

Culver City Folks Rediscover Street Which Was Buried

CULVER CITY, Calif., Nov. 4. (AP)—The property owners on Purdine Ave. have their street back now. It wasn't lost, strayed or stolen. They just had forgotten about it.

Recently a resident suggested to neighbors it would be nice to have the avenue paved. One of them thought it had been once—back about 1921. A query to the city hall evoked the answer: "What street?" The city had no record of it. Seems they were lost years ago. But workers were sent out to dig around. At two and a half feet they hit pavement, a little the worse for wear—but there. Older settlers then recalled how it happened. Rain water had flooded the area so often residents tired of shoveling silt off the street after each storm. Pineapples derive much of their nourishment from the air. Pineapples, which are almost seedless, are grown from slips.

Thurmond Still Says He's Demo

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 4. (AP)—Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina still considers himself "a member of the Democratic Party." The States Rights Democratic presidential candidate yesterday reaffirmed his allegiance to the South Carolina Democratic Party, which he said would not be "dictated to" by National Democratic Chairman J. Howard McGrath. Thurmond, who won 38 presidential electoral votes in Tuesday's general election, declared: "The members of the Democratic Party of South Carolina operate our own Democratic Party. Our party is not directed by Mr. McGrath nor will it take dictation from him."

McGrath recently recognized a pro-Truman group of Democrats in the state as the "official Democratic Party of South Carolina." The University of Mississippi football squad is strictly Dixieland. The breakdown by states: Mississippi 35, Tennessee 10, Alabama five, Arkansas, two, and one each from North Carolina, Georgia, Louisiana and Illinois.

American-Born British Poet Wins Nobel Literature Award

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 4. (AP)—The Swedish Academy today voted the 1948 Nobel Prize in literature to Thomas Stearns Eliot, American-born British poet, dramatist and essayist. Eliot will receive the award, worth about $4,000 this year, at the Nobel Prize ceremony in Stockholm Dec. 10.

The Nobel Prizes are provided by the will of Alfred B. Nobel, Swedish scientist and industrialist who died in 1896. The prize in literature was voted last week to Dr. Paul Mueller of Switzerland. The prizes in physics and chemistry and the peace prize have not yet been voted.

A Quart of Medicine For One Dollar

Mertox goes to work quickly to overcome the torturing pains of rheumatism. It tones the bowels into a more rhythmic action. Expels waste matter that may have been in your system over a long period of time, causing many days, weeks and months of misery. One and a half, indigestion, sour stomach, and bladder troubles are helped so that the annoying broken rest from having to get up frequently at night is lessened. Disinfects and run-down feeling is overcome quickly so that you feel, look and act like a different person. Mertox helps to build rich, red blood—creates a better appetite, so that you have a real zest for food. Mertox may be taken by every member of the family. It contains no narcotics, opiates or calomel and will not make you sick, gripe, or nauseate you in the slightest degree. Ask any druggist in Texas for a package of the new Mertox. Add to a quart of water and you have an excellent tonic medicine which will save you approximately $4.00.

Eliot, who is 60, was born in St. Louis, Mo., but carved out his literary career in England and became a British subject in 1927. His first work, a collection of poems titled "Prufrock and Other Observations," was published in 1917. In 1922 he expressed the prevailing post-war pessimism in a poetic cycle, "The Waste Land." He founded the British literary magazine "Criterion" and was its editor from 1932 to 1933. His works include the versified plays "The Rock," "Murder in the Cathedral" and "The Family Reunion"; and the collection of poems "The Hollow Men," "Ash Wednesday" and "Four Quartets." He studied at Harvard under Irving Babbitt and George Santayana and also at the Sorbonne and Oxford. He holds honorary degrees from Columbia, Cambridge and the Universities of Leeds, Edinburgh and Bristol.

Poll Takers Are Combing Statistics To Find Why Figures Misled Them

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. (AP)—The poll takers were still combing through statistics today—trying to find out why their figures misled them into forecasting the election defeat of President Truman.

Latest comment from one of the country's major public opinion researchers came last night from Elmo Roper, director of the Fortune Magazine poll.

"I don't know why I was wrong," he said.

Roper predicted on Sept. 9 that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey would get 52.2 per cent of the vote compared to 37.3 for Truman. He said then that a Dewey victory was so clearly indicated that no further surveys would be made.

"I could not have been more wrong," said Roper. "The thing that bothers me most is that at this moment I don't know why I was wrong. But I certainly propose to find out."

He suggested several "possibilities" that might have caused the mistake.

"Perhaps," he said, "the abnormally high 15 per cent 'don't know' vote we received last August did not distribute equally to both major candidates as it has in the past, but that this time it all went to Truman."

Or it could have been, he added, "that the labor vote, brought out to the polls more quietly but more efficiently this time, turned the tables."

"Or it might be that, as we found out in a poll done late in the campaign, the people are strongly pro-new deal and perhaps they see the objectives of the Roosevelt program imperiled," he said.

"Perhaps, but I don't know."

Earlier, Dr. George Gallup, whose American Institute of Public Opinion predicted Dewey would get 49.6 per cent of the vote and Mr. Truman 44.5 per cent, said he believed an analysis of voting statistics would reveal the reason for the error.

He said the answer may also come from a further survey among voters.

Archibald Crossley, director of the Crossley Poll, said the election results "clearly show what happens when one party gets out its vote and the other does not."

He said the Crossley Poll, which forecast 49.9 per cent of the vote for Dewey and 44.9 for Truman, found voters were apathetic toward both candidates shortly before the election.

The public opinion polls, he said, may have "served to redouble Democratic efforts to bring out the vote and may have created overconfidence among Republicans."

Union Council Reveals Aims

AUSTIN, Nov. 4. (AP)—The Texas State Industrial Union Council (CIO) today had 17 legislative aims.

The program the council plans to urge on the 51st Legislature includes the following: Abolition of the poll tax; tax on natural resources; prison reform and rehabilitation, creation of a state department of labor; reconstruction of "Texas oppressive labor laws"; improved industrial code; increased unemployment benefits; adequate pay for teachers; improved rural roads, electric and telephone service; increased aid to the aged, needy and dependent children; reappointment of senatorial and legislative districts; annual salaries for state legislators; no sales tax; expanded state health program; soil and water conservation; protection of migratory workers; expanded educational program; good neighbor relations; adequate state buildings.

Election Will Fill West Post

AUSTIN, Nov. 4. (AP)—Special election has been called by Gov. Beauford H. Jester for Dec. 4 in the 15th congressional district to name a successor to the late Rep. Milton H. West.

West died last Thursday.

The successor named in the special election will serve out West's unexpired term, which ends in January.

Lloyd Bentsen, Jr., has been elected to the new term starting then.

Texas laws and the constitution make it mandatory for the governor to call a special election whenever a vacancy occurs in the National House of Representatives.

SHOVEL and HOE

A Garden Column by Virginia Scott. Presented by the Big Spring Garden Club.

By VIRGINIA SCOTT

When a plant proves its dependability, beauty and usefulness, and attracts special attention throughout the years, it is outstanding enough to deserve honorable mention.

Here are four such plants that we have tried over a period of years. We find ourselves waiting for each season of bloom, or new growth, with the expectation and excitement of a child watching for Santa Claus.

Number one is the Spanish Beauty rose. We have mentioned this pillar rose several times. If you have it, or have seen it, you will appreciate our enthusiasm. It is sometimes listed under the name of Madame Gregoire Staechelin. The color is soft, pure pink. One plant is almost a garden within itself. Hardy in Pennsylvania. Good in large borders. Usually, does not bloom until second spring after planting.

Number two is the Virginal Mockorange. This shrub is hardy anywhere. Very reliable and perfectly gorgeous planted as accent plants in the garden. Use lots of them, if you can. They do not take up so much space as some of the other Mockoranges.

Number three is the Hyperion Daylily. Such large yellow blooms, in quantity, can hardly be described. Use lots of these, too, in front of shrub groups, in the flower garden, for cutting, and for general landscape purposes.

Number four is not a blooming plant, but the new growth is so attractive each spring and summer that we wait for it as anxiously as for the others. This is the ornamental evergreen, Cedrus Deodara. It is not quite hardy above the upper south. The gray-green foliage is very beautiful. Use as specimen plants on the lawn or in the garden.

All of these plants can be moved now. May also be planted in the spring. If you can't find room for them this fall, list them in your note book for future reference. They will give you great pleasure once you have them.

On second thought, we will add Beauty Bush (Kolkwitzia) to the list. This is a very attractive shrub with dainty, light pink blooms that cover the bush. Good for mass planting in large borders or as specimen plants.

DEPENDABLE ROSES

We have been giving descriptions of roses, most of them being the latest varieties, but there are many older kinds that are dependable and beautiful. One of the best is Radiance. A fine rose of outstanding color is Betty Uprichard, and, at a certain stage of unfolding, we believe that Pink Killarney is about the freshest looking thing that a dewdrop would ever care to glisten upon.

Another old favorite, with people who like white flowers, is the White American Beauty, (pillar). It is very prolific.

State Directory Contains Names Of Texas Officials

AUSTIN, Nov. 4. (AP)—The second edition of the Texas state directory contains the names of approximately 2,000 persons who are public officials and employees and live in Austin.

The publishers of the directory, Texas Publishing Co., Inc., Austin, said that the purpose of the book was to acquaint citizens with the affairs of our state government and to afford "a handy reference to the personalities elected and appointed to transact the important $400,000,000 annual joint-business of 7,000,000 citizens."

At the conclusion of the book is a list of departments, commissions and boards of the state and mailing addresses for the state colleges and universities.

The directory is dedicated to Judge Frank Lee Hawkins of the Court of Criminal Appeals whom the publishers call "a senior member of the state family."

Manchurian Loss Called Enormous One

PEIPING, Nov. 4. (AP)—Extent of the Communist victory in Manchuria stunned government supporters in North China Wednesday.

Chinese loyal to Chiang Kai-shek called it a "disaster" and a "monumental tragedy." They feared more setbacks now that the Communists can unleash their Manchurian armies for attacks elsewhere.

(Chiang's second loss of Manchuria—it fell to the Japanese before—itself does not necessarily portend loss of the civil war, said Fred Hampson in a dispatch from Shanghai.

"He never really held much of Manchuria," said Hampson. "But the manner in which he lost and the enormous troops and supply losses entailed appear to have undermined the entire war machine of the Nationalists, possibly beyond repair."

"Obviously, large scale defections by war-weary Nationalists in Manchuria have raised the question whether any of Chiang's remaining troops can be counted on to fight."

The government has given no idea of its losses in Manchuria with the fall of Mukden.

There were indications, however, that not a single soldier escaped the Mukden area to the seaport of Yingkow, 115 miles south. No new reports came from Mukden, bombed by government warplanes yesterday for the second straight day.

Escaped Convict Still At Large

ANGLETON, Nov. 4. — Willie Craig, 27-year-old Negro convict who escaped from the Ramsey Farm near here Tuesday, is still at large, Texas prison officials said.

Craig was serving a two-year sentence from Potter County for theft.

Longshoremen were originally called "along-shore-men" because they worked on the wharves of seaports where they loaded and unloaded vessels.

Testifies in Alice Taxi Drivers Suit

CORPUS CHRISTI, Nov. 4. (AP)—George Rupe testified yesterday in a $20,000 damage suit he and eight

Alice taxicab drivers have brought against city officials of Alice. Rupe and the others contend the city deprived them of their rights to earn a living by imposing conditions not exacted on other taxicab companies.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

"Husbands, Wives, and Marriage"

Maybe you read that survey published recently in a national magazine, entitled "Husbands, Wives, and Marriage."

It showed that among happily married couples, those who criticized themselves outnumbered those who criticized the other person. Among unhappily married couples, it was just the opposite—each one tended to criticize the other.

That's the way it is in our town, as I guess it is in yours. Criticism, whether it's of a wife's taste for hats, or a husband's taste for pipe to tobacco and an evening glass of beer or ale, is a sure start towards unhappiness.

As for what made happy marriages, companionship within the home was listed most important of all. And from where I sit, a husband and wife who can spend an evening by the fire—with nothing more exciting than a mellow glass of beer, and a friendly conversation—are a truly well-matched couple!

County Should Have Road Setup That Will Mean More Progress

Howard county has placed itself in position to make real progress in one of its most important functions—that of improving the county network of roads—in voting to establish a "unified" road department.

We are, in a sense, moving up a step, since Howard for some years has approached coordination in its road work and has advanced considerably beyond the precinct level that prevails in other counties.

President Now In Position To Control Administration

For the first time since he was elevated to the presidency of the United States by the sudden death of Franklin Delano Roosevelt, Harry S. Truman is now in a position to seize and exercise the initiative.

His smashing victory (and it was that despite experts who will try to show how a few thousand votes here and there could have changed results) is doubly impressive because he was running against three men: Thomas Dewey against only one.

But the victory and its character is not so important as the fact that it was Harry Truman, almost by himself, who won that victory. Fifty experts and pollsters agreed 50-0 that the election was little more than a formality for ushering in a republican administration. They even scolded Mr. Truman in their columns when he said the polls were all wrong.

Texas Today—William C. Barnard

Public Opinion Pollsters Are Taking Awful Ribbing

Texas humor runs high today on the crest of the smashing democratic victory. Public opinion pollsters were taking an awful ribbing.

One lady called the Associated Press and asked: "Is it true that Dr. Gallup has gone to South Africa?"

Another asked: "Did he go to the North Pole?"

Frank Baldwin, the old curmudgeon of the Waco News-Tribune, sent the AP a sassy telegram asking for an interview with Lynn Landrum, Dallas Morning News columnist, who opposed the candidacy of the democratic nominee for the U. S. Senate, Lyndon Johnson.

"What this Landrum responded dryly: 'I don't think there is any science in the opinion poll. It is like predicting a horse race—the horse may fall and break his neck. In this case, Mr. Dewey broke his neck.'"

"After all," said Landrum, "the people rule—it's their country and it's my country, too. I can take it if they can."

"What this country needs is a new set of public opinion polls," growled an old editor who was being bombarded with questions.

"All those good folks who go out and ask one out of a thousand people what is

NEW YORK, (AP)—REPUBLICANS WHO stayed up all night at national headquarters to celebrate looked at dawn today like baggard brides left waiting at the church.

It was so quiet around the Hotel Roosevelt that you could hear a poll-taker's chin drop.

But if there was a poll-taker in the place he wisely kept his mouth shut. There were no Republican chins any longer able even to fall open. They had all done that hours before.

It was a scene of political carnage over which spread the lengthening shadow east

Grid Tickets Serve As A Barter To Obtain U.S. Farm Yearbooks

By TEX EASLEY AP Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—This is the time of the year when congressional secretaries swap government publications for army-navy football tickets—and Lacey Sharp of Rep. Bob Poage's office is the champion swapper on Capitol Hill.

Each congressman, as an ex-officio member of the Army-Navy Athletic Association, is given an option on eight tickets for every game played by the service academies.

They have to buy them, and this year the Army-Navy game tickets are selling at $5 apiece.

Bartering on behalf of his boss, Sharp has swapped the Waco congressman's 1948 game tickets for 100 of the Agriculture Department Yearbooks.

A 1,000-page volume which sells for $2, the yearbook is eagerly sought by farmers, agricultural students and farm organizations. It is filled with the latest of scientific and practical information regarding virtually every problem that faces a farmer or livestock producer.

Every congressman is entitled to 400 of these books free. Poage's central Texas district is predominantly rural, so his allotment is exhausted early each year. So Sharp starts horse trading, telephoning secretaries of congressmen from eastern cities who have little or no demand for the yearbooks.

Two years ago when the demand was so great that every congressman was allowed only four tickets to the Army-Notre Dame game, Sharp got 100 yearbooks and 50,000 farm bulletins in trades.

AROUND THE CAPITAL:

Uncle Sam delivers the mail to the remotest of places. Postal authorities here do not have any table of mileages between post offices, but from a study of a large map of rural and star routes, the most isolated post office in Texas appears to be Carls Valley, in Edward's County.

The nearest post office to Carls Valley is Del Rio, 37 1/2 miles away. Travelling the opposite direction, one has to go 73 miles to Sonora, the nearest post office to the north.

Every other post office in Texas appears to have a neighboring post office nearer to it than does Carls Valley. For instance, from Del Rio to Quemada is but 36 miles.

Recent visitors here included C. T. Dean and his son, Marcus, who came up from Dallas to attend a book manufacturers convention.

Architects of federal buildings have a display in the lobby of the Museum of Natural History. Among drawings on display as excellent examples are those of Naval Reserve armories in Dallas, Austin and Fort Worth, the post office at Garland, and the Veterans Administration hospital in Houston.

Here is the tentative schedule of the forthcoming inspection tour by Veterans Administrator Carl R. Gray, Jr., of VA installations in Texas: Houston, Nov. 24; San Antonio, Nov. 25; Legion, night Nov. 25 and night of Nov. 27; Waco, Nov. 28; Dallas, night of Nov. 28, Nov. 29; McKinney, Nov. 30, returning to Dallas for the night and Dec. 1; Lubbock, Dec. 2; Dallas, Dec. 3; Amarillo, Dec. 14.

A special Senate committee headed by Sen. Wherry (R-Neb) is to start a new study of the foot-and-mouth disease situation. The group is to convene Nov. 8 in Omaha and, after hearing testimony there, will head for El Paso and Mexico. It is expected that at least 10 senators and several technical experts will be in the party.

Besides Wherry, others on the committee are Sens. Green (D-R. I.), Russell (D-Ga.), Thomas (D-Okla.) and Young (R-ND).

The exact time of their arrival in El Paso is not yet set. Excerpt from a news letter by Rep. Wilson (R-Ind): "Too many of our people allow anything, or nothing at all, to keep them away from the polls but in proof of my point that every vote by every voter does count, I call attention to the recent senatorial race in Texas."

"At one time the tally changed back and forth five times... until finally the ballots of 87 citizens, from all the great state of Texas, determined that Lyndon B. Johnson shall sit in the Senate of the United States next January, while Coke Stevenson is just a candidate who lost a race for the seat."

"I am bound to wonder, with you, if any of those 87 important voters considered staying home on Election day, or said to himself, 'my one little vote won't count.'"

Actresses' Proportions Are Combined In Dummy

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Fashion Designer Edith Head has combined anatomical parts of nine film actresses to form the perfect dummy.

This is a literal dummy, one used for fashion scenes in "Bitter Victory." A perfectionist, Miss Head had to make it the best. Choosing from the stars she had designed for, she picked this list: (reading up to down—or vice versa, according to taste):

- Neck—Diana Lynn, 13 inches.
- Shoulders—Barbara Stanwyck.
- Bust—Olivia DeHavilland, 34 1/2 inches.
- Waist—Loretta Young, 24 inches.
- Hips—Lizabeth Scott, 35 inches.
- Arms—Hedy Lamarr.
- Hands—Veronica Lake.
- Legs—Marlene Dietrich, of course.

California Town Has Counterpart Of Leaning Tower

ONTARIO, Calif., Nov. 4 (AP)—Downtown Ontario has its counterpart of the leaning tower today. A construction crew worked through the night to prop up a leaning three-story building which threatened to collapse momentarily.

The 50 by 150 foot structure began to creak and settle to port yesterday, frightening clerks and shoppers in a dime store and residents of the upper stories. Amid a shower of plaster from walls and ceilings, all got out safely.

The cause, said police: Enthusiastic workmen excavating for a new store next door dug a bit too deep and close to the foundation of the old building.

Officers, roping off the area as a precaution, hoped that no hay-fever victim would cut loose with a sneeze.

Hunters Must Guard American Interpretation Of The Sport

Back in the heyday of the first German empire, hunting was one of the favorite "sports" of Deutschianders. I put the word "sports" in quotes because in the way they interpreted it and the way most of us see it, the term is relative.

King Frederick II of Germany was known as the greatest hunter in the Empire during the active days of his reign. In fact King Frederick II was the best everything-he-tried or somebody paid for indulgence.

Freddie's forays were not without their fanfare—he even sold tickets to the event. How do you sell tickets to something that goes on in the woods? Simple—just move it to a stadium where the royal guard can bump off the gate crashers.

That's what the king did. He had a flock of game animals, mostly deer, captured and herded into a bowl-shaped stadium. There before a full house, Freddie and his mighty hunters rode on to the field and began the slaughter.

Needless to say, they didn't go home empty-handed. That was the Germans' idea of sports. Events in recent years lead me to believe that their ideas on the subject haven't changed much from what they were in the 18th century. Let's hope they do.

No Chance Seen That We Will Abandon Nationalists

MAO TZE-TUNG, CHAIRMAN OF THE Chinese Communist party, has written a report of the Red successes in China for the bulletin of the Cominform (Communist International Information Bureau) which has headquarters in Bucharest, Romania.

So Mao Tze-Tung reports to the Cominform, which is the voice of Moscow. He says in his account (which presumably was written before the fall of Mukden, capital of Manchuria) that his forces occupy 907,000 square miles of territory, or about 24.5 per cent of China. He also claims that 168 million people, or some 35 per cent of China's population, are under Communist rule.

WHETHER HIS FIGURES ARE ACCURATE, the fact remains that the Chinese Communists threaten to overrun all China, thus presenting Russia with a base which might well dominate the entire Orient. The Nationalist China of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek is pretty well shot to pieces—politically, economically, and militarily. And it looks to America to rescue it. How far should the United States go in trying to rescue China? Assuming that our present help is so inadequate as to be

Theater Parties To Go On Despite Actress Bankhead

NEW YORK—In a recent issue of the August New York Times, Tallulah Bankhead had an encouraging say about the state of the stage in town, as she said, known only to Rand-McNally, the census taker and the booking agents.

Somewhere well down in her pan of praise which discounted the pains usually attributed to trouping, Taloo got back to Manhattan musings, and had another fling at what she considers one of the frights of the current drama, meaning theater parties.

Theater parties, for the uninitiated, consist of charitable evenings wherein the entire theater is bought out ahead of time for a performance of a play and the tickets sold to charitably impelled persons at several times the boxoffice price.

The practice has grown until now there is an Association of Theatre Benefit Agents, with a president, officers, board of directors and a fairly long list of members.

These benefit agents engaged in singing the praises of the theater party for a simple economic purpose of raising regularly, resent more than considerably the Tallulahs of this world who have dedicated some portion of their stubborn attention to ridding the theater of their like.

Miss Ivy Larric, president of the Association of Theatre Benefit Agents, has issued several protesting blasts in the wake of unannounced attacks such as Tallulah's Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein, 2nd, who produce as well as write Broadway shows, recently decared the theater party practice, as did Moss Hart and his brother Bernard, who are author and co-producer respectively of an imminent comedy attraction which theater benefit agents, frankly, would like to peddle around; for charity, of course.

The aforesaid Miss Larric insists the party practice, instead of hurting the theater, is in fact a definite cultural help. "Why, we've brought audiences to the theater who never saw a stage play before," she said, directly on the published heels of Taloo's public budgeon. "Some of these people not only look an instant interest in the stage, but now go in for backstage shop talk just like the folks who have a charge account at Sardi's."

"Why, we do more than help orphans and old folks by their charities. We sometimes keep a play running longer than it would without theater parties. Sometimes as many as 50 parties are sold for one play. Then along come the reviews, and the show, which ordinarily would fold right off, keeps going, keeps everyone solvent and sometimes helps turn it into a hit by good word-of-mouth advertising from just plain people who aren't as finicky with what they get as the critics."

Tallulah Bankhead sent wires to the drama desks saying that audiences (who pay up to $50 a pair for tickets, with proceeds to charity) at such benefits are

"colder than the Polar icecap," and followed directly with a piece in the New York Times which fell upon the charitable custom with an eager crusading spirit. It is doubtful that Tallulah's blade will sever the attachment of the managers to the practice. While Taloo has many a thoughtful theatrical peramage on her side, Miss Ivy Larric, president of the Association of Theatre Benefit Agents, the folks who peddle these performances to various charities, handed me ample illustration of the entrenched position of her association, Tallulah notwithstanding.

"I think you'd be interested to see the names of the producers who have accepted theater parties for their plays this year," said Miss Larric, handing me a pile of contracts. I noted many of the most respectable gentlemen of the producing craft represented. Richard Aldrich and Richard Myers, for instance, a brace of high-minded and serious managers, have accepted parties for the imminent "Goodbye, My Fancy." Oscar Serlin, with the season's most eagerly awaited production, Lindsay and Crouse's "Life With Mother," has scheduled a startling assortment of parties for his opus. "Where's Charley," musical version of "Charlie's Aunt," an paper one of the best possibilities of the year, also is indulging in Miss Larric's charitable plans. Max Gordon, so canny a character as there is about Broadway, has two parties scheduled for all of his productions this season, Tennessee Williams, with two critics circle prizes and a Pulitzer Award staring him in the back, has his new drama, "Summer and Smoke," scheduled for quite a few charity parties. The elegant Gilbert Miller is not so socially aloof as to pass up plenty of the same for his "Edward My Son," even though it was a great success in London. Mike Todd, another bright young showman, and the Shuberts, richest of them all, also have parties listed for their incoming extravaganzas.

Quick Change Money

SHANGHAI (AP)—Short story, in 1946 two men held ten million of the government's former inflated currency — the "CNC." One was an old man. The other was a young man.

The old man, a retired employe of a big foreign oil company had what he called faith in the Chinese government "to do the right thing by its money." He put it in the bank and lived on the gratifying high interest.

Smuggling Wins Jefferson Honor

FLORENCE, S. C., Nov. 4 (U)—A smuggling job on rice gained Thomas Jefferson an honorary membership in the Agricultural Society of South Carolina. Attorney W. Marshall Bridges, a student of Jefferson's life, reports that the 1787 ambassador to Great Britain found rice there superior to that grown in South Carolina.

He looked into the matter, and found that the superiority derived from the rice, grown in Piedmont, Italy, being of a different strain than that grown in the United States. In one of his notebooks Jefferson wrote that an Italian muleteer "will smuggle a sack of rough rice for me to Genoa; if being death to export it in that form."

The smuggler was successful, and the new rice thrived in this country. In recognition, Marshall says, Jefferson was accorded the membership.

Labor Claims Major Assist For Truman

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 (AP)—Loyal labor leaders Wednesday claimed a major assist in the heavy vote barrage laid down for President Truman and the new democratic congress.

They said record numbers of workers had joined with farmers and small businessmen in support of the democratic party's "forthright pledges" to deal with inflation, housing, civil rights and repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor law.

Top union leaders immediately began building up hopes for an early fulfillment of those pledges. Speaking about the Taft-Hartley repeal pledge, George Meany, treasurer of the AFL's labor league for political education, said:

"That's our fight and we mean to continue it. If we don't get repeal now, we're going to look forward to 1950."

With few exceptions, labor organizations worked against the republican candidates because the GOP-controlled Congress wrote the new labor relations act into law over Mr. Truman's veto.

"That the unions' rank and file backed up with votes their leaders' ire was evident in coast-to-coast returns from Tuesday's election.

Among the early senate casualties who voted for the Taft-Hartley law were republican Senators C. Wayland Brooks of Illinois, Chapman Revercomb of West Virginia and George A. Wilson of Iowa.

On the other hand, six senate supporters of the labor law are assured new terms. All are southerners and three were unopposed.

Four Children Burned To Death

NEW YORK, Nov. 4 (AP)—While a Negro woman was singing the Lord's Prayer for neighbors downstairs, her three small children and their cousin died in a flash fire which destroyed a Harlem apartment last night.

Smelling smoke, Mrs. Dolores Jones broke off her song and rushed upstairs to find flames had trapped the children.

Her three children and a child of her sister, Mrs. Claire Rogers, were found dead after firemen extinguished the blaze.

The sisters had been marketing while the children — from three months to six years old — played in the apartment where the two families lived.

Origin of the blaze was not determined immediately.

Mass Production Answers Demand For Billion Cigarettes Per Day

From June 1947 to June 1948, smokers in this country lighted up 345,000,000,000 cigarettes. Add to this the number of American cigarettes smoked in other countries and you have a total of over one billion U. S.-made cigarettes consumed every day.

To meet this soaring demand, American cigarette makers have accomplished incredible feats of mass production. In 1889, one year before mechanization accelerated cigarette output, the total production was less than two million cigarettes. By 1890, with machines being used, the figure had zoomed to over 400 million. That's a lot of cigarettes—but today U. S. manufacturers can turn out that many in less than a day.

Contrast this with the cigarette situation in other parts of the world. In Europe, for example, cigarettes are rationed as sparingly as milk and eggs, and a pack costs many times what it does here. In fact, the cigarette is today one of the cheapest products the American consumer can buy. While food prices have increased more than 150 per cent over their prewar level and other commodities more than 80 per cent, the average retail price of cigarettes is less than 25 per cent above 1939.

Few cigarette smokers realize the vast amount of time, skill, labor and money involved in creating this paper-covered roll of tobacco which measures less than half the width of your finger. The cigarette you smoke in eight minutes takes a minimum of two years to make.

From the moment the almost microscopic tobacco seed is mixed with the soil until a pack of twenty cigarettes emerges in its cellophane wrapper from a packaging machine, every step along the way is gauged with scientific accuracy, whether on the farm or in the factory.

For example, a tobacco farmer knows, from the computations of agricultural research workers, that a tablespoon of tobacco seeds will produce enough plants to cover ten acres of ground. While the actual manufacture of cigarettes has been so perfected that in factories like those in which Chesterfields are made machines can turn out 1200 cigarettes a minute, or a pack every second.

And they are looking forward to turning out still more to keep abreast of the current demand. A completely new, modern Chesterfield plant—the best that money can build—is now under construction at Durham, N. C., the first cigarette factory to be built since before World War II.

Backache, Leg Pains May Be Danger Sign Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 2 pints a day.

If the 12 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start aching backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Prompt or safety passage with urinating and bathing sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 60 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 12 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

New Date Is Set For Witnesses By Red Probers

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 4 (AP)—Ten reluctant witnesses have new dates with a federal grand jury investigating Communist activities.

The 10 refused to answer certain questions last week, were cited for contempt of court by Federal Judge Peirson M. Hall and ordered to jail Oct. 26.

Eight were jailed until released on $500 bail each yesterday pending determination of their appeal in the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals at San Francisco. Two women had remained at liberty while arranging for care of their children.

Of the 10, six men were subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury again today. The four women were ordered to appear Nov. 10.

(Recipe for Starred Dish Follows)
MOLDED PEAR AND WATER-CRESS SALAD
Ingredients: 1 1/2 cup boiling water, 2 packages lime gelatin, 2 cups cold water, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 three-ounce package cream cheese, 1 bunch water cress, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 6 halves canned pears.

Method: Bring water to boil in small saucepan and add gelatin. Stir until dissolved. Add cold water and lemon juice. Chill until the consistency of egg white. Meanwhile let cheese soften at room temperature. Cut stems from bunch of water cress in 1-5-inch lengths. (Reserve stems for use in soup, if desired.) Finely cut one half of the water cress leaves; blend with salt and cream cheese, mixing lightly with fork. Place drained sliced shallow dish or pan, about 8 inches square, hollow side up. Place a mound of the water cress-cream cheese mixture in each hollow. Carefully pour thickened gelatin around pear halves. Chill until firm. Cut in 6 portions and serve on individual plates garnished with the remaining short cut sprays of water cress. Top with salad dressing or sour cream if desired. 6 servings.

Atomic Slide Rule Measures Invisible

OAK RIDGE, Tenn., Nov. 4 (AP)—An atomic slide rule, the first of its kind, has been invented here by Myron B. Hawkins, of the Isotopes Division, U. S. Atomic Energy Commission.

The slide rule looks like any other, except for Greek letters and other symbols. It tells where and how to be safe when anyone is working around X-rays or gamma rays.

The slide tells you the thickness of concrete, aluminum, lead or water that will give safe shielding against the penetrating rays. If there is no shielding, the rule tells how far away to stand.

It will figure out exactly the dose of X-rays a worker may be getting in any position. And it will tell how long he can remain there safely.

This rule is the tool of a new business, the uses of radioactive atoms which is taught by Oak Ridge instructors. These men, numbering half a dozen, belong to the Advisory Field Service of the Isotopes Division. The service is headed by acting chief William Morgan, and the division by Dr. Paul C. Aebersold.

The field men go to the hundreds of laboratories where work is starting with radioactive atoms. The laboratories require special design, special apparatus and training in handling the atoms. Even the methods of placing the atoms in germs, plants, diseased tissues, chemical compounds and metals are an unknown art. The pioneers starting this new field sometimes are puzzled as to which atoms to select out of the possible hundred kinds available.

When a box of the hot atoms arrives, there are printed directions for opening, not only for every move of the hands, but where to stand. The job looks as ticklish as walking a tight rope. An innocent-looking can may contain something shooting a cone of rays upward through its top. That is safe, provided you don't inadvertently place your face directly above the can. The rays can't be seen, felt or smelled.

The new radioactivity laboratories must have smooth walls, with no cracks, and preferably be coated with enamel. Ceilings are flush with ceilings or walls. Ordinary light fixtures might pick up radioactive dust. Good housekeeping rules are good assurance of safety. If anyone can run a finger tip under a table and get smudged with dust, the housekeeping is unsafe. Generally there is no eating, smoking or drinking of anything, to avoid chances of taking in a little radioactive dust.

Floors have to be leak-proof. It is radioactive liquid is spilled. It is mopped, with tongs holding the mop, and then the mop is disposed of in a metal can. This atomic ash can is one of the most important parts of the laboratory. For these waste atoms cannot be killed by boiling or steam, as are the germs and viruses in medical laboratories. Nothing shortens the life of radioactive atoms by even one second. The lives range from days to hundreds of years.

Laboratory tables have stainless steel covers, each with an inch-high parapet around the edge, and a shallow moat outside the parapet. This is to protect against spilled stuff getting on the floor or the workers clothing. The new diaper paper for babies covers the steel and is thrown away in the atomic ash can. Wherever radioactive atoms are exposed so that they can get into the air, a hood over the table, and drafts of air, keep them from floating around the room. Parts of the laboratory may be covered with a plastic that stands washing with acid, or can be peeled off and thrown away in a safe place.

Home Is Rebuilt On $25 Per Month

DEVON, Pa., Nov. 4 (AP)—The pioneering spirit still lives with John and Jane Goslin.

Just a little more than a year ago they were married—and rented a deserted dilapidated, 200-year-old stone house to solve their housing problem.

Faced with renovating the old house on the equivalent of $25 a month, they have done all the work themselves.

The job cost $300, representing only the price of materials. The owner not only had agreed to lease the place for $25 a month but to apply the first year's rental toward the renovation costs.

John 27, and Jane 25, now have a home of four rooms and a bath—on four floors.

The kitchen at ground level has a large fireplace faced with field stone. Jane does her cooking on an old-fashioned coal-burning stove which also heats the room. There is no running water, but the Goslins don't mind pumping.

Just off the kitchen is the bath—consisting of a porcelain tub which must be filled bucket by bucket, and a 99 chemical toilet.

Above the kitchen is the living room. Covering the entire floor after the removal of a partition, it also may be entered from the "front door."

The third floor had been divided into two midget rooms, but the Goslins ripped out another partition and gave themselves a big bedroom, just as it had been in the house's original state. Coal-burning stoves, as well as fireplaces, provide heat in the living and bedrooms. A spare bedroom is in the attic.

The entire house is put together with wooden pegs, and it has its original beams throughout. Stone walls vary from 15-inches to two-foot thick. Random-width floors, as well as walls and woodwork have been restored to their original state by scraping and painting. The windows appear to be in their original frames and many of the panes are either original or very old glass, judging from their bubbly appearance.

Until the proposed installation of electricity becomes a reality, the Goslins are using candles and kerosene for light.

John receives $105-monthly education allotment under the GI bill of rights. Jane nets $150 as a social worker. But on their total income of $255 a month they are able to manage quite well. They say they expect to save a considerable sum each month.

For a future home? Well, someday, after they have saved enough money, they both say they would like to buy an old, old house to remodel for their very own.

Mahon To Speak To A Mitchell Farm Gathering

COLORADO CITY, Nov. 4 (Sp) —Congressman George Mahon, back in his home town this week where he cast his vote in the general election will speak at a gathering of Mitchell county farmers Friday night at the county court house here.

His subject will be "Agriculture Legislation in Washington" and written invitations have been forwarded to more than 1,200 farmers in the county.

A committee handling arrangements for the session is composed of Olson A. Sweet, coordinator of the Mitchell county vocational school for veterans; Claude Hooks, program chairman, who heads the chamber of commerce committee on agriculture; Milton A. Stinson, supervisor of the FFA program here; Joe W. Cowan, Mitchell county agricultural agent; W. H. Jones, Mitchell County AAA supervisor.

State Senator Pat Bullock will open the program with an address on "The Benefit of Organized Agriculture," and C. H. DeVaney, Coahoma, state director of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation, will speak briefly on "Local Farm Organizations."

New Fire Snuffer Must Have Nickname

NEW YORK, Nov. 4 (U-P) — A new fire snuffer to battle airplane engine fires is announced by Walter Kidde & Co. after tests in planes. The chemical is monochloromethane, nicknamed "CB." It was developed by the Germans during the last war, and has since been perfected here.

"CB" is as effective as methyl bromide in smothering fires, and somewhat more effective, on a weight basis, than carbon dioxide, the company said. All three kill a fire by robbing it of its oxygen supply. The new chemical can be stored as a liquid under pressure in containers within the plane fuselage. It's released as a spray into a burning engine compartment and vaporizes into a colorless gas, heavier than air. It expands to many times its stored volume. Kidde engineers said "CB" was less corrosive to metals than methyl bromide.

Meerschman, used to make pipe bowls, is a mineral made of water, magnesia and silicate.

Fat Is Not a Nice Word When Applied to the Body

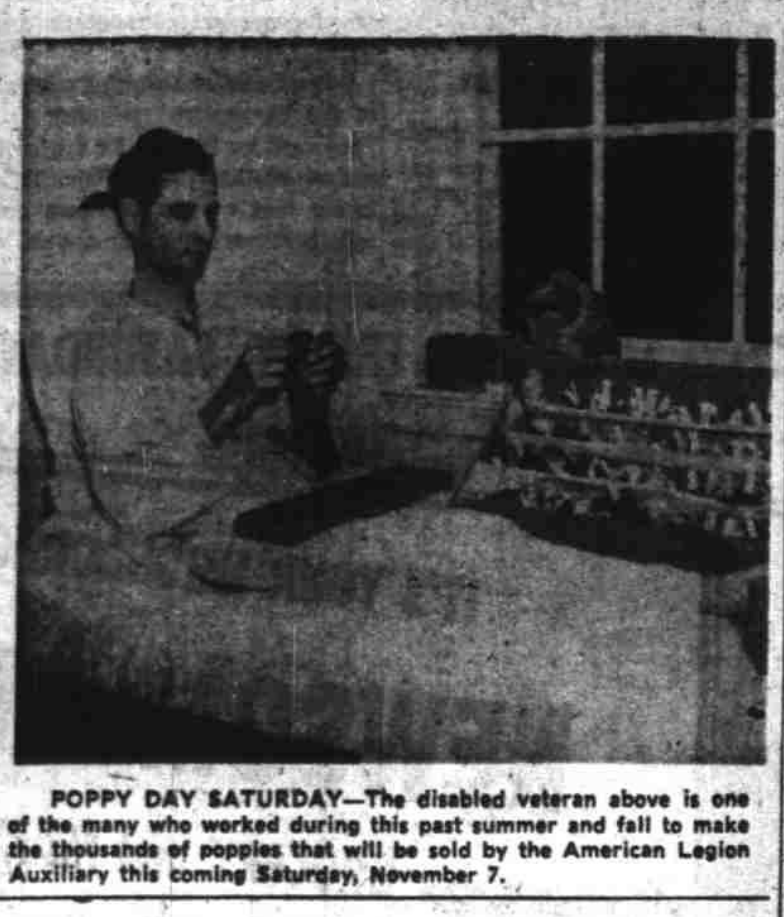

Don't say it's your thyroid while reaching for the box of chocolates. Possibly one bulky person in 100 has some glandular disturbance and that is truly a case for a physician. Never take any treatment for a gland condition without your doctor's advice. But for the other 99 per cent who are trying to fight the "Battle of the Bulges" common sense is the watchword. It is not necessary to overeat and it is not necessary to go hungry, either. Furthermore, it just doesn't make sense to go on a strenuous diet—take off weight and then quickly put it back on again when the diet period is over. For it is obvious that one cannot continue a starvation diet over a protracted period. Within the last year or so, several diet and vitamin "plans" have appeared on the market, which means cut down on the food intake and fortify with vitamins for hunger distress. But as mentioned above, you can't keep this up very long and when you quit—back comes the fat.

An exhaustive survey recently made among Texas druggists showed one outstanding reducing aid is not based on the diet and vitamin "plan." It allows you to eat plenty. You eat less. Sounds like double talk, but it isn't. It definitely stops you from eating more than necessary for the energy you spend. At the same time, it dehydrates and eliminates.

Nearly one and a half million bottles of this preparation, called Barcostrin, has been sold in Texas in the past four years.

You can get a four-ounce bottle of Barcostrin from any Texas druggist. Mix with 12 ounces of sarsaparilla juice and take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose that ugly fat, the makers agree to refund your money.

POPPY DAY SATURDAY—The disabled veteran above is one of the many who worked during this past summer and fall to make the thousands of poppies that will be sold by the American Legion Auxiliary this coming Saturday, November 7.

Legion Auxiliary Will Make Final Poppy Day Plans

Final arrangements for the observance of Poppy Day here Saturday will be made at the regular business meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary at the Legion Hut tonight, Mrs. Velma Grisee, President, has announced.

The biggest Poppy Day in history was predicted by Mrs. Grisee on the basis of interest being shown and the number of women and girls who have volunteered for Poppy Day service. She expressed hope that the contributions made for the memorial flowers would be adequate to meet the increased need for funds to support the Auxiliary's activities for the welfare of disabled war veterans and children of veterans.

The poppies, to be worn in memory of the dead of both world wars, have been received by Howard County Unit from Legion, Texas, where they were made by disabled veterans working under the direction of the American Legion Auxiliary Department of Texas. Members of the Unit's Poppy Committee have been at work at the Legion Hut counting the little red flowers and preparing them for distribution to the Poppy Day workers at tonight's meeting.

Workers will also receive lapel streamers to be worn to designate them as official distributors of the American Legion Auxiliary's veteran-made poppies, and sealed coin boxes in which to receive contributions. They will be assigned to various locations and hours to work so that all parts of the city will be covered and an opportunity to wear a poppy in honor of the war dead brought to everyone.

Michigan's Demo Governor Will Have GOP Troubles

DETROIT, Nov. 4 (U-P) — Michigan Democrats happily assayed election victories today but conceded that their young Gov.-elect G. Mennen Williams faces problems. The 37-year-old, Princeton-bred political freshman swamped Republican Gov. Kim Sigler by 150,000 votes with the help of organized labor's support.

Williams, however, will have to work with a Republican dominated legislature and likewise a majority of his "cabinet" will be Republican.

A late count of votes from Tuesday's election in traditionally Republican Michigan indicated the GOP had retained the posts of secretary of state, state treasurer, and state auditor.

Despite heavy Democratic inroads on the GOP legislative majority, the state legislature will continue under Republican control. U. S. Sen. Homer Ferguson, Republican, was sent back to Washington for a second term after a close race with Democrat Frank E. Hook, former congressman.

The Democrats regained two seats in Congress in the comeback victories of former Congressmen George D. O'Brien and Louis C. Rabaut, both of the Detroit area.

The pair ousted Republicans Howard Coffin and Harold Youngblood, to whom they lost in 1946. The GOP majority in the delegation was reduced to 12 to 5.

MAMMOTH CELEBRATION PLANNED FOR TRUMAN'S KEY WEST VISIT

KEY WEST, Fla., Nov. 4 (U-P) — Plans were made today for a mammoth celebration when President Truman arrives at his favorite vacation retreat Sunday.

On his four previous visits to this southernmost city in the United States, Mr. Truman's request for "no celebration" has been respected. This time it will be different.

Mayor Maitland Adams has designated Sunday as "Harry S. Truman day in Key West."

The city plans to give its most famous tourist a hero's welcome. It plans to decorate the streets and turn out the Key West High School band.

Adams said he would request pastors of all churches to ask divine guidance for President Truman during the trying years ahead.

At the naval station, workmen meanwhile began putting final touches to the "Little White House," a rambling two story frame dwelling on the station grounds. All hurricane damage to the grounds has been repaired.

Capt. Cecil Adell, USN, commander of the Key West Naval Base, said full military honors would be accorded Mr. Truman when he enters the station grounds. The Presidential Yacht Williamsburg is due to arrive Friday.

The President's welcome will be sincere. He received a more than five to one majority of all votes for President cast in Monroe County Tuesday, getting 3,742 to only 740 for his three opponents.

'Devil's Playground'

SINGAPORE, Nov. 4 (U-P) — The Chinese are afraid that Singapore is going to become the devil's playground.

They believe that firecrackers scare away devils. Now the Government has banned firing of crackers as an emergency precaution. They might be used "as cover for armed attacks."

Alaska Is Happy Over Election

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Nov. 3 (U-P) — Gov. Ernest Gruening of Alaska declared today that the election "assured" the territory of statehood at the next session of Congress.

Actress To Marry

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 4 (U-P) — Film Actress Diana Lynn, 22, and John C. Lindsay, 30, an architect, plan to be married next month, her studio announces. It will be the first marriage for each.

Flourine Gas Found In Air At Donora

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4 (U-P) — Evidence that flourine gas, a toxic poison, exists in the air at Donora, Pa., was found by a Philadelphia chemical engineer.

Philip Sadler said yesterday he found signs of the gas in the blood of three asthmatic residents hospitalized during the brief epidemic which took 19 lives last week end.

A "boxing kangaroo" can kill a man or a dog with one blow.

Picture Given Of The Average Valley Tourist

BROWNSVILLE, Nov. 4 (U-P) — Ygnacio Garcia is president of the Brownsville chamber of commerce. Garcia merged his promotional and statistical talents and came up with this composite picture of the winter visiting couple this semi-tropical city expects in the next three months:

There will be a conservatively dressed man and wife from 45 to 60 with two children, thoughtfully left at home. They will be driving a new, or late model sedan in good condition except that the motor will be over heating because of the thermostat, and the hot water heater will have to be disconnected.

They will be worth from $10,000 to $50,000 and have a going business, farm or professional practice back in Iowa, Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin, Kansas or Minnesota, left in the hands of a relative or junior partner. The husband will worry about this.

They will be the opposite of the popular idea of the American tourist, being sweet-tempered, reasonable and easy to please, and will reflect their own security.

They will have been to California and Florida and will not have liked either place.

They will be fairly religious, but appreciative of the gay nightlife of the cantinas in nearby Matamoros, Mexico.

The husband will be a good sport and a poor sportsman, but will have a burning desire to shoot things and catch fish. The wife will think this is silly and say so.

Almost without exception, the husband will affect the long-billed beanies like that worn lately by President Truman.

Weather Has Normal Routine For October

Weather settled down to a normal routine in October, the charts of G. A. McGahan, in charge of the U. S. weather bureau at the airport, affirms.

The month squeezed out 1.83 inches of precipitation, the bulk of it in a 1.51 outpouring on Oct. 9. This was not general over all the county, although it did cover most of the north half fairly well. The total for the year was boosted to 13.98, or 2.39 off the normal volume. Since July 3, however, the 9.23 total is 1.08 inches above the average figure, but it should be remembered that approximately six inches of this fell in a terrific outburst in July.

There have been considerably wetter years—1907, for example, when 11.87 inches fell, thanks to 5.08 inches in one day. There have been much more arid months, too, 1917, for instance, with its .01 of an inch moisture. Cattlemen will remember it.

Temperature averaged 63.9 degrees, which was only .9 of a degree under the mean since 1904. It was far below the record breaking average warmth last year when the mean of 70.7 was established. Highest reading was 90 degrees on Oct. 15 and lowest 42 on Oct. 18. Record for the month was 100 in 1918 and lowest 26 in 1913.

The month brought light fog on four days, churned up four thunderstorms and produced light hail on Oct. 20 and 28. Wind velocity ranged from a mere eight miles per hour up to 28 mph.

Taming Shrew Is Check On Malaria

NEW YORK, Nov. 4 (U-P) — The little elephant shrew has been found to be a new host or carrier for Malaria, scientists on an African expedition report.

The finding was made during studies of parasitology in the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, southeast corner of French Equatorial Africa, and the northeast corner of the Belgian Congo by the U. S. Naval Medical group of the University of California African Expedition. This program was headed by Cmdr. Trenton Ruebush, and Chief Deener Lawless, U. S. N. Parasites from a large number of animals connected with the spread of human diseases have been collected and preserved for further study in the United States, said Wendell Phillips, expedition leader.

Weather Has Normal Routine For October

Weather settled down to a normal routine in October, the charts of G. A. McGahan, in charge of the U. S. weather bureau at the airport, affirms.

The month squeezed out 1.83 inches of precipitation, the bulk of it in a 1.51 outpouring on Oct. 9. This was not general over all the county, although it did cover most of the north half fairly well. The total for the year was boosted to 13.98, or 2.39 off the normal volume. Since July 3, however, the 9.23 total is 1.08 inches above the average figure, but it should be remembered that approximately six inches of this fell in a terrific outburst in July.

There have been considerably wetter years—1907, for example, when 11.87 inches fell, thanks to 5.08 inches in one day. There have been much more arid months, too, 1917, for instance, with its .01 of an inch moisture. Cattlemen will remember it.

Temperature averaged 63.9 degrees, which was only .9 of a degree under the mean since 1904. It was far below the record breaking average warmth last year when the mean of 70.7 was established. Highest reading was 90 degrees on Oct. 15 and lowest 42 on Oct. 18. Record for the month was 100 in 1918 and lowest 26 in 1913.

The month brought light fog on four days, churned up four thunderstorms and produced light hail on Oct. 20 and 28. Wind velocity ranged from a mere eight miles per hour up to 28 mph.

Truman-Barkley Team Oldest To Win Presidential Contest

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. (AP)—By outrunning Republican rivals 31 years younger, the Truman-Barkley team became the oldest presidential sweepstakes victors in U. S. history.

At 70, Alben W. Barkley will be the oldest of the nation's vice presidents, while 64-year-old Harry S. Truman is the third oldest man elected chief executive—right behind William Henry Harrison, 68, and James Buchanan, 65.

The Democratic triumph also marks the first time two former Senate colleagues teamed up to cop the White House prize. Back in 1888 the Republicans took the honors with a congressional combine when Sen. Benjamin Harrison was elected president with Rep. Levi Morton as his running mate.

Two other senatorial graduates—James Garfield and Warren G. Harding—moved into the White House, but neither of their partners had served on Capitol Hill. Despite Thomas E. Dewey's second consecutive defeat in the presidential contest, records show that a governorship—especially of New York—is the best springboard to the nation's top spot.

Of the 18 men named No. 1 citizen since the Civil War, half have been governors, and three were from New York—Franklin D. Roosevelt, Theodore Roosevelt and Grover Cleveland.

Five other occupants of the New York State House won presidential nominations—Dewey, Alfred E. Smith, Charles Evans Hughes, Samuel Tilden and Horatio Seymour.

Two other gubernatorial contenders who lost out were James M. Cox of Ohio and Alfred M. Landon of Kansas.

Two Ohio governors, Rutherford B. Hayes and William McKinley, were elevated to the presidency as were these other gubernatorial candidates: Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey, Calvin Coolidge of Massachusetts and Andrew Johnson of Tennessee.

Setting Social Calendar Will Be Task Confronting Truman

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. (AP)—With countless thousands of handshakes behind him, President Truman faces hundreds more in the months ahead, as host at the traditional White House fetes.

Setting the dates for this social season will be a major task confronting the Trumans when they get settled again on Pennsylvania Avenue after their campaign travels.

On this calendar are such glamorous affairs as the formal dinners honoring the diplomatic corps and receptions for congress, the armed services and the judiciary.

Although the first of the gala events is scheduled this month, the Trumans delayed the usual October announcement of the calendar until after the election.

Only once since prewar 1939 has the full social schedule of four or five dinners and as many receptions been held. That was during the 1946-47 season.

Last year, the President and Mrs. Truman abandoned all state dinners in keeping with the nation's food conservation drive to help Europe's hungry.

Another housekeeping problem may arise in January if White House Architect Lorenzo Winslow goes through with plans to renovate the entire second floor of the 132-year-old residence.

Terming it a firetrap, Winslow has said he plans to ask Congress to approve a remodeling job costing between $750,000 and $1,250,000. If that goes through, Mr. Truman may not get much of a chance to use the balcony he had added to the second floor of the south portico.

But even if the Truman family has to move out for several months during the proposed remodeling job, they are assured to four more years' use under the lease renewed by the voters Tuesday.

Endurance Flyers Pass Halfway Mark

LONGVIEW, Nov. 4. (AP)—Endurance Flyers Fred Vinmont and Bert Simons have passed the halfway mark in their attempt to break the world's record of 734 hours.

The two Dallas men reached 336 hours in the air last night. They said they intend to stay up 1,500 hours. They have been in the air two weeks.

Burmese Economy Seen In Reverse

LONDON, Nov. 4. (AP)—Burmese Motorist U. Myint Daw flew from Rangoon (fare $1,082.40) to see London's automobile show and buy a new car.

said as he climbed back into a plane for the return trip.

Petroleum Official Predicts Crude Oil Price Will Be Met

DALLAS, Nov. 4. (AP)—A prediction that major crude oil purchasers will shortly meet the posting of Phillips Petroleum Co. was made here by Guy Warren of Corpus Christi, president of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Assn.

Warren said at a district meeting of the association yesterday that "payment for bonuses for crude oil cannot continue indefinitely. It is better that we as producers and royalty owners press for a stabilized price of the Phillips level." Phillips raised its price for crude oil 35 cents a barrel. Other major purchasers did not follow suit.

Burl Ives Stars As A Chef As Well As A Singer Of American Folk Songs

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Burl Ives has made musical history with his popularization of simple American folksongs and ballads. But when it comes to cooking, give him an ordinary recipe and he takes off—like a hot clarinet player embroidering a simple tune—in all kinds of fanciful gastronomic flights.

Down on "Ballad Farm," his San Fernando Valley ranch, he's been putting the last touches on his autobiography, "Wayfaring Stranger," published by Whittlessey House, New York ($3.50). But that does not mean he hasn't found time to stir up some extra-fine dishes. When Burl is at home he does a lot of cooking for parties—for one of the best reasons. He likes being an active host. He's against the passive Ives, doing nothing to see that your guests have a good-time school of thought.

Since the Iveses often use their lovely California patio, they're likely to cook barbecue style. But indoors or out, Burl has developed a barbecue sauce that's out of this world. It starts with a quarter of a cup of olive oil, a frated garlic clove, a medium-sized grated onion, a teaspoon each of paprika and salt and dry mustard, chili powder to taste, a half teaspoon of black pepper (freshly ground from peppercorns), a cup of thick, black unsweetened coffee, a third of a cup of lemon and lime juice combined, three tablespoons of old, wild, dark honey from the bee tree in the orchard that adjoins the Ives house, and a cup of water. The garlic and onion are cooked in the oil for a few minutes. The blended dry ingredients, followed by the liquids, are added and the mixture is allowed to simmer for a half hour. Then, into a good-sized square of muslin or bleached, washed flour-sacking is put a cup of freshly-ground coffee. This is tied tightly into a bag, put on the end of a stick (binder style), and allowed to soak in the sauce. The coffee swab is then used to moisten the meat frequently as it cooks.

You can use this sauce to barbecue a chicken or a steak. When the Ives parties are really large they use it for a whole spit-roasted animal—either a small pig or a young goat of about four to six weeks. The goat is explained by the fact that Burl Ives and his wife raise, sell and are devoted to goats—on the spit and off!

At these barbecues, potatoes baked in their jackets always go along. When the meat's ready the potatoes are gently squeezed open at the top and melted butter, to which a generous quantity of grated garlic has been added, is spooned into them.

The Iveses are devoted to the California tradition of the huge, hospitable salad bowl. Into this, after it has been rubbed with garlic, they put romaine, lettuce, endive, chicory, chunks of tomato, finely chopped scallions, celery root, and sometimes cottage cheese, or anchovies, or diced ham or chicken.

Over it, just before tossing, they pour a salad dressing of olive oil, tarragon vinegar, salt, pepper, garlic salt, celery salt and a teaspoon or so of chili sauce. The proportion of oil to vinegar, Burl advises, should be almost equal to the oil used. The dressing should be beaten until it is smooth and homogeneous, and chilled before adding to the salad.

"Wayfaring Stranger" is just the kind of book you'd expect from Burl Ives. Like his folk music it has a simple, amazingly effective style—with a rare feeling for people and a poignant picturing of many of the ways of American life. After you read the book you know why, when you get Burl talking food, he thinks first of his Southern Illinois heritage. When I asked him what he looks forward to eating, now, when he goes to his family he said:

I look forward to the fowl that is overlooked by most great chefs who concentrate on such exotic items as guinea hen, pheasant, prairie chicken or the hummingbird. This fowl, so delectable and so ignored by cooks is none other than the old hen, preferably one about three years old, past her laying days and heavy with fat. This gets boiled slowly (ten hours is not too long) over a wood fire, with judicious amounts of thyme, bayleaf, and rosemary added, and with a lot of thoughtful tasting. When you add the homemade egg noodles and let them gently absorb the thick golden gravy the result is, excuse the expression, fit for a king."

Parents Are Warned On Driving Practice

CHICAGO (AP)—Traffic experts are stressing psychology in an effort to save some of the estimated 4,000 lives lost annually in this country through automobile accidents involving teen-age drivers. Ideas of speed and safety, they hold, are developed before youngsters actually begin to drive.

"You can teach teen-age boys and girls the mechanics of operating an automobile," declares H. G. Kemper, president of the Lumbermen Mutual Casualty Co., "but their ideas of driving responsibility are formed long before then." Kemper cautions parents to be especially careful when driving with children in their cars.

Much of the blame for our high accident rate, he believes, rests on the shoulders of parents who set bad examples for their children.

Mustangs In Grave Danger Of Having Record Spoiled

75-POUNDERS MEET

Local Teams Play On All Fronts Starting Today

There'll be plenty of football on the sports fare, both at home and abroad, for local fans this weekend.

This afternoon, the Junior high school Yearlings, coached by Earl Crawford and Roy Baird, invade Sweetwater for another engagement with the Little Colts.

Two teams of grade school boys, players of which cannot weigh over 75 pounds, are clashing at Steer stadium starting at about 4 p. m. today.

mesa B string at Steer stadium. In the last meeting of the two eleven, a tie resulted.

The Shortorns appear to be in better shape for this one and may be able to slip through to victory.

Misfits Defeated By All-Americans

The All-Americans and the Cardinals led the way into the third round of Y Girls Volley-Ball league play here Tuesday night, trouncing the Misfits and the Top Notchers, respectively.

The All-Americans, led by Virginia Costello, routed the Misfits, 25-25, while the Cards steam-rolled the Top Notchers, 60-21. Haley and Jones were the standout performers in that one.

In other games, the Cloud Busters needed an overtime period to trim the Sports, 32-27; the Eagles edged the Dragons, 40-34; the Red Sox proved superior to the Giants, 20-17; the Indians skinned the Hornets, 37-33; and the Sandstorms halted the Athletics, 35-32.

Vote For UNESCO

BERN, Nov. 4 (AP)—The upper chamber of the Swiss Parliament decided at a recent session to apply for the admission of Switzerland to the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization.

A recommendation to this effect from the parliamentary foreign affairs commission was approved by 22 votes to one. Despite the almost unanimous vote, several deputies expressed a fear that Swiss membership in UNESCO might eventually compromise Switzerland's traditional neutrality. Similar fears have hitherto excluded Swiss membership of the United Nations itself.

43 Conference Games Carded

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

Associated Press Sports Editor

Forty-three conference games this weekend will do much to clear the championship picture in Texas school football.

From the top of the state to the Gulf important battles do not schedule that will establish leaders in every area — determine virtual champions in at least four districts.

In the city conference, Jefferson and Alamo Heights battle for the top rung in the San Antonio District. The winner will be a heavy favorite to take home the title.

Highland Park of Dallas and McKinney, last unbeaten teams in District 6 Class AA, get together at McKinney.

Austin and Kerrville, who occupy a similar status in District 13, clash at Kerrville.

Little trimming is expected in the list of unbeaten teams of which five are undefeated but have been tied.

Port Arthur plays South Park (Beaumont). Henderson tackles Kilgore and Amarillo engages Borger while Waco, the other undefeated, untied eleven, has an open date.

Among those undefeated but tied Alice takes on Robstown, Baytown engages Galena Park and Milby meets its Houston neighbor, Stephen F. Austin. Arlington Heights (Fort Worth) and Lamar (Houston) have open dates.

The week's schedule by districts (conference games except where indicated otherwise):

CITY CONFERENCE

1 — Thursday: North Dallas vs Woodrow Wilson (Dallas); Friday: Crozier Tech (Dallas) vs Forest (Dallas); Saturday: Sunset (Dallas) vs Adamson (Dallas).

2 — Friday: Amon Carter-Riverside (Fort Worth) vs Paschal (Fort Worth).

3 — Thursday: Jeff Davis (Houston) vs Reagan (Houston); Friday: Sam Houston (Houston) vs San Jacinto (Houston); Saturday: Austin (Houston) vs Milby (Houston).

4 — Thursday: Burbank (San Antonio) vs Lanier (San Antonio); Friday: Harlandale (San Antonio)

War Bird Back Tops Carriers

By The Associated Press

Richard Nutt of North Texas State leads the Lone Star Conference at ball-carrying with 617 yards, statistics released by the conference bureau showed today.

Nutt also is the scoring leader with 49 points.

Second in both rushing and scoring is Gerald Laverman of Trinity with 534 yards and 36 points.

Bobby Griffin of East Texas State is tops in passing, having thrown for 649 yards and six touchdowns; in total offense with 849 yards, and in punting with an average of 42.8 yards on 49 boots.

Cecil Martin of North Texas State has passed for 529 yards and five touchdowns. Nutt is second in total offense with 640. Second in punting is John Hedaway of Sam Houston State, who has averaged 40.3 yards on 30 kicks.

Charles Williams of Sam Houston State is the leading pass-receiver with 17 catches for 329 yards. He is followed by Billy Nichols of Stephen F. Austin, who has caught eight for 175 yards.

Leo Angert of Stephen F. Austin has carried back 12 punts for 119 yards. Second is Richard Nelson of Sam Houston who has accumulated 117 on six trips.

North Texas State, in seven games, has rolled up 11427 yards to lead on the ground and has amassed 1,960 to top in total offense. Stephen F. Austin is next with 1,242 yards rushing and 1,968 total offense.

Stephen F. Austin is the leader in passing with 726 yards in seven games. East Texas State has 700 yards for second place.

Trinity leads in defense, having allowed six opponents a net of 850 yards. Southwest Texas State is second with 888.

Statistics Lie, Frosh Proving

WACO, Nov. 4 (Sp)—The old adage that statistics don't win football games has proven to be more than a saying with the Baylor Cub who have emerged victorious in two contests and gained a tie in the other to remain undefeated.

The only edge the Baylor first year men hold over opponents is in scoring where they lead 56-31.

On the ground, opponents have rolled up 530 yards to the Cubs 347. Opponents lead also in yards gained on passes, but the Cub's passing has been the difference as they have connected with seven touchdown passes, five being caught by end Stanley Williams of Cisco who is the team's leading point maker.

In the favor of the Cubs has been the punting of Quarterback Marshall Alford of Brownsville, who has maintained a 43-yard average in the three games. His high-bouncing kicks kept the powerful Texas Shortorns in their own end of the field, despite the fact that the Steerlets rolled up 20 first downs to the Cubs two. Alford has kicked 948 yards on 22 kicks to become the most respected kicker in the loop.

On first downs, the Cubs have managed only 13 to their opposition 44.

Leading the passing for the Cubs is Robert Reid of the Jeff Davis team of Houston last season. Reid has tossed three touchdowns passes while Alford has connected for two.

Jackie Bearrow, a 300-pound full-back from Olney, is the leading ball carrier; gaining 123 yards on 22 carries and ranks second in scoring with 12 points.

The Cubs wind up the season Nov. 12 against the Southern Methodist Colts at Dallas.

New Attendance Standards Set

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 4 (AP)—A total of 63,765,991 persons, an increase of 2,374,716 over 1947, saw America's 60 professional baseball leagues in action this year.

The major leagues drew 20,948,345 the National 9,789,027 and the American 11,150,719 — and today George M. Trautman, president of the minors, announced the 58 leagues under his jurisdiction attracted 42,822,646.

Paid admissions for the minor circuits totaled 40,949,028, but the overall mark was 1,305,910 above last year's record of 41,516,738.

Thus the minors shattered attendance records for the third straight year. Paid attendances included: Texas League 2,235,913; Big State 518,277; Arizona-Texas 431,803; Lone Star 484,068; West-Texas-New Mexico 668,144.

BON FIRE TONIGHT

Three Bobcat Regulars May Miss Big Spring Contest

Two of San Angelo's better backs, Bill Gilley and Dwight Trice, will be back in action against Big Spring here Friday night but other Bobcat regulars will be missing, according to Coach Red Ramsey of the Concho City.

Gilley and Trice missed last week's game with Midland because of injuries but have been suiting out in drills this week.

Bobby Clatterback, who called signals for the Cats before he was hurt, is still favoring an injury and is not due to see any service.

The same goes for Walter Schleyer, regular center, who had a couple of ribs torn loose in the Midland game. Lynn Westbrook, a regular guard, has not been showing up for practice and Ramsey insists he will not use him.

Billy Van Pelt, one of the more valuable local hands, will not be able to play much, if any. Billy has been bothered by a charley horse for several weeks now. He

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Texas' only unbeaten college football team, Sul Ross, is expecting its toughest game of the season this weekend. The Lobos play Adams State of Colorado in Alamosa.

A couple of local youths, Hal Battle and Frank Barton, will be in the Sul Ross starting lineup. Battle is the Lobos center while Barton is a guard and the team's chief goal kicker.

If the Lobos get by that one, they'll be pretty sure to wind up with a perfect record. If their record shows no losses, they could wind up with a bowl bid.

WEST COAST WRITER THINKS HIGHLY OF WALKER

Perhaps you'd like to know what some of the West Coast's sports writers think of Doak Walker, the SMU wonder boy. Here's what Dick Friedreich of the San Francisco Chronicle wrote about the Doaker after Santa Clara had paid a trip to Dallas. Dick was in the bunch who viewed the 350 rout administered by the Mustangs:

"Walker is playing even more brilliant football this year than he did last season, and if there is a better college back in the country, I would love to see him.

"No derogation of California's Jack Jensen is involved, because, as good as Jensen is, he is not as good as Walker, period. Santa Clara players who have faced both men twice in the past two years are united on that, and most of them say Walker is the greatest back they ever saw.

"Walker has another year of eligibility. At the going rate for good halfbacks, there won't be enough money in the Federal Treasury to hire Doak if he decided to play pro football.

MANY A LOCAL FAN WILL BE IN ODESSA FRIDAY

San Angelo's Bobcats invade Big Spring for their annual District 3AA grid classic and the contest could be a lulu, despite the mediocre record of both teams. The teams have always played above their heads in the games of the past.

Still and all, many good local fans will be missing from their 112 regular pews for the simple reason that Sweetwater and Odessa are clashing for the conference crown in Odessa.

Local parties never gave the Mustangs much of a chance to chill the defending champions until last week, Pat Gerald's forces knocked Odessa's block off, 28-6. They did it by sticking almost exclusively with a ground game. They can move both ways on the ground and through the air.

They'll need reserves and the speed to cope with the Hoses. If they don't choke up, however, they may have the guns. Time will tell.

CHERRY SEEMS DETERMINED TO GO WITH CAMPBELL

Here's one for you.

Only one University of Texas pass receiver Ben Proctor is included among the first ten catches on Southwest Conference eleven. While Bobby Layne was active, the Steers had from three to four receivers among the cream of the crop every fall.

All of which brings up the question: Has Paul Campbell failed as a quarterback and Coach Blair Cherry refused to admit it? In the one game this writer saw Texas play, Cherry seemed to have at least two boys who could do the job better.

Snead, Harbert Teams Register Pacing Field At Pinehurst

PINEHURST, N. C., Nov. 4 (AP)—Two of golf's longest drivers remained in the forefront today as the 46th North and South Open Tournament was resumed after a day's interruption because of rain.

Off the first-round scores and their past records, Chick Harbert of Northville, Mich., and Sammy Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., were the popular choices to fight it out for the title. A half dozen others were conceded good chances of winning, however.

Before yesterday's postponement Harbert had gained a three-way tie for the lead with a first-round 68. Snead was two strokes behind.

Sharing the top spot with Harbert were Glenn Teal of Charlotte, N. C., and Amateur Julius Boros of Bridgeport, Conn. Big Clayton Heaster of Charlotte had a 69. Behind Snead five players were tied at 71 — among them defending champion Jim Turnesa of Elsford, N. Y.

After a long rest from the tournament grid, Snead was hitting the ball exceptionally well Tuesday. But he blew himself to a big 68 on one long hole and dropped behind. Sam always has done well on the long No. 2 course at the Pinehurst Country Club, winning the title in 1941 with 277 and finishing second three times.

Tied with Turnesa in the 71 bracket today were Claude Harmon of Mamaroneck, N. Y., winner of the Augusta Masters Tournament; Jackie Burke of White Plains, N. Y., who is considered one of the most promising young ones; Harry T. Nettieblatt of Avon, Conn., and Joe Zarhardt of Greensboro, N. C.

Boros, a comparatively small player, had a big edge over his amateur rivals. Dick Chapman of Pinehurst had a 72. Harvie Ward, Jr., of Tarboro, N. C., a 74 and Frank Stranahan of Toledo a 75.

Moose Panics Butte

BUTTE, Mont., Nov. 4 — Bull moose at best are ill-tempered fellows and autumn is when they're at their worst so a Butte residential area breathed easier after a 1200-pounder was killed by police in climax of a pursuit by automobile. The animal had trampled many lawns and flowerbeds and frightened many residents before he was felled.

90-Minute Time Limit on Duel

When Dory Funk of Hammond, Ind., and Al Getz, Pittsburgh, meet in their return match at the local grappling arena next Monday night they won't have to pay much attention to the clock.

Promoter Pat O'Dewey has set a 90-minute time limit on the match, compared to the regular hour limit for other matches.

Last Monday's test came to an end with both wrestlers somewhere between the ring and the south exit. Referee Billy McEulin disqualified both.

Next week's opener will pit Rod Fenton against Dick Trout.

Duke and North Carolina met in the first football game ever played in North Carolina, and as far as is known, the first game ever played in the south. It was a Thanksgiving Day game played in Raleigh in 1888, and the Blue Devils won, 16-0.

Extent Of Aid Will Dominate Foreign Policy

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. (AP)—President Truman's post-election foreign policy appears certain to be dominated by this single great issue: How much more money and goods is the United States willing and able to throw into the cold war against Russia? Diplomatic authorities say that on Mr. Truman's answer to this question will largely depend the scope, perhaps even the effectiveness of the whole stop-Communism program during his second term in the White House.

The question arises specifically in connection with three critical areas of the world: Western Europe—the non-Communist countries in this sector of the cold war front want both a military support and lend-lease arms aid. The cost of this new lend-lease has been guessed by military experts at from $2 billion a year up and would make heavy demands on steel and other basic American industrial supplies. China—The United States is confronted with an immediate crisis in China with the nationalist government buckling under the impact of Communist army victories. The present U. S. civilian and military aid program amounts to $400 million for the 12 months ending next April. Already the State Department is reviewing its China policy to determine what, if anything, should be recommended to Congress in January to meet the crisis.

Greece — Steadily mounting American expenditures in Greece have prevented the Communists from taking over the country but have not succeeded in wiping them out. A new and probably greater military aid program—compared with $175 million this fiscal year—seems likely to be presented to Congress next session. Hence the new problems of these critical areas raise the prospect of important spending quite apart from the multi-billion dollar European recovery program with its demands on both money and goods at a time when this nation's own production and consumption are at peak levels.

Democratic control of Congress is expected to ease somewhat President Truman's handling of these problems, especially where money is concerned. Administration officials who were confronted last session with the avowed "meat-axe" methods of Chairman Taber (R-NY) of the House Appropriations Committee are jubilant at the switch in party control. Yet in the Senate the Democratic administration still may have to rely to some extent on the expected support and obvious prestige of Sen. Vandenberg (R-Mich) in seeking approval for bi-partisan foreign policy legislation. In that body, however, the leadership of Vice-President Elect Barkley, as president of the Senate, should prove a great new asset to the White House and State Department.

Man Is Discovered Unconscious Here

A man tentatively identified as Leroy Petty of Odessa was in a hospital here this morning after he was discovered unconscious last night in the T&P yards. Police said he had cuts and bruises, but it could not be determined immediately whether he had been attacked or had fallen from a train. Gray kangaroos seem to grow as long as they live.

Basketball League To Be Formed At 'Y'

Persons interested in the formation of a basketball league are reminded of an organizational meeting at 7:30 p. m. today at the YMCA. Lee Milling, executive secretary of the YMCA, said that there had been considerable interest in the proposed league, and that all persons representing institutions, businesses, clubs or themselves should be on hand if they wish to enter a team. Responsible sponsorship will be a requirement for entry. Earlier in the day—at 5:30 p. m.—young women interested in a gymnasium class are to meet at the YMCA to discuss plans. In event there are enough to warrant the class, said Milling, it may be that they will be held at about 5:30 p. m. each Monday, putting them well in advance of the basketball league play for the same evening in the Howard County Junior College gym.

Flames Damage Room Of House

One room in a residence at 709 Washington Blvd. was damaged by fire at about 10:25 p. m. Wednesday, city firemen reported. The fire, which apparently started near a chair which was destroyed, burned through the floor and an outer wall, firemen said. Occupants of the house were not at home at the time of the blaze. Firemen were called to the Planters' Gin at 3 p. m. Wednesday where a small blaze caused only slight damage.

Cooler Weather In Prospect As Wind Increases and Shifts

High winds, stirring up dust and sending leaves flying here Thursday morning, were said to be but a fore-runner of cooler weather. The wind, 25 mph with gusts up to 30 mph, was out of the west and a little south of west. During the afternoon, the direction was due to shift to the north quadrant as a cold front moves in. Top temperature Friday is due to be about 60 degrees.

WALL STREET NEW YORK, Nov. 4. (AP)—Rapid-fire buying lifted the stock market a few cents to more than 2 1/2 share early today following a crushing post-election setback. Yesterday's crash in prices stirred up interest in the market all over the country. Buying orders today came from the public as well as the Wall Street trader.

U. S. Steel Corp. opened 20 cents higher at $76.75 on transfer of 1.59 shares. Bethlehem Steel advanced 27 cents to $24.75 on a similar deal. General Motors started the day 18 cents higher at $63 on sale of 1,000 shares. DeWitt called over into other groups as well, including some of the utility and oil stocks which were so hard-pressed yesterday. The turnaround followed the worst beating the stock market has taken in the past two years.

Lions Club Is Entertained By Youngsters

Pupils of Betty Farrar entertained for Lions club members Wednesday with songs, dances and rhythm band numbers. Rev. R. Gage Lloyd, president, announced a home meeting Thursday evening in Hermalich and said that he and Schley Riley, district governor, wanted a large delegation to attend. June Ann Johnston gave a speciality tap, "A-Hunting We Will Go." Nancy Clark, Sharon Limer and Nancy Clark did a group ballet, "The Music Box"; Susan Landers did a rhythm tap, "Winter Wonderland"; and Susan Zack was spotlighted in a song and military tap, "An American Doll." Kindergarten children participating in rhythm band numbers were: Patricia Lozano, Billy McDonald, Karon Koger, Bill Bonner, Rachel Pelman, Skipper Driver, Ann Nolan, Danny McCrary, Linda Kay Limer, Tim Williamson, Susan Zack, Richard Barry Clark, Sally Adair, Billy Sullivan, Cleo Rita Thomas, and Kenny House, the band director. Miss Farrar accompanied all the young artists and several of the mothers were on hand for the performance.

Trustees To Meet

The Big Spring Independent School district board of trustees meet in regular session at 7:30 p. m. today at the administrative offices. Only routine matters are scheduled for attention of the board.

There's No Lagging Of The Gagging As Texans Continue Razzing Pollsters

There was no lagging of razzing as Texans continued to gag the public opinion experts who predicted President Truman would be beaten badly. A saying of the day was: "Mr. Truman slowed Dr. Gallup down to a walk," and the Kilgore News Herald ran a free wad ad: "Wanted: Nice, clean, dignified position, nothing to do with figures or percentages," signed: George Gallup and Elmo Roper. George P. Kuykendall, West Texas business and religious leader and board member of Texas Christian University, recalled the sad poll of a magazine in 1936 (which predicted Landon would beat Roosevelt and ceased publication soon afterward) in a phone call to the Lubbock Journal: "Is it true that Doc Gallup and Drew Pearson are joining the staff of the Literary Digest?" When the bulletins came over the news wire in the Waco Times-Herald that Dewey had given up, editors shouted: "Dewey's conceded." A printer back in the composing room shouted: "What's he got to be conceded about?" The Oak Cliff Lion's Club was so sure several days ago that Dewey would win, its luncheon bulletin yesterday said: "In the 20 years existence of this club, this is the first time we have a program under a Republican administration." At the meeting, 53 members of the club pleaded guilty to being Republicans and were fined 25 cents each. Federal Judge Allen B. Janney, trying a case at Corpus Christi, announced in court that Dewey had conceded the election and offered to buy coffee for attorneys and court attendants. But James V. Alred, a Democratic leader in Texas and one of the attorneys, insisted on paying for the coffee. "The election result made me love everybody," Alred said. An FBI agent in Fort Worth heard laughter coming from a federal grand jury room and investigated. He found that Mabel Gouddy, Star-Telegram reporter, had been admitted into the room to announce that "Dewey's conceded." After making her announcement, Mabel said: "I've told you what I know. Now, what are you gentlemen doing?" That's what started the laughter. In Dallas, an attorney visited newspaper offices, carrying a lantern in one hand and a roll of money in another. "I'm looking for a Republican," said this modern Diogenes, "and I'm offering a reward." In the same city, a little girl told her mother that at school, Wednesday, the two most important men in history were discussed. "And who were they, dear?" mother asked. "Doak Walker and Mr. Truman," the little girl replied. Here are some of the sayings that went the rounds: "Never Dewey today what you can put off four years." "Gallup and Roper know all the wrong people." "If all the polls were laid end to end, they would reach from here to a wrong conclusion." "Before the election people sang: 'Don't sit on the grass, Harry, it's Dewey.'"

Seaboard Will Be Honored Nov. 11th

Residents of the Vealmoor community will join a Big Spring group at a special celebration honoring the Seaboard Oil Co. on Nov. 11, R. L. Cook, chairman of the chamber of commerce oil committee, announced this morning. Tentative plans for the celebration have been discussed at recent meetings of the chamber of commerce, and Cook said that many persons who live in the Vealmoor area are anxious to participate in the activity. The celebration, which is being arranged to give special recognition to developers of Vealmoor oil activity, will be climaxed with a barbecue to be served at the Vealmoor school at 5 p. m. on the announced date. The Big Spring group plans to arrive in Vealmoor at 3:30 p. m. and visit new producing oil wells drilled by the Seaboard Oil Co. Written invitations are being forwarded from the chamber of commerce office to members of the oil committee and their wives and to chamber of commerce directors and their wives. They will be minutes reading the king-sized ballot. Then he handed the ballot back to the election judge. "You can have this back," he said. "I don't see anyone I want to vote for."

Green Off To Quiz Shooting Suspect

Chief of Police Pete Green left this morning for Lubbock to question a suspect in connection with a shooting incident last night on the north side of town. Erlender Valdras was treated in a hospital for a bullet wound in the hand following the incident, officers said. The suspect was arrested early this morning by Lubbock authorities.

Fined On DWI Charge

D. F. Lefler entered a plea of guilty in county court this morning to the charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicants and was fined $100 plus expenses by Judge Walton Morrison. In addition, Lefler lost use of his driver's license for the ensuing six months.

Bad Weather Halts Flight Of Mercy

WESTOVER AIRFORCE BASE, Mass., Nov. 4. (U) — Bad weather slowed the mercy flight carrying a four-year-old Texas girl to Boston in a life or death mission against leukemia.

The Air Force here reported that a C-47 which took off yesterday from San Antonio was forced to land at Greenville Air Force Base in South Carolina and was still weathered in there this morning. The girl, Brenda Joyce Perkins, was accompanied by her father, Staff Sgt. Austin L. Perkins. The plane carried plasma for any needed transfusions during the flight.

Decision Seen In Demo Scrap Over Purge

FORT WORTH, Nov. 4. (U) — A decision may be handed down today in the suit brought by Tarrant County conservative Democrats for an injunction to nullify the purge of anti-Trumanites and block other acts of the Democratic state convention here last September.

Judge Walter Morris, who is hearing the case in 67th District Court, said he may hand down a decision late today when the suit is expected to be concluded after five days of testimony and arguments.

Final arguments were started at 1:30 this afternoon by Gillis Johnson, representing the conservatives, and Ernest May, who represents Jack Carter, Mrs. J. W. Douglas, and other Democratic political figures named defendants in the suit.

Called to the stand yesterday were Neville G. Penrose and Mrs. Bennett Smith, ousted as state executive committee members at the convention, and William D. Morris, deposed presidential elector nominee.

Penrose said "mob rule" dominated the convention during the unseating of the conservative Harris, Tarrant, and Dallas conventions and the ouster of the party officials.

E. C. Pannell, chairman of Precinct 116, and J. L. Gammill, chairman of Precinct 43, testified that the purge voted by the convention was a device to enable left-wing Democrats to seize party machinery from men who had been elected by direct vote of the people.

Soil Erosion Problems Will Be Discussed

BROWNWOOD, Nov. 4. (U) — Soil erosion problems will be discussed at the annual meeting here Nov. 9-10 of supervisors of Texas 150 conservation districts.

The supervisors are farmers who serve without pay on the governing boards of the soil conservation districts which embrace 80 per cent of the state's land area.

One of the speakers will be E. J. Kyle, former A. & M. dean and Ambassador to Guatemala, who will discuss some of the agricultural problems of Central America.

Also on the program will be J. C. Dykes of Washington, assistant chief of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service. Dykes, a native of Dallas, was stationed in Fort Worth and other Texas cities before going to Washington.

Kent Leavitt of Millbrook, N. Y., national president of the supervisor's association, also will be present.

Moscow Newspapers Display Truman Win In Prominent Spots

Newspapers gave prominent play today to resident Truman's election victory and featured his pledge to strive for world peace.

A Tass news agency dispatch from New York commented briefly that Henry Wallace received about 1 million votes. Many Russians in this capital appeared surprised, however, that the third party candidate did not win, and asked Americans here why Wallace was defeated.

There was no indication how the Soviet government reaction to President Truman's election.

Ex-Convict Held Without Bond On Charges Of Killing Couple

EAU CLAIRE, Wis., Nov. 4. (U) — Marshall Johnson, a 32-year-old ex-convict, was held in jail without bond after his arraignment last night on two charges of first degree murder in the slaying of a teen-age couple Oct. 23.

Before his arraignment Sheriff Lloyd Thompson said that Johnson had signed a statement admitting he fatally shot Raymond Smith, 18, and Gertrude Baumann, 17. Their bullet-ridden bodies were found Oct. 24 on a golf course. An autopsy disclosed the girl had been raped.

Johnson, an Eau Claire roofer, pleaded innocent to the two charges. His preliminary examination was set for Nov. 17.

Johnson was returned yesterday from Seattle, Wash., where he had been arrested at the request of Wisconsin authorities.

Sheriff Thompson said Johnson related in his statement that he shot the young couple when he encountered them as he returned from a hunting trip. He shot Smith, who was a bank clerk, during a scuffle and then shot Miss Baumann.

Thompson said Johnson had promised to take officers to a pool where he said he had thrown his gun.

Police said Johnson has been arrested several times since 1933 on counts of burglary and has served three terms in Wisconsin State Prison.

Dewey Returns To Governorship

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 4. (U) — Gov. Thomas E. Dewey quietly went back about the business of being governor of New York today.

The defeated Republican presidential candidate returned to the state capital from New York last night just nine hours after he had conceded the election to President Truman.

Dewey and his family got a warm welcome from a crowd of several hundred persons assembled at the rail station.

It was a crowd in sharp contrast to the yelling, shouting throngs which greeted him on his campaign travels.

This one was a sympathetic gathering. There was applause and some cheers but there was a note of restraint in keeping with Dewey's disappointment over losing the election.

A Trio Of Texas Airports Get Grants

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. (U) — Grants to three Texas airports for construction or development were announced yesterday by the Civil Aeronautics Administration.

The San Antonio Municipal Airport receives $17,000, Quannah Municipal Airport $20,500, and Coleman Municipal Airport $36,000.

Three Duke University football teams have ranked among the top scoring eleven in the nation. The 1941 and 1945 outfits were the second highest pointmakers in college football and the 1943 team ranked as the top of the list.
