PRICE TEN CENTS

TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

Grownup boys with earthly comets in their hands write on the walls of blue sky as long vapor trails trace designs stranger, but less lovely than clouds.

If we have the courage to filter personal vanity from some ambitions, the residue may appear extremely watery.

In this nation a man is seldom held to account for the character of terrain on which he pitches his tent, unless he dislodges rocks that disturb the peace of neighbors at lower altitudes.

Religion is united in support of its greatest enemy through the eternal discord of creeds.

What a pity that so many of us stand and pound at a door which refuses to open, so long that the wall around it disintegrates without our perception.

Some of the current optimism may be the result of too many people looking through tinted windshields while they drive air-conditioned automobiles. Few forces can bring us to reality quicker than the heat of summer sun in our faces while sweat trickles down our backs.

When a man's feet hurt he is either too young to buy shoes of the proper size or too old to wear any shoes with genuine comfort.

Kindness is the only element in human relationship of which the supply is always inadequate for the need.

BDT Responds To Charges About Beef Referendum

All eligible livestock producers in Motley County are reminded that they are to vote on the producer referendum on the Beef Research and Information program no later than Friday, July 15. In this connection, a response to charges about the referendum has been issued by the Beef Development Taskforce.

"There have been many questions asked by the producers that need to be answered, and many charges have been made against the program, which are not based on facts," said Ronald Richards, Motley County Chairman of the Beef Development Taskforce.

Foremost among the charges is that "There is too much discretionary power placed in the hands of the Secretary of Agriculture. This is a government program."

According to the BDT, the fact is "The Secretary has little discretionary power so long as the Beef Board operates within the law. He can only appoint members to the Board that are nominated by producer organizations and none other. (In the Cotton Program, which has been in operation for 10 years, and the Potato Program, in operation for five years, the Secretary never has failed to approve projects recommended by the boards.)

"This is not a government program. It is a cattlemen's program all the way - conceived by cattlemen, to be financed by cattlemen and run by cattlemen. In fact, cattlemen will reimburse ASCS for the cost of the Referendum (through sale of Keep Beef King buttons by the CowBelles)."

In answer to the charge that "There are no safeguards, there is no accountability to the producer, and no guarantee that the Board will serve the producers," the BDT lists these safeguards:

"(1) The Order is very specific in how the funds will be handled. (2) The Secretary, as a 'referee' will assure that the Board operates within the intent of the Act. (3) The Beef Board will be composed of cattlemen, who will make sure that their money and their neighbor's money will be wisely invested. (4) Any producer who feels that his money is not being wisely invested may request a refund - this amounts to a 'Money Back Guarantee'. (5) If producers grow unhappy with the program, they can terminate it. (The Secretary must call another referendum upon request of 10 per cent of the number of voters in the initial referendum.)"

The charge that "The appointments will be political and by special interest groups... the selection of Board members is undemocratic," is answered by the Taskforce with the fact that "The 'special interest' is the cattlemen's interest - to increase profits. Nominations to the Beef Board can be made only by eligible producer organizations, including general farm organizations. To select the nominee, each organization may conduct an election, if it chooses, or it may choose to let the board of directors elect the nominee - that's up to each organization."

LION OF THE YEAR - John M. "Sonny" Russell, left, received the Lion of the Year Award at the recent Ladies Night banquet given by the Matador Lions Club. Larry Hoyle, outgoing president, made the presentation.

Rites Held For Mrs. T. E. Long Local Girls Entered in District 4H Dress Revue

Funeral services for Mrs. T. E. Long, 89, were conducted at 3 p. m. Sunday in the First Baptist Church, Roaring Springs, with the pastor, Rev. D. D. Smith, and Rev. Jerry Golden, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Matador, officiating.

Interment was in Roaring Springs Cemetery, with Seigler Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Long died Thursday night, July 7, at the Floydada Nursing Home after a lengthy illness.

The former Ethel Alberta Chalk, Mrs. Long was born July 29, 1887 in Comanche, Texas. She was married to Thomas E. Long, December 29, 1907 at Grow, Texas in Cottle County. They made their home in Roaring Springs for a number of years before moving to Matador. They had entered the Floydada Nursing Home prior to his death September 2, 1968, and she had resumed her residence there. Mrs. Long was a member of the First Baptist Church of Matador, and was also a member of the Eastern Star.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Long was preceded in death by three sons, T. E. Long Jr., who died in the Pacific in 1944, William Bryan Long, who died in Germany in 1945, both during World War II; and Charles Long, who passed away in 1976.

Her survivors include two daughters, Mrs. J. B. Baird (Ina Mae) of Mesa, Arizona and Mrs. Amos Persons (Wreathel) of Borger, Texas; three brothers, J. D. Chalk and Haywood Chalk both of Dallas, and Edwin Chalk of Loveland, Colorado; two sisters, Mrs. Ralph (Winnie) Long of Matador and Mrs. Ina Scoggins of Prescott, Arizona; one daughter-in-law, Mrs. Irene Long of Roaring Springs; nine grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren.

Wilson Slaying Trial Date Set

Dist. Judge George Miller has set a July 18 date at Plainview for the capital murder trial of Larry C. Fortenberry, one of two men charged with the shotgun slaying of Motley County Sheriff Jinks Wilson.

Fortenberry's trial was moved to Plainview on a change of venue from Wilson's hometown, Matador.

The other man charged in the sheriff's death, Stacy Albert Carter, went through eight days of juror examinations in Lubbock before a mistrial was declared there in his capital murder case.

The mistrial ruling came on the heels of Carter's surprise plea of guilty to a charge of attempted murder in the wounding of John Rogers, who was with Sheriff Wilson when he was killed Nov. 12, 1976.

Court observers speculated that Carter agreed to turn state's evidence against Fortenberry.

They speculate that after Fortenberry's trial, Carter may be sentenced on a reduced charge in connection with Wilson's murder - with the punishment possibly to run concurrently with the 20-year sentence the North Carolina man was handed after pleading guilty to shooting Rogers.

Carter and Fortenberry face life or death situations under the capital murder charges against them.

Life imprisonment or death sentences are the only punishment options under Texas law in a capital case.

Only eight of the necessary 12 jurors had been selected for Carter's trial when the court proceedings in Lubbock came to an abrupt halt after more than a week of work.

Court observers expect similar problems choosing a jury in the Plainview case.

Miller, judge of the 110th Judicial District, said that names of 250 prospective panelists would be drawn in Plainview.

The Motley County sheriff, who was 61, was just 49 days away from retirement when he met his death at the side of U. S. 70 about 3.5 miles east of Matador.

The wounded Rogers, 49, is said to have told investigators that he and the sheriff had been looking for stray cattle when they came upon two men apparently tampering with the license plate on Roger's car.

As the sheriff was questioning the men, they suddenly produced sawed-off shotguns and began firing, prosecutors assert.

Fortenberry, 29, of Mount Hermon, La., is represented by court-appointed attorney Steve Hurt and Joe Cox of Plainview.

Governor Dolph Briscoe has approved a criminal justice grant affecting Motley County.

The $51,350 grant is for an indigent defense project.

The local grant was among 116 approved by Governor Briscoe statewide from Law Enforcement Assistance Administration (LEAA) funds under the Crime Control Act of 1976.

Delegate To Boys State Impressed By Speakers

Speakers who appeared on programs during the 37th annual American Legion Boys State last month in Austin, left an impression on Ricky Turner, who attended as delegate from Motley County. He was sponsored by Fleming Post No. 337, American Legion.

Turner spoke Monday night at regular monthly meeting of the Legion and Auxiliary. "We set up our government just like the actual government of the State of Texas," he reported. "At night in our assembly, we heard different speakers. They made a big impression on me."

Among the speakers was Waggoner Carr, former Attorney General of Texas. He told the boys that "the government belongs to the people and not to those who are elected to represent us in government," and pointed out that "although our government needs improvement, it is yet the best system of government in the world.

Also a speaker was Jack

Flynt who pointed out the difference between the government of the United States and that of Russia.

"During Boys State I heard 240 speeches from boys running for an office," said Ricky.

The most impressive talk, according to Ricky, was by Lewis Timberlake, President of Decision Dynamics International. "He talked to us about setting goals for our lives. He said most people surrender to fear instead of faith, and the fear kills their motivation. He also said most failures are born leaders... they fear and fail. He said you have to have desire to reach the top, a belief in the American dream, and stay with God."

Also addressing Boys State was Joe Greenhill, Chief Justice of the Texas Supreme Court, who spoke on the subject of energy and the need to conserve it, and also spoke on promoting national patriotism.

During Boys State the 930 high school boys toured the Capitol, where each elected official was given an opportunity to serve in his respective office for a day. They also visited the LBJ office buildings and toured the facility housing the computers that run the tax operations.

Ricky was elected captain of his basketball team and was appointed to the Texas A&M Board of Regents.

CORRECTION

The Sunshine Club will attend the production "Texas" in Palo Duro Canyon, tonight (Thursday) instead of Friday, as erroneously reported in last week's Tribune.

"BDT Responds To Charges"

Another charge that "The legislation is vague, indefinite and loosely drafted," is given this rebuttal from supporters of the referendum: "The Act itself is enabling legislation, enabling the Secretary of Agriculture to publish an Order and conduct a referendum. It is the Order, which gives details of the program and on which producers vote. The legislation is almost identical to the cotton bill, the potato bill and the egg bill. Congressmen and attorneys considered these bills to be good legislation - free of any legal or practical problems."

To the charge that "This program was hurriedly drafted and was railroaded through Congress by very few people," the BDT asserts that "Cattle industry leaders worked on this plan for eight months and conducted over 100 meetings with cattlemen across the country before it was taken to Congress. The bill was first introduced to Congress on Feb. 20, 1975 and 15 months later was signed by President Ford on May 28, 1976. Few agricultural bills have received more debate in Congress and been rewritten more than the Beef Research and Information Act. The entire process leading up to the Referendum (including public hearings and hundreds of educational meetings) has taken 36 months, which isn't very hurried."

"Producers who refuse to contribute at the time of sale could be fined up to $1,000" is another charge made in objection to the bill. "The fact is," the Beef Development Taskforce answers, "Under the value-added plan, no producer fines are anticipated. If the buyer does not deduct the assessment from the seller's check, the buyer will be subject to paying it later. The $1,000 fine is needed in case assessments are collected at slaughter and not remitted to the Beef Board. Without a sizeable fine, it might be advantageous for a large packer to pay the fine and keep the assessments."

In reply to this charge: "A producer can get a refund only after submitting proof satisfactory to the Beef Board that he has paid the assessment." The following fact is presented by the BDT: "The Beef Board will be responsible for wisely handling producer funds. Would it not be wise for the Beef Board to have satisfactory proof before paying out money? Such proof may consist of a sales invoice or a copy of a cancelled check showing the amount of deduction. Refunds must be made within 60 days after the proof is received."

It was pointed out that if the program becomes operational, the Agricultural Marketing Service of the USDA would monitor it, or serve in effect as a referee, to assure that it stays within the legislative authority, and accomplishes the goals of the program as voted on by producers in the referendum. Should producers approve the program, the initial board meeting might be held in the late fall of 1977. Thus, it likely would be 1978 before a research and information program could be fully developed and first assessments begin on sales of cattle.

Ninety-seven in Motley County registered to vote.

BREAKS ARM IN FALL

Dena Renfro, 8 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Renfro broke her left arm in a fall Thursday, at the baseball park, while a softball game was in progress. She was given emergency treatment at Motley County Hospital, then taken to Lubbock for further treatment at St. Mary's Hospital.

Cattlemen Alarmed Over Beef Dollar

KANSAS CITY, MO. - "Cattlemen would have received $53 more per head for each animal slaughtered in recent months, had we maintained our traditional share of consumer net disposable income," says O. J. Barron, a Spur, Texas, rancher who serves as national chairman of the Beef Development Taskforce (BDT).

"Consumers spent only 2.20 per cent of net income for beef during the first quarter of 1977 - the lowest in 29 years," he says, upon analyzing figures just released by the USDA. "This is cause for alarm!"

The 29-year average is 2.52 per cent spent for beef. "When it dropped to 2.27 per cent during the last quarter of 1976 - a record low up until then - we thought it might be a quirk," Barron adds. "But the downward trend seems to be continuing."

A drop of 0.32 per cent sounds rather small, he explains. But when applied to $311 billion of net disposable income during the first quarter, it boils down to a drop of $558 million at the farm level or $53 less for each animal slaughtered.

Several factors account for the percentage drop, according to Barron: food fads, the vegetarian movement, charges that beef is bad for your health, inflation and an over supply of beef.

"If we are going to regain our share of the consumer dollar - and hopefully increase it - we must have an aggressive program of research, consumer education, promotion and market development," says the BDT chairman. "That's what the Beef Research and Information Program is all about - a self-help program to increase markets and increase profits for cattlemen."

Producers will vote on this program, July 5-15, at their county ASCS office. "Over 300,000 producers registered in the U.S.," concludes Barron, "and we are urging every one of them to return and vote 'Yes.' It can stabilize our industry and make things a whole lot better."

Mr. and Mrs. Ware Fogerson of Silvertown visited Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Riley Day, and brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Day, and also with her aunt, Mrs. George Birchfield.

The Land Bank

Beef Referendum
YES

DID YOU KNOW that the Beef Research and Information Act was developed by cattlemen, is to be financed by cattlemen and run by cattlemen - a cattleman's program all the way? It took industry leaders 36 months of hard work (from appointment of the initial study committee to referendum), including many battles with labor unions, consumer activists and a few "agricultural leaders".

DID YOU KNOW that the 68 members of the Beef Board, which will administer the program, will all be cattle producers nominated by cattle producer organizations (including general farm organizations) and that no one other than cattle producers may serve on the Board?

DID YOU KNOW that the collection rate will be only 30 cents per $100 of value added and that any producer not wanting to participate may get a refund simply by requesting it and furnishing proof (copy of sales invoice or copy of cancelled check) of how much he contributed?

It's up to you.

Cattlemen

Vote July 5-15.

DID YOU KNOW that the Secretary of Agriculture will only serve as a "referee" to assure that the Beef Board operates within the intent of the Act? (In the Cotton Program that has been operating 10 years and the Potato Program that has been operating five years, not one producer has been fined or sued. And no suits against beef producers are anticipated. Enforcement authority is given the Secretary to make sure that any assessments collected from producers are passed on to the Beef Board).

DID YOU KNOW that there are several safeguards to assure that the funds are wisely invested? (1) The Order is very specific on types of investment - research, education, promotion, producer information and foreign market development. (2) The Beef Board will be composed of cattlemen, who will make sure that their money and their neighbor's money is wisely invested. (3) Any producer who feels that his money is now wisely invested may request a refund, and that amounts to a "Money Back Guarantee". (4) If producers grow unhappy with the program, they can terminate it - the Secretary must call another referendum upon request of 10 per cent of the number of voters in the initial referendum.

DID YOU KNOW that this likely is the last opportunity cattlemen will have to vote on a national self-help program to expand markets, increase prices and improve profits?

DID YOU KNOW that 119 state and national beef and dairy organizations are supporting this program and that only four organizations (Farmer Union, NFO and Meat Promoters of South Dakota and Tennessee Farm Bureau) are opposing it?

DID YOU KNOW that the requirements for passing the Beef Referendum are the most stringent for any commodity referendum ever held? (Fifty per cent of those registering must vote, then two-thirds of those voting must approve.)

DID YOU KNOW that the primary purpose of this program is to increase profits for cattlemen... and that a handful of vocal "agricultural leaders" are opposing it, even though they declined to testify at the public hearings or to meet with cattle industry leaders when invited and when they could have had input in shaping the program?

DID YOU KNOW that to help accomplish these positive things for the cattle industry, you should return to your ASCS office July 5-15 and vote "YES".

Boll Weevil Control Activities To Start

LUBBOCK — Officials of the Diapause Boll Weevil Control Program, now in its thirteenth year of operation, are gearing up for 1977 activities and are optimistic that boll weevil numbers in Texas High Plains cotton fields will be significantly reduced from last year's record infestation levels.

Dr. James F. Leser, area entomologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Lubbock, says that heavy spring rains delayed cotton planting in the control zone which in turn set the control program's mapping operations back three weeks, but that all the signs point to another successful program.

"According to trapping information we are receiving from Ronney Edwards of the USDA's Plant Protection and Quarantine office in Crosbyton, fewer boll weevils are being caught this year than were captured last year," says Leser. "Not only are trap catches as a whole reduced from last year, but also fewer weevils are being caught in traps in counties within the control zone than outside that area, indicating that 1976's spray program was a success."

The Diapause Boll Weevil Control program is administered by Plains Cotton Growers and USDA's Plant Protection and Quarantine Service. Operations were begun in 1964 to prevent the westward spread of the boll weevil from its overwintering habitat in the Rolling Plains. Cotton producers in a 15-county control zone area voluntarily participate in the program. The control zone area stretches near or along the Caprock from Briscoe and Hall counties on the north to Martin and Dawson counties on the South.

Leser says that the success of the program depends on the close cooperation of several agencies. Leadership is provided by Ed Dean, director of field services for PCG, and Roy Moritz, local PP&Q officer in charge.

"A new program year begins with the mapping of every field in the infested area throughout the control zone," says Leser. "Each field is drawn as close to scale, shape and acreage as possible, then colored and numbered."

"Such maps are used extensively by surveyors who enter each field on a weekly basis to determine the location and degree of boll weevil and bollworm infestations," Leser adds. "They are also used to direct the aerial applicators to locations which need treatment."

Leser says that while routine surveys will not begin until later in the summer, Extension's evaluation of the program's effectiveness has already begun. "We have selected fields within and outside the control zone and have just started monitoring them for insects and damage," he adds. "Scouts will continue to survey these fields until the first freeze."

"In addition to the program evaluation, cotton variety demonstrations are also underway in Dickens and Kent counties," Leser says. "We are paying particular attention to the effectiveness of the newer short-season cotton varieties as a management tool for controlling boll weevils. Dr. James R. Supak, area agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in Lubbock, will work very closely with these tests."

Dr. Don Rummel, entomologist for the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, will again conduct boll weevil trap studies. Research is also continuing to see if Dimilin, which is a material that reduces boll weevil egg hatch, will fit into pest management schemes. "Dimilin performed well in tests last year," Leser adds, "and will be tested again by Rummel on several hundred acres of cotton."

Railroad Service For Crop Shipments Possible If ICC Approves Decision

There will be uninterrupted railroad service for shipments of wheat, cotton, and milo between Acme and Floydada, Attorney General John Hill said last week, if the Interstate Commerce Commission approves a recent decision reached by an administrative law judge.

Hill was commenting on the initial ruling by Administrative Law Judge Geraldine R. Keyes in Washington, D. C. denying an application for rail abandonment by Quannah, Acme and Pacific Railway Company, a subsidiary of St. Louis-San Francisco Railway Company (Frisco Line).

The line had sought authority from the I.C.C. to abandon the stretch of railroad from Acme to Floydada, a distance of approximately 104.8 miles through Hardeman, Cottle, Motley and Floyd Counties. That stretch is used by area wheat shippers for almost 95-99 per cent of their shipments, and by cotton and milo shippers to a lesser extent.

Hill, representing the Texas Railroad Commission in the proceedings, said two of his assistants, Assistant Attorneys General Marvin Sentell and Joe Pratt of his Transportation Division, had protested the railroad's attempt at abandonment in hearings held last November and December in Paducah and Washington, D. C. Other witnesses testifying against abandonment included U.S. Representative Jack High-tower (Dist. 13) and State Senator Ray Farabee, representing several affected grain companies and cotton warehouses.

"This is an extremely important decision, and one that we trust the I.C.C. will see fit to affirm," Hill said. "As noted in our brief, and in the judge's order, there is no adequate alternative transportation for existing shippers and a higher price for wheat is available only through shipment by rail."

Hill said substantial amounts of the wheat grown in the four counties is high protein premium wheat, and shippers by rail of this wheat receive 20 cents per bushel more than if the wheat is transported by truck.

"Our position was upheld completely by this decision," Hill noted, adding that the order clearly states that "... the evidence establishes an overwhelming need for the rail service provided by the QA&P."

Referendum Deadline Is Near

For the 97 producers who registered to vote in Beef Referendum, deadline for voting is near. Deadline is Friday, July 15th, reminds Extension Agent Bill Palmyer.

For the referendum to pass, at least 50 per cent of the cattle owners who register must vote, and two-thirds must vote for the referendum.

For those who haven't made up their mind, and still have unanswered questions, there is a toll free number available. Call 1-800-682-4106 for additional information, or check with the local County Extension Agent who has additional information on the program, its rules, limitations and how it is to work.

SPEAKERS OF YOUR HOUSE

There are some 120 name-brand manufacturers of speakers on the market, so the best advice one can give when choosing a speaker is to start with a budget in mind and do a lot of listening.

When auditioning a speaker in a showroom make sure you hear each set of speakers at the same sound level. Otherwise, sound experts at the Electronic Industries Association point out, you will tend to favor the louder speaker every time.

Sales Tax In Texas Tops Other States

Texas recorded the largest increase of any state in sales tax collections last year, except for those states that increased their tax or broadened its base, according to a release from the office of Comptroller Bob Bullock.

Spurred by increased consumer spending and intensified collection efforts, Texas sales tax collections totaled $1.5 billion in calendar 1976.

The first computer, created in 1827, compiled and printed logarithm tables from 1 to 108,000.

an 18.3 per cent increase over 1975, Bullock said.

Bullock's report, which is contained in the Comptroller's June Financial Statement, is based on a nationwide study of consumer taxes by the Federal Tax Administration.

"What it shows," Bullock said, "is that only those five states that raised their sales tax or extended it to previously excluded items registered a bigger percentage increase in collections than Texas."

"This points up to what we've been saying all along — that the Texas economy is as strong as an acre of wild onions," he said.

Texas ranked sixth among the 50 states in increased tobacco products tax collections last year and 19th in motor fuel revenue collections, the Federation study shows.

Tobacco products tax collections for 1976 totaled $281.7 million, up seven per cent over the previous year. Motor fuel tax revenues also were up seven per cent for a total of $420.7 million in 1976.

The Financial Report shows that state spending reached $531 million in April, raising current fiscal year expenditures to $4.48 billion. This is two per cent ahead of last year.

State revenues for April were $582.8 million, bringing the fiscal year-to-date total to $4.4 billion — up ten per cent over the same period a year ago.

Reddy Tips To Help You...

Your ENERGY Dollar$

Use your Refrigerator Wisely...

- ★ Open and close the refrigerator and freezer doors only when necessary. Several items can be removed at once to reduce loss of cold air.
- ★ Freezers and refrigerators operate most efficiently when filled to the correct capacity. Foods should be placed slightly apart on refrigerator shelves for correct circulation.
- ★ Cover all liquids stored in the refrigerator (especially frost-free models). Moisture is drawn into the air from uncovered liquids making the refrigerator work harder.
- ★ Be sure your appliance is standing level so that the door seals properly. By setting a glass of water on the top, you can see if it is level.
