by Amy Woolsey

If you were gone Friday night, then you missed a very exciting game played by the Motley County Matadors and the Knox City Greyhounds! The Matadors, of course, came out on top with a 35-21 victory on Burleson Field.

Frankie Ortiz scored the first touchdown of the night with a four yard run! Clay Ewing made three one-yard touchdowns to make the scoreboard light up with a victory.

The Matadors had a total of 320 yards, with 70 yards passing and 250 yards rushing. The defense had a great night of blocking!

The Matadors play the Spur Bulldogs this Friday at Spur. These guys are looking for another victory and they want you to come show them support! so come on, let's cheer these guys for another victory! You're doing a great job!

PTO To Sponsor Drug And Alcohol Abuse Program

Motley County PTO will sponsor a Drug and Alcohol Abuse Program, Tuesday, November 5 at 7:00 p.m. in the school cafeteria. There will be more emphasis on alcohol abuse. Kay Brotherton from Floydada will be speaking. She is associated with Central Plains MHMR.

There will be a free gift for all who attend, and free literature. So mark this date on your calendar, and please try to attend. Everyone is welcome.

There will also be a short business meeting.

Invest In The Past With The Museum

"Investing in the past for the future" might be the motto of museum supporters who are answering the $2 for $1 challenge grant issued by the Meadows Foundation. With a current tally of $3,267, backers are working toward a local goal of $6,000.

Joining those contributors whose names have previously been published, this week's benefactors are Trula Gilbert Martin, Wilburn Z. Martin, and Dr. David Z. Martin of Floydada.

At the end of the next thirteen weeks the largest private foundation in Texas will write a check, up to $12,000, based on how much money the community has collected toward the renovation of the historic hospital building into a county museum.

For each $100 donation, a name will be engraved on a large plaque which will be displayed in the lobby. For $50 a brand and family name will be added to the Centennial Branding Board which is expected to be displayed around town before being placed in the museum.

All donations toward the project are appreciated and will be acknowledged. Printed in the newspaper, and the names of donors recorded in a leather bound volume to be displayed in the lobby. Treasurer Hazel Donovan or any board member will accept contributions.

Some energetic members of the Motley County Arts and Crafts Club and the museum board have pledged a certain number of hours of their working time as means to show support. The American Legion has donated building material. No doubt, this "can do" spirit will serve the museum well in the days ahead.

TRASH.....A Big Problem!!

by Barbara Armstrong

TRASH - A dirty subject - who wants it?

It's not going to disappear or go away (it never has and it never will). The popular comment is: "Oh, that won't happen here," or "that doesn't mean us, we live out in the country."

Well, folks the time has come and we are included under the same Federal Regulations Lubbock or Houston is. What are we going to do with our trash, now that the EPA (Environmental Protection Agency) has said close the landfills!

On October 17, at 7:30 p.m., Rich Oller Ps., Oller Engineer, Inc. of Lubbock spoke to men and women of Commissioners Courts and City Councils for Motley County, Matador and Roaring Springs, Cottle County, Paducah, Hardman County, Crowell and King County, Guthrie, with suggestions how to solve the landfill problems.

Oller suggested they all join together and within the next 90 days take bids from the larger solid waste disposal companies and get a contract signed.

There is no easy or inexpensive solution, but something has to be done to solve the current problem.

The EPA Regulations were started to protect our underground water - good or bad.

It is everyone's problem - what can we all do to help?

We can help by abiding by the rules - the City has to comply with them.

In speaking with Bill Jameson this week he explained people are still putting batteries, tires, oil filters, paint buckets, large appliances, limbs and grass in dumpsters. He stated these will not be picked up or if they are found in the load in the transfer, they will have to be pulled out or the City will be charged the extra fee for hazardous waste delivery.

The City asks that everyone please help by not throwing these items in the dumpsters.

After a contract is made, the city hopes there will be a receptical for hazardous waste.

Here again, the City and County officials know there is a problem with no solution or alternative offered. So they ask for all citizens to help by following the rules.

DPS Urges Caution On Halloween Night

It's time, once again, for "Trick or Treat". Halloween is fast approaching and hundreds of little children will be taking to our neighborhoods in search of those wonderful treats.

Major V.J. Cawthon, Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety, Region 5, said, "Many disasters can be prevented this Halloween, if parents and motorists will use good judgement. Small children should be accompanied by older children or adults and trick or treating should be confined to those areas that the parents are familiar with."

Major Cawthon urged that parents dress their children in non-flammable costumes and the costume should be of light colors. He also stated that the mask should not prevent the child from being able to see. Parents should also keep their children away from Jack-o-Laterns with candles.

Parents should also instruct their children in some traffic safety tips, insuring they look in all directions before crossing streets and to walk, not run. A flashlight carried by the child can serve as a warning to motorists, and children should be instructed to use sidewalks, whenever possible.

We, as motorists, should remember that children in play become very excited and may forget the safety rules. Let's remember to be extra careful in the residential areas and be on the lookout for kids darting into the streets. We, the drivers, need to be extra alert to ensure that this is a happy Halloween for all our Trick or Treaters.

Major Cawthon stated, "If parents and motorists join together and think 'safety first', we can make this 1991 Halloween a safe and enjoyable evening for everyone."

Barbara's Bylines

In answer to the "concerned mothers" over the sports reports for JV and Jr. High games. We are sorry we have not made more of an effort to at least get the scores of the games in the paper.

We have always welcomed any extra journalists efforts to help us cover important activities at school, as well as throughout the county. There are just so many hours in a day and we can just do so much in a day.

Perhaps after this, someone would be willing to offer their help.

No matter where you go now, they are recycling! Every home has a list of Do's and Don'ts of Recycling and Trash pickup dates and times, etc. One of the lists I read was how to separate these items: Paper, newspapers, (bundle and tie); corrugated cardboard, (flattened); Aluminum (clean and flat), glass (sorted by clear, green and brown); Plastic - milk, soda, water containers (1's and 2's only, see bottom of container); brown paper bags.

One article I read stated how trash was becoming precious materials that can be processed and used again; the beginning response to the terrible trash problem that exists in our throwaway nation. If each of us does our share, we can begin to make a difference in the world at large.

At one time everyone saved and reused and bought returnable - do we need to change and go back to this way once again to help "Keep Texas and America Beautiful"?

Think about this - what is your contribution for the next generation?

FOOD SAFETY IMPORTANT FOR PREGNANT WOMEN AND NEWBORNS

Increasing knowledge of the potential effects of foodborne illness for pregnant women, newborns and infants indicates that food safety precautions can make a difference when it comes to health.

Any illness a pregnant woman contracts can affect her unborn child. While the fetus has some immunities from the mother's blood, its immune system is immature and vulnerable. This is true for newborns and infants particularly, and even for developing young children.

Because pregnant women and their children are more vulnerable, they may get sick from harmful bacteria in food, even if no one else in the household does. Common symptoms of foodborne illness include nausea, upset stomach and diarrhea - the onset within a few hours to a day or two after eating. But, the consequences of foodborne illness can be particularly severe for those with weakened immune systems. For this reason those who are more susceptible should contact a doctor immediately if foodborne illness is suspected.

For very young children, foodborne illness can lead to a number of complications, including urinary tract infections, meningitis and kidney failure. Dehydration in infants is a common consequence.

A newly recognized bacteria, Listeria monocytogenes, can cause spontaneous abortions and stillbirths. Surviving newborns may contract meningitis, which can be fatal or lead to permanent mental deficiency. Listeria bacteria is found in raw or undercooked meats, poultry, seafood and eggs, unpasteurized dairy products like "raw" milk and soft imported cheese. It also may be found in ready-to-eat packaged foods such as lunch meats and spreads. Although the type of illness caused by this bacteria is rare, awareness of its possibility is important. Precautionary measures include the following:

- Never eat raw or undercooked meat, poultry, seafood or eggs.
- Don't spread bacteria from raw foods. Wash hands, utensils, cutting boards and counters that contact raw food before taking the next step in food preparation.
- Cook raw food thoroughly. For meat and poultry there should be no pink color and juices should run clear. Eggs should be cooked solid, both the yolk and the white. Fish should flake with a fork.
- Promptly refrigerate cooked meat and poultry in small, shallow containers.
- Refrigerate any food marked "refrigerate." Don't keep lunch meats or spreads more than two weeks after purchase. Use or discard open packages in three or four days.
- When eating out:
 - Never eat raw or undercooked meat, poultry or seafood such as steak tartare (a raw hamburger dish), raw oysters or clams. Make sure food is well-cooked with no pink in hamburger, steak, roasts or poultry. Fish should flake easily with a fork. If hamburger is not well done, send it back. It's a consumer's right.
 - Avoid ordering foods with raw or undercooked eggs. This means Caesar salad, perhaps chocolate mousse, some custards as well as "homemade" ice cream and mayonnaise. If uncertain about the ingredients, ask the waiter or waitress, or just avoid the dish.
 - Don't eat any unpasteurized dairy products such as imported soft cheese or "raw" milk.
 - Food should be served piping hot. If not, send it back.

Letter to the Editor

Letter to the Editor:

Members of the MHS graduating class of 1960 would like to take this means to thank our classmate, Pete Chambliss of Plainview, for all his hard work in getting us together each year at Homecoming. Pete, with the help of Robin Darsey of Matador and Tom (Clem) Edwards of Houston, always make arrangements for our class reunion and invites other classes to join us.

Thanks again, Pete, we do appreciate you.

Motley County Tribune
Dear Editor and Staff,

We on the museum board wish to thank the Motley County Tribune for its support and contributions toward our project with its cooperation in printing news articles and progress up-dates. As a non-profit organization, frugally trying to stretch every dollar to the maximum, we appreciate your donation in the manner.

Seeing you cover the various meetings of the school board, city council, county commissioners, hospital board, or numerous other groups,

Dear Barbara,

I sincerely enjoyed being the Emcee at the 1991 Motley County school homecoming program. I am, of course, pleased and flattered by the comments in the newspaper.

I do feel the need to put the finishing touches to a portion where I know that I was less than adequate.

When Donna completed her presentation and returned to her seat, taking with her, my notes and program, I went into a panic and broke into a cold sweat. I recovered my notes and my composure and the audience had a chuckle. Donna and I couldn't have planned it so well.

The response by the audience to Donna's presentation certainly indicated that they did not need prompting by the Emcee to recognize the beauty of her work and the sincerity of her feelings. Nevertheless, if I could do it over again,

To the Editor:

Bravo to Pennie Keltz for addressing an issue that surely has puzzled many parents. The absence of any reporting on junior high and junior varsity sports (football, basketball, etc.) almost makes these teams and events appear to be nonexistent.

Perhaps it is hard to find a writer or the space for these articles, but surely it is not too hard to obtain scores every week. A team roster would also be appropriate.

seum board at all hours of the day or night, we know you are committed to "getting the word out."

Another "unsung hero" is Pay-N-Save, a business, though considered a chain owned by outside interests, that has shown exceptional support to many local causes, including ours. We appreciate them any way this grocery store, local manager Billy Donaldson, and owner Roger Lowe help the community.

Sincerely,
Marisue Potts, Secretary
Motley Co. Historical Museum

I would keep my notes in my pocket and I would properly acknowledge Donna's presentation.

I would say that Donna had put a lot of thought, time, effort and all of her heart into that presentation and she will never know how deeply she touched our feelings. I was told by someone that never attended school in Motley County and had never even met Donna that her presentation was so wonderful that it even made her cry.

Donna, thank you for your wonderful contribution to the program.

To you Barbara, it is a credit to your journalistic ability, the way you sorted out and photographed the individual classes at the VFW. However, part of the credit should probably go to the class of 1960 for complete cooperation.

Sincerely,
Ed D. Smith

Although it is the parents who search the Tribune for this coverage, I'm sure many others in the community would be interested in the facts if they appeared each week.

If it is impossible to produce regular, or at least occasional, articles concerning junior high and JV sports, at least give us a weekly scoreboard.

Thanks!
Elaine Risser

Floydada Woman In Need Of Funds For Lung Transplant

Jimmie West, of Floydada, has not only been fighting a deadly lung disease for two years, but she has also been fighting insurance companies and bureaucratic red tape.

The 48 year old daughter of well known Floydadian, Irene King, Jimmie Jo was first diagnosed with emphysema in 1989. "The doctors now say that is not emphysema, because I have gotten progressively worse instead of stabilizing. I am on oxygen all the time now."

"Most people with emphysema can get around with their oxygen tanks. I can't even do that. I have to be still all the time. I pass the time away doing corchet and making dolls."

Now living with just 18% of her lungs, Jimmie and her family are trying to raise the money needed for a lung transplant.

Living off the money from SSI and Medicaid, neither Jimmie or any of her family have the $135,000 necessary for the operation. "I don't qualify for Medicare," said Jimmie Jo. "Medicaid will pay for heart, kidney and liver transplants, but not for lung transplants."

"They say the reason they don't insure it, is because it is still experimental and not as many lung transplants are done."

"The doctor's said that it is unusual for a woman my age to have this lung disease. It usually afflicts the elderly, but after the transplant there is an 85% survival rate."

Jimmie is also afflicted with a gum disease and kidney stones. In order to qualify for the operation, she will have to take care of those two problems first. "There can be no risk of infection from other problems, when I get the new lung," said Jimmie. "The doctors said they my body will need all my strength to fight the lung rejection."

"I don't know if Medicaid will pay the kidney stone operation but I know they won't pay to get my gums fixed. Medicaid won't pay for the oxygen I need either and they wouldn't pay for the tests that I had to have to see if I could qualify for a transplant. Those tests alone cost $18,000. My children managed to scrape that together."

Medicaid is not the only insurance company that Jimmie has been fighting with the past two years.

"While I worked at the tax appraisal office in Plainview (from 1984-1989) I belonged to the group insurance called Benefits Foundation. When Hale County changed insurance I had to stay with Benefits because I was sick at the time and uninsurable. I continued to pay Benefits every month and they continued to cash my checks, but when I sent in claims they said they were unable to locate my policy (even though they kept cashing my checks)."

In frustration Jimmie Jo contacted the State Board of Insurance and complained. When they got back to her the State board told her that "it is a big mess and you should sue. We can't do anything for you."

Living off of SSI payments of $407.00 a month and paying prescription bills of $40-$50 a month, this solution was out of the question for Jimmie. "We pay them (the State Board of Insurance), and they won't do anything for me."

It wouldn't matter now if Jimmie could afford a lawyer. "I found out a year ago that State Benefits went out of business." Before working at the appraisal office in Plainview, Jimmie also worked in Floyd County Appraisal Office for two years, and also as a waitress at Kings Restaurant (owned by her parents) before that.

Since her divorce in 1975, Jimmie has raised her three children; Rickey West, of Dickens; Bobby West, of Lubbock; and Tonya Keith, of Floydada.

Since 1989, when she was diagnosed with the disease and forced to quit her job in Plainview, Jimmie has gotten progressively worse. In the last year she has lost 5-7% of her lung capability.

"I have no doubt that we will be able to raise the money needed," said Jimmie's mother, Irene King. "The fear I have is that we won't be able to raise it in time. If she gets any kind of infection while we are waiting, it could be fatal. If she gets a cold she winds up in intensive care."

Because of this, Jimmie does not know how long she could live without the transplant. "The doctor said that thinking optimistically I could live 2-3 years, but that everyday I was losing ground."

If and when the money is raised, Jimmie would have to move to San Antonio where the surgery would be performed. "I would have to live there and wait for a donor to come through," said Jimmie. "I could wait anywhere from one day to four months."

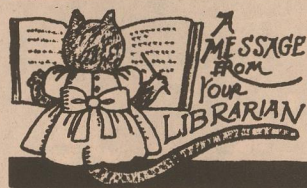

"The doctors will provide me with a beeper. When they get a call that they have donor I will be called on the beeper. Then I contact them and they get me to the hospital. There is a Lear Jet standing by that will take a team of doctors to get the lung and bring it to San Antonio. The lung will need to be in my body 4-6 hours after it is taken from the donor."

"I will be given medicine to totally paralyze me for two days after the operation, and I will have to stay in San Antonio for six months to make sure my body is accepting the new lung. The doctors say that the first six months are the most critical even though my body could reject it at any time, but they also said I have a very good chance to live after the transplant."

Because of the cost and because Jimmie and her family have gone as far as they can on their own, they are now looking to the community for help.

A Love Fund has been started in her name at the First National Bank of Floydada and a benefit dance is planned for October 5 at the Massie Activity Center.

"Everyone has been very nice to me," said Jimmie. "But I have told everyone that all the crocheting I have been doing is going to stop as soon as I get my new lung. I'm not going to sit on this couch anymore. This is now way for a 48 year old woman to live and I know with God's help and the help of the community, I'm going to get well."

Amy's Anecdotes

by Amy Woolsey

Have you ever considered the human trait of offering un-ask-for advice. When we offer this un-ask-for advice you must consider that (1) the advice will most likely be ignored, anyway; (2) You have to wear a person's shoes for awhile to be competent to advice them; (3) Your helpful advice may be wrong!; (4) You could lose or offend a valued friend (we can't have too many); and (5) Everyone has the right to make their own mistakes. Sometimes its the best to keep your mouth shut! How come it's human nature to ignore this very good piece of advice?

GOOD SOLDIERS

Hardships, like dangers, are usually experienced before their severity becomes apparent. Those who have suffered most are more reluctant to describe tribulations that can but seem a little foolish and weak beneath the burden of martyr's glory. Good soldiers seldom find pleasure in the discussion of unpleasant things that each has known in battle.

Garden Club Has Program On Artistic Creations In Wood

A program on "Artistic Creations in Wood" was given by an authoritative guest speaker, Earl Bates of Paducah, for Matador Garden Club in regular meeting, Monday, October 21, at the Senior Citizens Building. Mrs. Edgar Lee presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. W.N. Pipkin, and welcomed the speaker, guests and a new member.

Introduced by Mrs. Douglas Meador, program leader, Mr. Bates is practically a native of Paducah, having lived there since he was two years old. "I'm proud I'm from Paducah," he declared. "That's where I grew up and went to school." He graduated from high school in 1940 and later served in the U.S. Army. His hobby of wood carving began at an early age, when he started making baseball bats.

"I like to make something out of nothing," he said as he explained the stages of his work, from original wood forms, through planning, sanding, carving, assembling, waxing and polishing. "The finishing is all done by hand and no paints or stains are ever used," he said. While he is allergic to mesquite dust, and collects; and uses other types of wood, including many exotic and hard to find varieties, he specializes in mesquite art.

He has had shows across the United States, and always, where he travels he acquires woods, such as walnut, pecan, jujube, ebony, bois d'arc, hackberry, iron wood and cedar, to mention only a few. As he spoke he demonstrated by making the body of a duck from a piece of mesquite from which he had planed the bark.

Mr. Bates brought a display of his work, including jewel boxes, ducks and other ornamental pieces. Ducks are his favorite and most popular subject and he makes them in eight sizes. He also had pictures of exquisite tables which he has fashioned. His wide selection of items range from bookends and lamp stands to chapparrals and dolphins. He accepts no orders on consignment as he prefers to take his time in working on an article. One of his noteworthy projects was making furniture for the Sanderson House, the former home of early residents of Paducah, which is furnished entirely in mesquite, and which can be visited by appointment.

Mr. Bates concluded the program with a question and answer session, in which the audience participated.

Following the interesting program, Mrs. Lee and Mrs. Ed Lawrence served refreshments of hot spiced tea with an

Caprock Jamboree To Be Held This Saturday

Yes, the CAPROCK JAMBOREE is still having its monthly show. It just gets better and better every first Saturday of each month. We are getting to be known as the "Music City of Texas". This all takes place in the BRISCOE COUNTY SHOWBARN in SILVERTON, TEXAS. Many, many individuals from around the area have said we have the "best country entertainment" in the Panhandle. Where else can you go for good family entertainment that is absolutely FREE and also receive a chance to win a doorprize? The doorprizes are donated by local merchants and citizens to help promote the JAMBOREE.

For the NOVEMBER 2ND SHOW, Dalton Woods, the saxophone player, from Tahoka, Tx. along with his band will be returning. Dalton and his band have played many years in and around the Lubbock area. Other musicians to be entertaining on the show will be Benny Cox, Tommy Stewart, Country Sounds and The Hesters. So as you can see, we have a great line-up of entertainment.

The music will begin at 7:00 p.m. Bring your lawn chairs, but if you should forget your chairs come on in because we do have lots of chairs.

Be sure and come early because the recently re-organized Silverton Boy Scouts, Troop 262 will serve barbecue on the bun, chips, tea or coffee, and a desert. The proceeds will be used to buy supplies for their organization. They need all kinds of camping equipment and many other supplies. They will begin serving at 6:00 p.m.

To summarize all the above information: Plan now to attend the CAPROCK JAMBOREE in SILVERTON, TEXAS, NOVEMBER 2ND AT THE BRISCOE COUNTY SHOWBARN. The meal to begin at 6:00 p.m. and the great music to begin at 7:00 p.m. Bring your lawn chairs and get ready for 3 hours of FAMILY ENTERTAINMENT!

Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy.

"A VAPOR... THAT VANISHETH AWAY"

"What is your life? It is even a vapor, that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away." (James 4:14). When I was a kid, the workings of a tea kettle amazed me. I watched the steam rise from the spout and wondered where it went. I later learned that steam is vapor, that "disappears" as it becomes a part of the atmosphere. As time passed, I learned of many other things that are like that steam I used to watch.

Many times we seek those things that seem to offer security, pleasure, profit and durability. But James points out for us that life is "vapor, that vanisheth away." What a tragedy is a life that is lived for the "vaporous" things. For such a life can have no real substance.

A few weeks ago I again stood in the East Mound Cemetery. I saw again the evidence for Biblical truth. "It is appointed unto men once to die..." (Hebrews 9:27). Yes, the evidence is there! I could not help but think as I stood there, how puny I am! So many people lived, and died and were buried there. Now all the sign of them is gone except a carved stone. My thoughts were, yes, me too and who would remember me in 50 years? If we do live our "three score and ten," that seventy years is but a "VAPOR" compared with the stream of time. And time itself is nothing, when compared with Eternity! What is your life...??

High Plains Cotton Producers now have a symbol to look for when buying planting seed according to Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers (PCG). That symbol is the new Plains Cotton Improvement Program (PCIP) logo. The logo will be used to identify new cotton varieties whose development can be directly traced to the research of Dr. John Gannaway.

Gannaway, a cotton breeder with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in Lubbock, has been conducting research designed to enhance the quality and yield of High Plains cotton. Funding for his research comes from a 10-cent per bale check-off collected at area compresses and distributed through the Plains Cotton Improvement Committee.

The committee, made up of producers with an advisory panel of scientists and merchants, approved the new design October 1. The committee's goal is to give High Plains producers an easy-to-identify symbol, one that identifies the improved varieties developed as a result of their enhancement program.

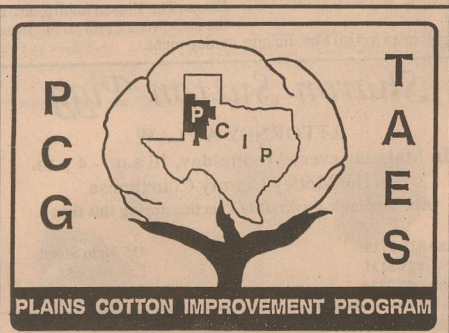

Results stemming from the improved cotton being grown on the High Plains were illustrated at the recent Texas Cotton Association (TCA) Flow/Marketing meeting in Lubbock on October 17. Over 200 cotton merchants and shippers from across the Belt gathered to exchange information concerning this segment of the cotton industry.

Several of the speakers presented information highlighting the rising quality and demand High Plains cotton has acquired in the last few years. Figures from a recent TCA survey of merchants who market approximately 50 percent of the High Plains crop each year indicate that total shipping commitments to date for the 1991 West Texas and Oklahoma crops are running at slightly over 2.25 million bales. This is more than double the level of commitments at this same time last year.

Lester Smith, with Cone Mills Greensboro, NC, said his company expects to purchase as much as 400,000 bales of High Plains cotton from the 1991 crop. He noted the efforts of the Plains Cotton Improvement Program as one of the keys to the increasing popularity of High Plains cotton.

"In the past cotton grown on the High Plains was rated near the bottom in terms of quality," notes Gannaway. "Today High Plains cotton has moved up to second or third compared to cotton grown in the other growing regions of the U.S. and our goal is to eventually be number one."

The introduction of this new logo gives High Plains producers the ability to recognize the new varieties they helped develop through the Plains Cotton Improvement Program.

WTU Announces Changes In Senior Management

Glen Churchill

Abilene -- West Texas Utilities Company today announced three changes in its senior management. Glen D. Churchill, president and chief executive officer, notified the board of directors that he plans to retire May 1, 1992. At the same meeting the board elected Glenn Files to the new position of executive vice president, and elected Paul J. Brower vice president, marketing and business development.

Churchill has led the company since July 1979. He began his utility career at WTU in 1964 as assistant to the controller following employment with Arthur Andersen & Co., an accounting firm. He progressed through various financial positions, and was elected to the board of directors and vice president and treasurer of WTU in 1972.

In 1976 Churchill was elected executive vice president of Central Power and Light company which, like WTU, is a subsidiary of Central and South West Corporation. He returned to WTU as president and chief executive officer in 1979.

The Centralia, Illinois native received his BBA in accounting from Texas A&M University in 1956 and is a Certified Public Accountant. He attended the Advanced Management Program at Harvard University in 1978.

Churchill was an officer and member of the board of directors of the Abilene Chamber of Commerce. He also has served as president and is a director of the Abilene Chamber of Commerce Foundation and the Abilene Industrial Foundation. He has been campaign chairman and president of the United Way of Abilene. He has been chairman and a director and member of the executive committee of the West Texas Rehabilitation Center, and serves on the WTRC Foundation Board.

He is a director of the Hendrick Medical Center Foundation, the Hardin-Simmons University Center for Economic Education, Abilene Improvement Corporation, and the Abilene Tax Increment District. At the state level he serves on the board of directors of the Texas Chamber of Commerce, the Texas Research League, The Texas Association of Taxpayers and the Texas Council on Economic Education.

Professional affiliations include the Abilene chapter of Certified Public Accountants, the Texas Society of Public Accountants and the American Institute of CPAs. He also is a director of the Electric Reliability Council of Texas and the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation.

Churchill and his wife Joy have three grown children, Susan Hicks, Sheryl Cosgrove, and David Churchill, and are members of Our Savior Lutheran Church. They plan to stay in Abilene following retirement.

Files most recently was vice president of marketing and business development and member of the board of directors of CPL. He has held that position since September 1990 when he transferred from Public Service Company of Oklahoma, another Central and South West company.

He joined PSO in 1971 and held several positions in the accounting, customer service, and operations areas of that company before being named director of corporate planning and analysis in 1988. His community work includes membership and leadership positions with the Jaycees, Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions Clubs. He was district chairman and executive council member for the Boy Scouts of America Indian Trails Council in Oklahoma. Files has been involved in numerous Chambers of Commerce in the communities he has served, and also has worked in United Way activities. He received a bachelor of science degree from Cameron University in Lawton, Oklahoma. He has completed the Oklahoma State University Management Development Program and the Program for Management Development at Harvard University.

Files and his wife, Linda Reilly, have six children, Ryan 16, Natalie 13, Preston 9, Alan 7, Lesley 5, and Elizabeth 2, and are members of the Episcopal Church.

Paul Brower replaces Bill Elmore, who was recently named vice president, marketing and business development for Central and South West Services in Dallas, another subsidiary of Central and South West Corporation.

Brower formerly was Eastern division manager for Public Service Company of Oklahoma in McAlester, Okla. During this 25 years of service to PSO he worked in consumer services and marketing areas. He was named division sales manager in 1984, sales development manager in 1985, and corporate sales manager in 1986. He was named division manager in September 1990.

Brower, graduated from Northwestern Oklahoma State University in 1976 with a BS in marketing following four years of service in the Navy. He has been associate director of the Oklahoma State Home Builders Association. Paul and his wife, Regina, have two sons, Jason, 15, and Matthew, 9.

Southwest Outdoors

with Mel Phillips

Somewhere between Matador and Lake Baylor on Highway 94 may live the world's greatest concentration of scissor-tailed flycatchers. While returning from a recent fishing trip, I counted 52 birds within a three-mile stretch of road. Either I encountered a fall migration, or that part of Texas has the most timid cats in North America.

Seeing the scissor-tails brought back a flood of childhood memories when, as a five year old, I tried valiantly to convince my father to do something about those killer birds that lived in the field next to our house. Their near-miss dives seemed very threatening to me. It was a wise man that decided to spare their lives until they actually touched his son.

It was the five-year-old kid in me who stopped the car, but alas, scissor-tails of 1991 are not as bold as those of 1950. They just looked down from their lofty perches on the powerlines and not one would give me a good dive-bomb attack.

MARC HARDT of Hereford is quietly wearing out his supply of secret worms. It is difficult to imagine how he has disposed of 10,000 of those fantastic fish catching baits. Except for the help of good friends like JOHN KOVACS of Dimmitt, a supply that size should have lasted for at least five years.

I really appreciated the bag of twenty (yeah, only 20). Can't wait to try them out, but I have decided to wait until my winter trip to Mexico.

Enjoyed receiving a letter from JIM SIMPSON of Canyon concerning his first hand experience with the results of a Texas Parks and Wildlife cove kill. Seems his favorite cove at Lake MacKenzie stopped producing for some three years following a research project that included the notorious COVE KILL - the chemical killing of every creature that takes its oxygen from the water.

Too bad that Jim is not an "expert" like those conducting these fish kills. After all he only holds the Lake MacKenzie Record for smallmouth bass AND white bass. Certain so-called experts are too quick in dismissing the opinions of fishermen, because it is the rod-and-reel citizens like Mr. Simpson who deserve more respect from government employees.

POE'S LURES - It may not be worth a special trip to Amarillo, but if you are already there, be sure to drop in at North Marine because Bobby Nolan is selling Poe's crankbaits for $1.50. Poe's are the favorite baits of professionals like Rick Chunn and usually sell for about $5.00. Anchor's price is a real bargain but they are going fast.

Hunting Season is here. Can the protests from the animal rights fanatics be far behind? Enjoy this hunting season because powerful groups are working to stop future hunts and then they will want to take away your guns.

Public Notice

On July 1, 1991, Southwestern Bell Telephone filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas that proposes to delete Paragraph 3.4(G) from Section 3 of Southwestern Bell's intrastate Access Service Tariff, which concerns credits where a customer uses Switched Access Service to furnish a service which has been defined to be an exchange service. The application was assigned Docket No. 10463.

Because Southwestern Bell is not aware of any customers who presently use switched access service to furnish an exchange service, Southwestern Bell does not believe its revenues will be affected. However, certain interexchange carrier customers of switched access service have made claims under the aforementioned tariff. Such customers, but only to the extent they provide an exchange service using switched access, would be affected by this application. Based on claims made for credits (assuming such credits were allowable), Southwestern Bell's revenues would be affected by no more than $1,168,962 annually, which is .037 percent of the Company's adjusted revenue for the 12-month period ending December 31, 1990. It is not possible to know how many interexchange carriers might believe themselves entitled to credits, but 189 carriers have registered with the Commission pursuant to PUC Substantive Rule 23.61.

The tariff, after suspension, is proposed to be effective May 1, 1992.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible, but no later than November 15, 1991. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256. The telecommunications device for the deaf (TDD) number is (512) 458-0221.
