

Edwards To Head Homecoming Association

Homecoming '84 is now "Just a Memory," for Matador ex-students and teachers, joining the ranks of former years when former residents returned for class reunions and just visiting with other schoolmates.

They came this year from far away states of Florida, California, Indiana and points between.

In the election of new officers, J. E. (Jake) Edwards was named president of the Ex-Students and Teachers Association, and Billy Paul Simpson, Vice-President. Olivia Campbell Barton was elected co-secretary with Hazel Walton Donovan, forming a new facet to the slate of officers.

Hold-over directors are Pat Briscoe Warren, Dixie Nimmo Johnson, Mary Newman Renfro and Sonny Russell. Named as new directors were Evelyn Shelton Garrison, Ricky Lawrence, Dorothy Ann Stanfield Turner and Colleen Rose Baxter.

John M. (Sonny) Russell presided at the meeting Saturday, (Oct. 20) at the Fire Department Building, and extended a welcome to the association. America was sung in unison, led by Dorothy Turner and Gid Simpson, accompanied at the piano by Earlyne Laughlin Jameson.

Clarence Jinkins, Matador and Miss Verlin Reeves of Plainview, only surviving members of the class of 1914, were presented. Mr. Jinkins gave the Invocation, after a short reminiscent talk about his deceased classmates. The memorial tribute and list of deceased exes since last year's homecoming was read by Larry Hoyle.

Russell presented Schools Superintendent Charlie Johnson, who told about the schools' four campuses since the tornado disaster, describing the location of the various grades, and welcomed the visitors to the "Civic Center," also he thanked the Fire Department for the use of their building.

Minutes of last year's Homecoming were read by the secretary, Hazel Donovan, and report of the nominating committee was given by Sibyl Scaff Barton.

Recognition was given the following: Earliest teacher (1921) present, Virgie Sparks Hunter of Slaton; Earliest graduates, Clarence Jinkins and Verlin Reeves; Most recent graduate, Charles Ed Cammack (1981) Person (s) traveling the farthest: G. W. Fuller of San Diego, Calif., Leora Barton Scrivner, of Alpine, Calif., Barbara Ketchersid Tilson, Lithia, Fla., and Marcia Gilbert Middlebrooks, Topeka, Indiana, each traveling an estimated 1200 miles from Matador.

June Spray Wason of Plainview and Billy Wason, Matador were selected Homecoming Queen and Homecoming King.

Classes recognized for reunions were, 1944 (3); 1925 (5); 1959 (6); 1940, (); 1949; 1974; 1979; 1934; 1954; 1924. "Do You Remember These?" was the theme of a program featuring a group on Sadie Hawkins Day. These were Billy Wason, Kathryn Martin Russell, Frances Jones Hobbs and Vance Campbell. Dorothy Turner and Gid Simpson sang the theme song. Posters depicting earlier days in Matador were on display, and one with baby pictures of several exes was used for a guessing contest, won by Dorothy Morriss Martin. Proceeds of the contest are to be used in restoring class pictures that were destroyed with the school building, in the tornado. Of special interest was a film made by Randy Barton of the demolished school building and bus barn, and was shown on a television screen.

Attendance was approximately 200, although the number who registered counted 164.

Social Security News

By Terry J. Clements

"To take early retirement or not take early retirement, that is the question!" This is what William Shakespeare would probably be saying if he were alive today and entering his early sixties.

People nearing retirement age are concerned about whether to take Social Security early or wait until age 65. Unfortunately it is a question Social Security cannot answer for you. The decision is one each individual must make for himself or herself. However, we can tell you what effect early retirement will have on your benefits.

First of all, benefits are payable as early as age 62 but at a reduced rate. The reduction is 5/9 of 1% for each month that a check is received before age 65. The full 36 month reduction is 20%. It should be noted that a person must be age 62 a full month before he or she can be entitled to benefits. Therefore, most people who take benefits at the earliest point will have a 35 month reduction.

Perhaps in its simplest for the question is whether to receive "less sooner" or "more later". One way of comparison is to figure how long it will take the higher benefit to recover that amount which could have been received before age 65. It usually takes 12-15 years for the age 65 amount to "catch up" with the early benefit. For example, a $400.00 benefit at age 65 would be $320.00 per month with the full age 62 reduction. The total benefit between age 62 and age 65 would be $11,520.00. It would take 144 months (12 years) for the additional $80.00 payable at age 65 to equal the total benefit that could be paid before age 65. In other words, if the person chose to take benefits at 65, it would take until age 77 to "break even".

When benefits are taken before age 65, the reduction is permanent. However in figuring the reduction, only months are considered for which full benefit is received. If part or all of a check is not payable for a particular month due to earnings, credit is given and the benefit is increased accordingly after the person reaches age 65.

The question of when to start Social Security checks is a personal matter and each individual has many things to consider. That's why there is no fail-safe formula. If you are age 60 or older, it might be a good idea to call us. We can tell you the amount your benefit will be at age 65, how early retirement will affect your particular benefit, and can provide other important details. Then you can decide which is the best time for you to begin receiving Social Security.

If you have any questions you may contact us at 1401-B W. 5th Street, Plainview, or call us at 293-9623.

Get Creative With Fashion Extension Agent Presents

Regardless of your sewing skills, you can recycle many wardrobe unwearables to be wardrobe assets. All it takes is a current fashion awareness, a little creativity and time. Come and see what's new in Fashion Thursday, November 1 at Summit Savings and Loan Community Room during the noon hour. Becky Saunders, Clothing Specialist, with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service will be showing fashion trends, ideas for coordinating the wardrobe and some sewing shortcuts. A pot-luck lunch will be served. Those attending should bring one covered dish. The program will run from noon to 1:00 p.m. Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, handicap or national origin. Learn how to extend your existing wardrobe for different looks and versatility. A few dollars spent wisely to accessorize clothes you already own can be much less expensive than buying new garments. Fashionable scarves, jewelry, bags, hoisery, belts, hats and shoes can give updated looks to old favorites. They can also "pull together" separates for a coordinated total look. Decorative or functional trims can inexpensively perk up a garment or help coordinate separates. Even something as simple as switching buttons or adding a decorate row of buttons can change the look of a dress. Other possibilities include fusing braid or trim on clothing in decorative patterns or ravelling a hem for a fringed look. You can also discover a few new outfits by looking in your closet. What can be worn together that hasn't been before? Separate all garments in your closet by type -- vests together, shirts together and so forth. Coordinate new combinations with accessories or by a common or contrasting color or texture. Mix fabric types, such as knits with wovens. Then consider adding an individual separate, such as a multicolored vest, that can coordinate with several garments for added wardrobe versatility. Get creative with fashion by attending the noon program on Thursday, November 1 at Summit Savings in Matador. Bring one covered dish for lunch. Tea, bread, plates, and utensils will be provided.

Program To Garden Club Northfield Extension Club

A program on conservation was presented Monday, Oct. 15 for Matador Garden Club, by Ray Minkley, Motley County Extension Agent. The meeting was held at the Summit Savings Community Room, with Mrs. Ted Elliott as hostess.

Mr. Minkley presented slides, with a narration, of the National Arboretum near Washington, D.C., composed of 1400 acres of natural beauty which is open to visitors the year round.

Nature trails have been set out by the National Garden Club and other organizations and individuals. Seasonal and perennial flowers and plants are grown so that at any time of the year, gardens will be in bloom along the trails, from daffodils in the spring to chrysanthemums in the fall, and English holly in the winter. Among other foreign plant life are exotic trees from China.

Narration with the slides declared, "The National Arboretum is more than a park, and more than a museum. It is a study course and plant library for scientists and teachers.... it is a living museum, a research laboratory and most of all, a place to visit."

Mrs. Robert Dickson was program leader and called for roll call which was answered with "Birds I've seen in my garden this year."

Following the program, Mrs. Elliott served refreshments of cake and punch. Others present included several visitors, Mesdames Roy Bradford, Bill McCaghren and Gus Bird and Mr. Minkley; members present were Mesdames W. N. Pipkin, Lowell Garrison, Artie Wason, Douglas Meador, J. D. Craven, Duke Lipscomb; the hostess and leader.

Area Clubwomen Meet In Matador Saturday

Area clubwomen converged here Saturday for a fall workshop and board meeting of General Federation of Womens Clubs, Santa Rosa District, with GFWC El Progreso Club members as hostesses. Mrs. Robert M. Dickson is president of the local club.

Presiding during the day was Mrs. Joel M. Ellett of Burkburnett, district president. After the call to order, invocation was by Mrs. Phillip Weis, president of GFWC Contemporary Club of Burkburnett. Mrs. F. W. Jabin of Vernon led the Pledge to the American Flag, and Mrs. E. F. Soell of Iowa Park led the Pledge to the Texas Flag.

Mrs. Dickson welcomed the guests and Mrs. Worth Shawver, president of GFWC Pierian Club of Seymour gave the response. Recognition of Life Members and Past Presidents was by Mrs. Ellett.

Reports of committees and department chairmen were given, and special appointments were announced.

The rewards of volunteer work was the theme of an address at the noon luncheon by Mrs. H. S. Silvus Jr., of San Antonio, president-elect of GFWC Texas Federation of Womens Clubs. Her subject was "World Without Volunteers," and she asked her listeners to visualize with eyes closed, the sad state of world affairs if there were no volunteer workers in all organizations which are operated only in this way.

"Volunteers are the backbone of our society," Mrs. Silvus declared as she pointed out the works of Fire Departments, Church leaders, Boy Scout and Girl Scout leaders, and the variety of ways in which people can help other people. "Volunteers do get paid," he declared. "They have been a help to someone else. Where else can you find such a variety of jobs, with no limit to qualifications, except to be reliable, dependable and flexible."

Mrs. Silvus also outlined as a project of Texas Federation, donations of books for a book fair to benefit the Texas Women's Library, a division of the TFWC Headquarters in Austin.

A church and civic leader, Mrs. Silvus has held practically every office in every organization to which she belongs. Her list of accomplishments in club work and community projects is lengthy and she is acknowledged leader in her church offices. The charming and vivacious president-elect of the state federation was introduced by Mrs. W. E. Welch of Quanah, president-elect of GFWC Santa Rosa District.

Adding a delightful note to the luncheon was a medley of songs by Richard Campbell, accompanied at the piano by Gerald Pipkin, with a repertoire ranging from popular blues and sentimental to a patriotic and religious presentation of "Battle Hymn of the Republic." They were introduced by Mrs. R. E. Campbell, mother of the singer, and aunt of the pianist.

A report of the registration by Mrs. Frank Pohl revealed that 44 visitors and 14 local women attended the meeting.

Mrs. Dickson thanked and introduced her committees for the day, and door prizes were given the visitors. The Club Collect in unison concluded the day's activities.

County Agent's Corn

By Ray Minkley

Frost will be hitting Motley County before long, and this could lead to prussic acid poisoning in livestock grazing certain pasture grasses and forage.

Although many plants contain the toxic material that causes poisoning, those causing the highest mortality in livestock when grazing after they have been frozen and wilted are Johnson and Sudan grasses and sorghum or hybrids of these.

The most dangerous time as far as the grazing of these plants is concerned is following frost when the plant material begins to wilt. Livestock should not be allowed access to the wilted material until it has dried completely. This usually takes three or four days of good sunlight. New plant growth usually becomes nontoxic and can be grazed within 10 days to two weeks following a rain.

As far as prussic acid poisoning is concerned, the poison acts rapidly and can kill animals within minutes. In most acute cases, animals become affected within 10-15 minutes after eating toxic material and can die in two to three minutes. Symptoms may include a brief period of stimulation followed by depression and paralysis. Signs of colic may be present. Stupor (loss of sensibility), difficult breathing and frequent convulsions may result. Death is caused by suffocation since oxygen remains in the blood and is not exchanged to the tissues. This also causes the blood to appear bright red.

LUBBOCK, Friday, October 19, 1984

Producers in the 25 High Plains counties represented by Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. have certified 1984 cotton plantings of 3,331,502 acres—give or take maybe a few hundred acres.

County by county certification figures were obtained October 18 by PCG from the state Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service at College Station. The possibility of small but insignificant errors exists because the figures include estimates from some counties where measurement services were not complete at reporting time. Final, official figures from all counties may not be available for some time, officials say.

USDA's August estimate of the area's acres for harvest, unchanged through the latest report October 11, was 3,116,000, indicating abandonment of 215,502 acres, or almost 6.5 percent of the total. Most of the acreage abandoned was in drought-stricken areas, with a few thousand more acres lost to hail.

Base acres for the 25 counties in 1984 total 4,882,117, of which 89.1 percent or 4,349,924 were enrolled in 1984's 20% acreage reduction program.

Total planted acreage in the area, which includes 5,298 acres seeded on farms without an acreage base, comes to only 68.24% of the area's base acres. PCG officials attribute the low percentage to more than one factor.

An undetermined amount of the area's base is made up of so-called "phantom" acres. These are base cotton acres on farms, primarily in northern counties, that in recent years have switched all or part of their acreage out of cotton and into feed grains, wheat or other alternative crops.

Also, because of declining water supplies and increased pumping costs, a number of farmers in 1984 changed from solid plantings to skip-row patterns, thereby reducing the land area actually devoted to cotton.

Listed below are the total base, enrolled base, number of planted acres and planted acres as a percent of total base for each of PCG's 25 counties.

WIND STRIPCROPPING INCREASES IN DISTRICT

Area Farmers are becoming aware of the benefits of wind strip-cropping. In 1984, 18,000 acres of cropland were treated with annual and perennial grass windstrips. Properly placed windstrips will save trips, improve herbicide effectiveness, increase soil moisture between strips, and create a better climate for growing plants. Cotton grown between strips has shown a better grade and increased yield while reducing soil erosion. Area farmers have been using wheat, forage sorghum, and weeping lovegrass as windstrips in their cotton, peanuts, and grain sorghum fields.

DISTRICT REPORTS BANNER YEAR IN TERRACING

W. H. Marshall, Chairman of the Upper Pease Soil and Water Conservation District reports that 135,000 feet of parallel terraces and 120,000 feet of standard terraces were installed last year. Those terraces were installed to save moisture for growing crops and stop erosion, Marshall said. Marshall is a firm believer in terraces as all his farmland has been terraced.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS

- CONSERVATION TILLAGE -- 18,000 acres
- PARALLEL TERRACES -- 135,000 feet
- STANDARD TERRACES -- 120,000 feet
- WIND STRIPCROPPING -- 18,000 acres
- BRUSH MANAGEMENT -- 15,000 acres
- RANGE SEEDING -- 200 acres
- PASTURE PLANTING -- 3,000 acres

Conservation practices applied on cropland in the district resulted in the savings of 602, 490 tons of soil on 24,295 acres. Conservation practices applied on rangeland in the district resulted in the savings of 175,625 tons of soil on 91,649 acres.

OTHER ACCOMPLISHMENTS

- Represented Upper Pease District at South Plains Association of SWCD's meetings
- Sponsored Essay Contest for local youth
- Sponsored Poster Contest for local youth
- Hosted and co-sponsored District 4-H Pasture and Range Contest
- Participated in Region I Area Awards Contest

- Published one annual report
- Participated in Four Great Plains Conservation Program meetings
- Participated in recommendations for County Development Group
- Initiated District Tree Program
- Member National Association Conservation Districts
- Member State Association of Soil & Water Conservation Districts
- Attended 13 local Soil & Water Conservation District Meetings
- Represented the district at two Conservation tillage meetings
- Participated in the development of four new Great Plains Conservation Program Contracts.

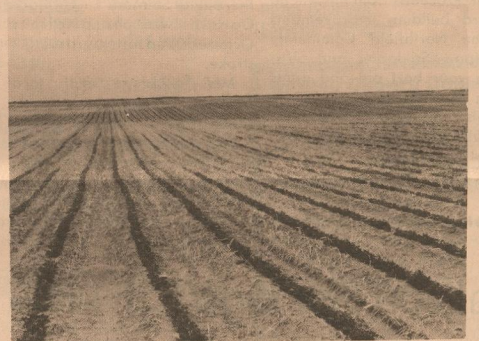

RANGE SEEDING

Range seeding of this once highly eroding cropland was cost shared through the Great Plains Conservation Program. A mixture of sideoats grama, plains bristlegrass, kleingrass, and green sprangletop reduced erosion rates from more than 20 tons per acre per year to less than 5 tons. Range seeding is another alternative that can be used to turn unproductive eroding land into a productive area. With proper management and some help from nature this land will provide years of grazing for livestock and wildlife.

PRESCRIBED BURN

This burn is being used to suppress salt cedar regrowth on the George Hughes ranch. The Soil Conservation Service helped to plan this burn, and so far good results have been seen with an increase in grass production under the salt cedar canopy. Controlled fire is now being used as a tool to fight the encroachment of undesirable brush. A properly timed and applied burn can add extra years of brush control at very little cost. Prescribed burning has also been successfully used as a management tool on lovegrass. The burning of old rank lovegrass, along with proper grazing and grass management will lead to a more palatable and nutritious forage. If you would like more information on the use of prescribed burning contact the Soil Conservation Service.

CONSERVATION TILLAGE

In 1984 several farmers in the county switched to conservation tillage. Some of the results these farmers are seeing is an increase in organic matter in the soil, less soil compaction than conventional tillage, and better infiltration of moisture due to the stubble being left on the soil surface. Not only do these farmers hope to see long term soil improvement, but also a decrease in their input costs. With fewer trips across the field, fuel, time, and labor will be held to a minimum. One of the most positive results of conservation tillage has been the control of wind erosion. Although last spring was very windy none of the fields farmed with conservation tillage had to be replanted. The Upper Pease Soil and Water Conservation District salutes these farmers for looking at new ways to save soil and conserve water in Motley County.

80th Birthday Party Given Jesse Terry

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Terry of Bovina honored Mr. Terry on his 80th birthday on Sunday at 2:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Terry's niece and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Coin in Farwell. Many family members and friends came to help celebrate.

Rev. Terry, a Southern Baptist minister retired his pastorate, but still fills in for churches that need someone for the day. He was a former pastor of Whiteflat First Baptist Church and he and his wife, the former Maggie Donaldson were married out there.

The Terrys have two children, Melvin Terry of Lubbock and Mrs. Jerry (Ludene) Davis of Roswell, N.M.

Guests were asked to bring pictures and write something that happened that they remember about Jesse. One of the things that happened when Jesse was getting ready to enter Wayland University and he needed to finish school was a Science Class where the teacher had put a Horned Toad in a 1/2 gallon fruit jar, put some water and food in the jar before sealing. The project was to see how long the toad would live in the jar without food, water and air. The toad kept getting fatter and fatter and everyone wondered how come. Come to find out, Jesse had such a tender heart that he couldn't stand to watch the toad die. He was helping the janitor clean up every evening, and he was opening up the jar and feeding and watering it. Our project failed and Jesse got a good scolding.

The people attending from Matador were H. A. Stephens and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Dunning.

Selective Service System

Young men born on or after January 1, 1960 are required to register with Selective Service within a month of their 18th birthday.

The registration process takes less than five minutes at the post office. A young man fills out a simple form asking only for his name, date of birth, address, telephone number and Social Security number.

Registration helps keep our country prepared with a pool of names to draw from in case of a national emergency... without interfering with people's lives. When you think about it... that's not a lot to ask for a country as great as ours.

IT'S QUICK. IT'S EASY. AND IT'S THE LAW.

Card of Thanks

To each and every one who prayed for me before and after my surgery on October 12. Thank you for the cards and deeds of kindness from my dear relatives and friends.

Thank You and may God Bless Each of You.
Cora Hall

WE THANK YOU

We sincerely appreciate the encouragement and help we received with the many plans and preparations that were needed for the 1984 Motley County School Homecoming. Your support made it possible to continue this annual tradition.

A special thank you to Rodney Williams and members of the Fire Dept. for the use of the Fire Dept. building and your time consuming work. Carolyn Johnson for posters and Pep Club for decorations. We are grateful to those who performed on the program, cooperation and dedication of those serving on Homecoming committee and for the good attendance of ex-students and teachers.

Thank you for making the 1984 Homecoming a success and memorable occasion!
