But Air Raiders Orenbaun Out Could Do Damage,' As Engineer Aviator Asserts

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 (P)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh flatly asserted today that even a combination of the United States and Great Britain could not win the European war "on the present basis" and he urged a "negotiated peace."

The famous filer told the house foreign affairs committee that he did not believe that "anything abort of war or beyond war" would win the struggle unless there was a collapse behind the lines of one side or

He said he believed the stand of "the American people" in favor of aiding the British "was a mistake."And he declared he was opposed to the lease-lend bill for British aid because it was "a step away from democracy" and "one more step closer to war." WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 (AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh testified today that a transoceanic air invasion of the United States, landing troops, was "absolutely impossible," but that bombing raids from across the Atlantic could do "considerable damage."

The famous flier, asked to appear before the house foreign affairs committee by opponents of the administration's lend-lease bill to aid Britain, did not mention the measure in his prepared statement. He said he understood he had been asked to discuss the effect of aviation on America's position in time of war.

"I do not believe there is any danger of invasion of this country, either by sea or by air," Lindbergh continued, "as long as we maintain an army, navy and air force of reasonable size and in modern condition and provided we establish the bases essential for defense." In addition to such bases in New-oundland, the West Indies, Hawaii and Alaska, Lindbergh said others should be established in Canada, parts of South and Central America, and the Galapagos Islands.

Secondary bases might be es-tablished, he said, in parts of Greenland but he expressed be-lief that area, which he has surveyed, was not of primary importance from the standpoint of aviation bases. Although the aviator said the desirable size of the United States' airforce depended largely upon conditions in other parts of the world, he declared "we would be wise to construct as rapidly as possible a total airforce of about 10,000 thoroughly modern fighting planes plus Testifying at a house foreign affairs committee hearing on the ald-to-Britain bill, the filer was asked by Representative Luther A. Johnson (D-Texas) whether he had ever expressed sympathy "for one side or another."

"I prefer to see neither side win," the aviator said quickly, "I prefer a negotiated peace. A vic-tory on either side would result in prostration of Europe of a type we've never seen."
"It would be one of the worst things that could happen," he de-dared. "Are you in sympathy with Eng-land against Hitler?" Johnson asked. "I'm in sympathy with the peo-ple—not their aims," Lindbergh replied.

Pull the Trigger on Lazy Bowels, and Comfort Stomach, too

When constipation brings on acid indigestion, stomach upset, bloating, disay spells, gas, coated tongue, sour taste and bad breath, your stomach is probably "crying the blues" because yoor bowels don't move. It calls for Laxative-Senna to pull the trigger on those laxy bowels, combined with Syrup Pepsin to asve your touchy stomach from further distress. For years, many Doctors have used pepsin compounds as vehicles, or carriers to make other medicines agreeable to your stomach. So be sure your laxative contains Syrup Pepsin. Insist on Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Senna combined with Syrup Pepsin. See how wonderfully the Laxative Senna wakes up lasy nerves and muscles in your intestines to bring welcome relief from constipation. And the good old Syrup Pepsin makes this laxative so comfortable and casy on your stomach. Even finicky children love the taste of this pleasant family love the taste of this pleasant family laxative. Buy Dr. Caldwell's Lazative Senna at your druggist today. Try one lazative that comforts your stomach too.

British Capture Two Italian Divisions At Tobruk's Fall

Winners Take Much Booty In Desert Fight

nounced yesterday by the British Middie East high command at Military sources declined to speculate on the future course of the Libyan offensive, but said that advanced British pairols already had advanced to positions in the Derna-Mckili area west of Tobruk. (Derna is located on the coast about 95 miles west of Tobruk.)

The British also were reported to have command of airports at El Adem, El Gazala and El Tmimi, and the scaplane base at Bomba. All these can be used as British bases after some clearing up has been done, it was mid.

In occupying Tobruk, the British said, their forces captured the headquarters of the 22nd Italian army corps and the commanding general and also the general com-manding the fixed defenses of the

This brought to 14 the total number of Italian generals so far re-ported captured in the North African offensive.

When the British got into Tobruk, it was said, they found three ships burning in the harbor, one of them a large liner.
Booty seized was said to have included tanks, motor vehicles and large quantities of ammunition. No figures were available on British casualties, but they were understood to have been light.

Military circles said a few pockets might still be holding out at Tobruk, but that in general the the lake some time back. ole defending army could be said to have been taken. Besides the two divisions reported captured at Tobruk, these circles said, remnants of some forces previously disintegrated by the British probably were selzed. Troops of "one of our allies"- presumably "free French" forces of General Charles De Gaulle-were said by the British to have participated in the assault.

O'Daniel Puts

AUSTIN, Jan. 28 CF Texas Resources-a Bulletin of Informs tion From the Executive Department," has made its appearance in the form of a new publication from Governor W. Lee O'Daniel's office.

Apparently succeeding a previously-issued pamphlet which failed to appear when the "O'Daniel was published weekly during last summer's political cam-paign, the new three-page mimeographed periodical reached the capitol pressroom yesterday.

"Industry Arrives" and "Building Texas," its leading articles, start by quoting the governor to the ef-fect that industrialization of the state called for a long-range plan and the assertion the plan will be correlated with that of the national resources planning board.

A "Texas Industrialization Scoreboard" lists several new plants or additions to old ones which have been established in Taxas and a short article mentions that Robert E. Wood, Sears-Roebuck and company board chairman, recently conferred with O'Daniel.

The last page reiterates information on defense contracts awarded Texas firms as published by the federal office of government re-

Nazi Prisoners Land In Canada

AN EAST CANADIAN PORT, Jan. 28. (29)—A top-rank German air ace and hundreds of other war prisoners rolled westward toward Canadian interment camps today following the recapture of one of a pair who broke away after their prison ship docked.

The escape of two prisoners was disclosed shortly after the captive fliers and seaman had debarked to waiting special trains last night.
One was recaptured early today and patrols searched the dock area for the other.

Felice announced the presence among the prisoners of a noted 25-year-old nazi fighter pilot credited with downing 56 planes, be-(Official identification of prison-

Solons Hold Brief Session

AUSTIN, Jan. 28 (P)-With its organization and preparatory period nearing an end, the 47th l'exas legislature scheduled a brief session today.

House and senate members were pointing to next week when the gears of legislative machinery should alide into a higher gear. Only the naming of committees barred the house from complete organization and full functioning. The senate dug into many phases of activities, the important finance group scheduling regular hearings on Mondays and Wednesdays with the big money bills—appropriations for eleemosynary institutions, the judiciary, colleges, rural school aid and state departments—first on the schedule, Chairman A. M. Aikin, Jr., of Paris split his group into five subcommittees, each to work on one

He expressed a wish all would be ready for submission to the main committee by March 1 and would reach the senate floor not later than March 15. Normally these measures are of the 11th hour classification and frequently block consideration of other important issues in the dying days of a general session. The current session will not end before May 13 and in all probability will continue beyond that date.

The senate committee on governor's nominations, its dockets loaded with 80 recess and a few current appointments, mapped a hear-ing schedule beginning next week.

FARMINGTON, N. M., Jan. 28. AP -- Threatening rock finally has fallen-1,000 years or more after it first frightened the people of prehistorio Pueblo Bonito, and possibly scared them away from their "town beautiful."

The rock's teetering 20,000 tons crashed from a northwestern New Mexico cliff yesterday onto the north wall of the ruins and smashed a section of four-story terraced houses.

Ranger L. T. McKinney noticed a heavy tremor about noon and the crash came at 3:24 p. m. with tremendous roar.

Debris and pieces of the sand-probably would be only to a relatively small segment of the ruins.

The movement of threatening rock has been increasing in recent years, park service engineers found, but several years ago decided against tying the rock to the cliff with cables because it would "last another 1,000 years anyway."

Bonitans moved out of their "town beautiful," one of the largest of southwestern ruins, almost masse in about 1200 A. D., 200 years after they bulwarked threatening rock with masonry and timber to steady its creaking.

Call For Faith In Democracy

have been taking it too much for granted. While It was being kicked around by the dictators and denounced as an inefficient and slap-happy form of government, the American democracy was passing through a revolution as complete as any that had gone before. It did this without bloodshed, without being any of the precious rights and privileges that belong to a free people. This was proof enough that democracy is alive and kicking, quite capable of solving its problems by democratic methods.

President Robsevelt's inaugural address was a pasan of democracy. It was a clarion call to all ose of democratic faith who have lost confidence to come up to the mourner's bench and get a new

And "we know it because democracy, of all forms of government, emists the full force of man's enlightened will,"

These words have an evangelical sound. They are a challenge to doubting democrats to lift their eyes to the hills whence cometh our strength;

Senator Reynolds New 'Mayor'

Wodehouse Hits Jackpot Again

'Singing Cop' Crashes Limelight

WASHINGTON-Meet the new "mayor" of Washington. He's Sen. Robert Rice Reynolds of North Carolina and he gets his title of mayor because he has just been elevated to chairmanship of the senate District of Columbia committee which handles all affairs of the district in the upper house.

"Our Bob," as most of the folks back in the Tar Heel state know him, came to the senate the easy way-but not without plenty of splash and color. If he doesn't bring some of the latter to the usually coloriess job of being Washington's mayor, a lot of the natives are going to be disappointed.

Already there are indications he won't let them down. He has announced for one thing that he is going to unsparl capital traffic-and for another. that he's going to hold open house once a month when Washingtonians can come up and air their grisvances. That is about like taking on Joe Louis with one hand and holding off the Chicago football Bears with the other.

After "Bob" Reynolds got his law degree, he launched on one of his many junkets. It was a trip around the world. He took with him the names and addresses of thousands of North Carolinaans and from every way station, he shot them back home, announding that he was candidate for lieutenant governor. He's probably the only candidate for any office in this country who announced from Bombay, India-and be darned near won.

Man About Manhattan-

He came close enough that the politicians in his home county had to consider him in spite of his youth. It was a republican county and they figured it didn't make much difference anyway, so they filed his name as a democrat for county attorney. Much to everybody's amazement, including Bob's, he won. That job of prosecutor of Buncombe county (yes, the county from which we got our word "bunk") was the only political one Bob held until

He made the leap by way of an old jaloppy and dinner menu from one of Washington's most fashionable hotels. The jaloppy gave him the down-toearth, man-from-the-dirt-roads background and the dinner menu from the hotel where his opponent and Polly had spent so much time was living gave him ammunition. On the menu was "Imported Russian cavair, $1.50." It didn't take Reynolds long to convince the voters that his opponent was eating fish eggs at $1.50 a portion while they were worrying about getting hen eggs at 20 cents

That battered car and the unpressed appear ance of his campaign later provided background for one of his favorite stories. The senator really is a pretty snappy dresser and, driving to Washington in a pretty snappy car, he stopped for a soda at a crossroads grocery store which he had not visited since his campaigning days. There was a gang around the cracker barrel. The senator, in his usual bluff, hearty manner, introduced himself, had his soda and left. As he closed the door, he heard someone say to a man who came in from the back: "Joe you shoulds been here. There was a crazy, dude in here just now that thinks he's Senator Reynolds.

HOME STATE BOOSTER

If the vote means anything, "our Bob" gets along all right back home. He should, for he's North Carolina's No. 1 booster. He has traveled in almost every country in both hemispheres, but whether he is shooting walrus with the Eskimos of Alaska or climbing pyramids in the valley of the Nile, he never ceases singing the praises of his home state and hometown, Asheville, which he always refers to as "the little gem city of the mountains."

The only thing Washingtonians will have to watch out for is that the new "mayor" doesn't slip through a bill to move the capital to North Carolina.

by Allen Eppes Truck Load Limit Controversy Stirs Much Talk In Capital

Herald Austin Bureau

AUSTIN, Jan. 23.-In spite of the fact that legislators have not had time to get down to serious knitting, discussion of proposals to raise the 7,000 pound truck load limit already is rife in Capitol circles. The truck boys are betting all their chips on one measure—the "scientific formula" bill which would fix the pay-load of each truck on the basis of such factors is wheel-base, tires, and axies. Railroad friends, on the other hand, are looking with favor toward a straight increase to, say, 14,000 pounds—if they are not successful in their battle to keep the 7,000 pounds load limit law on

Most observers agree that there has been a trend of public senti-ment in favor of changing the 7,000 pound law which has been on the books since 1933. It is a matter of ations of the 7,000 pound limit are the rule, rather than the exception, present law is not being effectively

With this widespread sentiment for some change, it might seem that a change is assured. The problem is not that simple. The truck boys—some of them—say that if they do not get their "scientific formula" bill passed, they would prefer to leave, the law alone. At present many loads up to and above 14,-000 pounds are being carried by trucks, so what advantage would ed to 14,000 pounds, it would rob the drive for the "scientific" bill of much of its strength. If the lim it was boosted to 14,000 pounds at this session and truckers came back

Public opinion is also to be considered. If the limit were raised to 14,000 pounds, truckers might lose the support of some who, while feeling that 7,000 pounds is too low, believe that 14,000 pounds is a reasonable figure.

These factors confuse the picture and make it certain that this year's battle will be a bitter one. The session might conceivably end with the strange spectacle of the truckers voting against an increase to 14,000 pounds. The procedure of with the choice of taking a 14,000 lond bill or leaving the situation as it is, certainly has not been de-cided upon, and it will be settled among truckers only after strong

The truck battle is not a simple they get from a boost to that one. It involves many economic limit, they ask.

Moreover, if the limit is increase ble increase in truck employment equal or exceed a possible decrease in railroad employment? With many conflicting factors confusing the picture, there is a sizeable bloc of legislators in each two years from now demanding the house whose members have not de-"scientific" bill, railroad friends could say, "We doubled the load limit last time. What limit do you want—the sky?"

house whose meaning the nouse most meaning the cided how they will vote. And it is this group of members who, when they make their decision, when they make their decision, will probably determine whether the load limit shall be left alone or raised to 14,000 pounds or wiped out in favor of the "scientific" bill.

Magic Spring

And as he did so his heart began to sink. He and Polly getting married next Saturday, a week from this very day and now this.
Another relative moving in on him.
Not an old and dependent one, as heretofore—but a young one—who was penniless, an orphan, and crip-

"And I can help, do things to pay for my keep." Peter was say-ing, almost as though he had read David's mind. "This iron brace on David's mind. "This iron brace on my leg slows me up a little, but I'm strong." He flexed the muscles of his arm. "Take a feel!"

David reached across the table and did so. He managed a smile, too, although he was beginning to have a worried, confused sort of feeling about things in general.

"A regular Dempsey!" he said. And then: "How did you hurt your leg, Peter?" he asked.

"I didn't hurt it," the boy said. "It got this way from infantile

"It got this way from infantile paralysis. Dad was always hoping maybe he could get together enough money to send me down to that place where President Roosevelt goes; you know, where kids like me swim in warm water, and get better all the time."

"Oh, well, don't let a little thing like a brace bother you," said David. "You look like a pretty healthy boy to me." "Do I, Cousin David?" Honest?"

"Gee, thanks — thanks a lot,"
Peter said. "I don't like for folks to think of me as a cripple and a—a weakling"
"Nobody around here will think of you that way," David assured

"And you'll let me stay here with you, Cousin David?" Peter's syes were wide, filled with a wait-

David thought of Polly—of Aunt Susan—of the Inn—of debts and expenses and hopes. What would Peter's arrival make her change her mind about marrying him next Saturday? But that waiting look in the small boy's eyes . . That enger-ness . . That crippled right leg

"Of course you can stay," David said finally, "We Wileys have got to stick together."
"Oh, gee, Cousin David—thanks!"

"Oh, gee, Cousin David—thanks!"
The eyes were now shining, bright, happy. "You're really swell!"
David thought, "I wonder."
Aloud he said: "Finish your food, and then I'll show you where you're to sleep." He glanced out of the window, saw that it was growing dark. "You won't mind if I leave you here alone while I go over to see a—a—neighbor, will you?"

"Gee, no, Cousin David," "I'm not a fraidy-cat. Dad had to leave me alone a lot, when he was working, especially that time when he got the job as a night-watchman, I'm used to be-night-watchman. I'm used to being left by myself. 'Sides, I'm nine years old."

"All right then," said David.
"But I won't be gone leng."

He pushed back his chair, thinking the while of Charlie Wiley as night-watchman-remembering a night-watchman—remembering him as the bullying, bluffing boy who had visited in Ardendale. The Assistant home economist, $2,800 a year in many branches, other branches ranging upward to $4,600. Medical guard-attendant, $1,820, medical technical assistant, $2,000 public health service. had he hadn't made prov his only son.

"Through?" he asked Peter.
"All through," said Peter, getting up from his chair. "Shake—and thanks for everything."

New Texas Ship To Go Down Ways

BEAUMONT, Jan. 23. (P)-The maritime commission cargo ship Cape Lookout, a 7400-ton dieselpropelled vessel, will be launched at the Pennsylvania shippards here Saturday morning at 11 o'clock, the first ocean-going cargo vessel built in Texas since the last World

Three and a half tons of well-ripened bananas will be used to grease the ways for the all-welded ship, a practice by no means novel at the shipyards here, although this is believed to be the largest ship ever launched on bananas.

The Cape Lookout, the first of the 6-1 type ships to be built here, will be christened by Miss Audrey Louise Jones of Houston, student at the University of Texas and granddaughter of Jesse H. Jones of Houston, secretary of commerce
