Mandatory Hunter Education Course Now Required

All hunters whose date of birth is on or after September 2, 1971 is required to produce evidence that they have completed a mandatory Hunter Safety Course. This program was put into effect June 1, 1988 and will be effective September 1, 1989.

This is a one time course that is sponsored by Texas Parks and Wildlife and requires ten hours of instruction.

Motley County Game Warden, Ronnie Vandiver, stated there were voluntary instructors available around this area or he would teach the 10 hour course during the 1989 summer season.

Proof of certification is a department-prescribed card or temporary receipt which must be carried at all times while hunting with all firearms and archery equipment. Failure to carry proper certification while hunting constitutes a Class C, Parks and Wildlife Code Misdemeanor

Jenkins family to be honored at Methodist Church

First United Methodist Church of Matador will honor the children of Charter Members, F.M. "Pat": and Fannie Edmonson Jenkins, Oct. 9, 1988 at 10:30 when a grandson, Bishop Dan E. Solomon, will deliver the sermon. Special music will be furnished, a brief history of the Jenkins children will be given and following the sermon, a covered dish meal will be served.

Eight children were born to the couple: Leland (deceased), Clarence, Ethel, Homer, Emmett and Mary of Matador, Sadie of Corpus Christi and Mable, mother of the Bishop, of Tulia.

Mr. Jenkins and the four oldest children, Leland, Clarence, Mable and Ethel joined the church during an Abe Mulkey revival in 1908. Fannie Edmonson and her sister Ida were part of the group that organized the church in 1892. Clarence and Ethel moved their membership for a short time in their early lives before returning to Matador. Emmett joined the church in 1913, Mary in 1921 and Homer in 1926, all three of them having had Continual membership in Matador's First United Methodist Church.

Bishop Solomon, 51, was pastor of Corpus Christi's First United Methodist Church at the time of his election July 14, 1988 in New Orleans. He will be the episcopal leader of the Oklahoma Indian Missionary Conference. Bishop Solomon was born in Matador, earned degrees from McMurry College, Abilene; Perkins School of Theology, Dallas and United Theological Seminary, Dayton, Ohio. Before going to the 3000 member church in Corpus Christi he was pastor of Travis Park United Methodist Church in San Antonio, St. John's United Methodist in Corpus Christi, organizing pastor of St. Stephen United Methodist Church, Amarillo and Associate Pastor of First United Methodist Church, Plainview. He has held and is holding many important leadership and denominational offices. His wife, Joy is a teacher and musician. They have two sons and one daughter.

The new class of bishops elected for the episcopacy of the United Methodist Church is one of the youngest ever. The ages of the three bishops selected are 50, 51, and 52, and Texas Methodist historian Walter Vernon said they represent the youngest class ever elected by the eight state regional body which includes Texas. Because of their ages, each will be eligible to serve 16 years in the active episcopacy.

The Tulia Herald Editor, Wendell Tooley visited with Mrs. Solomon and had this story:

"Before he was born, we prayed he would be a boy....and a preacher!" That was the happy statement of Mrs. Henry Solomon after learning her son, Dan, was elected Bishop of the South Central Jurisdiction conference.

Dan Solomon graduated from Tulia High School in 1955 and is remembered by many in Tulia and especially members of the Methodist church.

Although Mrs. Solomon didn't know how far up the Methodist minister ladder Dan would climb, she always prayed that he would be a good pastor and preacher...that he would be successful in his calling to preach.

The Solomons will make their home in Oklahoma City.

The community is invited to attend this special service honoring the Jenkins family. Bring a covered dish and join in the service, meal and fellowship.

Dukakis to address Agricultural issues in West Texas

LUBBOCK, TX -- Democratic Presidential Candidate, Mike Dukakis, has accepted an invitation from Texas Farmers and Ranchers to address the issues concerning the Agricultural Industry.

The invitation came from Dukakis-Bentsen, Co-Chair John Montford, State Senator from Lubbock and Bob Nash, President of the South Plains Democratic Council.

"West Texas is the heart of prime fertile farmland and the richest grazing country, yet we are seeing third and fourth generation farms shutting down everyday," said Montford. "Washington has done nothing, but play games with farmers. These men and women are producers, but there being asked not to produce and what they do produce, they can't get a fair price for it. You can't find a farm foreclosure and a bank closing in most any town in West Texas on any given day. It's a very common fight. And it's devastating the institution of the family farm," explained Senator Montford.

Mike Dukakis will talk with farmers and ranchers, Agricultural officials on the farm of Larry Isom, which is located about ten minutes due east of Lubbock. The visit will take place Friday, 9:00 a.m. September 30.

John Montford will be joined by Co-Chairs of farmers and ranchers for Dukakis-Bentsen, including U.S. Congressmen, Kiki De La Garza and Charles Stenholm, Agricultural Commissioner, Jim Hightower, State Senators, Ted Lyon, Steve Carriker and Bill Sarpalius, State House Members Dudley Harrison and Pete Laney.

LIBRARY NOTES

BY JIMMIE HUNTER

Five ladies from Matador are very enthused about the training session for Literacy Tutors they attended at Plainview last weekend. Mrs. Joe Campbell, Mrs. C.D. Garrison, Ms. Saroj Patel, Mrs. Bobby Davis, Mrs. Dewayne Martin are now certified teachers who need students to work with, so if you need help, or know anyone who needs help learning to read English better, please contact Mrs. Delores Martin at 347-2885. She will match a student with a Tutor, and student and tutor can make arrangements for the time and place for lessons. The Laubach Way to Reading teaches phonics, reading and writing. The instructor for the Tutor Training session in Plainview was Judy Higginbotham, a sister-in-law of Jolene and Vernon Higginbotham. She told the group that there are twenty-seven million functional illiterates in the United States. A functional illiterate is one who can read, but would have difficulty filling out an application blank or reading an instruction manual. This often means that they have to take a lesser job, are on our welfare rolls, or in prison. They estimate that there are 20,000 functional illiterates in the Plainview area or one in five nationwide. If you would like to help someone overcome this handicap and improve his or her self esteem, another training session is being offered in Lubbock on October 7th and 8th. Please feel free to call 347-2885 or 347-2717 for more information.

I certainly appreciate Ms. Dewayne Martin getting a library column in last week's paper. I did enjoy my vacation. Our daughter, Susan, accompanied Wayne and me to Colorado Springs, Co. where we visited my brother Walter Speer and his wife, Ann. Walter's daughter Sharon, her husband Bob McDonald, and their two children, Becky, 5 and Erick, 2 also live in Colorado Springs, and visited with us often and we got to see their new home. We detoured to visit Bent's Old Fort near La Junta, CO which was restored as a sesquicentennial project. Here we saw a blacksmith at work, and learned much of the history of the Fort. Wayne and Susan entered the Bookstore there, and said "We figured we would find you here!" I purchased two early maps of the U.S. which I hope to display at the Library soon, and a copy of THE AMERICAN FRUGAL HOUSEWIFE, FRYING PANS WEST, and BENT'S FORT, before they drug me out to catch the last golfcart ride to the parking lot. We picnicked in the woods, looked at mountains and over lakes and had a thoroughly relaxing time. The aspens hadn't "peaked" yet, but we returned through a national park and enjoyed several patches of aspen yellow among the evergreen covered mountains and a few of the true "aspen gold".

Saturdays at the library are usually rather quiet. It's a good time to catch up on the mail, straighten shelves or write Library Notes, and if you check out 12 or 13 books you've had a good day. Last Saturday was different. The Tumbler's bake sale in front of the neighboring grocery store, seemed to draw Adults into the territory where they might as well check out a book. The young tumblers, whose mothers were manning the sale, kept the computer busy and was found time to select a book or two to take home with them. By the end of the day, we had checked out 39 books. Shortly after I arrived, James and Laura Wright of Plano arrived. Laura had been born on the Matador Ranch in 1931. Her father was William Boone Harrow and she would love to hear from anyone who remembers her family. Her husband is Capt. James Wright, in charge of the Texas Rangers in the Dallas area. Their address is: 3523 Cottillion, Plano, Texas 75074.

Other out of town visitors that day were Mary M. DeWild and children, Kathy, Keri, and Michael, from Lubbock; Norman and Barbara Spray, of Bedford, Texas. Local resident, J.W. Pritchett paid his first visit to the Library, too. Dean and Jeanne Straub from Nordland, Wn. were visiting her aunt Mary Meason, last week and Betty Moore brought her nephew, Brian Hawks, of St. Louis, Mo in this morning and Louise Halsey of Borger, stopped by to see the mural. She had lived at Denton, and taught school in the area, and knew the C.A. Scotts that were our dear friends and landlord while Wayne and I were in College there.

Thanks to Jo Scott for a gift of paperback books, Judy Cruse for a set of THE ILLUSTRATED ENCYCLOPEDIA OF GARDENING, and to Opal Pipkin for six volumes of THE FEDERAL TAX COURSE.

Does anyone have a doll house your children have outgrown that you would like to give to the library to be used for displays or to entertain children while grown-ups locate the books they need?

MEATLESS MEATS

With the health concerns about fat in meats, the so-called "meatless meats" are being taken more seriously. But they may not be exactly what doctor ordered.

Many meat substitutes are made with soy products such as tofu, which is a soybean curd; tempeh, cooked and fermented soybeans; and miso, a fermented soy paste. Others are made from soy derivatives. Meatless beef, turkey and chicken are now on the market, mostly in specialty and health food stores. Meatless "bacon bits" are a common product on the grocery shelves.

These products contain as much protein as meat. Also, the soy protein concentrates from which they are made are virtually fat-free because the soy bean oil has been removed in processing.

However, the food manufacturers usually add oils and fats back to the soy protein concentrates to create the look and taste of beef, bacon and other meat products.

Some soy-based products have as much fat as lean ground beef, but less saturated fat and no cholesterol. They may also contain artificial colorings, flavorings, sodium, MSG or salt. In some cases, vitamins and minerals are added. But compared to meat, they are deficient in iron, zinc and other trace minerals.

As with all food products, read the label so you know what you are getting.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service are for people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, handicap or national origin.

READER'S COLUMN

Editor's Note: The following poem was written by Mary Kathleen Latham of Spur, the granddaughter of Bessie and Henry Hibbets of Afton. Mrs. Hibbets works in the Library. Mary Kathleen was 15 years old when she wrote this poem. She is now 17.

God didn't put us on this earth to die by another man's hand.
 If we're going to keep safe our family and friend, we've got to take a stand.
 Yet everyday, around the world, millions die from diseases and starvation.
 If we spent our money on people, not arms, we could save an entire nation.
 So do we stand by to see our children slaughtered, by guns that have no reason?
 As the mindless wars of heartless people keep killing from season to season.
 So the choice is yours; do you sit aside, or stand up and fight what's right?
 No man wants to die, anymore than the next, so each for our life we fight.
 Let's use our money for something that's good, not something to shorten our time.
 To the people who dare to pull the trigger, your life's not worth a dime.
 Each person is someone's family or friend, so your decision should already be made.
 Because, for the life of someone I love, there's nothing I ever would trade.

A little girl went to church for her first time, and she was full of questions. When a baby was presented for baptism, her uncle said, "The parents are giving her to God." When the minister returned the baby to the parents she whispered, "I guess God didn't want that one."

But He did want that one, and He wants you. The Bible says, "Present your bodies to God."

You have much to offer the world. It was built into you by God when you were born. He knows it's there and He knows how to bring it out of you.

You can squander it for self, or you can let God polish it and refine it to bless others.

Give your body to God. He can do much more with it than you can.

Nursing home residents celebrate September birthdays with party

By Lorilla Bradley

September brings us autumn...
And gives us lazy ways...
So just to get our "vim" up
Let's celebrate some "days."

*****

We welcome Ottis Johnson
...Whose years are 69...
He'd love to visit with you
So drop by any time.

*****

We greet our Mr. Calloway
...Who counts from 1904...
We wish him Happy Birthday...
With many, many more!

*****

We salute our Mrs. Lindley
...Her years are 96...
She is a lovely lady
With a smile that really "clicks."

*****

We welcome Mrs. Withers
...She dates from 1901...
And though she's slowed a little
She still loves having fun.

*****

To Mrs. Willie Russell
...She's boasting 88...
We have the best of wishes
For another year that's great!

*****

Let's serenade these people
With the same old Birthday Song
So join us in the singing
And come out good and strong.

*****

Thursday, September 15, was party time at the Rest Home with ladies of the City Park Church of Christ hosting.

The Hesperian photographer came for the "picture taking" after which everyone was ushered into the dining room with the honorees being seated at the "honor" table. Their places were marked with special cards. The table was laid with a white cloth and the centerpiece was a vase of fresh flowers which was a gift to Mrs. Withers.

I will sing to the Lord all my life; I will sing praise to my God as long as I live.

Efforts Focus On Developing Citizens, Leaders of Tomorrow

COLLEGE STATION -- No one can question the fact that young people are the future of America, and the 4-H program is continuing to play a vital role in preparing youth for the future by providing training in leadership, citizenship and coping skills.

Thus the theme of the upcoming National 4-H Week Oct. 2-8, "4-H for Youth for America," points to this country's richest resource, its young people.

"Through 4-H we try to provide youth with opportunities to learn and experience what life has to offer," said H.T. "Tom" Davison, assistant director for 4-H and youth programs with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The Extension Service is the parent organization of the 4-H program, an informal, out-of-school educational program for youth from the third grade to 19 years of age.

We also lay the groundwork to help 4-H members explore opportunities for personal growth and to gain skills that will be useful in later life," Davison said. "In addition, 4-H helps youth to deal with stress and self-esteem and to learn to help others. We like to say that 4-H takes up where school leaves off. We offer experiential education."

Texas boasts some 388,000 4-H members; nationwide, 4-H is more than 4.5 million members strong and is the nation's largest youth organization. More 4-H members today live in suburbs and cities of more than 50,000 population.

Recent research shows that former 4-Hers are more likely to assume community leadership, political and other citizenship roles than people who participated in other youth organizations. "4-H membership teaches youth that the community and giving to the community are important," said Davison.

Vital to the 4-H program are volunteer leaders.

"Volunteer leaders are the backbone of the 4-H program as they provide the organizational leadership for local 4-H clubs as well as training and resources in a host of subject-matter areas," said the 4-H official.

Almost 620,000 volunteer leaders support the 4-H program nationwide, with more than 30,000 of those in Texas. The time, travel and support contributed by these volunteer leaders across the U.S. is estimated to have a value of more than $1 billion a year.

Looking at the 4-H program in Texas, Davison said that the most popular project area is foods and nutrition. Other projects that attract large numbers of 4-Hers include energy, embryology, health (eye care) and safety.

School Newsletter

When the Texas Education Agency allowed schools to operate classes on a 50 minute schedule this year, we were able to start school later and end it earlier, and still permit time for tutoring during the day. If your child needs tutoring in any area, he or she will be able to get help during in-school time. If even more time is required, the students can still make arrangements with their teachers before or after school.

The renovations at the football field have resulted in two major problems. Inside parking has been reduced and seating in the bleachers is limited. The remaining areas of the field are also reduced. The area around the bathrooms, the concession stand, and under the bleachers are to be congested for students to play safely, with or without supervision. Students (or adults) who are constantly getting up and down in the stands are infringing on other people's right to enjoy the game, and their play may endanger themselves and others. The admission price of $1.00 is cheap "babysitting", but the Matadors would prefer that our attention be directed toward the football players and the cheerleaders. Even if a child only has a minor injury, because he or she was hurt through unsafe play, it should not be allowed to happen. The cooperation of the entire community is earnestly solicited in helping improve this problem.

The next four weeks, October 3 through October 28 are when our attendance and contact hours in special programs are counted to determine how much state funding we get this fiscal year. It is extremely important that every student be in attendance during that period, if at all possible. We do not want students who are very ill to jeopardize their health or that of others by coming to school, but it is very important that every student who can come to school during this period be in attendance. Lost revenues from the state have to be made up from local taxes and we don't want that either.

A video entitled "America in Space: The 1st 25 Years" was presented to the school library by PTO through the Campbell Soup Label project.

Following the meeting, parents visited with teachers in their classrooms.

SAY NO! TO DRUGS

Twelve aerial applicators September 20, 21, and 22 got the 25th year of the High Plains Diapause Boll Weevil Control Program off to what officials term a "mediocre" start.

The planes, flying from airports at Spur and Roaring Springs, sprayed insecticide on just under 60,000 acres of weevil-infested cotton in Floyd, Motley, Dickens, Garza, Kent, Crosby and Borden Counties. Flying time was reduced in the first three days by winds in excess of the 10 to 12 miles per hour maximum. Then heavy rains on dirt runways late September 22 prevented take-offs the following day from the two airports in use as well as flights scheduled from the airport at Post.

Surveys indicate a need to spray another 30,000 acres in the initial application, says Program Manager Johnny Anderson. Applications are scheduled on a 10 to 14-day schedule, and if the weather cooperates Anderson says the first treatment should be completed by September 26, well within the requisite time frame. Anderson is employed by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, the producer service organization that has conducted the program through its Boll Weevil Steering Committee since 1964.

The 90,000 acres to be sprayed in this year's first application is about a third more than the 57,000 acres covered in the opening salvo of 1987. Current estimates put aggregate acreage that will require treatment this year at around 750,000, compared to the 615,000-acre total last year. If reached, the 750,000-acre figure this year will be the highest since 1977 when 1,257,620 acres were sprayed.

Ultra low volume malathionis the insecticide used in the program. Applied at the rate of 12 ounces per acre from 20 to 30 feet above the fields, malathion has consistently delivered effective control, officials state.

Kimmel Aviation, Greenwood, Miss., was awarded the contract for this year's spraying. Kimmel's bid of $5.94 per gallon, the lowest of three bids submitted to PCG, was accepted September 1. The per-gallon price, at 12 ounces per acre, equates to an application cost of about 56 cents per acre.

Currently flying for Kimmel are five pilots from Mississippi, one each from Oklahoma and Arkansas and five from the High Plains area. It's anticipated that another four planes will be needed before the end of the program, expected in early November when cold weather and/or harvest destroys the weevil's food supply.

The program objective is to kill the maximum possible percentage of weevils each year before they reach the overwintering sites from which they emerge to attack fruiting plants in the spring of the following year. The program is jointly funded by High Plains cotton producers, the U.S. and Texas Departments of Agriculture. Producers, with a small contribution from TDA, furnish 70 percent of the total cost.

'Chainsaw Willie' Returns to Lorenzo Flea Market

W.D. (Willie D.) Holt, nicknamed "Chainsaw Willie" by his local folk in Mt. Pleasant, Texas, returns to the Lorenzo, Texas, FIRST WEEKEND FLEA MARKET on October 8th and 9th. Willie thrilled many flea marketers last December, but many were disappointed in not seeing him and his sculptures in his last appearance. Willie was raised in Wilkinson (Sugar Hill) community about 9 miles east of Mt. Pleasant, Texas. He grew up working with his father in the woods, so he has come to love and respect the timber he works with at his sawmill and also the wood he uses to create his unusual works of art.

Mr. Holt and wife, Shirley, have been married 33 years, have 5 children and 15 grandchildren. He is self employed, working at his sawmill located next to his home in Wilkinson. After work and in his spare time, he uses the chainsaw for something else besides cutting wood. He sculpts animals and carves Indian pieces out of wood with it. When asked why he got into chainsaw sculpting, he said that he had seen someone else doing it, so he decided to try it. He found he enjoyed the challenge of being able to take an ugly stump and make something useful or eye appealing from it.

W.D. will display a lot of his work at the Flea Market and sculpts while here. He can custom make almost any sculpture as long as he has a picture. Some of his creations are small like squirrels, razorbills, rabbits, and other animals. But some are quite large like Indian pieces he creates. On the front porch of his building in Wilkinson, stands "Sugar Hill Slim," a life-size man just waiting to be waved at. In fact, it's not uncommon for passerby's to wave at Slim because he is dressed in blue painted on pants and a red hat. He was shirtless until winter came and someone told W.D. that Slim might get cold, so they put a shirt on him.

W.D. cuts, trims and shapes his creations with only a chainsaw as his tool. That's why at first glance you may think he's not through, but after a closer look, you can see a lot of the intricate work. He prefers not to polish or treat the wood so that the natural color and smell will be preserved. Each work of art is done from a solid piece of wood (mostly cedar) and stands on its' own. He can turn a cedar stump into a squirrel in less than 30 minutes.

W.D. has been interviewed by the Chicago Tribune, T.V. and various other media. He takes pride in the fact that Glen Fowler, owner of riverboat Queen Maria on Lake Bob Sandlin, listed him as one of the ten most interesting attractions in East Texas tourist information.

Be sure and drop by the LORENZO FIRST WEEKEND FLEA MARKET on Saturday or Sunday, October 8 and 9, and observe "Chainsaw Willie" demonstrating his extraordinary talent. The market will be open October 7, 8 and 9, but "Willie" will only be there Saturday and Sunday.

For more information contact: Walter Scheef, Box 660, Lorenzo, Texas 79343, Phone, (806) 634-5445.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,

Would you help me find a few good men by publishing this letter in your paper? The few good men mentioned are WWII Veterans and were assigned to the 351st Heavy Bombardment Group at Polebrook, England between 1943 and 1945. There are about 5,000 lost souls and some of them may be in your area. We have formed a 351st Association of flying and ground crews and have annual reunions. If you fit the above description, please contact: Ken Vaughn, 1 Shady Lane, Belleville, Ill 62221.

Thank you,
B.G. Cook,
339 Green St.
Rockdale, TX 76567

Ph. 512-446-5158

Dear Barbara,

I recently came across some statistics that, in light of the forth-coming elections, I thought others might find of interest...

--By less than ONE vote per precinct, Woodrow Wilson won California giving him the electoral votes needed to win the presidency in 1916.

--By ONE vote per precinct, Harry Truman carried California and Ohio giving him the winning margin in 1948.

--By an average of only ONE-HALF vote per precinct, John F. Kennedy won the presidency in 1960.

--In 1984, Ronald Reagan lost Minnesota - his rival's home state - by less than one vote per precinct.

--In 1984, only 68% of eligible voters were even registered. Of that number, only 52% actually made it to the polls. That means only 35% of eligible voters exercised their right to vote in the last presidential election.

There is an erroneous belief among we Americans that one persons' vote simply won't make any difference. But, in today's political environment, the opposite is true. We must not let apathy continue to erode the foundations of our great country. We need to realize that with or without our vote, candidates will be elected and laws and public policy will be made. To be apathetic is to surrender these important decisions to others. That's something I don't want to do.

Each of us can make a difference...let's register and vote.

Sincerely,
Robin Boedeker

Social Security Tips

By Terry J. Clements

People who are planning to retire around the first of the year should not wait until then to contact Social Security. To have their checks start on schedule, Social Security recommends that applicants file about 3 months before the month they stop work.

Filing ahead of time gives the applicant time to resolve any problems that may crop up, officials state. Such problems may range from a discrepancy in the available proofs of age to inability to establish the relationship of spouse and children.

A person applying for retirement benefits must be able to establish that he or she will be at least 6 years old when benefits are to start. If a spouse and children are also involved, the applicant will need a marriage license and birth certificates to establish the relationships. Other proofs may be needed if there have been previous marriages, or if there are minor children outside the present marriage.

The preferred proof of age is an official birth certificate or a baptismal certificate issued before age 5. If these are not available, a combination of other evidence may be acceptable. The Social Security office will help a person secure any necessary proofs that are not immediately available.

A person may file a claim for retirement benefits at any Social Security office. A claim may be filed by phone or mail as well as in person. In addition, a person may call and make an appointment to apply for benefits at his or her convenience.

For more information or to file a claim call 293-9623.
