MRS. JAMES YUILL ROBB JR.

Betty Canon, James Yuill Robb Jr. Wed In Longview Church Ceremony

The First Methodist Church in Longview was the scene Thursday evening at 8 of the ceremony which united in marriage Betty Canon of Longview and James Yuill (Jr.) Robb Jr. of Big Spring. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Olin Buz Canon, 609 Sylvan Dr., Longview, and Mr. and Mrs. James Yuill Robb Sr., 606 Matthews, Big Spring. The Rev. Sloan Gentry officiated in the single ring ceremony. The church was decorated with woodwardia fern, white gladioli, stock and asters, and the vows were exchanged before a sunburst arrangement beneath wedding bells hanging from an arch. Candles lined the aisles and illumined the scene. Peggy Bivins sang "The Lord's Prayer," "Through The Years" and "Entreat Me Not To Leave Thee." She was accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Bullard of Shreveport, who also played the traditional wedding music. Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of white Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over Dutchess satin. The moulded bodice was fashioned of lace with a wide decollete neckline outlined by scallops of the lace, intricately embroidered with seed pearls and iridescent paillettes. Short cap sleeves, banded by the beaded lace, were complimented by mitts that tapered to petal points over her hands. The full, gathered skirt, formed of layers of tulle over satin, was accented by deep godets of lace embroidered with the same bead motif on the satin skirt and extending around the wide fan-shaped train. Her veil of imported French illusion extended beyond her fingertips from a deep calot of shirred illusion sprinkled with seed pearls. She carried a white orchid surrounded by stephanotis and lilies-of-the-valley. Mrs. William Burke Patterson was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. W. C. Shuford of Nashville, Tenn., Mrs. O. B. Canon Jr., Mary Louise Knott, Sue Hall, Sally Sample and Kay Keoum. Her attendants were identically attired in demi-tasse length dresses of soft rose silk shantung taffeta fashioned with a tightly moulded bodice. The strapless neckline was accented by a petal effect in front, and the full, pleated skirts were complimented by gathered underskirts edged by accordion pleated nylon tulle. Their shoulders were covered by nylon tulle stoles and they wore matching pumps. Mr. Robb Sr. served as his son's best man. Groomsman were Jerry Houser, Eddie Houser, Jim Bill Little and Paul Schaffer, all of Big Spring; I. D. Russell of Childress and Hershel Forrester, football teammates of the bridegroom at SMU. Robb Etheridge, another teammate, and Buz Canon Jr. lighted the candles, and ushers were Benton Musselwhite, Ben White, Pat Knight and Dick Hightower, all football teammates. Jimmy Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ewing Adams, was ringbearer. The bride's mother was attired in a floor length dress of gray lace and marquisette over pink net, and the bridegroom's mother wore a dress of pastel coral marquisette. The bride is a February graduate of SMU, where she was a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. The bridegroom received his degree this month at SMU, where he was a two-year letterman on the football team, playing guard, and was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Sigma Iota Epsilon, honorary management fraternities. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Booth and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kevell were hosts at the reception in the garden at the Booth home, 703 Sylvan Dr., following the ceremony. Pink flowers floated in the fish pond centering the garden and the couple received at the base of winding steps at the entrance. Mrs. George O'Brien Jr. of Fredericksburg, Va., sister of the bridegroom, and Judy Harris of Fort Worth presided at the bride's table, and Mrs. Charles Brown served the five-tiered colonnaded wedding cake. Mrs. Julian Hurst, Mrs. Clark Sample, Mrs. M. H. Bennett of Big Spring and Mrs. Claud Hamrick of Nashville, Tenn., served punch. Guests were registered at a table placed under a garden umbrella which was covered with greenery and magnolia blossoms. When the couple left for New Orleans and a Caribbean cruise to

Date Cottons Are Attuned To Music

Dance to whatever tune you prefer this summer—in a cotton summer-evening dress that matches the music! Styles are sophisticated, sentimental or sweet-and-hot, just like popular dance music, reports the National Cotton Council. Subtly striped cotton tweed used for a halter-neck dress is sophisticated as the rhumba. Many designers like the wordy look of crumpled white cotton, or jacquard cotton, metallic Persian prints and black and white matelasse pique. Romantic as the waltz are the whirling, sheer cottons—exquisite organdies, iridescent chambrays, airy voiles and dotted Swisses. Styles feature the bouffant, petticoated skirt and flattering decollete neckline. Frills make these cottons even more feminine; pearls and rhinestones on white organdie and white applique on dark brown organdie; big white dots embossed on chambray and floral or geometric prints on voile and dotted Swiss. Attuned to "cool jazz" music are the gay young dresses in charcoal denim sparkling with rhinestones; faded blue denim embroidered with red hearts; white pique trimmed with jet embroidery; quilted, checked gingham, and dainty calico prints.

Halter-Top Style

Sleeveless lines give a halter-topped look to this sun-seeking tailored dress; four flaring gores bring new swish to the skirt! Make it also with short raglan sleeves—as a cotton casual.

Many wise and successful men will make no important decisions without sleeping over them, and praying over them. The subconscious mind in sleep some say hands down wisdom. There is a technique in prayer which must not be ignored. "If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God." — James 1:5.

Seizure Of Leasing Power Would Be Crowning Climax Of The Grab

The arrogance of the bureaucrats knows no bounds. The word is out in Washington that the General Services Administration and the Interior Department have a plan the start issuing federal leases to oil-rich tidelands as soon as the U.S. Senate fails to override the veto of the legislation giving title to the tidelands to the individual states. (The House has already voted to override, but the issue is in doubt in the Senate.)

Snyder Bond Strategy Fails-- He Won't Pay The Market Price

Suppose you had $3,000 invested at 2 1/2 per cent. And suppose somebody came along and said "Look, I need money. I'll give you 2 1/2 per cent for that $3,000, provided you lend me an additional $1,000, and I'll pay you 2 1/2 per cent interest on the extra thousand."

On that basis, you might suspect the Treasury wouldn't have been able to handle the crowd wishing to make the swap. But you'd suspect wrong. If all the bonds had been turned in, the Treasury would have raised $4,900,000,000 in new funds. Actually it raised only $450,000,000, or less than 10 per cent of the potential. And of the $450,000,000 of new cash, $132,000,000 came from Treasury investment funds.

Snyder tried a gimmick, which had worked once. In March, 1951, the Federal Reserve and the Treasury wanted to relieve pressure on the bond market. They reached an accord, under which the Treasury issued 30-year 2 1/2 per cent bonds. They were to be swapped for long-term 2 1/4s as now. The gimmick was long. The new bonds were nonmarketable.

The Air Force, which has completely severed itself from the Army and become established as a major branch of the Armed Forces in its own right, is going a step further on July 1. Panyushkin New Soviet Envoy To Red China

MOSCOW (AP)—Russia today announced her fourth major diplomatic switch abroad in two weeks. The Soviet Union named Alexander Panyushkin, former ambassador to Washington, as her ambassador to Communist China.

Panyushkin now is on his way home from the United States. In China he will replace Gen. Nikolai Vassilievich Roscin. Newspapers here reported that Roscin is being relieved from his duties, since 1948, first as an envoy to Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist government and later to the victorious Red regime.

The appointment of Panyushkin to Peking came as a surprise to foreign diplomats in Moscow. They had expected him to get an important job in the foreign office here.

The China post, however, is considered one of the most important in the Soviet diplomatic service—an advancement over the Washington assignment, if anything.

IF REDS PROPAGANDIZE

Another 'Recess' Threatened By UN

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—The chief Communist negotiator in the stalled Korean truce talks today said the United Nations "is in no position to dictate anything either on the battlefield or in this conference." The blast by North Korean Gen. Nam Il came at a 16-minute no-progress session at Panmunjom, one of the shortest in weeks. Otherwise, Nam used softer words for the second straight day but remained unyielding on the final issue blocking an armistice—prisoner exchange.

Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison, the chief Allied negotiator, agreed to another session tomorrow at 11 a.m. (9 p.m. EST Friday.) But he hinted to newsmen afterward that the U.N. may impose another recess if the Reds continue their propaganda blasts.

A Red charge that three civilians inside the neutral zone were wounded by Allied artillery last week backfired on the Communists at meetings of liaison officers before and after the main truce sessions. Marine Col. James C. Murray told the Reds they had been keeping combat troops within the zone. Another meeting of liaison officers was set on this question, which was not discussed by the senior delegates.

Harrison held a whispered conference with his aides before agreeing to tomorrow's top-level session. "We considered whether it was worthwhile to come back tomorrow," Harrison told newsmen. The Allies took a three-day walkout last week in an unsuccessful effort to needle the Communists to change their insistence on return of all 169,000 Allied-held prisoners.

Harrison again reminded Nam "that your side is in no position to dictate anything either on the battlefield or in this conference. I deem that the sooner your side realizes this fact, the sooner there will be an advent of an armistice." During the junior delegate sessions, Murray warned the Reds: "The conference area was not established to protect your front-line troops."

He told newsmen the injured civilians were close to Red troops during June 5 shelling and apparently drifted over into the neutral zone to avoid the barrage.

"Some of the fragments were very near the edge. Whether they were in or not, we still don't know," he added.

Col. Chang Chun San, Communist liaison officer, denied knowledge of combat troops within the conference area. Murray said the Allies resumed the zone after the Red protest. This apparently showed that three Red outposts on its northern perimeter actually were inside. A re-investigation was agreed to, after Murray recommended marking the boundaries of the 1,000-yard conference site and urged the Reds to withdraw civilians from the area.

Assessments For Glasscock Demo Candidates Told

GARDEN CITY—Candidate assessments were announced here Thursday evening by the Glasscock County Democratic Executive Committee.

Assessments for places on the ballot include: Sheriff and tax assessor-collector, $70; district and county clerk, $70; county judge, $65; treasurer, $31; commissioners, $31; Justice of peace, $21.

Rennell McDaniel, county Democratic chairman, said that candidates must pay their fee to him by June 21.

One box has been added in Glasscock County since the 1950 elections. It is in the south part of the county and is located at the St. Laurence store. The increased population of the newly developed St. Laurence farming district made the addition necessary, said McDaniel.

Colo. Citizens Agree Better Parks Needed

COLORADO CITY.—At Thursday's Town Hall meeting in Colorado City, scores of townspeople told Chamber of Commerce officials and each other that the city's number one need is more and better parks and playgrounds.

The occasion was a community clinic sponsored by the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce, and assisted by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Ralph Duncan, of the WTCC, spent the day in Colorado City assisting Dub Oliver, local manager, in conducting the clinic.

Colorado City has one partially developed public park—Ruddick Park—at the east edge of town along Lone Wolf Creek. It has not been improved in more than 15 years and facilities built in the 1890s are considerably deteriorated.

Second need seen by Colorado City citizens was for a larger industrial payroll. Oliver said that the Chamber is just completing an industrial survey, to be used to lure manufacturing firms into Mitchell County. Suggestions included a textile mill, to use the Mitchell County cotton crop; asphalt tile, with a supply assured by the Col-Tex Refinery; and salt processing companies to use the county's large underground brine supply.

Needs expressed by farmers and ranchers were more farm to market roads, additional soil and water conservation programs, and the extension of rural telephones.

Other civic needs pointed out by local citizens were stricter enforcement of present sanitary laws, and sewer and water extension to Latin American and Negro sections.

Colorado City's "stop" signs were mentioned, with those interested, suggesting that a study be made in an effort to find some course of action. Colorado City has stop signs in such number that drivers have complained their progress is distressingly impeded.

Longhorn Ordnance Plant Is Due To Be Reactivated By Army

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—Texas Rep. Patman said yesterday the Army will reactivate the Longhorn Ordnance Plant at Karnack, near Marshall, and build a 30 million dollar installation there.

Patman said the plant will turn out a new propellant for guided missiles and other ultra-modern weapons and employ 1,000 persons. It will be operated under contract with the government by the Thiokol Corp.

He said the money already had been appropriated by Congress, and there should be no delay in allocation of funds by the Defense Department for the construction.

Production is expected to get under way early next year. Patman said the manufacture of the propellant probably will result later in further enlargement of the defense manufacturing center.

Truman Tosses Mac Political Question Into Laps Of Army

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Neither President Truman nor the Pentagon appears willing to say whether they think Gen. Douglas MacArthur is violating Army regulations in agreeing to be the keynote speaker at the Republican national convention.

Truman told his news conference yesterday he regards the keynote role as political, but as to whether he thought MacArthur should retire from active duty before filling it, the President said that is the Army's problem.

In answer to another question, Truman said he had not discussed the matter with Army officials, but if he is not satisfied with what they do he said he would call them down.

Just wait and see, he told reporters.

The Army announced last Tuesday it was not considering any action in connection with MacArthur's designation as convention keynote speaker.

Since then, it is learned, the Army has made it plain it also does not intend to act later, that it will do nothing about the matter. That position is described as being predicated on the belief that when Congress created the five-star rank for certain Army and Navy officers it established a special category of rank, different from any other.

All this had the effect of leaving an atmosphere of uncertainty around the status of any other general or GI who might decide to take an active part in the political campaign.

A reporter asked the Army if its position in the MacArthur matter meant that Army regulation 600-10, section 17, which bars Army personnel on active duty from engaging in political activity, was no longer in force, and that any Army man could participate actively in a campaign.

After an hour's consideration, an Army spokesman said the answer was "no."

Is Gen. MacArthur the exception in the application of this regulation? the spokesman was asked.

There was another upstairs conference. The spokesman's answer this time was:

"The Department of the Army has nothing further to say on this subject."

The regulation specifies that members of the Army while on active duty shall not participate in any political management or campaign. That prohibition, the regulation states, includes, "among other things, activity at political conventions or on political committees, participation in political campaigns, the making of political speeches, the publication of articles, or any other public activity looking to the influencing of an election or the solicitation of votes for themselves or others."

persisted today the belief—or at least hope—that the general might request retirement or inactive status before July 7 rolls around and the national convention gets under way at Chicago.

Methodist Leader Accused Of Being Short In Funds

FORT WORTH, June 13 (AP)—A Methodist lay leader is accused of being short more than $115,000 in a church account for which he was treasurer, the Star-Telegram reported yesterday.

Hal Cherry Sr. was accused of the shortage in a report by the Rev. F. E. Riley of Fort Worth at the Central Texas Conference of the church at Waco. Rev. Riley is chairman of the conference Minimum Support Commission.

Cherry, a Fort Worth food products manufacturer, told the Star-Telegram he used church funds in connection with his business.

Rival Texas GOP Factions Welcome TV

By The Associated Press

Texas Taft and Eisenhower Republican leaders say they will welcome the white glare of television when they fight it out at Chicago.

Henry Zweifel, state leader for Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, said Thursday that his group wants the world to know the account they'll give at the Credentials Committee hearings at the Republican National Convention.

Zweifel's statement was in reply to one by H. J. (Jack) Porter of Houston, state leader for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Porter wants the entire Chicago hearing on the Texas fight televised "so the nation can get facts about the deal by Taft forces" at the Mineral Wells state GOP convention.

Zweifel replied: "We have no say in the matter but if it were left up to us we would welcome television. We want the world to know what happened in Texas. Let the nation see the conspiracy by Jack Porter to use dishonest pleas in advertising and mislead organizations to foster a fraud upon the citizens of Texas by advising Democrats that the pledge meant nothing, that could vote in Republican precinct conventions for Eisenhower, then vote in the July Democratic primaries, and also vote for whom ever they please in November."

Ike forces decided that two Republicans who supported him but remained loyal to the old guard GOP faction will be on the outside looking in when the general comes to Dallas June 21.

Alvin Lane, state Eisenhower co-chairman, said that R. P. (Dick) Wall of Dallas and George C. Hopkins of Willsboro weren't invited to attend a closed dinner for the general.

Wall and Hopkins, who said they favored Eisenhower, were named delegates by the pro-Taft convention at Mineral Wells. The two sent a telegram to the general asking that he see them in Dallas.

Ike Seeking To Woo Pennsylvania Votes

By LEONARD A. UNGER

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower provided a picnic atmosphere today for the job of wooing Gov. John S. Fine and the pivotal Pennsylvania Republican delegation into his presidential camp.

The five-star general threw open his 188-acre farm on the fringe of this historic Civil War battleground for a shirt-sleeved outing with the Keystone State's 70 delegates and their alternates.

Eisenhower's first face-to-face meeting with the bulk of the delegation will follow a pattern he adopted in New York. That is, offering himself for questioning on issues involved in the presidential race.

Although newsmen have been invited to the farm, they have been asked to leave during the questioning.

Eisenhower is expected also to give a five-minute talk to the townspeople here before the delegates meet gets underway.

Fine, a key figure in the GOP

President-picking picture, so far is uncommitted to any candidate. A poll by the Associated Press which he heads shows 20 favoring Eisenhower, 18 for Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio and 32 undecided but inclined to follow Fine's leadership.

The Pennsylvania governor arranged for the picketing picnic at the request of Eisenhower leaders. He also will arrange similar meetings in behalf of Taft.

Backgrounding the picnic meeting is a report that Fine is a party to negotiations to weld the Pennsylvania, Michigan and Maryland delegations into a harmony bloc with potent voice in picking the GOP presidential nominee.

Gov. Theodore McKeldin of Maryland said last night he already has been approached on the proposition, ostensibly by a Fine emissary. The Pennsylvania governor has disclaimed knowledge of the plan.

Eisenhower leaves here tonight for a major speech in Detroit tomorrow.

Fine has said he will not make public his preference for the Republican presidential nomination until the Chicago convention.

After the Pennsylvania delegation meets with both Eisenhower and Taft, Fine said, "I will sit down and counsel with them and all of us will come to a conclusion as to whom we will support."

Eisenhower was questioned yesterday by more than 100 Republican convention delegates and prominent party members from New Jersey.

He told them in New York that the decision to partition Germany into separate zones of occupation was taken against his advice. The situation left Berlin cut off inside Russian territory.

He also said:

1. He would have invoked the Taft-Hartley Act in the steel strike dispute.
2. He considers the seizure of the steel industry by President Truman to have been illegal.
3. Taking Gen. Matthew Ridgway's conception as his own, he sees no "definite answer" to the problem of ending the war in Korea.
4. He would not favor bombing beyond the Yalu river, the accepted boundary between Chinese-held Manchuria and Korea.

The New Jersey group saw Eisenhower immediately after it had seen Taft in a similar session.

Taft Is Meeting Delaware Group

By TOM BRADSHAW

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft turned his full attention toward Delaware's 12-member Republican delegation today in his pre-convention swing through the Middle Atlantic belt.

The Ohio candidate for the GOP presidential nomination was scheduled to meet with the Delaware group at the farm of former U.S. Senator C. Douglass Buck, near Wilmington, after coming here from New York.

Following the Eisenhower session, Delaware Delegation Chairman Clair J. Killoran reported a lineup of seven-to-three for the general over Taft, with two delegates uncommitted.

Delaware State Sen. Thomas Peeney has insisted, on the other hand, that seven of the delegates favor Taft and four Eisenhower with one still undecided.

The latest Associated Press poll of the Delaware delegates showed six for Taft, four for Eisenhower and two still uncommitted.

Nine of New Jersey's convention votes were claimed by Taft after his meeting with the delegates from that state yesterday. An Associated Press poll showed six New Jersey delegates for Taft and 32 for Eisenhower.

Before leaving New York, Taft said he believed the United Nations should pull its troops out of Korea as soon as the South Koreans can be adequately armed.

In the meantime, he said, we should "drag our feet" in the Korea truce talks until American production can reach that necessary arms output.

Mattews Resigns Post At JC To Join Uvalde School

Wayne Matthews, teacher of Industrial Arts at Howard County Junior College, has resigned that position to become Dean and Registrar of Southwest Texas Junior College at Uvalde.

WAYNE MATTHEWS

Mattews informed the HCJC board of trustees he would prefer being released at the end of the first semester of school so that he might begin work in Uvalde by August 1.

Mattews came to Big Spring in June of last year from Ozona, where he had taught industrial arts in the high school since 1947.

Since joining the staff of HCJC, he has taught Woodworking, Machine Shop, Welding and Engineering and Mechanical Drawing.

He also served as chairman of the Red Cross drive for the college, on the committee on Public Relations and various other groups connected with promotion of the college.

"HCJC is an institution of which the people of this area should be very proud," Matthews said, in announcing his resignation. "I am sincerely happy to have had a part in it. I sincerely hope that, under the leadership of the new president the college progresses in the future as rapidly as it has in the past."

At Uvalde, he will be associated with E. C. Dodd, who recently resigned the presidency of HCJC to accept a similar position at Uvalde.

Govt. Decides Against Leasing Tides Oil Areas

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—The government has decided not to lease offshore oil and gas lands under authority of the Surplus Property Act, Secy. of the Interior Oscar Chapman said yesterday.

Chapman told the committee that recent public discussions of the situation would affect adversely the government's interest regarding leases. He said this was the reason the President thought the plan be given to the possibility of such a leasing program," he told the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Chapman said presidential approval would have been necessary for him to act under authority of an undated order signed by Jess Larson, General Services administrator. The order never was made effective.

Air Body Takes Away Vote Of Six Nations Who Fail To Pay Dues

MONTREAL (AP)—The International Civil Aviation Organization has taken away the vote from six member nations because they haven't paid their dues. ICAO says they owe more than half a million dollars.

The delinquents are Poland, Czechoslovakia, Bolivia, El Salvador, Guatemala and Haiti.

The move, taken here at the final plenary session of the organization's assembly yesterday, does not affect other membership rights of the six nations. They can, for example, still send delegates to meetings.

Fowler Is Fired As Vernon Boss

VERNON — The managerial axe has fallen for the first time in the 1952 Loughorn Baseball League. Chet Fowler was relieved of his duties as field general of the Vernon Dusters here this morning. Al Richardson will continue as "temporary manager," according to Marvin Sharp, president of the Wilbarger Baseball Club. Richardson has been at the helm of the Dusters since June 6, when Fowler left Vernon on a baseball player scouting trip. Fowler will remain with the club, but in a capacity of business manager.

Yankees Head For Wigwam And Crucial Tribe Set

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
Casey (the prophet) Stengel leads his New York Yankees west today in first place—just like he said he would in Boston on the way home from his first western swing. Stengel gave out with the following: "If we can win anywhere, it's at home. We should be able to go up and grab the lead sometime in the next two weeks. As the Yanks then nestled in fourth place, five games off the pace, it sounded like a bold prophecy. "I was afraid they (Cleveland) had me after taking those three in New York," said Casey. "But they didn't grab their opportunity. They let Boston and us get back and we're going to stay."

Stengel wasn't kidding. Once the Yanks got home they proceeded to blast away at a 12-of-15 pace, winning 10 of 11 from the western teams. Both the Yanks and Red Sox caught Cleveland—and passed them. The Yanks' first test of their second western swing won't be long delayed. They bump into the Indians tonight, opening a four-game series. Allie Reynolds (7-3), who has turned in 10 straight complete games, faces Mike Garcia (8-3) in the big battle.

Young Tom Morgan came up with a fine three-hit shutout in yesterday's Yankee Stadium finale, 3-0, over last place Detroit. It was the first complete game of the year for Morgan. His pitching was backed up by Hank Bauer's seventh homer and three straight hits by rookie Bob Cerv as the Yanks ran their win string to six.

Sid Hudson, acquired from Washington Tuesday, kept the Boston Red Sox in step with the Yanks, only 13 percentage points out of first place. Hudson needed relief help from young Ivan Delock in the ninth to subdue the enraged St. Louis Browns, 7-5.

The seething Browns played the game under protest because player-manager Marty Marion had been suspended indefinitely because of Wednesday's argument with Umpire Bill McDougale. Hoot Evers' home run and two doubles by Billy Goodman led the attack on loser Duane Pillette.

Opinions Mixed On Open Dates, Poll Reveals

AUSTIN—The Executive Secretary of the Texas Game & Fish Commission said the sportsmen's poll on fall hunting dates has produced some "strange preferences." He explained that the most unexpected trend in the balloting centers around a reversal of opinion as between the north and south zones for mourning dove dates.

The Executive Secretary said the greatest block of south zone votes—443—suggested October 1 for the opening date for mourning doves. The largest north zone block—408—suggested November 1 for the opener.

Ordinarily the north zone season is opened earlier (it was September 1st last year) and the south zone season is opened much later (it was November 15).

The final decisions are made by the United States Fish & Wildlife Service since mourning doves are migratory. This top level agency usually bases its decisions, where possible, on recommendations of state game and fish units.

Florence Chadwick Will Retire Soon

GROSSINGER, N. Y., June 13 (AP)—Four more swims and Florence Chadwick is going to call it quits, "win, lose or die." The only woman to swim the English Channel two ways, the 32-year old former stenographer is going to take one final crack at the Channel in August in an attempt to break Tom Blower's record for the England to France crossing.

NO GAMES PLAYED

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Everyone who knows the youngster was pleased to learn that Big Spring's Gene Carpenter was offered a scholarship to play basketball at Texas Tech. However, he is being advised by some to play a year or two of junior ball first. That group, let it be stated, has his interest at heart. Gene will need the experience, he said, to compete against the senior college boys. If he attends the senior school, he faces the prospect of sitting on the bench for a couple of seasons because the Raiders rarely, if ever, play the underclassmen.

If he attended HCJC or some other junior college, he would be fighting for a regular berth on the team. And, if he continued to develop as he did his senior year in high school, not only Tech but every other school in the Southwest would be after him when he finished junior college. At any rate, he has the good wishes of this writer and every one acquainted with him. He's the type of boy that makes no enemies.

DAVIS BUSY AS A BEE UPON RETURN HERE
Incidentally, the HCJC mentor, Harold Davis, hit the ground running upon his return here from a US Marine assignment in California. He had to begin immediately as an instructor in summer school at HCJC. He had to get moved. He had countless other things to take care of. And he did purchase a home, which called for a lot of attention.

Davis is already beating the bushes for material, though. He feels he will compel respect on the cage courts if he can induce all the lads who played here in 1951-52 to return to classes in the fall. Chances are good that they will.

Davis is Hollywood's idea of an athletic personality, good looking, clean-cut and possessed with charm and personality. A real credit to all sports.

Four of the seven schools in District 3-AAA will have new football mentors this fall. That would be McKinney, Denton, Greenville and Sherman.

Carrell Wiggally, who performed as a first sacker for the Midland WT-NM League club back around 1939, gave it the game try for Class D Sherman recently but found his underpinnings had gone back too far on him.

Americans Heavy Favorites In Wightman Cup Matches
WIMBLEDON, England, June 13 (AP)—The Wightman Cup tennis matches got under way on Wimbledon's No. 1 court today and experts all through England could see nothing less than a sweep for the American girls over their British counterparts.

The British women did not share this pessimism. They expected to put up a battle. Among the four American girls are Wimbledon's current champion, Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., and 17-year-old Maureen Connolly, who is strongly fancied to add the Wimbledon title later this month to her American championship.

Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., and Shirley Fry of Akron, O., complete the American team. The British have named six girls to tackle the American quartet. Mrs. Jean Quertier-Rinkel, who a few days ago became the first British girl ever to beat Miss Brough, seems to have the best chance of whipping the Americans.

Others on the team are Mrs. Jean Walker-Smith, Mrs. Joy Mottram, Susan Partridge, Pat Ward, and Helen Fletcher.

Giammalva Vies With Hernandez In Net Tourney

AUSTIN, June 13—Top-seeded Sammy Giammalva of Houston and Johnny Hernandez, seeded sixth, meet today in the semifinals of the men's singles in the Texas tennis championships. Giammalva beat Glenn Land, University of Oklahoma ace from Denison yesterday, 6-1, 6-2.

Hernandez, a University of Texas freshman from San Antonio, upset Clint Nettleton of Austin, 6-3, 6-4. The other semifinal match will be played Saturday with Bernard (Tut) Barzzen meeting the winner of the Art Stiles-Pancho Contreras quarterfinal tilt. Contreras, a Mexico City entry, plays Stiles today.

Julian Oates and Bill Harris of the University of Texas moved into the quarterfinals in their men's doubles title defense. They beat Scott Irvin, Austin, and Stiles, 4-6, 6-10, 6-3.

Barzzen and DeBerry, second seeded team, won over Joe Adams, Odessa, and Hernandez, 6-2, 6-2. Contreras and Alan Graham, Houston, top seeded in the junior boys' doubles, blanked John Rosenquist and Lem Scarbrough, Austin, 6-0, 6-0.

The top women's team of Gladys Helman, Houston, and Lou Cille Scoggins, Galveston, won over Ann Allison and Susan Hamilton, Austin, 6-1, 6-2 to enter the semifinals.

Sportsmen's Arrests In Sharp Increase

AUSTIN—Fishermen neglecting to obtain the $185 state fishing license were checked in such numbers last month that the arrest report of the Game and Fish Commission showed a sharp increase for the first time in several months.

This was reported by the Director of Law Enforcement for the Commission who said May cases totaled 310 for total fines and court costs of $6,740.40 compared with 190 cases and fines and costs of $3,470.20 for April. He explained that all but 92 of the 310 cases in May involved infractions of fishing laws. Arrests for failure to have proper individual licenses totaled 109 but 11 of these were for lacking the non-resident permit.

Forty three cases were based on illegal methods of taking fish. Twelve of these were for using an electrical device.

HOOPER, DAVIS IN NCAA FIELD

BERKELEY, Calif., June 13 (AP)—Winnowing of the field from which the United States Olympic track team will be chosen starts today with preliminaries in the National Collegiate Athletic Association championships. The first six U. S. citizens in each event here qualify for the final Olympic tryouts in Los Angeles June 27-28, along with six from the National AAU championships and first place winners and a scattering of seconds in the All Service meet.

The trials start at 4 p.m. (CST) with the finals Saturday at 2 p.m. (CST).

There will be some bitter duels today and tomorrow. Darrow Hooper of Texas A&M, defending champion in the shot who has hit 59 feet 1/4 inches this spring, faces Parry O'Brien, Southern California, who has done 58-6 1/4.

J. Lewis Hall of Florida, defending his high jump crown, must fight off Walter Davis, amazing product of Texas A&M who did 6-11 1/4 only to have an inch knocked off because of a slight hump in the takeoff. Hall has made 6-8.

Wagon Yard Wins Over Anderson

The Wagon Yard Trailer Courts women's softball team battered Anderson Music Company, 8-1, in a practice softball game played on the Salvation Army diamond here Thursday afternoon. Marie Shafer blanked the Musicians in four of the five innings played. A home run by the opposing hurler, Frances Tille, in the third robbed her of a shutout.

The Wagon Yard team plays in Snyder Saturday night.

Cleveland also clung on the Yanks' heels, only a half game back, by beating Washington, 7-4, for Bobby Feller's sixth win. A six-run explosion, including pinch-hitter Pete Reiser's three-run homer, knuckled Spec Shea in the third.

Feller, knocked out in his last two starts, went the route with a 10-hitter including Mickey Vernon's homer, a pair of doubles by Pete Runnels and three singles by Mickey Grasso.

Chicago climbed past Washington into fourth place, only four games out, with a 10-4 verdict over Philadelphia. Chiro Carrasquel's two triples and Sherman Lollar's two-run homer led the 14-hit attack on loser Alex Kellner and two others.

The National St. Louis continued to mess up the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers, 15-0, to make it three out of four. The loss cut the Brooks' lead over idle New York to 3 1/2 games. The Giants' game at Cincinnati was rained out.

With the thermometer hovering around 97, the Cards and Brooks straged a real knock-down-drag-out brawl. Preacher Roe, with his 5-0 record, was knocked out in the first and Gerry Staley (9-3), who was routed in the third, Bill Werle was the eventual winner over Clem Labine as a total of 35 hits were collected off nine pitchers.

Roe blew a 4-0 lead in the stormy first that saw such ordinarily faultless players as Enos Slaughter, Stan Musial and Red Schoendienst commit errors.

Gil Hodges hit two homers and Del Rice one in the 3-hour 35-minute struggle. Del Ennis' fifth homer gave the Phils their run.

Lew Burdette pitched one-hit ball for eight relief innings after replacing Ernie Johnson with two runs in and nobody out in the second as Boston whipped Pittsburgh, 11-2. Paul Burris hammered a homer, double and two singles to drive in six Boston runs and hang a second loss on Joe Muir.

Al Brosch Leading Hogan By A Stroke At Dallas

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR. DALLAS, June 13 (AP)—Respected, balding Al Brosch is quite familiar with one-day sensations in golf. He has been one; he has played second-fiddle to others; he's seen them flash to the front and disappear into obscurity.

Brosch, a 40-year-old teaching pro from Garden City, N. Y., held the sometimes elusive position today after shooting an open round of 68 in the 52nd National Open.

That was one of two sub-par rounds manufactured by the field of 162 in the first day of play on the heat-blanketed Northwood course. Ben Hogan, defending champion and winner of three National Open titles in his last three attempts, had a 69.

Three others, all in the middle or past-middle age bracket, fired even par 70s. They were Sam Snead, one of the three top favorites in pre-tournament reckoning; 44-year-old Horton Smith, the PGA president who is playing in his 21st National Open, and Dick Metz, who retired last year to run a ranch and returned to tournament golf.

None of the others could buck the combination of 94-degree heat, strong winds and the pressure of playing in a national championship before an opening-day crowd estimated at 12,000. But there were enough of them in the 71 and 72 scoring bracket to threaten Brosch's lead.

Brosch, who celebrates his 16th wedding anniversary today, doesn't intend to let that happen. He has seen it too often before.

Long known as a player who might win a lot of money if he chose to follow the tournament trail, Al never has finished better than sixth in the Open.

That was in 1937 at Detroit's Oakland Hills, when Ralph Guldahl won. At Medinah in 1949 Brosch was the 36-hole leader but faded on the final day as Cary Middlecott won. At Merion in 1950, Al shot an opening round of 67 which was eclipsed by the record 64 fired by young Lee Mackey. Neither Brosch nor Mackey was in sight when Hogan beat Lloyd Mangrum and George Fazio in a playoff for the title.

It was in 1951, too, that Brosch had a round of 60 in the Texas Open at San Antonio and couldn't win that tournament either.

Hogan and Snead both were well-satisfied with their opening rounds. Hogan said he never had putted better in his life. Snead complained only of one shot—an easy approach that he hit a trifle too hotly.

The 71 shooters on the opening day, included Porky Oliver, Dutch Harrison, George Fazio, Ted Kroll and Julius Boros.

Another was Stan Mosel, the North Texas State College sophomore from Twin Falls, Idaho, the only amateur to crash the list of leaders. A member of the North Texas second team—the first in Texas National Amateur Champion Billy Maxwell, who had a 78—Mosel fashioned a four-under-par 31 on the back nine after going out in 30.

Back, but still in the running were such players as ex-Champion Lew Worsham, Tommy Bolt, Chandler Harper, Jackie Burke, Jimmy Demaret, Jim Ferrier and co-favorite Lloyd Mangrum.

Mangrum shot a 75 which barely put him in the low 50. After today's round the field will be cut to the low 50 and ties for Saturday's 36-hole final.

PACE MAINTAINED

Arencibia Tames Artesia, 10 To 3

ARTESIA — Seven errors greased the skids as Big Spring defeated Artesia, 10-3, in a Longhorn League game played here Thursday night.

The victory was the sixth in a row for the Steeds and left them 3½ games in the wake of the Odessa Oilers and in a deadlock with Sweetwater for second place in the standings.

Aramis Arencibia, who hadn't seen mound action for the Big Springers for a week, went all the way on the mound for the Steeds to chalk up his sixth win of the year.

The Bronces got their runs in clusters, getting three in the first, three in the sixth and three more in the seventh. They also got a single in the second.

A leadoff single by Ricky Gonzales, a walk to Ossie Alvarez and consecutive doubles by Witty Quintana and Pat Stasey gave the Cavuses their three tallies in the first.

The Drillers came right back to get two markers on singles by Vince Sarubbi, Bill Haley, Joe Bauman and an outfield fly by Rudy Briner.

In the second, Quintana drew a bases-loaded walk to force in Al Valdes and pad Big Spring's advantage.

Reliever Rooster Mills, after fanning the first two men to face him in the sixth, weakened to allow three runs. He hit Valdes with a pitched ball, allowed Arencibia and Gonzales to single, Valdes crossing the plate on the second blow. A walk to Alvarez loaded the sacks and Quintana drove in two more runs with a single.

In the seventh, Juan Visteur doubled, moved to third on a one-baser by Al Costa and scored on Ross Baez's long fly to right. Costa stole third after Valdes had pushed him to second with a single. A double steal permitted Costa to cross the plate when Briner's throw to second was wild, Valdes continuing to third. A bad peg from the outfield to third gave Valdes the chance to go home.

Jim Ackers' double and an error by Baez gave Artesia its last run in the third.

The teams tangled in the second of a three-game set here tonight. Bert Estrada is due to hurl for Big Spring.

Dial Handcuffs Borger, 5 To 3

By The Associated Press CLOVIS got even with the Borger Gassers in the West Texas-New Mexico League Thursday night and the loop has a new second place club.

Carol (Red) Dial of Clovis evened the two-game series by hurling five-hit ball for a 5-3 victory.

Lubbock took over second, six and a half games behind Clovis. Lubbock blanked Lamesa, 8-0, Ahlenn easily trounced Pampa, 10-3, while last-place Amarillo got a 7-3 decision over Albuquerque.

West Side Wins 17-9 Verdict

West Side Baptist won the only game played in the YMCA Church League Thursday night but Wesley Methodist also got credit for a game.

The Wesley Methodist team won a forfeit from East Fourth Baptist.

West Side Baptist won the one game played from First Presbyterian 17-9.

Hoskins To Seek Tenth Victory

By The Associated Press Al Pappal of Houston and Hal Erickson of Dallas jammed their clubs up front in the Texas League Thursday night, becoming the first two hurlers to win 10 games.

Tulsa had its first company in the collar after winning from San Antonio, 14-10, and Shreveport's tripping before Fort Worth, 4-2.

Pappal put down Oklahoma City, 8-4, on eight hits.

Erickson twirled five-hit ball to stop Beaumont, 1-0, as Dallas nipped Hank Wyse for seven blows.

Wyse and the two 10-game winners were among five hurlers who have collected nine victories. Dave Hoskins of Dallas will start Friday night in trying to catch the leaders while the other moundsman, Joe Landrum of Fort Worth, is due the call in about two days.

Billings Takes Coaching Post

PLAINVIEW, (Sp1)—Ed Billings, Wayland College's outstanding athlete for 1952, has accepted the position of head basketball coach and assistant football coach at Tulla High School, according to announcement from Coach Harley Redin.

Billings, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Billings, Anton, had a brilliant cage career at Wayland, being one of few men ever to letter four years.

Coach Redin states that Billings started 121 games of the 125 played by the Pioneers since 1948. He scored 1,547 points in that time.

Ed, who towers 6 feet 4 inches, has been outstanding as rebound man, with his specialty being rebounds under the defensive board, says Redin. "He has the perfect competitive temperament, making him a top defensive man and a steady scorer."

Not only has Billings been outstanding in athletics but rated a place in Wayland's Who's Who on College Campuses. Both the student body and the senior class elected him "favorite," gaining him special sections in The Traveler, college yearbook. In addition, he worked with the Baptist Student Union on and off the campus, appearing on many programs before youth groups throughout this section.

Texans Obtain 11 Footballers For L. Richter

LOS ANGELES, June 13 (AP)—The more flippant ones decided today that the Los Angeles Rams traded a football team for one player when they acquired California's all-American line-backer, Les Richter, from the new Dallas Texans in their big deal.

True, the Texans get title to 11 players and the Champion Rams obtain the agile, 230-pound better from Berkley in their bid for another National Football League crown.

For both the Rams and the Texans, the deal is one of the biggest gambles in NFL history.

Here are the players the Rams traded to Dallas:

Horner, 220-pounder from Iowa, five years with Los Angeles; Keane, from West Virginia, four years in the league, who can play end on offense as well as defense.

Center Joe Reid, Louisiana State, and Jack Halliday, Southern Methodist tackle, both rookies with the Rams in 1951.

Halfback George (Gabby) Sims, ex-Baylor star (formerly with the Rams, now in the Army); Linebacker Aubrey Phillips, Texas Tech, the Rams 13th draft choice this year.

Guard Victor Vasicek, Southern California, who played here in 1950 but was inactive in 1951.

Halfback Billy Baggett, Louisiana State, inactive in pro ball since leaving LSU in 1950.

Fullback Dick McKissick, Southern Methodist star, inactive in pro ball since his college days ended in 1950.

End Dick Wilkins, Oregon, inactive since playing with the old Los Angeles Dons under Jimmy Phelan, now the Texans' coach, in 1949.

Reese Again Leads In All-Star Voting

CHICAGO, June 13 (AP)—Pee Wee Reese, 32-year-old Brooklyn veteran, has bounced back in the voting battle to become the National League's starting shortstop in the 19th all-star baseball game in Philadelphia July 8.

Reese today moved from third to second place in the latest national tabulations of fans ballots.

He trailed Grady Hammer of the Philadelphia Phillies by 2,533 votes, being named on 23,353 lineups. Al Dark of the New York Giants was third with 19,102.

Phil Rizutto of the New York Yankees topped the American League shortstop voting with 27,258. Chico Carrasquel, Chicago White Sox, was second with 23,116.

Finkler Signed

VERNON—James LeRoy Finkler, a pitcher formerly with Baltimore, has been signed for a trial with the Vernon Dusters.

LITTLE SPORT

Texas Is Ousted In NCAA Tourney By Lions, 5-3

OMAHA, June 13 (AP)—Unless there are a couple of surprises, that foxy old major leaguer Jack Coombs is going to retire with the realization of his fondest dream—an NCAA baseball championship.

The former Philadelphia Athletics hurler is leaving Duke University this season at the age of 70. He wants the NCAA title as a climax to his 32 years of coaching.

On strength of their performance in beating Oregon State 18-7 in the first round, the Blue Devils appear ready and able to satisfy their coach.

This sixth renewal of the tournament is a double elimination affair. Results yesterday left Duke, Missouri, Holy Cross and Penn State in the winners' bracket and Texas, Western Michigan, Colorado State and Oregon State in the losers' bracket.

Penn State has its chance at Duke tonight. The Easteners beat off Texas' two-run ninth inning rally in the first round for a 5-3 victory over the Longhorns.

Missouri and Holy Cross take over the second feature spot tonight. The Big Seven Conference champions battered Colorado State 15-1 in their first appearance.

Holy Cross came up with a nifty job in defeating Western Michigan 5-1.

Texas makes its comeback bid against Oregon State in an afternoon game today. Western Michigan and Colorado State are matched in a game to follow.

Oilers At Home Again Sunday

FORSAN—The Forsan Oilers play their second home game of the 1952 baseball season Sunday afternoon, at which time they meet the Ballinger-Winters entry. Game time is 3 p.m.

The Oilers lost to Big Lake last Sunday, 10-3. They have yet to win a Concho Basin League game this season.

Player Is Out

MIDLAND — Gahlen Dinkel, speedy Midland outfielder, has gone to Abilene to take a pre-duction physical examination for service in the Armed Forces.

Dinkel is an option to Midland from Dallas.

Tom Gooch, Dallas Publisher Is Dead

DALLAS, June 13 (AP)—Tom C. Gooch, 72, publisher of the Dallas Times Herald, died at his home early today after an illness of about a month.

As president and editor-in-chief of the Times Herald, Gooch had guided the destiny of the newspaper and its radio station, KRLLD, since the death of its founder, Edwin J. Kiest, in 1941.

Under his direction the Times Herald also added its television station, KRLLD-TV, to its properties.

Gooch was an editor of the old school. Although he was forced to take over business affairs of the newspaper and its properties after Kiest died, he continued to direct the Times Herald's editorial policies.

He never used a by-line nor signed an article, but when he expressed himself on public matters through editorials there was no question of authorship. Texas, and in many instances the nation, took notice.

Gooch was a genius in presenting a word picture of things and issues in which he believed.

Some of Dallas' great civic undertakings resulted from Gooch's ability to get big things done in a systematic way.

During his last illness the affairs of the Times Herald were directed by Vice President John W. Runyon, who for many years had been closely associated with Gooch and with Kiest before him.

Gooch was born Jan. 25, 1880, in Bonham, Fannin County, also the home of his close friend, Speaker Sam Rayburn. His father was Harold Gooch, who as an ambitious young Englishman, came to this country to seek a fortune shooting buffalo and selling the hides. He later engaged in the lumber business. His mother was the former Mattie Revel Taylor, daughter of Col. Bob Taylor, a law partner of Gov. James W. Throckmorton.

Gooch started out to be an artist. After taking a course at the famous Chicago Art Institute, he returned to Texas and got a job with the Fort Worth Record. His first job with the Times Herald was as a cartoonist. Gooch might have continued his career but for the cost of engraving. This caused Kiest, for good business reasons, to discontinue Gooch's cartoons, and make him the paper's police reporter.

From police reporter, he was promoted to city editor, then to managing editor, and finally general manager. Gooch's wife survives.

U.S. Begins To Feel Pinch Of Steel Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The economic pinch of the steel strike is beginning to be felt in almost every section of the country.

More than 750,000 workers now are idle in the 12th day of the nationwide walkout ordered by Philip Murray, head of the CIO United Steelworkers.

In addition to the 650,000 union members on strike another 100,000 workers in allied industries have been furloughed. More furloughs are in the offing unless the strike is settled quickly.

The steelworkers—and the workers in allied industries who are laid off—are digging into their bank accounts to help tide them over.

Generally, the fabricating plants which use steel for their products have enough steel on hand for 30 to 45 more days of production.

However, the Ford Motor Co. in Detroit says it will start closing down its plants across the nation in two weeks unless the strike is settled. Ford employs more than 100,000 production workers.

So far most of the men who have been laid off as the direct result of the steel strike are railroaders and miners. However, some, ore miners have been furloughed and so have the crews of big lake ships which carry the ore.

In the Lake Superior district several thousand ore miners struck immediately after the Supreme Court ruled President Truman's seizure of the steel industry was illegal.

Businessmen and bankers at Duluth, Minn., report a sharp drop in business. About 22,000 iron ore miners are idle in that area.

A business survey by the University of Pittsburgh shows business in the Pittsburgh district has declined sharply. The university's business index tumbled from 184.7 per cent of the 1935-39 average in the final week of May to 110.5 per cent last week.

In Gary, Ind., and the East Chicago (Ind.) steel centers where 67,000 steelworkers are idle, bank deposits are at an all-time high—apparently because the steelworkers were preparing for a strike.

Luxury items are not selling so well in stores but essentials are still moving briskly.

Many of the idle steelworkers are taking vacations. Some are putting in their time painting around the house or working in the garden.

Meanwhile, the steelworkers' wives are shopping moderately. A Pittsburgh butcher commented: "We could tell a steelworker's wife now even if we hadn't waited on her before. She's prying things carefully. She's not buying the best meat—she's looking for bargains and there aren't many bargains at the meat counter today."

Methodists Adopt Budget Of $531,979

HOUSTON, June 13 (AP)—Texas Methodists adopted a budget of $531,979 to promote their work during 1952-53 at their annual conference yesterday.

The sum represents an overall increase of 6 per cent in the amount the conference expects churches to contribute.

Also approved was a $200 salary raise over the annual minimum of $2,400 yearly for married ministers and $2,200 for single ones.

The conference's executive secretary, the Rev. Jesse Thomson of Jacksonville, announced he would return to pastoral work.

Ministers who will retire are the Rev. C. W. Hearin of Homestead; the Rev. S. C. Irvin of Houston; the Rev. H. F. Dreaper of Waller; and the Rev. J. T. Carlyn, professor of Christian doctrine at Southern Methodist University.

Eight delegates elected to the editorial committee of the Texas conference Messenger are: Gordon Alexander of Palestine; Karl O. Bayer and Mrs. W. E. Horton of Houston; Lee E. Hearn and G. R. Thomas of Angleton; Earl Huffer of Huntsville; and T. W. Moore of Galveston.

Last year's budget of $410,760 was supplemented by $100,000 for the Methodist Hospital here and by $100,000 for foreign missions.

The Rev. Mr. Thompson was given a standing ovation from delegates for his 14 years of work. His service is the longest of its kind in conference history. The Rev. Irving Jackson of Henderson is expected to succeed him.

Coast Guardsman Leaps To His Death

NEW YORK (AP)—A Coast Guardsman who spent five hours Wednesday atop a 140-foot Connecticut water tower leapt from a ferryboat yesterday and drowned in New York harbor.

He was Deane Hill, 22, of Melrose Mass., being brought from the Groton Coast Guard station to the Marine Hospital on Staten Island. The case was listed as a suicide.

Hill dodged a lifeboat rescue crew and made no effort to take a lifeline thrown to him. His body was not recovered.

Hill, a Coast Guard seaman who would have graduated from Avery Point (Conn.) Training Station on Monday, unaccountably climbed the Groton water tower during daylight hours Wednesday.

He ignored urging by a chaplain and friends to come down, but finally did so for a steeplejack who climbed the wind-swept perch to plead with him.

Keep Calm, Friend, To Live Long Life

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter

CHICAGO (AP)—A key for long life comes from Dr. Morris Fishbein, one of the busiest men in the nation.

The key is imperturbability, or calmness. Plus five things you should keep low.

Dr. Fishbein is editor, author, lecturer, traveler, advisor, and perhaps a half dozen to a dozen projects going at one time. Today at the American Medical Association convention he took time out—he always seems to have time—to tell secrets for health and long life.

In London, he began, he was talking with Lord Horder, a famous in British medicine as Fishbein is here. Dr. Fishbein congratulated Lord Horder on looking so well and being so active at 82.

"Lord Horder asked me, 'how old are you?'"

"I'm 62, I said. He leaned over the table and felt my pulse. 'You will live to be 100.'"

"Wonderful," I replied, "Why? And Lord Horder said, 'Because you have imperturbability.'"

"I've practiced imperturbability since I was 16, I told him. I think a person can practice it."

How do you become imperturbable?

"Avoid raising your voice. Don't get angry and shout. All you do is raise your own blood pressure, not the other fellow's."

"Don't get crowded. Take things one at a time. Accept disturbances and annoyances as they are. Don't tear yourself apart because you are not succeeding in some given effort."

"Don't avoid trouble—but meet it with equanimity."

"Don't argue with stupidity. Walk away from arguments over futile or trivial matters. But I would hate to see a world where everyone walked away from arguments that produced facts by discussion."

Dr. Fishbein, whose fame rests partly upon his energetic and sometimes stormy years as former editor of the AMA Journal, then recited "the five lows" for health and longer life.

1. Low blood pressure. 2. Low pulse rate. 3. Low basal metabolism, or rate of bodily processes.

4. Low diet, low in total calories. 5. Low threshold for humor.

"Be able to laugh easily, and recognize the humorous aspects of what humans take too seriously."

"I don't mean to slow your life to the speed of a turtle. I'm never happier than when I'm extremely active. But you can accomplish far more if you have equanimity and imperturbability."

Voting Inconclusive In British Columbia

VANCOUVER, B.C., (AP)—Early returns, slowed by a cumbersome balloting system, were inconclusive today in British Columbia's bitterly fought general election. If early trends continue no party will be able to muster a majority in the British Columbia legislature.

The vote was extremely close in most districts.

In ancient Rome, salt was so valuable it was sometimes used as money.

Fulbright Due Arkansas Votes

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., (AP)—Thirty-two delegates and 32 alternates will be selected by the Arkansas Democratic State Committee today to attend the Democratic National Convention in Chicago.

For the first time, the delegates are expected to go to the convention instructed to vote for a candidate for the presidential nomination—Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.).

Arkansas has 22 votes at the National Convention.

Today's meeting, called by Chairman Willis Smith of Texas-Kansas, Ark., will start at 10 a.m. (CST).

There have been reports that neither Gov. Sid McMath, titular head of the state party, and a strong supporter of the Truman administration, nor any of the state's nine congressmen will be named as delegates.

McMath will be busy campaigning for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. He is seeking a third term.

It had been expected that Fulbright would be named as a delegate, but the committee was not expected to name John L. McClellan, the state's senior senator.

Claims Misrepresentation Over Martin Candidate

County Judge Says Chairman Withheld Robnett Candidacy

STANTON (SC)—Martin County Judge James McMorris this morning leveled his political artillery on Democratic County Chairman Morgan Hall, and charged that Hall misrepresented to him the candidacy of Ed Robnett when McMorris asked, after the deadline for filing, if Robnett had qualified as a candidate for county judge.

McMorris, who is a candidate for re-election, claims Hall concealed the Robnett candidacy from him until it was revealed and became generally known on May 27 when Robnett filed an expense account as such candidate in the county clerk's office.

The Martin County judge based his charge, he said, on information that had been withheld from him until the expense account was filed on the last day for such filing. When the expense account, showing no expense, was made a matter of record in the clerk's office, Robnett explained that he had qualified with Hall previous to the May 5 deadline, but that since he was not then ready to enter upon an active campaign he saw no reason to publicly announce his candidacy.

McMorris charges that after the deadline had been passed he was told by Hall that Robnett had not qualified as a candidate for county judge, and that McMorris' only opponent for the office was Ed Haynes who had previously filed.

In a prepared statement McMorris says:

"Prior to May 5, Ed Robnett had been mentioned as a possible candidate for county judge and naturally I, as a candidate for re-election, was interested in how many opponents I would have.

"On the morning of May 6, (the day after the deadline for filing) I called Morgan Hall, the county chairman, and was informed by Morgan Hall that only Ed Haynes had filed as a candidate against me. Thereafter, and on the same morning, and in the presence of approximately six other people in the Hall Drug Store in Stanton, I again made inquiry of Morgan Hall as to whether Robnett had filed and was informed that he had not; that only Haynes had filed against me, and Hall, on such occasion, even went further and commented on the fact that he thought Robnett had considered filing, but that he did not, and his failure to file was discussed generally by the parties present."

McMorris says that "between May 6 and May 10, at least six other people in addition to the ones who accompanied him to Hall's

HAYNES, OTHER MAN IN RACE, TELLS POSITION

STANTON—Ed Haynes, candidate for the Democratic nomination of County Judge of Martin County, clarified his position concerning filings in the race for county judge with this statement:

"Whether or not Mr. Robnett filed legally or illegally is of no importance to me, however, it would help to clarify the situation as a question has arisen in the minds of many people because I had made the statement I would not run if Mr. Robnett was going to make the race.

"On the morning of May 5, he told me definitely he could not run and wasn't going to announce. In talking with the county (Democratic) chairman three to five days later, I gained the impression no one else had announced.

"I have always dealt in an open and above-board manner with my fellow citizens and whether as an official or private citizen, I will continue to do so."

"I am not going to be drawn into any newspaper argument about it," he said. "It makes no difference to me who the people choose from among the three candidates."

Robnett said he was willing to furnish upon request, made individual inquiry of Hall as to whether or not Robnett had filed as a candidate for county judge. McMorris says each of these people "told me that Hall replied that Robnett had not filed."

Continuing his statement, McMorris says he is prepared to name at least four other people who have told him that after May 10 (five days after the deadline for filing) that they talked with Robnett himself and asked him whether or not he was a candidate for county judge. McMorris says these people have each told him that Robnett told them that he was not a candidate.

McMorris branded the candidacy of Robnett, a Stanton automobile and implement dealer, as "sudden filing" at expense account filing time.

He said it did not occur to him to demand that Hall show him the declaration papers of those candidates who had filed, even though such filings are public records. "Under the circumstances," McMorris says, "I did not deem it necessary to demand to see the records before I could take the word of the Martin County Democratic chairman as to who had not filed for the office in which I was interested."

Dr. Louis H. Bauer, AMA president, said the Association's objection is that Oscar Ewing, federal security administrator, would be given power to determine what constitutes disability.

Bauer said that neither he nor the AMA's House of Delegates is opposing other sections of the bill which liberalize benefits. He said Ewing could write all the rules relating to disability and this would "be an entering wedge toward socialized medicine."

The House last month defeated the social security bill giving the federal administrator certain powers on the disability program.

Defeat of the bill, the AMA resolution said, "was a direct result of the Truman administration's attempt to play politics by tying in a socialized medicine scheme with an otherwise popular measure."

Dr. Edward J. McCormack of Toledo, O., was named president of the Association yesterday. He will take office next June when the AMA meets in New York. He defeated Dr. Frank F. Borzell of Philadelphia by a vote of 103 to 70.

Application Was Filed On April 30, Chairman Says

STANTON—Morgan Hall, chairman of the Martin County Democratic Executive committee, said Friday that he did not have any comment regarding a statement issued by County Judge James McMorris concerning the filing of Ed Robnett for a place on the Democratic primary ballot for county judge.

"I have in my files an application for a place on the ballot, duly signed by Ed Robnett, notarized by James A. Rogers. Both were dated on April 30, the date that they were received by me. The application is accompanied by the necessary oath."

That, said Hall, was all there was so far as he was concerned.

"I am not going to be drawn into any newspaper argument about it," he said. "It makes no difference to me who the people choose from among the three candidates."

AMA Charges Measure Leans To Socialism

CHICAGO (U)—The American Medical Association says the Truman administration plans to seek congressional approval of a bill which it said would "be an entering wedge toward socialized medicine."

The Association, in a resolution adopted yesterday, protested one provision in an amended bill which AMA delegates said is scheduled to come before the House on Monday.

The bill would increase some social security benefits, including higher payments in old age. However, that AMA objection is to a provision calling for payment of benefits to persons who are permanently and totally disabled.

Dr. Louis H. Bauer, AMA president, said the Association's objection is that Oscar Ewing, federal security administrator, would be given power to determine what constitutes disability.

More Meat Is Predicted

CHICAGO (U)—More meat—some 600 million pounds over 1951—will be available for the American consumer this year, says a livestock official.

R. C. Pollock, general manager of the National Livestock and Meat Board, made the forecast in his report to directors at their annual meeting yesterday.

Pollock said meat production this year is expected to total about 2 1/2 billion pounds. That would permit a per capita consumption of 140 pounds, a gain of two pounds over a year ago.

He predicted the world output is expected to be about four per cent less than in 1951, but said there will be available seven per cent more beef, 12 per cent more lamb and six per cent more veal.

Payday Today For Guardsmen Of 36th

NORTH FORT HOOD, June 13 (U)—Texas National Guardsmen today end their fifth summer field training encampment since World War II.

It's payday for the tanned and hardened T-Patchers of the 36th Division. Yesterday they held their annual muster, when each man stepped forward and was recognized in order to qualify for pay for the training period.

The outfit was inspected yesterday by Col. U. P. Williams, Washington, a representative of the Army Field Forces commander.

Next week the 49th Armored Division of the Texas National Guard begins two weeks' summer training.

The Big Spring portion of Texas' 36th Division is scheduled to return home Sunday morning.

Members of Battery "B," 132nd Field Artillery Battalion, will leave North Fort Hood at 5:30 a. m. aboard buses. The Guardsmen are due to arrive here between noon and 1 p. m. Sunday at the end of their two weeks of intensive field training.

Consumer Due To Pay Increase For Coca Cola

Beginning Monday, retail customers may be paying a penny a bottle more for their Coca Cola. Jack Roden, manager of the Texas Coca Cola Bottling Company, said that the few cents more per case of Coca Cola charged retail customers would be reflected in the price which the retail outlets could charge for bottle, carton or case.

Rising costs of bottling operations and spiraling labor costs have combined to make the increase necessary," said Roden. Dealers will be affected in a higher wholesale cost per carton and per case. The increase, of course, will be passed along to the consumer.

A new idea in product packaging also is making its appearance at this time, according to Roden. Dealers will introduce a new 12-bottle carton for Coca-Cola. Made of double layers of durable, water-resistant kraft paper, and laminated together for added strength, the new carton is a sturdy replacement for the familiar six-bottle carton which pioneered the home-sales market.

Roden felt that the new carton would be especially popular for the housewife not only in that it will make it possible to bring home a double supply of the product in one hand, but also because it handles easier. Big Spring is among the first cities in this area to get the new carton, he added. In other cities where they have appeared, they have proven popular and Coca-Cola sales are up. They are being supplied all over town wherever the drink is sold.

"Our increase in price is no more than the OPS ceiling price regulations permit, and retailers are permitted, under these same regulations to charge not more than 6 cents per bottle," declared Roden. "While retailers may charge any price they choose, with certain limits, as prescribed by law, on cartons, it is our suggestion that the new carton retail at 60 cents (plus deposit) and the 24-bottle case at $1.20 (plus deposit). Our deposit structure of 4 cents per bottle remains unchanged, but the new carton will have a deposit of 6 cents, and all the old 6-bottle cartons will be retired by us at 3 cents each."

The Company has anticipated the need and is converting coin-machines from five cents to six cents.

"In the face of higher costs of every phase of our operations we have tried throughout the years to keep the price of Coca-Cola at the same popular, familiar level," says Mr. Roden. "However, when you get caught in a vise, something has to give. And we are sure of one thing: despite the fact that he pays a few cents more for it, the customer will still find a bottle, carton, or case of Coca-Cola a bargain in refreshment."

Aw Shucks, No French Bathing Suits On Beach

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (U)—Sorry, gals. Or rather, sorry, guys. There'll be no French bathing suits allowed on this resort's crowded beaches this season.

Officials who make the rules for beaches here banned the ultra-sexy swim suit yesterday and required life guards to see that bathers wear "decent attire."

"The French bathing suit is definitely out," said Beach Patrol Supt. Richard Hughes.

Postmaster Nat Shick says he has been using bath water to irrigate flowers and shrubs since the days of those "Saturday nighters" with a sine tube and homemade lye soap behind the kitchen range, when he was chewing that old White's Yucatan Gum that came in the pink wrapper with the yellow band holding the five sticks together.

He says he has always found the amount of soap required for an average bath to be a most excellent insecticide for flowers and shrubs and that bath water is a wonderful way to apply it.

Shick says that as he progressed from lye soap to such brands as Heart's and Grandpa's Tar (and to Sweetheart Cheering Gum—the heart-shaped pieces that came in a little tin box from Shine Philip's Drug store) that he noticed an improvement in bath water as a plant insecticide. And now that he enjoys the luxury and variation of such bubble bath flavors as geranium, rose, lilac, sweet pea, carnation and all the others, he says that he believes the quality of bath water as an insecticide is improving all the time.

Shick does not, however, recommend the use of water saturated with the new soap powders. It is likely to kill the plants, he warns. But this old-timer who has bridled the gap from lye soap to bubble bath does recommend bath water for flowers and shrubs.

"The first time I ever used Cashmere Bouquet soap," he says, "bugs that had never been known to fly before suddenly sprouted wings and took off."

Question: Just when did Cashmere Bouquet soap come on the West Texas market?

E. J. Hughes and Roy Gough, assistant state conservationists with the Soil Conservation Service, and both from Temple, were in Big Spring yesterday, accompanied by Howard Kingsbery of Santa Anna, who is a member of the State PMA committee.

Gabe Hammaek, Howard County PMA administrative officer, and W. S. Goodlett, district conservationist, got the trio of visitors in a car and took them on a tour of Howard, Martin and Midland counties to show them that the drought has not been broken in this area. Kingsbery expressed doubt that additional PMA funds can be made available this year to assist farmers in putting cover crops on their land for protection, and for building the soil. What was particularly discussed in this connection was the planting of Guar now and Abruzzi or Balboa rye this fall.

All three were quite impressed with the critical situation in this area. Hughes and Gough said the farmers and ranchers can count on every possible assistance from the SCS, and Kingsbery promised that he will make an effort to get the needed additional funds, but didn't offer much encouragement.

A question frequently asked: Where are silver iodide generators located that are being used in seeding clouds in this area?

Some of them are located in Old Mexico. Locations on others are: IN TEXAS, at Fabens, Van Horn, Marfa, Marathon, Wink, Dalhart, Adrian, Tulla, Lubbock, Llano, Fort Stockton, Crane, Ira Langtry, Pampa, Higgins, Childress, Turkey, Guthrie, Seymour, Leuders, Caddo, Fort Worth, Waco, Austin, Goldthwaite, Llano, S. A. Antonio, Sabin, Kerrville, Terrell, Bracketville, Bryan, Pearsall, Rocksprings, Junction, Brady, Big Spring, Ballinger, Sterling City, Ozona, Sonora and Juno.

IN OKLAHOMA, at Texhoma, Weatherford, Mangum and Grandfield.

IN NEW MEXICO, at Clayton, Artesia, Des Moines, Roy, Vaughn, Santa Rosa, Tucumcari, Elida, Clovis, Capitan, Cloudcroft, Three Rivers, Las Cruces, Oro Grande, Truth Or Consequences and Tatam.

All are placed at filling stations, tourist courts or at some other place where there is an operator in attendance 24 hours a day.

J. C. Penney, the chain store merchant, has given his prize Guernsey herd to the University of Missouri.

The 250 head of dairy cattle and other assets connected with them, such as milking equipment, blankets, halters, are valued at $750,000. Penney is also a breeder of Aberdeen-Angus.

By including the authorization in the emergency measure to pay postal employees, the administration has won additional funds to hire more men for the Border Patrol.

Several incidents have already occurred along the Border since the patrol has been given broader authority to enforce the CIO-AFL-sponsored Wetback-Bracero legislation, and some rather serious trouble is to be reasonably anticipated. The law is not favored either by the Mexican Nationals or by Texas ranchers and farmers.

TMA Submits Order For Farm Laborers

Approximately 300 members of the Tarzan Marketing Association have placed an order for 3,000 Bracers, through their association, Leon M. Kinney, manager of the Big Spring office of the Texas Employment Commission, said yesterday.

Kinney said he also understood that another order had been placed through the Lamesa office of the TEC for an equal number of the Mexican nationals to work on the farms of association members who live in the counties served by the Lamesa TEC office.

One thousand workers have been requested for July 1 with 500, of them having contracts for six weeks, and the other 500 having contracts for six months. Another 2,000 workers have been requested for September 1, with 1,000 of these having contracts for six weeks and the other 1,000 having contracts for three months.

Kinney said the request has been forwarded without the statements required from the individual farmers being attached. This is permitted procedure, Kinney said he understood, but he said it was also his understanding that the individual statements required of the employing farmers must be filed before the actual contracts can be negotiated.

He said the Howard County Farm Bureau has not yet filed its request for Bracers, but that he expects to receive this request in a few days.

Navy patrol boats and a crash boat from Kwajalein picked up pieces of the crashed plane and survivors.

The crew of a sister Superfort reported the ditching and said they had sighted only one survivor, on a life raft.

"Only debris remains on the water," the accompanying plane radioed the Air Force control tower on Kwajalein.

The Hawaiian Sea Frontier said two of the bomber's four engines apparently failed shortly after take-off from Kwajalein for Guam.

The pilot had radioed 16 minutes before the crash that he had feathered two engines and was losing power in a third. His last message said he was ditching—landing on the ocean surface.

Hope Fades For Highway Tieup Near Webb AFB

Chances of constructing a proposed new road this year from the Veterans Administration Hospital on US 87 to a junction with US 80 near Webb Air Force Base apparently are diminishing rapidly.

The project was approved several months ago by both the county and the State Highway Department.

However, sufficient right-of-way for the project has not yet been acquired, and current speculation is that the right-of-way will not be completed in time for a contract to be let in July.

In that event, the August bid opening would be the earliest time the project could be considered.

That could mean that paving of the new road would be delayed until next spring, since the Highway Department does not ordinarily schedule topping projects later than mid-September.

Right-of-way deeds had been executed Thursday by three property owners along the proposed road. Deeds had been prepared for the remaining three, but they had not been signed. Some of the deeds were delayed several weeks due to errors in the original drafts, county officials reported.

Meanwhile, the county had reached verbal agreements with property owners, but the project cannot be put up for a contract until all deeds are actually signed and turned over to the State Highway Department.

Wartime Premier Of Japan Heads Progressive Unit

TOKYO, June 13 (AP) — Japan's wartime foreign minister who signed the surrender on the Missouri nearly seven years ago today became president of the new "Kashintei" (progressive) party.

Mamoru Shigemitsu, the only major Japanese war criminal who has completed his prison term and been cleared for public office, immediately called for a welfare state and limited rearmament.

The veteran diplomat, who was Japan's ambassador in London at the time of Pearl Harbor, urged a two-party system in Japan patterned after those of the United States and Great Britain.

Shigemitsu said the Progressive party should bring together all progressive elements in Japan "with the exception of the Communists and the fellow-travelers." His party aims at being the principal opposition to Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida's predominant Liberal party.

Ex-Governor Is Due Civil Defense Post

BALTIMORE (AP) — Baltimore's Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro says President Truman is ready to appoint former Maryland Governor William Preston Lane Jr. as the country's new Civilian Defense Administrator.

D'Alesandro, as the state's new national committeeman, has recommended Lane for the $17,500-per-year job. And he said last night he was told by Frank E. McKinney, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, that Truman would go along with the recommendation.

BEELECTIONS

Strange how a landscape sets the imagination to work. Right now, looking at this scene, I can imagine all sorts of things.

Winged steeds riding to heavy music . . . pioneers in the wilderness . . . castles on the cliffs . . . boating at high speeds.

Look at the magic that enables the lake to mirror the rocky mountain peak and the heavens! The vastness and stillness of the scene sets my mind to wondering about time and space and things I will never understand.

But in standing here and wondering so, I feel like I've been near God.

There is a place where I can find Him always—in Church. Will you come with me?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The Obligation to Be Truthful

CHRIST TAUGHT THAT EVIL THOUGHTS LEAD TO SIN

Scripture—Ezekiel 20:16; Mark 7:14-23; John 18:13-27.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL.
THE MANY perjury trials listed in our newspapers make us feel that there are a great many untruthful people in our midst—some in high places. Perjury means, according to the dictionary, "false swearing or voluntary violation of the oath."
The Mosaic law read, "Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor." To bear false witness against a neighbor, a friend, a relative or even a stranger, is a heinous sin.
A story or bit of gossip about another, no matter how false it may be, follows that person about—sometimes all of his or her life. Someone is going to believe it. Such stories have the power to hurt and crush the hearts of men.
What makes people indulge in cruel and malicious gossip—in "character assassination," as we call it today? It may be jealousy of the person of whom the stories are told. It may be fear of one's own reputation and a desire to turn criticism aside and direct it to others. Whatever the motive, it is dastardly.

After Jesus had called the multitude together in Capernaum, He said: "Hearken unto Me every one of you, and understand.
"There is nothing from without a man, that entering into him can defile him, but the things which come out of him, those are they that defile man."
He added, "If any man have ears to hear, let him hear."
After He and His disciples had entered the house, His disciples asked Him for an explanation of His words.
"And He saith unto them, Are ye so without understanding also? Do ye not perceive, that whatsoever thing without entereth into the man, it cannot defile him; because it entereth not into his heart, but that which cometh out of the man, that defileth the man."
"For from within, out of the hearts of men, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, murders, thefts, covetousness, wickedness, deceit, blasphemy, pride, foolishness:
"All these evil things come from within, and defile the man."
From the hearts of men and women come the evil thoughts that lead one to slander others, or to lie about them. It is a despicable thing for which there is no defense.
If such thoughts and desires arise in our hearts, let us smother them—bury them—and think of ways in which we can do that.

MEMORY VERSE
"Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor."—Ezekiel 20:16.

person good, rather than evil. Let us include this sin in the temptations from which we pray to our Father in heaven to be delivered.
The tragic story of Peter's denial of Christ, as related by John, climaxes our lesson.
Peter had told his Lord that he would never desert Him, had boasted that he would go to his death rather than to deny his Lord. Jesus, knowing Peter better than he knew himself, had said, that before the cock should crow, he would deny Him thrice.
Jesus was brought, chained before the high priest, Annas. John, who "was known unto the high priest," went into the high chief's palace with Jesus, but Peter remained at the door. The damsel that tended the door said to him, "Art thou not also one of this man's disciples? He saith; I am not."
It was cold, and the servants and officers who stood about were cold and they built a fire to warm themselves. Peter went to the fire to warm himself, hoping, possibly, that he might be taken for one of them.

After Jesus was taken bound to Caiaphas, the acting high priest and son of Annas, Peter was asked again, if he was not one of Jesus' disciples, and again he denied it. Then one of the high priest's servants who was kin to the man whose ear Peter had cut off when the Lord was arrested, said to him, "Did I not see thee in the garden with Him?" And Peter denied again, and then the cock crowed, and Peter remembered Christ's words after his boast.
Standing before the high priest, Jesus was asked by him, of His disciples and His doctrine. To this Jesus told how He had preached in the synagogues and in the temple, never in secret, and said, "Why askest thou Me? ask them which heard Me, what I have said unto them; behold, they know what I said."
At this one of the officers that stood by struck the Master with the palm of his hand, saying, "Answerest thou the high priest so?"
Jesus answer was, "If I have spoken evil, bear witness of the evil; but if well, why smitest thou Me?"
Peter redeemed himself after Jesus' death and resurrection by preaching His doctrines fearlessly at risk of his life. It was fear that drove him to deny his Friend and Master. Let us pray fervently that we may be given strength to tell the truth no matter what the circumstances.

Stevenson May Face Draft Despite Refusals To Run

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 13 (U.S.P.)—One segment of the Democratic Presidential picture this year bears a haunting resemblance to a scene from a notable theater piece of a while back.
Some politicians are lounging around the equivalent of a smoke-filled room in ancient Rome, listening to a report on a rally engineered to boom the candidacy of a popular man of the day. It goes thus:
"Why, there was a crown offered him; and being offered him, he put it by with the back of his hand, thus; and then the people fell a-shouting."
"Was the crown offered him thrice?"
"Ay, marry, was't, and he put it by thrice, every time gentler than other; and at every putting by, mine honest neighbors shouted."
Something very like this has been going on around the Governor's Mansion in Springfield, Ill., in Washington, and at every other place where Adlai Ewing Stevenson, governor of Illinois, has appeared.
The crown they offer him is the Democratic nomination for the presidency.
Unlike the character in the play, however, Stevenson says he doesn't want it, and what's more, won't take it.
There is an unconfirmed report that the President himself tried without success to persuade Stevenson to run. A great many other Democrats have applied the pressure.
Each time, "he put it by with the back of his hand."
The reasons Stevenson gives are these: (1) He is running for reelection to his present office, (2) his program in Illinois is unfinished and he feels compelled to finish it, (3) his party has other men who can adequately fill the office in the White House.
But if Stevenson has been stubborn, his admirers have been no less intractable in the belief that he can be drafted.
Only the other day, the wires from Chicago reported that Jacob Arvey, the shrewd and amiable national committeeman for Illinois, had stated: "If the convention nominates him, I don't believe he would say no."
It seems wholly possible that Stevenson will be confronted, in July, with such a development. He says he will cross that bridge, etc.
Considering that he is only now completing the first term of the first elective office he ever held, the furor over Stevenson becomes an interesting facet in the pattern of an unusually interesting election year.
Why so many suitors so ardently plunk political basjos beneath the governor's window?
Because, they say, he has all the qualities and assets that make for a highly marketable candidate. Those Democrats who are worried about the charm—the political sex appeal, as they say — of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower believe that Stevenson can match him in that particular department.
Stevenson is 52 years old as of last February. He is a man of medium build, mostly bald. He has electric blue eyes, expressive hands, and a wide, incandescent smile. His movements are alert and springy. He bubbles over with humor, and he can make a sparkling speech.

In the majesty of the governor's office, he wears a brown tweed sports jacket with unmatched trousers. The collars of his shirts are soft and usually rumpled. His favorite foot gear is a pair of old golf shoes, from which he yanked the spikes.
His voice is warm and resonant, and faintly tinged with an Ivy League accent. As a boy, he went to school in Switzerland (speaks fluent French), and then took degrees at Princeton, Harvard Law School and Northwestern University.
As a professional put it—and a man who had opposed him on some issues, at that—"He's got class."
Politically, he seems strongly oriented toward liberal Democratic. Stevenson had a wide experience in appointive offices before he ever ran for governor.
He was special assistant to two secretaries of state, special assistant to a secretary of the Navy, United States minister to London in 1945, and a member of a number of United States delegations to the United Nations.
When he ran for governor, in 1948, he announced that he proposed to bring efficiency and morality into government "or break my heart and my head in the attempt." He called for an administration "consecrated to plain talk, hard work and prairie horse sense."

He was elected by a plurality of 572,000, a record, and he is only the fourth Democratic governor of Illinois in nearly a century.
In his first year in office, he ran into very rough sledding. A hostile Legislature torpedoed important features of his program. A veteran lawmaker remarked that Stevenson "must have been born in a political fairyland."
In the next year, however, Stevenson put through a big highway program, along with improvements in the public school system, and tighter enforcement of laws against gambling and the over-loading of trucks. He had to have some Republican support for this, since the GOP dominated both houses, and he got it.
He has not yet succeeded in another big objective, revision of the State Constitution of 1870. He calls it "our ancient straitjacket" and wages perennial war for a rewrite.
His critics also cite, as a failure of administration, the West Frank- inspections.

Stevenson was divorced in 1949 from the former Ellen Borden, authorities later agreed it could have been prevented by proper explorer and a big game hunter.
They have three sons, Adlai Jr., El, Borden, 19, and John, 13. The divorce, too, is considered a handicap by some political analysts.

Troops Managing To Hurdle Worry Over Languages

WITH U.S. THIRD DIVISION, Korea — The United Nations Army in Korea has its language problems. A section of tanks from the 65th (Puerto Rican) Regiment recently was ordered to support Greek troops. None of the Puerto Ricans could speak Greek. None of the Greeks could speak Spanish or English. Finally, an English-speaking Korean boy was located in the Puerto Rican unit. And a Greek speaking Korean lad was located in the Greek outfit. So messages in English and Spanish were given to the 65th Regiment's Korean boy who relayed them to the Korean boy with the Greeks—who translated them to his unit in Greek.

Medical Problem: Quacking Sailors

LONDON (U.P.)—The British Admiralty has assigned some of its brightest doctors to stop British sailors—who talk in a clear bass on the surface—from quacking like Donald Duck when they dive deep into the ocean. A diver plunges into the water breathing a mixture of oxygen and helium—and his elocution is perfect for the first 240-to-300 feet. But around that depth a sudden change takes place. Try as he will, the best a diver can manage is an angry quack. His speech becomes normal again when he is hauled up. Makes it mighty difficult for the men listening on top of the water, says the naval diving service. Some authorities believe that Damascus is the oldest city still inhabited in the world.

Local People Like Loud Sport Shirts

By DON HENRY

Although age, and the clientele of each store enters in, a majority of clothing stores in Big Spring find that loud designed sports shirts out-sell the more conservative styles to a 2-1 margin. A survey of men's and department stores revealed that although the loud shirts remained the largest seller, customers are shying away from the splashy, so-called "bold look" that carried the country one and two years ago. Sports shirts outsell dress shirts approximately 9-2, the survey revealed. Ratios ranged from 12-1 to 6-1 in the sales of dress and sport shirts through the spring and summer period.

In comparison of sales of 10 x 10 sleeves to short, the poll showed that short sleeves sell better by a 7-3 majority. Stores carry an average of four sport shirts to three dress in stock through the summer months. The manager of one store noted they were having more calls for long sleeved shirts this summer than in past summers. Another merchant stated that an accurate survey of the styles of shirts could not be made because of the different selling campaigns that came in the spring and summer, citing as examples the graduation season, when more loud shirts were sold and the current Father's Day sales, when the trend is toward more conservative lines. While another store salesman commented that the younger set that patronized his store evidently wished to look older and bought more conservative styles while the older customers probably sought to look younger in purchasing loud-shirt shirts. Manager of another store remarked that the clientele patronizing the different stores has a great part in the survey. He stated that while one store's customers might go in for loud colors, another's customers might stick to the more conservative of shirts. All stores agree that men are turning to the more sheer materials this year. Nylons are big sellers in every store polled. One merchant added that the trend is also to washables. Polka dot shirts are big sellers in one store.

Tax Valuations Due To Rise Because Of Petroleum Advances

Howard County's 1952 tax valuations are expected to increase by approximately three million dollars on the strength of advances made by the petroleum industry in the county during the past year. The increases were agreed upon this week when the county board of equalization held a session to consider valuations of oil, utilities and railroad properties in the county. Most of the expected increases are due to come from oil development in the county since the last tax rolls were prepared.

Rep. Regan's Wife Bruised In Accident

BAIRD, Tex., June 13 (U.P.)—Mrs. Ken Regan, wife of the U. S. representative from Midland, was cut and bruised in an auto collision here yesterday. Hospital attendants said she was not hurt seriously. Her car was in collision with one driven by Dr. Raymond Scott Jackson, Port Collins, Colo. He suffered cuts. Mrs. Regan was driving alone from Washington to Midland.

British Medical Program To Be Scaled Down

LONDON, June 13 (U.P.)—Britain's socialized medicine program will be scaled down tomorrow. For the first time in four years, Britons will have to pay directly for some health services, such as prescriptions, dental treatment, false teeth and wigs. Winston Churchill's government cut back the tax-supported program to save money. Government ministers expect to save 20 million pounds (56 million dollars) a year through the new charges. The hard core of the program is not destroyed, however, and Health Minister Ian MacLeod said, "The government does not declare, and it is not part of conservative policy or philosophy, that charges must remain a permanent part of the National Health Service."

Socialized medicine was the most popular measure of the former Labor government. Its principle has become widely accepted. About 95 per cent of the people use the health service. About 95 per cent of the country's 11,000 dentists, 90 per cent of the 23,500 general medical practitioners and practically all the 16,000 druggists and 7,000 opticians participate. The new charges include: up to $12.60 for false teeth, up to $2.80 for a course of dental treatment, 14 cents for each prescription, $8.40 for surgical boots, $2.80 for surgical supports, and varying costs for a private room in a hospital for many cases. There still will be no direct charge for a doctor's services, surgery, hospital care or laboratory work. A secondary reason for the cuts — although the Conservatives never emphasized it — is that the charges will prevent some abuses. Britons have been using a lot more medicine than they took before it became free. Some experts hold a lot of it has not really been necessary. Doctors handed out 140

Scientists Probing An Artificial Cloud

GLOBE, Ariz., June 13 (U.P.)—The U. S. Weather Bureau is running a cloud mine in Arizona. Weather watchers who are sky scanners by tradition are pulling air and moisture hundreds of feet underground to see what happens to raindrops.

They fill a deep hole with air, press that down with other air, then let up on the pressure. The result is a narrow but long slice of artificial cloud good for a few minutes of probing. Part of an unworked multimillion dollar copper mine in the South-Central part of the state has been fixed up to make artificial clouds and measure raindrops. The weather is brewed in a vertical shaft 670 feet deep and 7 1/4 feet square. Artificial cloud columns are puffed up to fill the entire shaft. Water drops are given an electrical shot and dropped down the shaft to be tracked by electronic devices.

Dr. Ross Gunn, director of the Weather Bureau's Physical Research Division, is credited with thinking of the mine shaft for a laboratory. "Before much progress can be made on the problems of rain production from clouds at above freezing temperatures, two difficult physical problems must be solved in directly measurable experimental terms..." he wrote in the January issue of the Journal of Applied Physics.

They are: 1. How the size of a raindrop depends on the kind of cloud from which it comes. 2. How much a raindrop gets bigger or smaller as it falls. Meteorologists, commercial rain-makers and others know rain can't be made. Nature has to furnish the moisture before there is rain. The big effort is to increase the fall of rain.

Laboratory control is needed in the study of clouds. But you can't make a very big cloud in laboratory. Natural clouds usually are thousands of feet thick. A laboratory to handle a slice of artificial cloud that big was out of the question but there could be control and size in a mine shaft. Controlled expansion of the saturated air produces the artificial clouds. The confinement of the shaft cuts the life of a cloud to about 15 minutes. Observations are made in the seven to 10 minutes a cloud is changing. Two types of clouds have been recognized in experiments. Natural air leakage produces a light cloud. A short expansion of air produces a dense cloud. The raindrop babies — or nuclei — in it are too small to be suitably collected on a slide to determine droplet size distribution. Increased expansion forms another million dollars worth of medicine without charge in 1951.

Though Laborites fought Churchill's economy plan in Parliament, both Labor and Conservative Cabinets had felt the over-all cost should not exceed $1,120,000,000 a year. Last year it came within $2,800,000 of that ceiling.

other type of cloud in which water condenses on noticeably fewer nuclei. Gunn reported that droplet size distribution in the second type of cloud was close to that observed in actual clouds.
