FmHA Activities Farm Loans For Socially Disadvantaged Persons

The Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) is preparing to activate a loan program designed to help members of socially disadvantaged groups, including minorities, acquire land for farming. Neal Sox Johnson, FmHA State Director, said. Under the new program, FmHA will try to find persons in those categories who are interested in farming and can qualify for an FmHA farm ownership loan. The agency would also be prepared to sell or lease to them a farm held in its inventory if any are available in that county, Johnson said.

FmHA can also provide other loan and technical assistance, if needed, to help the borrower get started.

The new program was included in the agricultural credit act signed earlier this year, Johnson said, and funds have been reserved for farm purchases based on the population of socially disadvantaged persons.

The population of such persons range from as low as 1 percent in some New England and midwestern states to highs of 68 percent in Hawaii, 57 percent in New Mexico, and somewhat lower percentages in southeastern states. Population groups involved are Hispanics, Native Americans, Blacks, Asians and Pacific Islanders.

Persons who think they might be eligible and who are farming or who would like to become farmers are urged to contact the Farmers Home Administration county office serving their area, Johnson said.

Special Guests to Speak at Assembly of God Church

Terry and Rita Fred will be the guests of the Matador Assembly of God Church, Sunday night at 6:00 p.m., June 9, 1991.

They are District appointed Home Missionaries. They are thrilled to be serving in this capacity, the General Council has called, "The Forgiven Mission Field."

They began their work with no active Chi Alpha group in West Texas. Since last summer they now have three chartered groups: Texas Tech, West Texas State and South Plains, with another group in the organizational process at the University of Texas in El Paso.

These campuses give them the potential of reaching approximately 50,000 future leaders in our society.

While the devil is making such a bid to ensnare our youth in drugs, occult and demon worship, thank God for a young man who left a good paying church to take a step in faith to rescue our young people.

We especially invite the youth of Matador and this community to hear Terry and Fred speak.

All are welcome where everybody is somebody and Jesus Christ is Lord.

Lions Club Meeting Report

The Matador Lions Club met Tuesday, June 4 for their regular monthly meeting and luncheon.

Boss Lion Billy W. Denison announced that July was selected for their annual Light Bulb sale.

Boss Lion reported the Lions cleared about $100 at the $3.00 a plate BBQ lunch held during the Centennial Celebration.

Boss Lion stated the Centennial Committee still has booklets for $2.00 for sale at different locations in town.

Lion E.D. Lawrence introduced Pat Seigler of Seigler Funeral Home for the program on funeral arrangements.

Some of the facts he shared are as follows:

In small counties, J.P.'s or County Judges can rule the victim dead; the J.P. has the authority to order an autopsy, if the family doesn't; four types of interment are ground burial, entombment, cremation or donation of the body to medical science; a new family cemetery on private property must be surveyed and legally designated as a cemetery; the only instructions legally bound for a funeral must be written in a will. Meeting adjourned.

Sixth Annual "God's Country" to be presented in August

"God's Country" crew is gearing up for its sixth annual production, August 1, 2, 3, 8, 9, 10, 1991.

At the May meeting of the Executive Committee auditions were set for Thursday, June 6, 1991 at 7 p.m. at Crosby Co. Pioneer Memorial in Crosbyton.

Don Williams, Production Director said new music and scenes are being prepared for audience enjoyment. He also said that some characters will need to be recast and new characters are being developed. He also reported on negotiations with the company who provides sound and lighting.

"God's Country" music cassette is hot off the press according to Rick Sudduth, "God's Country" Music Director. Cassettes are on sale at the museum office for $10.00 or RBHF members may purchase one for $9.00, according to Janice Mitchell, RBHF chairman.

Picture on the left is before the cleaning of the Whiteflat Marker Dedication; picture on the right is after. We regret the name of Luther Green was omitted from the marker dedication. Appreciation was expressed for his help with the clearing of the Marker site before he raised the American Flag and led the Pledge of Allegiance at the ceremony.

Patton Springs Students Go Wild & Crazy At All-Night Party

Following graduation commencement exercises on Friday night, May 31, 1991, the Patton Springs High School students went "Wild and Crazy" at the third annual substance-free graduation party.

The dance began as doors were locked at 10:30 p.m. with exceptional music provided by disc jockey Sam Jones from Trent, Texas. He was accompanied by his younger brother Chris, who also assisted with the games and activities during the night.

For those not interested in dancing, the newest VCR releases were shown throughout the night with all the colas one could consume.

Limbo and dance contests hilariously entertained party-goers and on-lookers. The limbo contest was won by Marty Valenkamp with a close second by Michael Dove. The dance contest winners were: Country/Western - Marty Valenkamp and Katima Tilley (First) and Angie Burkes and Butch Moler (second); and Rock - Michael Dove and Kathy Canales.

Around 3:00 a.m. the dances ended and a volleyball match began with students against chaperones. The students were victorious! The Casino opened at 3:30 a.m. and closed at 5:00 a.m. Breakfast was served at 5:00 a.m. by the freshmen parents and all students received a "Wild & Crazy" t-shirt designed by Billie Willmon, completed by Texas T's and Floral of Matador, and made possible by Spring Fling donations.

At 6:00 a.m., the Casino auction was held. Senior prizes were then drawn, and everyone left by 7 a.m.

ADOLESCENT PREGNANCY PREVENTION: WHAT ABOUT THE BOYS?

The incidence and consequences of adolescent sexual involvement has reached epidemic proportions throughout the nation, but is especially high in the southern states and in Texas.

Texas far surpasses the national average in school-age pregnancy ranking first in the number of births to girls age 14 and younger, and second in the number of births to girls 15 to 19 years old.

Efforts to reduce the incidence of adolescent pregnancy will be ineffective as long as the focus is only on one-half of the problem - the girls. Society has defined the problem as pregnancy, not sexual activity; and a double standard of boys being sexually active and girls being chaste, has long been accepted.

Along with the traditional double standard for males and females regarding sexual behavior, has been the societal assumption that coupled with male sexual freedom is male responsibility. There is particular concern today that young men are not assuming this responsibility. They are neither taking steps to prevent pregnancy through contraceptive use nor are they assuming the responsibility of parenthood when they father children.

Society's double standard of acceptable sexual behavior sends mixed messages to teens. As a result of the double standard and obvious physiological factors, the connection between sexual activity, pregnancy and parenthood is much weaker for boys than for girls. Societal response to unintended pregnancy is much less critical and stigmatizing for boys than it is for girls. And, as long as society defines responsible parenthood for boys as financial support rather than as nurturance, it will be difficult for adolescent boys who are unemployed and have few job prospects to see themselves as "responsible" parents now or in the future.

What then can be done to involve young men in school-age pregnancy prevention efforts? The Children's Defense fund suggests several strategies for enhancing male responsibility in adolescent pregnancy prevention. First, young males capacity to delay pregnancy can be enhanced by increasing their knowledge about sexual activity, its consequences, and how to avoid the consequences. Secondly, provide young men with positive life options that provide clear and compelling reasons to delay pregnancy. Third, recognize that youth who are at risk of early sexual activity and pregnancy also tend to experience other problems. And finally, respond to young men's immediate needs for productive roles, role models and activities.

Resources and educational programs available through the Texas Agricultural Extension Service's Partners for Parenting Library can assist parents, teachers and other concerned community members in addressing the male role in school age pregnancy.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service are for people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, handicap, or national origin.

Adolescence is like a house on moving day - a temporary mess.

Letter to Editor

Barbara Bird Jameson,

I recently wrote to Roxie Lewis and she suggested I contact you, as your family had been residents of this area many years. I am seeking information on my grandmother's family, named HAMPTON. An aunt tells me my great-grandfather Hampton's name is on the cornerstone of the Masonic Lodge there in Matador. My grandma was Beatrice Hampton Miller and was married to Thomas Alvin Miller and they lived in Matador until about 1927 or 28. My father, Johnnie Howell Miller, was born in Matador January 22, 1917. Alvin (some called him Zack) Miller ran a gin and Betrice ran a boarding house where they lived.

These bare facts are all I know about my father's family. I could never get Dad to talk about relatives and don't know if I have relatives in the area or not. Dad had an older brother and sister but I don't know if they were born in Matador or even where my grandparents met and married. My grandparents and all their kids are gone now.

If anyone could shed light on this family, I'd appreciate it, or tell me where I might find information, please write me.

Thank you,

Dear Editor:

Recently at the State Convention of the GFWC Texas Federation of Women's Clubs in McAllen, a resolution was presented by the Dallas Federation of Women's Clubs, an organization of 15,000+ members who promote civic improvement and safety for their community's citizens, asking the citizens to insist that the laws pertaining to the tinted glass in vehicles be enforced. The resolution was enthusiastically by our State Convention and the membership urged to follow through The Resolution follows:

Texas Law entitled Vernon's Civil Statutes Article 6701d allow the side WHEREAS, The windows of vehicles to be tinted no more than 33% and Section 134C states windshields and windows must be unobstructed and the tinting of the rear window only if the vehicle has a side mirror on the left and right side of the driver; and WHEREAS, The Texas Department of Public Safety Administrative Code 37 Section 21.1 states one-way glass may not be used in any window, interior partition, or aperture for window purposes in a passenger automobile, station wagon, or taxicab and sunscreening devices may not be placed on or affixed to the windshield or to a side or rear window of the vehicle so as to obstruct or reduce the driver's clear view through the windshield or side or rear window; and

WHEREAS, The members of the Dallas Federation of Women's Clubs believe that not all owners are abiding by these codes and traffic accidents might be avoided if drivers could have eye contact with each other; and

WHEREAS, The dark windows are an advantage and protection for "the criminal world" and eliminate the possibility of identifying one who commits a crime; and

WHEREAS, The members believe it is unfair task law enforcement officials to approach vehicles with these extremely dark windows, not knowing if a gun may be pointed at the officer, Therefore,

RESOLVED, That the Dallas Federation of Women's Clubs and the President's Council of DFWC request that the law be enforced for all vehicles to abide by these codes or the vehicles by impounded until requirements are met; and further

RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution be sent to The Mayor and members of the Dallas City Council, the governor of Texas and State Legislators.

We believe this resolution has merit and perhaps your readers would join the members of GFWC Texas Federation of Women's Clubs in requesting that the law be enforced in your area as well as writing the Governor and your State Legislator.

Yours truly,

Renfro - Mzyk Exchange Wedding Vows In San Antonio Ceremony

Mrs. Frank Christopher Mzyk

Debra Renee Renfro and Frank Christopher Mzyk exchanged wedding vows at 3:30 p.m., Saturday, May 18 in the Blessed Sacrament Catholic Church in San Antonio with Rev. Jack O'Donoghue officiating.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. James C. Renfro of Matador and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mzyk of San Antonio. Grandmothers of the bride are Mrs. Zola Mae Renfro and Mrs. Allie Hart.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of moonlight bridal satin designed with a sweetheart neckline on a bodice detailed with a beaded design of borealis sequins and pearls. The long poofed sleeves were complimented with hanging beads. The straight gown was embellished with elegant beaded designs on the skirt. Her cathedral train flowed gracefully in ripples at her side and was complimented by a fluttering butterfly bow.

Her bouffant illusion veil fell to her shoulders in layers attached to a beaded headband.

She carried a cascade of white silk lillies, roses, and greenery accented with strings of pearls made by Mrs. Holly Lee of Floydada, close friend of the bride. In keeping with tradition, the bride's wedding attire was something new, her veil was borrowed, and her garter was blue. She placed pennies in her hose minted in bouquets of gladiolas, mums, greenery, and white bows.

The bride presented a white rose to her mother as she approached the altar, and then gave her new mother-in-law a white rose as she left the sanctuary. The mother of the bride chose a two piece black and white dress. The groom's mother wore a black sheath. Both added corsages of white roses.

RECEPTION

A reception was held at the St. John Neumann Hall following the ceremony.

The bride's table was covered in white and featured a three tiered white wedding cake topped by a bride and groom surrounded by a good luck horseshoe. Silver and crystal appointments were accented by black and white napkins and plates which carried out the bride's chosen colors. The groom's table featured a german chocolate cake.

A food table covered in white offered guests a selection of cheese and crackers before a bar-b-que dinner was served.

A gift table was centered by a white mailbox decorated with lace for congratulatory cards for the couple.

A band provided music for dancing and a grand march led by Harold and Velma Keller followed by the newlyweds and friends. Black and white balloons provided decorations for the festivities.

House party members were Tracey Colburth, Levelland; Brenda Foster, Dallas; Delynn Halloran and Samantha Eubanks of Houston.

After a wedding trip to Hawaii, the couple will reside at 8650 Southwestern Blvd. #3903, Dallas. The bride and groom are both graduates of Texas Tech University and are employed in Dallas.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents in their home. Mexican food was served in the backyard, and the entertainment featured a group of cloggers who danced for the guests.

Other bridal courtesies included miscellaneous showers in Matador, San Antonio and Dallas. Get-acquainted dinners were held in San Antonio and Matador for the bride and groom and their families.

the years of the bride and groom's birth.

Typhony Hill of Dallas was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Rachelle Renfro, sister of the bride of Matador; Deanna Logan of Floydada; Caprice Paty, Kim Wills, Rhoda Jarvie, and Sharilyn Ridgeway of Dallas; and Rhonda Mzyk, sister of the groom, and Cari Cooper of San Antonio. They wore black suits accented with pearl and rhinestone buttons. They carried longstem white roses.

Serving as ushers were Lane Bishop, Bud Johnson, Graylon McFall and Curt Waller. The party wore black tuxedos.

Musical selections were presented by Mary Ann de la Garza, and Jos Milton sang "The Wedding Song", "In This Very Room", and "The Lord's Prayer". Lindy Stafford led Responsorial Psalm 112: 1-9 and read I Corinthians Chapter 13 to the bride and groom. Gloria Franz and Virginia Friederichs carried out the presentation of gifts.

Time

Time — how it flies free, it never stands still,
it's always running away from me,
leaving me no will.

Time — so precious,
those seconds, minutes, and hours hardly ever giving me the chance to stop and smell the flowers!

Time — it goes slow and it goes fast.
But in God's eyes it was meant to last.

Time — will be with us forever

Beauty is to the eye of the beholder. We are speaking of the beauty of the people of our community, who gave their time and energy to clean-up day. This proves again what can happen when people work together. We are proud of the result of our labor but we are especially proud of you who helped.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company (Company), in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas (Commission), hereby gives notice of its intent to implement a new schedule of telephone rates in Texas for Directory Assistance Services, effective August 1, 1991, unless otherwise determined by the Commission. The Company has filed an application with the Commission to restructure and change the rates for Directory Assistance Service.

To help recover its costs, the Company is proposing to increase the rates for Directory Assistance calls from $.30 to $.40 per call (after the three-call allowance). Southwestern Bell is proposing that there be no change in the number of free Directory Assistance calls allowed each month (currently three) and that customers who qualify for exemption of Directory Assistance charges because of visual or physical handicaps continue to be exempt from these charges. The company also proposes to begin charging $.25 per call for Directory Assistance from pay telephones.

If approved by the Commission, this proposed rate change for Directory Assistance will increase the Company's annual revenues by $15.4 million, which is an increase of approximately one half of 1 percent in the Company's adjusted revenue for the twelve-month period ending December 1990. This proposed rate change would affect approximately 900,000 residence customers and approximately 155,000 business customers.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256 or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.

Lyme Disease Threatens As Tick Season Begins

Tick season is here, and it's triggering words of caution for anyone venturing outdoors, especially where ticks carrying Lyme disease lurk.

In recent years, Lyme disease, which is transmitted from infective ticks when they bite, has become one of the nastiest health threats facing people who work or play outdoors.

Unrecognized in the U.S. prior to 1976, now it is widespread. In 1989, 8,552 cases were confirmed in the U.S., 82 of those cases in Texas. For 1990, 7,995 cases have been tallied thus far (final 1990 national records will be closed out later this month), 44 of those in Texas. So far in 1991, 32 possible cases are being investigated by the Texas Department of Health.

Although it looks as if the disease is declining, those whose job it is to track the disease say that's not the case. "Even though it looks like a drop, I don't really think it is," said Julie Rawlings, a microbiologist in the Texas Department of Health's Zoonosis control Division and a nationally recognized Lyme disease expert. "What's happened is that possible Lyme disease cases are not being included in the final count because they can't be verified using the more stringent reporting and verification procedures put into place during the past two years." All but a small percentage of the cases that have been verified in Texas occurred in the eastern half of the state.

People contract Lyme disease when they are bitten by ticks infected with a certain spirochete, or corkscrew-shaped bacterium. In Texas, the spirochete may be carried by at least four kinds of ticks: the Long Star tick, the American dog tick, the brown dog tick, and the black-legged tick.

Lyme disease has been reported among pet owners, campers, hunters and others who work outdoors or with animals. It is difficult to recognize, because the symptoms are similar to many other common ailments. Left untreated, it can advance from early flu-like symptoms to painful and permanent damage to the joints and debilitating damage to the nervous system.

While antibiotic treatment for Lyme disease is available, knowing about this disease and taking the proper precautions can drastically reduce the chances of getting it in the first place. Precautions to take, especially in May, June and July, include:

- * Wear long-sleeved shirt and long pants, tuck pant legs into socks or into boots, tuck shirt into pants, and tape the area where pants and socks meet. This helps keep ticks out.

- * Wear light-colored clothing so ticks can easily be seen.

- * Spray insect repellent listing "DEET" or "permethrin" as the active ingredient on pants, socks and shoes (not on skin).

- * Avoid walking in brush and tall grass. Ticks sit on vegetation with outstretched legs waiting to snag whatever animal comes by.

- * Keep pets from infested areas. Since pets can bring ticks home, look for ticks on pets and remove them.

After being outdoors, promptly remove and wash clothing. Inspect your body carefully and remove attached ticks with tweezers, grasping as close to the head as possible and gently tugging the tick free without crushing its body.

High Plains producers are being faced with some very difficult choices in 1991 according to Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. (PCG).

Several factors will figure into the equation for what to do, or not to do, in 1991. One of the biggest will be whether or not a deficiency payment for 1991 will be available.

Through 1991's first three months prospects for a substantial deficiency payment are starting to look relatively weak. Through March the weighted average price received for U.S. cotton was 65.4 cents per pound. Compared to the 1990 average price received of 61.2 cents over the same three month period it is easy to see why the eventual size of a 1991 deficiency payment is still uncertain.

For 1991 deficiency payments will be determined by taking the higher of the 50.77 cent loan rate or the calendar year average price received and subtracting it from the 72.9 cent target price.

Buoying the price of cotton is the extremely low 1991 carryover estimate of 2.3 million bales combined with the generally poor start being experienced across the best.

Producers on the High Plains are no exception to poor weather and planting delays. Overall, dry conditions are still causing many of the estimated 2.2 million acres earmarked for dryland cotton this year to sit idle waiting for planting moisture. Many producers are beginning to "dry" plant cotton on these acres hoping adequate rainfall will occur to get the crop established. It is the feeling of most producers that cotton is what they want to grow this year. It seems likely that most will do whatever they can to accomplish that goal.

For those who decide not to plant cotton there are a couple of options available. One is the newly implemented 0/92 provision included in the 1990 farm bill. Under 0/92 a producer can apply or a prevented planting (PP) designation from their county ASCS office. If accepted the acreage designated as PP is guaranteed a 10-cent per pound deficiency payment on up to 92 percent of their maximum payment acres. The 10-cent per pound rate will be reduced by the 4-cent advance payment if the producer has already received it.

Drawbacks to this option are that the payment is based on the established yield for the farm, which is generally low on most dryland acres, and the land must be placed into a conserving use. No cash-crops can be grown on this land. The PP request can be rescinded by the producer should he receive what he feels is enough rainfall to get crop started.

Another option is open to producers who have federal crop insurance. In order to qualify for the insurance benefits a producer must plant the acreage. He then has the option to declare the acreage as failed. By planting the producer has the opportunity to take advantage of any moisture that becomes available that could get the crop established. If the cotton does not come up the producer can still fail the acreage, receive the insurance benefit and have an opportunity to plant another crop on the "ghost" acres.

NEW LAW HELPS FIGHT MAIL FRAUD

A new law to combat mail scams will take effect in May. Called the Deceptive Mailings Prevention Act, it gives the United States Postal System (USPS) specific power to stop delivery of certain mail solicitations.

Under this new authority, mailings promoting the purchase of goods or services, or asking for donations, will not be delivered by the USPS if the public might reasonably be misled into believing that the mailing comes from the Government or is somehow approved by the Government.

The law says that any envelope (or the face of any postcard) that includes a name, seal, insignia, term or symbol that could reasonably be mistaken for a Government-issued mailing will not be delivered unless it also has a prominent "disclaimer." The disclaimer must appear on the envelope (or the face of the postcard) and must clearly state that the mailing is not from or endorsed by the Government.

Many companies use "Social Security" or "Medicare" as a "come-on" to get people to read their advertisements. Even worse, some of these ads appear to try to deliberately mislead the public into thinking they have to respond or they might lose Social Security or Medicare benefits. The Social Security Administration supports the new law because it should help stop mailing designed to take advantage of people who are concerned about their Social Security or Medicare benefits.

What should you do if you get mail that seems to be from the Government, but actually isn't? You can either take it to your local postmaster or postal inspector or send a complaint to:

Chief Postal Inspector
United States Postal Service
475 L'Enfant Plaza, S.W.
Washington, D.C. 20260-2100

If you want to lodge a complaint, it's important that you forward everything you received, including any envelope or wrapper. Also, be sure to include your name and address, the nature of your concern about the mailing, and the date you got it in the mail. All of that information will help the Postal Inspector take action.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company (Company), in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas (Commission), hereby gives notice of the Company's intent to implement a new schedule of telephone rates in Texas for residence Custom Calling Services, effective August 1, 1991, unless otherwise determined by the Commission. The Company has filed an application with the Commission to restructure and change the rates for certain residence Custom Calling Services.

The Custom Calling Services affected by the Company's application are optional telephone service arrangements that provide the following features: Call Waiting, Call Forwarding, Three Way Calling, Speed Calling 8 and Speed Calling 30.

The Company's proposal would increase the monthly rate for the individual Call Waiting feature from $2.10 to $3.10 for residence customers. Also, the rates for certain combinations of Custom Calling Features (Call Waiting, Call Forwarding, Three-Way Calling and Speed Calling-8) would increase or decrease depending upon the combination of features. In addition, the company proposes to obsolete the optional Custom Calling Service feature Speed Calling 30 for residence customers except for existing customers at their existing locations. Following are the feature combinations and their current and proposed rates.

| One Feature Per Line | Current | Proposed |
|--|---------|----------|
| Call Waiting | $2.10 | $3.10 |
| Call Forwarding | 2.10 | 2.10 |
| Three-Way Calling | 2.10 | 2.10 |
| Speed Calling-8 | 2.10 | 2.10 |

| Call Waiting, Call Forwarding 3-Way Calling, Speed Calling-8 | 6.90 | 7.30 |
| Speed Calling 30 | 3.20 | 3.20 |

* denotes rate decrease

Southwestern Bell's application proposes to obsolete residence Speed Calling 30 except for existing customers at their existing locations.

Most of the Company's residence customers in Texas who subscribe to one or more of the Custom Calling Service features will be affected by the proposed rate restructuring. It is expected that the proposed rate restructuring of Custom Calling Services will increase the Company's annual revenues by $15.9 million, which is an increase of approximately one half of 1 percent in the Company's adjusted revenue for the twelve-month period ending December 1990. The restructuring will result in an increase in the Custom Calling Services rates for approximately 2.5 million residence customers and rate decreases for approximately 15,000 residence customers. Also, the obsolescence of the optional feature Speed Calling 30 will affect approximately 156,000 residence customers.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. From Generation to Generation

Both of my grandfathers have been dead for many years. They lived in a world of horse-drawn vehicles and homes which were illuminated with candles and kerosene lamps. They served their generation and then passed from this life. They would find it difficult to function in today's world, or to relate to and understand the perplexing problems of the nuclear age.

Reason and Biblical understanding compels me to acknowledge that I, too, will serve my generation and then pass from this life. Already I feel a bit uncomfortable with the digital computerized world around me. This generation will be served far better by my children than by me. I find it difficult not to frown over their shoulder each time they do something differently than would do it.

There is a sense in which my life and my faith will continue on in the lives of my children's children, but there is also a very real sense in which I will need to pass away. Not only will my body be worn out but my capacity to adapt will also wither like a leaf in late fall.

The Christian understands that "unless a grain of wheat die it would abide alone." Through Jesus Christ the sting of death has been taken away. The Christian can go to the grave with the confident assurance that the truths which we have taught and lived will remain firmly intact. Truth will never die! The Word of God will stand forever.

Betty's Tax Talk

SAVINGS ON AG LAND TAXES

Agricultural appraisal lowers the value of land owned by qualified farmers and ranchers. It values rural and based on the land's capacity to produce crops, livestock, or timber, instead of its value on the real estate market. This lower value results in lower property taxes on the land.

WHAT LAND QUALIFIES?

Taxpayers may qualify for agricultural appraisal under two different laws. The more modern of the two laws is called "open-space valuation" or "1-d-1 appraisal" (after Article 8, Section 1-d-1, Texas Constitution). Nearly all land that receives agricultural appraisal is under this law.

Details on the older law - known as "1-d" or "agricultural use" laws - are at your appraisal district.

For "1-d-1 appraisal," the land must meet the following qualifications:

- * The land must be devoted principally to agricultural use. Agricultural use includes production of crops, livestock, poultry, fish, or cover crops. It can also include leaving the land idle for the government program or for normal crop or livestock rotation. Raising certain exotic animals to produce human food or other items of commercial value and cutting wood for use in fences or structures on adjacent agricultural land also qualify land.

- * Timber land must be used with the intent to produce income and be devoted principally to the production of timber.

- * Both agricultural land and timber land must be devoted to production at a level of intensity that is common in the local area.

- * The land must have been devoted to agricultural and/or timber production for at least five of the last seven years.

- * Land cannot qualify for agricultural appraisal if a foreign corporation or a nonresident alien owns a majority interest in it.

- * If your land qualifies for agricultural appraisal and you change its use to a nonagricultural use, you will owe a rollback tax for each of the previous five years in which your land got the lower appraisal. The rollback tax is the difference between the taxes you paid on your land's agricultural value and the taxes you would have paid if the land had been taxed on its higher market value. Plus, seven percent interest is charged from the date for each year that the taxes would have been used.

The chief appraiser determines a change to a non-agricultural use and sends a notice of the change. If you disagree, you can file a protest with the appraisal review board. You must file such a protest within 30 days of the date the notice was mailed to you. The appraisal review board will decide your case. If you don't protest or if the appraisal review board decides against you, you will owe the rollback tax. The owner who changes the use of the land will get the bill for the rollback tax.

HOW DO YOU FILE FOR AGRICULTURAL APPRAISAL?

1. Get an application form at your local appraisal district office.

2. Fill out the form and return it to the appraisal district office after January 1 but no later than April 30. Remember, making false statements on your application is a criminal offense.

3. If your property is valued by more than one appraisal district, you must file an application in each appraisal district office. If you fail to do this, you could end up paying taxes on your property's full market value to one or more taxing units. This occurs when your property is located in a taxing unit that is also in a neighboring county. Contact the appraisal district in your county if you aren't sure.

4. If you need more time to complete your application form, submit a written request to the chief appraiser before the April 30 deadline. The chief appraiser can grant up to 60 extra days for a good reason.

5. If you miss the April 30 deadline, you may file a late application any time before the appraisal review board approves the appraisal records (usually about July 20). However, in such a case you will be charged a penalty for filing late. The penalty is 10 percent of the tax saving you obtained by getting agricultural appraisal for your land. Once the appraisal review board approves the records, you can't apply for agricultural appraisal for that year.

6. If the chief appraiser asks you for more information, you will have at least 30 days to reply.

7. If the chief appraiser denies or modifies your agricultural appraisal, he must tell you in writing within five days. This notice must explain how you can protest before the appraisal review board.

8. Once you receive agricultural appraisal, you don't have to apply again in the following years unless your qualifications change. However, the chief appraiser may request a new application to verify that you still meet the qualifications. If you get a notice to reapply, be sure to do so. If you don't, you will lose your eligibility. If you buy land that is already qualified, you must also reapply in your own name before May 1. If you don't, you will lose your eligibility. You must notify the appraisal district in writing by April 30 if your land's eligibility changes. Failure to do so results in a penalty charge.

Desert Storm Duty Interrupts Student's Studies

NOTE: This article was taken from the Plainview Daily Herald. Aaron Holland is the son of Barbara Moseley Holland and the grandson of Rusty Moseley Matthews of Turkey, former Flomot residents. He is the nephew of Nada Starkey of Flomot.

Cpl. Aaron S. Holland, son of Danny and Barbara Holland, returned home last Thursday from active duty in Kuwait with the Marine Reserve Unit, Co. C 4th tank Battalion out of Amarillo. The battalion served during Operation Desert Storm as a support unit for the 2nd Marine Division.

Holland is a 1987 graduate of Plainview High School and joined the Marine Reserves shortly after graduation.

He was finishing his first semester as a junior business major at Texas Tech University when called to active duty early in December.

When first called, the unit spent about two months in California doing desert training in M60-A1 tanks and the new MI-A1 Common tank. They were deployed to Saudi Arabia in February.

Holland said the unit had five days after arrival to get their tanks that had been shipped over ready and get up to the front lines before the ground war started.

"We crossed mine fields cleared by the engineers," said Holland, who was a tank driver. "It was scary. I was little bit nervous. But I knew that we were in that new MI-A1 tank and I had a lot of confidence in it. It's one of the best pieces of equipment the military has. It's expensive but it's worth it. I knew that if we hit a mine, it would probably disable the tracks but I didn't think it would hurt any of us inside."

Holland said his unit was one of the first to go into Kuwait and on to the outskirts of Kuwait City. "We didn't meet much resistance. Our mission turned out to be just to clear out pockets of resistance. When they saw our tanks coming, they were ready to give up or clear out. We took more than 100 prisoners. They just came out of their bunkers and gave up to be picked up by the infantry behind us," Holland remarked.

One member of the unit, James Hawthorne of Stinnett, while on a search and destroy mission, was killed when the unit approached a small village near Kuwait City that had been abandoned by the Iraqis.

The tank Hawthorne was in fired on an Iraqi personnel carrier left behind. Holland explained that there were many pieces of military equipment there and at the time the unit didn't know the vehicles were abandoned.

"When the tank fired at the carrier, Hawthorne was in the tank commander's hatch with his head sticking up," Holland said. "It turned out the carrier was filled with explosives and he was hit in the head by shrapnel from a secondary explosion. I think it was a booby trap," said Holland.

"I knew him well. He was a friend of mine."

Holland said that for three days straight, they could hardly tell if it was night or day because it was so dark from the oil well fires set by the retreating Iraqis.

The unit spent three weeks in Kuwait as an occupational force. On the return trip to Saudi Arabia they met numerous Kuwaiti nationals returning to their homeland. "They would stop us and talk to us. A lot of them were handing out flowers and throwing candy as we passed," noted Holland.

"We appreciated that. And we all talked about the support we were getting back home. I was thankful for my girlfriend, Alexandria, just knowing that she and my family were praying for me and that she was thinking about me. That kept me going. And the reunion with her and my family at the airport when I came home was more than I could ever dream."

Holland said that the war has changed his way of looking at life. "It made me appreciate more what I have and my freedom."

He plans to return to Tech this summer for summer school and get caught up on his studies.

Special USDA Housing Assistance Targeted to Underserved Areas

A spirited two-year effort to increase housing assistance to America's most needy rural counties is now under way, said Neal Sox Johnson, State Director of the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA). Fourteen counties in Texas have been targeted under the program, authorized by recent housing legislation. Hudspeth, Kennedy, LaSalle, Maverick, Presidio, Reeves, San Jacinto, Webb and Zavala.

The counties targeted in Texas are part of 100 counties in 20 states selected by FmHA to participate in the program. We are taking actions to make loans under this new authority as quickly as possible," Johnson said.

The program sets aside 3.5 percent of FmHA's housing funds for fiscal year 1991 and 5 percent in FY 1992 and includes the major single family housing and multi-family housing loan programs as well as farm labor housing, housing site loans, repair loans and grants, and rental assistance payments. That translates to more than $65 million nationwide for FY 1991.

$3,512,635 has been allocated for the program in Texas, said Johnson.

Counties were selected to participate in the program, based on high concentrations of poverty and substandard housing. In addition, the counties selected have received substantially less FmHA housing assistance than other counties within the same state for the past five fiscal years.

"Special emphasis is being placed on meeting the housing needs in Colonias," Johnson said. A colonia is any identifiable community lacking water and sewer facilities and safe, decent and adequate housing in Arizona, California, New Mexico, or Texas. Colonias are within 150 miles of the U.S./Mexico border, but cannot be in a standard metropolitan statistical area with more than 1 million population. The colonia must have been in existence and generally recognized before the Act was passed in November 28, 1990.

"To ensure a meaningful amount of assistance for each participating state, minimum funding levels were established," Johnson said. In the single family housing program, each participating state received at least enough funds for five loans per targeted county and enough for one 12-unit rental housing complex for each three targeted counties.

"Our intent through this program is to improve the quality of affordable housing by targeting funds to designated areas that have severe, unmet rural housing needs," Johnson said.

Afton News

by Janey Carotheres

Scott Carotheres of Snyder, visited last weekend with his parents, Alvin and Janey. He attended the Patton Springs graduation Friday night and Monterey High School in Lubbock, Saturday night.

Scott will be leaving for Minneapolis, Minnesota on June 19th for seven days of Phi Theta Kappa Honors Study Topic. In association with the college of Liberal Arts, University of Minnesota, Phi Theta Kappa will present its 24th annual Honors Institute on the Campus of the University of Minnesota in Minneapolis. Scott, a Western Texas College student, Snyder, will attend on a school funded Texas Milestone award trip with the Phi Theta Kappa. Only 5 students from each chapter are eligible to go. He will attend seminars and activities that will help him to learn to implement the new Honors Study Topic.

It was great to see Bud Jones out of the hospital and able to attend the Patton Springs graduation and party. Bud's grandson, Steven Jones, was one of the 8 seniors to graduate. Bud has been a patient in Lubbock's Hospital for four months.

Edna Cook, resident of Spur Care Center, is a patient at Crosbyton Hospital with pneumonia. She is the sister of Myrtle Carotheres.

Emma Jenny Sims is home from the hospital after a lengthy stay. We wish her the best.

Mr. and Mrs. Gail Smith of Plainview were weekend guests of Mike and Snow Smith. They attended the graduation of their granddaughter, Rhonda Smith.

Guests in the home of John and Dixie Cornett last weekend were Joe Cornett of Houston and Chris Cornett and little son of Lubbock.

We received our most needed rain last weekend. As of Monday morning, we had received 3 1/2 inches at our house with East Afton receiving even more.

Live as if Christ died yesterday, rose in his morning, and is coming back today.

FATHER'S DAY

One of life's little difficulties is what-do-I-give-Dad? He has everything worth buying. Well, after looking high and low for some new gift ideas for Father's Day, here are my top ten gift suggestions for that special man.

1. Several packages of "Slug-Go", the latest fishing rage to hit this crazy world of magic baits. Only problem is that this soft plastic bait is so popular that tackle stores cannot keep it stocked. Call Herb Reed at Lunker City Lures, Box 1807, Meriden, Ct. 06450, and proceed to beg, plead, and cajole until he agrees to send you a pack or two. Copycat (look-alike) lures are now available and will satisfy all but the most discriminating dad or bass.

2. A one year subscription to HONEY HOLE Magazine. For only $18 there is not a better bass fishing magazine on the market. Jerry and Debra Dean are the hard-working publishers, and their address is P.O. Box 9027, Ft. Worth, 76147.

3. Wal-Mart has a power pak, springloaded, kicking plastic frog. Give one to a really serious bass angler and watch him act like he appreciates it. Dads - if the little ones give you this lure, give an Oscar winning performance because the video at Wal-Mart shows big fish attacking the power pak lures. Really!

4. Trout anglers will appreciate a new book, The Dry Fly by Gary LaFontaine available for $39.95 (includes shipping and tax) from Greycliff Publishing Co., P.O. Box 1273, Helena, Mt. 59624.

5. The Fishing Hall of Shame by Bruce Nash and Allan Zullo is a book loaded with great fishing stories for under $10.

6. Best bargain of 1991 is a one year subscription to Southwest Fishing News for only $6.00. Six big issues about Colorado and New Mexico fishing. Send check to P.O. Box 1420, Tijeras, NM 87059.

7. HOUSEBOAT WEEKEND Call 512-774-4157 and ask for Becky Finch of LAKE AMISTAD MARINA. Unusual vacation idea and the family will love this Father's Day gift.

8. A Trout fishing weekend at the Moreno Ranch East is a great idea. Located at Eagle Nest, N.M. Ron Simmons (505-377-6931) has guided or unguided fishing trips that will turn dad into a happy camper.

9. An old lure with a new depth. "Mudbug" lures by Arbogast have a model #25 that dives to 24 feet. Check your favorite tackle store or newest catalog. Costs less than $5.00; best colors are white, fire-tiger, and black.

10. RENEW YOUR SUBSCRIPTION TO THIS NEWSPAPER. Keep reading this column and we will keep sharing news about having fun in the great outdoors.

For what glory is it, if when ye be buffeted for your faults, ye shall take it patiently? but if, when ye do well, and suffer for it, ye take it patiently, this is acceptable with God.

NOTICE OF INTENT BY MOTLEY COUNTY COMMISSIONERS COURT TO REAPPORTION COUNTY COMMISSIONERS PRECINCTS

The Federal Voting Rights Act requires county commissioners courts to meet certain requirements and in order to be in compliance with the Federal statute, the Motley County Commissioners Court has determined that new commissioner precinct lines need to be established.

The County plans to provide opportunity for all persons in the community to participate in the process by which the final boundary lines will be drawn. Comments, suggestions, and proposed plans are welcome. A public hearing on reapportioning commissioner precincts will be held on each of the following dates:

Monday, June 10th at 8:00 p.m. in the County Court Room, Matador.
 Monday, June 17th at 7:00 p.m. in the Old Depot, Roaring Springs.

Thursday, June 20th at 8:00 p.m. in the Flomot Community Center.

Any group or persons that wish to submit a proposed redistricting plan for the commissioners courts consideration should submit the plan to the county clerk on or before the following dates so that the plan may be inspected prior to the public hearings: June 6th, and June 18th, 1991.

The following criteria will be used by the commissioners court in assessing plans for adoption:

1. Any plan should not operate to dilute the voting strength of racial or language minority citizens.
2. Any plan should not fragment minority communities or pack them into districts in concentrations greater than needed to elect minority representation.
3. Any plan should be drawn to conform with geographic boundaries utilized by the Bureau of the Census in the 1990 census to the extent possible unless other reliable sources are used.
4. Any plan should be based on 1990 census data unless it can be shown that other reliable sources are used.
5. Any districts should be composed of territory that is contiguous and reasonably compact.
6. Any plan, to the extent possible, should preserve historical boundaries, and recognize clearly identifiable economic or community interests.

If anyone or groups would like to submit a plan or make suggestions, the County is very much interested in receiving them or consideration during the redistricting process. Please feel free to call Judge Hart at 347-2334 if you have any questions about the redistricting process.
