Secret of Success Given to Seniors

THE SECRET in being successful is to have a plan, and to stick to it, Motley County seniors were told Monday by George C. Bourns, Public Information Officer at Clarendon College.

Occasion was the annual banquet honoring graduates of Flomot, Roaring Springs and Matador high schools, their sponsors and other school officials, by the American Legion and Auxiliary. The banquet was held in the American Legion building, with Post Commander Billy Wason as Master of Ceremonies. Invocation was by Rev. Douglas Gossett, pastor of First United Methodist Church. Matador Superintendent Charles Johnson introduced the speaker.

Mr. Bourns outlined his success formula with an acrostic of the word "Hope."

"Put your heart into whatever you do... be 'optimistic' in your outlook... 'plan' your work and work your plan and be 'enthusiastic' about your chosen profession. There is no place for complacency in the world of today... set a goal for yourself, stick to it and live with it.

"You have the world in the palm of your hand," he concluded, "squeeze a little part of it into your life and keep hope in your heart."

J. R. Whitworth led the assembly in singing "America," followed by Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag. Special music included a piano solo by Miss Kay Cooper and a trio composed of Don James, Bill Barnhill and Jimmy Morris.

Judge Forrest Campbell extended the Welcome to Guests. These included District Commander Dennis Holland of Dodson.

The list of 1972 graduates includes Jackie Starkey of Flomot, Wilburn Martin, Sponsor; Jo Dale King, James Davis, James Gwinn and Pat Peacock, with Dennis Lange, Sponsor, of Roaring Springs; and from Matador, Bill Barnhill, David Boykin, Dwayne Campbell, Andy Green, Gerald Jackson, Rickey Lawrence, Kenneth Marshall, Jimmy Morris, Mark Parks, Bobby Simpson, Troy Smallwood, Lamar Tilson, Don James, Eddy Jameson, Lynn Jameson; Kay Cooper, Kathy Couch, Evelyn Jones, Peggy Marrs, Eva Marshall, Marton Jo Peak, Erma Sims, Shane Stevens, Ann Timmons, and Charla Wason, with Wayland Moore and Stan Irvine as sponsors.

All the seniors were present and it was announced that this was the largest attendance by classes at the annual affair.

Chest X-Ray Here April 25

Annual chest X-Ray mobile unit will be in Matador April 25, it was announced yesterday by Bob Stanley, county chairman for the West Texas TB & RD Association.

Three Lions Clubs, Flomot, Roaring Springs and Matador sponsor the yearly visits of the unit. Charge is $1.50 per person. The three Lions Clubs must guarantee $200 for the visit of the unit, Mr. Stanley declared.

It is assumed that the unit will be located at the American Legion Building, as in past years.

Free Immunization Shots Here Monday

Free immunization shots will be given by the Texas Health Department Monday at the Matador high school, it was announced yesterday by Supt. Charles Johnson. Shots are not required for students.

Shots will be given to children age six months through school age. The immunization will start Monday at 9 a.m.

Shots are given for polio, rubella, measles and include DPT.

Accidents Send Local Residents To Area Hospitals

A series of unrelated accidents the past week resulted in hospitalization for several local residents.

Floyd Hardin is a patient in Hall County Hospital in Memphis, while Mrs. Jewel Landrum and Mrs. Lizzie Birchfield are patients in Central Plains Hospital in Plainview.

Hardin was injured about 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, April 5, about three miles east of Flomot. He was returning to Matador and struck two black Angus cows that ran into the road in front of his pickup, causing him to lose control of the vehicle and overturn.

The accident occurred in front of the Doyle Calvert residence. The Calverts summoned aid and Hardin was conveyed to Memphis where examination revealed a fractured left shoulder, facial lacerations, bruises and several teeth being knocked out.

Similar accidents Mrs. Landrum and Mrs. Birchfield were injured in similar home accidents.

Mrs. Landrum suffered fractures in two places on her left leg when she fell at the back steps of her home about 10:30 a.m. Saturday. One break is at the ankle and the other about eight inches above the ankle. Her brother, Jim Jackson accompanied Mrs. Landrum in the ambulance, to the hospital, where she is a patient in room 219-B. An other brother, Edmond Jackson visited her Sunday.

It was some time after she fell before Mrs. Landrum could attract the attention of her neighbor, Mrs. Green Bostick, who summoned help and also Dr. Albert Traeweck.

Mrs. Birchfield fell in her back yard shortly after noon, Monday, while adjusting garden hose for some yard work. She lay about an hour and a half before Mrs. Lonnie Doran, across the highway from the Birchfield home in North Matador, heard her calling for help. Mrs. Doran called another neighbor, Mrs. J. C. Cross and they went to Mrs. Birchfield's aid and summoned Dr. Albert Traeweck and the ambulance.

Mrs. Ted Elliott accompanied Mrs. Birchfield in the ambulance, and later in the day her children, Mr. and Mrs. Tokie Doty of Morton, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Birchfield of Rankin, and Mrs. Wm. K. Birchfield of Coahoma arrived at her bedside. Her right leg is broken just below the hip.

Former Matador Residents Retire As Teachers in Floydada Schools

Three former Matador residents, who have been teaching in the Floydada schools system, were among nine faculty members who were honored at a "retirement" banquet recently.

The group included Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Reeves (now living in Plainview) and Mrs. Margaret Springer. The banquet honored eight teachers and Floyd County School Superintendent Clarence Guffee.

The Floyd County Hesperian interviewed the teachers, and found that they are looking forward to a busy future. Following is from that publication:

Elbert and Jewel Reeves have made no definite plans as to what they will be doing after retiring from teaching, but Reeves told the Hesperian that one can find "a world of things" in which to get involved, and that he will be looking for something involving working with people.

Reeves has taught in the Floydada system twice, once ten or 12 years ago for a single year, and is now finishing six years of teaching in this "stretch," after coming here with expectation of filling in for a year. The Floydada Junior High science teacher expressed some misgivings, "in a way," about the compulsory retirement.

Reeves' teaching career began some 20 years ago in the Whiteflat community north of Matador, at a monthly salary of $90. He taught at schools in Hale and Lubbock Counties, served as ex-officio school superintendent (and County Judge) at Matador, and served four years in the Texas House of Representatives.

He teaches life science to seventh grade Floydada Junior High School students and has an advanced eighth grade science class.

Mrs. Reeves teaches fifth grade at Andrews Elementary school and is completing her fourth year in Floydada schools, including one year some ten or twelve years ago. In all, Mrs. Reeves has been a school teacher for 17 years.

She will be along with her husband after retirement, she said, although their plans are now indefinite except for possible travel for awhile before going back to work.

Elbert and Jewel Reeves summed up their teaching years with a phrase that cropped up frequently in interviews with the Floydada teachers — they say they "thoroughly enjoyed" the experience.

MARGARET SPRINGER

Mrs. Margaret Springer is another teacher who had already announced her retirement, in January.

Her first teaching job was in Steamboat Springs, Colorado, where her salary was about $80 a month, as a third-grade teacher, she told the Hesperian. She taught there for a year before moving to Floydada, and has taught here for the past 20 years. She now teaches third grade at Duncan Elementary, and has been a third grade teacher all her 21 years in the profession.

Her plans for after retirement include visiting her children in Fort Worth and Spokane, Washington.

Mrs. Virgie Hunter Retires at Slaton

A Slaton elementary school principal and longtime teacher who began her teaching career on a ranch near Matador in 1922, has announced her retirement effective at the end of the current school term.

Mrs. Virgie Sparks Hunter, principal at Stephen F. Austin School for the last six years and a classroom teacher in Slaton schools since 1943 ("except for one year in Maryland") will be succeeded in her job by V. F. (Bing) Bingham, currently junior high teacher and coach of 7th and 8th grade girls basketball.

Supt. J. C. McCleskey praised Mrs. Hunter for her service to the school and community, and indicated that the school plans further tribute.

Mrs. Hunter, who lives at 845 W. Lubbock, and who was recognized by the Slaton Chamber of Commerce as "Woman of the Year," in 1957, said she "grew up astraddle of a horse" on a ranch in Motley County.

A member and officer of the Presbyterian Church, Mrs. Hunter has been a member of Junior Civic and Culture Club since 1944 and the Past Matron's Club of the Order of Eastern Star. She also is a member of the Women's Chamber of Commerce, and a lifetime member of P-T-A.

Mrs. Hunter's twin daughters graduated from Slaton High. They are Mrs. C. D. (Frances) Woods and Mrs. H. H. (Phyllis) Murrell, both of San Antonio.

The retiring principal, who said she had no special plans for activities after retirement, is a graduate of Matador High School, attended West Texas State College at Canyon, attended college in California, and graduated from Texas Tech with a bachelor of arts and later a master's degree in elementary education.

During the summers of her teaching career, Mrs. Hunter has made a hobby of traveling in foreign countries, a practice which she says has added much to her education. She has been to Europe, the Holy Land, Egypt, Mexico, Canada, Ireland and Hawaii.

Asked to compare today's youngsters with those she taught early in her career, Mrs. Hunter commented:

Work Advancing in Cemetery Addition

WORK has been progressing rapidly the past week, on the new addition to the East Mound Cemetery.

Johnny Jackson, assisted by C. D. Garrison, Benny Keltz, Commissioners Clyde Gilbert and Reece Timmons and their crews, and a crew from Jameson Machinery Company, completed leveling work on the grounds, Friday. The area was then watered thoroughly and plowed, then fertilized.

Further plans for the immediate future are to re-plant and smooth the area and sow a native grass on the burial plot. As soon as pipe and other supplies can be obtained, the water system will be extended into the new addition, which lies east of the present grounds.

The cemetery association acquired the three-acre plot in 1960 to hold until such time as the area was needed. Mrs. Ethel Bird of Midland donated the funds to purchase the addition and develop it.

Future plans call for landscaping and the erection of a low fence along the west side of the addition. A sprinkler system will be installed and the roads into the area surfaced.

No Curbing Allowed

The board of directors felt that the area could better be maintained if the area were sown in grass and no curbing allowed. It was pointed out that the use of curbing around the plots would make it almost impossible to mow the area.

The lots will be sold, and a deed issued to each purchaser.

Honor Students Are Announced

Time is a flameless and constant fire that consumes the carpet of life until only the ashes remain. Brief tears are mixed with the residue to form a paste and seal the cistern of mankind's faith.

He preceded the message on the subject, "Your Garden of Love," with a series of jokes and concluded with the advice, "Don't betray your trust and convictions ... someone believes in you."

Dear Consumer

Your Letters: Unordered Merchandise

By Virginia Knauer
Special Assistant to President Nixon
for Consumer Affairs

Dear Virginia:

Recently I received a plastic safety razor and a pack of blades in the mail. The accompanying letter said that for $5 I could keep the "new-design" razor. Since I had not ordered the razor and the blades, I ignored the letter and kept them anyway. About two weeks later, I got a bill for $5 for the razor, which I also ignored. Today I received the bill again.

Am I obligated to pay for something I did not order?
E. N. R.
Rocky Mount, N.C.

Dear Consumer:

No. The whole business of sending you unordered merchandise is illegal under the Postal Reorganization Act of 1970.

There are two exemptions to the law: (1) samples of products that are marked "free" and (2) merchandise of charities seeking contributions. In the first case, you cannot legally be billed for "free" merchandise; in the second case, you are under no obligation to make a contribution to the charity in order to keep the merchandise.

The general rule is that if you receive unordered merchandise of any kind, you can consider it a gift and do not order it. You do not have to pay for it. It is illegal for the person or firm mailing it to you to dun you for it or to send you a bill.

So you should keep the razor and blades as a gift, and you should report the matter and any future unordered merchandise to the Federal Trade Commission, Washington, D.C. 20580. FTC investigates such illegal practices for the Postal Service.

By alerting the FTC, you can help it crack down on these illegal practices and prevent such businesses from making money off innocent consumers.

Dear Virginia:

Hardly a month goes by that I don't receive some letter offering me accident and health insurance from some company I have never heard of. I'm over 55, so I'm tempted to buy the insurance because of the low premiums and because a physical examination is not required. Should I?

M. G.
Belvedere, Calif.

Dear Consumer:

That's up to you if you think the insurance offer is the best available. Many companies are fine, but others promise one kind of insurance coverage and give you something else — if any coverage at all.

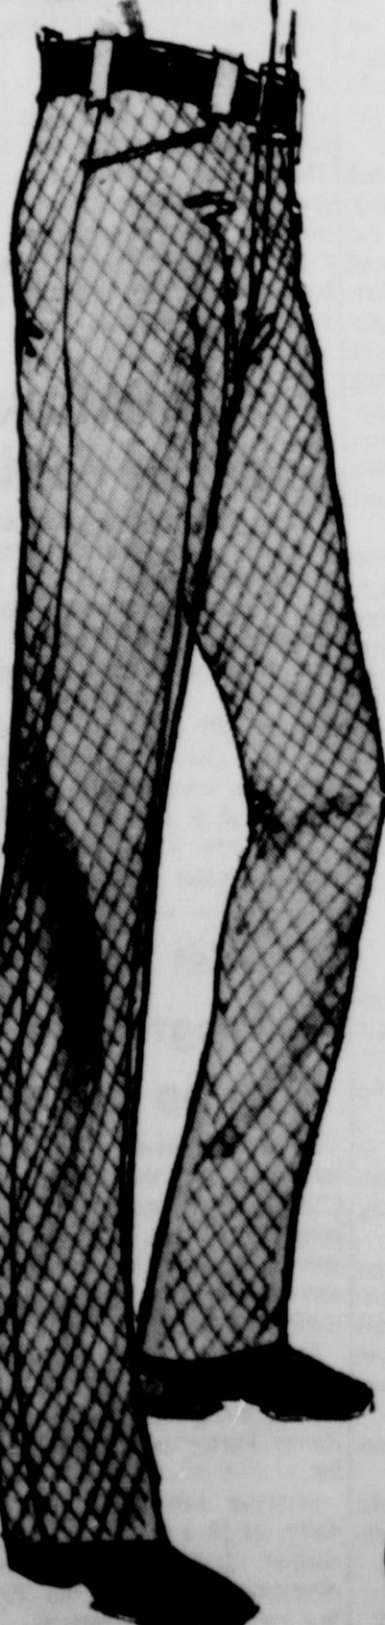

Call or write to representatives of insurance companies operating in your area and ask them about their company's coverage and premiums. Make some comparisons.

Since you have never heard of the mail-order insurance company, you might want to write to the insurance commissioner in the state capital to get some information about the company.

If you think the deal is shady, write to the Federal Trade Commission, Washington, D.C. 20580. The FTC investigates misleading and deceptive business practices.

If you write to Mrs. Knauer, send your card or letter to "Dear Virginia," Office of Consumer Affairs, Washington, D.C. 20506.

Mistakes Made by Late Tax Payers

(Special to the Tribune)

Dallas, Texas — Last-minute income tax filers should double check their returns, since those filed just before the deadline are much more likely to contain errors, Ellis Campbell Jr., Internal Revenue Service District Director for North Texas, said today. Errors on returns delay processing and any refund that may be due.

Missing information accounts for many of the errors Mr. Campbell said. This type of error could be a return received without a required signature, Social Security number or W-2 statement.

Taxpayers who use the tax form they receive in the mail can avoid Social Security number problems, Mr. Campbell said. These forms have pre-addressed labels that show the taxpayer's name, Social Security number and address just as they appear in IRS files.

The label can be lifted off the form it came on and placed on the Form 1040 that you file.

COUNTY AGENT PALLMEYER SAYS:

Investment tax credit is back. Farmers, ranchers and businessmen can claim a 7% investment tax credit on their 1971 tax returns for qualifying property. Such property must have been ordered and acquired after March 31, 1971, or acquired after August 15, regardless of when ordered. Investment credit also applies to property where construction or reconstruction was begun after March 31, or was completed after August 15, regardless of when begun. If construction was begun before April 1, only costs attributed to the period after August 15 apply.

Investment credit must be taken the year the property is placed in service and cannot exceed your tax liability. If the tax liability is greater than $25,000, the limit is $25,000 plus one half of the tax liability in excess of $25,000. Unused credits can be carried back three years and then forward seven years.

The amount of investment credit on each asset depends on its useful life. This must be the same for computing both investment credit and depreciation. One-third of the investment qualifies for tax credit if the useful life is three years but less than four; two-thirds, if five but less than seven; and 100%, if seven or more. There is a $50,000 limitation on investments in used property eligible for credit.

Property qualifying for investment tax credit must be depreciable. It includes tangible personal business property such as machinery, office equipment, trucks, autos, and for the first time, livestock (except horses), elevators and escalators. Tangible real property tied closely to production is also included, such as fences, silos, grain bins, hay barns and fuel storage tanks. Buildings not used strictly for storage do not qualify.

Tax laws prevent the creation of artificial credits by disposing of raised or non-recapture depreciable livestock and then acquiring substantially similar livestock. The cost of substantially identical livestock acquired within one year beginning six months before the original livestock was sold is reduced by the sale value.

The business percentage of property used for both business and personal purposes is also eligible for investment credit.

Foreign-made equipment is not eligible for tax credits unless it was ordered between April 1 and August 15 last year. This includes all property completed outside the United States and property completed in this country if less than 5% of the cost is attributable to value added inside the United States.

If investment credit property is disposed of earlier than its estimated life, the credit must be recomputed, and any credit for which the actual holding period does not qualify must be paid back.

It looks like horse vaccination is with us again in 1972. The 1972 campaign against VEE calls for vaccination of all horses, mules and donkeys not vaccinated in 1971. This will include unvaccinated horses that have moved into the area, foals born since last year's vaccination drive; foals vaccinated under six months of age; and horses that were overlooked or never vaccinated.

For 1972 officials of the USDA's Animal and Plant Health Service are trying to prevent an outbreak by protecting animals before mosquito time. Vaccination will provide immunity for more than a year and possibly longer, but if there is a doubt as to whether horses were vaccinated in 1971, it is best to vaccinate again.

Texas is still under federal quarantine for VEE, thus horses must have been vaccinated for VEE at least 14 days before being allowed to leave the state. Horses in interstate shipment must be accompanied by a vaccination certificate with individual animals identified by tag, tattoo or other means.

Here is the rub for the 1972 program. This year the vaccination program will be conducted at the horse owners expense. Commercial vaccine will be available, but must be administered by a veterinarian.

Horse owners are requested to report any sickness that may be suspected of being encephalitis to local veterinarians.

As the result of action of the Texas Legislature, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission is responsible for the setting of seasons, bag limits, and means and methods of taking the wildlife resources in Motley County.
