Plans Underway To Build Combined Bus - Show Barn

Plans are underway to build a school Bus Barn that will be used as an indoor Livestock Show Barn with complete restroom, concession, and livestock-washing facilities at the site of the present show barn. The realization of these improved facilities will become a reality through the joint efforts of the Motley County I.S.D., the Motley County Livestock Association, and the Motley County 4-H Rodeo Association. The Rodeo Association was organized for the purpose of raising funds to build a livestock show barn. Because of the rising cost in building such a structure and the inability to qualify for grants to help with the expenses, other avenues were researched. The three organizations joined together to work on the project that would not only benefit our school's needs, but also our 4-H and FFA youngsters. The 4-H Rodeo Association designated a certain amount of their profits from the rodeos to be used toward this building. The Rodeo Association will remain active and continue to produce a rodeo each summer. Profits from the future rodeos will be used to help fund 4-H projects throughout the year. All three organizations and the Motley County 4-H and FFA youngsters appreciate the past support individuals and businesses have given to help make this dream a soon-to-be-reality.

Severe Weather Time Is Near

As severe weather season comes upon Motley County again the fire department, Department of Public Safety and the sheriff's office want the citizens to understand the warning sounds which may be used this year.

The local siren in Matador will be blown for fires and for weather. The fire call will be a solid, continuous blast of the siren. A weather warning will be a wailing sound, or rising and falling sound of the siren. The severe weather broadcast system will go out over the TV and radio in case of threatening weather or civil emergencies. For local and area citizens to report severe weather they may call the Fire Department business number, 347-2487.

During times of threatening weather, TV stations will put symbols showing the condition which a portion of their viewing area are under. They are:

SEVERE THUNDERSTORM WATCH: Atmospheric Conditions are favorable for the development of severe thunderstorms.

TORNADO WATCH: Atmospheric conditions are favorable for the formation of a tornado or funnel cloud.

SEVERE THUNDERSTORM WARNING: A severe storm is currently in progress approaching a specified county or counties. A severe thunderstorm has winds clocked in excess of 58 mph, and hail three-fourths of an inch in diameter or larger.

TORNADO WARNING: A Tornado or Funnel cloud has been confirmed by the National Weather Service Radar or trained spotters. Be prepared to take cover if conditions warrant that action.

A complete pamphlet obtained at Bob Stanley Pharmacy or weather may be the Matador Tribune.

A Second Glance

By Leon Watson

"Prosperity will return only when citizens stop demanding the governments give them a standard of living that they cannot themselves produce, as individuals acting within the free market." This statement is taken from an article by Bill Anderson in THE FREEMAN, October, 1982.

Mr. Anderson is a teacher of Social Studies at Rossville, Georgia Junior High School. He is the 1982 winner of the Oliver W. Gravey Essay Contest on "The Virtues of the Free Economy", involving a fellowship to the general meeting of the Mont Pelerin Society.

Anderson was writing under the general heading of "Deficits Are Not The Only Problem". In other words, a balanced budget is of no value unless it reduces federal spending.

Early Entertainment Highlights Program

Early entertainment, from Chautauqua to tent shows highlighted the program given by Mrs. R. E. Campbell Jr., April 14, for El Progresso Club, meeting at the home of Mrs. E. A. Day.

Mrs. A. B. Simpson was program leader, opening the program with the yearbook quotation for the day, "All the world's a stage and all the men and women merely players." - Shakespeare. She also led the club in reciting the pledge to the Texas flag, after the business session conducted by the president, Mrs. John Hamilton.

Theme of the program, "Historical Drama," was carried out by Mrs. Campbell, as she started with the beginning in 1874, of circuit or "tent" Chautauqua in the lyceum movement, with assemblies held at Lake Chautauqua, New York.

"The purpose of the lyceum movement was self-improvement by lectures and discussions on literary, scientific, and moral topics," she related. Famous names such as Susan B. Anthony, P. T. Barnum, Henry Ward Beecher, Mark Twain and Ralph Waldo Emerson were represented by the Redpath Lyceum Bureau, founded in 1868 by James C. Redpath. As the movement spread, the early 1920's saw many tent lecture courses traveling to various sectors of the nation.

"In Waxahachie, Texas today stands a building, patterned after the octagonal tent structures, built in 1902, preserved by the Waxahachie Chautauqua Association and still used for community affairs. Such notables as Will Rogers, William Jennings Bryan and John Philip Sousa and his band have presented programs here."

The original New York Chautauqua was founded by Lewis Miller, a manufacturer, and John H. Vincent, a Methodist minister, and was sponsored by the Methodist Episcopal Church.

"All in all, religion, temperance, and politics were the most popular subjects of the lecturers."

"As the movement spread, entertainment began to emerge, and eventually tent shows, such as the Bronks Comedians and Harley Sadler and his tent show became popular, especially in the smaller towns," Mrs. Campbell recalled. "Vaudeville also was a popular form of stage entertainment, even before the era of tent shows."

Mrs. Campbell related the experiences of a former Floydada resident, Bill Gray, who was born in a traveling tent show. His parents were members of the Bronks Comedians and were in Tahoka, Texas, preparing to move to another town, but his mother had to stay because of his upcoming birth. He later married the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Russell of Floydada.

The finale of the theatre tent show was reached recently in this area when the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal published a story, opening with these lines: "As summer approaches, the Jimmy Davis Show is preparing for its Missouri-Iowa tour -- the only theater tent show now reflecting a boom dating back to the 1850's."

Among the most popular of tent entertainments was the circus, and roll call by members, "Tent show memories," mentioned such as Ringling Brothers, Barnum and Bailey, and one member, Miss Mary Keith remembers when the Molly Bailey Circus came to Matador. Others answering roll call were Rachel Potton and Mesdames Bill McCaghren, Harold Campbell, Frank Pohl, W. D. Lipscomb, Robert Darsey, Joe Campbell, W. F. Jacobs, W. N. Pipkin, Phil Green, Robert Dickson, Douglas Meador and Ted Elliott, in addition to the president, leader and hostess.

At the conclusion of the program, Mrs. Day served refreshments of cake squares, coffee and spiced tea.

Green Thumb Training Focuses On Alcoholism

Former Congressman Wilbur Mills, Doc Severinson of the "Tonight Show," and Ralph Waite of "The Waltons" all have at least two things in common: they used to suffer from alcoholism and they now have much better lives after coming to grips with the disease.

The stories of these prominent people were part of the information provided to more than 50 Green Thumb workers attending a special alcoholism training session at the Senior Center in Crosbyton on April 12. Green Thumb employs about 1,000 persons aged 55 and over in the community service projects across the state.

Green Thumbs from Motley County attending the session were Ora Stonecipher, Rose Witcher, Jim McCleskey, Hubert Hall, Lee Harris, Arthur Sanders and Joan Patton.

In a film entitled "They Do Recover," Waite, Mills, and Severinson discussed the development of their alcohol problems and the paths they followed to find relief.

"The fact that these well-known people are alcoholics helps to show the disease -- and alcoholism is a disease -- can strike anyone, rich or poor, lonely or in the spotlight," said Green Thumb district director Susan Armstrong, who conducted the training. "Mills and Severinson suffered from severe blackouts, and Mills was afraid he had a brain tumor until examinations revealed his problem was alcoholism," she said.

"Waite says he often felt 'dead and alone,'" Armstrong said, "even though he was a national celebrity. Many of our workers -- especially widows and widowers -- know the feeling. We want to demonstrate that alcohol will only make any existing problems worse."

She said some of Green Thumb's enrollees have lost their jobs because of drinking, and for these people the future is dim. "They've lost their income and their self-respect, and few of them will have the resilience and energy to fight back. Prevention, whether you're young or old, is the best answer."

The Green Thumbs also heard a program update from state director Diane Parrish of Waco.

4-H MEMBERS STILL LEARN BY DOING

Interest in Texas' 75-year-old 4-H and youth program is as strong today as it was when the idea originated in 1908.

Texas membership for the past year was 187,067 youths. Almost 15,000 volunteer adult leaders of the state assisted with the educational effort.

Most 4-H members are enrolled in some 2,700 organized clubs across Texas. 4-H audiences today are boys and girls from all ethnic, cultural and economic groups.

Across the nation, almost five million boys and girls belong to 4-H.

The 4-H program had its beginning in 1908, when Tom Marks of Jack County organized the first boy's "Corn Club." Canning clubs for girls soon followed.

Other projects were added as interest grew. Currently, 4-H programs - or their counterparts - are active in many parts of the world.

Today, 4-H members are encouraged to broaden their skills and knowledge through more than 70 project areas. Agriculture and home economic projects are quite popular, but 4-H members also participate in many other projects such as photography, wildlife, electricity and safety. The variety of projects available makes 4-H an organization for all Texas youth whether they live on a farm or in town.

In addition to traditional project work, 4-H offers opportunities for young people to develop, individually through many leadership events such as the Texas 4-H Roundup and Texas 4-H Congress.

FARM INPUTS TO DECLINE WITH PIK

The high level of farmer participation in the PIK (payment-in-kind) program will have a marked impact on agricultural production expenses, says an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University Systems.

"Overall demand for farm production inputs should decline due to the high unanticipated levels of PIK participation," says Dr. Forrest Stegelin. "This will affect nearly all expenses associated with crop production, but especially fertilizer, seed, pesticides, fuels and energy, and operating credit."

Initial forecasts are that expenditures for farm inputs will decline 12 to 15 percent, notes the economist.

Use of pesticides and seed is expected to decline sharply since these are most closely tied to planted acreage. Total sales of both are expected to fall 14 to 20 percent because of PIK.

Machinery purchases are expected to decline only 3 to 5 percent as these sales are closely tied to net farm income which is forecast to improve. Machinery repair expenses should drop 12 to 15 percent.

Fuel use may drop 8 to 10 percent, says Stegelin.

Inputs needed for erosion and weed control on idled acres -- seed, chemicals, fencing and other materials -- are becoming more expensive as their demand increases.

"To avoid losing sales of big-ticket purchases such as tractors and combines, implement and equipment dealer may soon offer credit for large dollar purchases in exchange for PIK certificates," says Stegelin. "The effect will be the same as using scale tickets at harvest for collateral."

While there are possible negative effects from PIK on farm supplies, USDA officials believe the long-term benefits to agriculture outweigh the costs to individual agribusinessmen, says the economist.

Junior Rodeo Dates Set

The Motley County 4-H Rodeo Association met March 15, to initiate plans for the forthcoming Junior Rodeo to be held June 17 and 18. Runt Sloan of Newcastle, Texas, will furnish the stock.

Junior Rodeo Secretaries are Holly Hobbs and Renee Renfro, assisted by trainees Donna Warren and Kim Hand. Junior Directors are Leigh and Brandi Barton and Senior Directors are Craig

Turner, Darryl Perryman and Karla Smith.

In order to involve more Motley County 4-H youngsters in the rodeo, a new event called "Calf Dressing" will be added to this year's show. There is no entry fee and the event is open to all girls enrolled in the Motley County 4-H program.

Each team (comprised of three girls) will be assigned a calf with a rope around its neck. As the chute gates open, the girls must hold onto the calf and dress it with a t-shirt then pull it across a designated line. The members on the winning team will receive free passes to the rodeo dance held nightly. For more information contact Ray Minkley, County Agent.
