Matador Gives HUD $1 For Hospital Building

The city of Matador, still struggling to recover from a crippling tornado onslaught in May, Friday bought the Motley County General Hospital building from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development for $1.

Matador Mayor Gary Lancaster received a deed for the building from Maurice Barksdale, assistant secretary for housing in HUD.

The tornado destroyed Matador's only school building and 27 homes. Another 60 homes received damage.

Shortly after the Matador disaster, HUD leased the hospital building to the city as a temporary repository for public records and as a temporary school facility.

Gov. Mark White declared Matador a disaster area after the tornado, making the city eligible for emergency aid, but homeowners who suffered losses in the tornado still have not received any state money. Nor have they received federal disaster relief money.

After White's declaration, Matador officials were asked to submit to the Texas Department Community Affairs a plan for distributing disaster relief funds. Lancaster submitted the plan to TDCA asking for more than $500,000 in assistance.

Matador's plan calls for $287,000 for relocation payments; $100,000 for rehabilitation assistance; $35,000 for clearance assistance; $45,000 for public improvements; $15,000 for contingencies; and $65,000 to administer the program.

However, Lancaster said TDCA informally turned down the proposal, offering instead to provide $350,000 in aid to the city.

"It looks like they had us do all of this and now they are going to give up what they want to," he said.

Plans For School Term Outlined At Lions Club

Plans for the upcoming school term were outlined by school Principal Haden Moore at last meeting of the Matador Lions Club, July 17, at the United Methodist Church. The school official was introduced as a guest of the club, but was later presented membership credentials by Tailtwister Scotty Abbott.

Guests, introduced by Lion Bill McCoghren, included Dr. B.T. Wright, who comes from Lubbock each Tuesday and Thursday, to serve the county at Motley County Clinic.

Boss Lion Vann Francis presided and led the club in expressing appreciation to Mrs. Jack Dempsey and her daughter for preparing and serving an enjoyable lunch.

Lion Moore explained that he was substituting for Supt. Charlie Johnson, who was out of town attending to school affairs. Plans are underway to purchase four portable buildings to use for school rooms, he said. These buildings can be obtained cheaper on a rental basis, he explained, but school officials deemed the purchase would be a better deal, since the buildings could be sold later.

Arrangements are being made to have the first, second and third grades meet at the First Baptist Church, and the Home Ec department at the Methodist Church. Elementary grades of fourth, fifth and sixth will use the portable buildings, and other classes will be in the old grade school building. (The City of Matador last week acquired the former Stanley Hospital building, later the Motley County General Hospital, and arrangements are being made to use its facilities for other school needs.)

"We do not have plans at this time for a cafeteria," Lion Moore said. "Everyone will just have to bring a sack lunch, or go home for lunch." However, the plans are for the first three grades to be provided for at the Baptist Church.

"As for our athletic program, we are going to play football," Moore declared. "The Denver City and Seminole schools have offered us the use of their old lighting equipment until we can get ours restored. In other areas, we just have no definite plans.

We just know we are going to have school and will start the first day--but we can't tell you just when the first day will be." The Vocational Ag program will continue as formerly, he added, since it is already located adjacent to the grade school building.

School officials have looked at building plans, but at the present time no bids have been made. It is uncertain at this time how much government funds the county will get to restore the school.

Better Business Bureau Report

On July 10 the Federal Trade Commission voted to adopt a revised version of the controversial Used Car Rule. Since some 70 percent of cars sold are used this ruling will affect most people.

The rule is significant more for what is not in the rule than what is. First, though, let us look at what's in the new law.

Basically the dealer must put a sign in the back window that gives the following information: state if the car is sold "as is" or has a warranty and if so what are its provisions; a suggestion that the car be inspected by an independent mechanic; and a warning to get all promises in writing.

These are the same suggestions we have been "preaching" for years. Now, at least consumers will be confronted with these suggestions in writing when they go shopping.

THE BIG NEWS though is that the defects provision was removed from the proposed act. That part would have made dealers list any known defects on the form. This sounded great, but there were several problems. For one the dealer had to know about the defect so all a dealer had to do was "not to inspect the car" so he would not know the defects. Also, the cost of defects and defect repairs would be passed on to the consumer.

Moving from the subject of cars to the subject of airplanes we often think of the problems experienced with our luggage. Many of us venture to the Lubbock airport to go somewhere with the thought that we may lose our luggage between here and there and back. Some hints to lessen the possibility of the airline losing your luggage.

First, of course, is proper labeling. Make a list of everything that's going to be handled by the air carrier. Finally consider buying excess-valuation insurance. A recent federal law now requires airlines to pay up to $1,250 per passenger for lost or damaged luggage. You must prove what you had, though, in your luggage.

The reimbursement for international flights is covered by the Warsaw Convention at $9.07 per pound for checked luggage and $400 per person for unchecked baggage.

Library Notes

By Beverly Darsey, Librarian

Twenty-seven children attended the Summer Reading Program activities last Thursday. We thank Carlene Luckett for showing films to the Reading Club participants that day.

Carlene has been working in the library this summer as part of the Job Training Partnership Act (JTPA) program. We appreciate her help in completing cataloging requirements for state accreditation.

We also appreciate the help of Joan Patton who is sponsored by the Green Thumb Program. The library is open 2 days a week that it would otherwise be closed because of Joan's GreenThumb services.

We also appreciate the many volunteers who have worked in the library during the past four years to help us meet state accreditation requirements.

This week's Summer Reading Program activities (Thursday, July 26, 10:00 a.m.) include a Storytelling Session by Evelyn Garrison who will bring us the stories of Horton Hatches the Egg by Dr. Seuss, How the Camel Got His Hump by Rudyard Kipling, The Little Old Truck by J. Morris Jones, and The Family Who Had Never Had Roller Skates by Hildegard Woodward. Also scheduled for Thursday is the film: Isabella and the Magic Brush.

Reading logs are to be turned in to the librarian by Thursday, July 26. Only those participants who have completed their contract number of books will be eligible to receive an Award Certificate.

The Awards Ceremony in conjunction with a Cupcake Decorating Party will be held on Beverly Darsey's front lawn (SE corner of Lariat and Bundy) on Saturday, July 28, at 10:00 a.m. All Magical Mysteries Reading Club participants are invited to attend as well as their parents. Also invited are all volunteers who have helped in any way with the Summer Reading Program.

The Friends of the Library group is providing materials for the Cupcake Decorating Party. Several mothers of club members are also supplying cupcakes and drinks.

Keith Patton will serve as judge for the Cupcake Decorating event. Each reading club member is eligible to participate in the contest. Prizes will be given for the Prettiest cupcake, the Ugliest cupcake, the Funniest cupcake, and the Most Original cupcake.

Marisue Potts, President of the Motley County Library Board, will present award certificates to eligible club members.

The library will be closed Saturday, July 28, for the Summer Reading Club Awards Ceremony.

After July 31 no books will be checked out so that the library may move from the school building. All books are due back at the library by August 4.

If you can help with the library move, please contact Beverly. We will especially need volunteers with pickups, trucks, and tools for disassembly of steel shelving (electric screwdrivers and drills with screwdriver bits are especially needed).

Library aide Joan Patton and librarian Beverly Darsey attended a Texas State library workshop entitled "Word Processing and Electronic Spreadsheet Software: An Introduction for Librarians" at the Mahon Library in Lubbock on Tuesday, July 17.

Then on Thursday, July 19, Beverly traveled to the Lamb County Library in Littlefield for a West Texas Library System workshop on "Weeding a Small Public Library."

Effective with Nov. 1, 1983, Congress extended Medicare coverage to include hospice care for the terminally ill patient. These people can receive a full scope of medical and support services for their condition and continue to live in their own home or other places besides a hospital.

To be eligible for hospice care under Medicare, the patient must be eligible for Part A Medicare coverage and receive care from a Medicare-certified hospice program. The patient must also sign a statement choosing hospice care instead of standard Medicare benefits, and the patient's doctor and the hospice must certify that the patient has a terminal illness.

Hospice under Medicare is primarily a comprehensive home care program which provides all reasonable and necessary medical and support services to the patient. These services include physician services, nursing care, medical appliances and supplies, including drugs for pain relief and symptom management. The services of a home health aide and homemaker activities are also included along with therapy and counseling services.

HOSPICE CARE under Medicare can last for two periods of 90 days each and one additional 30-day period. This is a lifetime maximum of 210 days of hospice care available to the patient. If a patient at first chooses hospice care and then later decides not to use it, he can cancel at any time and resume standard care under regular Medicare provisions.

Medicare pays the hospice directly for the full cost of all necessary and reasonable covered services for the terminal illness and related health problems. There are no deductibles. The hospice can charge 5 percent of reasonable cost up to a maximum of $5 for each outpatient prescription for pain relief and symptom management. If the patient needs a short-term inpatient care during the hospice period, the hospice can charge 5 percent of the cost of the inpatient stay up to a total of $356 in 1984.

If the patient's attending physician is not an employee of the hospice, Part B of Medicare pays for his or her service in the same way it pays for other doctor's services.

By Ray Minkley BOLLWORMS

Several producers in the Flomot area have called concerning bollworm populations on cotton. Also a bollworm moth trap kept in the area by Clois Shorter has been catching a lot of moths. Fields where cotton is growing well due to adequate moisture should be checked every three to four days for bollworm eggs and small larvae. Because of the spotty, dry conditions moths will concentrate their eggs in the most attractive fields. Where cotton is blooming the presence of 5,000 or more small bollworms per acre or presence in 8 to 10 percent of plant terminals will indicate a need for control measures.

If there are two beneficials for every bollworm an insecticide may not be needed or a microbial insecticide might be used. Prior to blooming, control may be needed when 15 to 25 percent of the green squares are damaged and small bollworms, less than 1/2 inch, are present. Bacillus thuringiensis, a microbial insecticide, might be considered when bollworms are small. Chlordaneform can be applied at the same time if bollworm egg counts exceed 15,000 per acre.

FLEAHOPPERS

Fleahoppers have also been very prevalent in the better fields. Base insecticidal application decisions on number of fleahoppers present, squaring rate, and percent square set. During the first week of squaring, the economic threshold is 25 to 30 fleahoppers per 100 terminals combined with less than 75 percent square set. Also be conscious of beneficial insects and spiders. Destruction of them could lead to greater bollworm damage.

As plants increase in size and fruit load, larger fleahopper populations can be tolerated without yield reduction. Rarely is treatment justified after first bloom.

Ag Chemicals In Good Supply

Farmers should have a good arsenal of agricultural chemicals available for their 1984 crop season.

Supplies of pesticides, fertilizers and fuels are holding steady for the current crop season, says an agribusiness economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

However, pesticide use is expanding as field crop acreage rises, points out Dr. Forrest Stegelin. Farmers will use about 440 million pounds of herbicides, 67 million pounds of insecticides and 7 million pounds of fungicides this season, as measured in terms of active ingredient.

Pesticide supplies are sufficient to meet this expected demand in the major crop regions although spot shortages of some newly marketed formulations have been reported in the Corn Belt. However, no shortages have been reported in Texas, says Stegelin. Farmers will pay about 7 percent less for herbicides and 5 percent less for insecticides in 1984 compared to last season.

Total fertilizer use on field crops is expected to climb 17 percent this year despite an overall rise in fertilizer prices, says the economist. Farmers will apply an estimated 10.7 million tons of nitrogen, 4.8 million tons of phosphorus and 5.7 million tons of potash this season. Average farm prices likely will be up 16 percent for nitrogen, 8 percent for phosphorus and 5 percent for potash. Domestic production and imports of the three plant nutrients should meet anticipated demand.

The recent upsurge of the Iran-Iraq conflict in the Persian Gulf has renewed concern over petroleum availability and the outlook for prices of energy such as diesel, gasoline and home heating oil. This volatile situation also could affect petrochemical products such as pesticides and fertilizers. This is of particular interest to farmers who are expected to use 10 percent more energy this year due to increased crop acreage, Stegelin points out. He expects farm energy expenditures to rise to $8.4 billion from $7.7 billion in 1983.

Despite the Persian Gulf conflict and the upcoming peak agricultural energy demand during production and harvest, farmers can expect average per gallon prices to hold constant through this fall at about $1.18 for gasoline, $1.04 for diesel fuel, and 77 cents for lp gas, says the economist.

By Scotty Abbott, CED 1985 WHEAT PROGRAM

On June 14, 1984, the 1985 Wheat program was announced. The provisions of the 1985 Wheat Program are:

1. The target price is $4.38 per bushel. 2. The national average loan rate is $3.30 per bushel. 3. There will be a cash land diversion payment based on 10 percent of the farms base acreage times the farms effective yield times $2.70 per bushel. You can receive 50 percent of the cash land diversion payment if you request it at sign-up.

4. Advanced deficiency payments are not authorized. 5. A PIK Program for wheat is not authorized. 6. Eligibility for program benefits will be limited to 1985 Wheat Program Participants. 7. The maximum wheat acreage to be harvested will be limited to no more than 70 percent of the farms base.

8. Your base acreage will be computed by averaging your 1983 and 1984 planted and considered planted acreage. 9. You must place 28.57 percent of your farm's 1985 planted wheat acreage plus 10 percent of the farm's wheat base in the Acreage Conservation Reserve (set-aside). 10. Signup for the 1985 Wheat Program will be October 15, 1984 through March 1, 1985. 11. Contracts signed will be binding.

EMERGENCY FEED ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

Livestock producers may continue to sign up for EFAP (low grade corn). The feeding period for the Emergency Feed Assistance Program has been extended to July 31, 1984. The corn is available to you at a cost of $2.05 per bushel. The corn is located in Plainview, Texas. You will be responsible for the cost of transportation from the elevator to your farm.

If you need feed assistance, you need to make application for corn at this office as soon as possible. You cannot have more than a 10 day supply of corn on hand at the end of the feeding period.

PUBLIC MEETING ON FARM POLICY SET

The fifth in a series of U.S. Department of Agriculture "listening sessions" to discuss future food and agriculture policy will be July 19 in Dallas. The session will begin at 10 a.m. at the Ramada Hotel, 1055 Regal Row in Dallas. The meeting will be held to give you, the public, an opportunity to express your views to the Secretary of Agriculture and other USDA policy people. Secretary Block said, "as many people as possible will be given a chance to make oral presentations."

USDA ANNOUNCES SUPPORT LEVEL FOR PEANUTS

The USDA has announced the price support levels - by type, quality and location - for the 1984 peanut crop. The quota support level, by type, for an average grade ton of 1984 crop peanuts will be:

A. $537.30 for Virginia-type peanuts. B. $555.19 for Runner-type peanuts. C. $532.57 for Spanish-type peanuts.

D. $537.30 for Valencia-type peanuts from the Southwest area suitable for cleaning and roasting. E. $532.57 for other Valencias.

The method for computing differentials is different from last year. USDA has reduced the price support premium for extra large kernels from 45 cents to 35 cents per percentage of extra large kernels in a ton of farmers stock Virginia-type peanuts.

The actual support levels for an individual lot of peanuts depends on the percent of the various size kernels in each ton and other factors. For each percent of sound mature kernels and sound split kernels, the support level per ton is:

Virginia-type peanuts, $7,979. Runner-type peanuts, $7,823. Spanish-type peanuts, $7,862. Valencia-type peanuts in Southwest Area, suitable for cleaning and roasting, $8,064. Other Valencias, $7,862.

LIST OF AVAILABLE HAY

The ASCS is compiling a list for livestock producers and hay producers who have hay for sale, or are in need of hay. If you have hay for sale, contact this office and we will put you on the list. We need the type of hay for sale, the quantity of hay for sale, and if known, the price of the hay for sale.

GRAZING AND HAYING ACR ACRES

Remember, you can now graze or hay crops growing on ACR. Before you hay or graze your ACR (set-aside), you need to come by the ASCS office and sign a request register giving livestock numbers owned as of April 17, 1984 and the farm number you wish to hay or graze. You cannot lease the grazing, sell the hay, give the hay away, or have the crop cut for a percentage under this program.

LOAN INTEREST RATE

The regular loan interest rate on 1981 and subsequent crop year loans disbursed during July of 1984 is 12 percent per annum subject to adjustment each succeeding January 1st.

1985 FEED GRAIN PROGRAM PLANNED

Before announcing the 1985 Feed Grain Program, USDA will study public comments received by August 6th, 1984, along with current data on domestic and world feed grain crop conditions. Program discussions to be made include:

1. Should there be a voluntary reduction percentage acreage reduction, set-aside or land diversion program. Comments should include a recommended level for these requirements.

2. Provision of grain reserve, loan and purchase levels, the target price, the national program acreage, whether haying and grazing should be allowed on acreage conservation reserve land, and whether offsetting compliance should be required.

3. Should program contracts be binding after sign-up, should loans and purchases be made available to producers who cut their corn for silage.

4. Whether barley should be determined eligible for payment under the program.

Comments on the 1985 program should be mailed to Dr. Howard C. Williams, Director, Analysis Division, USDA-ASCS, Room 3741-S, P.O. Box 2415, Washington, D.C. 20013.

"Eligibility for participating in all programs administered by ASCS is established under law without regard to race, color, religion, sex and National origin."
