

Trail Dust

The world offers today a greater opportunity to the man of new ideas than ever before. It is no longer dangerous for a man or woman to surprise us with a new thought or discovery, or to perfect some device that will add greater pleasure or profit to our lives. Yet Galileo's discovery that the earth moves around the sun almost cost him his life. Marco Polo, the great medieval traveler, was insulted after his return to Venice because of the things he had seen and told about. A struggling clergyman was driven away and his home burned in 1791, because he had discovered oxygen. Lewis and Clark on their return from what is now Yellowstone Park in 1807, were doubted and in 1869 an expedition was organized especially to verify or refute their claims. In the day of King Edward I, it was a capital offense to burn coal. Stephenson's locomotive was preceded by a man carrying a red flag. In the past the world has made the way of those who would depart from conventional thoughts, one of ridicule and suffering. Today the reverse is true. We of this country, who, a few decades ago, burned at the stake, help less old women because they were witches, are now ready to quickly throw off the bondage of our conventions and pay homage to those who set us free.

A woman in New York recently had occasion to know the name of her congressman. To gain the information she needed, she telephoned the National Democratic Club. They didn't know. She put in a number of other calls; Police headquarters, Mayor's office, friends, the corner drug store. At last she rang up a bootlegger whose telephone number somebody had given her. He gave her the local telephone of a local political club and there she was told the name of her congressman. That same information would be harder to secure in this country.

Makers of beer and light wines are toeing the line in readiness for the start that is expected by immediate change in our production laws. France, Mexico and Italy are looking with much interest toward this country as a market for a new contraband product. If a nation as great as the United States must be lefted its boot straps from the muck depression by such a procedure, tax on intoxicating beverage, immediate provisions should be made for the growers of grapes and wheat in this country. A high enough price is being paid every benefit possible should be taken and the wheat farmer of California grape grower deserve help. They face problems that farmers everywhere face, a market for what they produce.

Mrs. W. B. Gage of Afton underwent an operation at the Spurlin Hospital Wednesday.

MERCHANTS TO GIVE MERCHANDISE SATURDAY

Several business men of Roaring Springs are donating valuable merchandise presents to be given away Saturday afternoon, November 19, by the same plan that Trades Day Cash is given. The value of the presents vary from one to five or more dollars. The prizes to be given away may be seen in the show windows of G. Gabriel, where they are displayed.

FIRE EATS WAY THROUGH EAST TEXAS PINE WOODS

NACOGDOCHES, Texas, Nov. 13.—Forrest fires still were eating their way through the pine woods three miles east of Nacogdoches Saturday night in sections reaching to the Attoyac River, twenty miles eastward. Timber on the extensive holdings of the Frost Lumber Industries, on cutover land near and south of Chireno were burning, and many employes to keep the flames confined to small areas.

No water was available and the fires, because of dry weather, were stubbornly resisting the efforts of farmers in the section who worked throughout Friday night trying to beat them out.

IF I DON'T PAY MY TAXES—

The school may shut down. The State cannot pay full per capita distribution because, like the local tax, it depends on MY payment. Banks cannot advance further money to schools against unpaid taxes. It is my personal duty to pay up—even though it hurts. Thoughtful citizens in some localities have organized "Pay Your Taxes" clubs. Occasionally large taxpayers are advancing half or all they owe, long before due date. After all of us have paid who can, there yet will be left enough unpaid taxes that schools will have a struggle. I will start now to plan how I can do "my bit."

ARMISTICE DAY TRAGEDY CLAIMS LIFE OF MATADOR BUSINESS MAN

Darting out of twilight skies Armistice evening, Death pointed with bony fingers and chose the life of Jet Lewis, Matador business man, when the automobile in which he was riding, struck a concrete banister on the Ballard Creek bridge just east of Matador. Wylie McGowan, who occupied the automobile with Mr. Lewis, received serious injuries, and was immediately rushed to the Traveek Hospital in Matador for medical treatment.

The cause of the tragedy is not known. Leaving Matador Friday morning for a short hunting trip during the holiday, the two men were returning home when the accident occurred.

Mr. Lewis was well known in Motley county, where he had resided for a number of years. For the past two years he had been employed by the Mission Gas and Oil service station in Matador, and held the position of manager, at the time of his death.

Besides a host of friends, Mr. Lewis is survived by his wife Mrs. Ethel Lewis, and one son, J. O. Lewis Jr., age 11 years, of Matador; one brother, Marshall Lewis of Phoenix, Arizona, and one half-brother, Bill Lewis, of Amarillo.

Funeral services were held at the Methodist Church in Matador, by Rev. J. W. Chisholm, and interment made in East Mound Cemetery late Sunday afternoon.

TRIBUTE

Humbly these lines are dedicated to a friendship that to be shadowed by the dark wing of death. They are a final tribute to a man of sterling character. To one who counted his friends by those who knew him. His fairness to his fellow man, his good heart, his smile and ever-ready laughter will always remain, although he is gone. A good man, a good friend, a good neighbor and a good citizen has heeded the potential call of life, and gone beyond the portals into eternity.

The writer wishes to join the sorrowing relatives and friends in this dark hour of bereavement. —B. D. M.

DORENE RUSSELL AND VERNON DOSS CHOSEN STARS IN LITTLE THEATRE PLAY

In the Matador Little Theatre presentation Tuesday night, consisting of three one act plays, directed by members, the enthusiastic audience agreed with the judges in selecting Miss Dorene Russell, and Mr. Vernon Doss for the out-standing acting during the performance.

The three plays, "Finders-Keepers" by George Kelly, directed by B. F. Harbour, "Apartments to Let" by Elliott Nugent and Howard Lindsay, directed by Mrs. Wyonna Gilbreath, were presented in the form of a contest. The decision for direction were as follows: Mrs. Gilbreath, first place; B. F. Harbour, second place; and Miss Lorene Fryar, third place.

Remarkable talent was displayed, both in the acting and direction, in all of the three plays. So expertly was the casting conducted that each character appeared to be living rather than acting the part.

WAYLAND COLLEGE VOLUNTEER BAND GIVES THREE CONCERTS IN ROARING SPRINGS

The Volunteer Band from the Baptist Wayland College in Plainview, consisting of 14 students, delivered three concerts in Roaring Springs Saturday and Sunday.

The first concert was rendered Saturday night, the second Sunday morning and the third Sunday afternoon at 2:30 P. M.

A splendid program, consisting of both vocal and instrumental music, was enjoyed by large audiences on all three occasions.

GIRL SLUMBERING NOT SO BAD OFF

Oak Park, Ill., Nov. 13.—Like the enchanted princess of the fairy storybook, Patricia Maguire slept Sunday night, fair-headed, and pink of cheek, just as she had slumbered since she first fell into her baffling coma last Feb. 24.

Physicians, who thought two weeks ago that she was about to wake watched her regular breathing and decided their opinion was premature. They hesitated to predict when she would awaken.

As Rip Van Winkle dozed on the Bowling Green, so has Patricia slumbered through events important enough to make her own little world anew.

She was a pert, blonde stenographer when she first became sleepy last January and began to relapse into her torpor. The dresses in her closet all have tight sleeves and normal waistlines. Her hats are the kind she wore far back on her head.

MUSICAL AT FLAG SPRINGS HOME SATURDAY NIGHT

A very enjoyable musical was held at the M. D. Carter home in Flag Springs community last Saturday night.

A large crowd attended and all report an enjoyable time.

TRADES DAY PRIZE DRAWING HERE LAST SATURDAY

Greater than usual interest was shown in the Roaring Springs Trades Day cash prize drawing conducted here last Saturday afternoon by the large crowd that participated in the event.

The first number called, 24991, received no reply and the two new one dollar bills were therefore kept out of circulation until the second number, 14947, was called and Marvin Green held the corresponding ticket, thereby, winning first prize.

The second prize of $2, was won by W. E. Gates with number 35-909. The third prize went to Mrs. Walter Russell who held the corresponding ticket to number 00821. Number 24908 won the fourth pair of dollar bills for C. B. Cargile. Mrs. Walter Russell came forward with her second lucky number, 47160, winning the fifth and last cash prize.

A sixth prize, a box Christmas greeting cards offered by Mr. O. Ferguson, was presented to C. B. Cargile who held the lucky number, 18329, making him the second two-prize winner for the afternoon.

TEXAS THEATRE SHOWS "MIRACLE" MAN IN MIDNIGHT SHOW SATURDAY

The Texas Theatre, which is now showing on Friday and Saturday night of each week held a special midnight matinee Saturday night, with the production, "The Miracle Man." A large crowd, despite the late hour, attended.

The show for tomorrow and Saturday night is: "Merrily We Go to Hell," and according to critics, is one of the best pictures of the season.

WOMAN KILLED AND TWO INJURED IN CAR CRASH

STAMFORD, Texas, Nov. 13.—Mrs. Joe T. Edwards of Gatesville was killed instantly, and her husband, their 12-year old daughter and her brother-in-law, Tom Jones, received serious injuries when the car in which they were riding crashed into the rear of a truck on the Haskall-Stamford highway, three miles north of here Saturday night.

The accident occurred when the truck slowed down to aid motorists whose car was parked on the side of the road with a flat. The Edwards machine passed the parked automobile, but crashed into the truck before the latter cleared the highway.

ADJUSTMENT

If I should leave the volume of the days With chapters still uncut, life's game of chess But half played out, remember as you praise, That I was spared old age, and loneliness. If I should live to chill and barren years, And see this hand fall helpless at my side, O then remember, and withhold your tears, I had the all of life, was satisfied.

'There is glory enough for any man to live and die a Texan.'

Japan is like an earthquake; one can never tell when it is going to burst forth. While hostilities are apparently over in China, Japan is not satisfied, and will never fully quit her "breaking out" until something definite is done about her policy of going over to China and taking in what she wants. Manchuria is a prize she has had her long eyes cast upon for many years, and she thot when the recent armed misunderstanding between the two nations broke forth this would be the right time for annexing it to her nation. The population of Japan is so dense, and her area so limited she is sadly in need of more territory. But her idea of going over and helping herself, free handed, is all wrong. It might have been well enough for cave man days, but this is supposed to be a time when civilization predominates, and it simply does not work. The people of the different Nations will not stand for this kind of business. It is a little difficult for Japan to come to realization of this fact, but the sooner she does so the better off she will be. The waspy little nation is both fatalistic and militaristic, and before the job is well finished the world is going to be forced to spank her pants. Reason will not do, for Japan is not willing to reason things out—unless it is all in favor of Japan. That means she shall be permitted to go on and take over Manchuria, and any other part of the Chinese empire she might decide. She has no regard for the League of Nations; she does not think the world powers know anything, and in her egotism is willing to try and force a taking in of this territory against the protest of China, and the remainder of the universe. It is hoped Japan shall be brought to see the matter in the proper light, without the use of force, for the world today is getting a full dose of the administration of power by shot and shell, but seemingly something is going to have to be done in a most stringent manner before the Japanese upheaval is permanently quieted.

Russia seems to be doomed to eternal failure and chaos. It is one of the richest countries in the world from a natural standpoint, yet is very unfortunate in having the kind of citizens who compose the inhabitants. Poor old Russia seems to get off on the wrong foot every time. Its latest move in fighting God, and all religious movements is a sure thing to keep it in darkness and disorder. Not only are the people being taught and urged to fight everything of a Divine nature, but the government is attempting to strike God from its business and social life, and is doing all in its power to make Russia "the country without a God." There is something vital lacking in this huge area. Principally missing are the factors of education and refinement. A large per cent of the nation's people can neither read nor write. They are developed physically, but like an ox, are mentally minus, plodding along with the doing of menial labor, not capable of thinking for themselves, but depending upon some one who is smarter than they for all direction, planning and seeing that their work is carried on to a successful completion. Russia could be one of the leading nations of the globe, but so long as the leaders are trying to take God from their plans, and to make the masses grope along in ignorance and utter darkness, religiously, no possibility of accomplishment by her is even thinkable. The days of the Czars were bad, still there was nothing of a disrupted condition then as is to be seen now. The country did have a recognized form of government, and its business was carried on in a systematic manner, but today it is absolutely irresponsible, and isn't recognized by the world as being of adult importance in the business world. Communism and a disbelief in the Almighty will keep Russia down and out forever. Such teachings take from development rather than promote it.

A LINK WITH THE PAST

Down in the village of Plateau, near Mobile, lives Cudjo Lewis, described by W. H. Blumenthal in the New York Evening Post as "the most historic Negro in the United States," a title well bestowed.

For Lewis is the last living of all the slaves brought from Africa to this country, and made the trip on the Clothilde, last of the slave ships to bring a cargo to our shores, on the last trip of her unholy traffic in 1869. Lewis is supposed to be 94 years old. With 109 others of the peace-

Through a period of unrest and dissatisfaction multiplied thousands of normal Republican votes have joined the banners of Democracy to sweep Hon. Franklin Delano Roosevelt into the Presidency. States long in the Republican column have ordered a change and their electoral votes are listed in the Democratic column. In a very able short address Walter Lippmann, nationally known political observer declares that the outstanding feature of the national election was the giving of the Democratic chieftain control of both houses of Congress. Mr. Lippman observes that President Hoover has been trammelled and hindered by insurgency in his own party and a Democratic House for the first two years which limited his ability to carry out his policies looking to the rehabilitation of the nation. When Mr. Roosevelt assumes the Presidency he will have a free hand at least for two years and in case no rebellion against his leadership shows itself in the two houses of congress. All this augers well for the new administration and for the continued recovery of the nation's commerce. The nation is rid of the demoralizing effects of a national election. The verdict is on the shoulders of Mr. Roosevelt. Therefore, in a generous spirit of patriotism voters of all shades of belief wish him well, and the nation well. On the prevalence of this spirit depends recovery and progress.—Clarendon News.

STORM HITS CUBA; TAKING TEN LIVES

Havana, Nov. 12.—A tropical storm which has kept the West Indies in apprehension for the last week struck the three Eastern Provinces of Cuba Wednesday, killing ten persons, injuring more than 200 and causing great property damage.

The Department of Sanitation in Havana was informed that need for medical supplies in Camaguey, a city of 23,000 in Santa Clara Province, was imperative. Supplies and physicians were sent from Cienfuegos and 200 doses of antitetanus serum were rushed from Havana.

A special rescue train will leave Havana for Camaguey, in Camaguey Province, as soon as possible. All physicians and nurses in municipal hospitals were ordered to be ready to leave at a moment's notice.

Almost all the usual means of communication with the three stricken Provinces were cut, and Pan-American Airways canceled all West Indies flights, as well as service to Miami.

Available reports indicated Camaguey Province suffered most although there was considerable damage in Oriente and Santa Clara. The Belen Observatory in Havana learned that in the town of Nuevitas in Camaguey the wind reached a speed of 130 miles an hour. In midafternoon the storm was moving to the north-east—in the morning the center of disturbance had passed just east of the city of Camaguey—and it was expected it would leave the island somewhere east of Nuevitas.

Observers said the disturbance might strike the Bahamas sometime Wednesday night and then possibly move on through a low pressure area between Jacksonville and Charleston.

The information that ten persons had been killed and more than 200 injured reached the Department of Sanitation from Camaguey. Police in that city informed the Secretary of Interior they were giving first aid to the injured. Numerous houses there were destroyed.

RIOT AT GENEVA

Geneva, Nov. 16.—A furious battle tonight in the streets of Geneva—seat of the League of Nations and disarmament conference—resulted in three deaths and 30 wounded after soldiers opened fire on a Socialist demonstration. Two civilians and one policeman were killed in the disturbance.

The demonstration started when the Socialists were denied admittance to a meeting protesting against war.

Swiss authorities rushed machine guns and truck loads of soldiers to the Plain Palais section of the city. The streets were barricaded against further disturbances.

After the Socialists had been refused participation in the pacifist meeting, they paraded, ripping up fences and stones. Then, they marched against the soldiers. They tore guns from their hands and smashed them on the pavement.
