Winter Descends On The Italian Fronts With Fury

By NOLAND NORGAARD
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, ALGIERS, Nov. 13 (AP)—Winter descended on the Italian front in earnest today with the American Fifth army locked in grim, sea-saw fighting with the Germans on the main road to Rome and the British Eighth army still moving into position against enemy lines along the Sangro river.

north of the town of Mignano strategically guarding the road to Rome. The allies had taken the heights on Wednesday. After losing them to the Germans in Thursday's counterattacks, they smashed forward Friday and not only regained the lost ground but won new positions. The Eighth army was engaged principally in sending out patrols, one of which crossed the Sangro river and wiped out a German machinegun nest. To the south they repelled a German counterattack in brisk fighting between Allied-held Casagrande and Nazi-held Ateasi, and succeeded in occupying important high ground. The struggle during the past week has demonstrated conclusively that the Germans still cherish the hope of staving off a real attack on Rome for months. The terrain and the weather as well as reinforcements of several divisions which the Nazi command moved into the line during the past week combined to give Generals Clark and Montgomery one of the toughest assignments any Allied commanders have yet faced. Headquarters disclosed today that Allied destroyers and RAF planes joined in a bombardment of enemy positions along the Gulf of Gaeta north of the Garigliano river Tuesday night and again at dawn Wednesday in support of Fifth army operations. The planes dropped flares and bombed as the warships shelled. The Allied air command sent planes to bomb the Germans in the Balkans again yesterday, Mitchells hitting an oil refinery at Berat and the nearby Kucove airfield in Albania and American and British fighters strafed a landing ground at Mostar, Yugoslavia. Air operations over Italy were widespread.

Beachhead On Bougainville Is Extended

300 Japs Reported Left Dead After Fights In Sector
SOUTHWEST PACIFIC ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Sunday, Nov. 14 (AP)—The American beachhead at Empress Augusta Bay on the west-central coast of Bougainville in the northern Solomons has been extended in all directions. General MacArthur's headquarters reported today that the Japanese have left 300 dead in fighting there. The beachhead, where the Marines landed on Nov. 1, is on the last big Solomons island barring the eastern approaches to Rabaul. In their advances, Marines and army troops have occupied Piva village, captured Japanese artillery and supplies. Prior to the village's occupation it had been 50 per cent wiped out by divebombing attacks. Headquarters reported today the second roundtrip flight of more than 2,000 miles within less than a week by Liberators for a night attack on Soerabaja, former Dutch naval base now held by the Japanese on Java. Twenty-two tons were dropped, duplicating the earlier raid. Allied planes kept up the ceaseless attacks on shipping in the New Ireland-New Britain sector from which the Japanese on Bougainville must draw their support. A Liberator, in the latest blow, scored a bomb hit which damaged a 7,000-ton merchantman off Kavieng, New Ireland. Units of the Japanese airforce attempted one of their infrequent forays against Darwin, Australia. They lost two bombers and caused minor damage in two night raids. At Darwin, which now has been raided 64 times by enemy planes, Spitfires intercepted the nine latest raiders. The offensive action announced at Empress Augusta Bay occurred Wednesday. In the extremely vital but less spectacular air war on Japanese supply barges, P-39s swept low in the Bogadim sector of northeastern New Guinea on the approaches to Madang, destroying six barges. P-39s are being used more and more on such strafing and bombing sweeps. American airmen, pounding the big Japanese naval air base at Rabaul with increasing fury, have clipped three more warships and 88 planes from the enemy's defenses.

Fall Of Zhitomir Brings Red Troops Almost To Poland

By JAMES M. LONG
LONDON, Nov. 13 (AP)—The western Ukraine rail and highway hub of Zhitomir, the half-way marker on the Russians' road from Stalingrad to Berlin, fell today to Gen. Nikolai Vatutin's armored assault as the Red army virtually split the German's northern and southern forces and drove to within 60 miles of the pre-war Polish border. In a related drive on Korosten, 45 miles north of Zhitomir, the Russians smashed to within 27 miles of that railway supply center for the Germans' northern forces by taking the town of Malin. The Moscow daily communique, recorded by the Soviet Monitor, said that more than 100 towns were taken in the Ukrainian drive. The Germans still were sending waves of counterattacks against the Russian positions near Pastov, 35 miles southwest of Kiev, but made no gains, the bulletin said. Twelve heavily fortified German strongpoints were taken in the area south of Rechitsa. The fall of Zhitomir, taken in a 15-mile frontal advance, was announced by Marshal Joseph Stalin tonight. Three cavalry divisions were among the spearhead troops which won back Zhitomir, cutting the Odessa-Leningrad railroad—the last important north-south link short of the pre-war Polish border for the Nazis, hard-pressed in white Russia, and now ominously out-flanked in their last Ukraine stand. The capitulation of Zhitomir means the Germans will be forced to use a round-about system of single gauged tracks almost 100 miles west. The cutting of the railroad at Zhitomir now opens the way for a Soviet plunge into old Poland and the already panicky Balkans, as the front is only 120 miles from Bessarabia, which Rumania annexed after the last world war and which Russia reclaimed before the Nazi invasion. Freezing cold is paving the way for the blasting of an even broader Russian highway of assault westward to Poland, the Balkans and Berlin. Far North of Zhitomir, where the Russians already are pushing into the hardening ground the pripet marshes, the freeze now enables the Red army to use tanks and motorized artillery. Southeast of the Zhitomir wedge even the mile-wide lower reaches of the Dniester, where another Red army drive now is checked, will freeze over by early December. South of Rechitsa hard deep freezes made the ground more suitable for fighting and violent tank battles were reported. The Russians were said to have broken the German frontlines and to have captured a series of fortified trenches and garrisoned villages. The Red army's objective in this area appeared to be Kalinkovichi another Nazi strongpoint on the Odessa-Leningrad rail line. The Soviets claimed 3,000 Germans had been killed in this area in the past two days. The Red army systematically widened its bridgehead on the Kerch peninsula, front reports said, and aided by strengthened forces which the Red navy was moving across the straight by night and under the cover of fog, was closing in on the city of Kerch.

Nazis Use Sea And Air To Land On Leros Island

CAIRO, Nov. 13 (AP)—The Germans in an all-out effort to take Leros from the allies landed reinforcements both by boat and by parachute and on the second day of stiff fighting got a footing on the northwest corner of the tiny Aegean island, it was announced officially today. The Germans dropped numerous paratroopers in the center of Leros, as sea-borne invaders landed on the coast, and the Nazi dive-bombers attacked the British and Italian defenders repeatedly. Landings were made in fog on the west coast. Reports from the island continued to be sketchy as the allies fought off the second day of attack. No authoritative persons in Cairo was hazarding any predictions on the eventual outcome. A British Middle East command communique today said that throughout yesterday the Germans continued to reinforce their troops invading Leros and are endeavoring to consolidate their beachheads. "Fighting continues and casualties are being inflicted on the enemy." The Middle East air command sent long-range fighters as well as bombers to strafe the German beachheads and hammer island bases from which German reinforcements could be sent.

Plans Made For New War Board

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—A move to create an over-all demobilization board with Bernard M. Baruch as administrator is under consideration by the senate's special postwar committee but members are divided on the scope of the proposed agency's authority. Chairman George (D-Ga) told this reporter today there appears to be unanimous belief among members that congress should enact speedily legislation fixing a few major policies for reconversion of industry to civilian pursuits after the war ends. Almost everyone on the committee, he said, wants Baruch, the administration's trouble shooter, to head a new agency which would provide the machinery for industrial demobilization, but some want it to operate only in an advisory capacity and others as the direct authority with powers even wider than those originally given the War Production Board. Baruch now heads a war and postwar readjustment unit under War Mobilization Chief James F. Byrnes. George said he would confer with Baruch early next week and would ask the committee at a meeting Tuesday to fix a date for holding public hearings on the whole problem.

Japanese Bomb Ellice Island

PEARL HARBOR, T. H., Nov. 13 (AP)—Six Japanese bombers raided American installations on Funafuti in the Ellice islands group early today, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz announced. About 30 bombs were dropped during two runs at high altitude. Two men were wounded and minor material damage was inflicted. It was the second raid on the Ellice islands in two days. The navy department in Washington announced earlier today that approximately a dozen big enemy bombers attacked the American base on Nanomea on the night of November 11, South Pacific time. hTat raid, the navy said, killed one man, wounded two others and caused minor damage. The Japanese presumably came from the Gilbert Islands but also possibly from Nauru. The number of Jap planes participating in both the Funafuti and Nanomea raids was so small that the raids were termed mere nuisance missions of doubtful value to the Japs.

Allied Planes Battle Through Odds To Blast Bremen Communications

By JAMES F. KING
LONDON, Nov. 13 (AP)—American Flying Fortresses and Liberator bombers, protected by Thunderbolt and Lightning fighters, fought through swarms of German fighters, thick clouds and 50-below-zero temperature today to batter the vital port and communications center of Bremen. Railway yards, canals, highways, bridges and the Germans' best port since the destruction of Hamburg were blasted by the American heavy bombers which also took a toll of 33 Nazi interceptors. The accompanying Thunderbolts and Lightnings accounted for 10 more enemy aircraft for a total of 43. In swamping the heavily-defended port—using a new technique of bombing through the clouds, Berlin said—15 of the big bombers and nine American fighters were reported missing. "Several hundred" German fighters were seen by the Thunderbolts and Lightnings which in escorting the bombers made their longest and most hazardous mission to date, it was announced. The importance of the raid—the eighth air force's fourth on Bremen—was stressed by an official disclosure that more than 1,000,000 tons of imports from the Scandinavian countries flow through the port each year. In addition, Bremen is the home of Germany's biggest shipbuilding yards, particularly those turning out submarines. In addition to the American heavy bomber attack, RAF fighters were also out today, continuing their usual daily blasting of enemy communications along the invasion coastline. The size of the attacking American force in the 800-mile round-trip flight was not officially disclosed. One pilot of a supporting Lightning fighter which helped cover the American heavies said the Germans threw up everything from single-engine ME-109s to JU-88 fighter-bombers shooting rocket shells. The returning crewmen said vision was obscured during most of the journey and the results of the raid were impossible to determine. The blow at Bremen was the first since Oct. 8 when the port was dealt a double-barrelled assault. Flying Fortresses then hit Bremen and Vegesack by day at a cost of 30 bombers, while the RAF struck Bremen the same night, with Hannover as the secondary target, at a cost of 31 bombers.

Planes Help In Albania Battle

LONDON, Nov. 13 (AP)—Allied planes of the Northwest Africa airforce took a heavy hand in the guerrilla battle for Albania and Yugoslavia yesterday while on the ground the partisans resisted a determined Nazi attempt to wipe them out in northern Slovenia. The partisan communique of Gen. Josip Broz (Drug Tito) gave details today of "very bitter" defensive battles in Slovenia. It told of successful guerrilla operations in Macedonia, Dalmatia, Montenegro, Serbia, eastern Bosnia and fresh attacks on German communications. Allied headquarters in Algiers announced American Mitchells on Friday went to the support of the partisans by bombing the oil field at Berati and nearby Kucove airfield in southern Albania. On the same day American and RAF fighter-bombers escorted by British Spitfires strafed the landing ground at Nostar in Yugoslavia, destroying four aircraft on the ground. They also destroyed three locomotives at Opuzen, southwest of Mostar. Tito's communique said partisans also had struck at railways behind German lines at Gorizia, in northeastern Italy north of Trieste. It declared one German column was cut to pieces in trying to drive into liberated territory from Ogulin on the Fiume-Zagreb railway.

Navy Perfects Tactics For Jap Invasion

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—The United States Navy has now perfected one of the greatest tactical reorganizations in its history in order to bring massive air striking power against Japanese sea forces and air-defended island positions in the Pacific. It is completion of this reorganization, as well as the launching of 17 battle-type aircraft carriers and hundreds of other ships in the last two years, which enabled Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, Pacific Fleet chief, to say this week with full confidence of victory that "our time has come to attack. A ranking naval leader told this reporter today that "just about all our ships in the Pacific except the submarines, have been grouped around aircraft carriers and the organization makes such a formidable force that when I saw it, and the fighting spirit of the men in it, I almost felt sorry for the Japs for the first time in my life." The initial problem of this massed force is two-fold: To clear the Japanese out of key island positions and, if possible, to create an opportunity to engage and destroy the enemy fleet. How soon the latter stroke can be delivered depends of course on when the Japanese are willing to come out and fight. Reorganization of the Pacific fleet around aircraft carriers began tentatively before the enemy attack on Pearl Harbor. At the time the United States had seven carriers and several individual carrier task forces. The battleship remained the backbone of the fleet, and the tactical concept was that in any engagement it would deliver the knock-out punch. Temporary paralysis of the battle line resulting from the Pearl Harbor bombing automatically and quickly forced the aircraft carriers into the fighting role of paramount importance. Now the whole concept of naval action has been reworked to fit the strategic requirements of Pacific fighting and the role of shipborne airplanes in sea warfare in that island-studded area. For the time being the aircraft carrier has usurped the role of capital ship both because of the job to be done against enemy island air bases and the fact that whereas the battleship can destroy a target 200 miles away the carrier's planes can reach out 200 miles. The basic principle, however, remains the same: that is, to use striking power in masses against major objectives rather than fritter it away in dribbles.

War Fund Drive Heads Map Plans For Week

Leaders of Howard county's National War Fund drive Saturday checked receipts, surveyed results from the drive thus far, and mapped plans to push over the top on a $17,900 quota this week. Pat Kenney, general chairman, said late Saturday that cash in the bank and turned over to headquarters amounted to $12,740, or 70 per cent of the quota. This represents a gain of 18 per cent for the week. The drive received stimulation from partial reports from the rural districts, and from the first funds turned in from the Big Spring Bombardier School civilian workers. Through Chairman R. E. McEwen, Capt. Warren Edson, civilian personnel officer, has turned in $185, which was a fraction of the amount collected thus far at the bombardier school. Reports from the rural communities stacked up like this: Gay Hill $100.50, Morris $54, Vincent $225, Forsan $10, Chalk $8.50, Morgan $21, Ross City $79.82, Midway $5, Knott $86, Hartwells $30.50, R-Bar $138.25, Lomax $114, and Coahoma $206.65. No reports had been received through Rural Chairman Walker Bailey for Lee (west field), Center Point, Vealmoor, Moore, Couble, Elbow, Fairview, Richland, Sand Springs and Green Valley. Although admitting that the battle lacked a lot being won yet, Kenney was hopeful the plans for the week would result in realization of the goal for the drive which covers USO and 16 welfare and relief agencies for seamen, refugees, allies, war prisoners, etc. "The railroad organization has been set up and is in operation," he said. "I believe we will get a real boost from this section of our community." Workers are now contracting the Latin-American quarter of the city. School authorities are giving students in every school an opportunity to participate

Howard county fittingly dedicated its "honor roll" to servicemen last week. If there ever was a roll of honor, this is it. The thanks and prayers of everyone in the county goes out to the men and women whose names are or should be on that board. They and their mothers are the real heroes of this war. God speed their safe return. This column is plenty proud of the record made by the team of cadets representing the Big Spring Bombardier School in the eighth and final meeting of the bombing olympics last week. Not only did the team make it two straight, but one of its members, John W. Guthrie, Jr., Philadelphia, came up with the all-olympics record. Other points have made claims of being the "largest," etc. Perhaps our school might modestly lay claim to being home of the "best bombardiers." Be that as it may, cadets going out from here are giving a real account of themselves in combat. It appears that there eternally is a campaign of some sort, but if the individuals and businesses of Howard county will make another honest effort this week, we can get another of these behind us. The National War Fund drive now needs just that final push to succeed. We need lots of individuals who will match the spirit of city firemen who contributed $5 straight down the line. Some who make twice as much have begged off for $1.

AIR-WAC Recruitment Is Bearing Fruit

The AIR-WAC recruitment campaign is bearing fruit in a big way. Saturday Sgt. Paula Edwards, attached to the WAC recruiting station here, took several applicants to Lubbock for examination. Four of the number were AIR-WAC candidates and the remainder for the regular WAC. Monday Lieut. Jessie W. Gardner, executive WAC officer for the West Texas district, is due here for a routine visit. On the same day, at least one other AIR-WAC applicant is due to be shipped to Lubbock.

Attack On England

LONDON, Nov. 13 (AP)—Germany's "secret weapon" may be either rocket guns, suicide parachutists, stratosphere bombers or gas—arrayed in the order of their possibility—but all of these have become the subject of much speculation since Prime Minister Churchill gravely warned of possible new forms of attack on England. In giving official cognizance to the threat in his speech Tuesday, the prime minister hinted that the Nazis' projected new methods of warfare might not be entirely secret, assuring the nation that the British have been watching closely for signs of such developments—and presumably planning counter-action. Rocket runs seem the most likely threat. They appeal to military observers as a better weapon for extreme long-range bombardment than the "Big Berthas" which shelled Paris from 76 miles in the last war.

Badoglio Sets Up 'Tech' Government

ITALIAN GOVERNMENT HEADQUARTERS IN SOUTHERN ITALY, Nov. 13 (AP)—Marshal Pietro Badoglio organized a "technical" government today in a makeshift move obviously forced by the flat refusal of Italy's main political leaders to join any government until King Vittorio Emanuele has abdicated. The Badoglio government was revamped to consist now of the aged marshal and a series of under-secretaries and experts who will carry on the actual business of government but who will neither play any political role nor participate in any policy making. King Vittorio Emanuele has temporarily stymied any moves to oust him by sitting tight and ignoring the political crisis on the grounds it was impossible to obtain a representative government until Rome falls into Allied hands.

Bob Hope, Betty Hutton Team Up For Fun In Army Comedy, 'Let's Face It'

The film version of the Cole Porter musical, "Let's Face It," that wowed Broadway, is the mirth-filled offering at the Ritz theatre today and Monday.

The Paramount picture costars Bob Hope and Betty Hutton, the happiest comedy combination seen in a long time.

The two stars caper and cavort in this saga of a soldier-boys' off-duty dilemmas in a way to make you forget everything but the good time you are having. There's music in the right places — some of the Cole Porter stage show tunes and one original, written by Sammy Cahn and Julie Styne, called "Who Did? I Did! Yes, I Did!" The Hope gags are there aplenty; in addition some high-hitting Hutton contributions, plus the comedy talents of Dona Drake, Cully Richards, Eve Arden, ZaSu Pitts, Marjorie Weaver and Raymond Walburn. The supporting cast is an excellent one and special mention must be made of the comedy talents of Eve Arden, ZaSu Pitts and Phyllis Povah who are very funny as romance-hungry wives. Miss Arden played the same part in the stage version.

"Let's Face It" is funny stuff from the moment you see Bob drive up to the back door of a reducing room, his Army jeep loaded with sweetmeats for sale to the waiting hungry Hannahs. Betty Hutton, his fiancée, runs the farm, with a lot less trouble than she has running Hope.

At the farm Bob meets three middle-aged, discontented wives who want to make their husbands jealous. They offer him three hundred dollars if he and two of his friends will cooperate with them toward that end. Bob can't say "no" to three hundred dollars, worse luck for him!

What follows as a result is tops in riotous entertainment.

THE WEEKS PLAYBILL

RITZ

Mirth Multiplied—One of the high spots in army comedies is "Let's Face It," Bob Hope's latest starring vehicle which is at the Ritz theatre today and Monday. Bouncing Betty Hutton and ZaSu Pitts are chief among the supporting players. "Let's Face It" is an adaptation of the famous Cole Porter stage musical.

Horror Drama Is Featured At Lyric Theatre

Announced as one of Hollywood's most gripping horror dramas, "Captive Wild Woman" is the featured attraction for today and Monday at the Lyric theatre. The new thriller was created by Universal studio, makers of the famous "Frankenstein," "Wolf Man" and "Dracula" shudder films.

"Captive Wild Woman," described as even more ambitious than its chilling predecessors, reveals the secret crimes of a brilliant but fiendish doctor-scientist.

Through a fantastic surgical feat he transforms an orang-outang into a beautiful and attractive girl. The transformation, however, is not complete and she again becomes an animal after a series of killings in which the doctor scientist himself is murdered.

Featured players in the cast include Evelyn Ankers, John Carradine, Milburn Stone and Lyod Corrigan. Appearing in prominent roles are Marsha Mae Vivar, Vince Barnett and Acquannetta. The latter, one of the cinema's most glamorous newcomers, is seen as the "gorilla girl." Carradine portrays the doctor-scientist. Clyde Beatty, celebrated animal trainer, cooperated with Director Edward Dmytryk and Associate Producer Ben Povar in the staging of animal sequences of the picture.

Adventure—A tale of excitement and mysteries in the desert is told in "Adventure In Iraq," the Queen theatre's Sunday-Monday feature. John Loder and Ruth Ford, pictured in the scene above, have the principal roles.

Scare Stuff—Evelyn Ankers is as frightened as she appears to be in "Captive Wild Woman," the Lyric theatre's offering for today and Monday. It's an eerie story of a half-woman, half-beast, with murder in her heart. John Carradine, Vince Barnett and Acquannetta are others in the cast.

Oh Where, Oh Where Can That Mother Be?

CHICAGO, Nov. 13 (AP)—Six-year-old Robert Kritsa and his brother, Larry John, 3, were found by County Police living in a dog house on the suburban summit town dump with five dogs and a goat.

Police Lieut. Max Ramelew said Robert told him his mother had left the boys several months ago with a family living in a shack near the drainage canal along with pigs, dogs, and goats. The boys ran away two days ago, Robert related, because "the pigs, dogs and goats crowded the house." They told police they took the five dogs and one goat for companions. Robert said he had not seen his mother in more than two months.

Texans Who Know Cattle Business Join In Fighting OPA Price Control Plan

By TEX EASLEY
WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—There are three Texans here who unquestionably know more about the cattle business than any other three men this side the Golden Gate.

They're Congressman Richard M. Kleberg of Corpus Christi, part-owner of the King ranch; Brownsville's tall, quiet-speaking Representative Milton West, a former Texas Ranger; and Judge Joe Montague, attorney for the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers association, who divides his time between Washington and Fort Worth.

They blame the current meat crisis on the Office of Price Administration and say the newly announced price control program will only make bad matters worse. Besides fighting the OPA on the price control program, the two congressmen and Judge Montague have been in the lead of the fight against a proposal of the bureau of internal revenue to change a 30-year-old method for taxing the earnings of ranchers from their herds.

Several other Texans in congress have joined Kleberg, West and Montague in numerous conferences recently with OPA and B. I. R. officials. The most active include Representatives Fritz Latham of Fort Worth, W. R. Poage of Waco, George Mahon of Colorado City, Ewing Thomason of El Paso and O. C. Fisher of San Angelo.

Kleberg presided over the house agriculture committee in its investigation of OPA policies both as to meat and citrus fruits, and his temporary chairmanship of that important house body may continue indefinitely because of the inability of Chairman Fulmer (D-S) and Rep. Flannagan (D-Va) to be on hand.

Elmo White Is German Prisoner

S/Sgt. Elmo E. White, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. White of Coahoma, who was reported missing on August 17th, is a prisoner of the Germans, his parents have learned.

Recently they received a letter from his base commander saying "the flight that your son was on over Germany, will go down in history." He also explained that Sgt. White had bailed out of his flying fortress to become a prisoner.

Sgt. White was a tall gunner on a fortress and had been in England since May 28th of this year. He enlisted in the army at the age of 17 on July 26th, 1942. He is now 18 years old.

Farmer Vote Urged Nov. 18

All those participating in or intending to participate in any farm work under government farm programs are urged to vote in the November 18th election when community committeemen will be selected, M. Weaver, AAA administrative officer said Saturday.

Three committeemen will be named from each of the five communities to make 15 men to be elected. In addition, voters will select delegates who will in turn name the county committeemen for the new year.

Three elections will be held in Big Spring for communities B., C. and D. Elections will be held at the school houses in Knott and Gayhill communities for A. and E., respectively.

New officers will take office on December 1st. After election of community committeemen and delegates, the delegates will select the county committeemen within five days.

John Costello To Address Life Underwriters

John P. Costello, Dallas, president of the Texas Association of Life Underwriters, will address the Big Spring association Tuesday in a ladies night affair at 7 p. m. in the Settles.

In addition to Big Spring underwriters, members of the local association in Midland, Odessa and other points are expected to be on hand, said Dalton Mitchell, Big Spring association president.

Costello will be making his first appearance as president of the state underwriters association when he speaks here, and his address is due to be a highlight in the Big Spring chapter's activities for the year.

A wealth of experience lies behind Costello who has been in the field for 23 years as a personal producer for the Southwestern Life Insurance Co., by whom he has been twice honored as its leading underwriter. He had headed its agency club and Top Club of which he is now an executive committee member for the past 10 years his production has averaged half a million dollars annually. He was first chairman of the Texas Leaders Round Table.

A forceful speaker, he was on his recent national underwriters convention at Pittsburgh. "Life underwriters," he believed, "are morale wardens, building a backlog of financial security on the home front to safeguard for posterity the Texas and American way of life."

47 Discharges On File In County

There have been 47 discharges from the army and navy filed with the county clerk's office here since the first of the year, of which only one is not an honorable discharge.

Of the 47 on file, only two were from the navy, and the remainder were from the army. Although no specific reason for discharge is revealed on the papers, apparently medical reasons constitute the majority of releases, since on most of the papers physical conditions were listed usually as "fair" or "poor."

Bombardier Graduates Told Of Action Against The Japanese

A picture of what they likely will face when they get to the combat theatres to drop bombs for Uncle Sam was painted for class 43-16 graduates of the Big Spring Bombardier school Saturday morning, as they listened to an address by Major Sam W. Bowman.

Major Bowman, now stationed at the Childress field, formerly was commandant of cadets at the local post. Relieved of his assignment here last spring, he was on a special mission to the Southwest Pacific from June until September, and it was on that mission that he reported to the new bombardier officers.

It was the 17th class to go forth from the local school, and one of the largest. At the conclusion of the ceremonies, wings and commissions were awarded by the post commanding officer, Col. R. W. Warren.

Speaking on the basis of his observations while attached to the Fifth Air Force, Major Bowman told the bombardiers:

"Initiative and leadership will determine your success. Those who exhibit these qualities are the ones who will get ahead. "It is a privilege to be a member of an air combat team," he continued, "because only the best are taken."

The officer praised the work of the Fifth Air Force. For many months, he said, the group in the Southwest Pacific had to follow "hit-and-run" tactics, because of shortage of men, planes and equipment. But a different story is being told now, he said, and the enemy is feeling the might of American air power. "You are the best-trained, the best-equipped airmen in the world," he said. "And you can go into battle knowing you have that edge."

Major Bowman interested the fledgling officers with accounts of the Fifth Air Force in operation. America has wide superiority in bombing planes, he said; and although the Yanks have a healthy respect for the Jap Zero plane, our own P-38 has established itself as the pursuit-fighter that is tops.

Action against the Japs calls for precision bombing at its best, Major Bowman said, because targets are always small—barges, docks, runways, plane concentrations, etc. He disclosed that use of automatic pilots in the bombing planes had greatly increased the accuracy of American bombing. He described defenses necessary against both enemy ack-ack and enemy pursuit.

Response to the address was made by 2nd Lt. J. K. Burke who, speaking for the class, expressed appreciation to officers and instructors and said "We'll make

Soil Conservation Money Received

Soil Conservation Payments amounting to $9,185.18 were received Saturday by the local AAA office for distribution to Howard county farmers participating in the 1943 AAA program.

This amount, M. Weaver, administrative officer, said, is only a part of the payments which will be received from time to time through next spring.

Due to personnel difficulties in the state office, the checks will be given out over a period of several months, instead of in one group as in the past. Last year, this county received $200,000 in checks and Weaver pointed out that this year's payments would compare favorably with last year.

The payments received to date have been distributed to 63 farmers in the county.

Expecting a Baby?

Mother's Friend helps bring ease and comfort to expectant mothers.

MOTHER'S FRIEND, an exquisitely prepared emulsion, is useful in all conditions where a bland, mild anodyne massage medium in skin lubrication is desired. One condition in which women for more than 70 years have used it is an application for massaging the body during pregnancy... it helps keep the skin soft and pliable... thus avoiding unnecessary discomfort due to dryness and tightness. It refreshes and tones the skin. An ideal massage application for the numb, tingling or burning sensations of the skin... for the tired back muscles or cramped palms in the legs. Quickly absorbed. Delightful to use.

Army Private's Heroism Recognized With Award

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—An army private formerly a Colorado farm laborer, who led an American battalion to victory in the high, snow-bound mountains of Attu Island and almost singlehandedly broke final Japanese resistance there, was awarded the nation's highest decoration posthumously today.

The award of the congressional medal of honor was announced at Secretary Stimson's press conference as the war department told for the first time of the heroic and gallant action of Joe P. Martinez, 23, of Ault, Colorado, who fell under a hail of Japanese bullets with his rifle still at his shoulder.

The action occurred last May as American forces were battling in one of the bitterest engagements of the Pacific war to smash the enemy's hold on strategic Attu at the tip of the Aleutian chain.

For several days, Martinez' citation disclosed, persistent effort had failed to drive the Japanese from a key defensive position in the precipitous mountains between the east arm of Holtz bay, where American troops had established forward positions, and Chichagof Harbor, where the enemy was based.

On May 26 a reinforced battalion was thrown into the drive and gradually moved forward in the face of intense machine gun, rifle and mortar fire. Then, the advance bogged down before the enemy's lead.

"Private Martinez arose to his feet and alone resumed his advance," the citation said. "Occasionally he stopped to urge his comrades on and his example inspired the others to follow."

Martinez inched steadily up the slope with the battalion behind him and the hell of Japanese fire ahead and all around. Finally he reached the bench-like plateau. Several Japanese positions had been established there in fox holes, but they could not stop the Colorado farm boy. He cleared them out with his automatic rifle and hand grenades.

But the battalion's advance again bogged down under a withering fire from the flank, from trenches ahead, and from high ground above.

Then one lone figure arose and started up the snow slope that led from the trench to the pass. "Again, it was Martinez. Again the other men followed."

"Again he was forced to move across open ground under heavy fire until he came upon the first of two trenches. Jumping in, he quickly cleaned it out with a few bursts from his automatic rifle and some more well-thrown grenades. Five Japs were found there. "Without hesitation, he moved forward up the slope to the second trench. He accounted for two Japs in this position. He reached the pass, still under fire from surrounding ridges. Standing up on the ridge overlooking the pass leading into Chichagof Harbor, he emptied his rifle into the Japanese positions just below and beyond the pass."

"He was mortally wounded with his rifle still at his shoulder, absorbing all enemy fire and permitting all units to move up behind him and successfully take and hold the pass."

Capture of the pass was described as "an important preliminary to the end of organized hostile resistance on the island."

De Marigny Tested With Lie Detector

NASSAU, Nov. 23 (AP)—A private criminologist said today a lie detector test showed Alfred De Marigny was telling the truth when he denied that he killed Sir Harry Oakes.

Leonard Keeler disclosed that the device, not recognized in British courts and therefore unavailable for use in De Marigny's defense, was tried on De Marigny last night in a private demonstration.

De Marigny, acquitted by a Bahamas supreme court jury Thursday night of a charge that he murdered his wealthy father-in-law, was led gradually up to the climax question.

Finally Keeler asked, "did you enter Westbourne (the ocean front Oakes estate where Sir Harry was slain) the night of July 7?"

"No," De Marigny replied firmly. "Did you kill Sir Harry Oakes?"

"No."

"Were you in the room when someone else killed Sir Harry Oakes?"

"No."

PAPER EXPANSION
NEW YORK, Nov. 13 (AP)—Paper Mill News, a trade journal, reported today a survey indicated the United States pulp and paper industry would spend $200,000,000 for modernization and expansion in the first year after the war.

Civilians To Get Better Diet In 1944

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Nov. 13 (AP)—War Food Administrator Marvin Jones told the National Grange convention that the American civilian diet in 1944 will be "as good as in the pre-war years."

"Decisions now made indicate that for the coming year our civilian population will have adequate supplies for health and productive effort, and that this will probably mean at least as much food per capita as in the pre-war years, both on a tonnage basis and in terms of food value," Jones said.

Adequate food must be assured for the consuming public, he asserted in a prepared speech, but at the same time the public is equally determined to apportion the supply so that it can be an effective weapon for war and so that adequate quantities can be provided for the armed forces and our allies.

Jones assured the Grange it was WFA's purpose to see that the farmers receive adequate returns next year for the all-time record crops they have been asked to produce.

"To protect you in your plans for increased production you must know that these prices will continue through your harvest and into your through," Jones said. "The nation and the consumer should be willing to share that responsibility and enable the support prices that are necessary. It is our purpose to see that you get these returns."

He promised to continue consultation with congress on provisions that will "give the necessary price assurances."

Jones declared, however, that the prices should not be out of line with the effort to prevent inflation.

Referring to the subsidy program, urged by President Roosevelt in a recent message to congress, Jones said that use of the Commodity Credit Corporation funds to support farm prices and obtain additional production had proved "highly successful" this year and that he desired to continue it in 1944.

Cotton

NEW YORK, Nov. 13 (AP)—Cotton futures rebounded sharply at the close of the market today with final prices 30 cents a bale higher to 5 cents a bale lower.

Liquidation and hedge selling depressed the list 55 cents a bale in early dealings. There was considerable December liquidation and switching into later months in anticipation of first notice day Nov. 24.

Exports showed further acceleration of the 1943 cotton crop into the loan, totaling 274,457 bales for the week ended Nov. 6, compared with 243,837 bales the previous week. Through Nov. 6 loans have been made on 1,318,767 bales compared with 687,528 bales impounded in the similar 1942 period.

Marines Use Old Razor Blades To Trap Japs

Production Up On New Cyclone Engine

NEW YORK, Nov. 13 (AP)—Quantity production of an air-cooled radial Wright cyclone engine of 2,200 horsepower, more powerful than the cyclones which power the flying fortresses, was announced today.

Myron B. Gordon, vice president and general manager of the Wright Aeronautical Corporation of Paterson, N. J., made the announcement which he said had been approved by the war department.

Asserting that the new engine, called cyclone-18, develops its highest engine horsepower figure ever permitted to be published by the war department, Gordon said, "we hope that use of the Cyclone-18 to increase the load and range for attacks on Germany and Japanese bases will cut down invasion resistance and bring an early end to the war."

POPPLES FALL ON FRANCE
LONDON, Nov. 13 (AP)—Armistice Day poppies worn by Allied armies were dropped on France during the raid on the Cannes area Armistice night, it was revealed today. Just before the take-off everyone at RAF Halifa: base donated the poppies to the crews of the bombing squadrons who dropped "bouquets" as they crossed southern France.

I don't sell anti-freeze but I do fix any kind of radiators. HARRIS THE RADIATOR SHOP, 400 East Third. (Adv)

GUADALCANAL, Nov. 13 (AP)—At last, a perfect reply to that perennial puzzle—what to do with those old razor blades.

The Marines came up with the solution in the swammy jungles of Choiseul Island in the northern Solomon Islands.

They stuck them around any likely handholds on palm trees which they expected Jap snipers to scurry.

Lt. Col. Victor Krulak, Washington, D. C., commander of the Marine parachute battalion which occupied the Jap-infested Choiseul for about a week, said the scheme worked like a charm.

"It sounds kind of inhuman," he said, "and I suppose the Japs will hate me for it. But they had the annoying habit of whizzing up these jungle tree-like monkeys whenever opposed, and then turning into snipers."

"So we went along the trails, pretending to be Jap patrols looking for good climbing trees. In the bark of these trees we stuck a lot of razor blades fairly high up."

"Then when the Japs came up these trails, we opposed them and they would run up the trees about 10 feet, then drop suddenly and while they were looking at their hands someone would shoot them."

Shun Complacency Is Flyer's Plea

NEW YORK, Nov. 13 (AP)—Eddie Rickenbacker, marking the anniversary of his rescue in the South Pacific last Nov. 14, after 21 days on a life raft, called upon the American people today to shun complacency and bend all efforts toward knocking Hitler out of the war in 1944.

America owes that, he said in an exclusive statement to the Associated Press, to its "fighting men, whose deeds in my opinion make possible a total victory over the cruel and heartless enemy in Europe during the year of 1944."

Office of Price Administration, today announced that application for ration points may, in an emergency, be made on forms available at local ration boards.

As a rule a service man on leave is expected to apply for his temporary food rations on a form supplied by the armed services, and signed by an authorized officer.

He should get this form at the service post when he applies for his leave papers.

However, where a service man does not have this signed form when he applies to his local ration board for points, and cannot get it conveniently, the board now will permit him to use an OPA form instead.

Most service men on leave apply for their ration points at boards situated at distant points, and the rationing officer said, and it is frequently impossible for them to get the service forms after they have left the post. Today's order will save both time and trouble.

Rationing Officer Settle pointed out, however, that when the alternative form is used, application must be made by the service man in person. If his host wishes to apply for the ration points, only the service form will be accepted by the board.

"The order comes at a time when service men will be looking forward to holiday furloughs and is designed to help them and their hosts enjoy holiday festivities," said the rationing officer.

Gasoline Coupons Undergo Change

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP) — The unit value of B and C gasoline coupons issued beginning Dec. 1 will be changed to five gallons, the office of price administration (OPA) announced, but emphasized that this will not mean more gasoline for motorists.

The present value of supplementary coupons of these types is two gallons in the east and mid-west and three gallons in the far west.

The new five-gallon coupons will be issued with the designation "B-2" and "C-2" on their face. As the present "B" and "C" and "B-1" and "C-1" coupons run out, they will be replaced by the new higher-unit-value coupons. In the meantime outstanding coupons issued before Dec. 1 will continue to be valid for only two gallons in the east and midwest and three gallons in the far west.

OPA said that while the change does not mean additional gasoline for holders of supplemental ration books, many car owners will buy in five-gallon units as they customarily did before rationing, and savings in manpower for the trade and local rationing boards will result, since they will be required to handle fewer books and coupons.

"A" coupons are not affected under the new arrangement.

Tuberculosis Seal Sale To Open Next Week

The annual Howard county tuberculosis seal sale will open here on November 22nd, the committee in charge announced Saturday, with a minimum goal of $2,000 to be raised. The seals which this year show a little child looking out a window at Santa and his reindeer, are already in envelopes and ready to be mailed on opening date.

Senior girl scouts with their leader, Mrs. A. B. Partridge, and Mrs. E. H. Hatch, Mrs. Fred Keating, Mrs. Cecil Wasson, Mrs. Ira Thurman, Mrs. P. W. Malone, Mrs. J. G. Carner, and Mrs. R. T. Finer, have completed work on the envelopes.

This year the tuberculosis society has an enlarged educational program planned which will carry with it the necessity of raising more money than usual. It seeks to find all active cases of the dread disease and treat them; seek out all persons exposed to tuberculosis and build up their resistance; and educate people in the ways of healthful living.

The society in Howard county provides X-ray and medical attention for all persons seeking medical attention who are unable to pay for them and the funds from the seal sales make possible tuberculin testing and X-raying of school children throughout the county. The society also provides advice and information on the disease. During the past 30 years it has been responsible for cutting the tuberculosis death rate two thirds.

Officers include Mrs. Cecil Wasson, president, Mrs. J. C. Douglass, secretary - treasurer, and Mrs. Ira Thurman, executive secretary. These women have announced that hangers will also be sold in the schools and on the downtown streets.

The enlarged program of the society, depending upon the response to the seal sale, includes testing of first and fourth year high school students and testing of all first graders and X-raying of all indigent cases of non-indigent cases.

To meet this program, county residents this year are urged to buy double the amount of seals that they have in the past to protect the community and themselves against the disease.

Grade, Staple Of Cotton Crop Show Decline

Ginning receipts were declining sharply as the week ended, but on the basis of totals of four local gins, it was estimated that 21,325 bales had been turned out through Friday.

Ginners figured that 90 per cent of the crop was now in, but some said there was a possibility that estimates might be a bit high. At any rate, it was agreed that ginners in the county probably would push past the 24,000 mark before the season is over and it appeared likely the county's production would be on the plus side of 20,000 bales.

Grade and staple have been off during the past fortnight. Returns now are showing a lot of strict low middling 13/16ths with the average price sagging about a cent a pound to 18. Some offerings were down in the 15 cent class with some still grading up to 19. All cotton is going into the loan.

Through Friday, receipts at local gins aggregated 9,596 bales. These gins have been handling around 45 per cent of the county's volume.

Seed prices were based on $55 a ton, a figure which has held for three weeks now. Threshed maize commanded up to $1.80 cwt. at the turning row and head maize from $25 to $27 on the ton. Buyers were going into the fields for bundle stuff at five to seven cents.

Waterboy Does His Share In 46-7 Triumph

AUSTIN, Nov. 13 (AP)—The University of Texas Longhorns rolled back Texas Christian University by a score of 46-7 before 12,000 spectators here today, but the Horned Frogs gave the Southwest conference football champions a scare in the first half.

Highlight of the game was the performance of Texas' four-foot, eleven-inch tall waterboy, Billy Andrews of Dallas. He booted two perfect drop-kicks after touchdowns to add his bit to the conference victory.

The Horned Frogs, who beat great Texas teams last year and the year before, gave Longhorn supporters a scare by scoring first. At halftime the Longhorns led by a not-too-comfortable 13 to 7.

Texas added another counter in the third period, and really sacked it up in the fourth when they added 26 points to their total. Texas used substitutes liberally in the fourth period.

Easily outstanding players on the losing eleven were James Lucas and Capt. Clyde Flowers. It was Lucas' passes which brought their only score, a short one to H. E. Evans paying off after the Frogs had driven to the five yard line. Flowers kicked TCU's extra point.

J. R. Calahan was the workhorse of the Longhorns, scoring two touchdowns and one point after, and accounting for much of the yardage gained on the ground. He also threw a pass to Ralph Park for Texas' first touchdown and another to Clyde Harris for the second.

City Tourney In Semi-Finals

Two hot matches in the championship flight highlight the semi-final round of the Country Club city golf tournament today.

Shirley Robbins is to match strokes with W. S. Crook and J. R. Farmer is to square off against Lieut. Cunningham.

One match is up for championship consolation, and it is between Marvin K. Houser and C. L. Rowe with the winner to tangle with Ira Thurman for the prize.

In the first flight, Dave Duncan is matched with Lieut. Armstrong. D. A. Watkins is paired with Vernon Strahan in the consolation tilt for this flight.

Capt. Chester Draper meets Travis Reed in the only title chase in the second flight, while two consolation matches are slated. These are between Roy Snyder and Grady Downing and between Dr. R. B. G. Cowper and Arch Carson.

Unless there are some mighty upsets on Thanksgiving Day, and there's no method for calculating any, the story on the 3-AA football championship will be told this Friday.

The week brings together the two unbeaten, untied outfits of the loop, San Angelo's potent Bobcats, and Sweetwater's free-scoring Mustangs. The game, to be played at San Angelo, is hoped to be a victory for the state-title-anticipating Bobcats, but Sweetwater isn't going to hand the result over on a silver platter.

Other games of the week see Big Spring traveling to Abilene, for the Steers to fight it out with the Eagles for a notch above the bottom rung of the ladder, which place already is safely in the hands of Lamesa; and Midland and Lamesa mixing it in a tilt that probably means more grief for the Golden Tornado.

Odessa remains idle, to await a final tilt with Midland on Turkey Day.

Norton Men In Line To Scrap For The Title

HOUSTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—Texas A and M's young Aggies, clearing the last hurdle before their Southwest conference championship battle with the University of Texas on Thanksgiving Day, whipped Rice Institute 20 to 0 today before 15,000 fans.

The Aggies hit pay dirt in the first six minutes, starting from their own 40 and scoring in six plays. Marion Flanagan romped around the Owl left end to Rice's 32 and then skirted right end to the seven.

James Hallmark, A and M's standout player of the day, split right tackle to the two and then scored, but A and M was offside. Hallmark sprinted around left end to the one and on the next play Stanley (Bing) Turner, the Aggies' great kicker, scored and converted the extra point.

The Aggies scored again in the third and fourth quarters, a weak Rice kick gave A and M the ball on the Owl 42. Hallmark breezed to the 37, Turner cracked center for a first on the 27 and Hallmark and Flanagan ground to the two. Hallmark then skirted end to score standing up and Turner converted.

A pass interception set the stage for A and M's final score, Hallmark snatching Bucky Sheffield's pass on the Aggies 30 and sprinting to Rice's 46.

Hallmark blasted center to the 35 and Flanagan on three tries nudged to the two. Flanagan split center for the marker and Turner's try from placement was low.

Three times the Owls threatened to score, moving to the 24 and to the 18 in the second quarter. An attempted pass play and a fumble forfeited their scoring chances.

Clicking beautifully in the waning minutes, Rice's passing attack moved to the Aggie 24 but Hallmark snatched one of Sheffield's passes to terminate the threat.

Texas League Due To Operate

DALLAS, Nov. 13 (AP)—The Texas League will operate next season if there are sufficient players who can give a caliber of baseball commensurate with that of former years.

By unanimous vote, the league directors at their annual meeting today, pledged a desire to resume next year and said the manpower shortage was the only problem.

President J. Alvin Gardner, who has strongly recommended that the circuit start up again after remaining out of action this year, said after the meeting: "We are going to have baseball next season. I am confident of it."

The upshot of the meeting was that each club will check on material and determine if there will be sufficient players to start in April. Then they will report at a meeting to be called by Gardner.

The club directors plan to attend the national baseball convention at New York Dec. 1 and after that will be able to give a definite answer.

Duke Wins Handily

DURHAM, N. C., Nov. 13 (AP)—Duke University's powerful Blue Devils romped over the University of Virginia today 49-0 before 6,000 spectators. The Dukes scored in every period and were threatened only twice.

Buckeyes Score 'After The Game Is Over,' Win 29-26

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 13 (AP)—Ohio State defeated Illinois 29 to 26 today before 35,331 fans—and despite a day filled with long runs, steady marches and scintillating performances, all the drama was packed in the last two seconds when the Bucks captured the verdict long after everyone thought the game was over.

With the score deadlocked at 26-26, Ohio had blasted its way from its own 41 to the Illinois 14, only to lose the ball on a fumble. Two plays later the Bucks regained the ball the same way on the 21. Two seconds remained to play, and Ohio tried a pass which sailed into the end zone as the final shot sounded.

The teams raced for the dressing rooms, and the fans filed from the stadium. Meantime, P. C. Goebel of Michigan the headlinesman, was gesticulating wildly that Illinois had been offside. The teams were ordered back for one more play—but the fans continued to leave, not knowing what was going on.

Twelve minutes after the final shot, the teams lined up and Coach Paul E. Brown sent John Stungis, 17-year-old substitute quarterback, into the fray. Stungis, with substitute fullback Bob McQuade holding the ball, calmly booted a field goal from about 25 yards out—and the three points broke Illinois' heart and Ohio's Big Ten losing streak at the same time.

Two Passes Put Arkansas In Front, 14-12

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 13 (AP)—Arkansas University's Razorbacks, erstwhile Southwest conference passing magicians, partly revived their wizardry of old today to beat Southern Methodist, 14 to 12, and win their first conference game of the year before 10,000 spectators in Alamo stadium.

The Arkansas dynamite was Leon Pense, a guard who drops into the backfield for passing duties while on the offensive.

Twice his passes found End Alton Baldwin behind the Pony goal line waiting for the ball.

The Methodists mixed their game a bit more, scoring once from a pass and once from a running play. Lloyd Parker heaved one to End Croft for a pay-off and Bobby Stewart—whose running was deadly most of the afternoon—dashed across from the Arkansas six for another Pony tally.

Early in the game Pense heaved a long one, sending Baldwin behind the SMU goal to gather the ball in his arms for the first marker. Pense converted.

It was not long before the Porkers were back on the SMU 10 for a first down. Pense again fired one to Baldwin, again behind the Pony goal, and he made his kick good for the second time.

SMU scored for the first time when Walling rounded left end to reach the Porker 15 for a first down. The running game was short lived, however, and Parker spiraled one to Croft who had sped across the Arkansas goal line. Croft failed to convert.

SMU brought its running game into play in the final period, moving from its own 35 on a series of line slices and wide swings with just enough passing to lend deception to the Razorback six from where Stewart ran across.

Navy Liquidates Columbia, 61-0

NEW YORK, Nov. 13 (AP)—Through the courtesy of a friendly mathematics professor we are able to report that Navy crushed Columbia, 61 to 0, today in what was advertised as a football game.

From the kickoff until the score was 54 to 0 the Midshipmen kept pounding through the vulnerable line. They tried not to score in the waning moments but just as the clock marked the end of the fray Dick Gay snagged a punt and ambled 55 yards for another touchdown.

The feeble Lions ended the day with a minus yardage of 81 although the Navy first team never returned to the fray after building up a four touchdown lead early in the second period. The Midshipmen, on the other hand, pounded out 559 yards and passed three times.

Teaming with Dobbs in the Randolph offense was Tex Auids, former Corpus Christi Junior College athlete, who took three of the extra points.

E. L. Keeton, former Southern Methodist University player, tallied two of the Randolph touchdowns, with Walter Parker, Leon Leinweber and Dan Wright making one each. Walter West booted four extra points from placement and Dobbs kicked one.

Randolph scored a touchdown in the first quarter, three in the second, one in the third and three in the fourth.

A hideout play set Ward Island in position for its first counter in the second period, made by Dick Geser on a 16-yard reverse. In the third period, Ray Adams, on another reverse, dashed 83 yards for the second Marine tally. O. P. Seeley added both extra points from placement.

Steers, Missing Star End, To Be In Serious Mood

The Big Spring high school football team, a shaken bunch of youngsters used to taking any sort of tough break except the one they got, will return to its work Monday with determination instead of the usual enthusiasm.

There won't be any fun attached to the practice, first of a series for the game against the Abilene Eagles in Abilene at 2:30 p. m. Friday, for one of the key members of the squad is gone. Gene Smith, who played the bulk of every game at end this season, was killed in a high-way accident Thursday evening after he had played one of the greatest games of his career against the San Angelo Bobcats.

It was Gene, teaming with Pete Cook on the other end, who continually turned Milton Rathbone, the San Angelo backfield ace, into the tackles all day long and prevented him from making a touchdown. It was Gene, too, who grabbed a pass that set up a touchdown in the final seconds of the game, and then caught another for the score.

He had spotted his mother in the stand before the touchdown play and signaled to her. She and Mr. Smith didn't have to be told that it was Gene who clutched the next pass for a touchdown—the first of his high school career.

No more touchdowns will be credited to his name in the record books, but it is not proper to say that it is the last one for him.

Talking with John Dibrell, coach of the football team and who regarded his clean-cut, stalwart right end as "top," Mrs. Smith expressed the hope that "the boys will carry on for Gene." "No. 30 will not be out there Monday, and young Pete Huggins will be carrying a mighty big load in stepping into the vacant spot. Joking and horse-play will be out, but there won't be any let up. Although they have taken plenty of rough treatment all season, the Steers have never quit for even a moment. They've had the toughest break of all now—and they still aren't quitting."

Nelson Increases Lead Over M'Spaden

DALLAS, Nov. 13 (AP)—Byron Nelson shot a four-under-par 67 today to increase his lead over Harold (Jug) McSpaden to nine strokes in their cross-country golf tour for war relief and a $5,000 purse.

The two crack professionals played the first 18 of 36 holes over Lakewood country club course.

Nelson had 36 on the outgoing nine but came in with 32 while McSpaden showed 35-40-75.

When they teed off here Nelson held a one stroke lead from 36 holes they had played at Pinehurst and Greensboro, N. C., courses.

Some 400 persons followed the match today, all proceeds going to the Dallas war chest. The final 18 holes will be played tomorrow.

The American mushroom crop, non-existent at the turn of the century, totaled 48,000,000 pounds last year.

Some Curiosities In The Day's Play, But Not In Irish Victory

By ORLO ROBERTSON

NEW YORK, Nov. 13 (AP)—This was a day of unusuals on the nation's gridirons, but there was nothing out of the ordinary at Evanston, Ill., and Iowa City where Notre Dame and Iowa Pre-Flight brought their unbeaten football trails a little closer together in preparation for their clash at South Bend next Saturday.

While Ohio State was whipping Illinois 12 minutes after the game apparently had ended and North Carolina and Army were capitalizing on the seldom-seen safety to down Pennsylvania and Sampson

Oil Interests Eye Hockley

By JOHN E. BREWER

SAN ANGELO, Nov. 13—Virtual assurance of the opening of northeastern Hockley county oil pool by Woodley-Petroleum Co. No. 1 L. A. Harless, which swabbed three barrels of oil hourly after the first acidizing, bottomed at 5,952 feet, highlighted West Texas oil developments this week.

C. U. Bay No. 1 Bitler & Lowe, 1 3/4 mile northeast outpost to the Fullerton field in northwestern Andrews county, flowed oil after acidizing both lower and upper pays and was to retreat, bottomed at 7,199 feet.

The high rate of exploration was maintained by the staking of one wildcat each in Yoakum, Culbertson, Pecos and Sutton counties and by the spudding of a wildcat in Cochran county.

Honolulu No. 1 E. B. Homann, north central Gaines county wildcat C SE 96-G-WTRR, six miles northeast of Seminole, logged no increase in its oil showing in deepening from 5,408 feet (corrected from 5,412 by steel line measurement) to 5,423 feet. It recovered about 1 1/2 barrels of fluid hourly, 10 to 20 per cent oil.

Woodley No. 1 Harless, the Hockley county strike, swabbed three barrels of oil hourly after acidizing with 2,000 gallons and was scheduled to be retreated later in the week with 6,000 to 8,000 gallons. The hole had been plugged back three feet to 5,952 after recovering a quart of water every two hours.

The wildcat is 660 feet out of the northeast corner of section 21-A-R. M. Thompson, five miles south of Anton and 22 miles east and slightly north of the Slaughter field, West Texas' largest.

Stanolind farmed out part of its block to R. R. Rhodes and Bruce McKague, who turned part of the acreage to Woodley for drilling.

J. C. Hawkins of Tyler applied for permits to drill 22 tests on the line of Hockley and Cochran counties virtually in proven area on the north side of the Slaughter field, in the center of labors in league 47, Edwards county school land survey, on Matador Land & Cattle Co. leases.

Seaboard and Texas Pacific spudded No. 1 Lloyd Evans, Cochran county wildcat C SE 15-X-psi, four miles southwest of Bledsoe and near the New Mexico line.

E. N. Cain and L. L. Horne of Fort Worth staked No. 1 E. A. Graham, slated 5,500-foot wildcat in Yoakum county, C SE SE 327-D-John H. Gibson, four miles north of Tokio, six miles north of the Ownby pool and seven miles west of the Terry county line.

C. U. Bay No. 1 Bitler & Lowe, northeast extension to the Fullerton field in Andrews county, C NW SW 12-A32-psi, flowed 15 barrels of oil hourly after deepening from 6,984 to 7,199 feet.

OPA SUES DISTILLERY

PEORIA, Ill., Nov. 13 (AP)—The office of price administration today filed in federal district court a civil suit against the American Distilling company, Pekin, Ill., asking treble damages of $7,509,338 for whisky sales allegedly made in excess of OPA ceilings.

Naval Training Station, respectively, Notre Dame and the Iowa Seahawks each posted their eighth straight triumph.

The Irish, with Creighton Miller tipping up the turf behind a great line, over-powered Northwestern in the last half for a 25-6 decision—the lowest score tallied by Frank Leahy's boys who are in quest of the first unbeaten season at Notre Dame since the days of Knute Rockne. The Seahawks downed the soldiers from Camp Grant, 28-13.

But the Ohio State-Illinois affair took the cake. All-square at 26-26 with seconds to play, the Buckeyes tossed an incomplete pass into the end zone as the final gun sounded. The players rushed to their dressing rooms and the crowd filed out of the stadium.

Meantime, Head Linesman P. C. Goebel was gesticulating wildly that Illinois was offside. The players finally returned to the field for one play—enough to permit John Stungis to kick a 25-yard field goal and give Ohio State a 29-26 victory.

The safety that helped give North Carolina a surprise 9-6 triumph over Penn came in the second period. The Tarheels protected that slim margin through the third chapter, yielded a touchdown in the fourth, then struck back for one of their own for the biggest upset of the day.

The Army used its safety in the fourth to take a 9-7 lead after the Navy boys had held a 7-0 margin through the first half. True, the latter later tallied a touchdown but it was the two-pointer that broke the heart of Dr. Mal Stevens' team.

Both head coaches were absent as Navy rolled up the biggest score of the day with a 61-0 rout of Columbia. Capt. John Wheelchell of Navy was at West Point scouting the Cadets and Lou Little of Columbia remained at home convalescing from a recent illness.

The remainder of the games went pretty much as expected. Michigan took another stride toward a title for the Western conference title by whipping outclassed Wisconsin, 27-0. Oklahoma handed Missouri its first home defeat in 22 starts and just about assured the Sooners the Big Six crown with a 20-13 decision.

Duke, Georgia and Georgia Tech led the scoring parade in the southland as the Blue Devils trounced Virginia, 49-0, the Crackers turned back V. M. I., 46-7, and Tech's Engineers buried Tulane under a 33-0 count.

Except for Arkansas' mild 14-12 upset of Southern Methodist, the Southwest conference picture remained unchanged. Texas and the Texas Aggies warmed up for their Thanksgiving Day title clash by defeating Texas Christian 46-7 and Rice 20-0, respectively.

Southern California suffered its second straight defeat at the hands of a service team, losing to March Field 35 to 0 as California made its first victory over U. C. L. A. stick by winning 13-6.

Brown and the United States Coast Guard put on a rip-snorter before the Bruins emerged victorious, 34-31, with two touchdowns in the last three minutes. Dartmouth whipped Cornell, 20-0, in the ranking Ivy League game while Yale rolled over helpless Princeton 27-6. Penn State nosed out Temple 13-0, Colgate turned back R. P. I., 27-6 and Tufts defeated Harvard, 13-7. Rutgers defeated Lehigh for the second time, 20-0.

Mid-west games which followed pattern were Minnesota 33, Iowa 14; Iowa State 20, Drake 0, and Great Lakes 21, Indiana 7, in the south the scores went this way: Bainbridge Naval Station 46, Maryland 0; Jacksonville Naval, 47-0; Daniel Field 0; North Carolina 14; Georgia Pre-Flight 24, Clemson 6; North Carolina State 20; Davidson 0 and Camp Davis 32, Presbyterian 0.

Colorado College had no trouble beating Utah, 64-0, but Fort Riley was extended in beating Fort Warren 14-7.

Tulane Blanked By Georgia Tech

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 13 (AP)—Eddie Prokop's fancy forward passing exhibition netted four touchdowns and paced the Georgia Tech Yellow Jackets to a 33 to 0 win over a battling Tulane Green Wave before an estimated 30,000 fans here today.

With the exception of one touchdown pass to Jimmy Dorough, janky Tech end, Tulane completely smothered Prokop's aerial magic in the first half. Prokop completed only two of 10 passes attempted in the first two quarters and had two of them intercepted.

He hit his target 11 successive times in the second half, however, for what is believed to be a record in the Tulane stadium.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Nov. 13 (AP)—Golfer Ben Hogan became Second Lieutenant Ben Hogan of the Army Air Forces today. He was graduated from the AAF officer candidate school.

"I'm afraid my golf is over for the duration," said the 30-year-old Texan, "but I'm planning to take up where I left off when the war is won."

Hogan is classified as a physical training officer but he doesn't know what or where his new assignment will be.

Penn Upset, 9-6, By North Carolina

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 13 (AP)—A hard-driving, rugged-tackling North Carolina football team refused to believe the odds against it today and defeated a highly-favored Penn eleven, 9 to 6, in a game in which both teams alternately roared up and down the field in stirring offenses that, except on two occasions, sputtered and wheezed to a stop before reaching counting territory.

Thirty thousand astonished fans saw the Tarheels take a 2 to 0 lead in the final minute of the second period when a Penn pass was grounded in the Quaker's end zone; fall behind as Joe Kane sprinted 80 yards from scrimmage in the fourth period, and then go permanently in front a little later when Hosea Rodgers cut right through the middle of the Penn line for 34 yards and a touchdown.

Forsan Drubs Courtney To Clinch A Tie

FORSAN, Nov. 13 — Courtney's powerhouse was stopped cold here Friday afternoon while the Forsan Buffaloes turned on an offensive blitz on their own hook and clinched a tie in district No. 6 six-man football league.

Forsan won by as wide a margin as the 42-7 score would indicate.

Midway in the first quarter, Peacock recovered Snodgrass' fumble on the Courtney 30-yard line. Harley Grant rushed it to the nine in two tries and J. B. McDonald carried to the five from where Grant rammed it over.

On the very next play Snodgrass attempted to pass and Porter intercepted and ran it back 45 yards for a score. Another interception by McDonald set up a score from the 28-yard line.

Grant found Peacock for 15 and then ran 12 yards to the one. McDonald took it over.

McDonald reversed his field nicely after breaking over left tackle and raced 30 yards to the goal. Moments later another interception set up a score with Grant circling end from the 16 for the counter. Quickly, McDonald intercepted another pass and ran it back 50 yards for a score, shaking three men enroute.

Forsan's last score came in the fourth quarter when Grant circled right end from the six.

Courtney's only counter came in the last minute and a half. Porter intercepted Graham's pass but fumbled as he was tackled and Courtney recovered on the 21 yard line. Stroud Courtney's only offensive threat all afternoon, wove and pushed his way for 15 and Graham, Courtney's big fullback who had been ailing all week, bulldozed it over from the six. Stroud's kick was blocked but he scooped it up and ran it over. None of Porter's tries for extra points for Forsan was good.

Forsan, who must beat Water Valley next week to win the crown, gained 212 yards rushing to 40 for Courtney. Forsan completed three of eight passes for 56 yards while Courtney had six of 16 passes intercepted and none complete. First downs favored Forsan eight to one.

Seahawks Prep For Notre Dame By Winning 28-13

IOWA CITY, Ia., Nov. 13 (AP)—The Iowa Seahawks, preparing for their shot at mighty Notre Dame, got a brisk tune-up today as they collected their eighth straight victory with a 28 to 13 decision over a battling Camp Grant football team.

The Navy lads, pushed into a 21 to 0 tie half-time, with Bill Burghardt's accurate tosses causing plenty of trouble.

Camp Grant pulled up to a 21 to 13 score midway in the fourth period to create a tinge of worry in the Seahawk camp, but the undefeated pre-flight school team shook off the threat by posting its fourth touchdown on two plays from its own 47-yard line.

March Field Blasts Southern Cal, 35-0

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 13 (AP)—March Field's Fourth Air Force blasted Southern California's defenses for a 35-0 victory today.

It was the Trojans' second straight defeat, the San Diego Naval Training Station beating them last week, 10 to 7.

The Tilers scored four touchdowns in the second period, three of them on long passes from Jack Jacobs, formerly of the Cleveland Rams, to Sylvester Robinson, Owen Thuerk and Jumping Joe Williams.

Gophers Take First Conference Victory

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 13 (AP)—Minnesota won its first Big Ten game of the year today, trouncing Iowa 33 to 14. Red Williams scored four of the Gopher touchdowns and threw a pass for the other one. Roger Stephens scored both of the Hawkeyes' counters.

Sooners Win Over Missouri, 20 To 13

COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 13 (AP)—An underdog Oklahoma team handed Missouri its first home defeat in 22 starts today, winning 20 to 13 to move within one game of the Big Six conference championship before 7500 disappointed homecoming fans.

UNIDENTIFIED PLAN

Four out of every seven homes in the U. S. are heated with coal.

Cadets Win By 16-7 Margin

WEST POINT, N. Y., Nov. 13 (AP)—A seldom-seen safety gave Army, playing without its star halfbacks Glenn Davis and Doug Kenna, a 16 to 7 victory over a stubborn Sampson Naval Training eleven today.

A small crowd of 5,000 that sat through rain and snow saw the Cadets tie the score at 7-7 in the third period on an eight-yard forward pass, Carl Anderson to Tom Lombardo, and then get the winning points on the safety early in the last quarter.

The safety came after George Maxon kicked out on the Sampson six-yard line and was hotly disrupted by the Blue Jackets. Bill Macejko, late of Cornell, faded back into the end zone to pass. He was rushed and got off a short wobbly pass that fell incomplete back of the goal line. Over vigorous objections, the officials ruled it was an automatic safety putting Army ahead, 9-7.

Sampson took to the air after that in a desperate attempt to win. Bob Woods intercepted one of these heaves and raced 27 yards for a touchdown to assure an Army triumph.

BREMEN BOMBED

LONDON, Nov. 13 (AP)—American heavy bombers pounded the northwest German port of Bremen in daylight today, a U. S. communique said.

Joe Louis Will Box For Camp Howze Men

GAINESVILLE, Nov. 13 (AP)—Joe Louis, world's heavyweight boxing champion will be at Camp Howze here Nov. 23 to appear in an exhibition as part of his national boxing tour.

Joe will don the gloves against one of his boxers after giving a short talk on his ring career and work after entering the army at Fort Riley, Kas.

Other members of the troupe are George S. Nicholson, who will box with Louis; Walker Smith (known as Ray Robinson), who is world's welterweight champion, and George J. Wilson (Jackie Wilson), former welterweight champion. Robinson and Wilson will box an exhibition.

BLUE JACKETS WIN

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Nov. 13 (AP)—Great Lakes powerful Blue Jackets whipped Indiana's football Hoosiers today, 21 to 7, before 7,500 fans. Bo McMillin's boys averted a shutout by scoring in the last 20 seconds.

Annual Achievement Day Demonstration Held In R-Bar And Highway Communities

Canned Foods On Display At Homes

Women of the Hiway and R-Bar communities held their annual achievement day demonstration this week in connection with activities of the Howard County Home Demonstration Club.

The Hiway club which has the smallest membership in the county, carried out three full demonstrations, and first stop of the tour was at the J. C. Spalding residence. Mrs. Spalding as victory clothes demonstrator, completely remodeled a room into a clothes closet, complete with dressing table and mirror. This was without any expense.

The group went to the home of Mrs. Davis Smith, home food supply demonstrator, who has made a concrete cellar and has canned 379 containers of food for her family, and 131 containers for her mother. She has sold $50 in butter fat and $75 in eggs the past year. Mrs. Smith also raised 125 layers; has killed four hogs; and has raised peanuts for both stock feed and for family consumption.

Third stop was at the Elmo Birkhead home. Mrs. Birkhead was demonstrator for repair of the house and during the year she has refinished the wood work in the kitchen; improved her kitchen cabinet top and has sheet rocked and repapered her bedroom. Outside construction included the building of a cement cellar to store canned foods.

Refreshments were served from a table centered with a miniature wagon made of a pumpkin with wheels of grapefruit. Guests attending the meeting were Mrs. W. H. Ward, Mrs. Paul Adams, Mrs. S. L. Patterson, Mrs. Keith Birkhead, Mrs. J. W. Phillips, Mrs. G. E. Overton.

Members present were Mrs. J. W. Fryer, Mrs. Elmo Birkhead, Mrs. David Smith, Mrs. J. W. Smith, Mrs. J. E. Montie, Mrs. J. E. Brown, Mrs. J. C. Spalding, Mrs. Shirley Fryer and Rhea Merle Boyles.

R-Bar Demonstration

The R-Bar club met with Mrs. Earl Hull, food supply demonstrator this past week, and on display were 18 different varieties of canned fruits and vegetables with 250 containers of food, canned at a cost of $16.80.

Second stop of the tour was at Mrs. W. F. Heckler's home. Mrs. Heckler serves as victory repair of the house demonstrator. During the past year she has repainted the outside of her house and the inside woodwork. She has added base boards and a cabinet, water to the kitchen which is wired for electric lighting from the wind charger.

Refreshments were served to the group and visitors present were Mrs. W. H. Ward, Mrs. S. L. Patterson, Mrs. Bill Eggleston, Mrs. W. A. Langley, Mrs. J. W. Wooten, Mrs. Robert Hill, Rhea Merle Boyles and Margie Fickling. Members attending were Mrs. Heckler, Mrs. Earl Hull, Mrs. R. E. Martin, Mrs. Lela Birkhead, Mrs. H. C. Read.

Council Officers Elected

The last meeting of the year for the Howard County Home Demonstration Council was held at the HD office Saturday afternoon, and highlight of the session was the election of officers for 1944.

Mrs. Edward Simpson of Vealmoor was elected chairman; Mrs. W. H. Ward of Fairview, vice chairman; Mrs. M. M. Fairchild of Overton, secretary, and Mrs. W. F. Heckler of R-Bar, treasurer.

Reports were given by council delegates of each club, and roll call was answered with officers reports.

During the meeting it was announced that the reporter's association would sponsor a radio program over KBST Monday afternoon at 1:15 o'clock, and the group voted to meet Monday, November 22 at the home demonstration office at 10 a. m. to make curtains for the office.

The council will entertain with a Christmas party in the basement of the First Methodist church December 11th at 2:30 o'clock.

Cosden Chatter

By BEATRICE STASEY

R. L. Tollett and Marvin Miller returned Saturday from Chicago, Ill., where they attended the American Petroleum Institute and the Individually Branded Petroleum Association of America.

Nelson Phillips of Dallas, a director of the company, was in the office Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. A. V. Karcher has returned from Enid, Okla. where she was called to be with her brother who is seriously ill.

Matrimony is still taking its toll of the single girls at Cosden. Tommie McCrary is wearing a new ring on THAT finger. The wedding date seems to depend on the housing situation.

Altha Trupp was wearing a big smile Tuesday—the reason was a cable from her husband, S/Sgt. Donald Trupp, saying he had arrived safely overseas.

Seen in the hall Thursday afternoon—Carl Smith with a box of cigars, a box of candy and a broad smile. Yes, it's a seven pound, four ounce son who has been named Lawrence Chapman.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morgan are the parents of a daughter born Nov. 10th, who has been named Frankie. I hear that Frank is offering to trade his golf clubs for a baby buggy.

"Maggie" Smith, Averil McClain, Bertha Price, and Eunice Evans were hostesses to a card party at the Settles Hotel Thursday night. Every one reported a big time.

We are glad to see Alice Phillips back at her desk after a week's illness.

Glynn Jordan was out of the office Friday due to illness.

Speedy Nugent made a business trip to Graham this week.

Sgt. and Mrs. W. E. Ramsey left Friday to visit relatives in Chillicothe. Jean Whittington is pinch-hitting for Margie while she is away.

The Bob Satterwhite family have moved into their new home to 810 E. 17th.

Ensign Cecil Read, looking very handsome in his Navy uniform, was a visitor in the office Wednesday. He has been stationed at Tucson, Ariz. Cecil is a former Cosden employe.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Edmonds have as week-end guests his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Edmonds, Gayle Ann Edmonds, and Janell Smith of Ft. Worth.

A general refinery course is to start Monday evening at the high school building, and Tuesday night will begin an industrial course, which will include blue print reading. A very successful course in foremanship was concluded Friday night.

We were all sorry to hear of the death of our porter, Johnnie White, Sat. Johnnie has been a faithful employe of Cosden since April 1, 1934.

YOUNG PEOPLE TO PRESENT PROGRAM

"Facing Today With the Living Christ" is the theme of a program to be presented this evening at 8 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church by the young people.

Jim Owens of Coahoma, president of the Young People's League for the El Paso Presbytery and Lois May Neill, president of the First Presbyterian League will take part in the program, and the Junior Choir will sing.

Sea-Shell Beret: The classic beret comes back in a new version dressy enough for lunch at the Ritz. Bois de rose slipper satin, designed by Suzanne et Roger.

Class To Donate To McMurry Fund

The Young Couples' Class of the First Methodist church held a business meeting in Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stephens' home Friday evening, and voted to donate a $25 war bond to the McMurry College fund.

Dean Bennett, class president, presided over the meeting, and plans were made for the annual Christmas party which the class sponsors for member's children.

Refreshments were served to Mr. and Mrs. Dean Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Springer, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Staggs, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Gound, Mrs. Jack Haines, Mrs. A. H. Ryle, Mrs. Clyde Thomas, Sr., and the host and hostess.

Mrs. J. C. Harmon and children, Kenneth and Ghenna, have moved here from Phoenix, Ariz., to join Mr. Harmon.

Mrs. Monty Rowe Is Honored With Party

Employees of Burr's Store entertained with a surprise birthday party honoring Mrs. Monty Rowe at her home recently.

Gifts were presented to the honoree and refreshments were served to Mrs. O. B. Halverson, Mrs. A. F. Gilliland, Mrs. A. C. Smoot, Mrs. Grover Stanfield, Lea Olive, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Hutchins, Mrs. Hollis Puckett, Lola Neill, Sgt. and Mrs. J. R. Pryor, Sgt. Monty Rowe, Bobby Sanders, Mrs. Andy Tucker and Mrs. Roy Tidwell.

Parents Of Daughter

Lieut. and Mrs. Einar E. Eknes are the parents of a daughter born at 1:24 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in the post hospital at the Big Spring Bombardier School.

The child has been named Katherine Moree and weighed six pounds and ten ounces at birth.

Merchants Aren't Kidding This Year; Better Do Your Christmas Shopping Early

It seems around the middle of July every year merchants start their annual chant, "Do Your Christmas shopping early" and by Christmas the average person is pretty tired of the advice, but this year the phrase has a significant meaning for if you plan to give, you must buy now while there are still gifts!

Last year the pinch of production for civilian consumption was John Public since stocks were purchased in advance, but now when stores all over the country are 'running on the rim' substituting their substitutes in merchandise, the advice of the merchants is to shop early—only now they're saying it with tears in their eyes for there is more money in circulation and less things to buy.

Since alcohol used in making perfumes and colognes is now used in the production of munitions, shipments are few and far between, and cosmetic sets (with perfume, cologne, soap and talc) are rare. Replacing these articles which were the backbone of women's gift suggestions, is a new creme cologne which will be sold after the war, since the discovery has proved highly satisfactory with the fairer sex. Lace trimmel lingerie is scarce and replacing it is the tailored varieties. Local merchants feel that since there is a dearth of gift selections this year shoppers will be giving practical wearing apparel such as sports wear, jackets, sweaters, gloves, etc.

There are more gifts for the home than for personal use available since stores still have pillow slips, soft shaggy rugs, lamps, cooking tables, china and many others.

In order that your package will reach its destination by Christmas, the post office has suggested that packages be mailed by December 10 at least. A gift arriving several days early is better than a gift the day after Christmas. Last year packages mailed here several days before Christmas were held over in another town for 30 days awaiting shipment which was delayed because of war materials which were going through.

Remember that before it is a selling point, but now it is a sage warning to buyers to do their Christmas shopping early!

Red Cross Unit At AAFBS Is Opened For Army Wives

Nursery School For Children Is Discussed

A Red Cross surgical dressing room was opened in WAC barracks 481 at the Big Spring Bombardier School Tuesday morning, and already the unit is proving successful.

The present building in which the volunteer service room is located is well equipped with supply rooms, and plenty of room for folding the dressings which are turned over to the Howard-Glasscock Red Cross chapter for shipment.

Workers are planning to open a nursery school at the post for pre-school children, in order that mothers will be able to work at the room. It is to be equipped with small benches and supplied with cut-outs, scratch pads, pencils and crayons. Story telling and outdoor games are to be included on the program of entertainment for the children. Mrs. Robert W. Warren will be in charge of the nursery, assisted by Mrs. Ethel Katkow and Mrs. Allen Lieberman.

Mrs. Horace L. Borden, vice president of the AAFBS Woman's Club, is chairman of the Red Cross unit and captains, who instruct beginners and inspect the finished bandages include Mrs. Paul Dewell, Mrs. Jack P. Rayzor, Mrs. Susan Frazier, Mrs. Carrie Belle Wright, Mrs. Margaret Gezell, Mrs. Nan Campbell, Mrs. Charlotte Dunkerly, Mrs. Marion McDermott, Mrs. Eleanor Bishop, Mrs. Louise Wright and Mrs. Ruth Luby.

The surgical dressing room will be open Tuesday through Thursday of each week from 9 to 12 a. m. and from 1:30 to 5 p. m. Workers are placed on the honor roll after they have worked 25 hours. After completing 100 hours duty rolling bandages, a special honor strip is given.

The infant has been named Douglas Eugene.

Miss Laneous Notes

MARY WHALEY

He's such an ordinary guy that his parents whose origins are doubtful named him Joe. He's not very tall and he doesn't have broad shoulders, he's just broad all over.

But he's got a little side step when he walks that makes him look quite debonaire, so maybe that's his attraction. However, when you speak to him, he only blinks sleepy eyes in your direction.

And that's another thing. He's the laziest fellow in town. He likes to sit in the sun, half sitting down and half lying down, in a most ungraceful pose. He doesn't seem to care what people might think.

He comes to work quite early in the morning, although sometimes his appearance leads you to think he might just be getting in. He stays around until everybody is present and accounted for and then he does a quiet fade out.

About the time the roar of the pre- can be heard, he slides in and tries to look responsible for having put out that daily sheet. He sits on the steps looking all worn out and when the newboys start out with the papers to deliver, he snorts with impatience if they don't rush around.

He gets in the way, he runs off with somebody's paper about half the time, and he's the despair of all his friends who work from eight to five. But when he wags his tail, he's the best Joe in the work and nobody would trade him.

FIRST NIGHTER: Distinguished simplicity is the keynote of this short black crepe dinner dress. The Chinese pink yoke is embroidered in jet beads, the slim skirt gathers neatly in front with a tie belt. This is a New York design.

Class To Have Dinner At Church Thursday
The Faithful Worker's Sunday school class of the East Fourth Baptist church met in the A. L. Cooper home Friday afternoon to quilt for the Red Cross.

The group voted to entertain with a Thanksgiving dinner at the church next Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock, and all members, associate members and their husbands are invited to attend.

Those attending the meeting were Mrs. W. L. Sandridge, Mrs. O. H. Wilkerson, Mrs. R. Y. Cloud, Mrs. Walter Davis, Mrs. Allen Wiggins, Mrs. A. L. Cooper, and guests Mrs. T. R. Higginbotham of Midland, Mrs. Eugene Clark and Mrs. Patterson.

Mrs. Petefish Presented Gift At Lodge Meeting
Members of the Woodmen circle presented Mrs. Anna Petefish, retiring financial and recording secretary, with a gift when the group met at the WOW hall Friday evening.

Mrs. Altha Porter presided over the meeting, and Mrs. Pearl Vick announced that club dues would be paid as they were before.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Vera Reaves and Mrs. Maude Lowe, and those attending were Mrs. Mattie Wren, Mrs. Altha Porter, Mrs. Ethel Clifton, Mrs. Pearl Vick, Mrs. Anna Petefish and Patsy Ann Reaves.

Kerleys Honored With Housewarming
Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Kerley, Sr., and daughter, Willie Edna, were honored with a surprise housewarming and shower at their new home at 1203 E. 16th recently by a group of friends.

Gifts were on display and a crystal bowl of pink asters flanked by tapers in double candleholders centered the refreshment table. Pastel shades of pink, green and yellow were carried out in party decorations and refreshments.

The guest list included Mrs. George Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Wolfe, Mr. Albert Darby, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Conley, Mrs. W. C. Lane, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Allen, Mrs. C. S. Kyle, Mrs. Ida Collins, Mrs. William Goin, Mr. and Mrs. Granville Garvey, the Rev. and Mrs. J. D. Harvey, Mrs. W. V. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Maddux, Patsy Maddux, Mrs. H. D. Mansur, Sr., Mrs. Jack Reed, Mrs. J. C. Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Schley Riley, Mrs. C. H. Wasson, Mrs. Pat Roberts, Mrs. Sara Gibbs, Mrs. Floyd Cowan, Mrs. Harley Long, Mrs. C. W. Killingsworth, Mrs. N. W. Womack, Mrs. C. A. Flint, Mrs. R. L. Winn, Mrs. Tom Slaughter and Jeanne.

Among those sending gifts were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Collins, Dr. and Mrs. T. M. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Collins.

Other Milk Subsidy Applications OK'd

Thirteen more applications for milk and butterfat subsidies were approved Saturday by county committee at the AAA office and payments amounting to $173.68 were made to producers. The new application for payment on October milk and butterfat sales were mostly from smaller producers who had not applied last week. This brings the number to 29 producers who have received the government payments. Last Saturday the office issued checks to 16 producers in the amount of $1,059.98.

Others who have not applied may do so throughout the month of November but all applications for subsidies on October sales must be made during January, 1944.

STORM-CLOUDS OVER THE NATIONS

My friends, we are living in the day when we can see the gathering storm-clouds and hear the rumblings of the approaching cyclone. Our ministry here upon earth, as a Church, is about over. How much longer we will be here we do not know, but the time is very short. Before the storm breaks in all its fury, you and I, and all other Christians, truly Born Again ones, will be caught up out of the world, and translated into the presence of the Lord. That moment must be in the very near future, and we ought to be ready for it now at any moment.

There was a time when men read those passages of Scripture that describe such dark days and found it difficult to believe that such times could ever come. Every body was content to live under the form of government existing in the country where they lived. Prosperity was fairly well distributed among the nations of the world, education was brought to the rich and poor alike, and there were orderly conditions everywhere. And when people read those passages of Scripture that describe such a time when the world will have to change a whole lot before such conditions can prevail.

But the world has changed! The World War upset the whole moral, spiritual, economic, social, and political equilibrium of the world. Following the war, the world suffered its greatest economic collapse. Millions of men were thrown out of work, and governments have had to assume support of vast numbers of the population. Banks closed, factories closed, and the masses of the working classes demanded relief. The governments of the world had to respond. And to add to the relief problem, every nation felt that its security and safety demanded the expenditure of vast sums for armaments and war preparation.

AND NOW THE WORLD HAS PLUNGED INTO ANOTHER DEVASTATING AND DISASTROUS WAR! What will it all mean? An old Daniel asked long ago, as he looked down the vista of the centuries and saw these things, "O my Lord, what shall be the end of these things?" (Daniel 12:8).

It can all have but one meaning to the student of the prophetic Scriptures, and that is, that it must lead finally to the end of Gentile government in the earth, to the time of Jacob's trouble, and to the return of our Lord.

Persecution and hatred of the Jews is as much a sign of the end of this age as their return to Palestine, for it is all preparing the way for "the time of Jacob's trouble" spoken of in Jeremiah 30:7.

I will be glad to answer any question that is requested by the reader of this column. Address all cards and letters to Roland C. King, Pastor of Trinity Baptist Church.

Editorial - - - The True Story On The Oil Situation

Texas newspapers carried near the end of the week of November 1-6 an advertisement signed by many of the major and minor oil companies operating in Texas which did more to clarify the petroleum picture than anything of the sort that has ever been placed before the public in any form.

By graphs and in words of one syllable this superb piece of display advertising gave the people of Texas an exact and arresting outline of the oil situation in its relationships to the battlefronts and the domestic front. "Texans: your fighting forces need more of your gasoline" was the theme, and in developing its principal point the oil companies let us in on some facts and figures of sensational import.

While some of our public figures have been blating about the alleged crime of rationing gasoline in a state overflowing with oil, the men who really know the true situation have put down in a-b-c simplicity exactly why gasoline rationing is an inescapable necessity.

Point No. 1: The over-all military requirement for gasoline is 600,000 barrels daily, or one-third the total daily 1941 consumption—and the total military take increases constantly.

Point No. 2: Whereas Texas refineries in 1941 squeezed 20 gallons of automotive gasoline out of every 42-gallon barrel of crude, today they get only 11 gallons. That is because vitally essential war products like TNT, 100 octane aviation gasoline and butadiene for rubber absorb the balance.

Point No. 3: Stocks of automotive gasoline in Texas "during the past several months have declined more than 7,000,000 barrels and have now reached critically low levels."

Better scan these figures again, for they tell the whole story in so far as gasoline supply is concerned. This isn't some bureaucrat telling you a fairy tale. This is the tough truth from a tough bunch of men who know whereof they speak.

We haven't had enough of this tough kind of talk about petroleum and its products and their place in the war effort. For instance, it doesn't make any impression on the average person when PAW Ickes remarks offhand: "The facts are plain and simple. There just isn't enough automotive gasoline in the United States any more, and it is not possible to make enough so that we and the men in service can both have all that we want."

But when the men of petroleum translate this generally into cold facts and shoot them straight at you, you're apt to pay attention. Another pleasant little fiction the oil fraternity blasts is the widespread belief that our refineries are pinched in and not putting out all they might. They say they're operating near capacity and turning out more aviation gasoline than any state is producing, not to mention toluene for TNT and butadiene for synthetics. They lay down the dictum that "oil from Texas is an essential weapon of war," which is a simple state-

Chapter 18

It had been quite a day at the office. For the first time since Sally had met Ted, the work had absorbed her complete attention, and it was nearly five o'clock before she realized with a start that tonight Ted was coming to town.

Most revolutionary of all had been the change that Ted had unwittingly made in Sally's attitude toward her job. She had always enjoyed her work with Langhorne tremendously. In fact, the roommates often teased her because she started off each morning with such enthusiasm each morning. And Sally had to laugh at herself because she was so happy in her job.

If Langhorne noticed the difference in his once-dependable secretary, he said nothing. Once or twice he sent letters back when she made mistakes, but with no comment. He didn't even say anything when she bawled up his luncheon appointment completely one day, and had him cooling his heels at the Raleigh while Stinton of the Board of Economic Warfare was searching impatiently for him at the Willard.

Firing would have been too good for her after that, Sally thought in a moment of soul-searching. But try as she would, she couldn't keep her mind on her work. And to tell Langhorne what the trouble was would have been silly, when he had the farmers, the industrialists, the Army, and Navy and half the War Commission on his neck over the synthetic rubber program. Right now young love would have seemed particularly out of place.

But today Langhorne had held his first conference, and the session had been so exciting, and Sally had been so busy making a record of every remark, that Ted's handsome presence hadn't hovered over everything she did. There'd been plenty of discussion beforehand as to whether Langhorne should even hold a press conference. He'd always fought shy of personal publicity, and was something of a dark horse to the reporters, who were accordingly more eager than ever for an interview. One of Sally's first chores had been to learn to say "no" nicely to the press.

But the subject was pulled to pieces by the War Commission experts until it was worn to a thread, and finally the yesses won out. It was an exciting meeting. Sally didn't remember all of it, but most of them knew her.

Langhorne had been at his best, his dry wit salting his answers to the penetrating questions the reporters flashed. He spoke to them frankly, told them some of his problems in an off-the-record description of the fence he was supposed to walk in his handling of rubber. When the men poured out, Sally had the feeling they approved of her boss—largely because they'd been given facts instead of the all-too-frequent run-around.

There was a stack of work that had piled up while Sally was at the meeting. She was hard at work on a chart over which Langhorne had labored for nearly a week when she realized how late it was. For a moment she sat considering the pile of untranscribed sheets in front of her. It would be well after seven before she was finished—if she worked at top speed. But Ted expected to meet her at seven. They were planning to have dinner before going to see "This Is the Army." Sally had spent all her Saturday lunch hour standing in line for the tickets.

Perhaps she could leave a message at the Willard to have Ted pick her up at the office. That would save a trip to the hotel. They could even eat a quick sandwich and go directly to the theatre. She dialed the hotel. Yes, the clerk said, he would have Sgt. Scott call her.

Relieved, she rushed at her work, her fingers flying over the keys. Six-thirty, six forty-five, it was five after seven when Ted called her. Sally's voice fairly sang over the wire when she heard him. As she hung up, Langhorne came into the office. "I couldn't help hearing your conversation. It is this work making it necessary for you to cancel an engagement?"

Sally gave him a grateful smile. "No, Mr. Langhorne. And even if it did, I've been causing you so much trouble lately, I'd feel guilty if I didn't get this finished." She watched the slow smile that gave distinction to Langhorne's quiet face. I'd like to tell him about Ted. Not to justify my slips in the work, but just because he's so darned nice. Langhorne had a daughter, she knew, though he never said much about his family.

She smiled a little shyly. "My soldier is coming over to pick me up soon, and I'd like so much to have him meet you, if you are still here."

"I'd be glad to. Without presuming to pry into your affairs, is the soldier pretty important to you?"

Sally said in a rush. "I think so. That's why I've let you down so badly these last weeks. My mind has been on the Army, I'm afraid."

She felt very proud of her particular part of the Army when Ted strolled into the office a half hour later, his cap cocked at a gay angle. He somehow managed to wear his uniform with the easy grace of a man who'd spent most of his life in casual, well-cut tweed suits. Sally thought he looked wonderful. Her face was radiant as she came around the desk to meet him.

There was laughter in Ted's eyes. "Don't look like that or I'll kiss you right where you stand."

Sally backed away out of reach. "Sorry, sir, it's against office regulations. She picked up her hat. "I'm all through now. Oh, Ted, come meet my boss before we go."

She opened Langhorne's door quietly. "Can Ted say hello to you, Mr. Langhorne? Ted, this is Mr. Langhorne, who is a very superior boss." She pulled Ted around the edge of the door as Langhorne came forward cordially.

Then he stopped dead still. Sally, startled, looked up at Ted and was amazed to see he had gone as white as her dress. For one frozen moment they all were gazed in their places like puppets left behind on the stage after the performance is over.

Then Langhorne blurted, "My God, Burrows, you!"

There Are Atheists In Many Fox Holes

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Nov. 13 (AP)—The popular phrase, "there are no atheists in fox holes," is "untrue and an insidious statement," in the words of Lt. Thomas M. Reardon, a navy chaplain back from Guadalcanal.

Speaking at an Armistice Day ceremony the curate said, "many have gone into fox holes without God and have not found him there."

"Those words have done much harm," the chaplain said. "They console many in thinking they can do as they please before the bombing and fighting and cause them to presume upon the mercy of God in those terrible moments of battle, which may be their last."

Washington Daybook— There's A Place In The Capital Without Men

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON — Girls, girls, girls.

There is no more fascinating city within a city in the United States than Washington's Girl Town. It straddles the Potomac river, with dormitories in Potomac Park on the District side of the river and in Arlington Farms on the Virginia side.

Already nearly 3,000 girls are housed there and there soon will be close to 10,000. These are Uncle Sam's nieces and although nearly all the stories you have heard about bad living conditions in Washington are true, the lucky ones of Girl Town are well taken care of.

On the Virginia side, the girls have their own hospital where services are free. They have cafeterias, night schools, dress shops, indoor and outdoor recreational facilities, beauty parlors, and they soon will have their own movie and newspaper.

For practically nothing they can get a $45 personality grooming course that sets them off as well as if they had been through one of the swank beauty parlors on Fifth Avenue. For a pittance, they can get elementary or refresher courses in shorthand, typing, some foreign languages. The courses are offered under the direction of National University, with full college credits for those who are planning to pick up education where they left off, once the war is over.

They have bowling alleys, their own girl orchestra, amateur dramatics, sewing machines they may use for making their own clothes or making over last year's duds.

The girls have a sense of humor about their "town." They generally refer to it as "No Man's Land," "Hair Ribbon Village," "Femme Acres," and "Hairpin Town."

Most of the girls who live in these dormitories work either for the Army or Navy, principally here.

"Those words have done much harm," the chaplain said. "They console many in thinking they can do as they please before the bombing and fighting and cause them to presume upon the mercy of God in those terrible moments of battle, which may be their last."

Hollywood Sights And Sounds— Rene Clair At Home When With Ghosts

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD — Under a big gaslight chandelier, in a crowded beer garden, Rene Clair was playing with a ghost.

And that's good news. When Rene Clair, who is a slight, serious Frenchman, tangles directorially with a ghost the result is pretty sure to be light and fantastic and not too serious.

Mr. Clair, after building quite a reputation in France, went to England in 1935, engaged Robert Donat as a spectre, and turned out a supernatural comedy that still delights, "The Ghost Goes West." His first Hollywood movie was Marlene Dietrich's "Flame of New Orleans," an inconsequential trifle and improve service and charges on those already existing.

One of the ironies of wartime Washington is that the girls in PBA, which has charge of Girl Town, can't live there. Their priority ratings aren't high enough.

The Public Buildings Administration is working on the transportation problem, too: trying to get the city's already overtaxed bus system to set up new routes.

with no ghosts, but he got back in the groove with "I Married a Witch."

Mr. Clair's gaslight was real, and so was the beer that flowed—in the midst of a general shortage of it—into the mugs on the tables of Eden Gardens, where Prof. Jack Oakie, magician and clairvoyant, was preparing to do tricks and prophesy, aided by a brunette vision named Linda Darnell.

The beer was real, I gathered, because of an advertising tie-up with a brewery. The tie-up had just been untied by the Hays office, but the beer was still there—two kinds. "Near" for the extras, and "nearer" for Dick Powell and other principals in the party scene. Dick, who is the hero, had such a bad cold he probably didn't know the difference.

Mr. Clair's ghost is an old-time Broadway actor named John Phillip. The story concerns a newspaper reporter in 1890 who fantastically receives, for three days in a row, a copy of next day's newspaper—including race results, killings, burglaries, everything.

Hero Powell gets into as much trouble knowing about tomorrow in 1890 as he would today.

Rene Clair, to Hero Powell's relief, isn't asking him to sing a single song. Clair saw Powell in "Christmas in July"—Clair's mind one of the best five pictures of recent years—and liked him as a light comedian.

Prof. Jack Oakie, ebullient as always, was bidding his career goodbye. He was wearing a moustache and a goatee. These represented a compromise from the large handlebar moustache and beard originally plotted for him by the make-up department. "I'm a dead duck," he said, "if I can't use my face. Here I am just hitting 40, and here they're slipping me into characters. I know how it'll be—they'll see this picture and I'll be playing old men from now on. Why, with this thing on my lip I can't give 'em Expression Three—and where am I without Expression Three?"

Men's Wear Of Character

All-Americans

These two cadet teams brought high honors to themselves and to the Big Spring Bomber School in winning the famed "pickle barrel" trophy of the bombing olympics in successive contests. Above is the winning team for the Nov. 7 contest at Deming, N. M. Left to right are William H. Quendner, Punta Gorda, Fla., John W. Guthrie, Jr., Philadelphia, Pa., and Milton C. Schlegel, St. Louis, Mo. Guthrie, holding the trophy gave the most amazing exhibition of accuracy in precision bombing witnessed in any of the eight meets of the olympics when he dropped six trial bombs from 8,000 feet with an average circular error of only 49.6 feet to win the title of all-olympics all-American bombardier. Below is the team which won the trophy on Oct. 17 at Midland. Left to right are Louis D. Parent, Jr., Springfield, Mass., Frank A. Drete, Shenandoah, Pa., and Arthur A. Vallando, Blossboro, N. J.

Services Held For Gene Smith

Last rites were said at the St. Thomas Catholic church Saturday at 10:30 a. m. for Eugene F. Smith, 17, president of the Big Spring high school student council and right end on the football team.

He was killed in a highway mishap seven miles south of here on the San Angelo highway Thursday evening.

The Rosary service was held Friday evening at the Nalley-Reeder chapel. Following the funeral mass with the Rev. George Julian, pastor, officiating, the body was taken overland to Florence, Colo., the birthplace of Gene and former home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Smith, for burial.

Pallbearers were fellow members on the Steer football team: Pete Cook, Dewey Stevenson, Bobby Barron, Hugh Cochran, Leo Rusk, Barkley Wood, Ray Thomas, Harlan Morgan, I. B. Bryan and Lee Christian. Other squadmen and members of the senior class were honorary pallbearers.

Missing

Lieut. Robert Akerly is reported missing in action over Germany since Nov. 2, the date United States Liberator and Flying Fortress were reported in a mass attack over Wilhelmshaven, German North Sea port and naval base. His parents were notified Saturday that he was missing. Lieut. Shipp received his wings and commission April 22, 1943 at Pampa and had been in England since September. He is the son of Robert Shipp, Sr. of Artesia, N. M. and Mrs. Shipp of Amherst, Texas.

Churches—Presbyterians Are Observing Birthday

The First Presbyterian church, one of the oldest in the city, today observes the 52nd anniversary of its founding in Big Spring. Invitations have been issued to all members and friends of the institution to worship in the various services today, including morning and evening preaching. The Rev. James E. Moore, pastor, will be in the pulpit both morning and evening.

Western Wildcat Acidizes, Cowden Test Given Shot

J. B. Hawley, Jr. No. 1 J. W. Cook, rank wildcat which has prospects of opening a new area of development in Howard county, was preparing to clean out and test Saturday after treatment with 2,000 gallons of acid. The test, seven miles west and slightly north of Big Spring and four miles north of nearest production in the small Harding pool, was shot in October with 750 quarts from 2,143-2,231 in the San Andres section of the Permian lime, which was topped at 3,045 feet. After considerable pumping, the well levelled off at about eight barrels daily before it was acidized. Location is 1,980 feet from the north and west lines of section 23-24-1n, T&P. A mile and a quarter to the southwest, the Hawley No. 1 H. H. Wilkinson topped the lime at 3,062 feet and set seven-inch OD casing before making the shift to standard to drill in. The test is 1,980 feet from the north and east lines of section 33-34-1n, T&P.

this week. A community program is planned at Center Point the latter part of the week in interest of the campaign.

Wednesday a "pep rally" will be held at the Lions club with the membership pairing into teams to make contacts of those not yet seen and of firms and individuals who might not have realized the size of the quota when initial contributions were made. To cut down on work of the volunteer workers from the club, Darby Bakery and Malone & Hogan Clinic Saturday became the first to match or more than double original subscriptions. Kenney appealed to others to do likewise so that bulk of the drive can be terminated by Thursday evening.

The Week

New fathers, we are told, are raising a hue and cry again that America's most pressing need is still a good five-cent cigar.

As dry as it has been, one would expect ranchers to be clamoring for a rain. Actually, they are hoping that none will come before the first of March. Grass is so brittle that a hard shower would break and wash it off. Left undisturbed, cattle can get by on it if fed supplements.

Gene Smith, popular high school student, came to a tragic end last week. He needs no eulogy. This fine young man lived his own.

Last week was Texas State Guard week. It should have been the occasion for scores of men who can and who ought to be serving the local company to resolve to make application for enlistment. For men who really want to perform a patriotic service, here is the opportunity.

Hough, Epley Rites Read Saturday In Christian Study

Miss Augustine Hough of Big Spring became the bride of James Claire Epley of Stanton in a ceremony in the pastor's study of the First Christian church Saturday afternoon at 5:15 o'clock with the Rev. J. E. McCoy presiding. Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Reid of Abilene and Henry Houston of Stanton.

The bride was attractively attired in a steel blue suit with brown accessories and wore a corsage of tallman roses. Mrs. Reid, the matron of honor, wore a wine colored suit with black accessories. She wore a gardenia. The couple will be at home near Stanton.

WAC Recruiter Is Given Permanent Post

Lieut. Cora Lee Morrow, who has been serving temporarily as WAC recruiting officer while Lieut. Mary Frances Goldmann has been on furlough, has been assigned here for recruiting duty. She will succeed Lieut. Goldmann, who has been ordered to Lubbock for duty in the West Texas district recruiting and induction center headquarters. Lieut. Goldmann, first WAC officer permanently stationed here, returned Saturday from a visit with her family in Toledo, Ohio.

Here 'n There

A/S Templeton A. Thompson, who came here to be with his wife and daughter during a 10-day leave from his classes and drill at Texas Tech, returned Friday evening. Their daughter was born on Nov. 3.

The son born last Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. Guy Mitchell at the Malone & Hogan Clinic Hospital has been named Kay Lee. Mother and son are doing well.

Lieut. Joe Lindley Butts visited here Friday evening with his mother, Mrs. Violet Butts, while enroute from Luke Field, Ariz., to Randolph Field where he will take instructor's training. Lieut. Butts, a graduate of the Big Spring high school in 1941, enlisted at Lubbock in November the same year, took technical training at Sioux Falls, S. D., before his cadet training began at Los Palos, Calif. He received his commission Nov. 3, 1942, at Santa Ana, Calif., and has been an instructor since at Luke Field. Mrs. Butts has another son, J. V. (Mickey) Butts in Marine boot training at San Diego. He writes that he has satisfied all requirements for private first class except his target work—and gives high praise for his Texas State Guard training here for his progress.

Another former member of the guard company here who gives it credit for valuable training is A-C Ralph E. (Peppy) Blount, Jr., who has been made cadet flight lieutenant at Santa Ana, Calif. He writes his parents that hardly a day goes by but what he realizes how much help his guard training was to him.

A leadership training class for teachers, officers, advisors and other church leaders will be held at the First Presbyterian church Monday through Friday evenings at 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. L. C. Majors will be in charge of the study.

Mrs. Omar McCormick is making an extended visit in Fort Worth with her father and other relatives.

Civil Air Patrol Makes Plans For Cadet Recruiting

Capt. P. W. Malone, commander of the Civil Air Patrol in this area, announced Saturday that plans for recruiting of aviation cadets for the Army Air Force, of which the patrol is now an auxiliary, are going forward and will soon be under way.

In the Big Spring district, the local board will be Lieut. M. K. House, Sr., chairman, Lieuts. R. R. McEwen, H. B. Reagan and S. M. Smith.

The boards will recruit, give screening tests, and refer the cadet candidates to the Army Air Force Cadet Board for final examination.

It is expected that plans will be completed with the next two or three weeks to start actual contact of prospective recruits between the ages of 17 and 26. Other boards set up by Capt. Malone in his area, are: Midland, W. P. Thurmond, chairman; Odessa, J. F. Postelle, chairman; Monahan, W. N. Pierson, chairman; McCamey, Merel Edleman, chairman; Menard, Thomas M. Atkinson, chairman; Ozona, R. E. Caswell, chairman; and Del Rio, Otis M. Salter, chairman.

WAR EXPENDITURES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—War expenditures of the United States government totaled $138,000,000,000 through October, or more than three times the total cost to this country of World War I, the War Production Board said today. Treasury department figures placed the cost of the first world conflict at $41,765,000,000.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Ripps have received word that their son, James L. Ripps, has been promoted to the rank of petty officer, first class. P-O Ripps is stationed at the aerographic weather bureau in Boston, Mass.

Quick Passage Of Tax Bill Predicted

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP)—Senator George (D-Ga.) expressed belief today that the new tax bill can be dispatched to the White House two weeks after it is received by the senate—too late, he noted, to give the new and increased excise taxes much of a nibble at the Christmas shopper's pocketbook.
