Two Flotillas Of Jap Ships Turned Back

By The Associated Press
American warships have turned back two more Japanese destroyer flotillas seeking to bring supplies to hard-pressed defenders of Munda on New Georgia Island, and Allied air fleets have heaped new damage upon enemy air and sea power, it was announced today.

The Japanese countered with claims that a tank led American attack upon Munda had been repelled and that 77 Allied planes had been downed in three days in the Pacific area.

In Tokyo, Premier Gen. Hideki Tojo promised "more decisive blows" upon Japan's enemies, a Berlin radio broadcast reported, and urged increases in war and food production.

U.S. airmen on Saturday sank seven Japanese ships in the area of Buin and nearby island of Faisi and destroyed 49 Japanese planes, and in another assault Sunday of nearly the same 200-plane strength sank a cargo ship, damaged three other vessels, and shot down 15 enemy planes.

Ten American planes were lost in the two attacks. One Japanese destroyer was believed to have been sunk by American warships that turned back the two reinforcement attempts at Munda. On the land there, U.S. troops were fighting near the airfield.

In New Guinea there were sharp but small-scale actions. RAF bombers sweeping over Burma yesterday sank or destroyed 24 Japanese sampans and damaged other boats, a British communiqué announced. Other raids hit at enemy communications and troop concentrations.

Survivors Of Lost Cruiser Are Rescued

IN THE JAPANESE-HELD SOLOMONS, July 18 (Delayed)—(AP)—Steaming impudently beneath a moon of almost dazzling brilliance, units of the United States fleet rescued 157 survivors of the Cruiser Helena from this island before dawn today.

The 9,100-ton light Cruiser Helena was sunk in the first battle of Kula Gulf July 7. She was the only American loss in that engagement, which cost the Japanese nine warships, and most of the probably 600 to 800 men aboard her were rescued within a few hours.

The pre-dawn rescue was one of the most magnificent maneuvers in the Pacific war to date, and the very audacity of going into the enemy's own backyard through waters thick with submarines made its signal success the more remarkable.

Tonight heavily-bearded men of war who have suffered from hunger, squall, thirst and anxiety for more than a week slept once again without fear of molestation.

It was an impudent thing to do, running up there, the commander of the protecting destroyer fleet said on his return, "but it was damned well worth while."

Allied Airmen Study Map

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, July 19 (AP)—Allied bombardiers and pilots memorized a huge map of Rome down to its smallest detail during many weeks of training in preparation for the aerial attack on the eternal city, it was disclosed today.

It was also disclosed by Allied officials that fascist authorities have built a number of high-powered generating plants, which are considered legitimate targets, so close to religious and cultural shrines that their vibrations can be felt within the holy precincts.

NEW RULING
WASHINGTON, July 19 (AP)—Servicemen on furlough may apply for food ration stamps at the most convenient ration board office, the Office of Price Administration said today. Formerly, they had to apply in the particular locality where they planned to spend their leave.

One-Third Of Sicily In Allied Hands; British Forces Near Italian 'Toe' In Drive North

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, July 19 (AP)—The American seventh army has captured Caltanissetta, almost half way across the mid-section of Sicily, in an eight-mile smash to split the enemy's front, battle reports to Allied headquarters said today as Allied forces gained all along the front.

While the fury of the powerful Allied air force turned for the first time upon Rome, the seat of fascist power, and bombed war and industrial targets in and around the Italian capital, Canadian British and American troops drove forward in all sections of the Sicilian front.

Edging up toward the Italian toe, the invasion host of Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's Eighth army burrowed relentlessly into local defenses protecting Catania on the Sicilian east coast, and pressed closer to that keystone of the enemy's position in all central and northeastern Sicily.

Montgomery's men wrested some of the most important strong points of Catania's defenses from picked shock divisions of the German army and reached a point within three miles of the city.

While these veterans were fighting the hardest battle of the Sicilian campaign against the hard core of axis resistance, Canadian units, jabbing dangerously at the enemy's western flank where it is stretched in front of the roadless area of Mount Etna, were said in Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's communiqué to be gaining important ground "with skill and determination in difficult country."

These battle-hungry soldiers captured Piazza Armerina, 15 miles directly east of Caltanissetta.

In this 10th day of the Allied invasion the combined forces had taken from the axis approximately one-third of all Sicily, the official war bulletin stated.

Caltanissetta is an important town dominating a network of roads and railways running through central Sicily. It is about 28 miles from the south coast, and only about 87 miles from the north coast.

Hardly 10 miles farther along to the northeast is Enna, described as the strategic center of the big island.

Observers here regarded Catania as one of the main pins holding together the defense framework, for there probably is no place between Catania and Messina, 55 miles to the north, where the axis could make a determined stand.

An official statement placed the fighting Eighth only seven miles below the port, and one report, not confirmed, said advance elements had penetrated to the city's suburbs.

Offshore, British naval units continued to throw shells into the city and axis positions. The city already was a shambles from shell and bomb and many fires were raging.

A headquarters announcement said Catania's defenders were suffering heavily in killed and captured. In all Sicily some 35,000 prisoners have been taken, 20,000 of them by Americans, since the invaders landed nine days ago.

In a flanking move around Catania, Allied forces striking inland from the coast were reported slaming at the Gerbinli airfield, 12 miles west of Catania. The Gerbinli field and its nine satellites form a major bulwark in the enemy's scheme of defense.

The Algiers radio broadcast today a report that axis headquarters in Sicily had been moved across the strait to Messina to Reggio Calabria at the toe of the Italian mainland.

Youth Is Treated For Chemical Burns

Frank Sholte, 18 years old, is being treated at the Big Spring hospital for second degree burns on his hands and arms after a mishap Sunday night at his home.

According to his hospital authorities, who said his condition was not serious, Sholte and a friend were mixing chemicals in the basement of the Sholte home, 609 Johnson, when the chemicals exploded.

The phosphorus explosion set fire to the basement and firemen made a run to the house to extinguish the blaze.

NUGENT RESIGNS
WASHINGTON, July 19 (AP)—Rolf Nugent, author of a plan to get Americans to buy now for post-war delivery as a means of fighting inflation, has resigned as director of the credit policy office of the Office of Price Administration.

Ban Sales On New Tires For Use As Spares

WASHINGTON, July 19 (AP)—More gasoline for the starved east, less for the west than it has been getting, and not-so-good news all around on tires was ordained today for the world's greatest motoring nation.

Completion of the huge pipeline from Texas to the east coast, scheduled for today, coincided with these developments:

1—Secretary of the Interior Ickes, who also served as petroleum administrator, announced that gasoline rationing for the driving public would be equalized over most of the nation, meaning more fuel for the east, and a reduction for the midwest and the southwest. No change was indicated for the west coast.

2—The Office of Price Administration (OPA), acting at the request of Rubber Director William Jeffers, banned sale of new tires for spares for the next few months—no specific date given.

Excepting firemen, doctors and others dealing with emergencies, OPA said that new, used or re-capped tires will be denied motorists who have four sound tires, plus one that can be made to serve as an emergency spare.

Jeffers said he was striving to make the present stocks last until synthetic casings can be turned out in sufficient quantity.

3—OPA also notified drivers that their B, C, E gas coupons hereafter will be good until renewals are issued, regardless of the expiration date. This move was made to encourage drivers to conserve their coupons without fear that the stamps will become invalid.

B-books outside of the east will be issued henceforth on a three-month basis. Individual needs will be adjusted by the ration boards by tearing out coupons not used in the three-month period, rather than giving each bookholder the same number of stamps but varying the length of time in which the coupons must be used. The east's four-month tenure of B-books will be continued.

Ickes said he couldn't predict what specific changes in the gas ration would be made by the pipeline flow "but in all probability it will mean some increase in the east and a decrease in the middle-west and southwest."

SALES INCREASE
WASHINGTON, July 19 (AP)—Sales of independent retail stores during June were 23 per cent above those for the corresponding period last year and 4 per cent higher than during May, the commerce department reported today.

THE COMMITTEE, headed by U. E. Senator, is a conference held in Mexico, was an route yesterday to Mexico City for the conference.

Highway Conflagration Is Scheduled

CHIHUAHUA, Mexico, July 19 (AP)—A conference has been scheduled with President Avila Camacho by a joint United States-Mexican committee for discussion of completion of a highway from Mexico City to the U. S. Border at El Paso.

Each time I had to stop what I was doing and run for boat or plane and become involved in the man-hunt that to date had failed to produce the man.

Once more, as I packed my suitcase I wondered why I had to be pulled into this Sam Taggard business.

I had been to Washington twice in the last six months and on each visit I'd informed the metallurgists, the Army Procurement officials, the War Planning Board people that I was not an F. B. I. man. I had asked to be released from all future connections with Sam Taggard. I had insisted that my specialty was tin. It wasn't in locating Sam Taggard even if Sam Taggard had located a tin source equal to or even surpassing the Patino mines, and the Patino mines are the greatest tin

Republicans Optimistic About 1944

WASHINGTON, July 19 (AP)—Ten years a bridesmaid in presidential politics, the republican party came out flatly today with the forecast that it would be the bride in the 1944 elections.

In a seven-page statement referring to President Roosevelt as "Candidate Roosevelt," Chairman Harrison Spangler of the G. O. P. national committee made the prediction of republican victory on what he called the strength of "polls of public opinion."

Spangler said the election would be decided in the northern states. Yet he declared, the "solid south" was not so solid for the democrats as they usually reckon.

These "private polls," said Spangler, have showed that the G. O. P. has gained three per cent among the ranks of labor, and five percent in the rural areas of the north.

NEW YORK, July 19 (AP)—Denise A. Watson of Chicago, national chairman of the republican party policy association, today urged republicans not to "our dislike of many of Mr. Roosevelt's policies blind us as we approach the question of international cooperation."

"First of all," Watson said in a keynote speech for delivery before the association's eastern regional conference, "we owe it to our country not to do this. Secondly, let's be smart political strategists for a change. I take it that we republicans would rather elect a republican president than simply vent our spleen on the opposition candidate."

CHARGES FILED
Four charges of drunkenness and one charge of disturbance were filed in Justice court Monday as the result of weekend celebrations, mostly in the Mexican section of town.

Local Ration Board Changes Hours

Hours for the local ration office were changed again, effective today, after the Lubbock office notified the board that the office is to close at 5 p. m. week days and remain open all day on Saturdays.

Formerly the office was open until 5:30 p. m. and only half day on Saturdays. The ration office is open to the public at 9:30 each morning although clerks are at work at 8:15.

Soviet Army Approaching Main Nazi Base Of Orel On Central Front; German Losses Heavy

MOSCOW, July 19 (AP)—The Russian army, overcoming the German fluid defense, has slugged its way to the approaches of the main enemy base at Orel on the central Russian front south of Moscow, the newspaper "Pravda," official communist party organ, announced today.

As the battle reached the close of the second week of furious fighting along a 165-mile front it found the Nazi army, initiators of the offensive, rocking back under sledge hammer blows of the Russian counterattack which threatened the German base and their hold on the vital Orel-Bryansk railway.

The Berlin radio said today in a broadcast recorded by the Associated Press that Russian troops launched a violent offensive yesterday in the Vilkis Luki sector northwest of Moscow and on the Neva river near Leningrad with support from heavy artillery fire.

The Germans said that they had thrown back the Red army men inflicting serious losses including the destruction of 33 Soviet tanks.

The Soviet midnight communiqué reported that the Red army had advanced an additional four miles in one sector during the fighting yesterday capturing several villages and killing about 5,000 German troops.

The battle, which was intended by the Germans to pinch off the Kurak salient and straighten out the line, continued to pile up heavy losses in the Nazi armored and air divisions, the Russians said. They announced they had knocked out 78 tanks and 137 planes on Saturday and said an incomplete check showed 20 more tanks destroyed yesterday to bring German losses to the staggering total of approximately 3,800 tanks and 2,000 planes in the last two weeks.

Russian communiques have indicated during the last two days that Red army troops were advancing steadily if somewhat slower despite adverse weather conditions. Their reports of the fighting showed that the Germans were slipping at the soviet flanks and melting back in the face of determined Red army mechanized attack.

The war bulletin said that the Russians succeeded in breaking in behind the retreating Germans in several instances and that German command, mindful of what happened at Stalingrad, is apprehensive of flank blows which will result in Nazi detachments being cut off and surrounded.

The midnight communiqué gave major attention to the Orel section of the front where the major Russian gains have been registered in this, their first, summer offensive.

The area around Belgorod at the southern end of the salient, where Field Marshal Gueuther Von Kluge made a few small gains in the early days of the fighting, was the scene of intense clashes between scouting parties, the communiqué said.

The Soviet bulletin did not identify the exact locality of yesterday's gains, but Russian dispatches during the last two days have indicated that the Red army is within 15 miles of Orel in some localities and even closer to the Orel-Bryansk railway.

Local Ration Board Changes Hours

Hours for the local ration office were changed again, effective today, after the Lubbock office notified the board that the office is to close at 5 p. m. week days and remain open all day on Saturdays.

Formerly the office was open until 5:30 p. m. and only half day on Saturdays. The ration office is open to the public at 9:30 each morning although clerks are at work at 8:15.

WARNING TO ITALY FOLLOWED BY FIRST ATTACK ON CAPITAL

By The Associated Press
The Rome radio broadcast the first axis assertion that church property had been damaged by today's Allied bombing of Rome in the form of a Stefani Agency dispatch which said Pope Pius had visited the Basilica of St. Lorenzo Guor Le Mura (outside the wall), "devastated this morning by bombs dropped by Anglo-Saxon aviators."

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, July 19 (AP)—Allied heavy and medium bombers blasted military objectives in Rome for the first time in the war today, striking at the very heart of Fascist Italy in an emphatic followup to the Churchill-Roosevelt ultimatum demanding that Italians remove their country from the war.

Specially trained Allied troops carried home a precision attack, pinpointing targets which supposedly were protected by their proximity to some of the most sacred symbols and monuments of christianity.

A terrific force of explosives burst in Rome. Prior to the falling of the bombs went leaflets telling Italians why the eternal city had to be attacked—because the fascists, capitalizing on hallowed precincts, had systematically concentrated their war machinery there and funneled German troops as well as their own through Roman railways.

"It is from this war engine that weapons to kill our soldiers have been coming," the Allied message said.

Bombs were away—dropped on their targets—in broad daylight at 11:13 a. m. (4:13 a. m. Central War Time).

(The bombing was announced by the war department in Washington at 4:29 a. m. before the bombers had time to return).

It was the first time in this war that a report on a bombing was released before the attack actually started. Correspondents were given the information at 11 a. m. The bomb bay doors were opened in the lead flight of the Allied planes 15 minutes later and the radio operators on the flight informed headquarters instantly.

The reason was to forestall or discount a flood of Axis propaganda claiming Rome had been bombed indiscriminately, with lurid and fantastic tales flashed to Catholic countries over the world.

Rome is barely 350 miles from advanced Allied air bases and Mussolini and his fascist chieftains are reported to have lived in terror of a bombing of their capital since the turn in the fortunes of war in the Mediterranean.

Thousands of Italians had flocked to the capital, believing it would be safe from bombing.

The Allied air force also struck at mainland airfields of Italy at Monte Corvino and Pomigliano Saturday night, dropping explosives in strings across runways and buildings, it was announced. In direct support of the British eighth army driving up the Sicilian east coast yards.

Simultaneously hundreds of Marauders and Mitchells, escorted by Lightnings, began a lengthy attack on the Campino airfield.

The Rome bombing was announced in a brief special communiqué which emphasized the care taken not to harm cultural and religious structures.

The San Lorenzo marshalling yards was the closest target to the Vatican.

Forty-five minutes after the first attack another wave of Flying Fortresses laid a new pattern of bombs over the same yards.

The war's first bombing of Rome, it was disclosed tonight, was carried out by an all-American force.

'A' Card Renewal Mailing Continues

"A" card holders, whose mileage ration expires on Wednesday July 21st, may find themselves without new cards if they delay much longer. Approximately half of the number to be renewed have been processed by volunteer workers.

Workers sent out a hundred renewals Saturday and were expected to finish that many Monday, to bring the total to around 1,880 applications completed.

New volunteer workers on hand Monday morning were Mrs. John Griffin and Joy Brown.

Raid Bears Out Statement By Anthony Eden

LONDON, July 19 (AP)—The bombing of Rome today suggested to observers here that the allies finally had decided military considerations outweighed cries of protest sure to come from axis and possibly from neutral sources.

It was expected that Prime Minister Churchill, who has not yet made a statement in parliament on the Sicilian campaign, would take an early opportunity in the house of commons to set forth the allies' reason for the attack.

The raid, which an Allied communiqué said was concentrated on military targets, gave an answer to arguments which have flourished in the British press and in the house of commons concerning the possibility of bombing the eternal city.

The last official statement on the question was given by Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden on June 30, when he told commons:

"We would not hesitate to bomb Rome to the best of our ability and as heavily as possible if the course of the war should render such action necessary."

The Allied headquarters announcement of the bombing declared the plane crews were given instructions to avoid historic and religious targets, but advocates of the bombing of Rome long have contended there are an ample number of other legitimate targets in the capital city of the fascist regime.

In addition to housing German and Italian troops, Rome is an important center for railways which transport troops and supplies from the northern area to the defense lines south of Rome.

There are also numerous industrial targets in the city's outskirts and on the Campagna Romana, the plain which surrounds the city for a radius of 20 miles.

Alexander Orders Dissolution Of Fascist Party

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, July 19 (AP)—Immediate dissolution of the fascist party and annulment of "all discriminatory decrees and laws" were among the first steps taken toward the rehabilitation of occupied areas in Sicily under General Sir Harold Alexander, Allied military governor.

The orders were contained in a proclamation issued yesterday by Alexander, his first since the creation of the Allied military government of occupied territory in which former Governor Charles Poletti of New York state has an executive post.

General Alexander indicated he would retain as much of the administrative and judicial set-up in Sicily as possible under war conditions and that "existing personal property rights will be fully respected and existing laws will remain in force and effect" until suspended by proclamation.

"So long as you remain peaceable and comply with my orders you will be subjected to no greater interference than may be inevitable in view of military exigencies, and may go about your normal vocations without fear," he said.

MURDER IN TIN
By CARL A. PETERSON
A graphic illustration showing a man in a trench coat and hat, possibly a detective or investigator, standing in a dark, industrial setting. The man is looking towards the right, and there are some faint lights or reflections in the background. The overall mood is mysterious and noir.

Chapter I
I am no good at all in locating missing persons. Especially a missing person like Sam Taggard. I'm a mining engineer, serving my country in the Specialist Corps and my specialty is tin. When the Washington cable reached me I'd been studying tin production in the Patino mines in Bolivia. I took the cable to my room. Decided, it read:
LEAVE IMMEDIATELY MEXICO CITY. POSSIBILITY SAM TAGGARD THERE YOU WILL MAKE ACQUAINTANCE DAUGHTER. ARRANGEMENTS IN PREPARATION.
I felt pretty bitter. For a long time now, ever since the Jap seizure of Thailand and the Dutch East Indies tin sources, my work had been periodically interrupted by cables about Sam Taggard.
Each time I had to stop what I was doing and run for boat or plane and become involved in the man-hunt that to date had failed to produce the man.
Once more, as I packed my suitcase I wondered why I had to be pulled into this Sam Taggard business.
I had been to Washington twice in the last six months and on each visit I'd informed the metallurgists, the Army Procurement officials, the War Planning Board people that I was not an F. B. I. man. I had asked to be released from all future connections with Sam Taggard. I had insisted that my specialty was tin. It wasn't in locating Sam Taggard even if Sam Taggard had located a tin source equal to or even surpassing the Patino mines, and the Patino mines are the greatest tin source open to the United Nations.
My protests hadn't done me much good. I was a mesh in the inter-American net spread out for Sam Taggard. This wasn't the first time I had been ordered to meet one of his relatives or connections. It was no use protesting to my boss, Lew Fall. The trips had been fruitless, cutting into my main job which was to expedite the movement of tin ore from smelting plant the U. S. Government had built in Texas. My job was tin; tin and more tin. Not that I couldn't see my boss's logic. If my job was tin, Sam Taggard in a sense was tin. He was also a few other things: he had his specialties too. He was a mining engineer. He was a famous discoverer of ore fields all over the Latin America. He was a high-

Usual Standards Are Maintained By Local Auto Parts Store

Today when the average person knows that his automobile must last for the duration, he makes it a point to see that every part of his car is in perfect running condition, and that worn out parts are replaced with parts of the highest quality. Escol Compton, manager of the Harry Lester Auto Equipment Store pointed this out in explaining that even though equipment is hard to get at this time, the local store still maintains their usual standard of high quality service.

Harry Lester, owner and operator of the auto parts store, 404 Johnson, has found in his 18 years of experience as a dealer that when the same customers return year after year, they are evidently satisfied with the service they receive. Ranking as one of the best, most well equipped auto parts stores in West Texas, the shop not only services Big Spring but 11 counties as well.

Compton, who has had approximately 12 years experience in the automobile parts business, pointed out that the greatest need of local motorists at this time is replacement parts, and as a service to customers the store handles Thompson products, such as bearings, chassis parts, water pumps and "Perfect Circle" piston rings.

The replacement of badly worn and unserviceable parts now may not only be a means of better performance for an automobile, but may be the thing which heads off several other costly repairs.

The shop still maintains a motor rebuilding service which includes the repair or rebuilding of brake drums, clutch and pressure plate rebuilding, and has parts for all makes and models from 1934 to 1942.

As a service to farmers in Howard county and surrounding communities, the store services tractors and is equipped to handle complete tractor rebuilding.

Metal Company Manager Has To Burn Midnight Oil By Escapee

Burning the midnight oil is an old expression used for people who work late and long hours to get their job done and it aptly fits I. Weiner, manager and owner of the Big Spring Iron and Metal company, 1501 W. Third Street.

The establishment has two fronts to serve, the government and also private business and war time needs have built up demands in both branches.

The business, in the government branch, is concerned with collecting scrap metal and scrap rubber, for which the firm is a government broker. Scrap metal to keep the weapons of war provided for our fighting men is an essential part of the company's business. Scrap rubber, equally essential, is also bought by the company and sold for government use.

On the private business side of the ledger, the company sells structural steel and building pipe, all used material, but still filling the needs for building purposes. It also handles pipe for water wells and oil field casings, and this side of the business has been on the increase, too, since the war.

But the Big Spring Iron and Metal Company is well equipped to fill an important part in the war on the home front. Established 12 years ago, it is no "Johnny come lately" in business, and Weiner handles the business with the knowledge built on experience.

Another service the company offers as far as the government is concerned, is its facilities for pressing sheet metal and lighter scrap iron for shipment to government depositories. This is just added help for the government and another part in the fight for freedom that this private company is employing.

Bim Patton, third baseman from Richmond, Va., has been named captain for 1944 of the University of Virginia baseball nine.

Still Have Vacancies At Courts

A huge apartment house with 40 to 50 units could have not done better than has Coleman Courts in serving individuals, couples and families who must have quarters here.

Although the popular courts, located at the crest of a hill which bounds the eastern edge of the city, still have approximately two score "permanent" occupants, L. E. Coleman, operator, said that a few other apartments and rooms were still available.

These apartments, completely furnished, are readily adaptable for housekeeping. Moreover, there is a goodly supply of either single or double bedrooms for those who wish lodging but who board out.

Not only is Coleman Courts proving a logical place of abode for many, but it also continues to find favor with those who come here to visit, particularly with men in the service.

"Of course there isn't any tourist traffic as such anymore," said Mr. Coleman, "but every week we have many families who reserve rooms or apartments so that they may have a place to stay while visiting with their sons or husbands."

Location of the camp makes for maximum utilization of the cool evening breezes for which this area is noted. With its elevation, the court grounds get the benefit of any natural circulation of air. Too, they are on E. Third street (the Broadway of America) and within short distance of several eating places and not far removed from downtown.

Lorena Brooks To Attend Spanish Summer School In Saltillo, Mexico

Students From TSCW To Leave Friday Morning

Lorena Brooks, daughter of Judge and Mrs. James T. Brooks, will leave Wednesday for Laredo where she will join 41 other Spanish students from Texas State Teachers College for Women, who have been enrolled in the third annual summer school of Spanish at Saltillo, Mexico. The group will leave Laredo early Friday morning for Saltillo.

The course is sponsored by the foreign language department at the college and will be held from July 23 through August 27.

Miss Brooks is a freshman student and is taking a liberal arts course. Both undergraduates and graduates courses will be given at the school, with the TSCW staff having charge of all classes providing procedures, materials and examinations.

The Mexican staff members will lecture to advanced classes and will assist with conversational drill and teaching.

Students become a part of the life at Saltillo and thereby get an unusual appreciation of the people, language, literature and other phases of Mexican civilization.

Classes in English for Saltillo residents will also be given, aided by a $2,000 collection of English language books and periodicals recently placed in that city by the Co-ordinator of Inter-American Affairs.

Director of the school is Dr. Rebecca Switzer, who is also head of the TSCW foreign languages department. Dr. Jerome Moore, professor of Spanish, is assistant director and business manager.

The Mexican staff is headed by Lic Evelio H. Gonzalez Trevino, jurist and historian.

Former Local Pastor Leads Revival Here

Large crowds greeted Melvin J. Wise, Dallas, former Big Spring minister, on his return to the Church of Christ Sunday to inaugurate a series of revival meetings.

Speaking from the text, "Then Philip opened his mouth and preached unto him Jesus," Wise declared that the "church should not be a closed-mouth institution. We open our mouths for many other purposes but we fail to open them to speak for Jesus. One of the greatest needs of the cause of Christ today is for Christians able and willing to preach Jesus."

It is impossible to "talk about Jesus unless you know about him," said the minister in an appeal for a closer fellowship with Christ. "There is no better way to preach Jesus than to live Him."

While there is a need for preachers who can convert large numbers, greatest work of the church can be done by its members singling out others to win them to Christ, he asserted. At 8:45 p. m. today he speaks on "Christ Our Refuge."

Director of the school is Dr. Rebecca Switzer, who is also head of the TSCW foreign languages department. Dr. Jerome Moore, professor of Spanish, is assistant director and business manager.

Barbecue Given At C. L. West Ranch

FORSAN, July 19.—The Barbecue club met at the C. L. West ranch Saturday evening for a barbecue and informal party.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. C. L. West, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Longshore, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Naaworthy, Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Young, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Conger, Jr., and Bill III, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. A glance at the records being kept for the government report revealed the name of Mayor J. A. Sadler as one of the canners. The mayor does his own processing without benefit of the Misus. The Rev. C. M. Epps, pastor of the First Methodist church, assisted (and assisted) spectators by spending a whole day canning, starting at 6 a. m.

Ford Merritt, city secretary, and his seven year-old son put up corn and peas. The sheriff, Nick Narrell, put in a day helping Mrs. Narrell. The manager of the Texas Electric Service company has been hard at work conserving products from his vacant-lot victory garden.

A lad who leaves for induction as an air corps engineer July 30, Bobby Ratliff, did several dozen cans for his parents.

Early Setting Of Tax Rate Expected

AUSTIN, July 19 (AP)—Comptroller George Sheppard said today the automatic tax board probably will set the 1943 state property tax rate this month.

The automatic tax board composed of Sheppard, Gov. Coke R. Stevenson and State Treasurer Jesse James will meet tomorrow and recess pending completion of assessed valuations of property from counties.

At least a dozen counties have failed to certify their assessment rolls. The rate for last year was 70 cents per $100 valuation and board members have indicated prospects are good for a 10-cent reduction this year.

Back from a trip out of town, IRA THURMAN's first thought was the bond sale score for the month. Since he is the chairman of the sales committee, he is more than war bond conscious.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. W. H. CARDWELL, who today celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary. The couple plans no reunion of the children since nine members of the family are in the service.

Imagine strawberries in North Africa. Pfc. DONALD L. BOWDEN wrote his parent about eating the dish where he is stationed. That is quite a revelation to us, we thought Africa was just one long desert stretch.

The girls who like to bowl will get a chance to win war bonds and stamps in the city wide tournament to begin Tuesday. ELOUISE HALEY, who is one of the most enthusiastic women bowlers in town, is in charge of signing up the women. Since it is an annual event, she believes they'll have a good tournament and some good bowling.

We love the story about the woman in Dallas who found the price of watermelons too high and smashed the melons over the heads of the standkeepers. What an uninhibited soul!

Two visitors to town this weekend we saw were HARVEY WILIAMSON, who spent Saturday here, and NANCY PHILLIPS, who is home from Abilene for a week's vacation with her folks, Mr. and Mrs. SHINE PHILLIPS.

Colorado City Canning Center Gets Rush As Everybody Hurries To Put Up Stores Of Home-Raised Goods

COLORADO CITY, July 19.—That Mitchell county families are determined to meet increased point values of canned vegetables with home conservation of foods is fast being proved here by the enthusiastic use of the community canning center in the City-County building at Colorado City.

The center was opened June 30 under the new Rural War Production Training program with Mrs. James J. Durham as canning supervisor and F. C. Shillingburg, vocational agriculture teacher of Colorado City high school, as director.

The fever for putting up food is not confined to farm families. Most farm families have canning equipment in their own kitchens. The town families, the greater percentage of whom have never before canned so much as a bean, are responsible for the rush.

Because the corn crop of every-body concerned was ready at once, and because ripe corn must be canned before it hardens, something of a crisis developed this week and the center was opened at 6 a. m. each morning. It was kept operating until all food ready for processing was safely in containers. Midnight was the most frequent quitting time with 2:35 a. m. the latest closing hour.

A glance at the records being kept for the government report revealed the name of Mayor J. A. Sadler as one of the canners. The mayor does his own processing without benefit of the Misus. The Rev. C. M. Epps, pastor of the First Methodist church, assisted (and assisted) spectators by spending a whole day canning, starting at 6 a. m.

Ford Merritt, city secretary, and his seven year-old son put up corn and peas. The sheriff, Nick Narrell, put in a day helping Mrs. Narrell. The manager of the Texas Electric Service company has been hard at work conserving products from his vacant-lot victory garden.

An impressive flag dedication service was held at St. Thomas Catholic church Sunday morning with the past, the Rev. George Julian, O. M. I. in charge.

Two service men from the Big Spring Bombardier school participated in the service, and the American flag with the church flag was dedicated to the local church and placed in the sanctuary.

In connection with the ceremony, the Rev. Julian chose as his morning subject, "Render to Caesar the Things That Are Caesar's, and to God the Things That Are God's." He stated that "Authority comes from God, and we are duty bound to honor and revere the authority represented by our national emblem, and to respect the spirit of patriotism manifested by Americans at the sight of the stars and stripes."

The American flag was a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Springman and the church flag was given by a group of parishoners.

She wants to win an unpopularity contest!

Elizabeth Jenkins seeks title of "Most hated by Axis in 1943!"

THE AXIS has probably never heard of Miss Elizabeth Jenkins—but she's doing her level best to change that!

For example:
Elizabeth works in an essential industry thereby releasing, in effect, a fighting man. And out of the salary she draws for that work she puts 22% into War Bonds, through the Payroll Savings Plan. She figures that her investment may help to maintain the three fighting men who are closest to her—her two brothers and her father.

"They're fighting for me, so the least I can do is to help buy the tools they fight with!" says Elizabeth.

Her father commands a brigade of the North Carolina State Guard. He saw action overseas in the last war and his stories have made Elizabeth keenly aware of the importance of her investment in War Bonds. Her father has explained that no matter how much spirit and fight a soldier has, he needs the best equipment that money can buy. He has also pointed out that American soldiers are the best equipped in the world.

Miss Jenkins wants to keep them that way, because in addition to her father, she has two brothers in the Army.

Lieutenant Tom is an antiaircraft artilleryman. Captain Jack is in the Air Corps. So Elizabeth is reasonably sure that in one way or another, the Axis will hear from the Jenkins family in the near future. It makes no difference to Elizabeth whether her War Bond investment buys bombs or shells—either one will get her a few, more votes for the title she's seeking.

Are you doing as much for America's future as Elizabeth Jenkins? Are you as anxious as she is to get the war over and get the war won? Every dollar you can lend hurries Victory, so...

Weren't there a few more dollars in your last pay envelope that could have gone into War Bonds—but didn't? Get out a pencil right now, and see if you can't boost the percentage you're putting aside for Uncle Sam—and yourself!

A Special Message About A

RATTLESNAKE

It Concerns You and Your Family
Every Man, Woman and Child
Should Read Every Word of It

The American economic system which has resulted in the highest level of prosperity in the history of the world has its foundation in the democratic institution of Free Enterprise. And the solid bed-rock to which this foundation has been anchored has been the dollar.

Americans are a practical people. A dollar is a tangible thing to them. It represents a measure of value they understand. All through the years of good and bad business, of booms and depressions, the dollar has remained the mainstay of American economy.

But a dangerous thing is happening to the dollar. That insidious word, inflation, keeps cropping out in reports from Washington, in quotations from bankers, economic advisors and investment firms. The value of the dollar is under fire because its purchasing power is being weakened.

A dollar is a dollar only in terms of what it will buy. Under conditions now existing with some 60 per cent of the nation's manufacturing output converted to the production of war goods, the shortage of civilian merchandise is forcing prices inevitably upward on the small amount of goods that is available. That means it takes more dollars than it formerly took to buy these goods, hence, the buying power of the dollar is lessened and its value reduced.

The only answer to this situation is higher income, more dollars, so there will be enough dollars to buy the things needed. So incomes are being raised by one means or another. But prices keep on jumping faster than incomes climb, keeping the gap in the purchasing power of the dollar wide open.

Obviously, if the race between prices and incomes kept up both would spiral out of sight, money would be worthless. An article that cost two dollars today might cost $200 a few weeks from now. In order to keep pace, an income that is $50 per week today would have to be $5,000 in a few weeks.

Or, looking at it in reverse, $50 a week would be worth exactly 50 cents in terms of buying power, a situation that would mean starvation and utter ruin for all of us, rich and poor alike. You would be broke. Every business of every sort would be utterly ruined.

When money becomes worthless, or almost worthless, it doesn't make much difference how much of it you have . . . you are broke.

Suppose every dollar in your pocket suddenly became worth only one penny each. See what it would mean? You and your family would be hungry in a few days, starving soon after. All the millions of other Americans would face the same fate.

Inflation is a rattlesnake. Its bite is fatal. It can kill a nation's financial life just as quickly as the bite of a rattlesnake would kill an individual.

But the rattlesnake, for the moment, has been caged.

In this case the cage is a form of controls, wage and price ceilings and rationing. These are the only things that can control the deadly danger of inflation. None of us particularly like restrictions on our liberties. This is War and War is not pleasant in any aspect. It does strange things to the laws of supply and demand. It creates sudden shortages when there had been a surplus of many things. War has done this in America.

Whether we like it or not we must all conform to the regulations set up by the government to control inflation. Intelligent regulations, if followed, will hold back the raging flood of inflation that otherwise will rush down in a torrent and drown all of us. If we punch holes in these dikes thrown up by the government we will weaken them and they will collapse and we will all drown together.

Americans with extra dollars in their pockets who are willing to "pay a little more" to get what they want, regardless of ceiling and rationing, are punching holes in these dikes. If they think the flood they are daring by so doing will spare them and drown somebody else they will be sadly mistaken. They will drown too. Inflation is no respecter of persons and makes no exceptions; the patriot and the hoarder alike perish. The hoarder may think he will escape but where and how will he escape? There is no escape once the fury of inflation smashes down the dikes.

There have been some mistakes in the methods by which price ceilings, wage regulations and rationing are being administered. That is to be expected. It was necessary that the machinery be set up quickly because the danger was so urgent. Thousands of volunteer workers have given weeks and months of their time, staffs have been without training and often inadequate, but much good has been done. The flood has been held back for the present and the rattlesnake is merely rattling in its cage instead of lashing unrestricted at our bare ankles with its deadly fangs.

But it is up to each American to do his or her part, to conform to the rationing regulations, price and wage ceilings, to keep away from Black Markets and gasoline bootleggers.

Actually most of us at home have made real sacrifices in our way of living. Many of us are far better off financially than we've ever been. True, there are a lot of inconveniences. But let's measure our inconveniences against those of the men out yonder doing the fighting for us. Can you look those boys in the eyes and say, honestly, "I'm doing my duty, too?"

If you can answer that question then you will gladly abide by these necessary safeguards against inflation . . . inflation that would destroy the very things we are fighting this war to preserve.

Plentiful But Simple Clothing

The average American wardrobe will be plentiful but plain, if WPA's announced intention of discarding frills and concentrating on production of simple but substantial garments and fabrics is carried out. It is hoped by this means to evade the rationing of clothing, a step that has been rumored for more than a year.

"We need not have clothes rationing in the United States," said Donald M. Nelson, chairman of WPA. "There is an adequate supply of textiles and textile products to meet all military and essential civilian needs. The minor problem is to see that the proper distribution and use is made."

The chairman submits this slogan for the guidance of the people: "Don't buy more than you need. Don't buy it before you need it. And make it last as long as you can."

Acute shortages in some lines have already made themselves apparent throughout the country. Sheets and pillowcases, men's shirts and shorts and infants' clothing are the principal items affected. It is hoped by concentrating production on certain needed lines, such as these, it will be possible to provide a normal supply for everybody.

Regardless of the future of clothing in this country—whether scarce or plentiful, whether plain or fancy, whether rationed or not—the American people are infinitely better off than any people in the world. The British have been under strict rationing almost since outbreak of the war. The German people have been wearing ersatz clothing for years. In the conquered lands the situation is appalling—ill-clad bodies, empty stomachs, an almost total lack of fuel for heating.

If we Americans would stop and count our blessings there would be much less complaining. We would find we are so much better off than anybody else that we'd be ashamed to gripe.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds—Gae Foster's Troupe Of Skaters To Make Film

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—If history is in a mood for repeating herself, you might as well get out your old pair of roller skates and oil 'em up.

You'll be needing them.

On her refrigerated stage at 20th Century-Fox Sonja Henie was carrying her usual ice with her usual blades, making "Winter-time" in the middle of summer. On an old ramshackle wooden rehearsal stage, on the same studio's back lot, there was the whirring and roaring of a hundred rollers, getting ready to make their first movie bid for fame.

Foster's "Skating Vanities" troupe had arrived and already, with some of their luggage still piled around the edges of a rented dance floor which was serving as a rink, was launched on its first Hollywood rehearsal.

ing, she has the grace of a prima ballerina, and when she is on wheels her natural liquid rhythm takes wing. A few close-ups of her smile in "Pin-Up Girl" should be enough to guarantee a Henie-like career afterward.

Miss Nord is a Hollywood girl who used to think a great deal about getting into pictures but did nothing about it. Like many another Hollywood girl, she took up ice-skating—at the same Polar Palace where Sonja Henie staged her first movie-winning show—and turned to wheels only when Sid Grauman, opening a roller rink, asked her if she could do a few dances for him.

Three months later she went on tour, on rollers, and has been building a name ever since.

Noted Biographer Predicts Victory

HOLLYWOOD, July 19 (AP)—Emil Ludwig, biographer, has predicted the defeat of Italy in three months and Germany six months later.

Ludwig declared in a nationwide broadcast last night that he asked Mussolini in an interview, before the United States entered the war, what would happen if Italy should be defeated.

Ludwig said Mussolini replied: "We'll all tumble together."

RAF Sets Record

LONDON, July 19 (AP)—Gunners on the RAF's night bombers destroyed 22 enemy fighter planes during June, the greatest month of the European aerial offensive, the air ministry has announced.

British bombers neither are as heavily armored or armed as their American counterparts, which have set a sensational record for shooting down Axis planes in daylight.

More than 16,000 Chinese live in San Francisco's Chinatown.

MURDER IN TIN

class racketeer who had, prior to Pearl Harbor, consistently played a speculative game with his various discoveries. He had broken contracts so frequently that he himself had been a gold mine to a whole series of lawyers. He was also damned good at staying missing right now. He was a person whom we just had to find.

A nation at war must have tin and we had less of it than ever. Ninety thousand tons out of the hundred thousand tons of tin that we had used in peacetime had come from Thailand and the Dutch East Indies. That was the single staggering statistic.

We needed tin for the fighter planes we were building. We needed tin for the billions of food cans being sent overseas to our A. E. F.'s.

an illustration of a tin can with its top and bottom cut out and a second can pressed down flat and a smaller illustration of an industrial plant. The slogans on the reverse side read:

SAVE ALL Cans, Bottle Tops, Etc. TIN IS AMMUNITION!

I would look at that match folder and the hope ran through my brain that maybe this time I would catch up with Sam Taggard.

"You will make acquaintance daughter," the cable had instructed me. How did she look, this daughter of Taggard's, I wondered. If she was anything like Taggard, the next few weeks would be interesting in a way that wouldn't do much to lengthen my lifetime.

(Copyright, 1943, Carl A. Peterson)

It made me burn when I thought of Sam Taggard. He was, of course, a traitor. For a while Fall had believed him dead, murdered by Axis agents somewhere in Latin America. But later our counter-espionage had reported him as alive. He was alive and had already collected about two hundred thousand dollars to stay in hiding and keep his tin ore from being exploited for the duration.

Counter-espionage had reported him as wanting a million dollars before turning over the maps of his discovery to the Axis-agents. Fall also felt that Sam Taggard was clever enough to conceal the maps from both the Gestapo and the Japs. He had spent a lifetime in such strategies. Besides, his life wasn't worth much if Axis agents were to get hold of his maps. They would liquidate him immediately to prevent him from double crossing them.

The next morning, I said goodbye to the Superintendent and the staff of engineers stationed at the Patino mines and took the train down to Potosi.

The Superintendent of the Patino mines had given me a match folder some one had mailed him from the States. Sometimes, on that long trip, I would look at it. It was a reminder alright. One cover showed a row of gleaming tin cans against a maroon background with slogan reading: "Your Country Needs TIN! Don't Waste It! On the reverse side there was

The Timid Soul

No Love Lost Between Dies And Petroleum Chief Ickes

By GEORGE STIMPSON
Herald Washington Correspondent.

There's no love lost between Martin Dies and Harold Ickes. A few years ago Harold Ickes was carrying on a sort of feud against Texas as an institution. With a few exceptions, he didn't seem to like Texans on general principles. But lately this feud has subsided and many Texans, even oil men, may now be found among the staunch supporters of the secretary of the interior.

Martin Dies and Harold Ickes, however, have never shaken hands and made up. The other day the chairman of the special House committee to investigate un-American activities unfolded his more than six feet of height and asked unanimous consent to address the House for one minute.

"Tucked away in an inconspicuous place in the morning papers," observed the Texan, "is the most important news item that has appeared in many years. It brought instant and complete relief to those of us who have been seriously concerned about the vast expenditures of our government and the accumulation of the most colossal debt in the history of the country. But the momentous announcement of that great financier, genius, statesman, humanitarian, liberal, reformer and chicken raiser, Harold Ickes, has shown us how baseless are our fears and how niggardly Congress has been in restricting appropriations to a few hundred billion of dollars."

"Versatile Ickes has solved the riddle of how much this country is worth. In this morning's newspaper the secretary advises us that the wealth of the United States is $12,023,000,000,000, which is the equivalent of $39,000 for each man, woman and child in the United States. I am not only happy for the nation and for my financially distressed colleagues in the House, but it is only human that I feel a sense of personal relief to know that I, my wife and my three children are now worth $445,000. My only complaint of the secretary is that he has withheld from a troubled Congress and nation this all-important information. I congratulate the nation that in this dark and troubled hour there should appear upon the horizon a stupendous intellect and a twelve trillion dollar heart to bring hope, consolation and encouragement to suffering humanity. I now suggest that Vice President Wallace revise his plan so as to provide everyone in the world with 13 gallons of milk each day."

"Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel hasn't changed his mind one bit about the Ruml plan. He vigorously opposed the provision forgiving taxes as unnecessary, economically unsound, impractical, unequitable and even undesired by the rank and file of taxpayers. "To me," he declared, "it looked as though the bill provided for handing out large gifts from a deep deep ridden treasury to a group of political contractors and war profiteers, and thus be far more beneficial to large-income groups than to small-income groups. But the argument is over, and it will not be necessary for any of us to be in the dark much longer regarding who will reap the greatest benefits from the Ruml cancellation law, because it is now in operation and the reports are coming into the treasury and the facts are being recorded."

The junior senator from Texas, to obtain this information, introduced a bill directing the secretary of the treasury to compile and publish a public document listing the names, addresses and amounts of all individuals who had their income taxes cancelled under the terms of the current tax payment act of 1943. "For several weeks," he asserted, on appropriation bills, and have been so busy considering the many details involved that we may have lost sight of the shocking totals of all the bills. The over-all total is considerably more than $100,000,000,000. This is an enormous sum of money. All of it is money the government does not possess. Congress will have to find all of that money somewhere, sometime, and with the present tax rates almost to the point of confiscation, it is going to be no easy job for the members to sit in future sessions of this Congress to provide funds to liquidate the enormous debt which we are passing on to ourselves and our posterity."

After this appropriation fever subsides and Congress comes to the sobering task of beating the barren bushes in vain search of revenue," continued the senator, "I can visualize some persevering member with a good memory prying open the Ruml-plan tomb for the purpose of recovering that $6,500,000,000 of accrued income taxes that were cancelled when this Congress enacted the current tax payment act of 1943, commonly known as the Ruml tax cancellation plan, or the Ruml Santa Claus act." He thought that when the country knows all the facts "many of our good citizens who did not know the facts when the law was passed will not want to become beneficiaries of such useless public generosity and they will demand repeal of the law."

Famed Woman Bowler Gives Exhibition

Employing a free backhand swing and a fast, hard delivery uncommon among female enthusiasts of the sport, Joann Garrett, one of the nation's outstanding women bowlers, demonstrated her ability in exhibition at the West Texas Bowling Center alleys Saturday evening and Sunday afternoon.

Teamed with Sgt. Lee Curtis of the Big Spring Bombardier school, Mrs. Garrett rolled games of 147, 209 and 201 to defeat Lois Eason and Lt. Jim Freeman in mixed doubles Saturday. Mrs. Eason is one of Big Spring's best women bowlers, holding an international league average of 152.

Mrs. Garrett, a flight lieutenant in the Army Air Corps, is a member of the Women's International Bowling Conference, has high game of 278 and high series of 683. She won the Times Singles tournament in Oklahoma City in 1940 with a 200 plus average.

In impromptu matches Sunday Mrs. Garrett and Cpl. W. E. Ramsey edged out Jack Smith and Jake Douglas by 11 pins and took a 69-pin victory from LeBlou and Wheeler.

Women Needed For Work In San Diego

Women are needed urgently as bus and street car operators in San Diego, Calif. and J. D. and A. H. Spreckles interests are prepared to pay $4 a day and furnish quarters to learners. Mrs. Richmond Temple, recruiter for the transportation company, said here Monday.

She was to be here through the remainder of the day and all of Tuesday at the U.S. Employment Service office where she is interviewing women between 18 and 45 years of age who are at least five feet, two inches high and weigh 120 or more pounds.

At the end of the learning period, according to Mrs. Temple, women draw $3 cents an hour and the scale steps up automatically until it has reached 93 cents at the end of a year. Mrs. Temple, who was enroute to the states from London at the time war broke out and who entered war work for the duration, also is recruiting women as waitresses, maids, etc. for the Hotel del Coronado at San Diego.

Because both the transportation system and the hotel serve defense workers and navy personnel primarily, she said that the jobs offered opportunity to contribute to the war effort.

Final Rites Are Held For Mrs. Zora D. Leysath

Funeral services for Mrs. Zora D. Leysath, who succumbed early Sunday morning, will be held this afternoon at the Eberley funeral chapel with the Rev. Dick O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiating.

Mrs. Leysath, 78, was found dead in bed at the home of her son, John R. Leysath, at 3 a. m. Sunday, and death is believed to have been caused by a heart attack. She was born Sept. 10, 1863, and joined the Baptist church when she was 10 years old. Since 1907, when she moved to Big Spring, she has been a member of the Baptist church here.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. H. R. Debenport, Big Spring, and Mrs. Charles E. Sullivan, Ennis; two sons, J. R. Leysath, Big Spring, and P. V. Leysath, Fort Worth. Other survivors include four granddaughters, two grandsons, two great-granddaughters and two great-grandsons.

Fight Against Leaf Worms Is Due Soon

First leaf worms have been found in Howard county cotton. This is the signal that soon the fight to maintain cotton production will be on—and will continue until well into September.

Infestation in the isolated spots where the worms were found is yet extremely light and it is believed that it will be at least two weeks and possibly more before there could be a general attack by the pests. Thereafter, they come in three-week cycles until farmers either whip them with calcium arsenate or let them defoliate the cotton in the autumn.

Poison supplies appear now to be ample for a concentrated and extended fight on the worms.

All in all, cotton now is reported to be as free of insects at this stage of the season as most growers can ever remember. There has been scarcely any damage by cotton fleashoppers, which wrought considerable damage in the two previous seasons, and the leaf infestation has been controlled by the ladybird beetle.

Most of the fields are in fair shape and perhaps 70 percent or more of the county's cotton has been chipped. Comparatively little is regarded as "bad weedy." "Crews, although short in number, likely will have the situation cared for within a week or two. Cotton varies from ankle to more than knee high in various areas of the county.

Virtually all feed has been planted, while there is still some hegrira to go into the ground at this late stage. Several feed patches have been laid by, but most feed this year will come from the late crop just now up to stands and knived.

Before he sailed following involvement in the United States in the war, Billy was in training with the Royal Canadian Air Force.

Approximately 30 persons, including local business men and officers from the Big Spring Bombardier School attended a rodeo in Snyder Saturday. NEW YORK, July 19 (AP)—Except for assorted peak stocks which edged into new high ground for the move, market leaders generally were notably unresponsive today to the exceptionally cheering war news.

Medium-priced oils led selected issues in a fractional advance at the start but most of these failed to follow through and, finish, relatively light dealings, near-closing quotations were a trifle mixed. Transfers were around 900,000 shares.

Stocks at peaks for 1943 or longer included Standard Oil (N. J.), Pure Oil, Ohio, Oil, American Telephone, U. S. Lines and Caterpillar. Support was accorded Goodrich, Montgomery Ward, Western Union, Westinghouse, Santa Fe and American Smelting. Barkward were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Great Northern, Goodyear, Kennecott, Allied Chemical, Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft and Glenn Martin.

DALLAS, July 19 (AP)—When city policemen gave J. S. Masburn a ticket for speeding, he protested that he had not exceeded the speed limit but went ahead and paid a fine.

Masburn got his fine back, and a note of apology from the officers.

To help you save "War Time" on Long Distance calls

Sometimes—on some calls over war-congested channels—the long distance operator finds it necessary to ask:

"Please limit your call to 5 minutes. Others are waiting."

If your call is important and must go through, please follow these suggestions.

JOT DOWN A PLAN

An outline of the points to be covered in your call often prevents closing the call with some point overlooked.

CALL BY NUMBER IF YOU CAN

"Kansas City, Kansas, please... DREXEL 9900."

It saves handling time on America's extra-busy long distance channels.

PLACE A CALL FOR "ANYONE"

"I will talk with anyone at LORAIN 9800."

Making a station-to-station call—whenever possible—means quicker handling, too.

BEGIN BY SAYING:

"I have three things to talk to you about."

If you give the total points to cover, it puts you both in the frame of mind to avoid waste words.

● You can say a lot in 5 minutes. Never mind discussing the weather—it's a military secret!

If you keep your long distance calls short these days, you not only save money but you help to make the peacetime telephone system do its wartime job.
