TRAIL DUST
By DOUGLAS MEADOR

Pure joy comes from the throat of a mockingbird after the rains have returned and the world is a green, throbbing thing. The feel of life seems to flow from the sky and the song. The tireless, ceaseless repertoire is spread to the world as if kings were listening. Through the centuries the small bird has returned to this area of West Texas and brought hope to the lonely and courage to those who may know fear.

Compassion is in the spirit of the man who respects the feelings of others and he knows that to offend would leave a scar on his own heart.

Many years ago when opening a can of spinach from a well-known and respected brand, I was surprised to find a large grasshopper on the top. The grasshopper was a brilliant red and completely intact. It was a variety familiar in this section, bearing the name of a long-deceased rancher who had a rotund figure. I returned the can of vegetables to the store where I had purchased it, but with little satisfaction.

At one period in my life it was possible to purchase saddle and harness soap. It was designed to wash the dried sweat from leather and was not very popular in my area because it required extra labor. People with new harness and saddles would use it frequently, like people today polish a new automobile for awhile.

When a man buys a hat which is comfortable and of which he likes the reflection in a mirror, he is frequently reluctant to part with it. When he buys a new hat he usually tries to purchase one like the one he is discarding.

Trouble often comes in such neatly wrapped packages that we are prone to open them without considering the possible consequences, until everything is scattered and has started to work.

Weeds still disturb me despite the fact that they may be the property of someone else. So much of my early life was affected by weeds that I have never completely gotten away from them.

TOUR SLIDES ENJOYED BY LIONS CLUB

The lure of strange places was instilled in members of the Matador Lions Club Tuesday at the regular luncheon meeting. Lion Bill Pallmeyer had a different program planned but it did not materialize.

Instead Lion Pallmeyer showed slides of every state in the union, most of which he had made. The color photos were exceptionally sharp and he located each scene with accurate description of places and buildings. He was familiar with each slide, except some in Hawaii and Alaska which he had purchased. The Lions enjoyed the program.

They were in excellent mood following the fried chicken and hot biscuits luncheon prepared and served by Methodist Ladies. President Joe Smith, acting in the absence of Boss Lion Ervin Willard, said a report of the Lions convention would not be given until the next club meeting. A report on the Lions show revealed a net of $488.70.

President Smith said that Dist. Gov. Charles Allen of Friona would be here Thursday night June 20, to install new officers. He announced that the local club would hold Ladies Night at that time.

The group attending the District 2T-1 Lions Convention in Dumas, Saturday and Sunday included Lions Forrest Campbell, Joe Smith and John M. (Sonny) Russell, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Russell, Lions Queen Naomi Simpson and her escort at the ball, Ricky Lawrence.

ONE OF the closest races ever recorded in Motley County resulted Saturday in the May 4th Democratic primary.

Two women candidates in the race of District and County Clerk showed only eight vote margin when the last voting box was in. Mrs. R. E. Campbell Jr. polled 344 votes and Mrs. Kathryn King polled 336 votes. The votes were canvassed Tuesday by the Democratic committee.

Motley County's voting was light. With a potential of about 1200 votes, only 690 voters went to the polls and voted absentee.

Governor Dolph Briscoe polled 502 votes here. He was re-nominated for the office of governor.

Senator Jack Hightower, making a bid for the 13th Congressional seat now held by Republican Bob Price, won the primary in a landslide. He had two opponents in Potter County and received more than both in their home counties. He has been a Texas legislator for 14 years. In his home county (Wilbarger) he received 2,238 votes as to his opponents' combined 280 votes.

Since one race was tight in the county, the Tribune reports how voters were divided in precincts: absentees, Mrs. C., 12, Mrs. K 17; Matador (1), 242 votes, Mrs. C 126, Mrs. K 114 votes; Matador (precinct 6) (north) 148 votes, Mrs. C 85 votes, Mrs. K 59 votes; Whiteflat, 39 votes, Mrs. C 16, Mrs. K 23 votes; Flomot 81 votes, Mrs. C 17, Mrs. K 61; Northfield 29 votes, Mrs. C 15, Mrs. K 13 votes; Roaring Springs 122 votes, Mrs. C 73 votes and Mrs. K 49 votes.

The proposition on pari-mutuel horse race wagering was defeated in the state. Motley County voted "no" 343 to 222.

In the race for Jack Hightower's State Senator place, Ray Farabee was an easy winner. In the county he received 385 votes to Charles Finnell's 199. In the entire 30th senatorial District, Farabee received a total of 38,796 votes and Finnell, 24,426, according to the Wichita Falls Sunday Times.

STUDIES ABOUT THE BIBLE

The planning and preparation period for the gospel of Christ dates back at least as far as Genesis, Chapter Three. Let us read.

And the Lord said to the serpent, "Because you have done this . . . I will put enmity between you and the woman, and between your seed and her seed; He shall bruise you on the head. And you shall bruise Him on the heel." Gen. 3: 14-15.

The pronoun "He" in this quote refers to the Christ. Soon after the arrival of Christ on earth, Satan, in the person of King Herod, tried desperately to shorten Jesus' life from thirty-three years to a mere few weeks. After Christ began His ministry, the religious leaders of Jerusalem tried again to abbreviate His earth-life. These enemies were agents of Satan. But their intentions were powerfully overcome.

May we note another victory which Christ won over Satan. It is recorded in Matthew 4:11. These verses tell of Satan's attempt to overcome Christ by appealing to the flesh. But Christ, using the "sword of the Spirit," won the world's most important battle. Christ is the first person in the flesh to win a one-hundred per cent victory over sin. No one before or since has ever equaled that feat. All others, you and I, have sinned.

The gospel of Christ is the sure cure for sin, because it came to us by the blood of Christ. To all who are willing, Christ becomes Lord of lords and King of kings.

GIANT AMARYLLIS IS BACK—IN A DELFT POT

There's good news for gardening buffs and flower lovers. Imported giant amaryllis bulbs—one of nature's most delightful sights—are in supply again. These bulbs bloom indoors during the winter, and can be moved outdoors in the summer.

Aptly, they're called "Dutch Delight." In short supply all year, a relatively ample quantity of red amaryllis bulbs are now available at many Florists' Transworld Delivery (FTD) shops, in hand-painted blue delft pots imported from Holland. It is the first in a series of the famous delft vases.

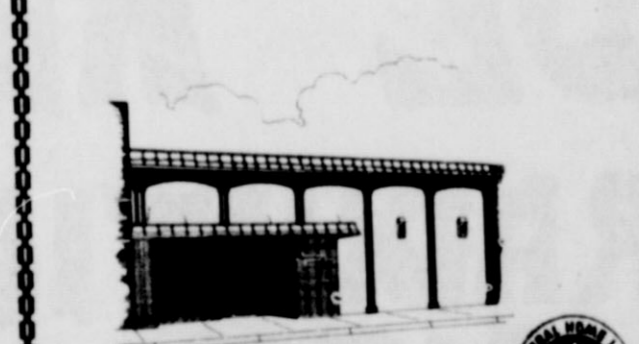

What makes the amaryllis a blooming phenomenon is that "you can almost hear it growing," as florists put it. Once the stalk starts developing, it shoots up about one-half inch a day, often reaching two feet in height.
The "Dutch Delight" now at FTD florists has the largest blooms of all amaryllis hybrids. Individual blooms grow five to six inches in diameter. Watching the large, dramatic flowers begin to open is a fascinating sight. Another plus is their long life. Bulbs should last many years, with proper care. A top-grade bulb should produce two flower stalks with at least four blooms on each. Flowers appear about six to eight weeks after potting in the fall.

This is one reason why amaryllis bulbs have long been a popular gift item. They're especially popular with shut-ins.
Approved artistically, they can give one the reputation of being a blooming genius!

CLOTHES TO GO!

With the fuel crisis raging across the country, more and more Americans are taking to the road—on bicycles. Unfortunately, many women don't know the best way to dress for this type of transportation.

They may not be hampered by the voluminous skirts and layers of petticoats worn by women in cycling's early days, but many of the more modern styles are still unsuitable for biking at its best.

Keep your skirts above the knee or shorter, and the rest of your clothes uncluttered as well. Trailing scarves, long coats, unattached accessories and floppy or bell-bottomed pants could all be big safety hazards.
On cooler days, biking will be better if you wear a light jacket or sweater over a shirt instead of one heavy sweater, which may become uncomfortable as the day wears on.

If you have long hair, lock onto the idea of tying it back or wearing a hat. Don't let the wind blow it into your face, and make sure your clothes and shoes don't bind or pinch. You'll be putting your best foot forward if you stay away from shoes with extremely high heels or heavy soles which could preclude proper pedaling.

Wear light colored clothes when biking by night (the better to see you with) and eye with favor the idea of glare-reducing sunglasses during the day.

If you're attentive to your attire, you can ride out the energy crisis in style.
