Suspects Nabbed In Swift Manhunt

TWO sawed-off shotgun blasts fired at close range killed veteran Motley County Sheriff Jinks Wilson, 61, of Matador shortly before noon Friday. Two men suspected of the brutal slaying, an earlier armed robbery in Amarillo and theft of an automobile from a farm family terrorized at gunpoint were caught less than two hours later in Crosby County. The shotgun blasts wounded a companion of Wilson's, sending him to the hospital.

JINKS WILSON

Except for the grim reality of the events which left Motley and Dickens counties residents, where Jinks Wilson spent most of his life, in shock, it could have been a script written for television. Wilson had received a call Friday morning informing him that some cattle were straying on U.S. Highway 70, east of Matador. He had stopped briefly for coffee at Stanley Pharmacy and a short visit with friends there, around 11 o'clock. About three miles east of town he picked up John D. Rogers, whom he knew, and who was "picking up bottles and beer cans off the highway," which he often did. The sheriff and his companion continued their investigation of the straying cattle, and it was on their return to Roger's car that they found two men in the process of removing the rear license from the vehicle. Wilson pulled over to investigate.

Rites Held Sunday For Jinks Wilson

Services for Jinks Wilson, 61, were held at 3 p.m. Sunday in the First United Methodist Church. Officiating were Rev. Larry Heard, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Idalou, a former Matador pastor, and Rev. Lloyd Hearn, pastor of the Methodist Church. Interment was in East Mound Cemetery, Seigler Funeral Home in charge of arrangements. Approximately 35 law enforcement officers and officials of the Texas Department of Public Safety from a wide area were present for the final rites and were named honorary pallbearers. A phalanx of the officers formed an honor guard each side of the steps as the casket was borne from the church. Rev. Hearn read Psalm 23, and followed with a paraphrase of the Scriptures to describe a Trail Rider as representative of the slain sheriff. Rev. Hearn read comforting biblical passages from John 14, and portions from the books of Revelations and Romans, and eulogized Sheriff Wilson for his compassionate understanding of young people and their problems. "He gave many youth a second chance, when he could have arrested them for breaking the law," the minister said. Was Native Texan Jalmar (Jinks) Wilson was born February 14, 1915 in Erath County and was two years old when his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Wilson moved to Dickens County. When he grew to manhood he became a cowboy and worked for the Swenson and Pitchfork Ranches. He lived for a time at Guthrie, where he met and married Geneva Smith on August 10, 1941. They moved to Matador in 1947, and in 1948, Jinks became a deputy sheriff. He served in that capacity for nine years and was elected sheriff of Motley County and held the office for eight years. He was again the choice of the voters in 1972, although he had been reluctant to run for office. He did not run for re-election and would have completed his term the end of the year. He many times expressed his anticipation of retiring from public office, to devote his time to his home and ranching interests.

Lowell Barkley, who is employed in Japan, is visiting this week with his mother, Mrs. L. J. Barkley and other relatives. He arrived in Lubbock, Monday and visited his sister and husband, Col. and Mrs. Haynes Baumgardner, and accompanied his mother home from there. He had recently been in Indonesia.

Thanksgiving Service Announced For Sunday

Community Thanksgiving Service will be held at 6 p.m. Sunday at the First Baptist Church and will include a program of unusual interest to everyone, according to the announcement. Instead of a speaker, the film "CORRIE: Behind the Scenes with THE HIDING PLACE," will be shown. The Hiding Place, a true story filmed in Holland and other European locations, is based on the experience of Corrie ten Boom, who, with her father, sister, and brother provided refuge for countless Jewish families during World War II. A secret room was constructed in their home as a hiding place for use during Gestapo raids. The ten Boom's activities were discovered, and they were sent to prisons and concentration camps. According to Kenneth Bliss, Director of Distribution for World Wide Pictures, "The Hiding Place" has been extremely well received, both by audience and film critics. "Corrie" was produced to give people who have seen "The Hiding Place" or read the her many best-selling books an opportunity to hear her share many of her memories about her life in Holland, her family, and her lifetime of service to others. Bliss added that the film "offers a great lesson in the perseverance of a personal faith in a very dark and trying period of world history. Corrie ten Boom, now in her eighties, has a tremendous vitality, a deep spiritual commitment, and a profound love for her fellowman."

Man Killed In Accident

Mr. and Mrs. Max Barton and their 15-month-old son Brae were hospitalized in Central Plains Hospital, Plainview following a highway accident about 11:45 a.m. Monday in which a Latin-American was killed.

Vehicles driven by the two men collided near Cedar Hill community in Floyd County, as the Bartons were en route to Plainview to visit relatives. The dead man was accompanied in his pickup by five other family members, who were treated at the hospital and released. Mr. Barton received a broken nose and multiple bruises. His wife, Ronda suffered injuries to her index finger on her left hand, and other injuries. The baby received minor ear and back injuries, and has been released from the hospital.

Snow Brings Moisture

Snow which began to fall Friday night and continued through most of Saturday, left moisture in the amount of .42, the first for November, and brought the total for the year to 20.31, as compared to 22.61 for 1975 through the same period. Precipitation by months has been: Jan. .02 (1975, 1.08); Feb. Tr and 2.58 for 1975; March .52 (.32); April, 5.80 (.61); May, .58 (2.12); June, 1.30 (2.13); July 2.80 (6.04); August 4.20 (2.63); Sept. 2.25 (3.26); and Oct. 2.84 (.03 for 1975). The records are kept by R. M. (Bob) Stanley.

Community Chest Drive

Annual Community Chest Drive will start November 22 and end December 15, according to an announcement this week by Larry Hoyle, president of the local organization. Hoyle, who is also president of Matador Lions Club, said at Tuesday's luncheon meeting, that the drive would be made by mail, as in former years, and that letters soliciting funds would be sent out for the convenience of those making donations. The goal this year is $2500. The Community Chest supports the Boy Scouts, South Plains Council, Red Cross, Salvation Army, U.S.O. and needy local cases. Miss Rachel Patton is Community Chest secretary.

TRAIL DUST

Evil wears many masks but none more confounding than when piety wraps the robes of justice about its shoulders to assume authority as arbiter of others. A drop of water, a grain of sand, a blade of grass, but not one is qualified to pass judgement on a contemporary.

Each life has its own cistern of secret tears, and a vault where hopeless longings are stored between layers of futility.

Often when winter winds thunder across night skies it is like the hoofbeats of phantom horses racing the dawn; bearing silent cowboys to the horizon of oblivion.

It is probable that the weather has been a more decisive factor in the course of human events than the will of mortal rulers.

Some of the yellowed leaves in my book of youthful memories might have been deleted without any personal loss. As an example the flame of ambition burned fiercely when I first fell into the pit of writing. I would awaken at five o'clock on cold winter mornings, go to a fireless room, and wrapped in old soggans, try to write. It seemed that my thoughts were always involved in the fact that I was cold and uncomfortable, a condition that did not inspire me to the composition of deathless prose.

A man may have one foot in the grave when it is on the accelerator.

Me personal nimonation for special recognition among parishioners is the member of a congregation whose courage is so firm that he will make change from the collection plate.

One way to cause a worm to turn is to call his attention to the passing of a shapely lady worm. (Tribune files 11-22-56)

Church and Society

Thanksgiving Luncheon Held By Sunshine Club

The Sunshine Club met November 10 in the fellowship hall of the United Methodist Church for their Thanksgiving luncheon of turkey with "all the trimmings." Forty three members and guests were present.

After the meal, Mrs. Bill Pallmeyer gave a program on cake decorating and demonstrated with a cake featuring a fall theme. White icing represented snow, and confection decorations included a miniature shock of feed surrounded by yellow pumpkins, ears of corn, and turnips, and the inscription, "Rejoice in the Lord" in red icing. The artistic handwork was a reminder of "When the frost is on the pumpkin and the fodder's in the shock."

At the close of the demonstration, 43 members (one for each person present) were placed in a bowl for a drawing for the cake. Mrs. Stella Tilson held the lucky number.

Those present were, Rev. and Mrs. Lloyd Hearn of the Methodist Church, Rev. and Mrs. Philip Hilton of the Assembly of God Church, Dr. Y Hoang Do, Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Bethard, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Zabielski, Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Wilkinson, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Cattlemen To Observe Farm-City Week Nov. 19-25

by Mrs. Ronald R. Richards
Foothill CowBelles are sponsoring Farm-City Week, Nov. 19-25, with the concept that developing understanding between farmers and city dwellers is the key to America's prosperity. They are joined in this national event with women of the Industry Information Council of the American National Cattlemen's Association and the American National CowBelles.

This year's theme for Farm-City Week is "A Declaration of Interdependence." It's particularly appropriate that we celebrate this occasion during the week of Thanksgiving - the combination of products from America's fields and factories having made our nation the most prosperous in the world.

The Foothill CowBelles wish to share with the Tribune readers some important facts concerning agriculture. The interdependence between agriculture and industry has meant that we've been able to double our food production over a 20-year period. Advances in science and technology have made it possible for one American farmer-rancher to produce enough food and fiber for 56 persons. In 1957 he was producing enough for 29. Agriculture's dependence on industry and technology for growth is not a one-way street. Each dollar received by cattlemen directly generates an additional $5 - 6 of business activity. Also, counting production and living expenses, farmers and cattlemen spend $125 billion a year - all of it going to businesses in cities and towns across the country.

Agriculture is the nation's biggest industry with assets totalling almost $600 billion, and the beef cattle industry is the largest segment of agriculture. Agriculture is the nation's largest employer, with one out of five jobs in private employment related to some phase of agriculture - from growing food and fiber to selling it at the supermarket. For every job on the farm, there are three jobs off the farm and the meat and poultry industry alone employs 315,000 workers with a payroll of more than $2.7 billion.

Hopefully these facts, when shared with others, will help the farmer and the city dweller realize the importance of their interdependence.

Suspects Captured In Crosby County; Crosbyton Publisher Gives Account

(Following account of the capture of the two suspects in the murder of Sheriff Jinks Wilson was prepared by Jim Reynolds, publisher of the Crosbyton Review. The Tribune is indebted to Publisher Reynolds for his assistance, and for the use of photos which he made at Crosbyton.)

"You're asking too damn many questions . . . ! a Louisiana prison escapee yelled at Motley County Sheriff Jalmar (Jinks) Wilson before gunning down the veteran lawman at approximately 12:15 p.m. Friday.

The murder of Wilson, and the wounding of a second man three miles east of Matador on U. S. Highway 70, set off a massive manhunt which culminated slightly over an hour later when Department of Public Safety Patrolman Kenneth Witt apprehended two suspects five miles east of Crosbyton on U. S. Highway 82. The pair offered no resistance.

"They seemed like they were ready to give it up," the DPS patrolman told The Review.

MASSIVE SEARCH

Ironically, the men were arrested "almost directly in front" of the residence of Crosby County Deputy Sheriff Leroy Voigt. He was among lawmen from six counties, DPS patrolmen, and other peace officers searching for earlier in the day reportedly had robbed an Amarillo service station, armed with two sawed-off shotguns. The FBI and Texas Rangers also were involved in the investigation.

Patrolman Witt gave this account of the suspects' apprehension:

He heard on the "scanner" a report at his home that Sheriff Wilson had been killed and a companion wounded and that two fugitives were being sought. He learned that the pair were driving a "light blue 1972 Plymouth" Witt dressed into his uniform, took his two sons to a daughter's residence - Mrs. Witt was working - and had the oil in the patrol car checked in the event of a high speed chase. The well-known patrolman then drove east on Highway 82.

"About the Dickens-Crosby County line" he spotted a vehicle which answered the general description of the auto which the murder suspects had taken from a Matador man. The vehicle was traveling at speeds estimated at 80 or 90 miles an hour.

"When I turned on them (westbound), it seemed they increased their speed," Witt observed. They were approximately a mile ahead of the trooper, heading for Crosbyton, by the time he turned and gave pursuit at a high speed.

PAIR SURRENDER, HANDS IN AIR

"They slowed down" to enter the canyon and "I was able to gain on them," Witt says. When he neared the vehicle, six miles from where the chase started, "they pulled their car over to the side of the road," the DPS trooper noted, although he did not have his red lights blinking. He was not certain whether this was the getaway vehicle "until I saw the license plate," Witt said. He placed the time at 1:20.

Witt said that "one (of the suspects) was lying down in the back seat" as he approached. This individual exited from the right rear door and his companion moved from the driver's door, both with raised hands." Witt held his pistol on the pair and ordered them to lie down on the ground.

A passing motorist described as Bernie B. Smithson of Wichita Falls was "flagged down" by Witt, who instructed him to get a shotgun from the patrol car and hold it on the pair while the DPS patrolman handcuffed them. Witt radioed the Crosby County sheriff's office, advising dispatcher Eva Nell Brister that the suspects had been stopped and were under arrest.

Within five minutes, Crosby County Deputy Sheriff Rayburn Fitts and Lorenzo City Marshall Bob Smith arrived. They were north of Crosbyton when Witt's message was received.

ARRAIGNED HERE

The two suspects - one with Fitts and Smith and the other with Witt - were transported to the Crosby County Courthouse, where they were advised of their rights and arraigned by Justice of the Peace Clyde Davis.

Crosby Sheriff Fletcher Stark arrived at the courthouse a short time later. He was enroute to Matador when he received Witt's message. Stark and Wilson were described as "personal friends."

Dozens of lawmen began to arrive at the courthouse here.

The suspects, after being charged, were identified as: Larry Carnell Fortenberry, 28, of Rt. One, Mt. Hermon, La.; and Stacy Albert Carter, 25, of Olivia, North Carolina.

Under interrogation, Carter issued a statement to investigating officers. The stocky (5'7 1/2, 180 pound) North Carolinian, bearing a reddish mustache and beard, consented to being photographed by a bevy of newsmen gathered in the Crosby County courthouse.

ARROGANT ATTITUDE

His companion, Fortenberry, refused to comment to officers. Unlike his companion, the bearded 6'1", 200 pound Louisiana man maintained an arrogant attitude. Surprised at one point by an unexpected flash from The Review camera, he bellowed "get those G-damn cameras out of here." Fortenberry covered his face with his arms while turning from a "lineup," but later in the evening submitted to a photograph by The Review. An anonymous source said one of the men confessed to having escaped from a Houma, La., jail. Conflicting reports were received about the pair being "trustees" at the time of their escape.

A second victim of the Matador shooting, John D. Rogers, reportedly picked the suspects from a "lineup" containing six men of comparable age, although weak, he was brought here by ambulance from the Caprock Hospital in Floydada. The Review was allowed to photograph Rogers in the Crosby County Courthouse with the stipulation that "you don't ask him any questions."

Sturdivant answered the knock, and invited the men in, when the taller of the two asked, "Is your son at home?"

James Sturdivant had arrived home from a business trip to Canada the night before and his father supposed that these were friends of his. However when the shorter man appeared and they held a gun at his stomach, Mr. Sturdivant realized his error. They demanded keys to the Sturdivant's '72 blue Plymouth which was in the garage.

"If I had known that they had just murdered our sheriff, I wouldn't have been so mad or brave," Sturdivant later said in an interview at the Tribune.

As soon as the men left, Sturdivant and his son got in the latter's automobile and began a chase which brought them to Matador driving south on Main street. They turned east to Eubank street, then drove north back to the highway, and east again.

The Sturdivants lost the trail when they stopped at Higginbotham - Bartlett Lumber yard and asked Raby Webb, the manager, to notify the sheriff's office of their stolen vehicle. It was later determined that the fugitives turned south on the old Teepee Flat road and traveled until reaching another Farm-to-Market road and back on State Highway 70. At some point, possibly at Dickens, they turned onto State Highway 82, and were caught by Patrolman Kenneth Witt of Crosbyton.

The two suspects were identified as Larry Carnell Fortenberry, 28, of Mt. Hermon, La.; and Stacy Albert Carter, 25, of Olivia, N.C.

MEANWHILE Sheriff Wilson had been pronounced dead at the scene by Justice of the Peace Roy Smith.

First to arrive at the scene was Bailey County Deputy Sheriff Pete Black of Muleshoe, returning home from taking a patient to a Vernon treatment center.

Deputy Black saw Rogers starting to jump a fence and waving at him frantically. The deputy turned around and saw Sheriff Wilson sprawled on his back in the east-bound lane of the highway. He blocked off the land and tried to save the life of the gravely wounded lawman by mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

He radioed Matador for an ambulance, which took Rogers to Motley General Clinic, where he was examined by Dr. Y Hoang Do, then sent to Caprock Hospital in Floydada. He was conveyed there by Fred (Snow) Crenshaw, Matador night-watchman and assistant deputy.

Deputy Black said Sheriff Wilson was unarmed when he got out of his patrol car to talk to the two men, although a gun was in Wilson's car.

Earlier Friday (about 8:10 a.m.) the two suspects entered an Amarillo service station at 129 Coulter Road and robbed an attendant at the point of two sawed-off shotguns of $89 cash, $11.45 worth of gasoline, and tires worth $400.

After they were caught, the two suspects were transported to the Crosby County Courthouse, where they were advised of their rights and arraigned by Justice of the Peace Clyde Davis, and lodged in the Crosby County Jail.

They were brought to Matador Monday morning, where the procedure was repeated by Motley County Justice of the Peace Roy Smith.

They were returned to the Crosbyton jail to await action of Motley County Grand Jury which will convene sometime in December, according to court officials here.

Ode To A Friend . . .

. . . From A Friend

There was a man among us who was filled with kindness and trust. He always tried to be fair and just. Upholding the law to him was a must; and being a friend always came first! These are the things I remember as I write this verse.

How many of us never thanked him for his service. Just took for granted the way he served us. Where were we as he lay down his life for us. There alone in the cold hard dust. No - he wasn't a royal Mounty Just the loyal sheriff of Motley County!

There are so many nice things one could say But none would bring back the friend we lost today. He's just completed a job well done

Sheriff Jinks Wilson!

Jail Medallion Dedicated In Veterans Day Ceremony

A historical medallion on the oldest building in Motley County and possibly the oldest existing jail still in use in the Panhandle and South Plains was dedicated Thursday in Veterans Day ceremonies here.

Descendants of the first Motley County officials and descendants of one of the contractors who built the jail looked on as Motley County Judge Forrest Campbell dedicated the marker.

He said the Motley County Jail represented a permanent memorial to the county inasmuch as the facility has been in use since 1891 - the year the county was formed.

"This 85-year old structure is not beautiful, but it is sturdy and permanent," he said and noted that it was built of native stone obtained from the Echols land north of Antelope Hill. The monetary portion for the medallion was given by children and grandchildren of the late Harry H. Campbell (son of Henry H. Campbell), Erin Shearer, Harold, L. B. and Vance Campbell, all of whom except Mrs. Shearer live in the county.

"The building will cease to be a jail in time to come, but it will remain a shrine to be used possibly as a museum," Judge Campbell stated, and concluded, "As Judge of Motley County I hereby dedicate this jail as a shrine to the memory of these pioneer officials who erected it."

The county's first officials were: H. H. (Henry) Campbell, County Judge; W. A. Walton, County Clerk; J. P. Beckham, Sheriff; Dan Browning, W. E. Power, A. B. Cooper and J. J. Johns, Commissioners.

A color guard and firing squad from both American Legion Fleming Post 337, and Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 6286 opened the Veterans Day dedication program. These include Melvin Meason, John Briscoe, Alton Marshall, Roy Smith, Billy Wason, Joe Campbell, Joe P. Smith, Bill Smallwood, M. E. Simpson, Harold Hughes, Curtis King, L. B. Green and Ward Rattan, who traditionally sounded taps.

A. O. Parker, Principal of Motley County School was speaker for the occasion and paid special tribute to veterans of all wars for their part in preserving the freedom which is enjoyed by this nation, and which makes possible an observance such as Veterans Day. "Ours is a great country and we need to do our part to keep it great. We need to show our appreciation to all veterans, and especially those who didn't return home."

Following his brief address, Mr. Parker also made a few remarks to dedicate a pecan sapling to the memory of all veterans of the county. The Freedom Tree had been planted by members of the Matador Garden Club, at the Pioneer Memorial Park, and its dedication was planned to mark the club's final observance of the nation's bicentennial.

Motley County School was dismissed for the 11 o'clock ceremonies, and students joined others who braved a low chill factor from icy winds to attend the event.

Presidents and Past Presidents of El Progreso Study Club and Matador Garden Club participated in unveiling the plaque on the jail. They were Mesdames Harold Campbell, Edgar Lee, R. E. Campbell Jr., and W. N. Pipkin.

Descendants of the pioneer county officials present for the dedication included Harold Campbell, grandson of Henry H. Campbell, founder of the Matador Ranch and the first county judge, Mrs. R. E. Donovan, daughter of the first county clerk, W. A. Walton; J. B. Cooper, grandson of one of the first county commissioners, A. B. Cooper; and Eddie Russell, Mrs. J. W. Drace, Mrs. Jesse Perkins and baby son, Jeremy, and Mrs. Randy Hicks and niece, Emily Roy, from the family of Pat Cornett, one of the contractors who built the jail.
