Local Fire Department Upgrades Unit Equipment

The Matador Volunteer Fire Department now has enough good personal equipment to outfit 17 men, according to Alan Bingham, president of the organization.

The department recently acquired five new bunker overcoats, 11 pairs of boots, 10 helmets and two new Scott air packs.

The department also has placed into service a 1973 Chevrolet custom 20, three-quarter ton, pickup. The pickup was added to the fleet in April while still in custom form and was repainted and built into a "fire-wagon" by members of the fire department.

"The new pump-truck will be primarily for rural fires," said Dude Bailey, fire department spokesman. "However it can and will respond to structure fires in the city. It can pump from city fire plugs."

The fire department offered a special thanks to Tony Rose of Matador, for donating his time and effort in helping with the paint and body work.

Matador Fire Department To Sell Chances For Beef

The Matador Volunteer Fire Department will have a drawing on July 4 for a hindquarter of beef to raise money for the trip to the Texas A&M Fire School to be held the latter part of July. Tickets can be purchased from any Fire Department member or call Alan Bingham or James Gillespie.

USDA Announces New Barley Grain Reserve Program

Deputy Secretary of Agriculture Jim Williams has announced provisions for a new farmer-held grain reserve for barley.

Effective immediately, 1978 and 1979 crop barley which producers have under loan to the Commodity Credit Corporation may be placed in the new reserve. There are about 21 million bushels of 1978 crop barley and 22 million bushels from the 1979 crop under CCC loan, Williams said. Barley from the 1980 crop will be eligible for entry in the new reserve at the beginning of the harvest.

Under the new barley reserve program, U.S. Department of Agriculture officials will look only at market prices for feed barley where most of the reserve barley is located in determining the triggering of the commodity's release and call levels, Williams said.

A new reserve program is needed for the commodity because of barley's unique situation, Williams said. "While about 95 percent of old reserve barley is located in the Minneapolis marketing area, substantially higher West Coast area market prices have triggered the commodity's release and call levels under the old reserve program," he said.

Barley in the old reserve was placed in call status even though market prices were well below the reserve level in Minneapolis market area, Williams said.

Another problem for old reserve barley has been the exaggerated influence of higher priced malting barley over feed barley in the calculation of the commodity's market prices, Williams said.

Motley Jr. Rodeo To Kick-Off Friday

The Motley County Junior Rodeo will officially kick-off this Friday night at 8:00 p.m. at the Roaring Springs "Old Settlers Arena." A dance beginning at 9:30 p.m. will be held both Friday and Saturday night.

In addition to the Rodeo, an Open Team Roping sponsored by Harold and Elmer Parks, will be held following the Friday night performance. Contestants may enter during the rodeo. There will be a $30 entry fee for one-head and "pay back" will be determined by the number of teams entered.

The queen candidates for this year's rodeo are Miss Darla Dempsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dempsey of Flomot and Miss Renee Renfro, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Butch Renfro of Matador. The candidates are selling chances on a pair of adult handmade boots and the drawing will be held during the Saturday night performance. The queen will be crowned by Miss Rebeca Finch, 1979-80 Rodeo Queen.

A special attraction during the Rodeo will be a Stick Horse race for all preschoolers. There is no entry fee and stick horses will be furnished. Prize money will be paid to the top three winners in the following age divisions: age 4 and under; age 5 and 6.

Everyone is invited to come out and support these young people and enjoy the thrills and spills of Rodeo competition.

Baptist Women Review Disasters

Meeting Tuesday, June 3 at the home of Mrs. C. D. Garrison, the Baptist Women's Dorcas Group studied Southern Baptists Response to Disaster, from Royal Service magazine.

Mrs. Garrison, Mrs. Bill McCaghren and Mrs. Stuart Dixon presented the program in dialog form as the women told of the various ways in which the denomination assisted in relief work following disasters such as tornadoes, storms, floods, earthquakes, and other crises.

Calendar of Prayer for missionaries was read by Mrs. Eddie Russell. Others present were Miss Verlin Reeves, Miss Rachel Patton, and Mesdames Velma Fulfer, Edgar Lee, Cecil Shelton, Douglas Meador, Audrey Price, and J. D. Craven.

Mrs. Lee reminded the group that June 28 would be the starting date for the 100th observance of the founding of Women's Missionary Union in Texas, and that the local organization would be participating.

Baseball Bar-B-Que Planned For June 21

A "Walter Jones Baseball BBQ" will be held Saturday, June 21, 1980 at the American Legion Building.

Proceeds will be used to help purchase trophies for each player. These trophies will be presented at the end of the Championship playoffs in July.

Tickets will go on sale this week and the player selling the most tickets will receive a cowhide baseball glove and softball. The price of the tickets will be $3.50 per plate. Serving will begin at 5:30 p.m.

The barbecue will be sponsored by the Motley County Youth Organization. The M.C.Y.O. was organized by parents and volunteers in 1979 to sponsor a summer baseball program for Motley County youngsters. Through the tremendous support of the businesses and individuals of our county, the 1979 baseball program was able to meet expenses and use the remaining profit to make necessary repairs to Forest Park. A new backstop was installed by volunteers and equipment was purchased to replace broken bats and helmets. This is a non-profit organization and any profit above the necessary expenses will continue to be used toward replacing worn-out equipment and making improvements at Forest Park.

The M.C.Y.O. encourages everyone to continue supporting these youngsters by attending their baseball barbeque next Saturday, June 21.

Social Security Tips

By Virginia DeWitt S.S. Representative

Question: Why do people in prison get social security benefits?
 Answer: The Social Security Act provides that every individual working in employment covered by social security must pay FICA taxes and receive credit toward future benefit eligibility. If the individual has accumulated sufficient quarters of coverage, and meets all the other eligibility requirements (such as age, or total disability, or being a dependent or survivor of a worker) then that individual is entitled to social security benefits as an earned right. They must be paid. Nothing in the law states that if an individual is incarcerated his or her benefit is to be suspended or terminated.

Question: I will be 62 in the next year. How can I find out how much social security I will draw?
 Answer: You should contact the social security office with your name, social security number, date of birth, and last two years earnings. The office will furnish you with a benefit estimate, and discuss documents which you will need to file a claim for social security benefits. Anyone within one year of retirement should "Inquire Before you Retire".

Living With Inflation Shopping Sense

You really can stretch dollars, if you use shopping sense. This starts with a major step: gathering enough information BEFORE you shop, so you can make a wise choice. Before you shop, do three things:

- 1) Decide what items you need and want.
- 2) Keep up-to-date. Know what is available and where you can buy the product.
- 3) Make a shopping list -- you are less likely to buy items you do not need.

Once you start shopping, look in several stores. Compare prices, quality and services offered by the different stores. By shopping around and comparing prices and features of a product, you will also avoid some of the high-pressure sales methods.

Learn to ask questions.

Find out all you need to know before you buy. Be sure to find out what the warranty covers, where you can call for services, and what the store's exchange and refund policy is.

As a buyer, be aware of advertising appeal. Ads are intended to draw your attention of a product or service and make you want to buy it. Be careful about "bargains", too. A "bargain" is only a real bargain when it meets four criteria:

- when you really need or can use the item,
- when the price is lower than at other nearby stores,
- when the price is lower than usual for the item in that store,
- and when the item is right for your needs in size, color, quality, price and storage space.

First Assembly of God

Rev. & Mrs. T. L. Lillard

WELCOME TO OUR VISITORS:

It is a pleasure to invite you to First Assembly of God. We hope that through our services you will be uplifted and find help for your spiritual needs. If you do not have a church home, we invite you to be with us regularly.

Let him ask in faith, not doubting, James 1:6. When blind Bartimeaus, begging along the roadside, heard that Jesus was passing by, he called out to Him. Some people in the crowd told Bartimeaus to be quiet but he only cried louder. Jesus stopped and singled him out from the crowd. "What do you wish me to do for you?" He asked, and the blind man replied, "Master, that I may see." Receive your sight," Christ commanded. "Your faith has healed you." It wasn't the tears of blind Bartimeaus that healed his eyes. It wasn't the loud crying. It was his faith that stopped the Son of God and released His healing power. Christ is passing by today. As He came to the forgotten beggar, He will come to you with words of comfort and healing. When Christ hears your cry of faith, He will stop and ask, "What do you wish me to do for you?" In spite of the doubting crowd that may press around you, keep your mind on Christ. Do not despair. Do not let anything or anyone turn you back. Whisper His name, for He is the one who can bring you deliverance. Believe in His promises, for only He can bring the unlimited power of God into your life. Look to Christ with trust. He has never failed, and He won't fail you!

First Assembly of God - Where everyone is someone and Christ is Lord.

OUR PRAYER

God make the door of this church wide enough to receive all who need love, friendship, and Fatherly care, and narrow enough to shut out envy, pride, and hate. Make the threshold smooth that children and straying feet may not stumble, but rugged enough to turn back the tempter's power. God make the doorway of this church the gateway of the eternal kingdom to many precious souls.

THE BOY NEXT DOOR

Will the real "Tony Vine" please stand up? At that question, possibly two million Cub Scouts in the U.S. would answer and promptly declare they are all "Tony Vines." Confusing? Not really, because he could be the boy next door, the neighborhood paperboy, or your own son, nephew or relative.

Actually, "Tony Vine" is the fictional nine-year-old Cub Scout who will serve as the symbol and poster boy for the 1980 Golden Anniversary of Cub Scouting.

"Tony Vine is a typical Cub Scout, but it would be incorrect to assume that all boys are like him," notes Robert L. Untch, national director of the Cub Scouts. "Cub Scouts come from a wide range of areas and backgrounds. The one thing they all have in common, though, is that they learn from Cub Scouting while they contribute to its advancement."

And what about the family of this boy next door? They aren't particularly extraordinary. Mrs. Vine is an active PTA member and works in a nearby shopping center. Mr. Vine, once a Boy Scout himself, is now active on the pack committee. Tony's older brother is a Boy Scout working hard toward becoming an Eagle like his father. Even his older sister is quite active as a secretary for a medical Explorer post.

And Tony? He's just received his Bear Badge during the 50th Anniversary and can't wait to become a Boy Scout.

Shown are three examples of how rising prices are affecting the cost of producing electric energy. Of course everything else has gone up, too. Materials, equipment, labor - nothing has escaped the effects of inflation.

Which means that we at WTU are striving harder than ever to operate efficiently and economically as we meet the daily needs of our customers.

As always, WTU's goal is to provide a dependable supply of electric energy at the lowest practical cost. We hope you'll use it wisely.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

The way things are shaping up in our one party system, it appears that we are getting set up for another "Heads I win,--Tails you lose," farce, same as we've had from here back to 1920.

Those of us who don't belong to either branch of the set up wonder what to vote for - a traitor, a proven murderer, a queer, or some communist loving C.F.R. member. There isn't much choice for us, and only the willful blind are going to be satisfied with what is being force fed to us.

In 1921 "Puddin' Head" Wilson set up the Council of Foreign Relations and from that time on they have been the government behind our government, and it has been the C.F.R. that has set up every election for the past 60 years. Every election has been set up in such a way that we always voted against some one - never for any one. Always for the lesser of two evils, and always winding up with an evil.

One writer termed these C.F.R. boys and girls as "Red Moles", Red because they always work with, and for some communist regime, and Moles because they are digging the sand out from under our feet.

Ronald Reagan and John Connally have referred several times to this evil set up and both "Review of the News" and "Spotlight" published a list of these "Red Moles" last week,--Connally gave the same list that Reagan had named.

Several Republican candidates have already bitten the dust over their membership in this crummy, communist coddling set up. So unless "Jerry the Jerk" decides to run again (he's a C.F.R. member) the Republican's appear to have their set up cleaned up - except for several of the head honchos in their party.

Now it remains to be seen what the Democrats will do with their line up, - unless they come up with some new candidates, their whole set up is "evil".

Last June there were 1979 C.F.R. members scattered all over the world, and it is their aim to destroy EVERY government on earth, then merge the whole works into a one world government, dominated by Russia, (as it now appears), under communism.

This is no doubt why Billions of our tax dollars have gone into building Russia war machine up, while tearing our own government down, so that we will just bow our heads for the fall of the ax.

Perhaps this is the reason why they have incessantly demanded gun control laws, metric system, Dept. of Education (patterned after Russia's school system) and dozens of other Pro Marxist projects, all to make a merger smoother.

Book Tells Story of Cotton

The United States produces a lot of cotton fabric, much of it coming from the South Plains of Texas, including Petersburg.

In fact it is enough to put a blanket more than two miles wide, from Boston to Los Angeles.

After that is done, there is the same amount of cotton left which can go into jeans, shirts and furnishings, in Korea, Japan, Hong Kong, Taiwan and China.

Cotton produced in the United States, according to a recent government publication, comes from more than 90,000 farms, it is processed at about 3,200 gins and is produced into fabric by nearly 7,000 textile plants.

"The Cotton Industry in the United States -- From Farm to Consumer," a 75-page descriptive booklet that tells the story of cotton from the boll to the shirt, has been published by Texas Tech University and the United States Department of Agriculture.

The limited edition publication can be ordered free of charge from Dr. Don E. Ethridge, Department of Agricultural Economics, Texas Tech University, Lubbock, Texas 79409, or by calling him at (806) 762-7696.

Ethridge and Dale Shaw, adjunct professors of agricultural economics at Tech, are among the eight authors of the publication. It is edited by W. C. McArthur, University of Georgia, who is also one of the authors.

Ethridge and Shaw are with the National Economics Division of the Economics, Statistics and Cooperative Service of the USDA. The illustrated publication notes the various changes in the cotton industry during the last several decades.

Changes in production, according to the published data, have mainly occurred in location of cotton acreage, amount of acreage and average yield.

"There has been a definite shift in acreage from the eastern regions of the Cotton Belt to the western areas during the last few decades," Ethridge said.

Also cotton acreage has declined from 24.4 million acres for the 1947-51 period to 12.4 million acres for the 1971-75 period, a drop of about 50 percent.

"But production has decreased by only 16 percent as a result of an increase in the average yield from 280 pounds to 473 pounds per acre during the same period," the Texas Tech economist said.

In the ginning sector, changes have taken place in gin numbers, sizes and investment costs.

"In 1974-75 there were 3,269 active gins in the United States. They processed approximately the same volume of cotton as did the 8,257 gins in 1946," according to the publication.

"But investment costs for a new gin plant have risen from $250,000 a decade ago to more than $2 million today, as a result of higher construction costs and the need for improved equipment that can handle the harvest," the publication adds.

The ginned product goes to the textile industry which produces about 22 billion square yards or 7,000 square miles of cotton fabric, enough to put a blanket more than two miles wide, from Boston to Los Angeles.

"Of the 22 billion square yards of fabric, 17 billion go into broad-woven cloth and the rest in knitted fabrics, carpets, hosiery and other products," Ethridge said, citing figures from the publication.

The largest portion of cotton fabric goes into the clothing industry which uses about 42 percent of the production home furnishing products, like sheets, draperies, towels, carpets and upholstery, rank second in consumption, using about 32 percent of the fabric. The rest of the cotton fabric, or about three percent, is exported.

In addition to Ethridge and Shaw, other authors of the book are: Bill Bolton and Arthur Heagler, Louisiana State University; Fred T. Cooke Jr., and Joseph L. Ghetti, Delta Branch Experiment Station, USDA, Stoneville, Mississippi; and John Lawler, USDA, Washington, D.C.

Jimmy Carter, President, on Iran:

"Our patience is running out and, if I have been criticized in my own country... it has been because we have been too patient, not too precipitous."

Luther H. Hodges Jr., Deputy Secretary of Commerce, on census returns:

"For every 1 percent mailed back over the 80 percent target, some $2.5 million in follow-up costs can be saved."

SPC Offering Trip To Washington, D.C.

A trip to Washington, D.C. this summer will involve six hours of state-required credit in American government for students at South Plains College.

Travis Spears, chairman of SPC's social science department and associate professor of history, is planning the unusual class to the nation's capitol July 23-August 2. He will also hold a regular government class two hours a day for two weeks prior to the trip and for a week on return.

"We'll be visiting as many government buildings as possible, the White House, houses of Congress, treasury department, Smithsonian and many others. I'm also trying to schedule talks with as many government leaders as possible," he said.

The class is open to any student eligible to attend South Plains. They must pay their own expenses.

Cost, excluding food and personal expenditures, will be $727, payable to the College, according to Jerry Barton, SPC dean of admissions and registrar. That includes $46 for tuition, $315 for round-trip air fare, $270 based on double occupancy in a room at a Quality Inn and $100 to cover costs to the sponsor. Food expenses are estimated at about $20 a day or $220 total.

To register, contact Barton's office at (806) 894-9611.

Simplify Cotton Marketing

The U.S. Department of Agriculture plans to designate certain county offices of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service as a central headquarters for cotton marketing agents to receive and repay loans for their clients. The office would service cotton producing counties.

Local ASCS agent said marketing agents would be able to receive and repay for A loans at a central county office, rather than having to apply at individual county offices. Form A loans are those generally taken out by individual farms and form G loans are those taken out by farm cooperatives.

The proposed change would allow cotton marketing agents to help farmers sell their cotton for the best prices available and at the same time use the loan program to facilitate orderly marketing.

Individual cotton farmers would still have the option to receive and to repay loans at their local county office.

Grass. Stirrup-high and far as the eye could see. That's the way it was. That's the way it can be.

When the first ranchers pioneered Texas and Oklahoma they were greeted by grassland. Ranging for miles and waving a welcome to the strong-spirited ranchers and their grazing herds.

When the land was all taken, it was not all taken care of. It was fenced and overgrazed. It was parched by the dry years, and invaded by deep-rooted and "drouthy" brush. Brush destined to invade nearly every ranch, and to cut in half the grazing potential of over 88 million acres.

But there's a new pioneer spirit among ranchers today. They want their land back from the brush...and back to its natural beauty and bounty.

And there's a new product that makes it practical. It's Graslan™ from Elanco. Graslan is a new approach to brush control. It's as revolutionary and unique as were three other Elanco products—Tylan® and Rumensin® for your cattle and Treflan® herbicide for soybeans and cotton.

To find out more about brush control with Graslan, talk to your local SCS, Extension Agent or Range Management Specialist. Or call the toll free Elanco hotline: 1-800-428-4441. It could be the most important call you'll make for years to come.
