Community Skating Rink To Be Discussed At PTA

Results of a survey sent to Motley County ISD parents concerning the possibility of using the old grade school gym as a community skating rink will be discussed at the Motley County PTA meeting to be held on Thursday, January 29 at 7:00 p.m.

The idea of using the building as a skating rink has been discussed at previous meetings. The survey sent home with school children has been used to determine the interest of local parents and children.

Questions included on the survey were 1. Would you be interested in seeing a skating rink in the old gym in Matador? 2. Do your children now have skates? 3. If not, state sizes. 4. I would be willing to help sponsor the rink for a 34 hour period once every 4.6 weeks. 5. I would not be able to sponsor. 159 surveys were sent home with 122 returned. Of those returned, 112 were for the rink and 9 were against. 87 were able to help sponsor the rink, 29 were unable, and 4 were undecided.

Members of the PTA have consulted with sponsors of the Valley Skating Rink and with W. M. Tyler, owner of the rink in Plainview concerning costs and possible flooring coverings.

Some of the ideas for the rink have been that it would provide entertainment for our children, a better use for the old gym which would help with its upkeep, and positive progress for our community.

Some of the ideas against such a venture were that it would be a full-time business, would take more than 1 or 2 people to run it especially at the beginning, and that there were few male volunteers to help as sponsors.

Flooring for the rink should not hamper the use of the gym for outsider's Volleyball. Tyler has offered to come here to skate the floor and give his suggestions as to the best possible and least expensive flooring. PTA members will vote Thursday, January 29 to decide if a skating rink is a desirable and worthwhile project. Anyone interested in the possibility of this idea becoming a reality for the community is invited to attend.

IRS Publications Answer Farmers Tax Questions

Today's modern farmer has many unique tax situations, and a free publication from the Internal Revenue Service can help answer the questions that arise from these situations.

IRS Publication 225, "Farmer's Tax Guide," covers a wide range of subjects, such as soil sales, crop destruction, chicken purchases, casualty losses and share farming. Examples of how to prepare the Form 1040 and related schedules, and listings of important tax dates which affect farmer's throughout the year are also included.

"Farmer's Tax Guide" is written in a clear, understandable style and can be a source of valuable information for today's farmer, according to the IRS. This handy reference can be ordered on the order form in the tax package, or by calling the IRS Tax Forms/Information listed in the local telephone directory.

Social Security Changes Explained To Lions

Changes in social security benefits for 1981 were explained Tuesday of last week at Matador Lions Club's first meeting of the year, at the United Methodist Church. Speaker was Miss Virginia DeWitt, social security representative from the Plainview office.

Boss Lion Ronnie Vandiver presided at the meeting, which was attended by 35 members and four visitors, according to Lion Tamer Bob Stanley, and led applause for the enjoyable steak lunch prepared and served by Lion Walter Jones.

In reporting on the directors' Monday morning breakfast, Boss Lion Vandiver reminded the club that the annual Father-Son banquet is scheduled for a February date which will be announced later, and also that plans for the Lions annual volleyball tournament are underway.

A report was given by Lion John M. Russell on the Christmas lighting contest. He said that while the judges were impressed by all the entries, they placed emphasis on those which reflected a religious theme and stressed the idea of "keeping Christ in Christmas."

Program chairman Lion Frank Price introduced Miss DeWitt.

"For 1981," she said, "the tax paid by employees and employers will be 6.65 percent on the first $29,000 of earnings. (In 1980, it was 6.13 percent on $25,900). Medical premiums remain the same, with hospital deduction of $180.00. "Beginning January 1, 1981, you can earn more and still receive all your social security checks," she said. "If you are under 65 during 1981, you can earn up to $4,080 and still receive all your checks. If your total yearly earnings go over that amount, $1 in benefits may be withheld for each $2 of earnings above $4,080."

"If you are now 65 or older, or will reach 65 in 1981, you can earn $5,500 and still receive all your checks."

In 1980 the annual exempt amounts were $5,000 for people 65 and over and $3,720 for people under 65.

Visitors present, other than Miss DeWitt were Gary Lancaster, Roy Tippin, Family Nurse Practitioner and Dr. Victor S. Chavez.

Texas Heritage Program Embodies Western Lore

A Texas Heritage program presented Tuesday, January 8 by Mrs. Robert Darsey for El Progresso Club was replete with western lore as she explored the influence of the cowboy and the Indian on the development of the territory which was to become Texas.

The meeting was at the Plainview Savings and Loan Community Room, with Mrs. Furman Vinson, president, in the chair. Mrs. Vinson served also as program leader in the absence of Mrs. W. N. Pipkin, designated leader. "The story of the cowboys is an enchanting and happy one of charm and romance," Mrs. Darsey said. "On the other hand, the story of the Indian can best be described as doleful and sad."

She detailed the migration of cattle to this area, from Mexico where they were first brought by the Spanish conquerors. "By the year 1800, many hundreds of thousands of longhorns were grazing on the plains of Central and Northern Mexico. The Mexican cattlemen, or 'vaqueros' then drove their animals north across the Rio Grande where millions of acres of the best feeding grounds were waiting."

Mrs. Darsey described the exodus of the first Americans to this area and the subsequent emergence of the cowboy as he is now known. "With the cattle came the lore of the cow camps and the range, which the 'Texians' had learned from the Mexicans and which they in turn passed on to the ranchers and riders of the northern plains. This lore became a vivid and essential part of frontier life and has left its indelible stamp on American traditions."

One influence of the cowboy is the current popularity of Western wear both here and abroad, Mrs. Darsey noted. "Many have adopted the attire of the cowboy—his high-heeled boots, super-rough pants and shirt, his scarf and sombrero."

"The American cowboy is actually a product of Texas," Mrs. Darsey declared. "Although he adopted the attire of the Mexican vaquero to some extent, his dress included apparel suited to his job."

Mrs. Darsey's discourse on the American Indian traced his actions from the coming of the first settlers and traders and his reactions to their advances, to the ultimate end of his nation. "Although a hospitable people when they were well treated, their misunderstanding of land transactions led to the anger of the tribesmen and hostilities often followed."

Mrs. Darsey named more than 50 of the numerous tribes according to their locales—Northeast, North, Great Lakes, Western, Far West, Plains, South, Central and Eastern.

A Federation Report was given by Mrs. Frank Pohl, and roll call was answered by naming a favorite Western actor. The late John Wayne led the list with Roy Rogers a close second. Two women were mentioned—Dale Evans, and "Miss Ellie" (Barbara Bel Geddes) of Dallas fame.

For her Inspirational Thought, Mrs. C. D. Garrison chose a paragraph from Trail Dust by the late Douglas Meador, titled "Hospitality of the Old West."

Members present were Miss Rachel Patton, Miss Mary Keith and Mesdames Phil Green, Ted Elliott, D. E. Pitts, W. D. Lipscomb, Joe Campbell, John Hamilton, Douglas Meador, Harold Campbell, R. E. Campbell Jr., in addition to those mentioned.

Mrs. Harold Campbell, president of Santa Rosa District, displayed the quilt which El Progresso Club has quilted for the district to sell by tickets, and to be awarded at the spring meeting March 20-21 in Wichita Falls.

Widows, Widowers May Qualify For Special Tax Benefits

A taxpayer who became a widow or widower in 1978 or 1979 may be entitled to a special tax benefit. The benefit allows the taxpayer to use the "Married Filing Jointly" Tax Table or a Tax Rate Schedule in computing the tax liability, a tax rate significantly lower than those in the "Single" category.

To qualify for the benefit, the taxpayer (1) must have been entitled to file a joint return with the deceased spouse for the year of death, even if one was not actually filed; (2) must have a child of stepchild who qualified as a dependent; and (3) must have furnished over half the cost of maintaining a home which was the principal residence for the dependent child or stepchild for the entire year.

Taxpayers who take advantage of this benefit should file Form 1040, check Block 5 under Filing Status, "Qualifying widow(er) with dependent child," and figure the tax using the "Married Filing Jointly" tax table or tax rate schedule.

The IRS adds that the last year a taxpayer may file jointly with, or claim an exemption for, a deceased spouse is the year of death. The special tax rate benefit is available only for the two tax years after the spouse's death.

Mr. Farmer Do You Know About Life In The Soil - Soil Micro-Organisms

In order to understand the need for Planterra, it is necessary to understand the functions of micro-organisms in the soil.

To the farmer, life on the soil is well understood, but not so well understood is "life in the soil." It is the tiny little plant-like creatures called "micro-organisms," the organic life which activates substances in our soil and makes things happen (when you are generous in your treatment of them, they serve you well).

Of the soil organisms, bacteria are the most numerous. Bacteria have been defined as tiny plants that break down organic matter and minerals into forms that can be used by crops. The time has come when farmers will need to know the job micro-organisms do so that he can provide food for them and manage them. He will also need to know which strains of beneficial organisms it will take to do a super job of decomposing organic matter and releasing food elements. He will need to know which strains of organisms will do the best job in breaking down minerals and work with enzymes and hormones for plants to use and which strains will best condition soils for plant utilization.

To begin to understand what soil micro-organisms do, here briefly is their function -- they are the most vital force in the decay of dead plant material. Feeding on these dead plant materials, the micro-organisms break down the sugars, starches, cellulose, lignin, proteins, and fatty substances of plant tissues and excrete as waste products the carbon dioxide, ammonia (N) and minerals needed by plants for growth and production.

Farmers also know that minerals and/or fertilizers are not always available to plants. Again, it takes the action of soil micro-organisms and other forces to release nutrients as they are needed by the plants.

As straw or other organic materials are decomposed, large quantities of carbonic acid is produced. This acid has a solvent effect on soil minerals, and these acids change materials from insoluble to a soluble form for plants to use.

During decomposition of organic matter, a continuous supply of carbon dioxide, nitrogen in various forms, phosphorus, and other nutrients essential to plant growth are liberated. Organic matter serves as a storage facility for mineral nutrients such as calcium, magnesium, potassium and many others, lessening the danger of nitrogen loss by leaching.

Micro-organisms produce growth regulation substances such as hormones, auxins, and others that function directly in the plants much like vitamins in our nutrition.

Micro-organisms are killed when the environment in which they live is destroyed by plowing too often, too deep, too wet, too dry, and by the use of harsh chemical compounds.

Even though the most effective methods of soil cultivations, crop rotation, and crop harvesting are being practiced, most farmers are finding that their land is being depleted by continuous cultivation. Good top soil blows and washes away. Heavy farm machinery compacts the soil; chemical applications build up a residue.

PLANTERRA is a proven means of restoring life to the soil and is backed by 42 years of research and actual farm use. By life, we mean exactly that, for PLANTERRA is a culture of living micro-organisms applied to the soil.

In PLANTERRA, when used as a pre-plant application, decompose stalks, stubble, chemical fertilizer, and other organic matter to turn it into nutrients which are readily available to the plants.

Decayed matter in the soil makes the soil looser, easier to plow with less clodding. It allows the soil to absorb and retain moisture better. It makes whatever fertilizer you use more available to the plants as needed. The soil becomes mellow like virgin soil and allows young plants to establish healthy root systems earlier.

The next big step for the American farmer may not be mechanical technology, but it may well be simply to understand and manage the tiny plant life in our soils.

Planterra International Corporation has developed and is further developing new strands of soil bacteria in PLANTERRA that are available to the farmer which will give us benefits for a more progressive agriculture and a better "LIFE ON THE SOIL" with soil micro-organisms.

"I would like to propose a toast..."

How did the toast come to be a symbol of good friendship and fellowship? In ancient days, the host demonstrated his good faith by tasting the guest's drink first to prove it contained nothing harmful. Now it's to demonstrate that the host wants to share his good taste and good fortune.

HOW TO "RECYCLE" ENERGY WITHOUT GETTING HURT

More bicycles were sold this past year than anytime in the past 20 years. Not just to children, but to grown-ups as well.

Bicycling is the kind of exercise that will burn off the calories. It will build up the muscles in your legs and trim the fat from your mid-section. It will improve your circulation and strengthen your heart. It will stimulate your breathing, promote greater lung activity. It will increase your stamina. As a physical conditioner, it is one of the best.

But there are some hazards to bicycling—and they should be dealt with in a preventive manner.

Government statistics point out that there are about a half million bicycle accidents a year. About 1 out of every 5 of these accidents is due to some form of mechanical failure. And a high percentage of the mechanical failure is not because the product is inferior, but rather because the bicycle was not maintained properly.

What can go wrong? Many things. Tires can get worn and are subject to blowout. Nuts and washers can snap or fall off because of lack of lubricant. Brakes can become defective because of lack of maintenance. Portions of the frame can crack because of mishandling. A bicycle has to be checked and taken care of like any important piece of machinery. It's especially important because your safety depends on it.

While the speed of a bicycle does not present the same hazard as does that of an automobile, for example, sailing over the handle-bars at even 20 miles per hour is no minor mishap. The bicyclist must remember he or she is not protected by an enclosure, as in a car. Yet, we often ride the same streets and compete for the same lanes.

And this brings us to the next hazard—cars. As the numbers of bicycles on the streets and roads increase, so does the competition between the two types of vehicles. With it grows a hostility between motorists and bicyclists.

A simple solution would be to separate the roadways, and make special bicycle ways. But that is expensive for hard-pressed communities and may be long in coming.

The next best thing is education and respect—for both operators of cars and bicycles. If you are a bicyclist, these are your rules:

- (1) Make sure your equipment is in good shape. It should be licensed and inspected for proper lights and reflectors.
- (2) Ride with the traffic, not against it.
- (3) Keep to the right side of the road.
- (4) Wear clothing that is highly visible. Also, wear a protective helmet if possible.
- (5) When riding in groups, stay in single file, and keep reasonably separated.
- (6) Watch out for pedestrians and animals, especially at intersections and crosswalks.
- (7) Do not carry passengers on a bike, be it on the handle-bars, basket or anywhere else.
- (8) Use hand signals to alert motorists to turns and changes of lanes.
- (9) Do not weave in and out of traffic.
- (10) Drive defensively.

The above list of rules has been developed by the American Chiropractic Association as a result of reports from Doctors of Chiropractic throughout the U.S. who are concerned about the increase in orthopedic injuries and structural health problems from bicycling mishaps.

The last warning relates to preparation. By all means, do not try to embark on a vigorous bicycling venture without making certain you are physically ready. This involves getting a health examination, including that of your back and spine, and conditioning your body to meet the physical strain.
