

Motley County PTA Formed

By Dell Bearden

In an effort to build sound communications between parents, teachers, administrators, and students, sixty eight new charter members met Tuesday, September 5 to re-organize and form the Motley County Parents - Teachers Association.

Mrs. Elsie Smith, President of District 14 from Lubbock met with the group to explain the purposes and Bylaws of the P.T.A. Mrs. Smith explained that, "it was not the purpose of the P.T.A. to dictate to the school but it is a volunteer organization developed between parents and educators in order to cooperate together for the welfare and education of the children and youth. She further cited an important reason for parents to become a member of the P.T.A. is that a child enjoys seeing his parents in school, to meet his teacher and that the child wants everyone to know his parents care enough about him and his school to belong to the P.T.A. The P.T.A. is a place where teachers and parents can hear each others views and work out the degree of involvement."

Mrs. Smith served as temporary chairman of the business meeting and was assisted by Thelma Reece, Historian of District 14 and Alice Temple, Lubbock District Vice President.

A motion was made by Dean Stotts, Motley County Pricipal, and seconded by Zona Ruth Cammack to organize a parent-teacher association. The vote was unanimous, thus forming the first P.T.A. since 1962.

Mrs. Smith read the Bylaws of the local P.T.A. and changes were adopted as follows:

1. The name of the association is the Motley County Parent Teacher Association.
2. Each member of the association shall pay annual dues of $1.00 to the association. (40c to State P.T.A.; 20c to National P.T.A. and 40c to be retained by the Motley County P.T.A.)
3. The officers of the association shall consist of a president and three vice presidents enabling a representative from each of the four communities (Northfield, Flomot, Roaring Springs and Matador) to serve as an executive officer. In addition a secretary, and a treasurer will be elected. A parliamentarian and a historian will be selected by the president.

4. Officers shall assume their official duties following the close of the meeting in April and shall serve for a term of one year.

5. There shall be a nominating committee composed of five members. One from each of the four communities and the Superintendent. The committee elected included Thelma Nimmo, Northfield; Doris Vinson, Flomot; Nancy Long, Roaring Springs; Frances Hobbs, Matador; and Supt. Charles N. Johnson.

The nominating committee selected members to serve as officers and after a run-off between Ruth Walker and Nancy Long of Roaring Springs the following officers were elected and installed by Mrs. Smith.

They are as follows: Dell Bearden, President; Betty Simpson, 1st Vice President; Nancy Long, 2nd Vice President; Doris Vinson, 3rd Vice President; Judy Renfro, Secretary; and Elaine Hart, Treasurer.

Regular meetings of the association will be held at 7:00 p.m. on the third Monday of each month.

Everyone interested in the welfare of our students and their education and in deeping an open line of communication between parents, teachers, students, and school administrators are invited to attend the first scheduled meeting of the Motley County P.T.A. on October 16.

"The youth of Motley County are the greatest group of youngsters I have ever had the pleasure of being associated with," states Mrs. Bearden. "I hope that you will join with me and the other sixty eight members of the Motley County P.T.A. at our first scheduled meeting to be held October 16 to discuss the needs of the youth, and plan the needed programs for our P.T.A."

82nd YEAR

ISSUE NO. 26

A Second Glance

By Leon Watson

"The salvation of the state lies with the watchfulness of the citizen". That was the motto of a newspaper I worked for in Levelland. I like that statement. In other words our freedom lies with our keeping our eyes open and staying on the guard.

We can not close our eyes and hope corruption in the government goes away. Our forefathers watched anything that might threaten their freedom, then, when something was discovered, they spread the word. Newspapers were used as well as word of mouth.

This newspaper can not print just local news and be "The Voice of the Foothill Country". Motley County can not shut itself off from the rest of the world and hope to be left alone. It would be great if we could, but we can't. The national television and newspapers will not print or voice the darkness behind the White House walls.

There are powerful men in high places who plan the distruction and downfall of our way of life. The death of our dollar is already predetermined, and another currency has already been printed to take its place. If this takeover was put on a twelve hour colck - we would be in the eleventh hour.

What do you know about the Trilateral Commission, the Rockefeller's or one world government? Well, in the following issues, I shall tell you more.

Boll Weevil Control To Begin Soon

LUBBOCK -- The annual assault of the Diapause Boll Weevil Control Program to stem the westward movement of the weevil will be launched about three weeks later than usual this year, leaders of the program have decided.

The major effort of the program is the concentrated and carefully coordinated aerial spraying of infested acreage just before diapausing weevils leave the field and enter the ground trash in the early fall. This is when spraying has the least chance of aggravating the bollworm situation, explained Dr. James F. Leser, area Extension entomologist. Once weevils enter the ground trash, they are inaccessible to spraying, he noted.

In recent years, this assault has begun about the first week of September, said Ed Dean, director of field services for Plains Cotton Growers and secretary of the control program's technical

Panel Airs Summit

The summit meeting of Mideast leaders Egyptian President Anwar Sedat and Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin at Camp David, Friday night was aired in a panel discussion over PBS-TV (channel 5 in Lubbock) with Karen Elliott House as one of the panelists.

A member of the Wall Street Journal's Washington bureau, covering foreign affairs, Mrs. House based her analyses on personal observation, having accompanied Secretary of State Cyrus Vance and a corps of reporters on a trip this summer to the Mideast.

In an editorial in the Sept. 1 issue of the Journal, Mrs. House states, "Not only are Messrs. Begin and Sadat far apart on the issues, but there is a basic conflict in their personal styles that will compound Mr. Carter's job of bringing them to agreement."

"The risks in the summit are obvious," the editorial continues. "It is a salvage operation being attempted because all else has

Matadors Drop Season Opener

By Willy Palmer

In high school football action Friday night Sept. 8, the Paducah Dragons downed the Motley County Matadors by a final score of 23 to 12.

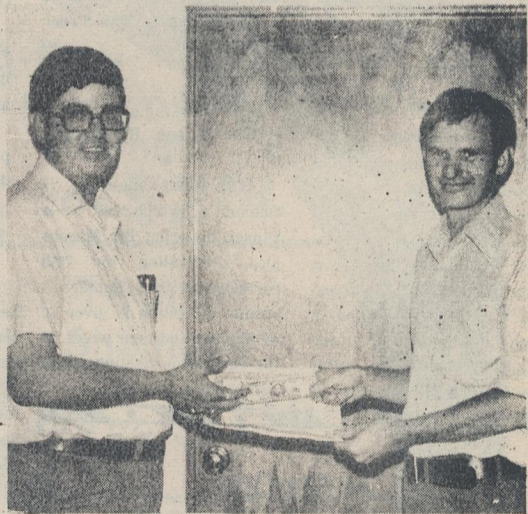

The Matadors' two touchdowns came on a 19 yard pass to halfback Robert Shannon from quarterback Robert Parker and on a 5 yard pass from Parker to tight end Mark Wason.

Outstanding play offensively and defensively was shown by tackle DeWayne Walker and Robert Shannon at runningback and linebacker. A pair of Freshmen, Harvey Lee and Glen Calvert, proved worthy of the Matador uniform by playing outstanding defense at linebacker and noseguard, respectively.

The Matadors accumulated close to 200 yards total offense which proved to be inadequate for a victory. Inexperience on the Matadors' part proved to be a deciding factor in the game.

Never-minding the score, the team and coaches feel the play was much closer than what the score indicated. Coaches Ronald Bradshaw, Danny James, Larry Dearen, and Larry Neighbors feel if a penalty or two had gone Motley's way or if the Matadors' had recovered a couple of key fumbles, Motley County would have pulled the game out for their first season victory.

Fullback Mike Green suffered pulled ligaments in his right arm late in the third quarter. His spot must be filled this week before the Matadors travel to Rochester, hungrily looking for the first win of the season. An interesting note is that every single team in the North Zone of District 2-B will also be looking for a first win

James Bearden of Matador placed third with four misses. His award is $2.

Other contestants placing high were Joe Smith, Clay Jameson, and Pat Smith, all missing five games each.

Cash awards will be given each week for the first three places, and a grand prize of two free tickets to the cotton bowl.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I wish to thank you for the recently received copies, of your very interesting newspaper, and to note that my Aunt, Mrs. Cora Hobbs Carter was quoted as seeing Quannah Parker, and his tribe of Indians in Matador. They camped on the creek bank north of town between the main street and the jail in 1910 or 1912.

I was living there at the time, and the Matador Ranch and several of the ranchers gave them beeves, (as they were called in that time) to keep them from stealing more than they gave them. I remember they were given 10 head. I was born south of Floydada on one of those surface lakes in a cabin, July 18, 1904. When I was just a baby we moved to Gains County near Seminole. When I was about 2 years of age, my father, Henry Hobbs and my mother, Teck Hobbs moved to Lea County, New Mexico and lived out a claim of 320 acres. In early 1910 we traveled by covered wagon with some people named King to Matador and settled on the place 8 miles west of Matador. It was a place sold to my father by my grandfather, William M. Hobbs.

I attended Matador School from 1910 until 1919 with the Wayborn brothers, the Gaines boys, and Hugh Luckett (his father, Jack Luckett owned the Matador Mercantile Store.)

Several of my boys went down to the creek and watched the Indians slaughter their beeves that the ranchers had given them. What a bloody mess! I am 74, but I will never forget that horrible sight, when I was about 7 years old.

My father, Henry Hobbs will be remembered by a lot of the older ones as the man that moved to Wichita Falls and made a fortune for him self and many of the men, Dough Beauchamp, Jack Luckett and many others there when he made a major discovery in the Burkburnett N W Field.

I was born just west of the Old Lyman, just upon the caprock. I am a cousin to Lyman Bundy and Harold Campbell, as their mother, Ollie Campbell was my mother's sister, raised by my Dad and Mother after the death of her mother and father in New Mexico. I worked here in Houston 44 years as an engineer in the oil field before retiring. I married a Wichita Falls girl and we have three sons.

Purcell said, "SSI is administered by the Social Security Administration to assist the 'needy' aged, blind, and disabled. This latest

Alaska Trip Exciting For Tom Ross Family

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ross and Tommy began travel to Alaska leaving Texas June 18th. Traveling by car and camper-trailer, they drove through Canada by way of Sweetgrass, Montana. The trip took them through Alberta, British Columbia and Yukon Territory over the Alaska highway where there is still approximately 950 miles of unpaved highway. The present road is covered with gravel, clay, sand and sometimes coal dust. 'First time' travelers on this narrow road are immediately edgy, especially on Summit pass, Steamboat and Trutch Mountains located in the Rocky and Pink mountains. There are no guard rails and some of the summits exceed four thousand feet elevation. The return was this drivers eighteenth trip over this road, the best of ones driving alertness is brought to the fore when this road is wet and slippery. The road condition was excellent in June and the trip was made in seven and one half days.

While in Alaska, the Ross family visited friends at Eagle River, Soldatna, Kenai, Kaslof and Valdez. Most of the summer was enjoyed at the Russian-American fishing village of Ninilchik located at the mouth of the Ninilchik river and the Cook inlet where Tommy was employed at Seward Fisheries.

Some time was spent on the family homestead at Kenny Lake, located near Copper Center in the Wrangell mountains and Copper river area. The Rosses along with daughter Elisa, then two years old, homesteaded in the area in 1959. Mr. and Mrs. Ross were honored with a community get-together on this trip as the earliest non-native settlers present in the community. There were only two non-native families living at Kenny Lake along with a tribe of Copper River Indians known as 'Ahtnas' when the Rosses arrived on their homestead in January 1959.

Many changes were noted in the community since 1959. Then there were 16 children attending school at Kenny Lake. Seventh grade through 12th grade rode the bus to Glennallen Jr. high and high school, a distance of 55 miles. Today, Kenny Lake is complimented by a new 2.3 million dollar school complex, electricity is enjoyed by most of the community. There is an area TV antenna and a paved highway runs through the community leading to the Copper river at Chitna where a 3.2 million dollar bridge was completed four years ago.

At present, after crossing the Copper river bridge at Chitna, the next 58½ miles to Strelina and McCarthy, one time mining towns, is a 'drive at your own risk' type thing. The bridge however will in time link Cordova on the Alaskan gulf and east to Lake Kluane and the Alaska highway in Yukon territory. Upon completion of the Alaska pipeline, which is located eight miles from Kenny Lake, most of the new settlers turned to farming and extensive land clearing was noted in the area. Small grains and livestock are raised and the Rosses were privileged to watch a haying harvest on their homestead conducted by Sam Lightwood, the dairy man and his two sons.

The Rosses were involved in a car-moose accident in the city of Kenai on the night of August 7th when they encountered a cow moose followed by twin calves. The cow was hit with the front of the car and thrown onto the hood, windshield and over the top of the car. None of the three were injured, however the injured moose had to be destroyed by Alaska fish and wildlife department the following morning.

The return to Texas by the trio was hampered by very muddy roads on the unpaved Alaska highway in Yukon territory and British Columbia, resulting in an eleven day return trip. The trio arrived at their home in Flomot August 21st.

CHEERLEADERS for the Motley County Matadors are Left to Right: Gina Long, Linda Palmer, Debbie Phillips (Head Cheerleader), Gwen Calvert, and Kim Campbell. Helping cheer the Matadors to victory will be Shawn Cox and Jason Bryant as the mascots.

HANDICAP TOURNAMENT

Play started Thursday in Handicap Tournament and those entering the 3-day tourney were Loys, Kethryn, Leona, Louise, Laverna, Geneva, Dorothy, Frances, Lucretia, Tommy, Mary and Hazel. Play was for low putts and Louise won the ball -- having 11 putts.

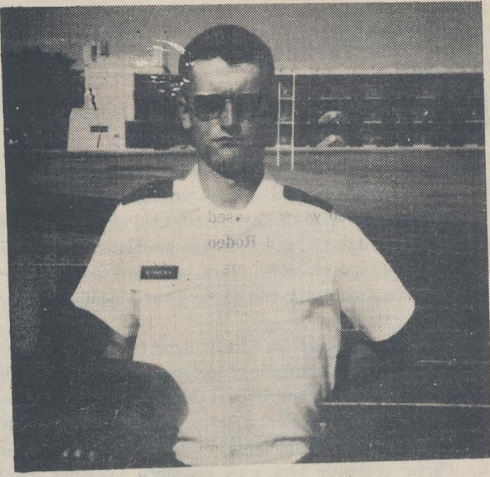

After playing 18 holes, we enjoyed picnic lunches under the mesquite trees.

AND Friday morning, it was mizzlin' rain, but all the players -- except your reporter (who believed it would be too wet for play) started the second round of play -- and managed to finish 4 holes of play before the rain drove them inside.

Louise, Laverna, Geneva, Dorothy, Frances, Lucretia and Mary came to El Matador for coffee and called your reporter to meet them and hear about their morning.

The tournament is rescheduled for next Thursday -- with plans to play 36 holes.

Loys has found that her No. 2 iron is useful for more than driving a golf ball -- as she used it to kill a big rattlesnake, going to No. 4 green Wednesday afternoon

Wallace Bethard Completes Training

Fort Knox, Ky. (AHTNC) Aug. 8 -- Cadet Wallace W. Bethard, son of retired Chief Warrant Officer and Mrs. Byron G. Bethard, Roaring Springs, recently completed six weeks of training in fundamental military skills at the Army ROTC basic camp at Fort Knox, Ky.

The basic camp is designed to give junior college graduates and college sophomores who have not taken ROTC courses the chance to enter the program. The camp also qualifies high school graduates for the ROTC program at any one of the nation's six military junior colleges.

During the encampment, cadets received training in basic rifle marksmanship, military drill and ceremonies, communications and individual and small unit tactics.

Cadet Bethard entered New Mexico Military Institute on August 22, 1978 after completing basic ROTC at Fort Knox, Ky. He plays cornet in Headquarters Troop Band.

Cadet Bethard is a 1978 graduate of Motley County High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Bethard attended the acceptance ceremony for the new cadets on the 9th of September. On the evening of the 9th they also attended the football game between the Broncs of NMMI and the Gila Monsters of Eastern Arizona. The Broncs won 44-0.

This is the first time parents were allowed to attend the acceptance ceremonies.

HEALTH TEAM

Miami Dolphin star quarterback, Bob Griese, and Lisa Cagle, the Muscular Dystrophy Association's National Poster Child, have teamed up to help fight muscular dystrophy and related disorders.

Bob Griese and Lisa Cagle champion a cause.

Lisa is MDA's lively, young, good-will ambassador. She has a six-year-old's enthusiastic love for music, dolls, animals and family picnics. Four years ago, Lisa was diagnosed as having Werdnig-Hoffman disease, a type of spinal muscular atrophy. The disease is one of a large number of neuromuscular disorders which, in addition to muscular dystrophy, are covered by MDA's programs.

County Agent Pallmeyer Says

As another case of screw worms was confirmed at Roaring Springs this week, now is not the time to let up on checking animals and treating them. Also, don't forget to collect worms, even though you think they are maggots, for they might be the real thing.

The ONLY way we can get help is for samples to be submitted. If you don't have mailing kits, stop by the office.

I have had several ask me about the disaster program for cotton, and if you didn't make much of a crop this year, it is a disaster either way you go. No one can tell you which way to go, but the following information might help you with your guess.

First, the disaster program. We know that the formula for this is based on 75 percent times 17.3c per lb., times the farm's yield. To simplify this, make it .12975 or 13 c per pound times the established yield. For a 1/2 bale per acre yield, this would return you $32.50 per acre, or to make it easy for you to figure your case, multiply 13c times your yield.

Now for harvest, and this is where there are plenty of IF's. Using last years figures of $1.25 per hundred to strip; $1.25 per hundred to gin; and $10.00 per bale for bagging and ties, and using a turnout of 20 percent, it will cost you 14.7 c per pound of lint to harvest.

Now for returns if you harvest, and here there are more questions. Using current cottonseed prices of $80 to $95 per ton, and using the $80 for us, and the latest Lubbock prices for strict low middling light spot, with a 3.0 to 3.2 mike, the price is $49.95 per hundred, for 15-16's cotton. If you make 100 lbs. per acre, this would return you $56.75 per acre or net you $42.05 per acre. (Average seed production is about 850 lbs. per 500 lb. bale of cotton.) From this you can see that production from 1-5th bale per acre is better than the disaster payment on 1/2 bale established yield.

Now for the windup, take 42c and multiply it times the pounds per acre you think you will make and compare it with 13c times your established yield. If you think you will make more than 30 percent of your established yield, and the assumptions on price and harvest hold true, it is better to harvest.

How are you going to estimate your yield? There is no sure way, but this old rule of thumb is the best there is to offer. A full grown boll per inch or row of average sized bolls equals a bale per acre on 40 inch rows. Mark off strips 5 or 10 feet long (and include the blank areas) at different parts of the field and count the bolls that have a chance to mature. Take the average, and you should be close to your potential yield.

Good Luck!

But this year, the program's aerial attack will begin about Sept. 25, officials decided at a recent meeting. Intensive scouting of fields this season has revealed a somewhat different pattern of weevil activity, the group noted.

Weather, crop conditions and the successful adoption by producers of cultural practices recommended by the diapause control program have been factors in the changing activity, the officials said. Among the cultural practices urged by the program and supported by growers in the control zone was use of a uniform planting date to deny emerging weevils adequate plant food for reproduction early in the season.

The movement of weevils to winter habitat will be heaviest during late September and early October, said Dr. Don Rummel, research entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station here. The percentage of diapausing weevils in the total population in the control zone will remain relatively small until late September, it was noted.

Consequently, program officials selected Sept. 25 as a target date for opening the aerial attack, Dean said. "This means that producers will need to keep a close check on their individual fields and provide their own treatment if it is needed before the proposed starting date of the control program spraying," Dean said.

The uniform planting date was a major factor in making it practical to delay the spraying program to insure that adequate funds are available to give adequate treatment when the maximum percentage of weevils have attained the state of diapause, Dean added.

The diapause control program was initiated by growers in 1964. It is jointly funded by the growers and the U.S. Department of Agriculture. It covers all or part of 16 counties, with 13,500 square miles and is administered by the USDA Plant Protection and Quarantine Office. Collection and administration of funds from growers is handled by Plains Cotton Growers.

Since the program began, the cotton acreage in the control zone has increased from some 250,000 acres to 437,118 acres last year. However, government funding has remained at the 1964 level, and inflation has more than outdistanced the increased funding provided by producers, based on bales produced. Spray materials, such as Malathion, which a few years ago cost $5 a gallon now cost almost $10 a gallon.

The increased acreage and limited funding make it imperative that maximum effectiveness be obtained in the diapause program this fall, Roy J. Moritz, officer in charge of the USDA-PPQ office in Lubbock, stressed.

failed. While it may not be the last chance for peace, a failure at Camp David would seem certain to create a feeling of hopelessness and a new drift toward hostilities in the Middle East.

"But because the outcome depends so heavily on the personalities involved, it's easy to believe Mr. Carter when he says 'we do not have any assurance of success.'

"What the administration hopes for, at best, is a Camp David agreement for further talks. But the mood is pessimistic. 'We may have to accept that a solution isn't possible for another five or ten years,' says one U.S. official."

Book Published By Area Man

Carter White, who lives in nearby Hale Center, has recently published a book about horses. The engaging compilation of stories titled "Big Remuda" was printed by Professionals' Printing, Plainview.

The total content of the book, people, horses, and the vernacular in which they are described, are totally "West Texas". Remuda is a Spanish word meaning 'herd of horses'.

"Big Remuda", explains the author, was not selected as the name until after many of the stories contained in it had been written. Upon its completion, the book did represent lively tales of a big remuda of horses, 92, to be exact.

White says the stories told are about horses and the people who used them. "They include working cow ponies, play day ponies, barrel racers, pole benders, cuttin' ponies, ropin' ponies and some that could run a hole in the wind. Many of the most touching tales are about common ole ponies that were a long way from bein' pedigreed. There are some stories about registered animals and their abilities to win at halter and performance, and still work their turn as some ranch hand's mount."

The author, who feels that every horse is a personality, shows a remarkable ability to portray such characteristics as a 'mean mind' or 'gentle and even tempered' or 'too salty' disposition, for his readers.

Family history is also written into the stories as he tells of the equines he has grown up with in the Caprock area near Post. Through the pages, the writer often reveals his own very deep feelings and sensitivities.

All the stories in the book are true, either about horses the writer has owned or has known about and had documented. All are dramatized in the 174 pictures included.

White started writing things he remembered about some of his horses just as a pastime. At one time his daughter, Sherry, rescued them from the trash. It was not until 1971 that he became serious about publishing them in book form. He says he has spent ten years of his free time in the writing.

A native of Garza County, he attended elementary school at Garnolia in Lynn County. He was graduated from Post High School. During high school years, he played tackle on the Class AA Antelope team, also baseball and was a member of the school boxing team.

In 1951 he married the former Sybil Smith, also a native of Garza County and graduate of Southland High School. At present she is secretary at First Baptist Church, Hale Center. They are parents of two daughters. Sherry McNeely now lives at New Home and Cynthia is employed at City National Bank, Plainview.

Carter presently serves as Livestock Inspector for Texas Animal Health Commission. He has been assigned to the scabies force and handles dipping chores for infested cattle. Of necessity he still rides horseback much of the time. Some of his other numerous duties include testing cattle for brucellosis, a troublesome disease of utmost concern for cattlemen.

One of the great charms of "Big Remuda" is the cowboy dialogue in which it is written. With such phrases as "bob wire fences", "pretty fair clip", "a feller throws a houlihan" and "stick her tail in the ground", he says that he has been criticized for not furnishing a glossary. But he hastens to explain, he thinks the terms are almost self-explanatory. He has preserved this West Texas dialect for generations of horse lovers yet to come. He has included, in the closing pages, a short list of definitions of Spanish words used.

Having worked with and around horses since he was nine years of age, White ways "the more ponies you break, the more educated you get. No two are alike and each one teaches you things you can use later on . . . the good ones linger in your mind . . . and seem somehow closer in memory as evenin' shadows fall."

Big Remuda is on sale locally at the Matador Tribune. Further information about the publication may be had by contacting White at Box 708, Hale Center.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to use this means to thank you my dear friends in Matador for their cards, flowers and calls received during the last illness and death of our loved one.

PUBLIC NOTICE SUMMARY OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS GENERAL ELECTION NOV. 7, 1978

"The Tax Relief Amendment" (H.J.R. 1) H.J.R. 1 proposes an amendment to the Texas Constitution allowing the legislature to exempt intangible personal property, requiring the legislature to exempt certain household goods and personal effects, and allowing the legislature to exempt all or part of the personal property homestead from state and local property taxation. The amendment requires the legislature to provide for the taxation of farm and ranch land on the basis of its productive capacity instead of its market value and allows the legislature to provide for the taxation of timber land on its productive capacity. The amendment permits local governments to extend the present exemption of not less than $3,000 of the residence homestead of persons 65 and older to include certain disabled persons. The amendment grants an exemption from public school property taxes of $5,000 of the market value of the residence homestead. It authorizes the legislature to grant an additional exemption from public school property taxes of an amount not to exceed $10,000 of the market value of the residence homesteads of persons 65 years of age or older and certain disabled persons. If a person 65 years of age or older qualifies for this exemption, the total amount of public school taxes imposed on that person's homestead may not be increased. The amendment prevents local governments from increasing property taxes unless the governing body provides public notice and conducts a public hearing. The amendment requires the legislature to provide by law for each property owner to receive notice of the revaluation of his property and the amount taxes will be increased. The amendment limits appropriations from state tax revenue to an amount not to exceed Texas' estimated economic growth rate, with the legislature authorized to make exceptions for emergencies. The amendment prohibits the statewide appraisal of real property for property tax purposes. Enforcement of uniform standards and procedures for appraisal of property for property tax purposes is required to originate in the taxing bonds would be payable solely from the revenue from the sale or lease of these facilities. The building or acquisition of such facilities must be determined by the local government to be necessary to develop employment opportunities. The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows: "The constitutional amendment to provide that the legislature may permit political subdivisions to issue revenue bonds to develop employment opportunities for its citizens."

NUMBER THREE (S.J.R. 44) S.J.R. 44 proposes an amendment to the Texas Constitution which would allow the legislature to authorize cities and towns to issue tax increment bonds to finance the redevelopment of blighted areas. The bonds are to be paid solely from revenue from municipal tax increments. Payment cannot be made from the revenue of municipal taxes, utilities, or other services. The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows: "The constitutional amendment to give the legislature the power to authorize cities and towns to issue bonds to finance the redevelopment of blighted areas and prohibiting any city or town from granting its money or lending its credit for such purposes."

NUMBER FOUR (S.J.R. 53) S.J.R. 53 proposes an amendment to the Texas Constitution to allow the legislature to exempt from taxation solar or wind-powered energy devices. The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows: "The constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to exempt from taxation solar and wind-powered energy devices."

NUMBER FIVE (H.J.R. 37) H.J.R. 37 proposes an amendment to the Texas Constitution to grant exclusive jurisdiction to justices of the peace in civil cases where the amount in controversy does not exceed $200, except where the legislature gives exclusive jurisdiction to another court. The amendment grants justices of the peace concurrent jurisdiction with county courts where the amount in controversy is between $200 and $500, except where the legislature gives the county court exclusive jurisdiction. The amendment also grants justices of the peace concurrent jurisdiction

NUMBER ONE (S.J.R. 50) S.J.R. 50 proposes an amendment to the Texas Constitution to delete an archaic reference to the "Deaf and Dumb Asylum." The amendment would allow the State of Texas to purchase products and services done by handicapped individuals in nonprofit rehabilitation facilities without complying with bid requirements applicable to other state contracts. The amendment also would eliminate the formality of the approval of certain state contracts by the Governor, the Secretary of State and the Comptroller of Public Accounts. The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows: "The constitutional amendment deleting the archaic reference to the 'Deaf and Dumb Asylum,' allowing certain products and services of handicapped individuals to be used by agencies and departments of state government, requiring the procurement of other products and services required in the operation of state government to be made under bids awarded to the lowest responsible bidder, making all such procurement processes subject to laws enacted by the legislature, and eliminating the requirement that the Governor, the Secretary of State, and the Comptroller of Public Accounts of Texas be personally involved with such transactions."

NUMBER TWO (S.J.R. 55) S.J.R. 55 proposes an amendment to the Texas Constitution to permit local governments to issue bonds for the reconstruction or acquisition of facilities (land equipment and improvements) designed to develop employment opportunities. These

The authority of the State Building Commission has been transferred by law to the State Board of Control. The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows: "The constitutional amendment to repeal the constitutional authority for the State Building Commission and the State Building Fund."

NUMBER EIGHT (H.J.R. 42) H.J.R. 42 proposes an amendment to the Texas Constitution allowing certain political subdivisions or districts in the state that can presently issue bonds or other indebtedness or otherwise lend its credit to engage in fire-fighting activities and to issue bonds or otherwise lend its credit to support such activities. The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows: "The constitutional amendments authorizing certain districts to engage in fire-fighting activities and to issue bonds or otherwise lend their credit for fire-fighting purposes."
