Farmers To Decide Acreage Transfers

A REFERENDUM VITAL to the future economy of Motley County will be held Tuesday (Nov. 23) at five voting boxes in the county. The new plan, which will require two-thirds majority, would make it possible to sell or lease cotton allotments out of the county (not out of state). Presently Motley County has 452 cotton farms with a total of 33,189 acres. It is pointed out that if the allotment transfer plan should be approved, farmers from the more productive Plains irrigated area would perhaps buy the allotments in the dry farming areas.

Banquet Saturday

ANNUAL Motley County 4-H Awards Banquet Will Be Held Here Saturday Evening at the American Legion Building, Starting at 7 p.m.

County Agent Bill Palmeyer said the largest number of awards ever presented here will go to approximately 100 winners. Sharlene Berryman will serve as master of ceremonies. Music will be provided by "The Imperials."

The vote will be taken in connection with the annual cotton marketing quota referendum. Voting hours are 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. at Moseley Implement, Flomot, Matney Grocery, Whiteflat, schoolhouse (community building), Northfield, Court-house, Matador, and Braselton Implement Co., Roaring Springs. The outcome of the marketing quota referendum will have no effect on the lease or sale of allotments.

No allotments may be sold or transferred to a farm in another county unless the producers of cotton in Motley County vote in this referendum to permit such transfers.

Allotments cannot be transferred from a farm subject to a mortgage or other lien, unless the holder agrees to the transfer (if the referendum is approved).

It was bad enough that my neighbors talked about the condition of my yard, but when they began to take pictures and measure the height of native grasses, I decided it must be mowed. I was waiting for a good killing frost so that I could burn away the revolting aspects.

FINEST VIEW IN MATADOR may be had from the portal between Rev. and Mrs. W. F. Gaede. It is a north view from the family room in the new Methodist parsonage overlooking Matador City Park. Open house was held Nov. 1, at the new, three-bedroom home, north and across the street from the First Methodist Church. Approximately 100 friends from all denominations in this and surrounding communities attended. The fine view from the north terrace sliding glass door, was not anticipated until after the house was located. The photo does not show the scope and depth of the view across the park.

Blending Of Modern And Antique Furnishings Is Attractive Touch

DECOR of the new Methodist parsonage is a pleasing combination of the modern and the old, and reflects the personalities of its occupants, Rev. and Mrs. Wilbur F. Gaede.

The modern includes furniture provided by the church and the Woman's Society of Christian Service for the pastor's home, and the "old" are several pieces of antique furniture which belong to the Gaedes.

A new bedroom suite and several other new pieces of furniture have been added to augment that already in use. These include a new blue chair for the living room, a gift from former residents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Solomon of Tullia. This will serve as a companion chair to one previously given by Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Whitworth. A new coffee table and step-table for the living room, and a bedroom lamp were donations from the WSCS.

Blending with the carpeted living room and its modern decor is a handsome, carved cabinet which at one time held a sewing machine belonging to Rev. Gaede's mother. Several other similar pieces are seen in other parts of the house.

The living room is separated from the tiled entry by half-partitions, with decorative posts extending the remainder of the way to the ceiling.

One of the first things observed upon entering this area of the home, is the large, pastel painting above the piano. This is but one of similar pastoral scenes which decorate the home, and which were painted by Mrs. James Lear, Rev. and Mrs. Gaede's daughter, Nita.

An occasional table and a handsome lamp are among several accessory pieces which evoke admiration, and are the fruits of Rev. Gaede's labor. He confesses cabinet work is his hobby, and although he has no

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 1965. THE TRIBUNE IS SUCCESSION TO THE ORIGINAL MOTLEY COUNTY NEWS ESTABLISHED IN MATADOR 1892, AND TO ALL SUBSEQUENT COUNTY PUBLICATIONS.

Nichols and children of Seminoe. Matt Dawson is hospitalized at Matador.

Afton Methodist Church and Roaring Springs Methodist Church, entertained last Sunday with a dinner honoring parents of the pastor, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Meier of Darrouzett. Their son is Rev. Russell Meier. A good attendance was noted from both churches.

COUNTY AGENT PALLMEYER SAYS:

Have you wondered if it better to sell heavy or light calves? These figures might help you reach a decision, as it is a well-known fact that buyers pay a higher price for lighter weight calves of the same quality as those of heavier weights.

Light weight lots averaged 359 lbs. and the heavys weighed 473 lbs. Buyers paid one cent per pound more for the light calves. Average difference was $24.36 in favor of the heavy calves, with the spread being from $12.50 to $38. These figures were compiled over the years of 1962-64 at the McArthur Feeder Sales.

There are several ways to increase weaning weights. The easiest method is to cull the perennially late calving cows and use better management during the breeding season. Bunch calf groups and get a greater percentage of calves during the early part of the calving season.

A little extra feed to some of the cows during the poor feed season prior to calving and after calving should increase milk production. This will cost money, but 200 to 400 lbs. of feed at the right time may well get you back twice the return on calf weights.

Still another way is to use only performance tested bulls proven to be rapid gainers. These will produce rapid gaining calves.

With the hunting season near at hand, the following tips will allow for better relations. For the land owner, how about considering the following: Do not sell something you do not have. Get to know and understand the sportsman; make him welcome to your community and county.

all possible (I have lease forms available for the asking). The agreement may include terms, time limits or duration of lease, boundaries of lease area kinds of game or fish included, names of individuals or families in lease, guest privileges, associated activities of fishing, camping, picnicking, use of shelter in lease.

Explain check out system for reporting kill, give hunters the kind and location of livestock in the pasture to be hunted, encourage the following of wounded game, giving instructions in case a wounded animal crosses a fence.

Consider your neighbors in all matters and expect them to consider you, and use as much care as possible in selection of hunters.

For the hunter, realize that it costs money to produce game or fish, and insist on a lease similar to the one mentioned above. Respect the property as you would your own, obeying all game and fish laws. Always leave gates just as you found them, asking about the kind and location of livestock in the pasture, taking care not to frighten or shoot them.

Follow wounded game, following the landowners suggestions if wounded game crosses a fence. Keep the place you camp and hunt clean, and avoid hunting near boundaries. Know your gun and ammunition, making sure your gun is "sighted-in". Do not use military ammunition, using gun and ammunition that is adequate for the purpose.

Make sure of your target and background - that it is legal game and not domestic livestock or another hunter. Do not make sound shots. Finally, get to know the landowner and respect his wishes. If all parties concerned will follow these suggestions, a happier hunting season will be in store for all.

The purpose of the Junior Rifle Club is to promote rifle safety and marksmanship. If you are not a member, why not investigate the benefits offered?

Be sure to read the label of any insecticide before using. Failure to do so cost one dairyman 30 cows and one bull. While spraying cattle for fly control, the owner ran out of insecticide. He picked up a bottle of insecticide used to control flies on the walls and ceiling, didn't read the label, and the following was the result in Rives, Tenn.

"The Matadors" Featured In Amarillo Paper

A full page feature on "The Matador" by Buck Ramsey appeared in the Sunday (Nov. 7) issue of the Amarillo Sunday News-Globe. Two drawings by the late Harold Bugbee illustrate the feature.

The article formerly appeared in the October issue of "Texas Parade" magazine published in Austin. The Parade feature was illustrated by two Bugbee drawings and a pioneer photograph of cowboys from the Harry Campbell collection and in which his father Henry H. Campbell, founder of the Matadors, appears. The Tribune first published the picture 25 years ago.

Ramsey is an Amarillo writer, 27 years of age and was crippled for life when he was thrown from a horse on the Alibates Division of the Bivins Coldwater Cattle Co. He is a 1956 graduate of Amarillo High School and was an English major during his two years at West Texas State. Despite his injury, he is now working full time as a bookkeeper for Reese Lumber Co., Amarillo.

Ramsey traces the history of the Matadors from the beginning in the late 1870's until the late 1951. It is probable that some of the statements would be questioned by pioneers of this area, but few of them remain. Much of the history is the same as has been handed down for two or three generations, and chronicled by Harry Campbell in his "History of Motley County."

In conclusion he says: "for within the dates of its history are contained the most exciting and romantic days of the Plains history, the day of the cattlemen, the day of the cowboy. On the streets of Texas Plains towns and out in the country there can still be found men who lived the hard life of the Matador cowboy. If you asked them to tell it, the history they would tell would perhaps sound different, tuned to the jingle of spurs and timed to hoof-beats, view from the saddle...

Girls Victorious In 1st Home Game

The Matador girls' basketball team added another victory to their 3-0 season record by rolling over the Roaring Springs Yellowjackets 68-30.

The girls got off to a slower start than usual and the first quarter score of 15-8 showed a scant 7 point lead for the Matadors. However, in the remaining quarters the girls gained momentum and the half time score was 28-15.

During the third quarter, the girls rallied, and both offensively and defensively it was the best quarter of the game. The forwards popped the net for 23 points while the guards held the Yellowjacket offense to 7 points, thus producing a 51-22 score.

The brilliant rebounding by the guards during the fourth quarter allowed Matador to possess the ball most of the time and the score continued to climb. Although Brenda Bailey, the Yellowjackets leading scorer with 21 points worked tirelessly until the horn sounded, the Matadors managed to conclude the game with the season's largest tally, 68-30.

Ruby Storey, who cleared the boards for an astounding number of rebounds, was high point girl with 31 of the Matadors' 68 points. Shelley Stevens, and Karol King followed with 20 and 14 points, respectively. Kathy Lawrence added the other 3.

"B" Girls Win Second Victory

The "B" team defeated Roaring Springs "B" team for their second victory of the season with a 42-15 score.

The Matador team led the scoring throughout the game and the first quarter score was 9-1. Brenda Moore paced the guards on rebounds holding the Yellowjackets to only 14 more points in the remaining three quarters.

Although Roaring Springs' Willita Palmer and Susan Payne fought gallantly, the Matador defense proved too strong and the half time score was 21-15.

During the third and fourth quarters the Matadors successfully swept down court for a total of 21 points, thus ending the game with a 42-15 score.

Theresa Richardson's free swinging style made her a stand-out on the Matador offense and she contributed 31 points to the victory. Ella Brown added 5 points, and Deborah Tison, Barbara Slover, and Georgia Campbell rounded out the score with 2 points each.

Team Captains Are Announced

Leading the Matador girls basketball team in what appears to be a winning season this year are newly elected captains: Ruby Storey, Karol King and Olivia Campbell.

Ruby, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Storey, is a senior starter. This year she transferred to MHS from Floydada, where she played for three years with the Della Plains Hornets and served as their captain last year. Karol King, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis King and Olivia Campbell, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bundy Campbell, are both three year starters on the Matador team.

Ruby and Karol are both high scoring forwards while Olivia is a defensive standout.

Rally Features Corps Majorettes

Friday afternoon, November 12, 1965, the Matador versus Rule pep rally got under way. As the students marched into the auditorium, it was quite obvious that the anticipation and desire for victory filled the minds and hearts of every student, teacher cheerleader and Matador. In the boys' minds was one goal: to mash, mangle, mar, and mutilate the Rule Kittens in a clean fight for victory.

The roof trembled, and up and down the immortal halls of Matador High School the sounds of "Matador Boy," "Mister Touchdown," and "Who are the Matadors?" rang triumphantly. Then Larry Bostick, David Garrison, and Jesse Perkins, stood at the cheerleaders' beckoning, and reassured the entire school that if the victory was ever going to be won, it would be Matador over Rule.

The tension tightened and the pace stepped up as the pep club cheered feverishly the Rule death chants of "Go Matadors Go," and MHS Fight. Then Shelley Stevens, Francis Martin, Pat Day, and Sue Robbins, the majorettes, performed a snappy twirling routine. After a few more yells, Mrs. Grace Timmons rose and added the "Timmons Touch" to the pep rally by stating, "You gotta have love for the game." Coach Byerley also encouraged the boys by telling them they would win if they did their best. The rally ended with the school song.

Make-up Program Given By Guest

Mrs. Don Finkner, of Lubbock, presented the FFA program, Wednesday, November 10, in the high school auditorium. Mrs. Finkner is the owner of Charlene's Dress Shop, located in the Monterey Shopping Center in Lubbock.

Giving a demonstration on make-up she illustrated how various items of make-up can change one's appearance. Mrs. Finkner's theory is that, although clothes are usually considered the fashion, make-up is fashion for the face and without it no woman is complete. She summarized her theory by saying that, "a person's intelligence tells her what is the best thing to use and intelligence should be used as a guide."

The rest of the program was composed of making a charm bracelet representing a person's appearance, and the charms put on the bracelet by Judy Pitts, Sandra Sandefer, Patsy Green and Barbara Slover were cleanliness, neatness, make-up, and smile.

The Round Up

Nancy Traweek, an Austin College freshman, writes that after 5 weeks she has the cast removed from her broken foot.

Nancy is doing fine in school, and French, in which she is making an "A" is her favorite subject. In English class we are reading the Odyssey and it's so much better than the Iliad.

Nancy added, She gave a delightful witty description of each of her teachers and their habits. Like most of the college students she will return to Matador for Thanksgiving.

The class business managers Pat Day, Leadell Luckett, Ann Marshall, and Vickie Jameson, were busy last week collecting money for the school pictures which arrived November 10th.

M. H. S. students are busy this week with both school activities and six weeks' tests given on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday.

The English IV students have just completed a 3 factor thesis theme on "Why Telemachus left Home," to supplement their study of Homer's Odyssey.

The English III class has written two themes in connection with the Scarlet Letter by Hawthorne. One was a critique on Hawthorne's description of a character and the other was on one of the men in the custom house where Hawthorne once worked.

All English classes gave book reports on their required reading last Friday.

One word of advice. Inadequate automobile insurance placed in companies of which you know little, can add only to the misery and hardship in case of accident. Just buy the best. It pays!

How to make a holiday last all year long

"How often do you call Long Distance to friends or members of the family?"

"Well, I expect to make some calls on Thanksgiving and maybe on Christmas."

"Why wait for a holiday or special occasion to call — that's the old fashioned way!"

"How come? Is the phone company having a sale just now?"

"No, not that. New low-cost long distance rates are now in effect all day Sunday and every night after eight — so now for a dollar or less, you can keep in touch more often."

"Say! That's a good idea! Tonight I'll make some important calls I've been putting off."

"Fine! Thanks to new low rates you can call anywhere in continental U. S. * station-to-station and talk three minutes for $1.00 or less. This is the big communications bargain — the modern way to keep in touch at all times."

* Except Alaska.
