Accident Victim Is Lubbock Man

A LUBBOCK MAN was killed early Tuesday when his truck-tractor-semi-trailer left the highway on a curve 1/4 of a mile west of town, on U.S. Highway 62-70. Teddy Ray Pricer, 42, was pronounced dead at the scene by Justice of the Peace Roy Smith.

Dude Speed, Trooper with the Texas Department of Public Safety Highway Patrol investigated the accident after being notified by Fred (Snow) Crenshaw, City Nightwatchman, who was informed of the wreck by local resident, Freddie Pitts.

Rodney Williams, member of the Matador Volunteer Fire Department arrived at about the same time, in the belief that a fire had started in that area. He assisted in searching for the driver of the vehicle and located the body in a barrow ditch. The victim's wrist watch had stopped at 1:39 (a.m.).

According to Patrolman Speed, Pricer was apparently driving at an excessive rate of speed, lost control and was unable to negotiate the curve. The vehicle, loaded with concrete pipe, came to rest in an upright position, after rolling over twice. The cab was mashed down to seat level and the left front wheel broken off.

Pricer, who was thrown from the cab, died of massive head and chest injuries, according to the report. His body was taken to Seigler

Funeral Home here and later transferred to Rix Funeral Home in Lubbock, where services were still pending, Wednesday.

His survivors include his wife, Jean; three sons, Tony and Van, both of Slaton, and Tensey of Lubbock; a stepdaughter, Kyann Long of the home; a step-son, Glenn Beall of the home; his mother, Mrs. Lillian Pricer of Slaton; a brother, Jerry of Japan; two sisters, Mrs. Pauline Rampy of Slaton and Mrs. Edna Bumpus of Fayetteville, Ark.

TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

It is probable that medical science has discovered a powerful therapy in hard work, but withholds it from the public, aware that the treatment is more inconvenient to take than nostrums.

In bold relief against the hot New Mexico sky stands an oil well pump. There is a dead tree and a few foundation rocks near the silent windmill. Destiny writes a tragic chapter in the landscape and the past keeps its secrets. The homesteader left a few pieces of barbed wire on a rotting post; sweat and tears in the powdery earth. The rainless years, the thin soil and loneliness broke his spirit before he was to know the riches deep beneath the surface of his claim.

Hate eats at the mind like a disease, leaving bleached bones in the valley of disaster. Its harm is to the hater instead of the hated.

Invention and knowledge are changing a country that once seemed too hopeless to be worth the effort. The magic of irrigation is spreading across the rough, sandy miles on the Texas-New Mexico border and changing a desert into a lush land of green crops, gardens and flowers. The waltzing ghosts of sprinklers bring irrigation water to any kind of terrain on which rain can fall.

Crowing roosters have always cast unpleasant shadows across my life. As a youth, they awakened me at dawn to work in the hot fields. They haunt me still, like rasping an old scar on my memory.

Recently I learned that sweet milk will increase the growth of ivy plants. It seems logical up to a certain point. If the plant does not drink all the milk, that which remains will sour, and later it will rot, and rotting milk is not too pleasant to smell.

Friendship is interest accruing on investments in association.

Firemen Answer To Blaze Calls Monday

Matador Volunteer Fire Department, Monday afternoon responded to two alarms within the city. The first occurred around 12:15 p.m. when the home of Mrs. Billie Self was reported in flames.

Quick action by only a small number of firemen prevented the blaze from spreading to other parts of the home. The damage was limited to the kitchen area of the East Matador home.

The second fire alarm sounded at 3:00 p.m. and was reported as a car at the C. D. Garrison home.

Members of the fire department had to use foam to control the blaze inside the engine compartment which was completely destroyed. The inside of the car received some damage.

The car, a late model Pontiac LeMans was owned by Laura Timmons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rush Timmons of Cee Vee, who was en route to Lubbock, where she is employed. She stopped at the Garrison home to secure help when she realized she was having car trouble.

Fire Department officials request that citizens please refrain from calling the fire department number to ask the location of a fire. This number is to report fires only.

Lions Hear Two Speakers

It was a double feature program Tuesday for Matador Lions Club when they met for regular luncheon-meeting in the basement of the United Methodist Church.

Miss Dana Dillard of Roaring Springs gave an interesting report on her trip to Seguin as Motley County Delegate to Bluebonnet Girls State, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, and Coach Randy Hicks spoke on the coming football season.

"Attending Girls State was an exciting experience for me, and one I shall never forget," said Miss Dillard as she told of involvements in city, county, and state government.

There were 60 girls in each city, and we were encouraged to run for an office. We learned about various legislative procedures in the House and Senate, and attended a session of the legislature in Austin. The experience helped broaden my mind and taught me how important it is to take part in city government, which leads to higher offices," she said.

Coach Hicks and two assistant coaches, Danny James and Ronnie Bradshaw were present, as were two of the four football captains for the 1976-77 season. They were Craig Christian and Mickey Hurt. Other captains are Pat Smith and Louis Shorter. Kirby Hatley is also one of the coaches, but was not at the meeting.

"We expect about 40 players, and will have 22 on the varsity team. They are all juniors and seniors," Coach Hicks told the club, which sponsors the school's athletic program. "We had a strong off-season with workouts, using weight machines and tractor tires. Our chances for a good season are excellent - and I hope by the time it is over, my BAG father-in-law (Sonny Russell) will stop referring to me as his wife's son-in-law."

Rainfall Still Under Last Year

A thunder and lightning storm early Tuesday morning dumped 3.35 inches of rain in the community, bringing precipitation to 14.37 for the year, to August 3. Last year's amount was 15.78 to the same date.

The rain fell from 2:30 to 6:45 a.m. according to Bob Stanley's records, it was the most to fall at one time since June 2, 1957, when he measured 3.50 from a single rain.

Other areas of the county received rain from the same storm, and a few instances of property damage was reported.

Respect For Flag Urged By Speaker

The public is not paying proper respect to the American flag and the principles for which it stands, according to Danny Meador. The young A&M cadet, who is spending the summer at home here, was speaker Monday night at regular monthly meeting of the American Legion and Legion Auxiliary. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Meador.

"Our respect is not due the flag itself," he asserted, "it is simply a piece of cloth colored red, white and blue. The ideal for which it stands is what is due respect... and what about the millions who died in service? These men died for the flag. Why can't people today simply stand when the flag passes by... is it too much to ask someone to remove his hat - to recite the Pledge of Allegiance proudly, and to sing proudly our National Anthem - we should ask ourselves is there more we can do?"

Disrespect for the flag was noted by the young patriot, during the recent Bicentennial celebration when the Color Guard from Reese Air Force Base passed in review. In a letter to the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal which appeared in Sunday's morning edition, he wrote, "... no one stood up or removed their hats. When the flag was raised, the National Anthem

Mrs. Walter Evans and son, Roger visited in Lubbock, Sunday with her daughters and families. Mr. and Mrs. Ceaman Scott, Michael and Toby and Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Scott, Tammie and Sherri. They took Sherri home after she had been here for four weeks.

There have been dramatic changes in agriculture during the last 60 years - new machines, new crops, new methods. But the real production miracle is still the American farmer or rancher himself - one dedicated individual with a willingness to take chances with success or failure. We are proud that when a man of this caliber needs long term credit, he looks to his Federal Land Bank Association.

Plains Encampment Adds Nature Trail

A nature trail has been created at Plains Baptist Assembly encampment located south of Floydada, courtesy of the Floyd County Soil and Water Conservation District No. 104 and USDA, Soil Conservation Service.

According to G.L. Fawver, chairman of the Floyd County SWCD, not only are plants identified but a narrative on each plant has been prepared relating important facts about the plants and in many cases how the Indians and the early settlers used the plants for food, medicine and ornaments.

A temporary nature trail was used some last year, but many improvements have been made. Bill Brown, encampment administrator, and Jon J. LaBaune, District Conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service for Floyd County, recently met to decide where the nature trail was to be created and what ideas could be used to get the most benefit out of the project.

A diagram of the area was made showing where each plant was located and a complete narrative was assembled in notebooks whereby counselors or encampment personnel could take a group on the nature trail tour with a minimum of ease. Attractive, bright numbered red steel stakes mark each plant along the trail and a sign was erected at the beginning of the trail designating it as the Baptist Encampment Nature Trail.

Brown stated "we expect 10,000 at our Camp this year and speaking for the camp trustees, I thank the Floyd Co. Soil and Water Conservation District and the Soil Conservation Service for providing the nature trail to show the wonders of God's nature." -Lockney Beacon

Q. I tend to be overweight, so I'm already worried about my baby daughter. Is there anything I can do now to establish good patterns for her later in life?

OVERFED INFANTS—They're more likely to become overweight adults.

A. It's now believed that excessive caloric intake in infancy may contribute to chronic obesity. And the problem may be even greater when the genetic risk is high.

The way in which new foods are introduced and the timing of this procedure are important considerations. More and more doctors believe that breast feeding or an infant formula such as Enfamil, as the sole source of feeding during the first six months of life, reduces the risk of excessive nutrient intake. And using formula or breast feeding for the remainder of the first year as the infant beverage—supplemented judiciously with solid foods—will help assure that the infant's nutritional needs will continue to be adequately met.

Mrs. T. W. Jennings was in Paducah, Tuesday on business. Sunday they were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Marrs of Matador.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Tilson were hosts to his family for a barbecue dinner, Sunday, prepared by Walter Jones. The group included Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Tilson, Mr. and Mrs. Lamar Tilson, Mrs. June Tilson and Thomas, Mrs. Stella Tilson, and the hosts.

Doesn't this say something to you about a child's early education in the home? Dr. William H. Nault, editorial director of World Book Encyclopedia and Childcraft, points out that a child who gets the right opportunities to grow intellectually will also develop confidence and have a sturdier emotional framework than one without such challenges. He says that the most important tip for parents is to stress vocabulary and verbal comprehension in teaching children and playing with them, since these are the best single predictors of reading and general academic success.

Design Genius Is Key To Price Competitiveness

You don't have to be a businessman, simply a consumer, to know that when someone figures out a way to build something better, the result is a more competitive price.

As a nation, we've always known that our design and manufacturing know-how are at the foundation of America's world position—both military and economic. Russia is richer in untapped resources, Europe has prolific scientists, and Asia has a billion workers. But in just 200 years, we've outdistanced them all, through the peculiar genius of Americans to turn laboratory dreams into realities.

The Task Force on Export of U.S. Technology, representing important segments of industry, recently reported its findings on the subject to the Defense Science Board. The Task Force chairman and spokesman, J. Fred Bucy, President of Texas Instruments, remarked that today America's mastery of design and manufacturing is being transferred to many nations who can use it to beat us in the international marketplace.

To combat this, many experts are urging that the Department of Defense take the initiative in formulating policy objectives and strategies that will best serve this nation's interests and those of our allies by protecting crucial design and manufacturing know-how. Once formulated, these policies should be communicated to the office of Export Control and other concerned agencies.

Other placings were as follows: Thomas Garst, Roaring Springs, 2nd; Barbara Durham, Roaring Springs, 3rd; Deanna Durham, Roaring Springs, 4th; and Craig Turner, Matador, 5th.

Leaders assisting with the program were Mrs. Dean Turner, Matador, Mrs. L.A. Mullins and Gerald Garst, Roaring Springs.

Glasses or babies' bottles that have held milk should first be rinsed in cold water before washing. Hot water will cause milk to stick to the glass.

Class Has Reunion

The home of Mr. and Mrs. L.A. Mullins was the scene Saturday evening and Sunday of a "get together" of five members of the graduating class of 1956 from Roaring Springs High School. The occasion was the 20th anniversary of the class's graduation.

The group enjoyed a backyard supper Saturday, prepared by the "boys". Mrs. Roxie Lewis, the class sponsor for sophomore, junior and senior years, helped with preparations of hamburgers, potato salad, ice cream, cake and cold drinks.

Sunday at noon after the group had attended services at the First Baptist Church, an abundant buffet luncheon was served, testifying to the culinary talents of the "girls," the hostess, and the sponsor.

Interest was centered on a huge cake in Bicentennial design and colors which bore the words, "Happy 20th Anniversary to the Class of 1956 in 1976 from their sponsor, Roxie Lewis."

The entertainment was reminiscing, and someone suggested if all the antics described were true, their sponsor should expel them, yet. Old annuals and pictures also afforded fun.

Enjoying the celebration were Lee Harmon Bradford, her husband, Van, daughter Vanna, and son Jody, of Gruver; Vee Harmon Gordon and husband Harold, of Post; Roy Mathis, his wife Edra and daughter Marianne and son Charles, of Garland, also his mother, Mrs. Charles Mathis of Lubbock, a class mother of the class; Lester Mullins, his wife Irene, and sons Leslie, Stoney and Eddie, of Hereford and Don Warren and his wife Pat, of Matador.

The L.A. Mullins were assisted in their hosting duties, by grandsons, Mark and Todd of Lubbock. Coming in for brief visits with the celebrants were Mrs. L.M. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Long, Jerry, Jelene and Jannell, Mrs. Melton Brooks, Walter Craft, and Mrs. Billie Odell and Kelly.

Long distance calls from Bobby Dan Lewis, Chatin, South Carolina, and Sally Hipp Estes, Ft. Knox, Ky., expressing regret at their inability to join in the festivities.

Don Warren and Lester Mullins were named a committee of two with authority to call upon others as needed, to plan the next reunion. There were 13 graduates in 1956, and the class originally planned to hold their first reunion five years after graduation.

Mitchells Observe 50th Anniversary

The recent observance of their 50th wedding anniversary brought two-fold pleasure to Mr. and Mrs. Elbert L. Mitchell of Roaring Springs. The occasion of their Golden anniversary brought them and all their children together for the first time in six years.

Case of Yellville, Ark., and daughters, Lanita and Laura Sedgwick of Lubbock; Elder and Mrs. Benny Goss, Brian and Sheila of Littlefield, Mr. and Mrs. W.D. Mitchell and Randell of Ely, Nevada and Doayne Mitchell of San Antonio. Mrs. Case is the former Gaynell Mitchell and Mrs. Goss, the former Wanda Mitchell.

Doyle Mitchell, who is employed by the Travis Wholesale Florists of San Antonio, brought the floral decorations for the reception and registered the guests. The table was covered with a gold cloth that had been used at the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. Mitchell's parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Jim Mitchell. A candelabrum, decorated with gold flowers and tapers enhanced the setting.

For the refreshment table, a lace cloth was underlaid with a gold colored cover, and centered with an arrangement of mums. The three-tiered decorated wedding cake held the emblem, "50". The daughters, granddaughters and daughter-in-law alternated in serving.

Guests from out of town included Mrs. Mitchell's aunt, Mrs. Dora Langford and Mr. and Mrs. F.W. Webb of Floydada; Robert Mitchell of Yellville, Ark.; Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Goss and Dialith and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Goss and children of Littlefield; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rippstein of Higgins; Mr. and Mrs. O.L. To Head Volunteer Program

Mrs. Dolph Briscoe has appointed Jimmie Isbell of Matador, Texas, county chairman for the First Lady's Volunteer Program. Office of the Governor. Mrs. Isbell will be responsible for coordinating volunteer activities in Motley County working with Mrs. Thomas Sanders of Lubbock who coordinates volunteer activities in the 15-county area covered by the South Plains Association of Governments.

The First Lady's Volunteer Program was created by an Executive Order signed by Governor Briscoe in October, 1974. The order calls for the office to act as a liaison between the Governor's office and the other state agencies in seeking ways to develop and expand volunteerism and to make opportunities known to all communities.

In making the appointment, Mrs. Briscoe said, "Volunteering is a way of life in Texas; it allows people to become directly involved in solving mutual problems and working toward common solutions. The First Lady's Volunteer Program is working to let all Texans know that there are many opportunities to volunteer their time and talents for the benefit of many."

Volunteers of every category will be needed - doctors, nurses, aides, clerks, and for transportation, telephoning and many other duties. County committees will be headed by the First Lady's Volunteer Program chairperson. Subcommittees will be composed of local counterparts of members of the statewide organization steering committee appointed by Mrs. Briscoe.

Aide Program To Elderly Funded By Federal Grant

Problems and needs of the rural elderly are the focus of a Texas Tech University college of home economics project recently funded by a federal grant of more than $298,000.

It is titled "Model Rural Project for Homemaker Service Aide Program to the Elderly." Texas Tech home economics graduate student and administrative assistant Gail House said the program is designed to provide home services to rural persons 60 years of age and older. Mrs. House is the principal investigator and project director.

"Rural elderly persons have long been neglected," said Mrs. House. "In an area like West Texas the large expanse of land and sparse population means resources are spread over urban areas. This emphasis on aid in rural areas is what captured the attention of the people in Washington."

The Administration on Aging has agreed to provide more than $148,000 during the project's first year and $150,000 the second year. The administration is a division of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare's Office of Human Development.

Mrs. House said the program has two basic goals. First, project workers will study the needs of elderly persons and attempt to provide care in homes as an alternative to institutional care. The project also will represent an attempt to address the problems of displaced homemakers-persons who have been in their homes most of their lives and lack training or other resources to enter the job market.

Mrs. House and other project workers will attempt to attract displaced homemakers and train them to be homemakers aides. The aides will be responsible for providing the services to the elderly persons. Services might include meeting grooming needs and providing personal care, writing letters, running errands, housekeeping, money management assistance or reading books and other material to elderly persons. "Providing companionship to the elderly might be the most basic service the aides provide," said Dr. Donald Longworth, dean of the college of home economics. "The aides can be companions and help elderly persons secure other means of making life more comfortable and enjoyable."

The homemaker aides will participate in 80 hours of training that will include a variety of subjects. Aides will study the psychology and sociology of aging, home management and family relations, health and fitness, first aid and other topics.

Mrs. House said project workers will begin field work in August. Workers will contact persons 60 years of age and older in the 15-county area included in the South Plains Association of Government's Homemaker aides will participate in training seminars in September. Mrs. House said she hopes the elderly persons can start receiving services by Oct. 1.

Persons with questions about the project and its services should call the dean's office at 742-3031.

OLD FIDDLERS' CONTEST SCHEDULED IN BURNET

There was a time when Saturday nights meant just one thing to country people -- the sound of guitars, banjos and fiddles drifting through the hills accompanied by the shouting and clapping of folks dancing beneath the moon.

But time passes and things change and the musical gatherings that once dotted the Texas countryside have given way to the slicker productions of network television and Hollywood studios.

The old-timers say good old country music and musicians like grandpa used to listen to just don't exist anymore, or at least aren't necessarily so. Real country music still lives and there'll be plenty of it in Burnet, Texas, on August 14 at the 4th Annual Texas Old Time Fiddlers Association Convention and State Contest where over 50 entrants will compete for the Texas Fiddler Championship and more than $2,000 in prize money.

A crowd in excess of 10,000 people is expected in Burnet that Saturday to hear pure country musicians such as Terry Morris, the 20-year-old fiddler from Hurst voted State Champion the past two years, and 1975 runner-up Norman Solomon of Decatur, 66-year-old Sleepy Johnson of Fort Worth, Bill Gilbert of Millsap, Carl Hopkins of Humble and many others. Top prize earns the winner a cool $500, which ain't bad for a day's work.

In addition, there will be a $100 prize for the best accompanying musician, which last year went to Betty Solomon of Decatur. Money and trophies will also go to the oldest and youngest fiddlers in the competition, the fiddler traveling the most miles to reach Burnet and the contestant given the Red Steeley Favorite Fiddler Award.

Last year, L. J. Roy Harris of San Saba, 85, was named oldest fiddler, while eight year old Billy Hopson of Mound was the youngest, giving some idea of the variety and flavor of the event.

DeeDee Gipson of Kingsville got the most miles prize, while Terry Morris combined his state championship with the Red Steeley Favorite Fiddler Award.

But the fiddlers contest is just one aspect of the festivities planned for the weekend. One writer described the event as "a mixture of the old and new country picnic, the whimsical county fair and the 'come-and-go as you please' folk festival." In other words, there'll be something there for everyone.

For the kids, the Burnet Chamber of Commerce has a list of games and activities including pig-throwing, grossed-pig catching, a dunking machine brought back by popular demand and an attraction called Moonwalk which gives the illusion of walking along the lunar surface.

The culturally-oriented can satisfy their curiosity at an arts and crafts show and the bargain-hunters can search amid the flea market booths for items they won't find in most stores. In addition, an antique car show will be held featuring autos from America's past, enabling the youngsters to get some idea of what it used to be like riding in rumble seats on Saturday afternoons.

Naturally, there will also be plenty of food. The Burnet Chamber of Commerce will sell its "world-famous" barbecue brisket and sausage at noon for $2.50 a plate. Burnet, where the event has been staged since its inception four years ago, has been proclaimed the official "Home of the Old Time Fiddlers State Championship Contests." Prior to the inaugural state championship in 1973, the town sponsored fiddlers contests for 10 years.

Texas old time fiddling is uniquely Texan. Though the same type of music is popular in Louisiana and bluegrass circles, in the great Lone Star tradition, Texas fiddlers use bigger bows, which must be handled in a different manner.

Old time fiddling music has evolved over the years from following a basic melody into a series of breakdowns and other variations. The Texas Old Time Fiddlers Association was formed in 1973 to preserve the character of the music and to improve judging standards in the rapidly increasing number of fiddling contests. Prior to 1973, judges were not always fiddle players themselves and thus could not make expert decisions on the difficulty and quality of a musician's performance.

For members of the fiddlers association, the weekend will be a combination of work and play. At 8 a.m. Saturday, registration for the annual convention begins at the Burnet High School auditorium. The actual meeting convenes at 8:30 a.m. and should last most of the morning. Meanwhile, out at the Burnet Industrial Park on Highway 281 South, where the fiddling will take place, the flea market, arts and crafts show and games get underway at 8:30 a.m. and will continue all day.

Registration for the fiddling contest begins at 1 p.m. and the music starts at 1:30 p.m., ending sometime around 8 o'clock Saturday night when the new state champion is crowned. One hour later, Dave Halbert and the Country Blues will provide music at a dance across the road in the Burnet County Fair Barn. Admission to the dance will cost $5 a couple.

On Friday night, August 13, there will be a jam session at the Burnet Industrial Park, where camping facilities will be available. The contest is open only to Texas residents, though, of course, anyone and everyone is invited to come join in the fun.

Texas Flag To Fly Over Mt. Rushmore

MT. RUSHMORE, S.D. -- The State of Texas Lone Star flag will fly over Mt. Rushmore National Memorial in South Dakota's Black Hills Aug. 24-25, as this national Bicentennial focal point recognizes Texas in the National Park Service's 1976 "Days of Honor" commemoration. Sec. of State Mark White will receive the Texas flag in ceremonies at the memorial, Aug. 25.

The Lone Star flag which flies over the memorial will be presented to Sec. White during our evening lighting ceremonies," says Rushmore Supt. Harvey Wickware. "Ceremonies both days will recognize Texas in the 1976 Days of Honor commemoration developed to fulfill Rushmore's role as a national Bicentennial focal point."

The Lone Star flag also flies in a special Avenue of Flags constructed for the Bicentennial at Rushmore, South Dakota Gov. Richard Kneip, on behalf of all South Dakotans, has invited any Texans traveling north to take part in their state's days at Rushmore.

The Mt. Rushmore Days for Honor program began May 21 and continues through Sept. 8, with each state and territory in the nation receiving homage at the Shrine of Democracy.

Located on a 6,000-foot-high granite mountain, the Shrine of Democracy was carved by Gutzon Borglum as a monumental summation of the American Republic. Borglum chose four Presidents (Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln, Theodore Roosevelt) to symbolize the growth of the United States. The portrait bust of each is 60 feet high.

Rushmore's unique attribute of being a memorial for the whole nation, rather than just one section, led to its national Bicentennial designation by the American Revolution Bicentennial Commission in 1971.

According to folklore, a ring worn on the forefinger is supposed to indicate a naughty person, on the long finger a dignified one, on the marriage finger an affectionate one, and on the little finger a masterful one.
