Since its beginning in 1969, Central Plains MHMR Center's primary objective has been to help individuals who experience problems creating an inability to handle everyday situations. The Center serves a nine county area working with the communities to develop, provide, and coordinate the delivery of mental health and developmental disability services to residents in BAILEY, BRISCOE, CASTRO, FLOYD, HALE, LAMB, MOTLEY, PARMER, and SWISHER counties. A very important part of the services delivered by the Center concerns consultation with various agencies, schools, civic organizations; also education in the form of programs and classes presented by staff members.

Mr. Mahaney received his B.A. in 1976 from Austin College and holds a Master's degree from Texas A&M University. He is a member of the Biofeedback Society of America, Texas Psychological Association, American Psychological Association, International Association of Applied Psychology and International Council of Psychologists to only name a few organizations.

While on staff last year at R. N. Dedman Medical Center in Farmers Branch, Texas he organized social and recreational activities, led patient workshops and group therapy sessions. He also has experience working with juvenile delinquents, the terminally ill, and the developmentally disabled.

Mr. Mahaney lists his special interests as being in the areas of travel (Europe especially), karate, soccer, calligraphy, jogging, and children. He stresses that the Center's services are confidential and would like to encourage our community to get to know the many services that the Center does provide. He will also be available to speak to Civic and Social agencies as well as provide preventative work within the community and school system. Come by South Plains Health Provider or phone 347-2641.

Motley County Judge Bill Whitaker comments about the Center, "What it boils down to is that Central Plains MHMR Center is a needed service. There are times that the Center is irreplaceable...when we need the Center, we need it."

Storage Building Burns In Roaring Springs

Fire Department units from Roaring Springs and Matador were called out early Monday morning to fight a storage building fire in Roaring Springs.

Approximately 5000 burlap bags belonging to Dean McInroe were destroyed in the fire.

The bags were new and still in bundles, and the estimated loss was between $12,000 and $15,000.

The Matador fire department received the call at 12:30 a.m. Monday and responded with four units. Roaring Springs responded with one truck.

The fire was under control within 45 minutes but the roof caved in before it could be saved. Firemen remained on the scene until 3:30 a.m. mopping up and putting out hot spots.

Although the temperature was just about at the freezing mark, firemen were not bothered by freezing lines. The only problem encountered was the lack of water.

It is reported Mr. McInroe plans to reroof the building and continue to use it.

A Second Glance

By Leon Watson

Now that everyone has stopped throwing bricks at me over last week's column, I can sit down and write another one. Last week I wrote about the Lions Club not paying for the Emergency Warning System.

Before the paper hit the street Larry Hoyle paid me a visit and told me I didn't know what I was talking about. Forrest Campbell even put an ad in the paper giving me the "what for."

The hang up in last week's column was the word "voted." The Lions Club did not vote not to pay for the system. It was "discussed" and the board of directors "decided" not to pay for the system. It was "discussed" twice and "decided" on twice. It was not "voted" on.

As far as agreeing to sponsor the emergency system, the Lions Club feels it never agreed to sponsor the system. But when the letters were sent out to cable subscribers they were signed by the President of the club and the words "Matador Lions Club" were put under his name.

This gives the impression the Lions Club was behind the system 100 per cent. It also strongly suggests sponsorship. We are aware of the hundreds of projects of the Lions Club that have made Matador a better place to live. We, also, shudder to think what Matador would be like today, except for the efforts of the Lions Club.

We received this letter from a resident of Roaring Springs:

Dear Editor,

I wish to commend the volunteer firemen of Matador and Roaring Springs for the efficient manner in which they put out the fire in Roaring Springs Monday morning. I do have a suggestion for the method used in reporting a fire.

Too much time is wasted between the observation of a fire and the reporting of the fire to the fire department. In the case of Roaring Springs, it is recommended that the switch for activating the alarm should be located in the outer office of the city hall. In addition, the switch on the telephone pole should be left there, but a red light should be placed

Vivian Jacobs Testifies For United Parcel Service

Vivian E. Jacobs, owner and manager of Matador Variety Store appeared recently in Austin before the Railroad Commission of Texas to testify in hearings on United Parcel Service's application for service rights.

UPS is seeking authority from the Commission to provide full intrastate service -- pickup and delivery of packages between all points within Texas. Currently, UPS can only provide interstate service except within the commercial-free zones of Dallas-Fort Worth, Houston and San Antonio.

Texas is one of just two states that restrict UPS intrastate. Jacobs testified that the lack of UPS service within the state has seriously hampered the operation of her business. Jacobs cited no pickup or delivery service, slow delivery time, prohibitive rates, and damages as the major problems being encountered with other delivery services Matador Variety Store currently uses. And, parcel post also does not fill their needs, Jacobs added.

These hearings have been underway since last September and are scheduled to continue well into 1983. Hundreds of business people from throughout the state are expected to testify as to their need for having UPS available for shipments on an intrastate basis. UPS has been seeking this authority from the Commission since 1966.

Social Security In Motley County

By Terry J. Clements

The celebrity with a somber tone explained that Medicare pays less than half of one's medical bills. He continued the television commercial by recommending that the viewers call toll-free for information about the medical plan endorsed by him.

It is true that Medicare, like most medical plans, will not cover all costs. However, a person considering additional coverage probably will need more of an explanation about Medicare than provided by the gentlemen in the commercial. First, Medicare consists of two parts. Part A is a hospital insurance plan while Part B is designed to help pay for other medical expenses.

Hospital insurance (part A) has a $304.00 deductible for the first 60 days that a beneficiary is a patient in the hospital. This deductible has to be paid for each hospital stay in which more than two months have elapsed since the previous stay. Part A covers services for a beneficiary while in the hospital such as semi-private room, meals, special care units, drugs, blood transfusions, lab tests, X-rays and radiology, medical supplies, operating and recovery room, anesthesia and rehabilitation therapy.

Medicare will not pay for personal convenience items such as TV or radio. Private rooms are covered if medically necessary. After 60 days in the hospital, Medicare pays all covered services except $65.00 per day. When the hospital stay is over 90 days, Medicare will only pay if the patient draws upon a "life-time reserve" that is available to each beneficiary.

Part B, the medical insurance plan, pays 80% of approved charges. The plan has a yearly deductible of $75.00. Part B of Medicare helps pay for medical and surgical services, diagnostic tests, X-rays, drugs that cannot be self-administered, transfusions, medical supplies and physical therapy. Medicare will not pay for routine physical exams, routine foot care, eye or hearing exams for glasses or hearing aids, immunizations, or cosmetic surgery.

The amount of approved charges is determined by a yearly study. Claims are handled by an organization known as the carrier. Each year, the carrier reviews the actual charges by physicians for the previous year in the respective geographical area. The carrier, from this review, determines the "customary" and "prevailing" charges. The customary charge is the amount most frequently charged by physicians and suppliers for each type of service. The prevailing charge is the amount high enough to cover the customary charges in three out of every four bills submitted in the previous year. When a claim is filed, Medicare will pay 80% of the customary or prevailing charge, whichever is lower.

If you are considering additional medical insurance or just want to know more about Medicare, write or call the Social Security office in Plainview. We will send you, at no charge, "The Medicare Handbook" and "Guide to Health Insurance for People with Medicare". That address is 1401-B West 5th Street, Plainview, zip code 79072 or call 293-4371.

In New Hampshire, tradition rules Old-style legislature

By Tom Tiede

CONCORD, N.H. (NEA) — When the New Hampshire legislature began work for its 148th session on Jan. 5, the lawmakers began to wrestle with such issues as abortion, nuclear energy, toxic wastes, sex discrimination and ecology.

But don't let that fool you. The legislators may talk of modern matters and vote up-to-date bills, but they do it with strict tradition. That's because the New Hampshire legislature is the most old-fashioned in the nation. Some would say it is also the most anachronistic. Rule making in other states has changed with the times and the necessities, but the procedure here has remained largely the same for the past two centuries.

The legislators still restrict their business to one session every two years, for example. Occasionally they may conduct a special convention. The New Hampshire government is still accepted with mere tolerance, and there is not much popular sentiment to make it a full-time activity.

Nor is there much sentiment to make it comfortable. So the legislators are sworn to privation as well as tradition. They are not given allowances for staffs, or offices, or telephones, or stationery, or research. A personal aide in Concord is as rare as a photostat machine.

The lawmakers do not even have desks on the floors of the bicameral statehouse. Members sit on red folding seats, like those in motion picture theaters. There are slots on the seats, for the storage of documents; legislators are advised to throw wastepaper on the floor for the custodian.

Of course, some members do not throw much of anything away. Thrift is also a tradition in the legislature here. In 1889, the lawmakers were granted a remuneration of $200 for each biennial term, and that salary, which works out to less than 30 cents a day for the period, is still in effect.

California legislators receive $28,000 a year. Those in Missouri get $15,000. But New Hampshire clings tenaciously to its frugal roots. The state has never enacted an income tax or a sales tax, and the legislators are expected to keep the faith, as it were, by working for virtually nothing.

Oh, there are some financial perquisites. The president of the Senate and the speaker of the House receive as much as $25 a year more than the other legislators. And everyone is eligible for a small travel allowance as well as reduced room rates ($21) at the nearby Ramada Inn. Otherwise, the generosity ends. If members write to constituents, they must pay for their own stamps. When lawmakers eat lunch between votes, they pick up their own checks. "That's the old values," says house clerk Carl Anderson, "and that's the way a lot of the members want it."

But it's not the way all the members want it. Consequently, the statehouse echoes with grumbles. The critics complain that the low pay and Spartan conditions foster inefficient and poorly considered legislation. They also think the traditions adversely affect the democratic process.

One claim is that the stinginess discourages good people from running for the office. The body has 424 members (it is the third largest English-speaking, democratically constituted legislative group in the world), but the big number does not necessarily guarantee competence.

Indeed the legislature is often overladen with the old and the inexperienced. They are the people who can afford the salary restrictions. Nearly 200 members in the New House are 60 years of age or beyond (50 are in their 70s and 80s), and dozens more are in or just out of their teens.

Many of the older people serve well, certainly. But others do not. The critics say some of them can't hear the debates, while others can't comprehend the voluminous reports. A few may even serve in precarious health during the 1979 term, seven members died before the session closed.

So the charge is that scores of these legislators are weak reeds, easily manipulated or ignored. And this is why the democratic process comes into question. The critics think that well paid and more professional legislators would be better able to serve the interests of New Hampshire.

And yet the argument has not found anything but minority favor during the 198 years of constitutional government here. And the old ways remain secure. Carl Anderson says reforms are sometimes introduced in the great granite statehouse, but inevitably, die for a lack of hands.

Besides, the old ways can't be too bad. Most of the legislators file for re-election every two years. They don't expect riches, they don't even make expenses, but they get the opportunity to serve for the sake of serving. That may be curious elsewhere, but in New Hampshire it's tradition.

Foot Facts

By Dr. Robert Brodtkin, D.P.M.

What Is Pronation?
Those people who are runners or those who regularly read sports magazines are probably familiar with the term "pronation." Although it is used often it is less frequently well defined. Today I will give a general picture of what pronation is and why it is sometimes good and sometimes bad.

Pronation is, by definition, a motion that occurs at the ankle joint and at the sub-talar joint (which is one of the major joints of the rear foot). These two joints together function as a universal joint allowing one type of motion of the leg to be converted to another type of motion in the foot. This allows up to plant the foot firmly on the ground ahead of us and swing the rest of the body over it while walking. If there were no sub-talar joint the foot would have to rotate with the body. Pronation also allows the foot to function as a shock absorber assuring that the knee does not take up the full shock of each step. Pronation in itself is not visible since it occurs at joints deep in the foot. However, there are three signs to tell us that pronation is occurring. The arch appears to flatten out or collapse, the heel turns outward, and the leg turns in. Thus, a flat foot is one in which excessive pronation is occurring (although not all pronated feet are flat). Also, a child who is knock-kneed is often, but not always, seen to be excessively pronated.

on the pole and the pole should be painted with a bright red color.

The citizens should be advised as to the location of the alarm and proper use. The paper can pass on this information.

If possible, arrangements made with one of the business people with a Matador telephone line to allow the city office to hook up an extension to that line. The phone would not have a dial but it would ring the Matador fire department the minute it was picked up to sound the alarm. The phone can be fixed so that when it is picked up it would also activate the siren in Roaring Springs to alert our Roaring Springs Fire Department.

I know that had a system such as this been available, instead of the whole building being totally destroyed, two thirds of the building would have been saved.

Time lost in activating the alarm can never be retrieved.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Paschal

Green and Paschal Exchange Wedding Vows

Marriage vows were exchanged Saturday, December 18, 1982 at 5:00 p.m. between Miss Sherry Green and Keith Paschal at the First Baptist Church, Matador, with Rev. Gary Hillyard, pastor, officiating the double-ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Ted Green of Matador, Donald Paschal of Paducah, and Mrs. Lorene Paschal of Guthrie.

Mrs. Howard Tra-week, of Matador, presented traditional wedding music and accompanied Richard Campbell, of Matador, as he sang "You Needed Me" and "Love Me Tender."

The bride was escorted to the altar by her brother, Rickey, of Matador.

The altar was flanked with baskets of pink roses and greenery. The bride wore a knit chiffon gown with a wide double flounce on a full skirt that merged into a chapel length train. The bodice had a round yoke of chiffon which was bordered with a wide wedgewood lace flounce and edged with satin ribbon, and had a stand up collar of matching lace and ribbon. The long, fitted sleeves of wedgewood lace were trimmed with a ruffled cut and satin ribbon. She wore a fingertip veil of illusion, bordered with chantilly lace.

She carried a bouquet of silk miniature roses and baby's breath.

Miss Sharla Green, sister of the bride, of Matador, served as Maid of Honor. She wore a floor-length gown of pink satin knit and carried a single long stemmed pink rose.

Serving as Best Man, was Tommy Miller, of Paducah.

Ushering the guests was David Green, brother of the bride, of Matador.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the parlor of the church.

The bride's table was covered with a pink cloth with a white lace overlay. The three-tiered cake, decorated with miniature pink roses was made and served by Mrs. Donnie Buckelew, of Matador. Mrs. Rickey Green, sister-in-law of the bride, of Matador, served the punch from crystal appointments.

The couple are at home in Matador where the bride is employed at the Post Office and the groom has a plumbing business.

Durham, Northcutt Wed December 31st

Traditional wedding vows were exchanged by Dodie D'Ann Durham and Mark Alan Northcutt of Lubbock on Friday, December 31, 1982 in a 6:30 p.m. double-ring ceremony held in the Ford Memorial Chapel of the First Baptist Church of Lubbock. The Rev. Jarrell Real of New Home, friend of the groom, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Donald A. Durham and Christene Green Durham of Lubbock, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob J. Northcutt of Lubbock.

Altar decorations featured an archway of greenery accented with white bows. Tapers of white decorated the altar. To the right of the couple was a pedestal holding three white taper unity candles.

Before the vows were read, the parents of the bride and the groom lit a unity candle. The bride and groom lit their unity candle at the end of the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal length gown of lace fashioned in Southern Belle style with a sweetheart neckline and a fitted bodice tapering into a skirt of four scalloped tiers ending in a cathedral train. The embossed scallops of the neckline and skirt tiers were embellished with pearls. The full sleeves were gathered at the elbow releasing a deep scalloped ruffle extending midway over the fitted lower sleeve. The triple layered veil, finished in applique scalloped edges with embossed flowers, was attached to a lace bandeau adorned with seed pearls. The bride carried a cascading bouquet of white silk orchids with white satin streamers. The also carried two red roses and she presented one to her mother as she walked down the aisle, and one to her mother-in-law as she left the church.

The bride's dress was something new. A pearl necklace given to the bride by her great-grandmother, Mrs. C. M. Colley of Matador, was something old. Something borrowed was pearl earrings belonging to Terri Seybold of Lubbock, and she wore a blue garter.

The groom was attired in a white tuxedo with tails and wore a white boutonniere.

Maid of Honor for the bride, was her sister, Dana Durham of Lubbock. She wore a floor length dress of burgandy chiffon over burgandy silk. Her bouquet was burgandy and pink silk orchids.

Serving as Best Man for the groom was Tim Rowlette of Amarillo. He wore a grey tuxedo with a white boutonniere.

Larry Tardy, Lubbock, presented traditional wedding music and requested music, "If" and "Color My World."

Flower girl was Sunshine Gillum, niece of the groom. She wore a formal length gown of white fashioned identical to the bride. She carried a white basket of burgandy and silk flowers.

Ringbearer was Casey Green, cousin of the bride. He wore a white tuxedo identical to the groom and a white boutonniere.

Ushers for the couple were Jim Holt of Amarillo, and Sam Dobbs, Lubbock. They wore black tuxedos and white boutonnieres.

Photographers for the couple were Dr. Tom Green, uncle of the bride, of Midland and Helen Hood, Lubbock.

After leaving the altar, the couple were presented a white Bible with all of the guests registered inside. The Best Man made the presentation.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the home of the bride's mother. She was assisted by Julie Green, aunt of the bride, of Midland, Terri Seybold, Lori Pattello, and Nita Black, all of Lubbock.

The brides table was covered in white lace over burgandy and featured the three tiered cake decorated with the traditional bride and groom atop and pink and blue confections. White tapers flanked the cake. The groom's table was covered with a beige lace cloth and featured a chocolate cake flanked with tapers. Doing the honors at the tables were Sheri Turnbow, Amy Stokes, step-sister of the bride, Marla Robbins, Jan Willson and Sharon Gillum, sisters of the groom. The bride and groom were toasted in champagne by the bride's father.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents in the Commanders of Southern Seas Restaurant, Lubbock.

The bride chose a grey velour dress with beige trim and matching accessories for her wedding trip to Hawaii where the couple spent a week on the Island of Maui.

The bride attended Texas Tech and is now employed by Donald Durham Associates as office manager. The groom is attending Texas Tech working for his degree in advertising with a business minor. They are at home in Lubbock.

Grandparents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Green, Jr., of Matador, who attended the wedding. Also great-grandmothers, Mrs. C. M. Colley and Mrs. J. C. Green, Sr., are Matador residents.

Pre-nuptial honors for the bride included a miscellaneous shower on October 31, in the home of Nita Black with Reba Hewlett assisting, and a Brass and Glass shower in the home of Mary Rowlette in November, with Jan Willson and Sharon Gillum assisting. Also the bride was honored with a lingerie shower December 11, in the home of Terri Seybold assisted by Lori Pattello.

LIBRARY NOTES

By Beverly Darsey Librarian

Motley County Library now has 2502 cataloged paperbacks, and 3412 books that need to be cataloged. In order to meet minimum requirements for membership in the Texas Library System, our library must have 7500 cataloged books in its collection by April 1, 1984.

System membership is very important to Motley County Library. For the 1982-83 year, the West Texas Library System allotted $1547 in System funds for collection development in our local library. The books and periodicals provided with these funds began arriving in January.

Because our library is a provisional member of the West Texas Library System, we have been eligible for the past two years to receive State Library Establishment Grants ($16,300 last year and $23,000 this year) with which to purchase books, furniture, shelving, equipment, microfilms, and other library materials. The Motley County Library Board plans to apply for a third-year Establishment Grant in 1983.

System membership also provides films, filmstrips, and audiovisual equipment for our local library. We receive 20 films each month, a packet of filmstrips every other month, and we have access to a spot-booking collection of films and filmstrips from the Lubbock System office.

In addition, we frequently benefit from the services of Jim Schepke, System coordinator, and Jo Amandes, collection development consultant, of the Lubbock office. During the past two years both System advisors have made many trips to Motley County to help our fledgling library build a solid foundation for future growth.

Before April 1, 1984, we must catalog and process and 3412 uncataloged books presently on hand plus new purchases and donations. If you can volunteer your time, we greatly need your help typing catalog cards, printing and gluing pockets and check-out cards in books, and classifying books if you have a knowledge of the Dewey Decimal Classification system. If you cannot help in the library, perhaps you can take a box of books home to catalog and process. We are eager to hear from you!

A LETTER TO THE EDITOR
Mr. Johnson- In last week's Tribune, you wrote: "the Lions Board of Directors voted twice not to help pay for our emergency warning system."

This is utterly and totally untrue. How a supposedly fair-minded person could print such a statement that has not an iota of truth in it is hard for me to understand.
