and former swimming champion at the University of Washington.

10-Cent Coffee Is Grim Possibility

CORPUS CHRISTI, Oct. 28. (AP)—You may soon be paying ten cents a cup or a dollar a pound retail for coffee.

You will if the current rise in the green coffee market continues, says W. O. Yarbrough, president of the Nacores Coffee Co.

An unprecedented six-day rise in the green coffee market will make a "10-cent cup of coffee imperative" and will put a dollar-a-pound price tag on retail coffee if the current trend continues, he said yesterday.

Escaped Convict Identified As Man's Assailant

TEMPLE, Oct. 28. (AP)—George Tabor of Midland identified an escaped convict as one of two men who beat him into unconsciousness Wednesday night and left him in a roadside ditch.

Tabor, in a Cameron hospital identified a photograph of James H. Mitchell, 20, yesterday.

Mitchell escaped earlier this week from a prison farm near Houston.

Tabor told police he was returning from his wife's funeral in Houston when he picked up two boys in Brenham. About four miles north of Cameron, they made him stop the car in a roadside park. Tabor said they beat him into unconsciousness, and took his car, hat, boots, watch and about $10 in cash. He came to about an hour and a half later. He was in ditch with his shirt tied around his head. Tabor flagged a passing motorist and was brought to the hospital.

His car was found yesterday at Lott, Tex., 20 miles northeast of Temple.

SMU REFUSES TO BAR JEWS FOR SAKE OF $5 MILLION ENDOWMENT

DALLAS, Oct. 8, AP — A trustee for Southern Methodist University said a $5 million endowment offered on condition the school bar Jewish students from its classes had been rejected.

He said the offer was refused by Dr. Humphrey Lee, president of the university; that the board of trustees had turned down a proposal that Dr. Lee be discharged and the offer reconsidered.

Dr. W. Harrison Baker of Dallas, an SMU trustee, said yesterday that the offer of the endowment was made several months ago by George W. Armstrong, Sr., of Fort Worth.

He said Dr. Lee refused the offer in a brief letter to Armstrong; that Armstrong then asked SMU regents to discharge Dr. Lee and to reconsider the endowment offer.

Armstrong, Fort Worth and Missions capitulation, this week gave Jefferson Military College at Washington, Miss., land and mineral rights worth a potential $50 million on its agreement to make two changes in its charter.

One of them would "provide that the school shall be primarily for white christians, with the stipulation that no African or Asiatic or person of African or Asiatic descent be admitted as a student or in the faculty."

Last night in Natchez, Miss., three trustees of the Mississippi school said in a statement they would not countenance any character changes teaching racial superiority or barring persons of any denomination as students.

The school has accepted an offer of a $50 million endowment and the trustees have agreed to two conditions, but final papers have not been formally drawn up.

Thomas To Attend Property Owners' Victory Affair

T. C. Thomas left by plane today for Fort Worth to participate in a victory celebration by the Texas Apartment and Property Owners association.

The two-day affair is being held in recognition of the demise of federal rent controls in the state. It will honor the late Gov. Beauford Jester, who signed the decontrol measure, and Rep. Carlton Moore, who engineered it through the legislature. Friday's session, said Thomas, would be a "patriotic and educational program in the cause of freedom."

Four Americans Die In London Air Crash

LONDON, Oct. 28, AP — Four Americans, including two officials of the Superior Oil Co., were killed today when a twin-engine amphibian plane crashed and burned taking off from London airport.

Two Britons aboard the plane also were killed in the crash. There was one survivor, an American member of the crew.

The American dead were identified as:

- Robert Allen, about 45, vice president in charge of Superior's foreign operations, Los Angeles.
- James Lewis, 40, attorney, Los Angeles.
- Capt. Joseph Jordan, the plane's pilot, San Fernando, Calif.
- Andrew Cole, wireless operator, Long Beach, Calif.

The surviving co-pilot, Earl Oscar Savage, was hurried to West Middlesex Hospital where a physician said he had extensive burns on his face and legs but there was no anxiety over his condition. The doctor said Savage suffered some shock and no attempt

Patrol Picks Up 1,062 Wetbacks

McALLEN, Oct. 28, AP — The Border Patrol picked up 1,062 wetbacks during the week ending Oct. 23 one of its officers reported.

George Klemcke, assistant chief inspector for the patrol in the Rio Grande Valley, said many of the aliens picked up were maids, yardmen, cooks and waiters.

The McAllen Monitor reported yesterday that some valley growers were having trouble keeping laborers. It said they gave two reasons—attractive wages in Mexico and the Border Patrol's wetback campaign.

The newspaper quoted one mission citrus vegetable farmer as saying that many workers have returned to Mexico because of attractive wages in the citrus, pineapple and cane regions south of Monterrey.

Under a recent agreement with Mexico, U. S. employers must contract with Mexico for alien labor, guaranteeing a set wage and living conditions.

$1,100 Payroll For Local Artillery Unit Reported

Payroll for the 49 enlisted men and two officers in Battery B, 132nd Field Artillery of the Texas National Guard amounted to more than $1,100 for the last three months, Capt. T. A. Harris, commander, stated.

Members of the local guard unit were paid on the basis of attendance at 12 drill periods held during the quarter, Capt. Harris said. They receive regular army pay at the rate of one day's pay for each drill period.

Payroll here is expected to exceed $1,300 for the three months ending Dec. 31 when guardsmen receive their first pay since armed forces pay hikes were voted by Congress recently.

The Big Spring National Guard unit meets each Monday night for a two-hour drill session at Building No. 44 at Municipal airport, Capt. Harris said. Allotted strength of the field artillery battery is 88 enlisted men and six officers.

The organization will attend summer camp next year from Aug. 27 to Sept. 10, the commander stated. Encampment will be at Camp Hood.

Steel Companies Report Record Income Figures Prior To Strike

NEW YORK, Oct. 28, AP — The nation's largest steel producing companies were well on the way to exceeding their 1948 income figures when the strike of CIO steelworkers started Oct. 1.

Bethlehem Steel Corp. reported yesterday its nine-month income was a record $82,898,402, exceeding the previous record of $53,183,858 set a year ago.

Two days earlier, United States

Steel, the industry's giant, placed its nine-month net earnings at $133,223,409 against $88,042,150 in the similar 1948 period.

Board chairmen of both companies, in news conferences, indicated a desire to negotiate their differences with the striking union and get their plants back into the high-level production that results in such earnings.

E. G. Grace, Bethlehem chairman, said yesterday: "We are ready and willing and anxious to negotiate this situation in all its phases at any time with the union or with the mediation service."

On Tuesday Irving S. Olds of U. S. Steel suggested that Philip Murray, union president, "come down and talk business with us."

There was no indication Murray planned to do so unless the companies agreed to bear the full cost of insurance and pension programs. A presidential fact-finding board had recommended that the companies do this with contributions of six cents an hour on pensions and four cents on insurance.

Grace told newsmen yesterday that "you can't put pensions on a cents-per-hour basis." He added that the worker about to retire is interested only in the amount of benefits he will receive.

The Bethlehem chairman said striking employees of that company will lose an estimated $22 million in pay during the first month of the walkout; the company loses 1,100,000 tons of steel output.

In other comments at his news conference, Grace said: "Creation of new steel mills all over the world, 'in many cases with our money,' is causing a decline in new orders for steel for export, which in the past has accounted for more than 10 per cent of Bethlehem's production. If this business is lost it will cause a proportionate unemployment in the company's steelmaking plants."

Future of shipbuilding work, which now represents $162 million of Bethlehem's total of $369 million orders on hand, is uncertain because of low wage rates in foreign yards, permitting those builders to enter bids at about one-half the amount required by U. S. yards.

Replacement demand for steel, because of loss of production lost during the strike, will last "for quite a little while."

Texas Is Killed In Truck Collision

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Oct. 28, AP — The head-on collision of two trucks claimed the life of a man identified by the state patrol as Grant Hutson of Fritch, Tex., 33 miles northeast of here yesterday.

Sheriff E. L. Cunningham said Hutson was driving a new pickup truck and towing a second en route to Texas. The lead pickup was demolished. Joe Clair, Nian-gus, Mo., driver of the other truck, was slightly injured.

Saturdays. At the Sacred Heart Catholic church (Latin American) Sunday masses are at 8:30 and 10:30 a. m. and weekday mass is at 7 a. m.

"Everlasting Punishment," is the subject of the lesson-lesson which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, and in the local reading room, 217 1/2 Main, Sunday morning. The Golden text is: "The Lord is far from the wicked; but he heareth the prayer of the righteous." (Prov. 15:29)

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Submit yourselves therefore to God. Resist the devil and he will flee from you." (James 4:7) The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The moral law, which has the right to condemn, always demands restitution before mortals can 'go up higher.'" (Page 11)

RIBBON RAMBLINGS

Denison pastors have stumbled on to what may be a helpful idea. Members of the Pastor's Association will trade pulpits Sunday, November 20, as part of a national movement to promote good will and fellowship among all churches. We haven't heard that sort of an announcement from local pastors or those of any other city. But it might prove refreshing to both pastors and congregations as well as promote a little good will.

Current reports estimate federal government expenditures for the 1949-50 fiscal year would make a stack of $10 bills 240 miles high. (That's one mountain we'd like to climb.)

The family economics bureau of the Northwestern Life Insurance company says the government will spend about 42 billion dollars, which is equal to the combined wages of one million factory workers over a 15-year period at present wage rates.

In their words, the next fiscal year's expense account will run one-third greater than the total cash receipts for all the produce of six million American farms in 1948.

Spending 42 billions a year means spending $80,000 a minute for 24 hours a day, seven days a week for 52 weeks, the bureau says. We know a lot of spend-thrifts, but at the rate of $80,000 a minute, the government seems to have them all beat.

When your husband calls up at 5:45 p. m. with the announcement that he is bringing a few of the boys home for dinner, remember Mrs. Mary Loeber and take heart. As manager of the dining room for the Chelsea hotel in Atlantic City, N. J., a convention center, she can arrange a banquet for 900 without losing her cheerful smile.

Spooks And Goblins Of Halloween Go In For Less Destruction Today

Going to church on Halloween? Probably not, unless you're attending a social there. But the observance does have a religious significance.

Halloween or All Hallows Eve, the name given to October 31, as the vigil of Hallowmas or All Saint's Day, has long been associated with Christianity as well as goblins and bats. The two chief characteristics of ancient Halloweens were the lighting of bonfires and the belief that it is the one night in the year during which ghosts and witches are most likely to wander abroad. The Druidic belief that Saman, lord of death, calls together certain wicked souls on Halloween also was a great influence on the observance.

From all appearances, the ancient belief in wicked souls wandering abroad, did not provide enough excitement for ordinary human beings and a few of them took it upon themselves to do something about it. They began to create spooks where there were no spooks. In some cases, it was to the disgust if not the injury of innocent victims.

Older people, who are willing to admit some youthful guilt, remember taking the wheels of wagons or attempting to house ole Dobbin on the second floor of the school house. In more recent years, bridges have been removed from their proper places at street corners and trash barrels found upside down and empty of contents.

Big Spring police report that in recent years there has been little or no important disturbance reported them. The most frequent trick of today is the soaping of windows in business houses and automobiles. Where abrasive soap is used, this can produce serious damage.

In another city of this section two competitive businesses are located in the same block. They have never been on too friendly terms, a fact recognized by most citizens of the community. It was this knowledge which probably prompted a prankster to write the slogan of one of the stores on the window of the other on Halloween. Merchants have stopped most of the soaping of business windows with the use of oil, but police point out that car owners can not oil windows without the loss of vision which is also brought about by the use of soap. With accidents already at a high level, interested persons are hoping that pranksters steer clear of the more dangerous tricks.

Most thinking citizens are giving a lot of credit for Halloween safety to school, church and social groups that plan parties and carnivals for the entertainment of youngsters and adults alike. Most people agree that "kids will be kids." So matters what anyone says and that the best way to have safe and sane Halloween is to give them plenty of recreational activities.

Ronald Hunter Speaks For Sorority Meeting

Ronald Hunter of Estab's Florists served as guest speaker at the model meeting honoring pledge members of the Alpha Chi chapter of the Epsilon Sigma Alpha in the Hotel Settles Thursday evening.

Hunter gave two demonstrations during his talk. He instructed the group in the making of mantel arrangement and in making a vanda orchid corsage.

In making the mantel arrangement, he used a small elongated copper container which he stuffed with greenery. Then using a background of Hawaiian leaves, croton and tie leaves, interspersed with variegated philodendron, he wired the stems of the white carnations and red roses and completed the floral arrangement. He illustrated the competent way of rolling a rose to form a larger flower.

The orchid corsage was composed from a selection of three baby orchids which were effectively wired by Hunter, orchid maline and orchid ribbons. Orchid covered wires which were curled at the end with a pencil to form a more beautiful effect concluded the demonstration by Hunter.

Following the talk, the floral arrangement and orchid corsage were presented to Jamie Bilbo and Ida Stokes, respectively, by Hunter on behalf of Mrs. Jessica Townsend, owner of Estab's Florist.

Ruth Webb presided during the business session of the model meeting. Mrs. Webb formally welcomed the incoming rushees into the club membership, followed by a brief resume of the goals and standards of the sorority.

Each club officer and standing committee chairman gave a short discussion on his official duties while in office.

Pat Shannon was elected as Sergeant-At-Arms for the ensuing club year, and Rhoda Miller was named parliamentarian.

A cove party was held in the home of Jean Smith, 804 Nolan, immediately following the business session.

A large floral arrangement served as the focal point in the reception rooms. The refreshment table checked cloth and centered with a crystal service filled with bottled cokes and ice cubes.

Pledges attending the affair were Ida Stokes, Joyce Williamson, Gypsy McCollum, Gale Johnson, Leslie Newton, Gwen Oglesby, Betty Franklin, Sally Moore and Maxine White. Members attending were Ruth Webb, Wanda Richardson, Bo Bowen, Rhoda Miller, Minnie Earl Johnson, Jamie Bilbo, Mary Ann Goodson, Jean Phillips, Dot Day, Pat Shannon, Stella Mae Wheat, Billie Smith, Myrtle Franklin, Jean Smith, Jeanne Burnam and Mary Anderson.

Voice Identification Is Issue In Ex-Deputy's Flogging Trial

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 28. (AP) Whether the voice of Colemay A. (Brownie) Lollar, charged with flogging while masked, revealed his membership in a mob and hooded bands, is a major issue today at Lollar's trial.

Three state witnesses testified they recognized the former special deputy's voice, although his face was covered. All placed him at the scene of floggings by white-sheeted men.

Lollar is the first of 18 men arrested on various charges involving hooded hoodlums to face trial. The state ended its direct testimony yesterday and the defendant told reporters: "Now it's my time at bat."

The maximum penalty for flogging while masked is 10 years in the penitentiary.

The state sought to prove Lollar was one of the men who broke into the home of Mrs. Hugh McDanal, 42-year-old grandmother, the night of June 10, struck her twice and forced her to watch a cross burning.

Mrs. McDanal testified she lifted a hood and saw Lollar's face. Three other identifications of Lollar were in other night riding incidents, and all were by voice.

Sally Burton, 17, said she "recognized Brownie Lollar's voice" when robbed men took six persons from her home at Dora the night of June 2. Her mother, Mrs. Irene Burton, and two men were whipped, she said. Miss Burton and two others watched.

William Stevens testified he "heard Brownie Lollar laugh" after he had been whipped the night of May 19. Stevens said he, Jack Alexander and Mary Alice Henderson all were whipped that night.

Mrs. Albert Sanders, whipped the night of April 22 together with three other persons, said she "knew Brownie Lollar's voice" when he called to her to come out of her house.

This testimony was admitted over the objection of counsel for Lollar. The state contended it showed a pattern of behavior by masked mobs.

Earlier, two klansmen had testified the raid on Mrs. McDanal's home June 10 followed a Ku Klux Klan meeting at Adamsville.

Pole-Sitter Loses 83 Pounds Aloft

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 28. (AP) Percy Coplon, the pole sitting fat man, says he might add an extra day or so to his string of 100 foodless days "just to be sure no one breaks the record."

Percy climbed down from his perch yesterday and weighed in at a mere 274 pounds—83 pounds lighter than when he began his dieting spree Aug. 25.

He greeted friends, telephoned his brother, a Chicago physician, then went back to his house atop a 30-foot pole to sit out the remaining days of his fast.

When Percy first heaved himself into his six foot square pole-top quarters on Sept. 1 he weighed 357 pounds and met the requirements of the classic "five by five." He was five feet tall and exactly 60 inches around the waist.

He first had planned to come down for keeps on Dec. 4, but now he's thinking about one or two extra days to safeguard his record.

Yesterday, he said he was feeling fine, except for a touch of heartburn. He drinks water and takes a little salt, but nothing else.

He passes the time a-whittling. And why not, he asks: "I am not going any place."

Chinese Nationalist General Is Hopeful

CHUNGKING, Oct. 28. (AP) — A more hopeful view of the military situation was taken today by Gen. Teng Wen-Yi, Chinese Nationalist army spokesman.

He said the improved outlook applied particularly to the southwestern front. There the Reds have been preparing for large scale invasion of Kwangsi Province from adjacent Hunan.

Woman Fined $1

Pauline Burks of Colorado City was fined $1 and costs in a justice court case heard Thursday. Mrs. Burks was accused of drunkenness.

City Filly Places

Bobby Lou, entered in the quarterhorse yearling filly class, won a fourth place award in the Coleman horse show Thursday. The filly is owned by Pete McElrath, Big Spring.

High Brass In Attendance At Big Air Show

EGLIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla., Oct. 28. (AP) — High-ranking U. S. and foreign military men were on hand today for the end of a three-week massive demonstration of air-ground co-operation.

A star performer during the maneuvers was the F-84 fighter-bomber, which has "proved conclusively that jet aircraft can do an outstanding job in support of surface forces."

That praise came from Brig. Gen. W. R. Wolfenbarger, commander of the demonstration. One hundred of the flashing F-84 thunderjets took part in it.

During the maneuver, F-84 pilots showed they could control the speed of their planes to suit their targets, air or ground.

The 600-mile an hour aircraft had posed the question of whether its great speed would make attacks inaccurate at low levels.

Ground and Air Force officers said the F-84 won the title of "work horse of the air" held in World War II by the now out of date P-47 Thunderbolt and P-51 Mustang.

Lt. Gen. John R. Hodges, commanding general of the Fifth Corps, headed a delegation of U. S. officers here today. Military observers from Portugal, the Netherlands and Portugal also were present.

286 Job Placements Made By TEC Here

Job placements made by the Texas Employment Commission during the week ending Wednesday numbered 286; Leon M. Kinney, director, said today.

Twenty of the placements were in non-agricultural positions; 266 were for farm work. A total of 30 referrals were made for non-agricultural employment, Kinney stated. Twenty applications for work were filed during the week.

New job orders for non-agricultural workers totalled 22, a decrease from last week when 25 firms placed orders for additional employees. Claims for unemployment compensation filed during the week numbered 12.

Your All-American Choice

U.S. ARMY U.S. AIR FORCE

My choice was the Army. Why? Simple. Because the Army has plenty on the ball. Top flight training, wide-open chances for fast promotion, world travel and security. I like the Army. It's the all-American line of an all-American team.

I chose the Air Force. I want to be ready for a part in the air age. There's no better place to do that than with the greatest air force in the world. In the Air Force, we not only learn, we help write the book. We're the first string backfield on the all-American team. You, too, have a choice between the two finest careers in America. Army or Air Force, you can't lose whichever you choose!
