TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

The tides of time lap against sand beneath the palisades of years. The shadowy cliffs are hung with memories that frequently seem as unreal as dreams, despite their fragments of scenes, sounds and odors. In California I purchased for a few dollars a crystal radio set and with the use of head phones, learned about the world beyond the home where I studied evenings after work. It seemed primitive in this day of modern television and radio, but it was a gateway to music and relaxation. Reception was always better after installing a new crystal in the cat-whisker receiver.

It is now possible to convey messages of endearment by tapes with the voice of the lover being reproduced in the presence of the beloved. This is a blow to the ancient custom of writing love letters, which once were often perfumed. Romance will probably be advanced by the innovation. However it had done fairly well in achieving its purpose through the centuries. A cautious swain in sending messages that talk, might do well to use self-destroying tape.

It is amazing how much I have missed in a world so rich with the treasures of cowboy humor. In the case of remembering a face, I recently heard this classic: "I would know your bones in a button factory."

Fear is not only a compelling emotion, it is the reserve strength of the finer qualities of human nature. It is one of the most versatile tools of destiny.

Kipling found his cigar a friend during trying hours of his life. had he smoked cigarettes and viewed a littered ash tray, he might have made a similar observation: the crumpled stubs as little men who had perished to give him pleasure, serenity and dreams.

Parents who have pretty daughters are more apt to find a wolf at the door or raiding the ice box than those who merely have daughters.

MATADOR SCOUTS TO RE-ORGANIZE

Membership is open to all boys who are at least 11 years old, or have completed the 5th grade. The Lions Club, sponsors of scouting for more than 40 years in Matador, is very concerned that the organization should continue.

"The program of scouting emphasizes character development, citizenship training and personal fitness, qualities that our future citizens will surely need. Scouting also teaches respect for God, Country and fellowman," a member of the organizational committee pointed out.

It was further stressed that the only way that scouting can continue is for concerned parents and citizens to make it continue by giving of their time and energy. The organizational committee includes Lions Ronnie Vandiver, chairman, Ira Kuhlman, Alvin Alexander and Ervin Willard.

District Scout Executive Doug Palmer of the South Plains Council, Boy Scouts of America will be on hand to help the boys and their parents get acquainted with scouting. Parents must be present for their son to join, and all fathers are urged to "please bring your son."

"With the co-operation of the sponsoring Lions, parents and interested citizens, Matador can once again have a healthy Scouting program. Who is too busy to give some of their time to a boy?"

Seniors Given Spiritual Motivation at Baccalaureate

Spiritual relationship to God was offered Matador High School graduates in Baccalaureate services Sunday, as the answer to a successful life. The program was at 8:00 p.m. in the high school auditorium, with Minister Bill Decker, head of the Bible Department at Abilene Christian College as speaker.

"Perhaps we need to understand that you don't have to know the answers to everything to be really successful," he assured the class. "I recognize that this is a milestone in your lives, and that you are wondering where you will go from here." He pointed out that the success of the first Apollo landing on the moon was accomplished by faith, confidence and sheer courage, after several failures. "For an abundant and full life, you should show gratitude," Mr. Decker asserted. "We take so much for granted when we should be expressing gratitude to those who have helped us, and especially to God." He cited the incident of the healing of the lepers by Christ, as an example.

He continued by naming generosity, graciousness and Godliness will make beautiful everything it as other attributes of a successful life. "Take the Golden Rule off the shelf and put it into your thoughts, words and actions," he admonished. "Be gracious and generous, but be sincere and not hypocritical. . . . look for opportunities to pay compliments, and be constructive in your criticisms. Kindness is like snow — it discussed . . . may you be prepared for an eternity with God." Mr. Decker was introduced by B. L. Billington, who also led the congregational singing following the Invocation by Stan Irvine. Benediction was by Rev. L. F. Phillips of Childress, pastor of the Macedonia Baptist Church. Processional and recessional marches were by Mrs. John V. Stevens.

Counties to Get Induction Orders

AUSTIN, Texas (Special) — Colonel Melvin N. Glantz, the State Director of Selective Service for Texas, is instructing Texas Draft Boards to issue Induction Orders to all 1972 First Priority Selection Group men with Lottery numbers of 35 or below.

Under the uniform National Call procedure, the "Induction Cut-Off Number" was announced by Acting Director of Selective Service Byron V. Pepitone. Induction Orders will be issued to all fully acceptable registrants in the United States with Lottery Numbers of 35 or below who are members of the 1972 First Priority Group. This Priority Group is made up basically of men born in Calendar Year 1952.

The Defense Department asked Selective Service to induct 15,000 men in April, May and June. The National Director previously established a Lottery Cut-Off Number of 15 for April and May, and has raised the Lottery Number to 35 for the June Induction Call.

Each registrant to be inducted is given at least 30 days notice before his Induction Reporting Date. All Induction Orders for June will be issued by May 31, 1972.

Glantz said there is no quota of men for Texas, but he expects the June Call to result in approximately 650 inductions in Texas.

Glantz also said men in the 1972 First Priority Selection Group with Lottery Numbers of 75 and below could expect orders for a Pre-Induction Physical Examination in June or July.

The Chairman of Local Board No. 45 said 12 Induction Orders have been issued in Hale, Swisher, Floyd and Motley counties. There are also 15 men who will be issued orders for Pre-Induction Physical Examinations soon.

COUNTY AGENT PALLMEYER SAYS:

At a recent meeting, questions relating to Vibriosis were asked. In a letter from Dr. Roy Miller, Extension Range Specialist, the following information is given.

Vibriosis (caused by Vibrio fetus) is a venereal disease of cattle spread from infected bulls to the cows or by the use of contaminated semen in an artificial breeding program. Of course the disease can be transmitted from cow to bull to cow, etc., but apparently not from cow to cow.

The best solution to the vibrio problem is to use clean bulls, and to raise your own replacements. There is a vaccine available for infected animals, and it must be used annually. If Vibriosis is suspected you should look for abortions to occur mostly during the fifth and sixth month and erratic patterns in the estrous cycle. It seems that a cow can become pregnant, then abort or abort the fetus rapidly through the effects of infection, and then recycle at 45-60 days. Thus interrupted estrus, history of bulls or replacements and abortions between the fifth and sixth months are signs that you might look for in case Vibrio is suspected. If these conditions exist it would be wise to consult a veterinarian immediately.

Many have asked about contracting the 1972 cotton crop, and I think that generally you will agree that what you do is wrong. With this in mind, the following suggestions have been offered.

As far as advantages, you have an assured supply of quality cotton needed by the buyer at harvest time and a "locked in" price which will allow the grower to make farm decisions.

On the other side, domestic demand is expected to equal last season's 8.1 million bales while exports drop to slightly over 3 million bales. With the total demand of 11 million bales and the total supply of 15 million bales, certain qualities will be in short supply and current relatively high prices will continue through 1972 if the specialists are correct.

This doesn't tell you much, but look at the following. What does it cost you to produce the crop? What quality can I reasonably expect to harvest? What are the terms of the contract regarding fiber quality such as variety, grade, staple, mike and below grade? What about other contract terms such as date of harvest, cut-off date and mutual performance bonds or escrow accounts? Contracts are only as good as the people who make them. No contract can be written which would give complete protection from an unscrupulous party, so if you don't know the party or his reputation, it is a good idea to check with banks or other financial institutions to determine the reputation of the person you are dealing with.

Finally, if you think prices are going down, and you can get a good contract price, it might be wise for you to contract. On the other hand, if you think prices will go up, why contract? Still on the other hand, if you don't know what prices will do, why not contract some that will insure you a certain amount, and hold some back to play the market.

Copies of the 1971 tests carried out in Motley County have been mailed. If anyone who did not receive a copy would like one, I still have a few left. Let me know if you need one.

Herbicide chemicals generally suggested for brush and weed control by aerial application include picloran plus 2,4,5-T (currently sold as Tordon 225), 2, 4, 5-T, dicamba, silvex, 2, 4-D and MCPA.

Tordon 225 is the newest addition to the list of herbicides approved for brush control, with this herbicide being a mixture of equal parts of 2, 4, 5-T and picloran formulated and marketed as a mixture. Tordon 225 Mixture, used at the rate of 1/2 lb. per acre has resulted in good control in West Texas with 40-50% root kill plus satisfactory control of prickly pear (about 50% root kill). Good weed control has also been an additional benefit. The only drawback to this material is the added cost.

BILFOLD BEATS TRAVELER HOME

W. T. Ross of Matador appreciates the people of Switzerland. He had admired their country on a recent tour there, but one incident stands out in his mind.

His billfold, which he lost while in the Davos area, reached home before he did.

When Mr. Ross arrived in Matador from a tour of Europe his wallet with all contents intact (including $35.00 in American currency) was in his mailbox.

Mr. Ross left Sunday, April 16 for a European tour which included England, Germany and Switzerland. He flew from Lubbock to Dallas, where he was joined by his son, Jim, who lives there and is employed by Brazaff Airlines. They flew from Dallas to Washington, D.C.'s Dulles Airport, where they boarded a Pan-Am jumbo jet for London. There they spent a day and night and attended a top West End show at the London Palladium.

From London they flew on to Frankfurt, Germany and boarded an express train down the Rhine River to Basel, Germany and Zurich, Switzerland. In Zurich they rented a car and toured scenic spots surrounding the area, which included Lake Lucerne. One day was spent some 125 miles north-east of Zurich at Davos, a famous ski resort. They rode a ski lift to the top of Mt. Pischa, an elevation of some 8000 feet.

On their return trip from Zurich to Frankfurt, they traveled by car through the Black Forest, spending the night in Heidelberg. Their last day and night was in Frankfurt, where they boarded their flight back to Washington.

Mr. Ross thoroughly enjoyed his trip and hopes to return before he gets too old to travel. He will be 87 in September.

Mrs. Emma Peak was in Lubbock recently attending her grandchildren, while their mother, Mrs. Velma Dudley had surgery at St. Mary's of the Plains Hospital.

Mrs. J. D. Craven left Tuesday for Seminole to be with her daughter, Mrs. Ned Morris and family, after receiving word that Mr. Morris had suffered a heart attack.
