20% Of County's Cropland In CRP

Editors Note: I would like to thank the Floyd County Hesperian for this

Entering the sixth bidding period, Motley County has approximately 26,254 acres approximately 26,254 acres subscribed to the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP), according to the ASCS and SCS offices. This represents 20 percent of the county's total cropland of 129,350

SIGNUP ANNOUNCED

Signup for the 1988 wheat, feed grains, cotton and rice programs will be from Feb. 16 through April 15, according to Secretary of Agriculture Richard E. Lang. Legislation recently passed by Congress requires that a number of changes be made to the commodity programs. Accordingly, signup for these programs will not begin until February and the provisions of these programs will be announced "as soon as possible."

Lady Matadors Defeat Patton Springs

The Lady Matadors opened district play with a fine win over Patton Springs on January 19 at Patton Springs. The final score was Motley County 78, Patton Springs 41. Kathy Mangram was the leading scorer with 28 points. she was followed by Joely Ewing, 11; Paige Williams, 10; Brandi Barton, 7; Leigh Barton, 6; Chandra Brown, 6; Regina Cruse, 4; Yulanda Campbell, 2; Cindy Shorter, 2; and Tammy Taylor with 2 points.

Kathy also lead in rebounds with Yulanda Campbell had rebounds, Joely Ewing and Chandra Brown had 5 each, and Paige Williams and Tammy Taylor had 4 rebounds each. Chandra Brown had an impressive 8 assists followed by Yulanda Campbell and Joely Ewing with 4 each.
On January 22, the Lady Mats defeated a fine Paducah team by the score of 61-48. Chandra Brown was outstanding with 20 points and 5 assists on offense. She was followed in scoring by Kathy Mangram with 11, Joely Ewing 9, Brandi Barton 9, Leigh Barton 6, Yulanda Campbell 4, and Tammy Taylor with 2.

Joely Ewing had an excellent defensive game with 9 steals. She was matched with impressive defensive play from Leigh Barton, Yulanda Campbell, and Kathy Mangram. Kathy had 10 rebounds followed by Leigh, Joely and Brandi with 6 rebounds each with 6 rebounds each.

This was a much needed win in the district race. The Lady Mats performed well in coming from behind early in the game to secure the victory. Much of the teams success can be attributed to the fine play of girls coming off the bench. Yulanda Campbell, Brandi Barton, Paige Williams, Cindy Shorter, Tammy Taylor and Paka Barton have contributed much toward the Lady Matadors success this year.

The Lady Matadors now stand at 2-0 in district play and must have a win over Guthrie on January 26 in order to win the first half of the

Americans Urged To Observe National Day Of Prayer

SAN BERNARDINO, CALIF. -- May 5, 1988 marks the thirty-sixth consecutive observance of the National Day of Prayer. The National Day of Prayer Task Force and its parent, the National Prayer Committee, have joined with President Reagan to urge all Americans to become personally involved in the observance.

National days of prayer have been part of our country's heritage since the first one was declared by the Continental Congress in 1775.
With the encouragement of Benjamin Franklin for "prayers imploring the assistance of imploring the assistance of Heaven," our founding fathers sought the wisdom of God while framing our United States Constitution.

"As we reflect on the vital role of prayer in the foundation of our it is prayer in the foundation of our Constitution 200 years ago, it is important to realize that the need for Americans to pray is as great today as it was during the establishment of our nation," stated Vonette Bright, co-chairman with entertainer/author, Pat Boone, of the National Day of Prayer, Task Force.

The task force is responsible for coordinating and distributing and materials to privilege and responsibility to pray for our nation, its leaders and its people on this historic day.

A network of state and city coordinators and sponsoring churches from many denominations are encouraging individual and group prayer as well as special services and gatherings. A national television special is also under consideration for May 5, 1988. In his 1987 proclamation President Reagan stated, "On our National Day of Prayer, then, we join together as people of many faiths to petition God to show us His mercy and His love, to heal our weariness and uphold our hope, that we might live ever mindful of His justice and thankful for

The President further urged ".....the citizens of this great Nation to gather together on that day in homes and places of worship to pray, each after his or her own manner, for unity of the hearts of all

NATIONAL CHILD PASSENGER SAFETY AWARENESS WEEK

The week of February 7-14 has been designated National Child Passenger Safety Awareness Week by the National Passenger Safety Association. The theme of this year's Association. The theme of this year's promotion is "Be a valentine for life: buckle up your family." The purpose of this important observance is to promote the protection of children as they are transported in automobiles and to stop the peedless loss of lives.

stop the needless loss of lives.

Car accidents are the number one killer of children. Each year thousands of children age 4 and under die or are seriously injured in automobile accidents. It is estimated that 80-90% of these deaths and injuries could be prevented if parents would only use child safety restraints. And even child safety restraints. And even more important than simply using a child safety restraint is the proper usage of it. Improper usage of a safety restraint can itself cause serious injuries to a child. In Texas, a child passenger safety law became effective on October 31, 1984. The law requires that children under the age of two be safely secured in an approved car safety seat. Those over the age of two and under the age of four must be safely secured in an approved car safety seat or by a safety belt. Children cannot care for themselves and must depend on responsible and must depend on responsible adults to keep them safe. If children are brought up to buckle up, they will continue this life-saving habit throughout their adulthood.

As a parent you provide your children with warm clothing in the wintertime, get them immunized against illness, and keep poisons and medicines out of their reach. A child safety restraint is another kind of prevention. It helps assure your child of a safe ride each and every time he travels in a car.

Please show your children how much you love them by securing them in a child safety seat or seat belt. Be a valentine for life by buckling yourself up, also! For more information on proper usage of child safety restraints, contact the Texas Department of Health, Safe Riders Program, at 1-800-252-8255

I was from Flomot and she recalled that when we were in Grade School year after year I would place first and she would place second in the County UIL declamation contest, and off we would both go to the district contest in Childress. That reminded Earline Vaughn that for several years she would win first place in declamation and a friend would place second in the school declamation contest, and every year when the County Contest time rolled around, she would have a sore throat and her alternate always got to represent their school.

Ruth Edwards of Austin, TX came in the same day that Nona Williams was here and brought a beautiful 10 volume set of THE MASTER LIBRARY to present in memory of Olive Russell. She was also a delightful visitor. She has an deligntful visitor. She has an extensive collection of the works of Texas writers and worked in the University of Texas Library until her recent retirement.

Matt. 11:12, "And from the days John the Baptist until now the kingdom of heaven suffers violence and violent men take it by force."

This scripture has always bothered me because man has heard and believed the Body of Christ should be meek as lambs, not violent. The last year has shed a new light and revelation has come to many recently. The time of waiting for the lost, sick and hurting to come to us asking how to find Jesus, seems to be past. Those who have the answer must not only go to battle for themselves but must declare all out war for those who are in darkness. We cannot be weak or passive and see victory. The enemy has called out all of his army for the last onslaught and we must not sit back and allow him to take anymore ground. The church must become violent in Her attacks Jesus said also in Matt. 10:16, "Behold I send you out as sheep in the midst of wolves; therefore be shrewd as serpents, and innocent as doves."

The violence must not be directed toward men. They are not the enemy. Satan is the culprit who keeps men in bondage, blinding them to the truth of God's work, therefore, our attacks must be therefore our attacks must be toward him. Our weapons of war are not man made but are mighty through God for pulling down strong holds. Gods word, His power and the saint's prayers are the weapons of victory

Highlights From Past Coffees During Holiday Season

Dec. 21, 1968 a Mexican supper was hosted by Beverly Vinson, Margaret Jane Hill and Winifred at Winifred's home. Decorations featured a South of the border theme, with a willow Christmas tree, candles, and straw madonna on the TV; a Santa Claus figure with a Mexican straw hat, and the dining table, covered with a green cloth and centered with a tin Mexican candle tree, surrounded by colored chocolate Christmas balls for favors. Margaret Jane had carried the tree, with two others, on a plane

On Dec. 22, 1969 Lillian and LaVoe had their annual coffee at Lillian's home. The table was covered with a beautiful Christmas cloth that Lillian had made and decorations included Christmas flowers in a 100-year-old (or more) blue pitcher: three wise men, also a blue pitcher; three wise men, also a skating scene on the piano, and a white ceramic Christmas tree on the TV which was made by niece of Melton's - with choir boys around it.

On Christmas Eve morning Hazel and Rose had their annual coffee for the golfers and other guests. Main point of interest was the tree, topped with the angel - first used 31 years ago and each year since. This year June Keltz contributed an angel made in Taiwan; Wynona Gilbreath's offering was a lion and Hortense Sager added a ball; butterfly and a bird of happiness. A miniature owl designed and made by Peggy McCallie Dietze was her latest contribution - always making an ornament each year.

December 16, 1976, Mickey Bostick entertained the Women's Golf Assn. with a Christmas luncheon. Entire house was very festive and a gourmet meal was served to Norma Nell Marrs, Joyce Campbell, Helen Hill, Nell Clem, Laverna, Dorothy D., Dorothy Russell, Lucretia Jr., Campbell, Frances Hobbs, Mary M., Winifred, Faye, Geneva, Elaine Hart, Pat Warren, Francine Green, LaVoe, Warren, Francine Green, Lavue, Louise, Tommy Edwards and Hazel. hostesses. First year Lillian hadn't had the coffee at her home. Outstanding among the decora-tions was a tree fashioned of Tinker

Dec. 18, 1980, LaVoe was again hostess for the golfers and other friends, assisted by Lillian, Nell C., Mamie Y., and Ronnie Thacker.
Theme for the decorations was trees. Over the breakfast bar was a large tree card (a jigsaw puzzle put together by Jana, Johny, Amy and Melonie) and very carefully mailed. Colorful Christmas cards were mounted on the fireplace wall, in a mounted on the tireplace wall, in a tree shape and on a table nearby was a golf tree, copied from a smaller lollipop tree placed on a small table. The golf tree, constructed of wood by Bruce Lefevre, was decorated with colored golf balls and tees. As one colored golf balls and tees. As one golfer remarked "always wondered where golf balls came from and now found a golf tree." Hazel entertained golfers Dec. 23, 1980 at morning coffee. On Dec. 17, 1981 LaVoe, and Lillian entertained friends for a Christmas coffee at LaVoe's home. Focal point of interest among all the decorations were the most decorated stockings of the Thacker decorated stockings of the Thacker kids - Johny, Joey and Jeff - made by Lillian for their first Christmas - to the newest member, Blair. Two tables were set up for the "tastin' bees" of the goodies concocted for delicious eating. The table was centered with a Lazy Susan designed and painted by LaVoe's sister. Johnnie sister, Johnnie

Tuesday morning, Dec. 22, 1981 Hazel entertained with her usual Christmas coffee for golfers and friends. Among the new ornaments on the tree this year was a white tufted angel made by Mary Groves. The tiniest of beads outlined wings and around the gown. The hands were folded and the face (eyes, nose and mouth) all embroidered even to pink cheeks. Truly a creation of art, since Mary made the design and spent eight hours (Dick said) just buttonholing the beads on.

TAXING YOUR CHILD'S INCOME

Interest on a bank account or pay from an after school job may mean your child has to file an income tax return this year.

Changes in the federal tax law require that children must file a tax return under three

* If a child has earned income of more than $2,540. Earned income is from salaries received as pay for work actually done.

* If a child has unearned income of $500 or more. Unearned income is generated by interest, dividends and capital gains, including those that come to the child as the beneficiary of a trust.

* If a child has a combination of earned and unearned income of $500 or more.

For example, let's say you provide most of the support and claim a tax exemption for your 18-year-old son who is a single college student. During 1987 he earned $2,500 from a part-time job and $400 in interest. That means he has savo in interest. That media lie into the file a 1987 return because his unearned and earned income of $2,900 is more than $500.

Another example would be the hild what repulses the programmed and the sample would be the sampl

Another example would be the child who receives unearned income. If your 10-year-old daughter, for instance, receives $400 in interest as the beneficiary of a trust set up by her grandmather, and another $250 dollars in interest from a savings set aside for her future college expenses, she has a total of $650 in unearned income and must file a 1987 tax return. 1987 tax return.

In most cases, the simple 104A form can be used for the child's tax return. Since children typically have very small incomes, they will also be taxed at a lower rate Fear God and keep his commandments, for this is the whole duty of man. For God will bring every deed into judgement, including every hidden thing, whether it is good or evil.

Helms-Robertson Wedding Vows Said In Church Rites

Michelle Beth Robertson of Friendswood and Robert Helms of Quitaque were married on Jan. 2 in the First Christian Church Brownwood with the Rev. Ro Bray officiating for the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marquis D. Robertson of Brownwood and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Edd Helms of Quitaque.

of Quitaque.

Given in marriage by her father, the ride wore a formal wedding gown of white bridal satin and Schiffli embroidery. The fitted basque satin bodice was elaborately beaded with pearlized Schiffli embroidered lace that enhanced the deep V scalloped perklips. The long tapered sleeves ennanced the deep v scalioped neckline. The long tapered sleeves featured in illusion inset of embroidered pearlized lace. The bouffant satin skirt was designed with matching imported scalloped cut lace that encircled the cathedral length train. The skirt front featured lace appliques of satin ad organza embroidery. The train was designed with a triangular shadow of illusion and matching appliques.

To complete her bridal ensemble, Michelle chose a two tiered, rolled edge veil attached to a halo of pearl sprays and silk azaleas.

Maid of honor was Čarey McCormack of Garland. Little Miss Katie Hamilton of Amarillo, niece of the groom, served as flower girl.

Best man was Kenneth Helms of Quitaque, brother of the groom. Ushers were Randy Lacy of Lubbock and Max Meyer of Turkey.
The bride was driven to the church by her father in a 1928 Ford Model A four door sedan.

After the reception, the couple was driven away by her father and mother in their Model A Ford. The couple will spend their honeymoon in San Francisco, then reside in Friendswood.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Edd Helms hosted a rehearsal supper for the wedding party on Friday evening, Jan. 1.

U.S. Postal Service Representative Is Guest Speaker For El Progresso Club was presented Thursday, January 14 for members of the El Progresso Club by Charles E. Francis of Lubbock, Account Representative of the U.S. Postal Service.

Meeting at the Senior Citizens Center, the club was called to order by the president, Mrs. Douglas (Lila) Meador. Mrs. Joe (Loys) Campbell, secretary, read the minutes of the previous meeting, the Christmas Tea in the home of Mrs. W.F. (Judine) McCaghren, and Mrs. W.N. (Opal) Pipkin, treasurer, reported there was no change in the club's account since the last the club's account since the last meeting.

Mrs. Bob (Nell) Clem, program leader and Matador Postmaster, introduced the speaker and his subject, "What's In the Mail Today?" After a short introduction, Mr. Francis presented a film strip which showed the postal service in operation and explained the high technology involved in today's performance, from pre-sorting of mail to delivery at its destination.

"Three hundred and sixty million pieces of mail are delivered on an average working day," he said.

"330 million pieces will be by government agencies and non-profit institutions and 30 million will be personal mail."

He explained postage rates, fees and other information including the availability of stamped envelopes and postal cards printed with return addresses, and an official zone

Remember When

sereseeres

Hello Neighbors, it's me here in Flomot just thinking about all the times that I have been in trouble over something I broke or caused to happen when it shouldn't have or something went bad that I had done. Now I thought you needed to know about these things cause I'm now called a "Jinx" by some folks around here.

I think it all started when we married and were on our honeymoon, in the middle of Houston, and the muffler and tail pipe all but fell off the car. Thank goodness for bailing wire that Leon had in the trunk. He was too nice then to say anything at that time but, if the truth was known, I bet he was thinking, "She did drive this car and see what has happened!" After he finished school at U.T.

re moved to Plainview for a while Once when we were visiting Leon's cousin, Norris Cloyd and his family, that lived there too. Their little boy brought me his toy gun and put it on my lap. Then it fell off and the trigger broke as it hit the floor. Well little Randy was just talking good and he looked at his mother and said, "Her broke it". We visited a bit longer and he brought me a big toy ship that he wanted to show off. When I picked it up the anchor fell off. Now he was upset with me cause he gave me a hard look then told his mother, "Now look what hers went and done!" I don't blame him for not bringing anything else to show me - do you? The next year we moved back to Flomot into Leon's Mother's little house and you know that there is always a lot of work to be done to a house that hasn't been lived in for awhile. So - we worked to put in a bathroom the first thing and then cabinets in the kitchen. The house is just on the edge of the north fork of the Alamosa Creek and the ground had washed off so bad until the creek was almost up to the back of the house. We had to do a lot of filling in to get the ground level again and I was using our little Ford tractor to try and help Leon because he had gotten the other tractor stuck just off the edge of the creek. Well, I started to pulling him up and almost scared him to death when my tractor started to rear up and it almost turned over with me. See-was always doing something crazy. See you next week - this is just the beginning of all this.

THE HEEL-FLY STEALING CATTLE SCANTY GRASS ON THE RANGE KINDNESS TO ANIMALS

The notorious "heel-fly," the destroyer of the cow's peace, happiness and contentment for a period each year, as well as the destruction of much wealth and potential beef. That giant gnat that positively drives a cow crazy at a season of the year when she can least afford to expend her energies in surplus exertion. What can be said about that illusive bug anyway? I do not agree with many, anyway? I do not agree with many, for I do not think they sting or hurt the cow at all, yet, they can throw more life into a skeleton than high life or anything else imaginable. (t seems the consensus of opinion, that the heel-fly stings its eggs through the cow's hide and that is ultimately works its way up the leg and out the cow's back in the form of a grub or That cannot possibly be correct. No place can be found on a correct. No piace can be found on a cow that is as sensitive and ticklish as the heel. The heel-fly knows that and lays its nit there, well knowing that about sixteen times out of twenty the cow will lick her heel and take the eag or pit into he mount. take the egg or nit into her mouth and stomach where it goes through its annual cycle of incubation as it develops into a larva, then the grub works its way upward to the hide and finally eats a hole through that and comes out to drop on the ground and burrow to hatch into a

Will anyone argue that a nit-fly stings and hurts a horse? No, they only worry them by occasionally laying their egg in the touchy place under their throats.

The length of the heel-fly season is possibly moot and may vary according to the location. In this part of the world, it is said, by some pretty good cowmen that the heel ly never works after the 24th day of April and that is about correct; still, the summer time or even in the fall, cattle while being driven over sage-grass, the grass stems will prick their heels and they mistake it for heel-fly and away they go in a dead run.

These are observations of a layman, not a veterinary surgeon so are subject to error or revision.

The little black horn-fly, I never saw on cattle prior to the summer of 1893 and that was on the Plains between Blanco Canyon and the Yellow House Canyon. Where they came from, I do not know, but have heard they came to the United States from South America on a shipment of cow hides.

They seem worse some seasons than during others and are a great worry to both cattle and horses, as they sap their systems to a very great extent and cause livestock to continually fight at them with their tails and their heads, in an effort to ward off the sucking of their blood from their bodies. They are much more troublesome to stock than mosquitoes and the horse-fly they are more numerous and are Scanty Grass On The Range At times the cattle were so thin in flesh that their owners were restless and disturbed. In a manner, slept with a riggor very much like Delirium Tremens. On one similar occasion, old Bill Perrin went to town, met a friend who made inquiry about the cattle. Bill said, "They are as poor as hell and every damn one of them will die before spring." The friend braced Perrin's system with a few generous drams. Another fellow came along and said, "Mr. Perrin, how are your cattle wintering?" Bill's reply was, "all right, they are as poor as hell, but will winter with little loss."

Who said there was no merit in whiskey? It didn't strengthen the cattle, but it gave the owner a more cheerful outlook on the future. Optimism has ever been the woof of human endeavor. Optimism led the cattlemen into the dry arid West, where he thought the farmer couldn't find an existence. A land of little wood and water. Described by someone that was thoroughly disgusted, as a land where you dug for wood and climbed for water.

Most of the fuel in West Texas is under the ground, water is raised out of the ground artificially by the windmills and stored in elevated containers where one climbed to

So the coiner of the seemingly inverted phrase wasn't very far wrong in making the expression. Men clung to cattle and were called cattlemen, simply because they loved the endeavor, but the manner of their effort isn't so easily explained. In fact, supplies the unsolvable mystery we call environments or habits of a lifetime.

Kindness To Animals

I have never known an animal that didn't love to be petted and fondled by the human hand. I cannot tell you what there is about people that causes dumb brutes to love them; I only know that they do when their fear and timidity is overcome. One can find in the first chapter of Genesis, verse 28, where God promised Adam dominion over everything that moveth upon the earth! Dominion certainly means control, but it doesn't necessarily mean love or affection. I was not referring to the brutal side of control, but rather to a seeming fondness all animal life has for man, when he is kind and good to

Letter To The Editor

Since I do not know the person who is responsible for sending me the Motley County Tribune, I want to thank you for some.

Imagine my surprise when I received the first copy the first of the year. It certainly has a new look and it was a delight to have received it. I have enjoyed every issue. Especially this last issue telling of the Library which is essential to the finer things in life and I know it will be enjoyed by many people. I also enjoyed the editorials which mentioned all the "I remember when". Brought back memories I love and shall never forget. The people who have gone before and events that happened "way back

My paper was on the coffee table when the Pastor from our church and came to call. He saw the word Motley and wanted to know where it came from and what it was. All the facts about Motley County the Longhorns, etc., I finally got the Texas map and showed him where I was born, educated and about the Ranch and cattle. He got so interested he over stayed his time. We really talked up a storm.

If you know the nice person who is sending the paper, please thank

Fondest memories, Irene K Borchers

P.S. Ask the Library if they would like nice used art books? Some one can write me.

Scenic Slides Show At Do Gooders' Club Meeting

The Do Gooders' Club of Flomot met Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 19 at the Community Center. Mrs. D.M. "Ikie" Gilbert presented a scenic tour on slides of the eastern states and Canada that she and Mr. Gilbert took when on a recent vacation. Those attending were impressed by the colorful foilage, historical buildings and the beautiful rural homes with the large and well arranged agricultural improvements.

Mrs. Gilbert, vice president, presided at the business meeting in the absence of president, Mrs.
Wilson Barton, who is recuperating from a recent illness. Mrs. Roger Lee was welcomed as a new member of club. Secret Pal names were drawn for 1988. Members were asked to bring suggestions for a yearly project to the next meeting, Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 9th.

Hostesses, Mesdames James Pope, Coy Franks and Gilbert served fresh vegetables, assorted dips and chips, cupcakes, spiced tea and coffee. The table was laid with a white cloth, centered with an oval amber bowl of fruit encircled by a picket fence.

Other members attending were Mesdames Howard Rogers, Billy

Morris, Jack Starkey, L.E. Shorter, Donnie Rogers, Bill Washington, George Pope, Clayton Bond and Doyle Calvert. Mrs. Sid McFall was a guest.

Granddaughter Is A-J Christmas Essay Winner

Jori Bratton of Paducah, granddaughter of Mrs. Frank Montgomery, was awarded first place in the "What Christmas Means To Me" contest co-sponsored by the Lubbock Avalanche Journal, Southwest Airlines and LaQuinta Paducah High School junior, Jori, 16, placed first in the senior high school competition. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.R.

She won round trip tickets for two to anywhere Southwest Airlines flies and free lodging at a LaQuinta Inn for three days and two nights. She may select the destination of her choice and will make the voyage before June 15. Jori's mother, Nancy said she was shocked to learn her daughter had won. "I was pretty excited for her," Mrs. Bratton said. "I was a little surprised, but I was never able to see the story before she entered it.

Jori said she was encouraged to enter the contest by her older sister.
