Veterans Memorial To Be Constructed In Roaring Springs Frank Mitchell Memorial Park

A group of persons identifying themselves as "Friends of Roaring Springs" have received permission from the Roaring Springs City Council to construct a Veterans' Memorial in the Frank Mitchell Memorial Park. All individuals who have lived in Roaring Springs or the Roaring Springs School District prior to or after having served in any branch of service will have their names listed on the additional wings to be installed. Using the existing monument and existing sidewalk as a centerpiece, a Texas red granite wing will be installed on each side. Additional walkways will be made of granite. Immediately behind the existing Frank Mitchell monument will be a monument honoring those killed in action and missing in action. The "Friends of Roaring Springs" will secure all materials necessary to make the new wings and granite walkways and will be responsible for the installation of all materials. The first thing that is needed is a list of names to be engraved on the monuments. Please complete the accompanying form and return to "Friends of Roaring Springs",

P.O. Box 44, Roaring Springs, Texas 79256, or if you know someone who has served, please encourage them to complete the form.

Completion date for the project will depend upon obtaining names for the monuments.

Matador City Council Makes Plans For Mini-Park

The Matador City Council met Thursday, September 9, with a lengthy agenda. All members heard the reading of the minutes and the bills. Mayor Lancaster asked City Secretary, Seven Alexander, to set up a separate expenditure account for the trash truck, so they can keep track of these expenses for the next year.

The Audit was approved. Carter Luckett asked the Council if they would help with the expenses of replacing the fence between his land and the city land at the water well. He also asked if they would put a fireguard around it as it seemed they had a fire from around the well every year. Council elected to furnish the material if Luckett will furnish the labor.

Donnie Jackson, on behalf of the neighbors in his neighborhood, requested a street light be put on the southeast corner of Bundy and Hunter. The Council had already approved the light if all the neighbors agreed. All the neighbors had agreed except the Hal Martins. Council member, Brenda Perryman, was to make a second request to the Martins to see if they will agree to put up the light.

Carl King of the Citizens Clean Up Committee asked if the Council thought the Committee was still needed. He stated they had given their report to the Council of unkept property before the end of 1992. They feel that except for the houses torn down, they have not seen any progress. They feel no other property owners have responded to the request for clean up of property, so they feel the committee is no longer needed.

The Council commended King and the committee for their hard work and for the job well done. They expressed their appreciation.

Alexander reported they have received compensation from the insurance after the City truck was hit in an accident. Mayor Gary Lancaster gave an update on the landfill. Jamie Johnson of O.J.D. Engineering of Wellington, had done the survey and the water well testing of the original landfill sight to apply for the arid exemption. They are still waiting on the water test results.

The sewer plant update was given and they are still waiting on the approval by the Texas Water Commission.

Mayor Gary Lancaster asked Shane Jones and Brenda Perryman to head a committee to get the City Park cleaned up and the area on the North end of the block with the First State Bank for a Mini Park.

Council went into closed session concerning land. Meeting adjourned.

Commissioners Accept 1993-94 Budget

The Motley County Commissioners Court met Monday, September 13, for their regular meeting with Judge Laverna Price opening the session with Commissioner Franklin Jameson giving the invocation.

Discussed to change clerks fees, elected to raise recording fees to $5 and $3 ($5 for the first page and $3 for the next pages), other copies made on the clerk office copier, $1 for phone call request copies, 50¢ for walk in copies. It was also noted that the coke box is not making enough to pay for the cokes. It

Lucretia Campbell, County Clerk, read the minutes of the August regular session and the two special budget study sessions. After one correction to one special session, minutes were approved.

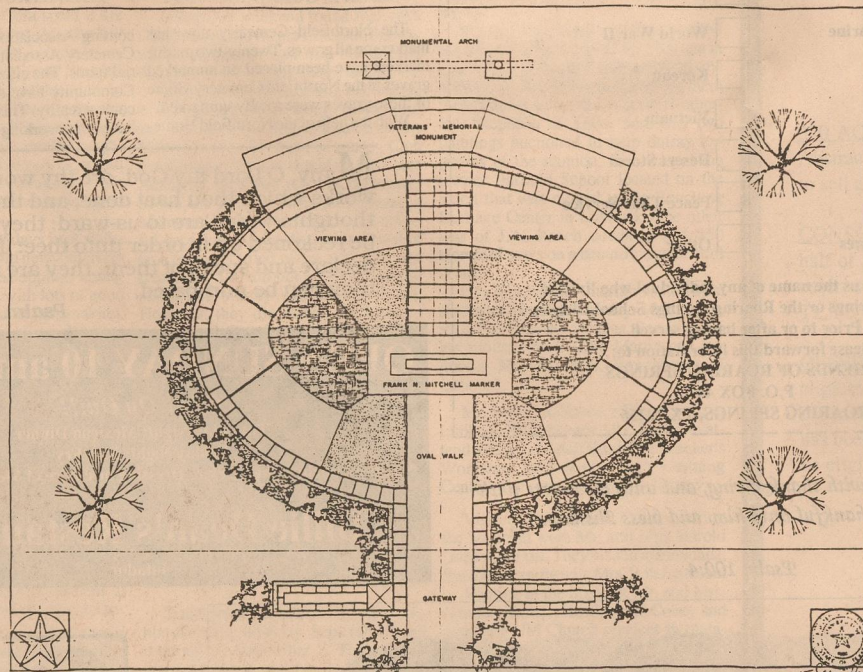

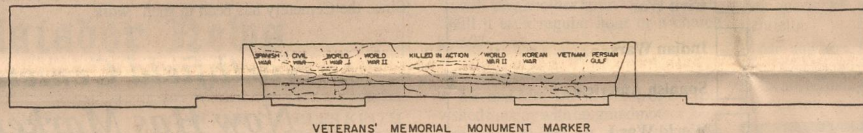

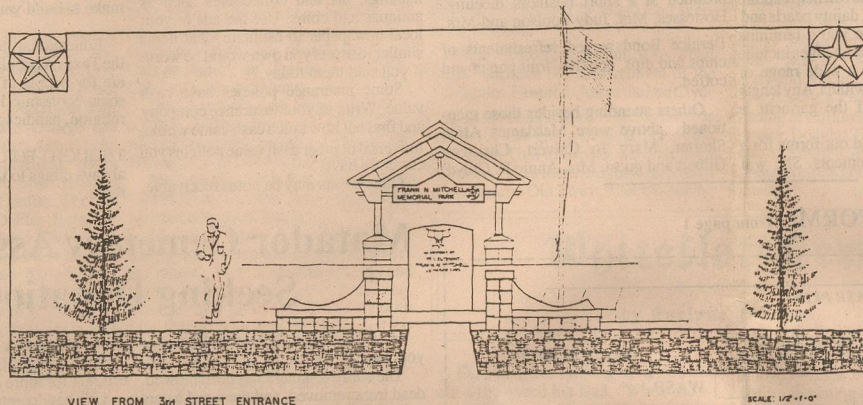

Reports were read from the Treasurer, Sheriff and Tax Collector, and County Agent. There was no Library report given.

The J.P. reported collecting, $5,000 for Precinct 1, Place 1, and $150, Place 2, fines collected.

A long agenda followed, with the following items discussed:

Dressing For Success At Do Gooders Club Meeting

Mrs. Beverly Logston of Memphis, Regional Home Extension Agent, presented a program on Dressing for Success at the Do Gooders' Club meeting, Tuesday afternoon, September 7.

There are a myriad of dress styles, but you want one that will last more than a season and be a ultrafeminine fashion. Inexpensive accessories can help capture this look. Lacy scarves, dainty pearls and other little details give you a feminine look, she said. Welcome changes include smaller shoulders and a wide range of jacket lengths and pant widths. Any length dress is fashionable if the garment is attractive on you.

Mrs. Logston passed out forms for a person's body measurements. She will put these in a computer to tell what style clothes is best for each individual. She will return for the next club meeting in October to discuss the results. She left measurement forms to give to members unable to attend the day's meeting.

Mrs. Jimmie Hunter, vice president, presided at a short business meeting. Hostesses, Mrs. Judy Poulson and Mrs. Bernice Bond served refreshments of chips and dips, cookies, fruit punch and coffee.

Others attending besides those mentioned above were Mesdames Alma Shorter, Mary Jo Calvert, Christeen Gilbert and guest, Mrs. Annie B. Cloyd.

Home Economically Speaking

Home Extension Agent - Home Economics

ASSESSING YOUR NET WORTH

A great deal has been said in the past 12 months about how much better or worse off we are economically as individuals and families. But, how many of us really know what we truly are worth today compared to a year ago? We feel the crunch of today's bills or financial crisis and assume we are worse off, without a clear picture of where we are financially.

A net worth statement is a picture at any point in time that tells you what you are worth. Like pictures in the family photo album, annual net worth statements give someone a realistic picture of what their financial situation is today, compared to the past and to future financial goals.

Comparing your net worth today with past and future points in time gives you a way to see if you are getting ahead or behind financially. Net worth simply is your total assets minus your total liabilities.

List the cash you have on hand personally, in checking and savings accounts, money market funds, certificates of deposits or other places you have placed your money. Assets also include non-income producing items such as your home jewelry, automobiles, home furnishings, art and collectibles such as antiques and coins. Use the ads in your local newspaper to estimate what items similar to assets you own would be worth if you sold them today.

Some insurance policies have cash value. Write to your insurance company and find out how much cash value whole, universal or other cash value policies you currently have.

Other assets may be notes receivable, the book value of your business and investments such as stocks, bonds, rental property, real estate and oil and gas partnerships (the amount of your investment). Check on the current market value of these assets.

Retirement assets such as an IRA, Keogh account, your pension and profit-sharing plans, 401K, deferred compensations and company savings plans should be valued based on what you could take from your employer if you left tomorrow.

Liabilities are easier to track. They include your mortgage, any bank notes, credit card balances or any debit balances and notes due.

Add up your assets and deduct your liabilities to get a fairly accurate picture of your financial health today. If it looks challenging, don't panic. Compare it to a photo of a child's first missing tooth or a broken leg or arm. What may not seem workable today can be healed and made even stronger and longer lasting.

This is the first of a series of articles on building your net worth. Start by knowing the foundation you will build on... your net worth today. Keep track of your net worth at least once a year, so financial news will not scare you but challenge you to know where you really stand and what financial decisions you have made or can make to build your net worth potential.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service are for people of all ages regardless of socio-economic level, race, color, sex, religion, handicap, or national origin.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: Fragrance always clings to the hand that gives you roses.

Matador Cemetery Association Seeking Donations

Have you seen the Cemetery lately? If you haven't go see it.

The entire cemetery has been mowed, dead trees removed, and the weed eaters have been used.

Since the Cemetery has been in such poor condition for so long donations have dropped drastically. The association is begging for more donations, PLEASE!

Our new caretaker is Billy Osborn, and he is to be commended on his good work.

Northfield Cemetery Now Has Markers

The Northfield Cemetery now has markers on all graves. Twenty-two marble markers have been placed on unmarked graves in the Northfield Cemetery. Some of these graves were totally unmarked.

With the help of the Northfield Homecoming Association and the Northfield Cemetery Association and other memorial funds. The citizens of the Northfield Community have seen their project become a reality. This is a project that they have been working on for the past year.

Many, O Lord my God, are thy wonderful works which thou hast done, and thy thoughts which are to us-ward: they cannot be reckoned up in order unto thee: if I would declare and speak of them, they are more than can be numbered.

"Mother," cried a little girl, "you forgot my soul." "What do you mean?" she asked. "You forgot to say with me," she explained, "Now I lay me down to sleep, I pray, Thee, Lord, my soul to keep."

Have you forgotten your soul? You nourish your body, but you neglect your soul, and life becomes drab. Then you go on a drink and drug routine. They're cheap substitutes for the stimulus of Christ. They pick you up only to throw you down, and all you have left is a habit that hurts.

Your body is saturated with attention, but your soul is dried up with neglect.

Do you want life - the real, exciting, thrilling life? Then take Christ. It begins with Him.

Homecoming is arriving soon. One of the things that the school does for homecoming is to organize a staff to write a homecoming paper. The staff leader is Walter Taylor. He will organize and keep everything on track, and help in writing and getting the paper out to everyone.

Plans for this year's paper are to use the old papers for ideas. These ideas will be added too, so that it will be somewhat different. Mr. Taylor says that a big part of it comes from the personality of the staff.

Each person on the staff may write articles on things such as new teachers and other employees that will be printed in the paper. There are pages containing comics, inside jokes, and horoscopes. Also included are letters from the principal and superintendent. In addition, pages are reserved for "remember when" statements and song dedications. These are written by the students.

The senior editors put all of the articles together. After they are organized, they are typed and proofread. Several people then copy the paper. Next, the finishing touches are added and the papers are passed out. Finally, the students can read and see all of the things that they've been waiting for.

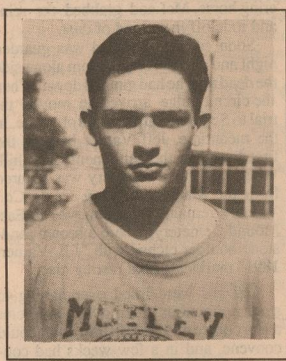

The most fun in putting the paper together is checking the copy and at last getting to read it. The goal for this homecoming is to meet the staff deadline for finishing the paper.

We wish to have the best paper and staff that we've ever had. Hopefully, everyone will thoroughly enjoy reading the paper and looking back on things.

Although the paper is mainly written for students currently attending Motley County Schools, memories will be triggered by all who read it. These memories may be related to things that happened even more than thirty years ago.

Mr. Taylor adds that he hopes to have a lot of fun and that last year's staff was excellent, but he believes that this year's bunch will be just as good.

Lindsey's Lines

by Lindsey Williams

Every year on the first day of school there are students in the halls asking, "What class do we go to?" You can bet that these are the seventh graders.

One of the biggest changes is making the transition from being in elementary to being in junior high. This is such a big change because it is when students move over to the high school side and start changing classes. Students also have more teachers and have lockers for their supplies instead of having desks.

Most of this year's seventh graders say that they like junior high better, mainly because they get to play basketball, whereas they did play little dribblers. They think that junior high gives them a feeling of what high school will be like.

Even though they like junior high, there are some disadvantages. In elementary the students were the "big kids" and on the high school end they are "little kids". A big difference is that when they were in elementary they could forget something such as a pencil and just reach into the desk for an extra. Now, if they forget, they must leave class and go to the lockers. This causes a problem, because students aren't supposed to leave class. They say that they miss P.E. and getting to watch movies in class for fun. Now, they have more homework and tests to keep them busy. However, the biggest disadvantage is "being squashed by the older people in the crowded halls."

The students report that they dislike leaving so many good memories and fun times behind, but they are enjoying being seventh graders.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Motley County Voters:

Brief explanatory statements of proposed constitutional amendments for the special election on November 2 were listed in last week's Tribune. I urge all of you to vote YES for two propositions - 3 and 10, that are of particular interest and concern to ALL Texas VETS.

Proposition 3 is a "housekeeping" measure to clear title on some land in which the Permanent School Fund has had partial interest since a Mexican land grant in the 1820's. This proposition will technically resolve this issue and provide a clear title to this land with NO financial impact on Texas taxpayers.

Proposition 10 asks voters to authorize $500 million in additional bonds for the Texas Veterans Housing Assistance Program and $250 million for the Texas Veterans Land Program. Both programs are completely self-supporting and don't cost the taxpayers a penny, according to Garry Mauro, Chairman of the Texas Veterans Land Board. The programs are funded by the sale of general obligation bonds.

The bonds are retired from the mortgage payments and program administration is financed through a small fee charged on each loan. Every Veterans Land Board loan means new jobs in home construction and a boost to the real estate industry across the state.

The Texas Veterans Land Board has offered low rates, good service and programs that are simple and easy to use at NO expense to taxpayers. For these reasons, please vote YES on propositions 3 and 10 on the Constitutional Amendments Election ballot on November 2.

Sincerely,
Charles Keith

God Bless You

Tales From The Lower Matadors

by Marisue Potts

NOTE: Mrs. Potts presented the following piece at the 1993 Cowboy Symposium & Celebration held in Lubbock last weekend.

The rider galloped in from over the hill toward Matador, a dusty cowboy boasting only two businesses, the Dew Drop Saloon and a general store. He reined in hard at the Matador Ranch wagon shed where a group of hands gathered repairing equipment and shoeing horses. The date on the vaccine calendar hanging on the plank wall read May 10, 1891.

Pulling his Winchester from its saddle scabbard, J.B. McLeod hit the ground running. Mumbling something about money, he drew down on wagon boss Jeff Varner and balzed away. Varner fell fatally wounded.

The sorrell reared and shied away. Horace King scuffed with McLeod and the rifle discharged, the bullet whining in the air. McLeod stormed toward King's horse for the gun hanging there. "Quick, W.T.! Get my gun!", King yelled. W.T. Cloyd deftly removed the carbine from the saddle holster. From King who had caught the assailant's quivering horse, McLeod grabbed the reins and rode off in a cloud of dust.

Soon caught, McLeod was guarded night and day in a small room along side the dead man he had gunned down. When the circuit judge arrived he moved the trial to Seymour on a change of venue. In the meantime, Jeff Varner became the first burial in the settlement's boothill. When land for a cemetery was secured from the Matador Land & Cattle Co., Varner's remains were removed to East Mound Cemetery, where a brown sandstone boulder etched with "J.E. Varner, 1891" marks his final resting place.

Citizens were irked over having to stand continuous guard over a murderer and a corpse until the district court could convene, and in a few weeks had contract to build a jail.

The jail was firmly planted on the banks of Hackberry Draw on Ballard Creek. The two-story sandstone box with bars was built for practicality. The office and living quarters for the jailer and his family were located downstairs while the jail proper was reached by climbing a narrow stairway.

A common use for the jail was a holding tank for cowboys who celebrated too successfully on Saturday night. As a hungover cowboy paced the exercise walkway, he might pause at the barred windows and yell to passersby, "Hello out there! Anybody got a cigarette?"

A wannabe screen writer, Doug Meador who had left Matador to, in his own words, starve in Hollywood, hung out at a Hollywood book store owned by Stanley Rose. Through their circle of writer friends the plight of these cowboys came to the attention of William Saroyan who wrote a play called "Hello Out There". Although the play was performed by the Amarillo Little Theatre in 1959, there is no doubt that the Pulitzer Prize winning playwright did not get the prize for this or the group of plays entitled "Floydada to Matador!"

PUBLIC NOTICE

BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENTS OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

SPECIAL ELECTION NOVEMBER 2, 1993

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 9 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the Texas Legislature to provide for the issuance of bonds for the state financing of start-up costs for historically underutilized businesses. The amendment provides that the legislature by law may establish a Texas historically underutilized business capital growth and start-up fund. The money in the fund may be used without further appropriation and only for a program established by the legislature to aid in the start-up costs of a historically underutilized business, as defined by the legislature. To carry out the program, the legislature may issue up to $50 million of general obligation bonds to provide funding. The legislature may require review and approval of the issuance of bonds, the use of the bond proceeds, or of the rules adopted by an agency to govern use of the bond proceeds. Bonds authorized by the amendment constitute a general obligation of the state.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to provide for the issuance of $50 million of general obligation bonds for the recovery and further development of the state's economy and for increasing job opportunities and other benefits for Texas residents through state financing of the start-up costs of historically underutilized businesses."

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 86 proposes a constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature, by general law, to exempt from ad valorem taxation all or part of real and personal property used, constructed, acquired, or installed wholly or partly to meet or exceed rules or regulations adopted by any environmental protection agency of the United States, Texas, or a political subdivision of this state for the prevention, monitoring, control, or reduction of air, water, or land pollution. The amendment applies to real and personal property used as a facility, device, or method for the control of air, water, or land pollution that would otherwise be taxable for the first time on or after January 1, 1994. The amendment does not authorize the exemption from ad valorem taxation of real or personal property that was subject to a tax abatement agreement executed before January 1, 1994.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to promote the reduction of pollution and to encourage the preservation of jobs by authorizing the exemption from ad valorem taxation of real and personal property used for the control of air, water, or land pollution."

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 3 proposes a constitutional amendment to clear land titles in which the State of Texas relinquishes and releases any claim of sovereign ownership or title to an undivided one-third interest in and to the lands and minerals within the Shelby, Frazier, and McCormick League (now located in Fort Bend and Austin counties) arising out of the interest in that league originally granted under the Mexican Colonization Law of 1823 to John McCormick or on about July 24, 1824, and subsequently voided by the governing body of Austin's Original Colony on or about December 15, 1830. Title to such interest in the lands and minerals is confirmed to the owners of the remaining interests in such lands and minerals.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment providing for the clearing of land titles by the release of a state claim in a fractional interest, arising out of the voiding of an interest under a Mexican land grant, to the owners of certain property in Fort Bend and Austin counties."

PROPOSITION NO. 4 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 49 proposes a constitutional amendment that would prohibit a state personal income tax without voter approval and would dedicate the proceeds of any income tax, if enacted, to property tax relief and education. The amendment provides that a general law enacted by the legislature that imposes a tax on the net incomes of natural persons, including a person's share of partnership and unincorporated association income, must provide that the portion of the law imposing the tax not take effect until approved by a majority of the registered voters voting in a statewide referendum held on the question of imposing the tax. The referendum must specify the rate of the tax that will apply to taxable income.

The amendment also provides that a general law enacted by the legislature that increases the rate of the tax, or changes the tax in a manner that results in an increase in the combined income tax liability of all persons subject to the tax, may not take effect until approved by a majority of the registered voters voting in a statewide referendum held on the question of increasing the income tax. The referendum must specify the manner in which the proposed law would increase the combined tax liability of all persons subject to the tax. The legislature may repeal, or amend without increasing, a tax approved by the voters without submitting the amendment or the repeal to the voters. If the legislature repeals a tax approved by the voters, the legislature may only reenact the tax without voter approval if the effective date of the reenactment of the tax is within one year of the effective date of the repeal of the tax.

The amendment also provides that, in the first year in which an income tax is imposed, and during the first year of any increase in the tax, not less than two-thirds of all net revenues from the tax shall be used to reduce the rate of ad valorem maintenance and operation taxes levied for the support of primary and secondary education. In subsequent years, not less than two-thirds of all net revenues of the tax shall be used to continue such ad valorem tax relief. The net revenues of the tax remaining after the deduction of money for reduction of ad valorem maintenance and operation taxes shall be used for support of education. The maximum rate at which a school district may impose ad valorem maintenance and operation taxes is reduced by an amount equal to one cent per $100 valuation that the school district's ad valorem maintenance and operation tax is reduced by the minimum amount of money dedicated under the amendment, provided that a school district may subsequently increase the maximum ad valorem maintenance and operation tax rate if the increased maximum rate is approved by a majority of the voters of the school district voting at an election called and held for that purpose. The portions of the amendment relating to dedicating tax revenues to reduce the rate of ad valorem maintenance and operation taxes apply on or after the first January 1 after the date on which an income tax takes effect, except that if the income tax begins to apply on a January 1, the amendment applies to ad valorem maintenance and operation taxes levied on or after that date.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment prohibiting a personal income tax without voter approval and, if an income tax is enacted, dedicating the revenue to education and limiting the rate of local school taxes."

PROPOSITION NO. 5 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 18 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the legislature to prescribe the qualifications of sheriffs. Currently, the constitution authorizes the legislature to prescribe the duties, perquisites, and fees of office, but not the qualifications for the office of sheriff.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to prescribe the qualifications of sheriffs."

PROPOSITION NO. 6 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 21 proposes a constitutional amendment that would abolish the office of county surveyor in Jackson County. The amendment also provides for the powers, duties, and functions of the county surveyor to be transferred to the county officer designated by the commissioners court.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment abolishing the office of county surveyor in Jackson County."

PROPOSITION NO. 7 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 57 proposes a constitutional amendment that repeals article XII, section 6, of the Texas Constitution, which currently provides that no corporation shall issue stock or bonds except for money paid, labor done, or property actually received, and that all fictitious increase of stock or indebtedness shall be void.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment repealing certain restrictions on the ability of corporations to raise capital."

PROPOSITION NO. 8 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 22 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the commissioners court of McLennan County to call an election to abolish the office of county surveyor. The office of county surveyor will be abolished if a majority of the qualified voters of McLennan County voting on the question favor the abolition. If the office of county surveyor is abolished, the amendment requires the maps, field notes, and other records in the custody of the county surveyor to be transferred to the county clerk of McLennan County. After abolition, the amendment also grants the commissioners court of McLennan County the authority to employ or contract with a qualified person to perform any of the functions that would have been performed by the county surveyor if the office had not been abolished.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to abolish the office of county surveyor in McLennan County."

PROPOSITION NO. 9 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 19 proposes an amendment to article VIII, section 13 of the Texas Constitution that would modify the provisions for the redemption of real property sold at a tax sale. The amendment deletes current language in article VIII, section 13 that allows the legislature to provide for the sale of property without trial to pay for delinquent taxes. It also states that the deed to the new owner vests a good and perfect title subject only to redemption as set out in this amendment or impeachment for fraud. Language is added limiting application of the current two-year redemption period to former owners of residence homesteads and land designated for agricultural use sold for unpaid taxes. When property is sold as the result of a suit to enforce collection of unpaid taxes, the amendment would allow the legislature to limit redemption to property used as a residence homestead or designated for agricultural use at the time the suit was filed. The amendment creates a second type of redemption for former owners of real property when property is neither a residence homestead, nor designated for agricultural use. These owners would have a six-month period in which to redeem their property by paying the amount of money paid for the property, including the Tax Deed Recording Fee, all taxes, penalties, interest, and costs paid plus an amount not exceeding 25 percent of the aggregate total. The amendment applies to redemption of properties sold at a tax sale for which the purchaser's deed is filed on or after January 1, 1994. For redemption of properties sold at a tax sale for which the purchaser's deed was filed before January 1, 1994, the former law is applicable and remains in effect.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to modify the provisions for the redemption of real property sold at a tax sale."

PROPOSITION NO. 10 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 34 proposes a constitutional amendment that adds a new section 49-b-2 to article III of the Texas Constitution. This new section provides that, in addition to the general obligation bonds authorized to be issued and sold by the Veterans' Land Board (the "Board") by sections 49-b ($950 million) and 49-b-1 ($1.3 billion) of article III, the board may provide for, issue, and sell general obligation bonds of the state in an amount not to exceed $750 million to provide financing to Texas veterans. $250 million of the bonds authorized by this new section shall be used to augment the Veterans' Land Fund (the "Land Fund"). The Land Fund shall be used by the Board to purchase lands situated in Texas owned by the United States government, an agency of the United States government, the State of Texas, a political subdivision or agency of the State of Texas, or a person, firm, or corporation. The lands shall be sold to veterans in quantities, on terms, at prices, and at fixed, variable, floating, or other rates of interest determined by the Board. Lands in the Land Fund that are offered for sale to veterans and that are not sold may be sold or resold to the purchasers in quantities, terms, prices, and rates of interest determined by the Board.

New section 49-b-2 creates the Veterans' Housing Assistance Fund II (the "Housing Fund II"), and $500 million of the general obligation bonds authorized by the section shall be used for the Housing Fund II. The Housing Fund II is a separate and distinct fund from the Veterans' Housing Assistance Fund (the "Housing Fund") established under section 49-b-1 of article III. Money in the Housing Fund II shall be administered by the Board and shall be used to make home mortgage loans to veterans for housing within this state in quantities, on terms, and at fixed, variable, floating, or other rates of interest determined by the Board. The principal of, and interest on, the general obligation bonds authorized by this section for the benefit of the Housing Fund II shall be paid out of the money of the Housing Fund II. The principal of, and interest on, the general obligation bonds authorized by section 49-b-1 of article III for the benefit of the Housing Fund shall be paid out of money in the Housing Fund. If there is not enough money in the Land Fund, the Housing Fund, or the Housing Fund II, as the case may be, available to pay the principal of, and interest on, the general obligation bonds authorized by this section or by sections 49-b or 49-b-1 of article III, there is appropriated out of the first money coming into the treasury in each fiscal year an amount that is sufficient to pay the principal of, and interest on, the general obligation bonds that mature or become due during that fiscal year.

If the Board determines that assets from the Land Fund, the Housing Fund, or the Housing Fund II are not required for purposes of the fund, the Board may transfer the assets to another of those funds or use the assets to secure revenue bonds issued by the Board. The revenue bonds shall be special obligations of the Board and payable only from and secured by receipts of the funds, assets transferred from the funds, and other revenues as determined by the Board and shall not constitute indebtedness of the State of Texas or the Board. The Board may issue revenue bonds from time to time, which bonds may not exceed an aggregate principal amount that the Board determines can be fully retired from the receipts of the funds. The revenue bonds shall be sold in forms, denominations, and in installments, and bear a rate or rates of interest as the Board determines.

The general obligation bonds authorized to be issued by the Board by this section or by sections 49-b and 49-b-1 of article III shall be issued and sold in forms and denominations, on terms, at times, in the manner, at places, in installments, and shall bear a rate or rates of interest the Board determines. The bonds shall be incontestable after execution by the Board, approval by the Attorney General of Texas, and delivery to the purchaser.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing issuance of $750 million in general obligation bonds to augment the Veterans' Land Fund and the Veterans' Housing Assistance Fund and to fund the Veterans' Housing Assistance Fund II."

PROPOSITION NO. 11 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 31 proposes a constitutional amendment relating to the duties of trustees of local retirement systems which provide retirement and related disability and death benefits for public officers and employees and that do not belong to a statewide retirement system. The amendment provides that the board of trustees of such a system shall (1) administer the system of benefits; (2) hold the assets of the system for the exclusive purposes of providing benefits to participants and their beneficiaries and defraying reasonable expenses of administering the system; and (3) select legal counsel and an actuary and adopt sound actuarial assumptions to be used by the system.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment providing that the trustees of a local public pension system must administer the system for the benefit of the system's participants and beneficiaries."

PROPOSITION NO. 12 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 23 proposes a constitutional amendment providing that any person accused of a violent or sexual offense committed while under the supervision of a criminal justice agency of this state or a political subdivision of this state for a prior felony may, after a hearing and evidence substantially showing the guilt of the accused, be denied bail pending trial. If the accused is not, however, accorded a trial within 60 days from the time of his incarceration upon the accusation or indictment, the order denying bail shall be set aside unless a continuance is obtained upon the request of the accused. In the amendment, the term "violent offense" means murder, aggravated assault (if a deadly weapon was used or exhibited during the commission of the assault), aggravated kidnapping, or aggravated robbery. The term "sexual offense" means aggravated sexual assault, sexual assault, or indecency with a child.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment permitting the denial of bail to certain persons charged with certain violent or sexual offenses committed while under the supervision of a criminal justice agency of the state or a political subdivision of the state."

PROPOSITION NO. 13 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 13 proposes a constitutional amendment that amends article VII, section 17(a), of the Texas Constitution to provide that, of the $100 million currently appropriated by that section for the use of public institutions of higher education during each fiscal year, those institutions may also utilize this money to pay for acquiring, constructing, or equipping or for major repair or rehabilitation of buildings, facilities, other permanent improvements, or capital equipment used jointly for educational and general activities and for auxiliary enterprises to the extent of their use for educational and general activities. For the five-year period beginning on September 1, 2000, and for each five-year period thereafter, the legislature, during a regular session that is nearest, but preceding, a five-year period may, by a two-thirds vote of the membership of each house, increase the amount of the $100 million constitutional appropriation for the five-year period. The amendment also reflects name changes that have been made to some of the institutions of higher education for which such funding is available. The amendment adds the Texas State Technical College System to those institutions eligible to receive such funding, but limits its allocation of the annual appropriation to 2.2 percent of the total appropriation each fiscal year. The amendment also provides that each governing board authorized to participate in the distribution of money under article III, section 17, may also issue bonds and notes for the purposes of refunding bonds or notes issued under that section or prior law for the purposes of acquiring capital equipment, library books and library materials, paying for acquiring, constructing, or equipping or for major repair or rehabilitation of buildings, facilities, other permanent improvements, or capital equipment used jointly for educational and general activities and for auxiliary enterprises to the extent of their use for educational and general activities. The amendment deletes language in article III, section 17, which authorizes the legislature to designate a single agency to issue such bonds or notes in lieu of the governing bodies, and to transfer to that agency the authority to collect and pledge money to the payment of such bonds and notes as directed by the governing body of each eligible institution. Funds appropriated under article III, section 17, may not be used for the purpose of constructing, equipping, repairing, or rehabilitating buildings or other permanent improvements that are to be used only for student housing, intercollegiate athletics, or auxiliary enterprises.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment relating to the amount and expenditure of certain constitutionally dedicated funding for public institutions of higher education."

PROPOSITION NO. 14 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 45 proposes a constitutional amendment that adds a new subsection (e) to article III, section 49-h, of the Texas Constitution. The new subsection provides that, in addition to the amounts authorized by subsections (a) ($500 million), (c) ($400 million), and (d) ($1.1 billion) of section 49-h, the legislature may authorize the issuance of up to $1 billion in general obligation bonds and may use the proceeds of the bonds for acquiring, constructing, or equipping new corrections institutions, including youth corrections institutions, and mental health and mental retardation institutions and for major repair or renovation of existing facilities of those corrections and mental health and mental retardation facilities. The amendment also provides that the provisions of subsection (a) of section 49-h, relating to the review and approval of bonds, and the provisions of subsection (b) of section 49-h, relating to the status of the bonds as a general obligation of the state and to the manner in which the principal and interest on the bonds are paid, apply to bonds authorized by this amendment.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing the issuance of up to $1 billion in general obligation bonds payable from the general revenues of the state for projects relating to facilities of corrections and mental health and mental retardation institutions."

PROPOSITION NO. 15 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 37 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the county commissioners court of a county to call an election to abolish the office of county surveyor. The office of county surveyor is abolished if a majority of voters of the county voting in the election approve the measure. If the office of county surveyor is abolished, the maps, field notes, and other records of the county surveyor are transferred to the county officer or employee designated by the commissioners court.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to permit the voters of a county to decide, at an election called by the commissioners court, whether to abolish the office of county surveyor in the county."

PROPOSITION NO. 16 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 44 proposes an amendment to article III, section 49-(b) of the Texas Constitution, which currently limits the principal amount of bonds outstanding at one time for the Texas agricultural fund to $25 million and for the rural microenterprise development fund to $5 million. The amendment would raise the principal amount limit for the Texas agricultural fund to $100 million. The amendment would also make the principal amount limit for each fund apply to the total principal amounts of both bonds and notes issued or sold rather than just the principal amounts of bonds outstanding at one time.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing up to a total of $100 million in bonds and notes to be issued or sold to finance the Texas agricultural fund for providing financial assistance to develop, increase, improve, or expand the production, processing, marketing, or export of crops or products grown or produced primarily in this state by agricultural businesses domiciled in the state."

Warren Hits Cowboy Symposium With Humor

The Diamond B Chuckwagon, manned by the Brock and Burleson extended families, won second in the Ranch Division and provided hearty fare for visitors to The Cowboy Symposium at the Lubbock Civic Center last weekend.

by Marisue Potts

Holding his audience's rapt attention, storyteller Colquitt Warren shared his unique brand of humor with a wide circle of friends and relatives at the fifth Cowboy Symposium in Lubbock last Saturday. In a voice raspy with his ninety odd years, Warren told stories, among others, about his days as a tank builder for the Matador Land & Cattle Co., Ltd., headquartered in Dundee, Scotland.

One of the stories Mr. Warren told: "Simon Hall was a famous Matador chuckwagon cook. John Warren, who grew up on the ranch and ate Simon's cooking for six years, said, 'Simon was a good cook and a clean cook, and no matter how many times he went to town and got drunk and didn't show up the next morning, the Matador boss would always hire him back when he sobered up.'"

A barber there in Matador got tired of town life, bought himself a saddle and rode out to where the chuckwagon was parked. It was about 10:00 a.m.

The barber tied his horse a safe distance on the down side from the wind, walked around to the tent where Simon was fixing dinner, and asked Simon, "When will the boss be in?"

Simon replied, "It won't be long, get yourself a cup of coffee, and find a place to sit down."

The barber sniffed and asked, "What's that that smells so good a cookin'?"

"That's a s-o-b, did you ever eat one?"

"No", the barber replied, "but I've shaved a hell of a lot of 'em."

The celebration of the cowboy's way of life, his poetry, music, folklore, and history covered a wide range of topics and presenters in the three day affair.

The Diamond B outfit manned by the Brock and Burleson families, The Circle Dot Ranch by the Taylors of Quitaque, and Covington Farms of Dougherty were among the fourteen chuckwagons which vied for recognition of authenticity and cooking abilities over a searing mesquite fire. Chicken-fired steak, red beans, mashed potatoes, cream gravy, dutchoven biscuits, and peach cobbler were dished up to the hungry hordes steaming across the street from the Civic Center.

The Diamond B amassed enough points to earn second in the Ranch Division.

Kirk Brock was presented with the coveted "Pot Wrestler" plaque, as voted on by the cooks. The cocinero and other helpers, besides Kirk, included Beverly Burleson Brock, Don Porterfield, Jerry Brock, all of Levelland; and advisor S.C. Teen Burleson of Whiteflat.

The Double X Ranch of Dickens won the overall title of best Chuckwagon. John V. Stevens, former ranch manager of Matador Land & Cattle Co., Ltd., assisted with the judging.

Among the papers presented were accounts of the Quitaque area pioneer families, the Merrells and the Stroups. Darlene Bellinghausen of Knox City shared her research based on the poignant diary of her grandmother, Dora Merrell Stroup. (Mrs. Bellinghausen's mother is Lille Mae Martin Johnson of Floydada, formerly of Flomot.) Warren drew laughs and broke up his audience with his account of "Old Stroup Takes a Bath", a tongue-in-cheek account of his addition of indoor plumbing.

Marisue Potts contributed a story on "The Pitchfork Kid of the Matadors" and a dramatized research paper on Mott Camp, "Linecamp in the Cottonwoods" in which, ironically, Mrs. Bellinghausen's Drace family ancestors were involved prominently also.

Musical entertainment showcased the regional talents of Cecil Caldwell of Lubbock, Buck Ramsey of Amarillo, Jimmy Burson of Quitaque, the Blue Denim Band of Crosbyton, and many, many more.

Noticeably absent from the poetry division was the colorful cowboy poet Dennis Gaines who had recently resigned from the Koch's Matador Cattle Company and moved to Fort Worth.

On the final day participants were given the opportunity to ride in team penning, roping, and cutting horse contests with mounts provided by the association.

Among the 121 exhibitors in the massive Civic Center location were Moore Maker, The Moore Brothers Manufacturing; Sally and Wesley Day, Texas Gourmet Jellies, Designer Shirts, and Leather Collars; The Circle Dot Ranch, dude ranch tours near Quitaque; and caprock western artist Glen Lyles.

Commissioners Court

was elected to raise this fee to 50¢ per coke.

* Sheriff fees were discussed and the Court elected to raise subpoena, summons, citations fees, etc., $10 each.

* The Court elected to pay the County Agent $847.49 for two major stock show trips for 1993 and set an allowance of $1,000 for two major stock show trips in 1994.

* Discussed fees on work done with county equipment. No changes were made.

* Court agreed to continue to pay Matador Lions Flag Fund for the flag to be put out on holidays by the Lions.

* Adopted a prisoner custody agreement as directed by Texas Department of Criminal Justice, Pardons and Paroles Division. This is to keep a slot open with Texas Department of Corrections when needed.

* Acted to accept contract with Business Records Corporation to keep voter registration on their computer system Elaine Hart explained the contract will be for October 1, 1993 to September 30, 1994 for $85 per month.

* The Court, Jim Meador, Tax Assessor/Collector, and Kathleen Wason, Chief Tax Appraiser discussed and heard all opinions on Meador contracting out the ad valorem tax assessing and collecting with the appraisers office. These plans are discussed now so they can plan on what to do for the 1994 tax year, not this year.

The Sheriff is in agreement if the assessing/collecting can be contracted out of his office. His office will be kept for sheriff operations and selling of vehicle registration and registration of voters, etc.

Most Commissioners were in agreement if the offices could be placed together for the convenience of the county and customers. This can be done by putting everything in one computer system and having it in one office area. This subject was tabled for further study.

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER

Michael A. Guido Metter, Georgia

The battle wasn't going well, and the captain said to his men, "Fight until your last shot is fired, and then run."

But he added, "Since I'm out of bullets, I'll start running now."

That wasn't true of another fellow whose side was losing. Victory seemed impossible. But David said to the discouraged men, "The battle is the Lord's."

He then ran to meet Goliath and he conquered the giant with a sling and a stone.

Facing a giant? Does everything seem hopeless? Look to the Lord. He's stronger than the devil and any difficulty. Trust Him, and you'll triumph.

You see, "The battle is the Lord's."

Arbor Day Foundation Offers Free Trees

Ten free trees will be given to each person who joins the National Arbor Day Foundation during September 1993.

The free trees are part of the nonprofit Foundation's Trees for America campaign.

The ten trees are the Sugar Maple, White Flowering Dogwood, Pin Oak, White Pine, Red Maple, Birch, American Redbud, Silver Maple, Red Oak, and Colorado Blue Spruce.

"These trees were selected to provide benefits every season of the year: lovely spring flowers, cool summer shade, spectacular autumn colors, and winter berries and nesting sites for songbirds," John Rosenow, the Foundation's executive director, said.

The trees will be shipped postpaid at the right time for planting between October 15 and December 10 with enclosed planting instructions. The six to twelve inch trees are guaranteed to grow or they will be replaced free of charge.

Members also receive a subscription to the Foundation's news magazine, Arbor Day, which includes regular features about tree planting and care.

To become a member of the Foundation and to receive the free trees, send a $10 membership contribution to TEN TREES, National Arbor Day Foundation, 100 Arbor Avenue, Nebraska City, NE 68410, by September 30, 1993.

A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit. Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire. Wherefore by their fruits ye shall know them.

Mental Health

by Ron Trusler, M.Ed., L.P.C.
Assistant Executive Director Central Plains Center for Mental Health, Mental Retardation and Substance Abuse.

HELP FOR THE DIVORCED PARENT

Divorce is painful. It's like a death of a relationship. Some feel it's worse than death of a person because there is no finality to it. The pain can persist longer and deeper when children are involved. If you are the parent who does not have custody of the children there are some things that will be helpful for you to avoid.

Avoid arguing directly against whatever the other parent has been saying. Instead, try to listen to what your child has to say and take a friendly interest. Avoid trying to lower the other parent in your child's estimation.

It would be best to not persuade your child that your view of everything is the right one. Attempt to answer questions that expand the conversation. In other words, don't "lay down the law". Aim at noticing any problems where you might be able to help.

Avoid reacting defensively at any hints of criticism from child or other parent.

Focus on being around, on a dependable, reliable basis. It's tempting to let the child do most anything he/she wants while the adjustments to divorce are being made. This is usually because the parent feels the child has hurt enough or is trying to win the child's approval from the other parent. It's best to give the child a structure of living as close to what it was like before the divorce as much as possible. This helps the child feel more secure than without any structure.

Avoid preaching any particular religious, moral, or social doctrines that you know are contradictory to the home views. Show that you have your own standards and that, though different, you will be consistent.

Avoid trying to solve your problems through your child. Instead, enjoy time together, rather than treating it as an opportunity to impress or persuade.

These things can help form a more positive relationship with the children and the ex-spouse. Good Luck!

CORA HALL VISITS COOL PACIFIC NORTHWEST

Arriving late June, Cora spent 2 1/2 months visiting her children, Martha Hill of beautiful west Seattle, which overlooks scenic Puget Sound and Seattle's farmers waterfront, and Albert Hall of Duvall, located east of Seattle near the timbered foothills of the Cascade Range.

Martha and Frank's two married daughters and their families live very close and their son and his wife commuted from eastern Washington to have many good visits with grandma.

Cool, grey and rainy days kept sight-seeing minimal, but could never interfere with visiting friends, shopping, eating out, family gatherings, with lots of good eating, berry picking and jam making. Special birthdays were also celebrated with grandma being here. Martha and Frank surprised Cora with a two day trip to picturesque Victoria via Ferryboat and an excursion of Famous Butcher Gardens. Victoria is on beautiful Vancouver Island in Canadian waters.

Cora also spent time visiting family of her late husband, Mark Hall.

Alternate weeks, Cora stayed with her son and his wife, Norma. Their son and his family also live nearby and grandma got to spend time with her newest grandchild, Elizabeth Cora, named for her great-grandmother. Grandma was present at Elizabeth's baby dedication - special to the family. Their daughter and her family live several hours north on the beautiful north Cascade highway. Several special outings were made to their home with friends and family gathering. Grandma enjoyed 4-wheeling with great-granddaughter at the helm! The weather was great. A trip to Washington's northwest trek, including Norma's 88 year old father and his wife. The bison were plentiful and the caribou magnificent. A day at the County Fair and short trips near Albert's home, famous Snoqualmie Falls and a short steam engine ride around Remlinger Farms (famous for their strawberries). Dining out with friends and family was also very pleasurable.

Grandma spent hours patching quilts, making quilts for new doll house, cooking southern food and viewing big screen old movies. Labor Day weekend following church, family friends gathered to surprise Cora with an early celebration of her 80th birthday.

Before leaving, Cora made beautiful Christmas cakes for her children's freezers. It was a wonderful time of visiting family, old friends and new.
