PRICE TEN CENTS

TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

Now riding with the roundups in the sky, an old cowboy who had spent more nights sleeping under the stars, than under a roof, moved from a linecamp to town. Asked by a friend how he liked living in town, he replied: "Not too well. I have to pull my window curtains down at night."

As a boy we used to "dog" the milk cows in some evenings with the use of an old shepherd dog. It was against my mother's instructions because the cows never gave their usual production of milk after the treatment.

When flying with a seat over the wing, I always pick out a few rivets and worry about them, in case they may be suffering metal fatigue.

There is frequently something pathetic about the romances of elderly people. When the bloom of a flower is gone it is best preserved when pressed between the leaves of the book of memory.

When a man is fired with ambition he is not a hazard to anyone but himself.

The more successful public official realizes early in his career that his constituents expect him to be a "whipping boy" for real and imaginative mistakes of his administration. He knows that the voters may be best pleased when he is displeased.

Some of the bitterness that is manifest in the lives of certain individuals, may result from scar tissue sustained in injuries of love.

Poverty is usually associated with a monetary condition, but the more chronic cases should be attributed to the poverty of faith.

Duty that is executed because of its convenience has no right to any claim other than normal service.

The poor loser should always consider that taking the chance in the first place was not compulsory.

BROTHER DIES IN OREGON

A former resident of Roaring Springs, Joe Mooneyham, 65, died December 26 in Scappoose, Oregon. Funeral and burial was in Warren, Oregon. He was a brother of Mrs. Emma Peak of Matador and Fred Mooneyham of Crosbyton.

Friends Till Lands Of Injured Farmer

FRIENDS ARE THE PEOPLE who help you when you need help. Herb Martin of Flomot knows about friends. His neighbors and friends came to his aid last week end.

Mr. Martin was seriously injured in a cotton stripping machine more than a year ago and has not recovered sufficiently to conduct his farming activities.

He was surprised Friday morning when tractors equipped with plows, shreaders and other farming implements began arriving. During Friday and Saturday 14 neighbors took part in working 240 acres of land as well as shredding 40 additional acres of stalks.

Those taking an active part in the two-day effort were: Howard Rogers, Donnie Ray Rogers, Ray Moreno, Bob Cole, Clois Shorter, Ronald Clay, Dude Barton, Alfred Martin, Danny Green, Leo Reed, Art Green, Coy Franks, Everett Shorter and Leo Cole.

Others, Dan Kingston, Malcolm Turner and Ronnie Rogers, furnished extra equipment for some of the above listed neighbors to use. Still others arranged for labor to be supplied, including Dan Kingston and Allie and "Sleepy" Spray.

Ladies Provide Dinner

The ladies provided an excellent dinner Friday for the working men and served it in the Fellowship Hall of the First Baptist Church, according to a report by the pastor, Rev. Leo W. Cole. Ladies responsible for the meal were Mesdames Ronald Clay, Leo Reed, Art Green, Leo Cole, Calvin Franks, L. D. Bilberry, Everett Shorter, H. S. Gilbert, J. L. Spear, Danny Green, Wade Martin, H. G. Hunter and Wayne Hunter. Dinner was again served Saturday at the Herb Martin home.

She came to Motley County in 1900 with her parents, the late Rev. and Mrs. Littleton Rattan. Her father was an early day circuit-riding Baptist missionary in West Texas, and Mrs. Casey had been a member of the Baptist Church since childhood.

She taught school at Whiteflat in the early days of the settlement and was affectionately known as "Miss Minnie," by former pupils. She was married to Francis Marion Casey, March 18, 1923 in Motley County. Her husband preceded her in death on June 10, 1967.

Groundhog Sees Shadow; No Rain

The prophetic groundhog saw his shadow Sunday and according to legend, went back in his den to await six more weeks of winter. The small animal did not see any rain, snow or other forms of moisture in West Texas.

Lubbock Weather Bureau measured January as one of the driest on record and long range forecast gave February about the same. The two first months of the year have a long record for dryness, but there is no cause for alarm according to the professional weathermen. It is not the "rainy season."

An Apology to Station KCBD TV

This is an apology to Lubbock's television station KCBD TV (Channel 11), and news editor C. W. Ratliff. Last week the Tribune published an article regarding a television program from a feature in Editor & Publisher magazine on editor Douglas Meador. The feature was written by Miss Karen Elliott of Matador and now a student at Texas University.

The Tribune gave another television station credit for the feature which was seen in the area by a large number of residents. Members of the Tribune staff, however, did not see the presentation.

Mr. Ratliff, a veteran newsman, and long-time friend of Meador's, read the E&P feature, added some personal comments and presented it on the 6 p.m. news time, January 26. Again our apologies for the error.

Clinic is Problem Facing Community

MATADOR will soon have a modern structure to offer space for two or three doctors and a dentist, might cost between $25,000 and $30,000 which would include modern facilities.

It must provide a medical clinic as offices for doctors and possibly a dentist. A meeting was held in the Commissioners Court room Thursday afternoon to discuss the problem and ways of meeting it. County Judge Forrest Campbell said the county is forbidden by law to expand funds for the construction of a clinic.

Mayor Freddie Welling said there was a question of whether or not the city could construct the needed facility, even through a bond issue to raise the needed money.

It was explained that new doctors who might come to Matador would expect to receive office and patient room space gratis. Dr. J. S. Stanley, who attended the meeting, said he would expect to pay for office space. Estimates were that the cost of

Robinson Chooses Career in Military

Being a career man with the armed forces for 20 years was probably the farthest thing from the mind of young 17-year-old Jack Robinson Jr., as he stood before the gathering of men and boys assembled for the first annual Father-Son Banquet in Matador.

The year was 1938 and Jack was a senior in high school, a member of Matador Boys Scout Troop and close friend of Scoutmaster Paul Eubank, member of the local school faculty. Jack was serving as Master of Ceremonies.

He was later to become an Air Force officer, serving during World War II and the Korean War, with overseas assignments in Germany and in Japan.

Perhaps the early death of Lt. Paul Eubank in 1944 as he served in the Pacific influenced young Robinson in his decision to "carry on."

Lt. Col. Robinson was born Nov. 26, 1920 at Whiteflat, Tex., the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jack Robinson. Following graduation from Matador High School he attended Texas Technological College, Lubbock, where he majored in textile engineering until entering the Army's Air Corps Armament Aviation Cadet Program in July 1942.

Graduating as a Second Lieutenant in October from Lowry AFB, Colo., he was assigned as an Armament Officer in the 48th Fighter Bomber Group at Key Field, Miss.

In Europe On D-Day He was soon transferred to a cadre of the 406 Fighter Bomber Group, which organized and trained and later served in the European Theater of Operations on D-Day, June 6, 1944, and in support of General Patton's Third Army, General Simpson's 15th Army, and in the Army of Occupation of Germany.

His military activities were momentarily abated on July 8, when he was married to the former Nancy Rea of Lubbock.

At Pope, Lt. Col. Robinson served as a Transportation Maintenance Officer until late spring of 1948 when he was selected as an Air Force ROTC instructor. He then attended the Air Force ROTC indoctrination course at the University of Alabama and Craig AFB, Alabama. This was the forerunner of the present Academic Instructor Course.

Receives Promotions Lt. Col. Robinson taught ROTC at the University of Southwestern Louisiana, Lafayette, for four years and received two promotions, to Captain and Major, while there. He spent the summer of 1950 attending the Air Tactical School at Tyndall AFB, Florida.

Immediately after leaving the academic duty, Lt. Col. Robinson was transferred to Korea, where he served as an Armament Inspector on the 5th Air Force Inspector General's staff during the last year of the Korean War.

Tech Offers New Study Of Wildlife

Birdwatchers, housewives, hunters — anyone interested — may learn more about native and exotic wildlife in a new class offered during the spring semester by Texas Tech's Department of Range and Wildlife Management.

For the convenience of parttime students, Range Management 231, Introductory Wildlife, will meet 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Thursdays in the Agriculture Building.

The class is designed to acquaint beginning students with the biological and management problems involved in wildlife use of native forests and rangelands, said Dr. Eric Bolen, who is to teach it.

It is open to all students, regardless of previous academic training, and those not majoring in agriculture are particularly welcome, Dr. Bolen said.

Lecture subjects will include wildlife behavior, aging techniques, ways to control vegetation for particular animals, migration and predator control philosophy.

The class may be taken for credit by regularly enrolled students or arrangements may be made through Dr. Bolen for registering without following registration procedures.

Other sections of the same courses are available during the day, for regular students.

RECORDS REQUIRED FOR FARM CENSUS

COLLEGE STATION. — Farm and ranch operators will need good records for the 1969 census of agriculture, according to James Mallett, Extension farm management specialist at Texas A&M University.

The farm census will be taken by questionnaires mailed out in January of 1970 to be completed and returned by mail. Response is required by law and information for each farm will be entirely confidential.

The census will ask for amounts spent for feed, fertilizer, pesticides, lime, gasoline, livestock, livestock and poultry. Other information will include size of the farm, age of the operator, value of farm products sold, off farm employment, income from recreational use of the farm and numerous other items.

Mallett emphasized that good records are also essential to today's commercial farmer. Top management required for success with narrow profit margins in agriculture must rely on complete and accurate information about the farm or ranch business.

There are two kinds of farm and ranch records, according to Mallett—financial records and production records. Financial records are used to make tax reports, analyze the performance of the farm, and establish a basis for credit and other services.

Production records combined with financial records can be used to determine the profitability of each practice or enterprise. Production records include yields per acre, weaning weights of calves or pigs, milk production per cow, per cent calf crop, the cost of producing a unit of output and other measures of production efficiency.

Good farm records alone will not insure success. Even the best farm records are of little value if they are not used, said Mallett.

COURTS SPEAK—Federal district court judge here ruled that a college student with a J-S deferment from the draft may finish out his academic year.

State Supreme Court told a San Antonio judge he could not order an insurance company to reveal its auto liability policy limits when involved in a lawsuit.

Supreme Court upheld lower courts rulings that a Vidor youth who promoted an illegal drag race was not entitled to damages for injuries received when he was hit by one of the racers.

Attorney General Martin obtained a permanent injunction in an Austin district court against an aluminum concern to halt "bait and switch" selling tactics or misrepresenting price cuts.

Third Court of Civil Appeals held constitutional a 1935 law against synthetic milk that includes both vegetable oil and dry milk solids.

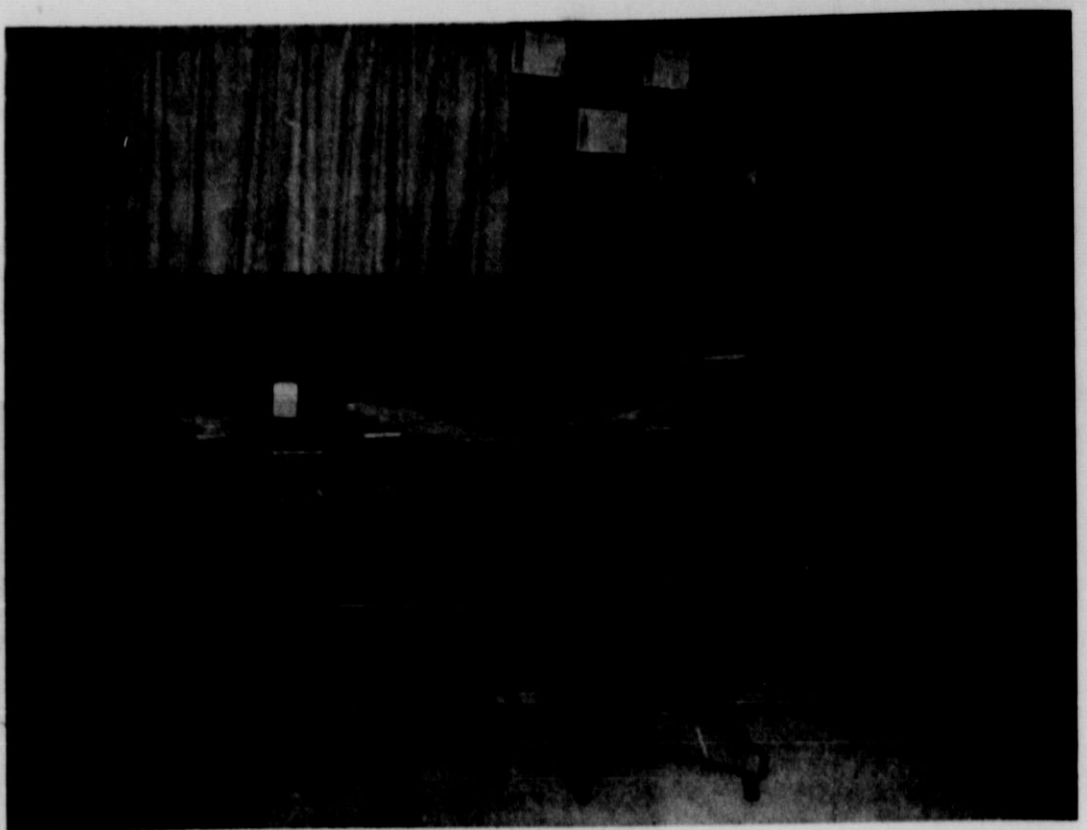

Parents in the Edgewood School district in San Antonio brought a federal court suit challenging constitutionality of the tax system under which some school district property owners pay higher taxes than others for the same or inferior educational opportunities.

AG OPINIONS — County Commissioners Courts may not, under Texas law, authorize payroll deductions for union dues. So said Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin in an opinion requested by Dist. Atty. Jules Damiani Jr. of Galveston.

In another opinion, Martin ruled that when a city annexes an area, then holds a local-option liquor election, the annexed area is to abide by the same liquor rules as the rest of the city. Inquiry came from Charles Allen, district attorney in Harrison County, concerning a dry area annexed to wet Marshall.

TEXAS PAVILION AT EXPO '70—Texas will have a pavilion at Japan's World's Fair, Expo '70 at Osaka, if the Legislature approves a half-million dollar appropriation for expenses.

Texas' interest in the fair is partly a result of Japanese interest in HemisFair '68 at San Antonio. Plans call for a pavilion of about 3,000 square feet at an estimated cost of $504,500. This could include the pavilion, transportation and housing.

 By Debbie Smallwood

The Matador girls led 8 to 7 at the end of the first quarter, but during the second and third quarters only managed to get a combined total of 6 points. Although Matador outscored their opponents in the fourth quarter, they still lacked 10 points to catch up.

Brenda Bailey led Matador with 12 points in a losing effort against Estelline. Also contributing for the Matadors were Debbie Smallwood with 6, Brenda Wason 4, and Bridget Barton 2. Guards playing in the game were: Patty Edwards, Erma Lee, Charla Wason, and Jeanette Day. The girls now stand 2 to 3 in district.

In the boys game three of the Matador players hit the double figure mark as they downed Estelline 78 to 46. Leading Matador was Ronnie Welling with 30 points, followed by Pat Nichols with 18, and Bill Barnhill with 11 points. The end of the first half found Matador ahead 44 to 16, a lead they held throughout the game. This victory leaves the boys 3 to 2 in district play.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM YOUR STATE CAPITAL
 By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — Legislative committee appointments now have cleared the way for lawmakers to get down to the real business of the 61st Texas session.

Li. Gov. Ben Barnes announced 27 senate committees which assured increased power for liberals, urban areas—and the presiding officer.

Speaker Gus Mutscher followed up two days later with a sweeping reshuffling of all major House panels, leaving only three chairmen in their old places of authority.

Barnes picked veteran Senators Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo and William T. (Bill) Moore of Bryan to head the "Big Two" senate committees — finance and state affairs. Sen. A. M. Aikin Jr. of Paris, however, remains as finance vice-chairman and head of the working sub-committee which actually conducts hearings on the budget.

El Paso Sen. Joe Christie, prospective sponsor of a constitutional amendment to legalize sale of liquor by the drink, heads the constitutional amendments committee. Aikin is chairman of the education panel which probably will handle important school legislation.

Sen. Charles Herring of Austin heads the jurisprudence committee; Sen. Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells, water and conservation; and Sen. J. P. Word of Meridian, nominations.

All 45 chairmanships in the House went to veterans of two or more terms of service.

For the fifth time, Rep. W. S. (Bill) Healy of Paducah will be chairman of the budget-writing, appropriations committee, and Rep. Ben Atwell of Dallas will chair revenue and taxation which originates tax measures. Only other chairman retained by Mutscher was Rep. John E. Blaine of El Paso, liquor regulations.

BILLS PASSED — Even while awaiting committee assignments during the third week of the session, legislators boomed through two bills of a semi-emergency nature.

First passed was a $905,815 appropriation measure to forestall a welfare cut (in aid to dependent children), to assist growing junior colleges and to help finance legislative and governor's office operations this year. A fund transfer of $35,000 headed off a $28 cut in aid to needy families. Governor's office got $130,000 for new personnel, equipment, travel and postage. Colleges got $335,815, the senate $325,000 and House $115,000.

Second bill urged by Gov. Preston Smith increased retirement benefits of some 6,500 retired state employees an average of 10 per cent. Minimum benefit would be raised from about $30 to $50 a month. A retirement boost for elected officials will be the subject of a separate bill.

SENATE REFORMS RULES — Senate lost no time in adopting rulebook reforms designed to curb free-wheeling conference committees and to relax its own secret-vote provisions.

They voted 25-6 for new joint rules. Most dramatic change would limit conference committees named to adjust differences between House and Senate bills to doing just that—rather than writing totally new legislation behind closed doors. The House has yet to act.

Senate later approved 30-1 revisions of its own operating procedures which for the first time direct open committee hearings on appointments by the governor (unless a majority of the nominations committee votes for executive session).

Senators also were authorized to announce how they voted on confirmation of appointments.

LEGISLATION RAINS IN — Bulk of legislation proposed by Governor Smith — and a lot he didn't ask for — in his first message to the 1969 Legislature already has rained into hoppers of both houses.

Constitutional amendment proposals would lower the voting age to 18, shore up women's legal rights and authorize horse track betting on a local option basis in Bexar and Harris Counties.

Among other bills introduced in the House and Senate are:
 * A proposal by Sen. Criss Cole of Houston to make air and water pollution a misdemeanor offense—for corporations as well as individuals.
 * A Texas Meat Inspection Law, sponsored by Sen. Jim Bates of Edinburg (Without a state act, the federal government will take over meat inspecting in Texas.)

* Rep. Dick Cory of Victoria wants to abolish common-law marriage and permit divorce because of unsolvable discord between husband and wife.
 * Liberals will try again for a minimum wage with a bill sponsored by Reps. Raul Longoria and Lauro Cruz setting a state minimum of $1.10 per hour.

* Senator Bates also has a bill prohibiting private clubs—including country clubs—in "dry" areas (based on his premise that if an area votes to be dry, it ought to be completely dry).
 * Sen. V. E. (Red) Berry of San Antonio wants to extend until 2 a.m. every day the time in which alcoholic beverages may be sold. (Such a bill passed in 1967 but was vetoed by Gov. John Connally.)

* Affirmative action is expected on the industry-labor compromise bill to increase the maximum weekly payments under the workmen's Compensation system to $49.

* Reps. Hilary Doran of Del Rio and Guy Floyd of San Antonio will run with a bill exempting Texas from Daylight Saving Time.

* Representative Cory wants a code of ethics for teachers and a state commission to enforce it.
 * A proposal by Rep. Neil Caldwell of Alvin to require cities and counties to designate the right of for low-cost, systematic transfer of inactive and dead records...

HART MAN HELPING PLACE MIRACLE GRAIN ON MARKET

Sam McGill of Hart is helping place the "salvation grain" on the world market.

He's the executive vice-president of the newly formed corporation that will market Triticale, the new man-made grain billed by scientists as the solution to world hunger.

The corporation, known as International Commodities Corp., will begin this spring marketing the amazing new grain throughout the world.

ICC is headquartered at 401 N. Mirror St., Amarillo. Other officers of the seed distributing firm are M. J. Smothers of Amarillo, president; Roy Furr Sr. of Lubbock, chairman of the board; Neal Allen of Amarillo, secretary; and Wilbur E. Swenson Sr. of Amarillo, treasurer and vice-chairman of the board.

Officers of the corporation have announced that the Triticale seed will be marketed under the trade name of FasGro. A limited amount of the seed will be placed on the world market by June, and a much larger volume of seed will be available in October. Smothers said.

TRITICALE, an exceptionally large, wrinkled grain, is amazing in several ways—in its evolution, its characteristics, its yield, its growing season and its food value.

The scientific breakthrough that produced Triticale was made by Dr. B. Charles Jenkins, president and director of research for the Jenkins Foundation For Research in Salinas, Calif. Dr. Jenkins spent more than 15 years in research, plant breeding, plant selection and crossbreeding of many varieties of wheat and rye to bring about Triticale.

Some of the spring varieties of Triticale, as developed by Dr. Jenkins, are now growing in their seventh generation in California and have consistently produced yields of more than 100 bushels per acre, with only 120 days between planting and harvesting.

The new grain, which produces a head five to 12 inches long, has consistently yielded 50 percent more grain per acre than wheat or barley in the same test plots.

WINTER varieties of the grain show promise of exceeding this production figure. Dr. Jenkins reports, because of their longer growing period.

Through laboratory tests, Dr. Jenkins has determined that Triticale exceeds the nutritional value of either one of its parent grains (wheat and rye) in most instances. Triticale's protein value, for example, has been reported from 11.75 to 18 per cent.

Triticale is believed to be developed to the point now where it will be growable throughout the world as food both for humans and animals.

The most unique characteristic of Triticale is that it is not a hybrid, as are other grain crosses. Although it has a mixed ancestry, it will reproduce itself, and shows a high degree of fertility.

Dr. Jenkins' research on Triticale took him to Canada, Mexico, the USSR and Hungary to observe and cross-breed winter ryes and wheats and develop hexaploid, octoploid and tetraploid seeds.

SCIENTISTS in the US, Japan, Spain, Hungary, Canada and the USSR have been working toward the development of a Triticale-type grain since 1918, when Japanese and American scientists made a simultaneous discovery of the chromosome numbers in wheat and started studies of genome relationships among wheat and its other cereal grain relatives.

The beacon of the scientific trail was a report of a German plant breeder, Rimpau, who noted in the late 1800's that he had observed a fertile amphiploid from the combination of bread wheat and rye.

Louis P. Reitz, leader of wheat investigations for the USAD, concluded earlier this month—after seeding Dr. Jenkins' test plots and yield results—that "we may have a new crop ere long; a crop we will not know about, how to use, how to grade on the market, how to assess in acreage control programs, etc."

And he added, "I, for one, will await developments with much interest."

Heatly Begins 5th Term on Appropriations

AUSTIN—(Special)—State Representative W. S. Heatly of Paducah will begin an unprecedented fifth term as Chairman of the Appropriations Committee with his appointment for the 61st Session of the Legislature by House Speaker Gus F. Mutscher of Brenham. The Speaker, obviously pleased to make the announcement, said that his long time friend has a longevity record of service to key committees that is unequalled in Texas history. Heatly first served on the Appropriations Committee in 1955, a rare appointment for a freshman legislator, and has served on that Committee continuously with the exception of one session. Mutscher is the fourth House Speaker to appoint Heatly to this powerful chairmanship. Mutscher served as Vice Chairman of the Committee during the 60th Session.

The Paducah legislator has a record of service of seven regular sessions and ten special sessions; only six Representatives can claim longer service in the Legislature.

The 21-man Committee on Appropriations has jurisdiction over legislation affecting the expenditure of state funds for maintenance of the State government, its departments and institutions. For the biennium starting in September, 1969, funds will be in excess of 5 1/2 billion dollars.

Representative Heatly is a Paducah attorney. He also operates an abstract business and manages farming and ranching properties in Cottle and Dickens Counties. The Heatlys have three sons, two daughters-in-law and two grandsons; the youngest was born just prior to the opening of the 61st Session.

Six Young Texans Claim State 4-H Honors for Variety of Skills

Elocutionary and photography experts, a dog named Princess and her mistress, a baker of tasty oatmeal bread and a collector of insects in pecan trees . . . those are the reasons six young Texas 4-H'ers won top state awards. The awards included trips to the recent National 4-H Congress in Chicago, a transistor radio and $50 bonds.

Miss Kunze Miss Malmstead

Kruppa Miss Kovar

Christie Kovar, 17, and Donald Kruppa, 18, both of Victoria, captured a victory for Victoria County by raising their voices and speaking out. They were named state award winners in the 4-H Public Speaking program. Each received a $50 U.S. savings bond given by Union 76 Division, Union Oil Company of California.

Persuaded to forget her preconceived fright of the podium by her father, Miss Kovar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Kovar, won the competition with a speech entitled "America's Foundation" in which she described the momentous thoughts of some of our country's founders.

She stated in her speech that dissension in our country is not unheard of, but "on the other hand, there are millions of proud, strong, valiant Americans who are willing to lay down their lives for their country and the beliefs for which it stands."

"In our day and time, morality, that which conforms to right ideals and principles of human conduct, is the only effective control over awful existing forces which we are confronted with day by day," said Kruppa.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Kruppa. Kruppa is now a freshman in Victoria College studying business management. A dog named Princess and a 15-year-old miss from Brazoria County named Sheri Kunze combined to win the top state award in the 4-H Dog Care and Training program.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Kunze, 402 E. Dumble st., Alvin, Sheri was given a transistor radio for her efforts by the Ralston Purina Company.

A city girl, Miss Kunze has been raising her pet Collie for two years and has taught her a variety of tricks that have won several blue ribbons.

One of the most important things she has learned, besides how to select a dog, feed, groom and care for it, is "that if you have a problem, no matter what kind, if you work hard and long enough you can solve that problem." Her problem was getting Princess to like people.

Although she is still a high school student, she hopes someday to go on to college to become a teacher herself, not of dogs necessarily but of students.

The baker of the delicious oatmeal bread is Cheryl Laws, 16, of Austin in Travis County. She, Brenda Malmstead, 17, of New Braunfels, Comal County, entomology expert, and Phyllis Zuehlke, 19, San Angelo, photographer, won trip awards to the recent 4-H Congress.

Their adventures to the Windy City were filled with tours of museums and Chicago's Christmas-sparkled streets, concerts and panel discussions.

With her tasty bread and her long record of work in foods and nutrition, Miss Laws, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Preston Laws, mixed up a batch of ribbons and other recognition for her project in the area of bread.

She said about her oatmeal concoction which won the prize this year, "My oatmeal bread, of course, has oatmeal, but also molasses and eggs." Her congress trip was sponsored by Standard Brands Incorporated.

Picking the area pecan trees for bugs is no laughing matter for people in the vicinity of Miss Malmstead, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Malmstead. She won her award in entomology, and for it she collected and mounted more than 120 insects indicating 25 different orders.

Until she entered a biology course in high school, she said, "I had a typical girl's fear of bugs. A bug! Ugh! Get it away from me!" Later, however, she appeared on television and contributed to a research study on the casebearer, plague of the provincial pecan tree. She was the congress guest of Hercules Incorporated, 4-H Entomology sponsor.

Phyllis Zuehlke, 19, of San Angelo in Tom Green County, was the Lone Star State award winner in photography. Her congress trip was provided by Eastman Kodak Company.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Zuehlke, she is a freshman at Angelo State College. Miss Zuehlke uses photography both as a hobby and as a scientific adventure.

She sums up her experience with photography as "a means of expression. A good picture relates not only an event, but also the accompanying mood and impressions," she said. "A photograph can depict beauty, emotions, drama and excitement."

The winners were selected for their honors by the Texas A & M University Cooperative Extension

Cal Farley's Boys Ranch is now in the registered Quarter Horse business, thanks to the generosity of a Denton horsewoman.

Miss Paulette Campbell, owner of Campbell Farms, 10 miles east of Denton on State Highway 24, signed registration certificate transfers on 11 horses Wednesday afternoon at the American Quarter Horse Association offices in Amarillo.

The horses were shipped by truck from Denton at 10 a.m. Wednesday and were expected to arrive at the ranch sometime Wednesday night.

"I don't want this to sound like a 'Jane Austin' story," said Miss Campbell, who possesses a delightfully dry sense of humor. "But I talked to a lot of people and looked for a long time before I found Boys Ranch."

Miss Campbell said she firmly believed that "if there were more places like Cal Farley's Boys Ranch near metropolitan cities, we would not have the delinquency we now have in the United States."

"If my horses can play any part in the instructional program at the ranch, I will feel like I've done a good job," she said. Virgil Patterson, president of the Boys Ranch board, accepted the horses for the for Miss Campbell's understanding of the ranch's problems.

"I told Miss Campbell from the very first that possibly the Quarter Horses would not fit in to ranch life," he said. "We have about 40 horses now, and they must be gentle enough for the boys to handle. She told me we could do whatever we thought best."

"There are no strings attached to this gift," added Miss Campbell. "Once I sign the papers these horses belong to the ranch, to benefit the boys in any way they see fit. Whether it is a breeding program, recreation showing, or selling the horses is completely up to them."

Of the eight mares, two colts and a stallion represented in the gift, all have one quality in common; championship blood.

One of the mare's grandfather was Wimpy-P-1, the first registered Quarter Horse in the United States. The stallion, Stacey's Dividend, is by Depth Charge by Bold Venture, the latter being a Kentucky Derby winner.

After Mrs. Vivian Kipp, administrative assistant at the AQHA offices, completed the registration certificate transfers, Miss Campbell and Miss Tillard were taken to the ranch for an informal tour and dinner.

LOCAL ITEMS

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Strickland of Abilene and their granddaughter, Lori Marshall, visited Sunday with Mrs. Strickland's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kim Wilkinson.

Mrs. Alma Montgomery and Miss Mary Slover visited in Roaring Springs, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Neighbors visited in Midland on Wednesday until Friday with their daughters and families, Mr. and Mrs. Reid Caskey and Mrs. June Myers and sons, Cody and Jeffrey.

Mrs. Buford Hobbs and Mrs. Clinton Hobbs attended to business in Paducah Monday afternoon.

The slightest touch elicits an immediate response from a sensitive plant. Here seedlings are growing in a pre-planted container; can be potted later for house use or grown outdoors.

The most delicate touch of a fingertip on a single leaflet of a sensitive plant is sufficient to cause that leaflet to fold up in response.

Run the tip of a finger down the stem from which leaflets grow and all of them collapse, face to face, one against another. Hit the stem, no matter how gently, and it will instantly bend downward.

The person who named the sensitive plant Mimosa pudica in botanical Latin must have had a sense of humor for Mimosa comes from the Greek word "mimos", an actor, while pudica means modest. A modest actor it is indeed — retreating at a touch.

This physiological response of the true leaves to touch makes the sensitive plant one of the most remarkable in the plant kingdom.

It has been a source of wonder to successive generations of children who like nothing better than to watch the plant react to their manipulations. Oddly, the first two leaves to appear (the seed leaves) do not respond to touch.

Of course these startling movements do the plant no harm. It recovers within minutes (faster if it is growing in full sun), but it may be several hours before it performs again.

Sensitive plant, a native of the sub-tropics, may be grown from seeds for use as a house plant or in the garden. Its only needs are a sunny spot and constant moisture in the soil.

The fine, lacy leaves are pretty, the ball-shaped pink to lavender flowers dainty, the plant is easy to grow. So easy that it is available in pre-planted containers at your supermarket. Grow it yourself and be sure to send a container to the nearest school so the children may grow and watch this wonder.

New Texas Highway Map is Released

AUTIN — A field of bluebonnets beside a Central Texas stream enhances the cover of the 1969 Official State Highway Map released today by the Texas Highway Department.

Like the bluebonnet, the map is a perennial favorite of Texas motorists. Approximately 1.2 million maps were distributed last year and projections for 1969 call for distribution as high as 1.5 million.

Added this year are 127 miles on the Interstate Highway system. They include important links on IH 40 from east of Amarillo to the New Mexico border and 20 miles of IH 635 in the Dallas area from IH 35E eastward to IH 30.

Almost 2.1 thousand miles of Interstate highways in Texas are now open to traffic.

Reflecting rapid urbanization of the State, a special inset map of the Longview-Kilgore-Tyler urban region is included on the map. The inset is similar to one added last year for the Rio Grande Valley urban region.

IN ADDITION, the Beaumont-

Port Arthur inset map has been enlarged to include the Orange area.

Texas' new chief executive, Gov. Preston Smith, adds words of welcome to travelers using Texas highways. In his message, he stresses the diversity of the State and invites motorists to use the map in tours on the unexcelled Texas highway network.

Visitors will find expert assistance in planning travels in Texas at 11 tourist bureaus operated by the Highway Department, including the newest at the Roy Bean Visitor Center and Cactus Garden at Langtry. Ten bureaus are marked on the map. The eleventh is in the Capitol Building in Austin.

Three additional pairs of safety rest areas are shown along Texas Interstate routes.

Each new safety rest area includes a comfort station, drinking fountains, fireplaces, special travel displays featuring both State-wide and local points of interest and handy map dispensers. Motorists will appreciate the familiar shaded picnic tables and fireplaces.

ALTOGETHER, the Texas Highway Department has provided approximately 1,100 safety rest areas, roadside parks and scenic turnouts for the safety and convenience of highway users in Texas.

Safety rest areas are designated on the map with a small green square, roadside parks with the familiar green dot symbol.

Other helpful information on the map includes listings of Highway Department district offices, Department of Public Safety offices, Highway Department Tourist Bureaus and Visitor Centers and State Parks.

Back again this year is a handy conversion table in Spanish for the benefit of Latin American visitors. The table converts kilometers to miles and liters to gallons.

THE OFFICIAL State Highway Map is one of the most popular of more than 7.3 million pieces of travel-oriented literature distributed each year by the Texas Highway Department. Copies of the map are available at Highway Department Tourist Bureaus and at Department District offices.

Tourist bureaus and visitor centers are located in or near Anthony (El Paso), Laredo, Orange, Waskom, Texarkana, Denison, Gainesville, Wichita Falls, Amarillo, Langtry and in the State Capitol at Austin.

Trained travel counselors in these bureaus and centers assisted almost one million tourists last year.

Legion, Auxiliary Program Explains Social Security

Ray Purcell, Plainview district representative for Social Security, presented the program Monday night at the monthly meeting of the American Legion and Auxiliary.

Introduced by Post Commander Bill Palmeyer, Purcell showed two picturesque and informative filmstrips concerning people who receive Social Security benefits in the Watts area of Los Angeles, Calif., and in the Navajo Indian area of New Mexico and Arizona.

Roy Swift, Social Security administrator, who narrated the film, pointed out that 24 million people receive financial protection through Social Security.

In closing, Purcell urged Social Security payees to check every three years to make sure they are receiving credit to their own Social Security accounts. Then approximately two or three months before his 65th birthday, one should visit his Social Security representative to see what benefits will be available to him.

New Members

Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Marshall of Roaring Springs were recognized as new members of the organization.

Following the program the group adjourned for separate business meetings.

Barnes Predicts Defeat of School Forced Merger

AUSTIN—Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes predicted defeat of the proposed compulsory consolidation of school districts in Texas.

"The Governor's Committee on Public School Education has made many constructive recommendations. I feel that the Texas Senate will pass many of them," Barnes said in a statement released this week.

"However, I feel that the Texas Senate will not pass compulsory consolidation," the new lieutenant governor said.

"The Texas Senate and this Legislature will probably write an attractive financial incentive program to encourage voluntary consolidation but will not adopt laws making consolidation compulsory in Texas this year," Barnes said.

Compulsory consolidation and other recommendations of the Governor's Committee on Public School Education are included in Senate Bill No. 2 which was introduced last week by Senator A. R. Schwartz of Galveston and Senator Oscar Mauzy of Dallas. The bill has been referred to the Senate Education Committee.
