Buckle Up for Love Sponsored by EMS

Little Cade Luckett says, "Thank-you Mommie, for buckling me up". February 10-16 is "Buckle Up For Love" Week, sponsored by the Texas Department of Health and the Motley County EMS. Cade is the son of Bill and Kendra Luckett of Matador.

Child Passenger Safety Awareness Week, sponsored by Texas Department of Health and Motley County EMS, will be observed February 10-16, 1991 with the theme "Buckle Up for Love."

Gene Weatherall, chief of the health department's Bureau of Emergency Management, said that in 1989 more than 700 Texas children died of injuries that could have been prevented. "The good news," Weatherall said, "is that child safety seats prevented 28,000 injuries and about 200 deaths in children four and younger in this country last year."

"Trauma is still the number one killer of children," said Tony Rose, local EMS director, "and children are most vulnerable to trauma when they ride in motor vehicles." According to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, child safety seats are 71 percent effective in preventing fatalities.

Texas law requires children under age 2 to ride in a safety seat; from age 2 to 4, children may ride in a safety seat or buckled by a safety belt. Everyone in the front seat, no matter what their age, must ride buckled up. Parents who want to borrow a child safety seat can contact the health department's SafeRiders Program at 1-800-252-8255.

"We hope the Buckle Up for Love program will make the residents of Motley County more aware of the positive aspects of buckling their safety belts," said Mr. Rose.

Hospital Board Meeting Report

The Motley County Hospital Board met Tuesday, February 5 at 6:30 a.m., with Larry Hoyle, James Stanley, Bob Davis, and Ruth Lee. H.C. Smith was absent. Also attending was Tony Rose, EMT Director.

Hoyle passed out information concerning extended warranty for the new ambulance.

Bills were reviewed and passed for the regular account of $5,383.50, leaving a balance of $17,940.53.

Rose reported he met with the Commissioners Court to request a phone patch on the county's tower. The Court approved a place for $10 a month rent. Rose explained this service would allow the EMS to answer their ambulance phone calls on the portable radios. They can be used in the ambulance in transit, etc. Davis pointed out it would possibly save $100 a month by eliminating extra phone lines. This was tabled until March, when Rose has bids for phone patch system. The board discussed raising ambulance call price. Rose stated Motley County was much lower than other counties and Hoyle said according to runs per year and cost of insurance cost, a run costs the Hospital District $96.00 and the basic run from Motley County to Floydada is $65.00. The Board decided to get more information and set new prices in March.

Hoyle reported when the new ambulance was in service, the old one would be gone over and repaired and used for a backup.

Hoyle reported four people were going to take an EMT class in Floydada.

Rose had a copy of the current EMS Policy and asked the Board to look it over and consider updating.

The minutes were amended and passed.

Meeting adjourned.

Preparing for the Drug Years Program to be presented at School

"Preparing for the Drug Years", a program for parents, will be presented by Dick and Sharon Van Hoose, February 21, beginning with a seminar for parents of children in the fifth grade.

This will be a 5-week course to help teach parents to identify the risk factors associated with teenage drug abuse and to practice skills which will promote family bonding and reduce those risks.

This program was developed by Doctors J. David Hawkins and Richard F. Catalano of the University of Washington. In a review of research conducted over the past thirty years, Catalano and Hawkins have identified eleven factors that increase the risk of young people developing problems with alcohol or other drugs. These risk factors include:

- A family history of alcoholism
- Family management problems
- Parental drug use of positive parental attitudes toward use.
- Early antisocial behavior
- Academic failure

— A low degree of commitment to school

— A low degree of social bonding

— Antisocial behavior in early adolescence

— Friends who use drugs

— Favorable attitudes toward drug use

— Early first use of drugs

"Preparing for the Drug (Free) years" teaches parents to reduce five of these risk factors which may often be present during the late elementary and middle school grades. The risk factors addressed in this program are positive parental attitudes toward drug use, family management problems, low degree of social bonding, friends who use drugs and early first use of drugs.

MIDDLE SCHOOL "PRIME TIME"

Elementary school ages children are experiencing pressure to use alcohol and other drugs at increasingly earlier ages. Today's teenagers are most likely to start using alcohol, tobacco and marijuana before they are 15.

Preparing for the Drug (Free) Years is for parents of children in grades 4-7, the grades when prevention has its high impact just before widespread experimentation occurs.

The program demonstrates how you can decrease the chances that your children will become involved with drugs. The skills you learn will help you build strong family bonds.

PARENTS MAKE A DIFFERENCE

"My Parents" is the #1 answer children give to explain why they refuse drug offers. This program will give you the information and skills you need to take an active role in prevention for your family.

There will be cost to parents attending the workshops. Childcare is available at no charge.

For more information, please call Dick VanHoose, 347-2676.

Roaring Springs City Council Meets New Water System Approved

The Roaring Springs City Council met Tuesday, February 5, 1991 with Council members Joey Thacker, Mary Webb, Bill Hand and Charlie Long. Mark Watson was absent and Mayor H.E. Walters was absent due to illness. Frances Walters, City Manager, was also present.

James Gillespie, Representative for the 911 Board, reported to the Council that the 911 program is a year and a half ahead of schedule. Due to drop in cost, etc., 911 should be in operation by September 1, 1991. Gillespie explained that due to this cost drop, Floyd and Motley will have the full address system instead of only phone numbers.

Gillespie stated he was very pleased with how the program had progressed and the working relationship with the Floyd County dispatch.

Mr. Gillespie also explained the 4-Winds RC&D (Resource, Conservation and Development) Program. This is rural development and improvement program that now includes 14 counties.

He stated the main project at present is a study of rural landfills. This is a 'need' basis, with a 60%-90% cost share. Gillespie informed the Council he was not asking them to join, but wanted them to know about it. Dues are $25.00 a month.

After council discussed the project, they elected to join the 4-Winds Program.

Mrs. Walters read the minutes and they passed. She reported on repairs being made on the roofs at school building; Jamie Johnson had made the final inspection report on the new water system and tower; Billy Green, City Water Manager, is putting up a fence around the Water Well area; Water has been approved by the Amarillo Water Lab; the new well and water tower have been in operation for almost a week.

Walters also reported on a meeting held by concerned citizens to get the city cleaned up by the May 25 Centennial Celebration, the June 15 Homecoming, the dedication of the water system and Old Settlers.

Walters informed the Council that Carla Jones had reported that approximately $625.00 has been raised for the building of a Gazebo in the City Park. It is hoped that it can be completed by Old Settlers.

Bills were read and approved. Walters explained the higher electrical bill due to wells running to clear up the water.

Frances asked the Council if they wanted to keep the office opened the 3 days in March she will attend a Tax school. Council agreed to keep the office open.

Appointment of an Election Judge was discussed and tabled.

Meeting went into closed session at this time.

The Mail Ego

We have a shiny new mailbox. It is the talk of the neighborhood. Our old mailbox, too, was the subject of much discussion.

When we moved to our home, the mailbox was in pretty bad shape — rusty and dented. But we soon learned that mailboxes often were the targets of youthful shenanigans in our new neighborhood.

We heard tales from our neighbors and saw the evidence firsthand: steel boxes bashed in, mutilated posts laying on their sides. It was not a situation that made us want to rush out and purchase a new box.

But then we began receiving notices from the U.S. Postal Service. The notices were not exactly threatening, but they did inform us that we were in violation of some code or other and contained helpful diagrams showing what a proper mailbox should look like.

It was about that time that our old mailbox was egged, bashed and rendered doorless. I was afraid to let the children retrieve the mail for fear that contact with a rusty bolt would require tetanus shots.

It was time, we decided. However, we discovered that purchasing a new mailbox would be more difficult than we had anticipated.

For one thing, my husband and I found that we had radically different philosophies about mailboxes. I was thinking in terms of something aesthetically pleasing, possibly with a sleek pole rising from flower boxes. Jim, on the other hand, insisted on an oversized pole to support an oversized aluminum box.

My husband, you see, likes his mail flat. Unfolded. A large box, he reasoned, would allow the carrier to place the many important documents we receive — namely, magazines — neatly in the box. Flat.

To make a long story short, Jim won what has come to be known as "The Great Mailbox Debate." We now have a mailbox large enough to hold a year's worth of mail. Unfolded.

Neighbors have been gathering around our new box, oohing and aahing and, I believe, smirking. Cars slow down when they pass our home, and I see arms pointing out windows in the direction of our box.

We received a notice the other day that the city is raising our property assessment because of the new room we added.

Jim has taken all the teasing good-naturedly, but he is not happy with the post office.

Yesterday we received a bundle of mail — folded in half, with a rubber band around it. lol

REUSING PRODUCTS TO ELIMINATE WASTE

The idea of being wasteful makes many people uncomfortable. Yet most of us continue to waste because we can't think of anything better to do with last year's phone book, draperies that are too short or a closet door that is scratched by a favorite pet. We are conditioned to think of things that are old, empty, worn, broken, ugly or marred, as useless so we throw them away without much thought to the consequences.

Most Americans buy far more than they can use effectively which is evident by bulging attics and garages.

The process of reusing is started with the assumption that the used materials that flow through our lives can be resource rather than refuse. Waste, after all, is in the eye of the beholder. What is one person's trash is another one's treasure. If we really look to see items as raw materials, they can be reused to help solve everyday problems and satisfy everyday needs.

Most of us, however, haven't even begun to exploit the resources in our trash. Once you have your mind set you can use trash for positive uses, you can begin to brainstorm and generate ideas. Reusing saves money, conserves resources and it satisfies the human urge to make things.

Reuse containers at home or for school projects.

Reuse wrapping paper, plastic bags, boxes and lumber.

Give outgrown clothing to friends or a charity.

Buy beverages in returnable containers.

Try repair before you consider repairing lawn mowers, tools, vacuum cleaners, TV's.

Donate broken appliances to charity or find out if a local vocational school can use them for arts for students to practice repairing them.

Offer furniture and household items no longer needed to people in need, friends, or charity.

Sheets of paper that have been used on only one side can be used for note-taking or rough drafts of material.

* Old, outdated furniture can be reupholstered or slipcovered. Add padding to the furniture to give it a new look. Often the frame can be modified slightly to change the way it looks.

* Old pieces of furniture can be repaired or finished with special finishes such as splattering, sponging or rag painting which takes very little time and skill.

* Old towels and sheets can be cut in small pieces and used for dusting and dust cloths.

* Plastic bags and wraps can be used for storing items. They can be used for packing items for mailing.

* Books and magazines can be donated to public libraries or to nursing homes.

* Newspapers can be donated to pet stores.

* Packing materials such as polystyrene, plastic quilting and similar packing materials can be saved and reused for the same purpose.

* Carry a reusable tote bag to take bags to the store when you go shopping. There are attractive nylon bags available that can be stored easily in the glove compartment of your car. And durable canvas bags that take up little space when not in use.

* If you buy pre-prepared microwavable dinners, save the plates for use when planning outside parties or for children.

* Old tires can be used in the garden and in the play yard.

* Save items that are used in schools, day care centers, by scouts and senior citizens. Examples of these materials include: Carpet scraps, Christmas cards, cloth scraps, coat hangers, coffee cans, gift wrappings, magazines, oatmeal boxes, paper bags, toilet paper rolls and yogurt containers.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service are for people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, handicap or national origin.

West Texas Utilities to file for rate increase

West Texas Utilities Company will file a request early this week with the Public Utility Commission to reconcile historical fuel costs and increase our fixed fuel factors to reflect expected increases in the cost of fuel.

The new factors are not expected to affect customers' bills until later this year or early in 1992. The actual date will be determined by the time it takes to complete the regulatory process.

Jesse Turner, WTU local manager, said the new factors will increase the average residential customers' bill by $1.44 a month, or 2.5 percent, based on consumption of 660 kilowatt-hours per month.

"Our cost to residential customers is essentially divided into two major parts, the base rate and the fuel factor," said Turner. Fuel factors make up about forty percent of the total cost to customers.

The company is requesting the increase now primarily for three reasons. First, it has under-recovered retail fuel and purchased power costs through December 1990 by $3,050,015.

Second, the PUC has recently expressed the opinion that fuel costs should be reconciled at least every three years through either a rate case or a fuel reconciliation case such as we are filing. WTU's fuel costs were last reconciled in a rate case which covered a period ending with March 31, 1987, almost four years ago.

Third, while WTU may be over-recovering during some of this year (partly as a result of renegotiated terms in a major gas contract), they expect that will change to some extent during 1992. In other words, by the time a decision is reached in Austin the company expects the new fuel factors will be necessary.

The company is not asking to collect its present under-recovery balance at this time. Instead it is asking to update the balance just prior to conclusion of the case and make a refund or surcharge over a twelve month period if that is warranted.

During the upcoming proceeding the company will present information on all fuel and purchased power costs since April 1987 to demonstrate that it has generated electricity efficiently, used effective cost controls, and negotiated fuel-related contracts in a manner that produced the lowest reasonable costs for customers.

The company's cost control efforts include construction of a gas pipeline to the Fort Phantom power station near Abilene to provide access to more suppliers, renegotiation of supply and transportation contracts for gas and coal and improvements in the efficiency of some plants so that they burn less fuel to make electricity.

Legal notices of this filing will be published in newspapers of general circulation in WTU's service area. In addition, customers will receive individual notice by post card according to requirements of the commission.

Chocolate Sparks Love?

Ahh! Valentine's Day: Sweet Season for Candy Lovers

Studies show that chocolate contains phenylethylamine, a substance believed to fan the flames of love...

In February, thoughts turn to romance and gifts that capture those feelings of fondness. Since the days of the Roman Empire, a gift of candy has symbolized romance — a tradition that today accounts for more than $620 million in candy sales just for Valentine's Day, according to industry figures.

Giving sweets to one's sweetheart began in the Middle Ages. According to historians, romantically inclined young men and women slipped sweets to one another as a token of their feelings. The tradition made its way to American shores, where pilgrims presented sugar plums to their betrothed, a gesture of even greater meaning because sugar was a rare and treasured commodity.

Today, Americans continue to declare their love with candy, making confectionery the most popular gift for Valentine's Day, second only to greeting cards. In fact, according to the National Confectioner's Association, February 14 is the second biggest "chocolate holiday." Only Easter is larger in chocolate sales.

"It's a huge holiday for us," explained Terri Kaminski, a spokesperson for E. J. Brach Corporation, the largest maker of seasonal candy in the United States. "We've been packing chocolates in heart-shaped boxes for months to meet the demand for this single day."

Chocolates are very romantic, she pointed out. "Not only are they packaged in satin and lace in passionate colors of red and pink, but some studies even suggest chocolates may enhance romantic feelings," she said. "The studies show that chocolate contains phenylethylamine (PEA), a substance believed to fan the flames of love, so to speak."

While boxed chocolates are the big sellers for gift-giving, novelty candies, such as conversation hearts, are also very popular. The tiny, pastel colored hearts have a brief saying stamped on them, such as "Kiss Me," or "Love U." For romantic advances from the wrong direction, the sayings include "No Way" and "Good-Bye."

No matter what the saying, the candy hearts are very much in demand. "We make millions of pounds of conversation hearts each year," said Kaminski. "In the past 20 years, Brach's has made more than 25 billion pieces — enough to circle the world more than 10 times if placed end to end."

That's a lot of sweets for one's sweetheart.

Amy's Anecdotes

by Amy Woolsey

People often don't think about the dangers of drinking and driving.

I read an article the other day about drinking and driving and it really made me think.

No one ever thinks it could happen to them, but when it does it hurts the family and friends around them.

Drunk drivers aren't the only ones who can be killed or get hurt, but the innocent ones as well. People who trust someone so much to get in the car with them while they have been drinking are risking their lives, too.

Innocent children who are killed by drunk drivers don't have a chance to see what their lives would have been like.

Teenagers aren't the only ones to point your fingers at. I've seen a lot of older people drink and drive, too. I don't drink and I don't get into the same car with a person who has been drinking, unless I'm the one driving.

If you want to live a little longer and save someone else's life — don't drink and drive!!

Taxes at College

Some of the best things in life are free, but that may not include your scholarship or fellowship. Scholarships and fellowships awarded after August 16, 1986, may be partially or fully taxable.

Only degree candidates may exclude any scholarship or fellowship payments from income. There are several restrictions on the exclusion including both the types of qualifying expenses and the types of payments received.

The "qualified" amounts that are not taxable include payments that cover enrollment tuition or fees and course-related expenses for books, fees, supplies and equipment. Any other amounts, such as for room, board, travel or incidental expenses, must be reported as income for the year received.

Many scholarships and fellowships also include pay for past, present or future services. Any payment received for services is taxable for the year of receipt, even if the service is required of all candidates for a particular degree.

Students who are not candidates for a degree must report all scholarship and fellowship amounts as income for the year received.

Those who received scholarships or fellowships awarded before August 17, 1986, should continue to report these payments in the same way they were reported in the past.

"...Steadfast, Unmoveable..."

A young woman, who was a great lover of flowers, had set out a rare vine at the base of a stone wall. It grew vigorously, but did not bloom. Day after day she cultivated it and watered it and tried in every way to coax the vine into bloom. One morning, as she stood disappointedly before her vine, her invalid neighbor, whose back lawn adjoined her own, called over the wall and said, "you can't imagine how much I have been enjoying the blooms of that vine you planted."

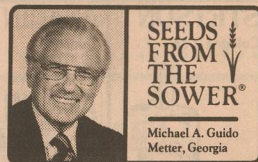

The owner looked over the wall and there was a mass of beautiful blooms. The vine had crept through the crevices and flowered luxuriantly on the other side.

So often we convince ourselves that our efforts are wasted because we can not see the immediate fruit of our endeavors. We need to learn that in service to our Lord, our prayers, our labor and our crosses are never in vain. Somewhere they will bear fruit and people will receive the blessings and joy of being in Christ.

This brings to mind Paul's statement in I Cor. 15:58, "Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye steadfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labor is not in vain in the Lord." The "forasmuch as ye know".... is perhaps the part we need to work on the most. For sometimes we let discouragement rob us of our faith.

A professor said to his class, "If you get this in your head, you'll have it in a nutshell."

But the Psalmist was more anxious to get it in his heart. He said, "Thy Word have I hid in my heart, that I might not sin against Thee."

Here's the plan: "Thy Word have I hid." This doesn't mean to bury it, but to believe it and behave it.

Here's the place: "In my heart." It's good to have the Bible in your home, it's better to have it in your head, but it's best to have it in your heart.

Here's the purpose: "That I might not sin." There are aids for reading the Bible, but there are no substitutes. A chapter a day will keep Satan at bay.

Social Security Tips

by Mary Jane Shanes

BENEFIT STATEMENTS GO OUT IN JANUARY

Over 40 million annual benefit statements went out in January to Social Security beneficiaries. The Social Security Benefit Statements (Form SSA-1099) show the exact amount of benefits paid to each person in the past year and the amount of benefits repaid in the past year.

The primary users of the statements are beneficiaries who pay Federal income tax on their Social Security benefits. The statements should be kept by beneficiaries who may need proof of their benefit level.

About 10 percent of people who get Social Security have to pay taxes on their benefits. Only those beneficiaries who have substantial income in addition to their Social Security benefits are affected by the taxation of benefit provisions.

No one pays taxes on more than one-half of their benefits. Some pay taxes on a smaller amount of their benefits according to a formula developed by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS).

For more information about taxation of Social Security benefits, call the IRS toll-free telephone number, 1-800-829-3676, to ask for Publication 554, Tax Benefits for Older Americans, and Publication 915, Tax Information on Social Security.

For other Social Security information, call or visit the nearest Social Security office.

Texas Senate Week In Review

AUSTIN -- The House and Senate concurred January 31, and sent to Governor Richards the first bill of the 72nd Legislature fifteen days after Bob Bullock and Ann Richards took office. Senate Bill III is the bill sponsored by Senator John Montford that begins to remedy the state's cash flow shortage. S.B. III was passed out of the Senate and on to the House on Monday. On Thursday, the bill was reported back to the Senate with amendments. The Senate concurred with the House amendments and sent the bill to the governor. At 4:00 p.m. Thursday, S.B. III was signed into law. The bill includes a spending reduction of $77 million, rather than the originally proposed spending freeze. It also expands the oversight authority of the Legislative Budget Board.

In other business, the Senate Nominations Committee met to consider several gubernatorial appointments on Tuesday, including the Reverend Zan Wesley Holmes, Jr., the first African-American appointed to serve on the University of Texas Board of Regents, and Ms. Alison Leland, wife of the late Congressman Mickey Leland, the first African-American female to serve on the Texas A&M University Board of Regents. Final confirmation is expected in the full Senate next week.

Also on Tuesday, January 29, the Subcommittee on Regulatory Agencies had a day-long hearing on proposed legislation, Senate Bill 179, relating to the settlement of contested cases pending before regulatory agencies, including the Public Utility Commission. The Subcommittee, chaired by Senator Peggy Rosson, El Paso, has heard testimony, but has taken no action.

On Wednesday, January 30, the Subcommittee on Elections and Ethics, chaired by Senator Steve Carriker of Roby, met at 9:00 a.m., in the Senate Chamber to hear testimony on Senate Bill I and Senate Joint Resolution 8, sponsored by Senator Bob Glasgow of Stephenville. This is the legislation to create an ethics commission to oversee public officials' and lobbyists' financial expenditures. Governor Ann Richards, former Congresswoman Barbara Jordan, and newly appointed Secretary of State John Hannah were among those testifying in support of this package. Testimony will go on for several days. The package has received strong support from Lt. Governor Bob Bullock.

A reorganization of the Producer Steering Committee (PSC) and consideration of tentative policy positions to direct the activities of the National Cotton Council (NCC) will top the list of items to be discussed at the upcoming NCC annual meeting in Los Angeles, February 10-12.

In addition, new NCC officers will be elected at the general session and several committees will meet beforehand according to Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. Among the committees to meet early are the Producer Steering Committee and the Boll Weevil Action Committee on February 8. Johnson adds that he will present a short overview of the 1990 boll weevil diapause program conducted on the High Plains to the Boll Weevil Action Committee. The report will include the program's parameters and how it was conducted, including the number of acres treated and the number of people involved.

Johnson says that in addition to himself there will be many individuals from the High Plains attending the meeting, representing all segments of the cotton industry. The number of Texas producer delegates going to the NCC meeting is an example of the level of participation expected from the High Plains region. Three of the eleven delegates are from the High Plains and are members of PCG's Board of Directors, he notes. "Having this level of representation is a tremendous asset, it allows us to ensure that the concerns of High Plains producers are heard and addressed in the policies of the NCC."

One of the people representing the High Plains is Steve Verett, PCG Board Chairman. Verett is a member of the NCC Producer Steering Committee. An item on the PSC agenda is consideration of tentative NCC policy positions that will govern the Council's lobbying activities for the next year. After consideration the policies will go to several other committees for further consideration, then be presented to the delegate body for approval during the general sessions.

A producer caucus will be held February 9 to consider a proposal to reorganize the PSC corps of officers.

The proposed changes involve moving from an officer corps made up of a chairman, vice chairman and secretary to one that will more equally represent each region. The new officer corps, if approved, will consist of a chairman and three vice chairmen. A vice chairman will be selected from each of the three regions not represented by the chairman.

"The new arrangement will help guarantee that each cotton producing region has equal representation at the committee's to level," explains Johnson.

General sessions of the NCC meeting will also feature several speakers. They are: USDA Deputy Secretary Jack Parnell; Auggie Tantilio, Commerce Department Deputy Assistant Secretary for Textiles and Apparel, who will discuss the upcoming U.S.-Mexico free trade agreement talks; Rep. Bill Thomas (R-CA); NCC President Tommy Funk; Cotton Incorporated President Nick Hahn; and Cotton Council International President Eduardo Esteve.

PCG Board members who will be attending the meeting in Los Angeles are: Verett, Ralls; Frank B. Jones, Jr., Chairman of NCC's Environmental Task Force, Lubbock; and Jackie L. Burris, Wellman.

Figures received by PCG late January 31 indicate a total 1990-crop deficiency payment of 7.3 cents per pound. Most producers received an advance payment of 4.2 cents at sign-up, and can expect a final payment of 3.1 cents, PCG says.

Net payment rates to producers however will be reduced by last year's Budget Reconciliation Act (.515 cents) and Gramm-Rudman-Hollings Sequestration Order (1.4 percent). Net total after reductions will amount to 6.69 cents per pound. Net to producers who received an advance will be 3.6 cents per pound.

For what glory is it, if when ye be buffeted for your faults, ye shall take it patiently? but if, when ye do well, and suffer for it, ye take it patiently, this is acceptable with God.

NOTICE

PUBLIC HEARING NOTICE

Pursuant to the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, Texas Civil Statutes, Article 6252-13a, 65, the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation will hold a series of five public hearings on proposed new 11.80-11.90, concerning Environmental and Public Involvement for Highway Improvement Projects. Notice of the proposed adoption of the new sections and their text were published in the December 14, 1990 issue of the Texas Register (15 TexReg 7160).

The dates, places, and locations for the respective hearings are as follows: Thursday, February 7, 1991, Memorial High School, 935 Echo Lane, Houston; Thursday, February 14, 1991, Holiday Inn Center, 6201 E. Highway 80, Odessa; Tuesday, February 19, 1991, Corpus Christi Marriott, 707 N. Shoreline Drive, Corpus Christi; Thursday, February 21, 1991, Holiday Inn DFW North, 4441 Highway 114 and Esters Blvd., Irving; and Monday, February 25, 1991, Radisson Hotel, 700 San Jacinto St., Austin. The Austin public hearing was originally scheduled to be held at Camp Mabry, however, due to the current crisis in the Middle East, it has been closed to civilians.

Each hearing will convene at 7:00 p.m. Those desiring to make oral comments or presentations may register starting at 6:30 p.m. Any interested person may appear and offer comments, either orally or in writing, however, questioning of those making presentations will be reserved exclusively to the presiding officer as may be necessary to ensure a complete record. While any person with pertinent comments will be granted an opportunity to present them during the course of the hearing, the presiding officer reserves the right to restrict testimony in terms of time and repetitive comment. Organizations, associations, or groups are encouraged to present their commonly held views, and same or similar comments, through a representative member where possible. Comments on the proposed text should include appropriate citations to sections, subsections, paragraphs, etc., for proper reference. Any suggestions or requests for alternative language or other revisions in the proposed text should be submitted in written form.

To assure that all persons who have registered to speak are afforded an opportunity to do so and to avoid undue hardship or inconvenience of conducting the proceedings beyond an unreasonable hour, the presiding officer may recess the hearing and reconvene at 7:00 p.m. the following evening at a location to be announced upon recess, for the limited purpose of receiving those remaining comments.

Written comments may also be submitted to William A. Lancaster, P.E., Chief Engineer, Highway Design Division, 11th and Brazos Streets, Austin, Texas 78701. Copies of the proposed rules are available from the department's district offices in each of the named cities and from Mr. Lancaster. The deadline for submitting all comments is 5:00 p.m. on March 31, 1991.
