State-Wide Hearing Held Before Board

West Texas Fields Submitted On Past Record For Curtailment

AUSTIN (AP)—The railroad commission Saturday took under advisement revision of proration allowances for all Texas fields. A small amount of testimony was introduced at the hearing. It was indicated the new orders would be promulgated Monday. The commission employee recommended that production in the Panhandle field be cut back to 45,000 from 50,000 barrels daily in the interest of ratable takings. Another employee, J. T. Elliott, recommended North Texas fields be cut from 57,000 to 50,000 barrels daily. Protest against any further reduction in the 32,000 barrel allowance was made by E. H. Boile of Graham, who said the reduction would increase waste and amount to confiscation. Winkler, Ector, Crane-Upton, Howard, Glascock and Reagan county pools were submitted on their past records.

District Court Had Jurisdiction But Acted Correctly In Dissolving Order

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas supreme court Saturday granted application of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson for mandamus to compel certification of her name as the Democratic gubernatorial nominee. The mandamus was directed at Secretary of State Jane Y. McCallum, who had withheld certification of Mrs. Ferguson pending the appeal in a suit filed by Governor Ross Sterling contesting her right to the nomination. Passing upon the question of jurisdiction, in the contest suit of the district court, which had ruled it did not have jurisdiction, the supreme court stated "in our opinion jurisdiction of courts over contests for mere party primary nominations is not at this time fairly open to question." The court then explained that "the only election governed by section three of the constitution is the general election." The court held the governor's suit was filed within the proper time. The court stated that "although we have decided that the district court did have jurisdiction of the contested election case we think his—Judge W. F. Robertson's—dissolution of the injunction and dismissal of the suit was correct, and that the secretary of state should certify Mrs. Ferguson's nomination." "We think" the opinion continued "the rule settled that the nominee of a political party who holds a certificate to that effect, gives that nominee certain definite standing and endows him or her with valuable right which must be enforced." Thirty minutes after the court orders Mrs. Ferguson's name on the general election ballot Secretary of State McCallum filed certificate by telegram to all county clerks. James E. Ferguson paid the telegraph tolls. The supreme court mandate made it incumbent on county clerks to post said name as such nominee as provided for by law, and made it the duty of "all election officers to follow and observe the statutes, just as though such name as such nominee had been certified by the secretary of state in the first instance."

Marion Davies And Montgomery Appear Together First Time In "Blondie Of The Follies" Show

Edward G. Robinson in "Tiger Shark" Feature Tuesday And Wednesday At Ritz; Clive Brook In "The Night Of June 13"

With Marion Davies and Robert Montgomery together for the first time, "Blondie of the Follies," the new Cosmopolitan picture, which Edmund Goulding directed today and Monday to the Ritz theatre.

In the cast supporting Miss Davies, in addition to Montgomery, are such players as Billie Dove, Jimmy Durante, James Gleason, Zasu Pitts, Sidney Toler, Douglass Dumbrille, Safah Padden, Louise Carter, Clyde Cook and the Rocky Twins, direct from the Paris musical stage.

From Poverty to Park Ave. It is the story of two New York girls who graduate from poverty in the tenements to the extravagance and luxury of Park Avenue. They are the closest of chums and the bitterest of rivals, yet both seek to sacrifice their hearts when it comes to the love of the same man.

Frances Marion wrote the story. Miss Marion ranks, first in the scenario field in portraying the emotions of real flesh-and-blood people. She wrote "Emma" for Marie Dressler, "The Big House" for Wallace Beery, and "The Sign of the Cross" for the many of Mary Pickford's most successful pictures.

At the directorial helm of the production is Edmund Goulding. He leaped sensationally to the top of the list among directors by his consummate handling of "Grand Hotel." He has directed such stars as Greta Garbo, Gloria Swanson and Douglas Fairbanks. A distinct personality, Goulding has earned the title of "genius" from many critics by his ability to inject his individuality in the direction of screen plays.

Manhattan "High Life" Included in the glimpses of the New York scenes which this production presents are various phases of Manhattan "high life," back-stage of the Follies, parties aboard palace yachts and Park Avenue apartments and, by way of contrast, the noise and squalor of the New York tenement districts.

In this picture Arlen sings for the first time, rollicking songs of the sea. He plays "Pipes" a mate on Robinson's fishing boat, and gets his nickname from his vocal accomplishments.

Many of the spectacular sea shots were made off the west coast of Mexico, where man-eating sharks are found in great schools. These scenes are said to be thrilling in the extreme.

Another member of the cast is Zita Johann, the talented Hungarian actress who has recently come to this country to enter pictures, and who has been a sensation in Broadway productions.

Other important players included in the long list of characters are Lila Bennett, J. Carroll Nash, Vince Barnett, William Ricciardi and others.

"Tiger Shark" was directed by Howard Hawks, who has some of the finest screen hits of recent years to his credit, notably "Dawn Patrol," "Scarface" and "The Crowd Rears."

"Most Dangerous Game" Feature For Queen Screen

Man has found both poles, pierced the last frontiers, and in this generation, war, peace, and disaster.

The biggest game has been killed, the most dangerous sport attempted, mountains climbed and deserts dared.

The search for new thrills, however, goes on apace and in "The Most Dangerous Game," coming to the Queen theatre today, Monday and Tuesday, one more sport, made exciting by peril, has been found by a mad Russian, satiated with the commonplace.

What is the most dangerous game known to man?

Joel McCrea, Fay Wray, Leslie Banks and Robert Armstrong head the cast of this film, based on Richard Connell's classic short story. Merian C. Cooper and Ernest B. Schoedsack, famous for adventure epics, "Grass" and "Chang," produced this picture as the first of a series of dramatic adventure and mystery films for RKO.

Hollywood has finally produced a college picture without a football game.

"The Age of Consent," coming to the Queen Theatre Wednesday and Thursday has won endorsements from college teachers and students alike in giving the realism of an undergraduate life from the deplorable, emotional side, and without the injection of superfluous "rah-rah" stuff.

All the principals are college graduates. The writers are alumnus of well-known institutions. The director is a university man and H. N. Swanson, who acted as production editor, is the former editor of "College Humor" and perhaps the best vested authority on the collegiate point of view in the country.

Dorothy Wilson, RKO's "Cinderella judge," Richard Cromwell, Arline Judge, Eric Linden, Albert Brangie and John Holliday head the cast, which Gregory La Cava directed.

Colorful Tuna Industry Basis Of Picture

Two famous screen names are at the head of the cast of "Tiger Shark," the First National exciting picture of the colorful Tuna industry which comes to the Ritz theatre Tuesday and Wednesday.

Edward G. Robinson, star of the picture, and Richard Arlen, long a screen favorite, play together for the first time in this stirring and sensational epic of the seas, a story of life among the fishermen who take their lives into their hands practically every time they go to sea.

Miss Boland Returns To

Mary Boland, noted stage star, returns to the films to play with Clive Brook, Lila Lee, Charlie Ruggles, Gene Raymond, Frances Dee, and Adrienne Aile in "The Night of June 13," a film which will show at the Ritz Thursday only.

Miss Boland's last effort on the legitimate stage before her departure for Hollywood was in "Face the Music," a musical show which enjoyed a long run on Broadway.

"The Night of June 13" however, is not her first moving picture. Last season she made two films at the Paramount New York studios, "Secrets of a Secretary," and "Personal Maid."

"The Night of June 13" is a drama set in a suburb of a large eastern city. Four families, living in adjacent houses, find their own lives more bound up with the lives of their neighbors than they realized when the wife of one man commits suicide and the husband is inadvertently charged with murder.

At the trial, each neighbor lies to cover up some petty deficiency of his own, and it appears that the innocent husband is about to be hanged when a dramatic climax saves him and reveals the duplicity of everyone concerned.

Chain-Gang Horrors Seen In Richard Dix Film

The Ethiopean Chorus of twenty-five male voices, heard over the radio in national and international broadcasts, was drafted to sing the traditional chain-gang songs in "Hell's Highway," RKO-Radio's prison road camp drama starring Richard Dix, to be shown Friday and Saturday at the Ritz theatre.

They enact the roles of negro convicts and sing such prison songs as "Hikin' Jerry," "John Henry," "Willie the Weeper," "We Are Four Bums" and "Swing Em High, Bullies."

All told they sing eleven songs in the production, including Clarence Muse's original negro spiritual, "Liberty Road," composed especially for the picture.

They do not sing them as special numbers, as in a musical comedy, but just as they are sung by chain-gang convicts in the rise and fall of pick and shovel.

State Wins $13,054 Suit Against Woman, Ex-Sheriff At Dallas

DALLAS (UP)—An instructed verdict was returned in District Judge Robert B. Allen's court for the state of Texas for $13,541.16 against Mrs. Lulu Seale, former sheriff, and the Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland.

The verdict was granted on the motion of Tom Clark and Guy Mann, assistant district attorneys representing the state. It was opposed by Shelby S. Cox, attorney for Mrs. Seale.

The suit was for fees allegedly retained by Mrs. Seale during her term as sheriff. She served out the term of her husband who died in May, 1928.

Of the total amount awarded the state, $7,982 was money received by Mrs. Seale from the federal government for feeding federal prisoners housed in the Dallas county jail; $3,572 allegedly received for serving county processes and $1,200 allegedly paid to an attorney representing the sheriff from fees received by the officer.

The Maryland company is liable on the judgment to the amount of $10,000, it is shown. That was the amount of bond for Mrs. Seale written by the company.

Mrs. Garland A. Woodward, who underwent major surgery a week ago, is recovering rapidly.

Mrs. Levering Obtains Position As Maid In Augustus Brown Home

Which Starts Plot For 'Ghost House', Mystery Comedy To Be Presented By American Legion Thursday Evening

Mrs. Lee Levering has recently secured a position in Augustus Brown's household as a maid and will start on her new duties October 13 at the Municipal auditorium. With that as a nucleus "Ghost House" the thrilling home silent drama sponsored by the American Legion to be presented at the Municipal auditorium Thursday evening, October 13, for a charity benefit, develops into a well-outraged plot.

Miss Zelma Chadd plays Barbara Brown, the heroine, while Wendell Bedichek, plays opposite her a young newspaper reporter.

The part of Miss Martha Brown, Barbara's maiden aunt, is charmingly portrayed by Miss Jeannette Pickle. Benton Thompson, the old family lawyer, is Jack Hodges while Coulter Richardson takes the part of Donald Kent, a young newspaper reporter. Elmer Fisher as Inspector Brooks gives a clever portrayal of the typical hard-boiled detective.

Comedy is given the play by Paulette the dumb maid, Mrs. Lee Levering, and James Oliver, the English butler, J. C. Pickle.

In the parts of Mrs. Richard Bates, the dominating wife, and Richard Bates, her hen-pecked husband, are Miss Dorothy Jordan and Ralph Houston. Maude, the negro cook, played by Mrs. W. J. Low, completed the cast with the exception of the Ghost, whose identity will not be revealed until the night of the play.

There are three clever dance choruses composed of 24 high school girls and a business meeting, which will be featured between acts.

Special numbers will be given by Douglas Perry, Bartlett, Dorothy Payne and Pilly Welch, dancers. Mrs. J. H. Kirkpatrick is a companion for all the musical numbers.

The cast and director, Miss Kathryn Bush, are hard at work on "Ghost House" a finished production, "Ghost House" is unique in the field of home talent plays and the American Legion expects to packed, rehearsal Thursday evening.

Advance sale of tickets may be exchanged for a reserved seat Monday morning at Biles Pharmacy.

Methodist Class Gives Pretty Social

Check For Conference Pledge Given To Dr. Spann By Members

The Susannah Wesley Class of the First Methodist Church held its October social at the church parlors Friday afternoon. Mmes. S. P. Jones, W. J. Riggs, V. L. Patrick, Felton Smith, D. A. Rankin, Dorland and R. A. Eubank were the hostesses of the day.

Halloween furnished the decorations for the afternoon. Bats, owls, pumpkins and witches were used to lend contrast to the baskets of bright yellow cosmos marigolds and sunflowers. The handles of the baskets were tied with black and gold ribbons. The refreshments also partook of the season's colors.

With Mrs. Chas. Morris at the piano the meeting opened with a class hymn. Mrs. Miller gave the devotional, "The Call to Service."

During the business session the pastor was presented with a check covering the conference pledge of the class. Plans were completed for a benefit 42 party at the home of Mrs. J. L. Hudson.

The social hour was given over to a talk on the origin and history of Halloween by Mrs. Patrick and a clever "real" contest.

The members present were: Mrs. Emma Baker, Mrs. Estelina H. H. Short, Will Olson, Logan Baker, J. C. Waits, Sr., J. A. Myers, G. E. Fleeman, W. A. Miller, C. D. Herring, W. O. Thompson, H. E. "ROLLIE BURNS"

By W. C. Holden
(Southwest Press)

Many Big Spring people ought to know Rollie Burns.

Still living in and around Lubbock. Because his life spanned the most interesting section of the Panhandle, W. C. Holden, of the faculty of Texas Tech, put his reminiscences in a book, "Mr. Holden's edited history," keeping as much of it as possible in Mr. Burns' own words.

When Mr. Burns was a boy in his teens he saw the immense buffalo herds of West Texas, herds that were composed of a million animals. He participated in Indian fights. He became a bronc buster and a top hand with a lariat. He almost became a ranger but his brother's illness prevented his taking the vacancy he was waiting for; he never regretted it because the man who filled his place was killed in a raid not long afterward.

After he became a cowboy his life was a steady rise up to the job of foreman and manager. For many years he managed the F. O. A. ranch near Lubbock and he played his part in the founding of that city.

A Real Pioneer
Mr. Holden says that the credit for the book should go to J. Evelyn Haly and Miss Elizabeth Howard West who first persuaded Mr. Burns to make note of his early experiences. Not many men are living who have seen what Mr. Burns saw. In Mr. Holden words:
"He was on the Plains before the Indians were forced onto reservations; he saw the great buffalo commercial hide hunters enter the Panhandle; he witnessed the development of the cattle industry on the South Plains through the free range phase and then the inclosed ranching period; he saw the big ranch give way to the onslaught of the nestors; he helped found a city and stood by while agriculture slowly became supreme on the South Plains."
The Southwest Press is to be commended for its publication of this book. The value of such a record is one of several books that the Southwest Press has published because it is interesting in preserving the flavor of the old west while punctuating active memories are all things to give eye-witness accounts.

There are numerous ways in which gas is wasted around the home.

The first and most common one is: Leakage in house piping.

To determine whether or not you are paying for gas wasted in this way, turn off all gas burning appliances, including pilot lights, then watch your gas meter for about five minutes. If the hand in the lower left hand corner of the dial, marked "Quarter-foot," can be seen moving, gas is leaking. Call your plumber and have him locate and repair the leak.

Steers Fall Before Amarillo 25 To 6

Bovines Put Up Real Fight To Final Down

Cordell Romps 76 Yards With Intercepted Pass For Lone Counter

AMARILLO (Special).—A fighting Big Spring High team, dangerous to the end, went down before the powerful Amarillo Sandies 25 to 6 here Saturday afternoon. The Black and Gold clad visitors, doped by a setup for Blair Chery's Golden Sandstorm, fought the locals to a tie through the first half, and continued their game battle after a series of penalties early in the third quarter had paved the way for an Amarillo touchdown. The Sandies rushed across twice touching down in the last half to account for their advantage. The Amarillo "B" team seeped early in the first quarter, but the visitors drew up even in the second period when Ollie Cordell, Steer rookie wingman, intercepted a wild pass by Dunaway and sailed 76 yards for a touchdown against the first string. Not a man threatened Cordell on his long jaunt, his mates screening him perfectly all the way. The Sandies scored in the third quarter in the first five minutes of play. Big Spring covered an Amarillo fumble on the Sandie 39 yard line immediately after the kickoff, but loss on a running play, an incomplete pass, and a penalty set the Bovines back to midfield. Harris punt was short and Enoch's return gave Amarillo possession of the ball on their own 37 yard line. From there the Cherymen marched to a score, aided by penalty after penalty against the overanxious Steers for offside. Dunaway attempted to run for the extra point but failed to pass the line of scrimmage. Amarillo scored again in the third period, another scoring drive from the center of the field ending when Enoch took Dunaway's pass and romped across the goal line. The try for extra point was good and the two teams went into the final quarter with the Sandies leading 19 to 6. The Bovines continued to make a battle of it, but Amarillo reinforcements scored three touchdowns. Dunaway went through center but halted two running plays on their own 3 yard line. The try for extra point failed. Elmer Dyer, Co-Captain Coots and Bob Flowers stole a victory for the visitors, with Dyer, veteran center, particularly playing a brilliant game. For Amarillo Enoch, Dunaway, Sarrett and several others stood out.

Colorado Wolves, In Class A Debut Under Cantrell, Beat McCamey 21-6 And Earn Respect In District Race

By CURTIS BISHOP. COLORADO.—The Colorado Wolves branded themselves as a championship threat in District 3 circles this year by defeating the McCamey Badgers in the first conference game of the season 21 to 6 here Friday afternoon. Jim Cantrell's red-clad warriors scored touchdowns in each of the final three quarters on runnings after breaking a Colorado tie when Smalley fumbled a Colorado punt and was dragged down behind his own goal line for a safety. McCamey's lone touchdown came late in the fourth quarter. Homer Barnett, veteran lineman and captain of the Badgers, showed a one-man defensive and offensive show, but his efforts could not hold the Wolves' sub in check. The "Wolf" line was in check on his own side of the line intact through the game, and in the last quarter received nine passes from Johns to account for the 76-yard McCamey dive for a touchdown. Barnett took a short pass from Johns and tossed a backward lateral to Reid on the scoring play. Cantrell, Stagner, Chuck Wigley, B. L. Burris and Bud Hall led the Red and Black Colorado team to its stunning, clean-cut victory. Neat kicking by Bill Viles and stellar defensive work by Reid and Johns also featured the Wolves' play. After taking the lead in the second quarter the Cantrellmen uncovered an offense that carried them 61 yards to a touchdown. Two successive first downs on running plays brought the visitors into Colorado territory, out a five yard penalty and a four loss on a fumble gave the ball on the Wolves in down on their own forty yard. Despite a 47 yard kick Viles lost a yard in an exchange of punts and Burris started the drive from the 39 yard stripe. The Colorado quarterback knifed through center on successive plays to make it first down on the McCamey 47 yard line. Viles picked up four at center and first down on the McCamey 47 yard line. Viles picked up four at center and then Bud Hall raced 33 yards to the McCamey 10 yard line. Burris carried over in two plays. Hall kicked a 47 yard kick.

Herald Boys Beat Troop 2 Series Evened When Carrier Lads Take 12 To 0 Decision

Herald Carrier Boys evened the count at one-half Saturday morning in their best three-out-of-five game series with Boy Scout Troop 2 by winning a 12-0 decision. The Scouts won just week 14-12. After Fred Savage made a long run from the Scouts' 40 yard stripe, Woods and McCrary bucked it to the two-guard line. Bill Savage plunged for a score. The Scout defense tightened until the fourth quarter when a long pass, McCrary to Franklin, was good for another count. Bill Savage dropped another loss in his hands as he was crossing the goal. Carrier Boys—Ends, Hart and Vastine; tackles, Squires and Burleson; guards, Crance and Smith; center, Franklin; quarterback, B. Savage (c); halfbacks, McCrary and Woods; fullback, F. Savage. Stanton Men Meet Bovines

Stanton Coach Rufus Hyde is preparing to condition his men for another stiff fight when they invade Big Spring Friday in what will be the official opening home game for the Steers. Stanton will enter the game a decided underdog, having been beaten in a bitter fight by Midland and tied by Roscoe Plowboys, a team that lost to the Steers 24-0. Since the reputedly strong line of Big Spring has failed to function, the Buffalo line will carry the hunt

Texas Topics

By RAYMOND BROOKS
ALSTIN Courts all over Texas will show huge docket of hundreds of pending cases. The question comes up of abolishing 23 of the trial courts and spreading out the districts of others.
It should be shown, too, that from 85 to 95 per cent of the cases are dismissed and will never be tried.
A similar test was made in a Central Texas district court two years ago. There were over 800 cases on the docket. During the preceding 12 months, 18 cases had been tried. Lawyers said of the 800 it was doubtful whether over 15 or 20 ever would be tried. Yet most of those 800 will appear on the docket now when the question of re-districting courts comes up.
The civil judicial advisory council has done a piece of research work that will be invaluable to the legislature, in finding out just how many cases, each court has disposed of in a year, and of those finished, how many were contested.

The average is approximately 70 cases each for the courts, except those in large cities; and also for a good many of the big cities they have numerous courts.
Take the incomprehensible conflicting election laws. Courts have extreme difficulty of determining what they mean, and great difficulty in constructing them not to deprive someone of the benefit of the law.
One common-sense lawmaker, if alone, probably would work out a sensible, reasonable system. With two, one would have some radical idea to put in; with three, one would want to cover some particular condition he knew about; and with 180, it seems impossible to write election laws—any kind of laws—that are reasonable, simple, certain, effective.
Why should not the combined intelligence of a legislature readily create a simple registration system, in which all who vote are recorded on lists, showing to what party they belong, or that they belong to no party. That would solve questions of illegal exemptions and of party bolting. It would deprive no voter of his rights, and no candidate of assurance of easy means of determining legality of any election result.
But maybe we expect too much of the legislature, based on its records in such things as pension, fee and election enactments, not to mention conservation and tax remission.
Observers at the capital saw, no matter what election goes, foresaw a possible adjournment of the legislature, meeting in January one week before a governor is to be inaugurated for the new term.
The contest before the legislature, they believed, was as likely from one side as another. It is based on the assumption that court orders, short of a final judgment in the lengthy contest suit based on evidence, may substantially affect the outcome of the election.
There will be no appeal to the legislature if the contest suit is finally decided, appealed and settled before election day.
These observers, who are freely guessing, foresaw that if the legislature wasn't ready within a week to make its decision, that Lieut. Gov. Edgar Witt, when sworn in for his second term, would be acting governor until the decision had been reached.
But this is pure speculation, compounding one set of possibilities upon another set of possibilities.
